Weekly: State Military TOA 05/15/17 10a+8p 59:00 min Talk of Alaska statewide call in Russian fighters have flown near Alaska's coast 5 times in recent weeks. U.S. military officials stress the flights and intercepts are within the realm of normal, a Russia expert says it's a test of American readiness. Where do these incidents fit within the current and future role of security in the region? Senator Dan Sullivan will discuss it on the next Talk of Alaska

Weekly: State Eco Culture TOA 05/22/17 10a+8p 59:00 min Talk of Alaska statewide call in Over the last few decades, the role of women in media and newsrooms has dramatically changed. From being confined to writing mostly about humor or household tips, now, women commentators and columnists write about politics, sports, the economy and yes, family life, too. From Erma Bombeck to Molly Ivins, the role for women in society's dialogue has matured. Three of the state's columnists join us on the next Talk of Alaska

Weekly: Community Utility Hometown, Alaska 04/28/17 2p+8p Utility Unification - For a region with a relatively small population, south central Alaska has a lot of electric utilities and power plants, and that costs you extra money on your bills. On the Next Hometown Alaska, we'll host the heads of our Anchorage power utilities and a business leader to learn about rising power costs and new efforts to fix the problem

Weekly: Community Health Hometown, Alaska 05/03/17 2p+8p Opioid addiction and Treatment Prescription painkillers and cheap heroin have combined to fuel a new public health crisis: addiction and death from overdosing. Join us to learn the status of the battle in Alaska and strategies to defeat.

Weekly: Criminal Justice / Youth Hometown, Alaska 05/10/17 2p+8p Juvenile Justice in Alaska Justice Alaska on Hometown Alaska takes a look at our state's juvenile justice system, with guests representing both prosecution and defense
