PUBLIC AFFAIRS PROGRAMS THAT ADDRESS COMMUNITY ISSUES

KINK (FM) “PUBLIC AFFAIRS SHOW”:

This locally produced program originates with interviews exploring general topics on a local and state level: from education and youth issues, to crime and political measures affecting our local community.

SECOND QUARTER, 2021
(April 1st – June 30th)

MOST SIGNIFICANT ISSUES - RESPONSIVE PROGRAMMING

ISSUE: HEALTH

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th , 2021

5:30am to 6am

10:19 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Liz Hill / SAIF Total Work Health Specialist. KINK's Brett Reckamp gets in-depth tips on how WFH employees can stay healthy while their commute is often from the living room to the bedroom to the office! She says exercise is key - and so is good nutrition and hydration. One huge thing Liz says people should do is create, set and use a calendar. She says it's important for workers to set their work schedules and stick to them - that includes the beginning and end of their day and also regular breaks and lunch breaks.

ISSUE: SPORTS

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

3:14 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Ben Gregg / Local basketball star and Forward for Gonzaga. KINK's Jeremy Scott hears from the former state champ and Clackamas High School grad on why he left his senior year to go to Gonzaga. He says it was worth every second - even though his team fell one game short of winning a national championship. Gregg talks about how tough it's been with COVID and how much he feels for the other high school seniors who missed their season.

ISSUE: TECHNOLOGYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

3:27 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: KINK's Veronica Carter & Brett Reckamp hear from Brian about a new technology from Google Maps that will soon help people get around inside public spaces like the airport. Signs will literally show up on your phone - go left, go right, take the escalator etc. He says they're trying to add as many common indoor areas as possible. The problem will be more people might be staring at their phones as they walk!

ISSUE: EMPLOYMENTKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

7:13 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Louisa Waldman / Regional VP Robert Half Staffing in Portland. KINK's Brett Reckamp hears about a new survey that shows 1 in 3 employees who are working from home would quit if their employer makes them come into the office full time once COVID-19 restrictions are lifted. She says quality employees are more likely to be able to call their own shots once things do start returning to normal. Louisa feels like employers will be making concessions to keep quality employees. She says they'll be offering flexible hours, transportation support and even child care. Even with the unemployment rate still being high, Louisa says high quality work from home employees have pretty good leverage.

ISSUE: WEATHERKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

4:14 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: David Hill / Oregon State University professor. KINK's Tim Lantz goes in-depth with Hill on new ways people can take part in helping to measure snow-pack in Oregon. He says people can volunteer and sign-up and learn about why it's so important while enjoying the great outdoors - safely he adds.

ISSUE: ENTERTAINMENTKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 11th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

18:45 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Ashley Morin / Tigard mom and star of Naked and Afraid. KINK's Brett Reckamp gets an in-depth account of what it was like for the mother of 3 Ashley to be on the show and to complete 14 days of survival. She says she is modest by nature, but quickly got over the idea of being naked in front of her on show partner Matthew. After a few minutes, Ashley said she went into survival mode. For 14 days in the southern Arizona desert, the two of them battled the elements, living off the land and surviving day by day. Ashley says she used her mental toughness she learned in the Marine Corps and the support of her husband who's name is also Matthew to keep her going.

ISSUE: EDUCATIONKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 11th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

8:43 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Sophia Pi and to Sheng Yao Loo / Chinese American local high school students. KINK's Veronica Carter gets the inspiring story of these two young ladies who attend Jesuit and Lake Oswego High School. They are busy writing letters to the Metro Council to get them to prioritize a Cultural Heritage Garden Memorial for some of their most important ancestors who helped build railroads into Portland. They feel like this time when the pandemic has led to a huge spike in Asian hate is the perfect time to make this an important project. Veronica highlights them during her weekly KINK Everyday Hero segment - and a longer interview is also featured on BTH.

ISSUE: BOOKSKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 18th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

28:13 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Dana Haynes / Portland Author - Editor of Portland Tribune. KINK's Brett Reckamp goes in-depth for an extended talk with Dana - of Dana Haynes Mystery Dot Com. Dana has published 8 books and has his 9th nearly ready to unveil. He talks about the process of writing fiction novels. How he gets ideas, where he goes for research, how he moves through his drafts and comes up with big ideas. Dana says he writes long-form with a pencil and notebook in the mornings then transfers that over to his computer in the afternoons. He gives advice for aspiring writers and talks about how important local, Portland independent bookstores are.

ISSUE: CHILDREN / EDUCATIONKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

10:08 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Marissa Ranno / Director First Door PDX. KINK's Veronica Carterspeaks with our KINK everyday hero this week - Marissa helped found the non-profit to focus on kids and education. She lives and works at a commons housing unit in North Portland that is home to a lot of underserved youth who need some help to make their way. She helps them with everything from food to clothing to education and entertainment. Her agency is called First Door PDX Dot Com.

ISSUE: HEALTH / CHILDRENKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

8:21 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Jesus Morales / Truck Driver, Amateur boxer, First Door PDX volunteer. In part 2 of her feature, Veronica talks with Jesus who grew up in North Portland and knows what these kids are dealing with. He has a huge passion for boxing and loves helping the kids stay fit. Jesus says physical fitness and boxing was the thing that saved him when he was young. He thinks a lot of these kids just need someone to look up to and see as a mentor. Jesus calls Marissa the real hero - and visa-versa.

ISSUE: MENTAL HEALTHKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

5:22 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Clinton Rocky / National Weather Service Meteorologist. KINK's Jon Eric Smith talks with Clinton as Portland officially gets ready to record the driest April ever. With only a trace of precipitation at the Portland Airport, Rocky says we are as dry as can be. He says a weak front is coming on Friday, but it won't be enough to get us over the mark. He says if May isn't a whole lot wetter, we could be in for a very rough wildfire season.

ISSUE: VACCINATION

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

4:47 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Tia York / Spokesperson for TriMet. KINK's Tim Lantzhears about this one-day special program Tri Met is putting on to help their employees get vaccinated. Tia says because many of their employees work odd hours, they wanted to actually bring the vaccines to them. So, they worked with the Governor and helped set up a system so all the employees who chose to would be able to come in and get vaccinated against COVID-19.

ISSUE: HEALTH / ALLERGIES

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 2nd, 2021

5:30am to 6am

11:01 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Ryan Gilyeat / Owner Oregon Restoration. KINK's Brett Reckamp goes in-depth with Ryan on how household mold can lead to other problems. He says when mold is taken in over long periods of time, it can make people either more allergic to things or create new allergies. Ryan also touches on the spring mold season. Ryan says mold needs water and a lack of ventilation to grow, and now that we are moving into the warmer months, more people are going to discover mold in places like crawl spaces, attics and bathrooms. He says if you see some, you should get it checked out right away.

ISSUE: HISTORYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 2nd, 2021

5:30am to 6am

9:25 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Taylor Steward / Founder of the Oregon Remembrance Project. KINK's Veronica Carter goes in-depth with Taylor on the history of lynching in the U.S. and in Oregon. He says he has been working to document this dark period of history. Alonzo Tucker was lynched in Coos Bay in 1902. He is helping to push the Equal Justice Initiative that will continue to shine a light on this topic across the country.

ISSUE: LIBRARYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 2nd, 2021

5:30am to 6am

3:21 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Allison Arnold / Lake Oswego Public Library. KINK's Tim Lantz hears about the L.O. Library's Memory Minder Kits. Allison says they are offering the kits for anyone who may be having more short term or even long term memory loss. The same goes for family members. She says dementia is a condition that can be extremely frustrating and they wanted to provide a resource for people that was free.

ISSUE: CHEMICALS / CLEANINGKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 2nd, 2021

5:30am to 6am

4:48 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Nachele Smith / Owner Wet Cat Pool Service. KINK's Jim Ferrettitalks with the Portland business owner about an actual chlorine shortage being experienced around town. Nachele says they have had a major run on pool cleaning chemicals ever since the pandemic started. She says more people have added swimming pools because they had extra money from no vacations and wanted to make their homes more of a vacation spot. She says to expect things to get even worse this summer. Nachele suggests people go with either a “shock” treatment or with salt for their pools.

ISSUE: SAFETY

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 9th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

20:11 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Kim Henry / Industrial Hygienist for SAIF. KINK’s Brett Reckamp goes in-depth with Kim on the latest from OSHA. They recently made their virus rules permanent - only Kim says they’re not really permanent, they were just forced to use that language for now. She says they will revisit the issue in July and likely will make changes. Then they’ll meet again every 2 months afterwards to make changes if necessary. Kim says for now face masks are still required in the workplace as is social distancing and other safety measures including training and ventilation.

ISSUE: VIOLENT CRIMES

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 9th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

7:47 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Lieutenant Greg Pashley / Portland Police Bureau. KINK’s Brett Reckamp and Veronica Carter speak with Lt. Pashley live on Portland’s Morning News. Gun violence and violent crimes have exploded this year with a record number of shootings and gun related homicides. Brett & Veronica hear about some of the struggles the PPB is dealing with. They are short officers and morale is low after all the riots last year. The help wanted sign is out and Lt. Pashley says they’re doing the best they can by trying to cover more territory. Unfortunately, he says they are not able to respond as quickly to calls and are having to limit some of their responses to more violent calls.

ISSUE: VACCINEKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 16th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

12:15 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Lorraine Martin / President & CEO National Safety Council. KINK's Brett Reckamp gets information on how businesses and the private sector are now bridging the gap when it comes to getting more people vaccinated. She says the government is shutting down mass vaccination sites and it will be up to local employers to try and help more people get their shots, and in some cases even giving them out.

ISSUE: ENTERTAINMENT / THEME PARKKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 16th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

12:20 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Susan Vasley / Manager Enchanted Forest. KINK's Jon Eric Smith hears the reasoning behind the decision by Enchanted Forest to announce they were re-opening, and then cancelling that reopening. Susan says they received too many complaints and even threats about mask rules when it comes to masks and face coverings to move forward. She says they will let a few weeks go by and hope things settle down.

ISSUE: MOVIES / ENTERTAINMENTKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 16th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

3:45 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Grae Drake / KINK Movie Critic. KINK's Brett Reckamp gets Grae to say Tiger Zombie! She reviews two movies that are dropping this week including one with some really cool zombies. This comes on a day when 12 more Regal Cinemas are opening back up in the Portland and SW Washington area. They already have 8 open, so the news is great for movie fans.

ISSUE: LOCAL BUSINESS / CRIME

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 23rd, 2021

5:30am to 6am

27:36 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Rick Gilbert / Owner of Grafletics. KINK's Brett Reckamp sits down with Rick in his new Sellwood store to talk about small businesses in Portland and a variety of topics. Grafletics is a design and apparel company with an accent on basketball with t-shirts, hats and other items. Rick goes into detail about how his small business was able to survive the pandemic. He also talks about his shop being broken into twice last summer during the riots. He says he was disappointed but continues to support the BLM movement. He touches on copyright and intellectual property and how he finds new Portland and Oregon based designs without infringing on anyone's designs - especially the Portland Trail Blazers.

ISSUE: ALCOHOL / WORK

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 30th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

8:47 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Liz Hill / SAIF. KINK's Brett Reckamp hears about how with more workers making their way back into the office, some are bringing habits they picked up while working from home into work. Liz is an expert with employee safety. She says impaired workers are something employers need to be paying attention to. And they should also have lines of communication open and a support network ready to go. Liz reminds us that impaired workers aren't just using drugs or alcohol, some could be under extreme stress or sleep deprived.

ISSUE: JOBS / ECONOMYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 30th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Mike Bael / Senior Portfolio Manager for US Bank in Portland. Mike joins Portland's Morning News right after the May jobs report to break it down. He says even though it missed expectations, there is still a lot of good news about the US economy and recovery. The largest section of jobs added were in the leisure and hospitality sectors which is huge for Oregon.

ISSUE: LOCAL HERO / COMMUNITYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 30th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

4:08 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Brittney Arnold / Nurse. KINK's Veronica Carter learns about this week's everyday hero. Brittany has been working hard during the pandemic on the front lines taking care of Covid patients. She was nominated by her dad. She constantly goes above and beyond for others, even though her husband is out on a mission with the Coast Guard.

ISSUE: DRIVING / ALCOHOLKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 30th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

8:49 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Marie Dodds / AAA Oregon, Idaho. KINK's Jim Ferrettitalks with Marie right after a tragic, deadly crash in Estacada. An 18-year-old was driving and reportedly intoxicated when he wrecked and killed 3 of the other teens in his car. Marie says it's a very good reminder of how dangerous summer driving can often be for teenagers.

ISSUE: CITY PARKS REOPENING

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 30th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

3:29 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Mark Ross / Portland Parks and Recreation. KINK's Brett Reckamp hears about some of the timelines for reopening city parks both outside and inside. Mark says they had to let some 1,000 employees go last spring because of the pandemic, but now need to hire about 750 lifeguards to man all the pools. Right now they need at least 400 more to get trained up and ready to roll for when the pools open the third week of June.

ISSUE: HEALTH

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 6th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

17:46 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Dr. Roberta Huang / Chief Medical Officer Lumera Regenerative Medicine. KINK's Brett Reckamp has a sit down with Dr. Huang in her full medi-spa in Tualatin to talk about Emsculpt Neo. Dr. Huang explains how the new technology uses heat and electromagnetic waves to actually melt fat and build muscle. She says it's basically the opposite of CoolSculpting which freezes fat in specific places. Instead, she says this is more a broad target and allows people to get specific areas of their body toned and sculpted without doing 10,000 stomach crunches.

ISSUE: SPORTSKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 6th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

4:42 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Blazers changing broadcast partners. KINK's Tim Lantz talks with Judah about the Portland Trail Blazers' decision to move from NBC Sports Northwest to Root Sports. They say it will increase the amount of households able to view their team. Root is also home to the Mariners and Timbers. The bad news is Root Sports is not available on any streaming services.

ISSUE: CONSUMER / SCAMSKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 6th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

5:57 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Brad Hilliard / Public Information Officer with the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services. KINK's Jon Eric Smith talks with Brad about a new scam outfit calling themselves: The Death Row Gifting Club. Brad says they are recruiting people and asking for money with the promise of big returns. He says they spoke to 20 people who each lost $1,400.

ISSUE: SPORTSKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 13th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

28:22 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Grant Lemon, Phillip Nguyen / Co-Creators of Buckets. KINK's Brett Reckamp goes in-depth for the entire half hour with Grant & Phillip. They are buddies who are both in the graphic design business and both have a passion for basketball and specifically, basketball hoops. So, they decided to bring all their passions together in Rip City to create a coffee table style book called "Buckets" - it's 232 pages featuring over 350 Portland area basketball hoops with characters and stories behind them. They drove through neighborhoods, zig-zagging their way around in search of cool hoops and waited until just the right time to photograph and document them.

ISSUE: WEATHERKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 20th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

6:05 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Rod Hill / KGW Meteorologist. KINK's Brett Reckamp & Veronica Carter hear from Rod on Portland's Morning News on the eve of the heat wave of all heat waves for our area. Portland Metro is expected to get 100+ temps for 3 days in a row and will likely set an all time record for heat set back in 1981 of 107 degrees. An extreme heat warning is in effect from Saturday at 10:00 a.m. through Monday evening. Rod explains the weather pattern that created this kind of heat.

ISSUE: SPORTSKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 20th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

21:12 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Mark Anderegg / Portland Baseball Umpires Association. KINK's Brett Reckamp goes in-depth with Mark who has been calling youth baseball and basketball games in and around the Portland area for over 30 years. He talks about the precautions they took before the heat, and ultimately pulled out of local games for safety. Mark also goes into some of the struggles they have both attracting and retaining young, quality officials. He mentions some of the issues they have to deal with when it comes to unruly parents and coaches and gives some perspective of what they are trying to do to make games as fair and as clean as possible for everyone involved.

ISSUE: ENTERTAINMENTKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 27th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

14:13 minutes of a: 30 minute show

Guest: Todd Harris / Executive member of the Rose Cup Committee. KINK's Brett Reckamp hears from "Hot Rod" Todd Harris ahead of next weekend's return of open wheel racing at Portland International Raceway. The 60th annual event is coming back after getting canceled last year for the first time in history thanks to the pandemic. Todd says they have a lot of races scheduled for mid July with the climax featured race ending things. That one will have all kinds of different cars - different body types and everything - competing in one big race. Todd says the Indy Cars will be back at PIR in September.

ISSUE: WEATHER / SAFETYKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

June 27th, 2021

5:30am to 6am

14:16 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Judi Croft / Safety Services Manager SAIF. KINK's Brett Reckamp goes in-depth on how to best stay safe outdoors working in the heat. Judi has a lot of things to watch for and some tips for both employees and employers. She says they use the buddy system - so people have eyes on others at all times. Judi also touches on safety tips for people who drive for a living. This is good information after that record heat wave we endured - plus regular temps in the 90's.

ISSUE: AMERICAN RESCUE PLAN

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 4th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

28:50 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Oregon Congresswoman Suzanne Bonamici. It's a massive effort to try to jump start the recovery from the pandemic. But how will the American Rescue Plan affect us? It has hundreds of millions of dollars heading to Oregon, for child care, Head Start, meal services for seniors, vaccination programs, and job retraining. The plan comes from the President and Congress, so this week, we're checking in with Oregon Congresswoman Suzanne Bonamici.

ISSUE: ENVIRONMENT

17:10 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Naturalist, David Mizejewski with the National Wildlife Federation. We're talking with an expert Naturalist, David Mizejewski with the National Wildlife Federation, about our local wildlife, why many species are in trouble, and the legislation that could help save them.

ISSUE: ENVIRONMENTKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIR

April 11th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

5:30 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Wildlife Biologist Matthew Vargas. Also some Oregonians are reporting bear trouble: we'll check in with another expert, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife Biologist Matthew Vargas, about getting "Bear Aware."

ISSUE: HEALTHKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 11th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

4:09 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Dr. Jennifer Vines, the Portland metro's lead health officer. We're seeing an increase in COVID-19 cases, and risk levels in Oregon, so we talked to Dr. Jennifer Vines, the Portland metro's lead health officer for the Tri County area.

ISSUE: HEALTHKINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 18th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

10:20 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Dr. Alonzo Plough. Dr. Alonzo Plough says in the coming months, parents should watch for announcements from state and federal governments about getting their kids vaccinated. We also speak with the University of Washington Public Health Professor and Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Chief Science officer, who also spent a decade as Seattle's Public Health Director about getting vaccinated.

ISSUE: HEALTH

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 18th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

16:30 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Oregon State University Pharmacy professor Gaurev Sahay. It's what many see as a setback in the COVID-19 fight. The FDA recommended a pause on the Johnson and Johnson vaccine. I spoke to Oregon State University Pharmacy professor Gaurev Sahay, who helped develop the technology now used to deliver the Pfizer and Moderna vaccines

ISSUE: EDUCATION

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

10:00 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Ted Dintersmith/Author, "What School Could Be". This month local schools are welcoming students back for many in person classes, and preparing for a September they hope will be essentially back to normal. But what can, and should this new normal look like? I talked to Ted Dintersmith, an education expert who has researched school systems in Portland, Salem and across the country, about what the pandemic's taught us, for education moving forward.

ISSUE: ENVIRONMENT

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

April 25th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

14:00 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Brenda Kirsch Frketich, Owner, Kirsch Family Farms. When it comes to the environment of the Pacific Northwest, we certainly have seen extremes...though we're in the middle of a drought, the fierce winter ice storm of February is still having a huge impact on our land. One example of that is the damage in the trees of Oregon's hazelnut farms. I talked to Brenda Kirsch Frketich, a hazelnut farmer, and the owner of Kirsch Family Farms in St. Paul, Oregon. She also tells us about the health benefits of eating hazelnuts.

ISSUE: COVID / COMMUNITY

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 2nd, 2021

6am to 6:30am

28:50 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Congressman Kurt Schrader, Oregon District 5. Portland metro area counties are once again in the extreme risk category for COVID-19, as infections and hospitalizations soar. This week, we talked to Congressman Kurt Schrader, who represents Oregon's District 5 in the U.S. House of Representatives. We find out what he thinks has been effective and ineffective in pandemic relief so far. We also ask him about the end of the eviction moratorium this summer, Oregon's catastrophic wildfire season and the one we could face later this year, what he thinks is most important for the Pacific Northwest in President Biden's infrastructure plan, bipartisanship, immigration, his vote on a workplace violence bill, mass shootings, the reaction to the George Floyd case, police reform, and how he and his staff feel about working at the U.S. Capitol after the January 6th riot.

ISSUE: COVID

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 9th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

28:50 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Multnomah County Commission Chair Deborah Kafoury. It's almost election day. For Multnomah County voters, that is. They're choosing the people who will lead the school board coming out of the pandemic, and resources for saving Oregon's history. The recommended date for people to get their ballots in the mailbox is this coming Tuesday, May 11th, so the ballots can make it back in time for election day, May 18th. So this week I'm talking to Multnomah County Commission Chair Deborah Kafoury... about covid vaccinations for vulnerable people, how to use millions of dollars in pandemic relief money, how to get the Burnside Bridge ready for a devastating earthquake, how to prepare the community for the next wildfire season, and what happens when the eviction moratoriums end this summer, increasing the risk of more people becoming homeless. We also talked about what she's most proud and happy about that's happening in the county even during the pandemic. Like, voters approving a new library for the East county area, preschool for all, and supportive housing, plus: the diversity on the county commission, and the plan to get kids vaccinated and back to school this fall. Up first: the election.

ISSUE: EDUCATION

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 16th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

14:38 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Congressman Blumenauer says Oregon is one of just 11 states that does not require civics education. He supports Senate Bill 513, The Civics Education Act, which passed in the state senate but still needs support from the Statehouse and the Governor's signature to become law. Hearings were conducted on Friday, May 14th, 2021. The House is expected to vote on this bill in late June. Governor Kate Brown says it will have her support. Many feel that the lack of government knowledge contributes to violent protests locally and across the country.

KINK (FM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

May 16th, 2021

6am to 6:30am

2:06 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: State Representative House District 50 in East Portland, and Reynolds School Board Director, Ricky Ruiz. Continued the discussion on Senate Bill 513. The Civics Education Act, which passed in the state senate, but still needs support from the Statehouse and the Governor's signature, to become law. Hearings were conducted on Friday, May 14th, 2021. The House is expected to vote on this bill in late June. Governor Kate Brown says it will have her support. Many feel that the lack of government knowledge contributes to violent protests locally and across the country.

Guest: Multnomah County District 3 Commissioner Jessica Vega Pederson. Multnomah County passed what its leaders call a once in a generation budget this week. It includes a record $2.81 billion dollars. County Commissioner Jessica Vega Pederson says she hopes some of that money, millions of dollars of it, will help stop gun violence in the coming summer months, the traditional time when shootings spike. She remembers witnessing a shooting herself, in her own Portland neighborhood last summer. Another big source of the money is the new, voter approved preschool for all program, which she says expects to welcome its first class of about 1,000 children in the fall of 2022. She explains how this investment will help boost people, across generations. She's also one of the many local leaders, working on getting an earthquake resilient bridge, crucial in the case of a cataclysmic event. I also asked her about her Sierra Club award winning environmental work on cleaner transportation, both as a state lawmaker and a county leader. And, how her observations about sidewalks and parks, spurred this tech worker, to get into politics. But first, we talked about the pandemic. The county's move, to a lower risk level. The vaccination efforts, and how they're targeting harder to reach communities, especially in the Latinx population. And the impact of COVID-19 on the essential workers who are her neighbors.

Guest: Dr. Michael Warren. Associate Administrator for the Maternal and Child Health Bureau, in the U.S. Health Resources and Services Administration. The pandemic means more of us are skipping doctors visits, and that includes for our kids, too. So this week we are focusing on children's health. A new study from the government finds large numbers of American families are missing out on their children's normal checkups and vaccines. Rates of well-child visits and routine vaccinations dropped as much as 20% during the COVID-19 pandemic. If you break it down on ethnic lines, the percentage of missed well-child visits is highest in the Latinx and Hispanic households, at 35 percent, then African American families at 33 percent and 27 percent of white non hispanic households. We talked to Dr. Michael Warren, a pediatrician and the Associate Administrator for Maternal and Child Health Bureau, at the Health Resources and Services Administration. It's the main Federal agency for improving access to health care, and right now it's encouraging parents to get their children caught up on well-child visits and vaccinations, including the COVID-19 vaccine for adolescents age 12 and older.

Guest: Kerry Tymchuck, Executive Director of the Oregon Historical Society. Oregon's lawmakers are singing a chorus: about change. Their mission: update the lyrics in Oregon my Oregon, the official state song. The problem with Oregon My Oregon, isn't the music. It's the some of the words in the state song's first verse. The phrase, "Conquered and held by free men, fairest and the best," is what critics in the state legislature say needs to go. The original song from 1927 was a winner of an intense competition. For the updated version, a Beaverton music teacher won a contest to change the lyrics: they'll now refer to Oregon's natural beauty, and rolling rivers. Kerry Tymchuck is the Executive Director of the Oregon Historical Society. We asked him to chime in on the controversy, and tell us about the society's effort to document Oregon's pandemic history for future generations, now, while it's happening.
