

the tax rate for both residential and businesses in Woonsocket and economic development.

June 14, 2022, John Lugo candidate for lieutenant governor speaking about why he should be elected to that post in November.

June 15, 2022 Rhode Island state Saturday Jessica Dela Cruz speaking about issues concern in Rhode Island general assembly including driver privileges is for illegal immigrants and the budget of the state of Rhode Island for $13.2 billion dollars.

June 17, 2022, Nellie Gorbea, Rhode Island secretary of state, running for governor in the primary in September and the general election in November and why she should be elected.

June 21, 2022, council president Daniel Gendron speaking about the issues of the day including the Woonsocket tax rate and appropriate use of American rescue dollar fun.

June 22, 2022, Mayor lisa baldelli-hunt speaking on issues of the day including the new tax rate for the city of Woonsocket and her reelection to be mayor in November 2022.

June 23, 2022, Michael Narducci, manager of the board of canvassers for the city of Woonsocket explaining voting procedures including early voting and mail ballot voting and in person voting rules and regulations.

June 24, 2022 state representative Deborah Ruggeiero running for Lieutenant governor in the September primary and general election in November and why she should be elected.

June 28, 2022 Public Works Director Stephen D'Agostino for the city of Woonsocket speaking about water quality and issues of pollution from the Woonsocket waste water treatment Plant.

June 30, 2022, Kristen Carlson, new executive Director of the Woonsocket YMCA speaking about programs offered to the community and the YMCA's effort to attract a diversity of membership