INTERVIEWEE: Stephen Mullins, Regional POWER Grant Coordinator

INTERVIEWED BY WXLZ REP: Bobby Smallwood

BRIEF SUMMARY OF INTERVIEW: Time is running out on June 30th for the power grant for laid off coal industry workers to earn a Class A Commercial Drivers License (CDL). Although some coal mining industry workers have returned to work, many have not. These laid off workers may qualify for free training and supportive services through a national dislocated worker grant funded by the US Dept of Labor and available from the Southwest Virginia Workforce Development Board. This next 4 week CDL truck driver training class at Tri County Driving Academy in Hansonville begins Monday, June 18.

Call Recruiter Doug Meade at 276-608-0104.
