The station has broadcast programming dealing with each of these issues. Programming on In Focus with host Carolyn Hutcheson covered each issue in a 9-minute time frame at 12:40 p.m. during the Here and Now news hour. Note: Mondays and Fridays at 12:34 p.m., Don Dailey of Alabama Public Television's Capitol Journal, presented a 4-minute recap of the week's political news, with the NewsWrap and the Buzzword.

A. Societal Issues:*- Broadcast on July 11:

A conversation by Skype with guest David Smitherman, President and CEO of the Better Business Bureau of Central and South Alabama, about the IRS' new policy of authorizing four collection agencies to call long-delinquent taxpayers for payment of back taxes.

-Broadcast on July 13:

A conversation by Skype with guest journalist Melody Warnick, about our mobile society, with 40% of moves happening in the summer months. She talked about how to acclimate to a new community, and she acknowledged that military families are called on to make many moves, due to military assignments. Her book is This is Where You Belong: Finding Home Wherever You Are.

-Broadcast on July 18:

A conversation with guest Bob Corley, singer-songwriter, about the CD, Songs for Social Change, and his Song for Belgrade being chosen as one of the six songs talking about social justice. Corley told how he composed the song, by researching children who were killed in various wars and buried in backyards, because of the danger of taking them to cemeteries for burial.

-Broadcast on July 20:

A conversation with guest Dr. Jim Purcell, Executive Director of the Alabama Commission on Higher Education, about higher education issues in the state - building the economy and the workforce through higher education, opening educational resources to lessen the cost to students (example: making course content available free online, rather than buying books), and streamlining the student financial aid process. Purcell has been an educational leader and change agent in several states.

-Broadcast on July 25:

A conversation with guest Fred Bassett, licensed master bird bander and researcher, who for twenty years has been banding hummingbirds across our tri-state coverage area. -Broadcast on August 9:

A conversation with guest Rick Oates, new Alabama State Forester, about the current ongoing inventory of forest land across the state. He also discussed ways that the Alabama Forestry Commission can help landowners protect their property from wildfires.

-Broadcast on August 17:

A conversation with guest Dr. Judy Robertson, Program Director of the Troy University Interpreter Training Program. Robertson grew up with deaf parents and developed a commitment to sharing American Sign Language. She talked about the need for ASL interpreters and what is involved in the training.

-Broadcast on September 5:

A re-broadcast of an April 25th program about the WTSU Radio Reading Service for blind and physically impaired listeners, with guests Jim Young, Radio Reader since 1997, and Karl Wade, blind advocate. They described how the RRS serves listeners by reading the local newspaper, as well as how the listeners can obtain a special radio receiver through the Alabama Dept. of Rehabilitation Services.

Broadcast on September 6:

A re-broadcast of a March 3rd program and conversation with guest Tom Brandon, educator and school bus driver from Walnut Grove in north Alabama, about funny stories he's heard from the elementary school children on his school bus. His message, though, is that school buses are the safest means of transporting students between home and school, and he shared the statistics. Brandon is the author of Mr. Brandon's School Bus - What I Heard on the Way to School.

-Broadcast on September 7:

A re-broadcast of a July 7, 2016, program of a conversation with newspaper columnist guest Rheta Grimsley Johnson, about her beloved dogs and the book she wrote about them, The Dogs Buried Over the Bridge, A Memoir in Dog Years. She recounted the humorous, yet poignant memories of her dogs and the lessons they taught her.

-Broadcast on September 20:

A conversation with guest Professor Diane Orlofsky of the Troy University School of Music about the recent invitation the Concert Chorale has received to perform with composer Eric Barnam at Carnegie Hall in 2018. Orlofsky had commissioned a couple of pieces from Barnam, who composes contemporary choral music, and Barnam has worked with the Concert Chorale on the Troy campus.

-Broadcast on September 26 :

A conversation with guest Don Dailey, news director of Alabama Public Television, about the forthcoming Republican Primary Runoff Election for U.S. Senator from Alabama. A unique situation with Senator Jeff Sessions, who was appointed U.S. Attorney General, has left his Senate seat vacant.
