On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, and Pastor Sonny Arguinzoni, Jr. share the testimony of a former madame. Prostitution has been an epidemic for thousands of years. In fact, it is considered the world's oldest profession. The lives of those who are prostitutes are greatly affected not only physically but emotionally and mentally. There is another side to the prostitution business. Along with prostitution comes sex trafficking. Typically, we see men referred to as pimps that handle this side of the business, but on rare occasions, women have decided to step into the business as well. These women pimps, or madams as they are called, handle the money. They transport the call girls and at times get violent to protect their women. This is a problem that is taking place in inner cities around the world. Victory Outreach has seen firsthand the lives of so many who have come out of that lifestyle totally transformed. The message they give to them is that you shall know the truth, the Bible says, and the truth shall set you free. And he who the Son sets free is free indeed.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, let's us hear from a woman who was rescued from a life of gangs, violence and crime. The life of a gang member can be very violent and dangerous at times. From drugs and alcohol, to fights and shootouts, gang members constantly risk their lives to defend their neighborhood. We often think of gang members as dangerous men with violent tempers, but they aren't the only ones defending their streets. Over the years, many women have also joined gangs. Many of them join in hopes of finding a sense of belonging, others for protection, and still others just want to be respected. They fight for their gang no matter the cost. These women are very violent and very dangerous. Through a Bible study women's lives have been changed. God has forgiven them, and he who is forgiven much, loveth much.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, takes us into the perilous world of some biker clubs. Over the years, biker gangs have taken on a different persona. They've gone from hanging out on the front porch and handling drugs to now traveling the nation for Multi-Million Dollar drug deals. These bikers can be seen riding their Harley Davidson bikes dressed in leather jackets, but there is more to their lifestyle than meets the eye. The reality is it's a nightmare. They've seen violence, lost friends and family members, and some have even lost their own lives. The life of a biker gang member is very dangerous and unpredictable. To those in law enforcement, these motorcycle clubs are considered organized crime organizations. Motorcycle clubs do not have to be violent and treacherous in their way of life. In fact, a motorcycle club can be a way of sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The Riders Out of Darkness Motorcycle Club is full of people who once lived the biker lifestyle but have now been transformed by the power of Jesus Christ. They use their testimonies to impact the lives of those still living that dangerous lifestyle.

Tonight on Praise, Founder of WallBuilders & Historian, David Barton; and President of WallBuilders & National Speaker, Tim Barton; talk about 'America's Hidden History' and share stories about various American heroes such as Annie Oakley, Bass Reeves, Isaac Parker, 'Bronco Charlie' Miller, Douglas MacArthur, Francis Scott Key, and Phillis Wheatley. Some of the best character lessons we learn in life we learn through people's stories. What is sad today, is that even though we may recognize the name, we don't know the whole story from American history. WallBuilders has one of the largest collections in America of original material from early America. The name WallBuilders comes from the Bible book of Nehemiah. Just as Nehemiah wanted to see his nation rebuilt and strong again, WallBuilders wants to rebuild America. The teaching of history has been so over-simplified down to make it agenda-driven; telling only portions of stories. There is so much we can learn from the entire story; the good, the bad and the ugly. When the new National A.P. History Standards came out, when it came to World War II, there was no mention of Douglas MacArthur, President Dwight D. Eisenhower, George. S. Patton, Chester W. Nimitz, Adolf Hitler, D-Day Normandy Landings, or the Holocaust. They discuss the history of lynching in America, and various black heroes during the American Revolution such as Crispus Attucks, James Armistead Lafayette, Wentworth Cheswell, and Jack Sisson. American history is becoming more hidden as these stories are just not being told. Truth is the object for history and historians.

Hidden History #203					1/3/2020	1:30 AM

Today on America's Hidden History, Historian David Barton and Tim Barton, President of WallBuilders, go to Fort Smith, Arkansas. We learn that Bass Reeves was a black man born a slave in Arkansas. He later moved to Texas, where he beat up his master to escape slavery and fled into Indian Territory in Oklahoma for safety; a place where many criminals were known to hide. As he traveled throughout Oklahoma Territory, he learned to speak various Indian languages. When slavery was abolished in 1865, Reeves returned to Arkansas as a free man. Federal Judge Isaac Parker hired Reeves as Deputy Marshal for the Oklahoma Territory until Oklahoma became a state. Although Bass Reeves was illiterate, he would have others read each warrant, which he memorized. Reeves served thirty-two years, arresting 3,000 bad guys and killing only 14 bad guys. Through a shared Christian faith, Federal Judge Isaac Parker and Deputy U.S. Marshall Bass Reeves brought law and order to the Old West. WallBuilders Junior Historian, Jonathan Richie, reads a newspaper article about Bass Reeves. Next, David and Tim go to the Vicksburg National Military Park in Mississippi to tell us about Orion Howe, one of the youngest Congressional Medal of Honor recipients at just fourteen years old. Originally, Orion was a drummer in the band for the 55th Illinois Volunteer Infantry at the age of twelve with his father was the band leader. But at the age of fourteen, Orion volunteered to be a messenger in one of the most significant battles in the Civil War. WallBuilders Junior Historian, Jonathan Richie, shows us drums from the civil war. We learn that musicians played a vital role on the battlefield. The military would use music to communicate various orders and information.

On this episode of Somebody's Gotta Do It, Mike Rowe introduces us to Dr. Mutt Merrit, Director of Horn Point Laboratory Oyster Hatchery at the University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science, who is on a mission to save America's largest estuary; the Chesapeake Bay. By the 1970's various factors caused the Chesapeake Bay to lose ninety-nine percent of its native oyster population. Oysters are known as the kidneys of the bay, filtering out impurities in the water. So, saving the bay means saving the oysters by maximizing the ecological benefit of oysters to the bay.

Along with a group of volunteers, they travel to the Ohio River to pick up and haul away trash. Rivers are important for so many reasons. Rivers provide our daily drinking water. Without rivers wildlife would not survive. Rivers are also crucial for the transportation of goods, carrying more tons with less fuel than trucks or trains. People litter and litter is plugging up our nation's waterways. After 831 clean ups, in 23 rivers, in 20 states, over 9.2 million pounds of trash have been removed by hand.

Tonight on Praise, we join the Spark Marriage Conference at Lakewood Church where Hollywood Producer and Author, Devon Franklin, talks about marriage. Do you have a vision for your marriage; what it is supposed to look like? What unspoken expectation do you have of your spouse that you are mad at them about and they don't even know it? By the time most women get to marriage they have endured, in some instances, physical abuse, emotional abuse, spiritual abuse, or sexual abuse. Marriage should be a place to be healed. Joy can be taken out of marriage because we take what should be discretionary or optional and we make it mandatory, and if somebody doesn't do it, we judge them. When you have an expectation of your spouse, you must ask them if you can have that expectation of them, then give them time to answer with yes or no. If they say yes, now you both can hold each other accountable for the expectation you've agreed upon. If you have an unspoken expectation, you cannot hold your spouse accountable for something you have not asked them if you can hold them accountable for. Problems don't fix themselves. How do we create a loving environment that can facilitate communication? Accept your spouse for who they are now. Marriage Pastors, Clayton & Ashlee Hurst, talk with Dodie Osteen, Co-Founder of Lakewood Church, about leaving or leading a lasting legacy of love in your marriage. Are you willing to do whatever it takes to have the marriage you always hoped and dreamed of?

The perils of domestic violence are affecting millions of people. Day after day, physical, emotional, and verbal abuse are devastating many families. These people often endure tremendous pain and are unable to go about their daily lives. Instead they are constantly looking over their shoulder and living in fear of what awaits them at home. The answer is always found in Jesus. He is the one who can change and deliver us. Jesus is the one that is able to change a life and then change an entire family.

Tonight on Praise, Jordan Rubin, Founder of Ancient Nutrition, and Chiropractic Physician and Nutritionist, Dr. Josh Axe, discuss the nutrient, collagen, that virtually everyone is missing from their daily diet, which is so important that it makes up ninety percent of our bodies tissues and organs. Thirty percent of all of the protein in our body is collagen, such as our skin, hair, nails, bones, discs, ligaments, tendons, connective tissue, and gut lining. What is the one food that people have been given throughout history when they're not feeling well, post-surgery in a hospital, even today all around the world, and what does grandma give you when you're feeling under the weather? Chicken soup; which is really a bone broth or chicken soup made from the bones, joints, and ligaments of the animal. Today, we skip the soup and we go for the chicken breast, nuggets, tenders, beef tenderloin and the burger. In our history when we ate meat; fish, poultry, or red meat, we would eat the meat and take the bones and make a soup, stock, or broth. The way we look, feel and move is largely related to the amount of collagen in our body, and as we age, we slow down production and eventually stop producing collagen. Multi-Collagen Protein was developed by Jordan Rubin and Dr. Josh Axe to provide people with an easy, simple way, to get collagen in the diet, in the right amounts, in virtually every meal. While calcium is needed for strong bones, there is more collagen in your bones than calcium and all other minerals combined, and it is essential for our health. When you consume collagen peptides, small chains of protein, your body begins to regenerate its collagen supply. When selecting collagen, there are various types of collagen, and just like we need multiple types of vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants, we need multiple types of collagen.

Tonight on Praise, Dr. Scott Hannen, Licensed Chiropractic Physician, Ordained Minister, and Author of "Stop the Pain Six to Fix," shares that pain is something that everyone has dealt with at some point in their life. Pain is the number one thing that causes people to go to the doctor. The body has an alarm system (pain) that is trying to tell you that something is not correct. If you continue to do something that is not correct you bring injury into the body. The six to fix are: 1. Biomechanics 2. Oxidation 3. Immune Response 4. Inflammation 5. Neural Reprogramming and 6. Spiritual Alignment.

Tonight on Praise, Dr. Scott Hannen discusses the Coronavirus; COVID-19. CO stands for Coronavirus, VI stands for Virus, D stands for Disease, and 19 is the year (2019) it was identified. Since it is a new strain or new virus, the Coronavirus is called a novel virus. COVID is an umbrella of viruses, such as Sars and the common cold. Like most flus, the way it proliferates is there will be a peak, it will flatten, then it will decline. The goal is to try to do everything you can in your immune system to try to remain resistant to it. The cure is always going to be prevention first, followed by medical care. Currently, there is no cure for COVID-19. There are some things you can do to safeguard and try to help your body to resist such as taking Vitamin C with bioflavonoids, Vitamin D3, Zinc (zinc with copper formula), Vitamin E, Proanthocyanidins (found in grapeseed extract and pine bark). Over the next few weeks it would be to your advantage to refrain from refined sugars, smoking and tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, breathing aerosols, and immune suppressing drugs. Go to TBN.org/Dr. Hannen for free information (cheat sheet). Dr. Hannen reports that in America 50,000 suicides are committed annually and there have been 35,000 suicides for this virus worldwide. Tonight on Praise, Founder of Hope Generation, Best-Selling Author, TV and Radio Host, Ben Courson, shares that the title of his book "OPTIMISFIT" is a made-up word. It's an optimistic misfit; someone who lives as a non-conformist adventurer with childlike wonder, and unapologetic optimism. Someone who ignites a fearless rebellion against hopelessness. He shares that there are people committing suicide once every forty seconds. There are 123 suicides a day in America alone and it's been reported that it's increasing by thirty percent nationally. Americans consume more pills due to anxiety and depression than the rest of the planet earth combined by three times over. Studies reported that anti-depressants are the number one, and some reports show number two, best-selling prescribed medications. Ben goes on to share that after God delivered him from battles with mental illness, depression, and being suicidal, he became zealous and passionate about seeing this generation find the cure to depression, which he believes is found in walking with, talking to, living for, leaning into, and depending on the God of hope. Scientific neurological research has found that when you pray about your hopes, your fears, and your dreams, it has the same effect on your brain as therapy.

Tonight on Huckabee, Dr. David M. Aronoff, M.D., Director of the Division of Infectious Diseases at Vanderbilt University, talks about personal safety and the coronavirus COVID-19. Compared to other viruses, the key difference is how easy it transmits and that it causes severe disease. In countries that have already gone through much of the coronavirus pandemic, such as China, South Korea, and Italy, we are beginning to see some cresting. Most people that get infected with the virus are asymptomatic or have very mild symptoms. Only about twenty percent of people have a difficult time with this infection and need perhaps to be hospitalized. Currently, only ten percent are needing to be in the intensive care unit. Somewhere between one and three percent of people who get infected are dying from this infection. While the use of malaria medicine as a potential cure for coronavirus is promising, is inexpensive, and has a very long safety record in human use, we do not yet know how effective it will be. Safety measures include not touching your face, wash hands with soap and water for twenty seconds, use hand sanitizer if you do not have soapy water, avoid shaking hands and hugging, cough in the corner of your elbow instead of in your hands, try to be a home-body and go out in public when absolutely necessary. One of the main lessons we keep learning about infectious diseases is how much they can disrupt society, politics, culture, and the way we interact.

Today on The Eric Metaxas Radio Show, Dr. Linda Mintle, Best-Selling Author and Licensed Therapist, shares her new book, "Living Beyond Pain Holistic Approach to Manage Pain." For the past a couple of years we have heard there is a very serious opioid crisis. Family members, neighbors, and people that we know, are dying from an opioid overdose. There are 100 million people that are in chronic pain with everything from headaches, to migraines, osteoarthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, and injuries. Dr. Mintle tells the history of the opioid crisis. Pain is an effective alarm in the body. Chronic pain is really a chronic brain disease. Not everyone that is taking an opioid for pain is an addict. There are people that are being managed very well by their physicians for pain. The problem with opioids is that people can build a tolerance and become dependent, it does not get to the source of the pain, and it only gives relief. People are not looking to get high; they want relief. Dr. Mintle explains that a person has to work on various aspects of their life, such as meaning, attitude, beliefs, managing emotions, as well as lifestyle and diet changes. The goal is not always to eliminate pain because sometimes that is not possible. The goal is to make a person more functional and to have a better quality of life. While there are various types of pain, a few non-pharmacological treatments include: osteopathic manipulative treatment (OMT) performed by a "D.O." (Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine), acupuncture, and biofeedback.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, and Pastor Sonny Arguinzoni, Jr. introduce us to real life stories of people who overcame heroin and methamphetamine abuse. It has been reported that an estimated 4.2 million people over the age of twelve have used heroin, while twenty-three of these people become dependent on it. Sadly, more than fifty percent of all heroin related deaths are people between the ages of fifteen and thirty-five. When it comes to meth, an alarming thirteen million people over the age of twelve have used meth in the United States alone. Many of these people never live a normal life again, battling with liver, kidney, lung damage, depression, permanent brain and heart damage and sometimes even death. While much of society considers it a hopeless case, that is not necessarily true. In Victory Outreach, we believe that no person is too far gone that God can't reach and change their lives.

Tonight on Praise, Mike Rowe says the definition of a good job is not an inherent thing, we get to decide. We decide where the nobility and dignity are. You really can't be curious without being humble. If you're curious, it's because you don't know something and if you admit that you don't know something then it's hard to be haughty. For the last forty years, society bought into the idea that the best path for most people is a four-year degree, which just happens to be the most expensive path as well. In high school, originally 'Shop' was called 'Vocational Arts.' So when they took the art out of the vocation arts, it became 'Vo-Tech' which then became 'Shop' which was ultimately taken out of high schools. This is the result of taking the art out of the work. The unintended consequences after removing vocational classes from schools was an enlarged skills gap, the cost of college went through the roof, and a lot of well-educated but untrained kids moved back in with their parents. In his view, we're sitting on 1.6 Trillion Dollars of student loans and 7.3 million terrific opportunities, most of which don't require a four-year degree, and we're struggling to fill them.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinizoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, lets us hear stories of mothers who have had to live with the harsh reality that their child is sentenced to many years in prison. This topic has affected families from different backgrounds and social status. Every parent has hopes and dreams for their children. When you see them going in the wrong direction and headed for tragedy, most parents can feel helpless. One wrong decision can change a life forever. As a parent, you never dream or even imagine a son or daughter would be sentenced like a caged animal alone in a 5x8 foot cell or having to deal with the pain that your child has little or no hope of being free again. When your child is locked up in a cold prison cell, the pain can be devastating to a mother. But even in the midst of this horrific situation, God has given peace to many of these mothers. A peace that surpasses all understanding. God has been an anchor to these mothers during their time of hardship and turned their pain into hope.
