➢ Ben Cooley, Founder and CEO – Hope for Justice

- Background on founding Hope for Justice.
- Global perspective of human trafficking.
- Impact of COVID on global vulnerable.
- Recent Hope for Justice investigations of Human Trafficking in Tennessee.
- How the community can use their voice to fight human trafficking here in Tennessee.

Learn more:
Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/hopeforjustice
Website: https://hopeforjustice.org/
Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/hopeforjusticeintl/
Twitter: https://twitter.com/intent/user?screen_name=Hopeforjustice
LinkedIn: https://www.linkedin.com/company/hope-for-justice/
Email: david.lord@hopeforjustice.org (Ben's assistant)

➢ Kimberly Chaudoin (SHA-DOE-IN), Asst. Vice President Public Relations and Communications – Lipscomb University

- Lipscomb offers a variety of academic programs from undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees. We try to develop degree programs that help fill community workforce needs when creating new programs. Our newest is a PhD in archaeology
- Lipscomb views the city as its campus and the world as its classroom - meaning learning doesn't just happen in the walls of a traditional classroom
- How Lipscomb has navigated COVID

Learn more:
Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/lipscombuniversity
LinkedIn: https://www.linkedin.com/school/lipscomb-university/
Twitter: https://twitter.com/lipscomb
Website: www.lipscomb.edu
Email: kim.chaudoin@lipscomb.edu

➢ Jim Bartoo, Marketing and Public Relations Director – Nashville Zoo

- How has the pandemic affected Nashville Zoo?
- What can we expect from the Zoo in 2021?
- What might the public not know about Nashville Zoo?
- What are the ways the community can support the Zoo?

Learn more:
Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/nashvillezoo
Twitter: https://twitter.com/nashvillezoo
Instagram: https://www.instagram.com/nashvillezoo
Website: https://www.nashvillezoo.org
Email: kim.chaudoin@lipscomb.edu