PROCEDURES FOR LICENSEE PUBLIC NOTICES FOR RADIO STATIONS

The following provides you with information on how to undertake the required forms of online and on-air public notice, which we are separately providing, for your full-service radio station(s).

In the case of FM translators, the announcements are all online.

The FCC requires that online public notice be given according to the following procedures:

What Website to Use: You options, in order of priority, are: (1) the Station's Internet website, (2) the Licensee's Internet website, (3) the Licensee's parents Internet website, or (4) a publicly accessible website that is locally targeted to the area served by the Station. Examples of publicly accessible websites are local government Internet websites, local community bulletin board Internet websites, and state broadcasters' associations Internet websites). If none of these exist, you can look to local media or other entities associated with the community of license.

When do you Begin Making Available the Online Announcement: Within five (5) business days of the date of release of the FCC's acceptance for filing. We will notify you of the date setting off this period of time.

What is the Duration of the Online Posting: If on an applicant-affiliated website or a publicly accessible website, the posting should be for a minimum of 30 consecutive days. If you do not have an applicant-affiliated website and have to compensate the website owner, the posting period is not less than 24 consecutive hours, once per week (Monday through Friday), for four consecutive weeks.

How do you Evidence posting on an Applicant-Affiliated Website: By posting a conspicuous link or tab labeled, "FCC Applications," on the website. Clicking on the link or tab should take you to the page where the notice text is to be found. The landing page should indicate the date when last updated.

The FCC requires that on-air public notice be given according to the following procedures:

When do you Begin Making Available the Online Announcement: Within five (5) business days of the date of release of the FCC's acceptance for filing. We will notify you of the date setting off this period of time.

What is the Frequency of Broadcast: At least once per week (Monday through Friday) over a four-week consecutive week period, for a total of six (6) times, with no more than two (2) broadcasts in any one calendar week. No more than one broadcast may be counted on in any one day.

Time of Broadcasts: All on-air broadcasts must be between 7:00 AM and 11:00 PM, local time applicable to the location of the Station for which the announcement is being given.

Language to be Used: If the Station broadcasts primarily in a foreign language, that foreign language should be used in the announcement.
