IV. Government/Politics

Problems in this area include, but are not limited to, cynicism and the need for elected officials and the community to work together to solve problems; inadequate political representation; threats to cut funding for health; education and social services programs; lack of Mexican-Americans in elected or appointed offices; absentee ballots; costly programs and registration of voters...verification of forms. Los Angeles City & County government lack direction and funds.

Topic: 1) World Vision Experiences: AIDS- Step Into Africa. 2) AIDS/HIV: Local Health Issue

Guest(s): JO Z. CARCEDO, Southern California Area Senior Director, Advancement for World Vision, REVEREND GERALD GREEN, Unity Fellowship Church and Board Member of Minority AIDS Project

Discussion: World Vision provides a first-hand experience of the AIDS epidemic occurring in Africa. Their exhibit "Step Into Africa" display artifacts, photos, videos, and other media that captivate audiences. "Step Into Africa" provides a real, tangible, and deeply emotional portrayal of African men, women, and children living with AIDS. World Vision is located in 100 countries, mainly in extremely impoverished areas that are heavily stricken with the AIDS pandemic. HIV/AIDS cases are highest in South Africa; affecting 12% of children under the age of 17. Jo Carcedo stated "By 2010, 20 million people will be infected with AIDS". In hopes of slowing AIDS cases, education about HIV/AIDS and teaching strong family values to families, tribes, and communities are some preventative solutions.

Discussion: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) reported "The number of people infected with HIV the virus that causes AIDS is 40% higher than has been reported." HIV/AIDS cases have risen due to inadequacies of proper education, resources, and services reaching people who are unaware of their health status. Minority AIDS Project (MAP) is an organization that provides valuable resources for individuals who suspect an HIV infection. MAP offers outreach programs, educational lectures about health, proper safe sex practices, and risk reduction methods. They also offer client referrals and case managers in a number of cities in Los Angeles County. MAP hopes to enlighten the community and lift negative stigma of HIV/AIDS that influence individuals from getting tested. MAP offers a supportive atmosphere and invite people who are seeking help. They encourage people to get educated, get tested, and get involved in the lives of others.

Guest(s): CARRIE KOPP, PKD Patient, Barbara Waldman, Carrie's Mother, David Kopp, Brother and PKD Transplant Donor

Discussion: (PKD) Polycystic kidney Disease is a life-threatening genetic disease with over 600,000 Americans people suffering. It causes fluid-filled cysts to form throughout the kidneys, leading to kidney failure. Dialysis and transplantation are the only treatment options for kidney failure; there is no cure for PKD. Carrie has had the symptoms for years...her grandmother died from the disease. Carrie received a kidney from her brother. Prior to the transplant Carrie was constantly in pain. Taking various pills contributed to side issues making her life more miserable. Today Carrie lives a normal life. Though she must visit her doctor once every two months. Barbara was relentless in striving to ensure that her daughter received the best medical care. David stated that it was not difficult to donate his kidney to his sister. He was under hospital care for two days.
Barbara promoted the upcoming Los Angeles Walk for PKD that will take place on Sunday, November 9, 2008. All the funds will support research, patient education and advocacy.

VI. Minority Relations

The continuing concerns in this area include, but are not limited to, raising bigotry and racism often manifesting in violent acts; adequate political representations of people of color; stereotypical images; preservation of cultures; needs of minority women; and issues resulting in rise of minority populations. Additional problems include; too many liquor stores in black communities; building a better family involvement; need for more role models; need to integrate various ethnic cultures into the arts. Hispanic community lacks access to legal resources due to language barriers, economic barriers and inherent institutional racism; minority youth being disenfranchised from education system and from working world. Regarding media: news, coverage, employment, on screen image. Conflict resolution concerns between racial and ethnic communities.

Topic: Little Tokyo- Past and Present

Guest(s): BILL WATANABE, Executive Director, The Little Tokyo Service Center, ELLEN ENDO, President, The Little Tokyo Business Association, ALAN KUMAMOTO, Vice President, Little Tokyo Community Council.

Discussion: Little Tokyo was established in 1882 when the first wave of Japanese migrants, called "Issei" or first generation settled in America. By the turn of the 20th century, the small Issei community firmly established a portion of Los Angeles City. Little Tokyo's population prospered as more migrant families established restaurants, businesses, and trade. As a result of the 1906 San Francisco earthquake, many Japanese moved to Little Tokyo and contributed to the growth of an ethnic enclave.

However in Post-World War II era, Executive Order 9066 prompted the internment of approximately 110,000 Japanese nationals and Japanese Americans as a result of race prejudice, war hysteria, and failure of political leadership. Mr. Alan Kumamoto recalled a small baseball team of young Japanese boys and girls called Little Oliver's Baseball Team was a symbol of Little Tokyo overcoming racial adversity. In current times, Little Tokyo has grown into a crowded and bustling inner-city. Little Tokyo's foundations are maintained with the presence of the oldest and largest newspaper, Rafu Shimpo Newspaper (100 years old), renovations of the Japanese American Cultural and Community Center (JACCC), and 442nd Infantry/100th Battalion Monument to commemorate Japanese service men. Little Tokyo remains a deep-rooted, profound, and ever-growing community of Asian American history in Los Angeles.

Topic: African-American News Publications and Small Business

Guest(s): NATALIE COLE, Founder/CEO/Publisher, Our Weekly Los Angeles, EARL "SKIP" COOPER II, President/CEO Black Business Association.

Discussion: "Our Weekly" is one of the largest black news publications in California. About 35 thousand issues are delivered door-to-door every month and even more copies of the magazine are dropped off commercially. The Black Business Association (BBA)—which was founded in 1970 to act as a black chamber of commerce—also offers a monthly publication for African Americans called "Black Business News." The publication is for small business enterprises and presents information for African Americans concerning global business information and facts about new technology. Guest Natalie Cole stated that two of today's fastest-growing mediums include the ethnic press and the world wide web. She says this is because oftentimes, general-market media does not cover issues pertaining to specific cultural communities. Because new media is growing so rapidly, Cole said she believes that the ethnic press needs to utilize the latest technology as much as they can—otherwise they risk losing their market. Guest Earl "Skip" Cooper also expressed his concern that institutional racism still exists in American society.

Discussion: CityView is a for-profit organization that produces housing for the "work force" community. Mr. Cisneros' definition of the "work force" community includes firefighters, teachers and middle-class citizens. CityView acquires land and creates housing plans, then partners with local government officials and developers to create new residential buildings in urban areas. CityView's partner, American Sunrise Communities, is a non-profit housing organization that focuses on developing communities and helps struggling families find affordable housing. This organization is also partnered with Vulcan, Inc., which among other services heads a production company. Vulcan's production company will be releasing the upcoming film, "Where God Left His Shoes" this November. In the film, actor John Leguizamo's character is struggling to find a job and a home for his family in New York around the Christmas season. The guests stated that this film humanizes the homelessness issue and shatters stereotypes that are typically associated with being homeless.

Topic: Bringing Back Broadway – 3rd Street to 9th Street, Los Angeles

Guest(s): Jose Huizar, Los Angeles City Councilmember, District 14, Linda Dishman, Executive Director, Los Angeles Conservancy, Curt Gibbs, Senior Resource Development Officer, Community Redevelopment Agency

Discussion: Bringing Back Broadway is a project that has been tossed around the confines of city hall for the past twenty years plus. To no avail – it was either the local business community and or city officials that questioned the merits of the project. Councilman Huizar is the point person of the current revival of Bringing Back Broadway. Broadway property owners and the downtown community are now interested in revitalizing the historic corridor between 3rd and 9th streets.
Ms. Dishman stated that Broadway represents the largest concentration of pre-war movie palaces in America. She explained that the street is complete with elegant high-rise buildings, Art Deco and revival style buildings. The properties will be updated to 21st century status. Mr. Gibbs mentioned that the city is going to revitalize the streetcar. The streetcar will be a form of transportation between LA Live and the proposed Grand Avenue Project. In addition the sidewalks and adjoining streets will be updated with new street furniture, lights and greenery. The goal of the public-private partnership is to complete the initiative within ten years.

Description- METROLINK TRAIN CRASH FOLLOW UP
WE HAVE AN UPDATE THIS MORNING - ON THE INVESTIGATON INTO THE METROLINK CRASH.

TODAY, EXPERTS WILL BE LOOKING AT SIGNAL VISIBILITY.

THEY'VE ALREADY DETERMINED THE LIGHTS WERE WORKING PROPERLY AT THE TIME OF THE CRASH.

25 PEOPLE WERE KILLED WHEN THE COMMUTER TRAIN HIT A FREIGHT TRAIN HEAD ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

ONE THEORY INTO THE CAUSE IS THE ENGINEER MISSED A RED SIGNAL BECAUSE HE MAY HAVE BEEN TEXT MESSAGING SOME TEENAGERS AT THE TIME.

AUTHORITIES HAVE SUBPOENAED HIS CELL PHONE RECORDS TO SEE IF HE REALLY WAS TEXTING.

MEANTIME, INVESTIGATORS WANT TO TALK TO THE CONDUCTOR.

HE WAS SUPPOSED TO ACKNOWLEDGE SIGNALS WITH THE ENGINEER.

THE CONDUCTOR IS STILL IN THE HOSPITAL.

Topic: Employment from Employer's Perspective

Guest(s): MARK WILBUR, President and CEO, Employers Group

Discussion: Employers Group is a non-profit organization in California that provides Human Resources consulting to new businesses entering the state. The organization understands California is a difficult state to start a business due to established laws and consistent changes of rules. Employer Group provides services that clarifies California laws and maintains updates of changing laws for growing businesses. Employer and employee relationships have became more difficult in areas of communication, unionizing, and maintaining long-lasting work relationships. Unions provided balance and fairness between the employer and employee and discussed business in a non-antagonistic environment. However unionizing is not prominent as it was decades ago, currently statistics indicate 9-14% of laborers belong to a union and are active in collective bargaining (i.e. higher wages and safer working environments). The larger percentage of workers will not experience upward mobility or reach a higher economic bracket. Employers or managerial staff are not retaining workers but are more active in cutbacks, layoffs, and downsizing. Many Americans are unemployed which many feel the global economy and outsourcing are to blame. The opposing view is employers not investing in their own employees for retraining and preparing for the evolving economy and technology. One solution is employers must engage and invest in current employees in order to alleviate unemployment rates.

Topic: Employment program for veterans

Guest(s): Ivan Mason, Site Director, U.S. VETS, Eddie Purtois, Project Director, California Employment Development Department, (Third Segment) David Hoppe, Iraq Veteran

Discussion: The organization U.S. VETs and the California Employment Development Department are hosting the 2nd Annual State of California "Honor a Hero, Hire a Vet" Job and Resource Fair. A Rand study estimates that 300,000 veterans among the nearly 1.7 million who have served in Iraq and Afghanistan are experiencing post-traumatic stress disorder. The guests stated that too many of the vets are slipping through the cracks. The vets are understandably finding it difficult to work and maintain steady employment. According to U.S. VETs more than 12,000 veterans enter the job market in California. The newly arrived vets possess technical and leadership skills, experience, work ethic and discipline. Hence, the importance of the job-fair. On hand at the upcoming fair will be more than 125 companies with job openings to fill. State, city and private agencies will also be on board. The event will take place on October 15, 2008.

IX. Human Resources

Discussion: CityView is a for-profit organization that produces housing for the "work force" community. Mr. Cisneros' definition of the "work force" community includes firefighters, teachers and middle-class citizens. CityView acquires land and creates housing plans, then partners with local government officials and developers to create new residential buildings in urban areas. CityView's partner, American Sunrise Communities, is a non-profit housing organization that focuses on developing communities and helps struggling families find affordable housing. This organization is also partnered with Vulcan, Inc., which among other services heads a production company. Vulcan's production company will be releasing the upcoming film, "Where God Left His Shoes" this November. In the film, actor John Leguizamo's character is struggling to find a job and a home for his family in New York around the Christmas season. The guests stated that this film humanizes the homelessness issue and shatters stereotypes that are typically associated with being homeless.

X. Ecology

Problems in this area include, but are not limited to, proper disposal of industrial waste. Santa Monica bay/ocean must be cleaned. Other issues include air pollution; legislation concerning pollution and toxic waste; cost of energy and other utilities; health problems resulting from bad air quality; extinction of rare species; and the need for the creation of desert parks. The need for more educational programs based on water conservation, minority and neighborhood environmental programs, and active youth participation in environmental programs and issues.

Topic: Recreation and Parks

Guest(s): JON MUKRI, General Manager, Los Angeles City Department of Recreation and Parks

Discussion: The Los Angeles City Department of Recreation and Parks provide preschool and after school programs for K–12 and serves 10 million people. This year over 75,000 children were registered in a program. General Manager Jon Mukri explained LA city's parks and recreation system consists of 15,700 parkland acres, 390 neighborhood and regional parks, 13 golf courses, 287 tennis courts, 59 swimming pools, 9 lakes and 372 children's playgrounds. Los Angeles' Recreation and Parks Services offer a wide variety of programs, such as aquatic programs, clubs for teenagers, educational programs, programs for seniors, beach programs at Cabrillo and Venice Beaches, and food service programs. The department also deal with issues concerning economic challenges, budget cutbacks, and potential safety hazards. They provide pocket parks; an area less than one acre for recreation, state park attractions, and senior cooling centers. Mukri stated "Recreation and Parks are community and cultural cross roads". Recreation and parks are essential to physical and psychological health.

L.A. MAYOR ANTONIO VILLARAIGOSA IS ORDERING ALL CITY AGENCIES TO NOT WASTE WATER AT A TIME WHEN RESIDENTS AND BUSINESES HAVE TO CONSERVE. THE MOVE COMES AFTER THE L.A. TIMES POSTED VIDEO ON ITS WEBSITE OF TWO LOCATIONS WHERE WATER WAS SEEN ON THE PAVEMENT. ONE WAS THE THE DEPARTMENT OF WATER AND POWER'S STONE CANYON STATION IN SHERMAN OAKS. THE OTHER WAS A CITY PARK IN VENICE BEACH. TIMES REPORTERS SHOT THE VIDEO ONE DAY AFTER THE MAYOR SIGNED AN ORDINANCE INCREASING PENALTIES FOR WATER WASTERS. HE'S ALSO REQUIRING CITY AGENCIES TO REPORT THEIR WATER USAGE.

Topic: Los Angeles City Board of Public Works

Guest(s): Cynthia Ruiz, President, Los Angeles City Board of Public Works

Discussion: The Los Angeles City Board of Public Works heads numerous projects that focus on the city's environment well being. The board's efforts include working on improving the city's infrastructure, removing graffiti, trying to prevent illegal dumping and attempts to prepare the city for emergency situations, such as earthquakes. As guest Cynthia Ruiz stated, their goal is to make Los Angeles "the cleanest, greenest big city in the U.S. "One of the board's biggest concerns is currently the city's aging infrastructure. Although buildings are being improved, the city does not have the funding to fix all of the city's outdated streets and sewers. The Board of Public Works is the only board in Los Angeles with paid employees and Ruiz said she works about 60 hours a week on average. In the future, Ruiz says she plans to develop the L.A. River into a more aesthetically pleasing site than its current state as simple a flood channel. The city is also introducing more green buildings that utilize solar panels and recycled materials to be more energy efficient and sustainable.
