Tonight on Praise, Founder of Hope Generation, Best-Selling Author and TV and Radio Host, Ben Courson shares that there is hope through outbreak. Just because there is a pandemic does not mean there has to be a panic and social distancing does not have to equate to isolation. We are all in this together and we're all going to get through this together. God is bigger than the corona virus. Rather than focusing on the economy and hoarding, ask yourself "How can I help others, give hope messages to others, and extend a helping hand?" The Bible tells us not to be afraid because Jesus is our Father, Shepherd, and King. He takes care of us and loves each one of us. Meditate on God's word and pray.

Tonight on Praise, Senior Pastor of The Potter's House and New York Times Best-Selling Author, Bishop T.D. Jakes, shares that in spite of all the bad news everywhere, the good news is that Jesus is still Lord and God still sits on the throne. He's got everything right in the palm of His hands. We're trusting Him to guide us through this season, not only that we might survive, but that we might thrive in a season of turbulence; using this as an opportunity to rethink our lives and use the innovation that this disruption has caused to maximize who we are, to rest, become productive, to think globally, have capacity, and value what we have. God loves you. Agree with God about you and about His love for you. He thought enough of you to send His son to die on the cross and traded Him for you that He would get the judgement that you were worthy of, so that you could get the life that you could never earn. That is the Gospel message. With all the disruption of COVID-19, maybe God has gotten your attention and that there is more to life than stuff. Everything is shaking. The only thing that is not shaking is God. Build your faith on God. The one thing you cannot buy is peace. Trust and rest in God's peace that passes all understanding.

Tonight on a Special Praise, Pastor Greg Laurie tells us that at the direction of our government, we are sheltering in place during this (COVID-19) pandemic. Although the doors of the church building are closed, the door of opportunity for the Church is wide open. There is a door of opportunity to talk to your neighbor, to use social media to get the Gospel out, and to text your friends and talk about your faith in Christ. People are listening more than they normally listen. People are scared. Opioid use is up in homes, drinking is up, domestic violence is up. People are looking for truth. Pastor Greg Laurie shares a special message entitled "Bringing Christ into Your Crisis." Joining him are his wife, Cathe, who shares very encouraging words for the ladies, his son, Jonathan, who has a special message to share for the youth, and musical guest, Phil Wickham. Pastor Greg prays for viewers to receive Christ. God is bigger than the coronavirus and He wants to work in your life.

Tonight on Praise, Franklin Graham, President & CEO Samaritan's Purse & Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, is joined by his sons Will Graham, Vice President of Billy Graham Evangelistic Association; Roy Graham, Senior Director of Donor Relations of Billy Graham Evangelistic Association; and Edward Graham, Assistant to the Vice President and Programs and Government Relations of Samaritan's Purse. Franklin shares that this is a time in history where God is warning the world because this virus (COVID-19) is a tsunami that has affected every country in the world. Every nation in the world is on a similar order of lockdown. He believes this Easter there may be more people worshipping than we've ever seen in modern history. As people are not going to be able to go church, people are going to be watching churches on television. He believes the warning is to repent of our sins and to look up because our redemption is drawing nigh, and this is the beginning of what is outlined in Matthew 24 and Revelations. As Christians, we need to be serious about church, our faith, and live for Jesus Christ. There is a dying world and they are watching us. The coronavirus is worldwide and is killing people at an alarming rate. Franklin and his sons discuss the work Samaritan's Purse Rapid Response Team is doing in New York and Italy and the ministry at the Billy Graham Library and the Cove. Franklin presents the Gospel of Jesus Christ and invites viewers to receive Him as Lord and Savior.

Tonight on Praise, Pastor Jentezen Franklin, seen on Kingdom Connection on TBN and Author of Acres of Diamonds, shares that the coronavirus has shut down everything and we have been given the greatest opportunity to focus alone in the house with our families and with God. The worst thing that could happen is to go through this and not establish some patterns of reading the word more and praying as a family. Don't let your family just go through this time and not grow. Let's turn to the Lord with our families with all our heart as never before. Pastor Jentezen encourages us that God is with us, He is for us, and He is in us. He believes this is a wake-up call for this generation and in God's goodness and mercy God is saying to get your house in order, and turn your priorities, your homes, and your families back to me. Hold on to your faith through this crisis. Viewers are presented with an opportunity to accept the gift of salvation.

Tonight on Praise, Dan Farrelly, Associate Pastor of Bethel Church, invites Author and Senior Leader Bill Johnson; Senior Worship Pastors Brian & Jenn Johnson; Senior Pastors Eric and Candace Johnson; and Senior Associate Leader, Kris Vallotton; of Bethel Church and Bethel Music to worship and to share how they are processing and walking through this time of difficulty and finding peace. They focus on the importance of worship, the promises of God and the awareness of the need for repentance, reading the word of God, prayer, using wisdom, eating healthy and exercising. Ask yourself: Do I trust God? How can I help my neighbor? As believers there are innovations and creative ideas available to us right now. Invest in your future. Value people and get relationships in order. Be radically generous. People are coming together globally as never before. Continue to broaden community and connect with others using technology. Tonight on Praise, via video, Dr. A.R. Bernard, Pastor of Christian Cultural Center in Brooklyn, New York; and Carl Lentz, Pastor of Hillsong New York; discuss the impact of the coronavirus COVID-19 in New York City. They share their experiences as survivors of COVID-19 and focus on the mental effects of the virus. News reports that suicide, alcohol sales, and pornography, are on the rise, but the number of Christian television viewers has gone up as well. People are looking for an anchor for their minds and souls, something to speak into the fear and darkness they are experiencing; something to bring stability. There are people you can pray for and there are people you can support. Pastor Bernard noted the fact that this virus hit critical mass the very week that the themes of darkness and light stand out the most in our Christian tradition, as well as the Jews, the celebration of Passover and the Resurrection. If we pay attention to the two very powerful metaphors presented to us, we see that God is sending a message that He is greater than all that we are experiencing. Carl Lentz shares that the Gospel of Jesus Christ doesn't care where you're from, what you've done, what you've got, what you don't got, everybody on this planet is a candidate to hear about the love of Jesus Christ. The grace of our God can change any life. Carl Lentz invites viewers to pray for salvation.

Tonight on Praise, Ben Courson, Founder of Hope Generation, Best-Selling Author, and TV and Radio Host, shares that the Bible says to be angry and sin not, which means there can be a good form of anger, but the Bible never speaks well of bitterness. The Bible also says to redeem the time. During this time of sheltering in place, now is your time to start investing that time that was sorely lacking before. Be productive. Be prayerful. Be peaceful. Ben talks about his journey through chronic depression, being suicidal, heartbreak, and being diagnosed with complex post-traumatic stress disorder. He tells people that your breakdown is actually God's breakthrough in your life. Depression festers in isolation, but you are not alone. It is difficult to not be afraid especially when you hear novel coronavirus. Ben prays for viewers to accept Christ and encourages viewers to put their faith in the Lord and to trust in His grace.

Tonight on Praise, Jentezen Franklin, seen on Kingdom Connection on TBN, and Author of his new book, "Aces of Diamonds," shares that typically in a crisis we want to blame someone. This must stop. It is okay to be down, just don't stay there. God can use sinners and failures, but He cannot use quitters. One of the greatest things we can learn from this crisis is to learn how to encourage yourself, read your Bible, and worship. There is something about anointed worship that can bring deliverance and help to your life. Know that God is with you. God is at the bottom, no matter how far down you go. God has given every man a measure of faith, which means anything you face in life God has given you enough faith to overcome that situation. Love, comfort, and pray for one another. Jentezen prays a prayer of blessing for the viewers.

Tonight on Praise, Greg Laurie, Founder and Pastor of Harvest Church shares that many people are open to hearing truth right now. Many are scared because people are dying. They are concerned about their income, investments, employment, the health of their families, and their parents especially if they are older. Bible sales are up, however, so are alcohol sales, calls to suicide hot lines, drug use, and domestic violence. We have the choice during this pandemic (coronavirus) to bring Christ into our crisis or try to face it on our own. This is a moment to adapt and determine what is important. Andy Stanley, Pastor and Founder of North Point Ministries joins the conversation via video from Atlanta. He wants everyone to ask the question "Who is this man, (Jesus)?" He shares that the unique and new opportunity is to continue to learn how to connect with people in the digital world with physical relationships either online, in small groups, or at a physical campus. He suggests not rushing back to the old normal, but to figure out the new normal and make it better. He shares that there is a global consequence to sin. Jesus has the power to forgive sin and has overcome the personal and global consequence of sin, which is sickness, illness, and death. No one is immune and everyone is invited to participate in the kingdom of God. Pastors Greg and Andy invite viewers to accept Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior.

Tonight on Praise, Dr. David Jeremiah, Founder and CEO of Turning Point, also seen on TBN; Pastor, and Best-Selling Author, shares his perspective on the current pandemic. Matt and Laurie share how timely Dr. David Jeremiah's book, "Ten Questions Christians are Asking" is for this season. Tonight, some of the questions discussed are "How do we get victory from worry?" "Is this because of something bad we have done?" "Why don't prayers get answered?" and "What is Faith?" Dr. Jeremiah shares that although this pandemic is very difficult, we need to understand that God is up to something. Challenges like this determine whether we have faith or not and reveals who you are. During this coronavirus we are seeing faith being sorted out. Tragedy, calamity, and challenges sort out your faith and helps to identify what you are trusting in. People who have no solid basis for their life start looking for something that might be helpful and strengthening to them, so we may be in the midst of an online revival. Dr. Jeremiah invites viewers to accept Jesus Christ as Savior. One of the greatest therapies for personal anxiety and worry is to find somebody who needs your help then help them. We are, through this adversity, learning how badly we need God. God loves you and He will be with you throughout all of this.

Tonight on Praise, Rich Wilkerson Jr., Pastor of Vous Church in Miami, Florida; and Tye Tribbett, Pastor of Live Church in Miami, Florida; share an encouraging message in the midst of the pandemic COVID-19. Pastor Wilkerson presents the questions, "As things change, how are you going to change?" "What will your testimony be on the other side of this crisis?" He shares that when you get through one crisis, there is always another one awaiting us. Wisdom and faith don't stop the storm. We all face the storm, but the question is, 'What are you building your life upon?' Pastor Tribbett asks "What is God telling you to build that can sustain the storm you are in? It is the goodness of the Lord that leads to repentance. God is going to love us into communion with Him through His goodness. Even in the midst of this pandemic, we can never deny that God is still good. Our strength, protection, peace, and provision come from hearing the voice of God for you and your house.

Tonight on Praise, Dr. Robert Jeffress, Senior Pastor of First Baptist Church of Dallas and Host and Bible Teacher of Pathway to Victory, shares his thoughts about the coronavirus. For Christians, we are not to be paralyzed with panic or overcome by fear; but have a sound mind in what we do. Take the necessary precautions. We are going to get through this. This is the time for the church of Jesus Christ to be courageous and fearless. Dr. Jeffress began writing the book, "Courageous 10 Strategies for Thriving in a Hostile World," two years ago. It's recent release and the discussion of courageous is a timely message for today. Don't panic. God's people ought to stay calm and move forward with the proclamation of the Gospel. Take inventory of your resources. Gain situational awareness. Pray about those things that worry you. Have a victor's mindset. The great promise that every Christian can claim is Romans 28 for we know that God causes all things to work together for good for those who love Him and are called according to his purpose. Do the next right thing. This coronavirus is a reminder that there is only one God in the universe, and we do not control our destiny. Doing the next right thing for all of us is making sure we are in a right relationship with God.

Praise #52420	55:50	28:00	REC	PA/O/E	5/24/2020	11:00 PM

Tonight on Praise, from California, Pastor Greg Laurie shares that Americans are beginning to wonder if COVID-19 is not a sign of the end times. Has it been a wake up call for you? In the span of forty years COVID-19 is the sixth most infectious plague unleashed on the planet. Today, many people are apprehensive, some are fainting from terror, drinking, partying, drugging, doing anything to distract themselves from the reality they are facing. Sales of anxiety medicines are way up. You can freak out or you can look up! We should be looking for Jesus Christ. Pastor Laurie chronicles the events of the end times. Though the word rapture is not in the Bible, the word harpazo is and it is used thirteen times in the New Testament. The rapture is when Christ descends from heaven and we are caught up to meet Him in the air and we receive our new resurrection bodies. It also is the moment when we will be reunited with loved ones who have died in faith who have preceded us to heaven. Why is there a rapture? The title of the last book of the Bible is Revelation. The word revelation means "unveiling." It is not God's desire to conceal, but to reveal and encourage us. The Bible calls the rapture the blessed hope. Talking about the Lord's return makes us want to be closer to God. When will the Lord return in the rapture? No man knows the day or the hour. It could happen at any moment. God loves you and has a plan for your life. God has shown how much He loves you by sending His Son to die on a cross for you. Pastor Laurie invites viewers to accept Jesus as Lord and Savior.

Tonight on Praise: A Special Night of Praise and Worship with musical guests Deitrick Haddon, Myron Butler, Jekalyn Carr, and Martha Munizzi. Through the years we've experienced great tragedy, trials, and tribulations, but in the mist of it all Church we found that music, songs, have gotten us through the toughest of times. Even now, as we are experiencing so many challenging times with COVID-19 and racial unrest, it is the music, it is the songs, it's the singers, it's the people behind the voices that bring that hope that is so needed. Tonight we are here to celebrate with you and your family and with the TBN family. We're going to sing songs of hope tonight that will lift the spirit, songs that will help ignite the presence of God and allow for you to be encouraged in your time of need. There is always a song that can change a life.

					6/25/2020	11:00 PM

Tonight on Praise, Dr. David Jeremiah, Pastor, Host of Turning Point, and Best-Selling Author, talks about how we can "Shelter In God" which is also the title of his latest book. He shares a biblical perspective in response to this COVID-19 season. The Book of Psalms is filled with wisdom. Wisdom is learning to do the right thing when there is no precedence. As you read the Psalms, you will find that this is not the first time something like this has happened, you are not alone, God is there. Dr. Jeremiah encourages viewers to let this time drive you toward God. We recognize that trouble is colorblind. Jesus is the answer to your problems. He loves you more than you can imagine. Jesus is the only hope we have, and He is the only one that can bring us together. God is enough.

Pastor Greg Laurie talks about how to deal with fear, anxiety, and worry, from which no one is exempt. During this pandemic, we need the comforting, reassuring words of our Father in Heaven who is here with us. The Christian is indestructible until God is done with them. You will live as long as God wants you to live and He will protect you until that day. Nobody wants to die, but we are all going to die. As a Christian we don't have to fear death itself because God is greater than death. We don't know what is coming next. You are not alone. Jesus is with you in your storm and is watching you with great interest and concern. Jesus cares about you and is interceding for you. This crisis is an opportunity for the church to help people. When fear reigns, faith is driven away. You can be afraid, or you can be courageous. Reach out to one another virtually, texting, emailing, posting, and using the phone. Make sure no one is left alone. Keep your eyes on the Lord. Christians it is time to pray and call out to God in desperation and urgency. We need God to intervene. We need to pray for the scientists and those that are doing research to find some kind of cure for the coronavirus. We need to pray for our president, and all the others that are working tirelessly to help us through this national crisis. Call out to the Lord. God loves you. Is Jesus living in your life? Pastor Laurie prays and invites viewers to ask Jesus to forgive them of their sins and to come into their life.

Easter in America: On Easter Weekend Experience Nick Hall, Founder and Chief Communicator of Pulse, brings together Michael W. Smith, Grammy Award-Wining Recording Artist; Francis Chan, Pastor, Author, & Missionary; Kari Jobe and Cody Carnes, Award-Winning Recording Artists; and Max Lucado, Best-Selling Christian Author; to celebrate the power of Easter, brining hope through their music and message. Nick encourages viewers that in the mist of this pandemic, as so many are hurting and afraid, God loves you and He sees you. God does not leave us alone, but He suffers with and for us. He conquered sin and death through the resurrection. There is hope for you. The purpose of Easter is so that we can remember the hope and love of God demonstrated through Jesus. Jesus changes everything. Nick gives an invitation for viewers to accept Jesus Christ.

Andy Stanley Easter: 'Light Breaking Through' performed by North Point Worship featuring Lauren Lee. Andy Stanley, Senior Pastor of North Point Community Church, tells us that the story of Easter has never been more relevant. He explains that on Easter we celebrate the event that launched the movement; the church, that eventually brought us the Bible. The Christian faith began with the resurrection of Jesus. It reminds us that God is near, that we matter to God and that we are going to be okay. The time has come! The kingdom of God has come near. The invitation is to repent and believe the good news!

Hope Generation with Ben Courson #2020	23:00	23:00	REC	PA/O	5/14/2020	4:30 PM

Hope Generation with Ben Courson: Right now we are in the midst of a national emergency COVID-19 and the spread of the coronavirus. Travel has been banned from Europe, we're living in a day were lockdown is happening, we're not allowed to gather in groups of more than 25 people, it's suggested no more than 10 people. Restaurants are closing, grocery stores are empty of necessary resources and needs that people require. We're living in a time of stress, anxiety, fear and worry. How do we as sons and daughters of God react to the coronavirus? We need not fear the coronavirus because God is bigger than the coronavirus. The fear of the coronavirus is more lethal to the spirit than COVID-19 could possibly be to the body. He encourages us that we are indestructible until God calls your number. Death is not an accident it is an appointment. And until God calls you home, know this, you have a bulletproof soul. You are indestructible. God is bigger than the coronavirus. If you are fearful and worried it is because your view of God is too small. Put your trust in the Almighty Jehovah Rapha for He is the God who heals.

Steven Furtick Sunday #2016	28:20	28:20	REC	PA/O	4/11/2020	9:30 AM
					4/12/2020	8:00 AM

Steven Furtick Sunday: Pastor Steven Furtick shares a message titled "I'm still scared." He asks the question, "What won't you do?" In a time where people are desperate and we all feel scared, you must decide what you won't do. Perhaps you won't lash out at the people closest to me because of the fear that I feel about what's going on outside of me. As people of faith, we don't give way to despair, minimize the sufferings of others. I won't live in fear. I will not stop. I will not give away my joy. I will not give away my peace. One of the many lessons God is trying to get us to learn during this time is that sometime what can't see is more important than what we can't see. In this season of what we can't control, we have to re-define faith. Sometimes faith changes the situation and sometimes faith changes the way you see the situation. The only way to stop being afraid is to change what you are focused on. Ask the Lord to illuminate your sight. You're not alone. Me and God is greater than anything I face. We have more reasons to trust God than we do reasons to doubt Him. We've got more victories behind us than we do reasons to fear in front of us. We have more reasons to be grateful than we do to be afraid right now. With a perspective of praise and with wide open eyes and lifted hands, let your children see how you fight your battles.

Global Easter Pastor Gatherings: Rick and Kay Warren invite respected leaders from each continent to lead us in prayer. Bishop T.D. Jakes of The Potter's House (North America) prays for those who are anxious and fearful due to COVID-19. Pastor Carlito & Leila of Paes Igreja Da Cidade (South America) pray for the healthcare professionals who are risking their lives to save others. Pastor Tony & Mei Yeo, of Covenant Evangelical Free Church (Asia), pray for those who have suffered financial loss due to COVID-19. Brian Houston of Hillsong Church (Australia), prays that the church will be a light to the nations. Pastors Nicky and Pippa of Gumbel Holy Trinity Brompton (Europe) pray for the Holy Spirit to fill our pastors and ministry leaders as they prepare to share the hope of Christ this Easter. Archbishop Laurent Mbanda, of Anglican Church (Africa), prays for spiritual revival to spread during the COVID-19 pandemic. Rick and Kay Warren pray to claim the promise of Romans 8:28 and Psalm 91, that God will bring good out of the COVID-19 pandemic and use you and your church for healing and the Lord alone is our refuge.

Pastor Steven Furtick shares that we are positioned for a miracle. When we have fear in our lives, it is not something to be rejected but it's something to be worked through. In God's gymnasium, fear is to our spirit what weights are to our muscles. When we feel fear it gives us an opportunity to exercise faith. When God steps in hopeless situations, He positions us for miracles in the middle a mess. You are not the only one. We are all going through this (pandemic) together. God shows you who you really are by what He brings you through. When we are going through something the goal is not just to get through it, the goal is for God to show us something in it that will make us better on the other side. When God says stop living by feelings and start living by faith.

We walked through a crazy time these few months as the virus (COVID-19) has turned our world upside down. It turned grocery store aisles into rows of empty shelves, extroverts into reluctant reclusives, family celebrations into long-distance affirmations, church community into video chats, and working parents into full-time teachers, to name a few changes. We are all more than a little ready for the day when things get back to normal, even if it is a new normal. This is a season we all had to go through, and we cannot help but be changed by it. As the coronavirus pandemic brings life across the country to a grinding halt, American's are facing a new normal. Though we may not be able to circle that date on a calendar, very soon we will be on the other side of this thing. The question is, "What will that actually look like? Where will the world be? Who will we be?"

In this season of COVID-19 many people have experienced fear, loneliness, and even loss. It's hard to know how to respond in such times of uncertainty, but scripture gives us the answer. In Psalm 34:1 David says, "I will extol the Lord at all times. His praise shall always be on my lips." At all times, through the good times, and the bad. David knew the power of praise; when we turn our eyes to Jesus in times of trouble, we surrender our cares to Him and invite Him to surround us with His love, peace, and strength. No matter what you're facing, worship can fill your heart today.

Steve Robinson, pastor of Church of the King in New Orleans, Louisiana, welcomes us to the UNITE714 Global Prayer Event as Christians from around the world unite in prayer and worship. He shares that the world has been affected by COVID-19. Millions are unemployed. Many are struggling in their health, in their emotions, and even in their souls; facing battles they never anticipated. They are hurting. Perhaps you are struggling today. That is why there is no better time than now for us to call out to God in prayer. UNITE714 is based upon 2 Chronicles 7:14 that says that when we humble ourselves, repent, and pray, God will hear us and heal our lands. Christians from every corner of the earth are uniting in prayer. Speakers, pastors, and leaders from across the globe including Christine Caine, A21 & Propel Women; Miles McPherson of Rock Church; Brian Houston of Hillsong Church; Robert Morris of Gateway Church; Chris Hodges, Church of the Highlands; and Jentezen Franklin of Free Chapel; to name a few, encourage us and lead us in prayer.

Tonight on Huckabee: Cyntoia Brown-Long, a victim of childhood abuse and sex trafficking, was sentenced to life in prison for murder at age 16. She tells her story in her new book: "Free Cyntoia: My Search for Redemption in the American Prison System." Cyntoia's testimony now helps other young girls avoid what she experienced. As an advocate for prison reform, she believes that no one is beyond redemption and that God is able to change anyone's life around. She expresses the importance to have programming and opportunities for individuals to better themselves while incarcerated.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, introduces us to Lisa, a former prostitute. She shares how she became a prostitute and how God set her free from that bondage. Prostitution is widely considered the world's oldest profession. Women find themselves in brothels, hotels, and even street corners, facing dangers daily. Most of these women were pulled into this lifestyle at a young age. People may ask the question, "Why don't these women just walk away?" While it may be easier for some than others, many have been trapped into this lifestyle through sex trafficking and various situations with no way out. The answer is Jesus. He is able to deliver them and set them free.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, shows us the life of a former prostitute and how she found hope. Prostitution has been around for thousands of years damaging the lives of many women. Recent statistics tell us that the average prostitute begins selling her body between the ages of 12 and 14. Many of these women face physical dangers from assaults and rape. Some are even murdered in the streets. The great percentage of these women go on to contract sexually transmitted diseases and psychological disorders. To many, this seems like a hopeless situation, but we believe that nothing is hopeless when God enters the picture. No matter what you've done, no matter where you've been, God is able to change your life and turn your life around and give you a new direction, give you new purpose, and heal your broken heart. His love is able to change your life.

On today's episode of Treasures, Sonny Arguinzoni, Founder of Victory Outreach International, and Sonny Arguinzoni, Jr., Pastor of Victory Outreach Chino, takes us into the lives of women locked up behind prison bars. The life of a woman prisoner is very dangerous. Many of these women will never adapt to so-called 'normal life' because of the traumatic experience they face behind those prison walls. There's a tremendous amount of tension, violence, and fear that women face daily. The percentage of women going to prison has skyrocketed over the last 30 years by 646%, rising from about 15,000 women to over 110,000 women. So many of these women experience physical and sexual abuse while imprisoned. More than one million women are a part of the criminal justice system whether it is through incarceration, probation, or parole. Many of these women are mothers, or mothers to be, at the time of their imprisonment, and 62% of these women have children under the age of 18 while in prison. These incarcerated women find themselves in a place of regret, depression, physical harm, and sometimes with suicidal thoughts. But the bars of a prison cell are not strong enough to hold back God's grace, love and forgiveness. These are the stories of a few women who were once locked in a prison cell but found the keys to freedom through Jesus Christ.

Tonight on Praise, American Historian and Founder of Wallbuilder, David Barton helps to bring focus to this COVID-19 season through a very important document called the Constitution of the United States. David shares that although pandemics are unique for our generation, they are not unique for our history or for our constitution. Constitutionally it was handled by the states and by local areas, which is historically and constitutionally the right way to do it. Currently, on the federal level, our President has provided guidelines and we see how the various states are reacting in different ways. As long as what is happening is temporary, and limited and universal, you can temporarily inhibit for the common good or general welfare of the people in times of crisis. If you think your constitutional rights are being infringed, First Liberty, Liberty Counsel, Alliance Defending Freedom, and the Pacific Justice Institute, are resources to defend your constitutional rights. WallBuilders also has resources for churches, as well as for parents that home school. South Carolina Senator Tim Scott shares that the Coronavirus Legislation Cares Act now includes in the small business definition non-profits and churches for the 350 Billion Dollar loan program that will become a grant if used appropriately. Unemployment benefits were also extended to those employees laid off or furloughed from a church. For the rest of this year, you can use the standard deduction and at the same time itemize Three Hundred Dollars as an average contribution to any charity and the church of your choice. In addition, the fifty percent limit on how much a person can give which has been increased to one hundred percent for the balance of the year. Businesses that are making a profit, rather than giving ten percent, they are now able to give up to twenty-five percent. Greg Surratt, Pastor of Seacoast Church shares that as citizens of the United States we all have a responsibility to be aware and involved. He believes this is the church's finest hour and God has a purpose for His people in this pandemic.

Across the nation the virus numbers are flattening, giving the states opportunities to reopen and a lot of people will go back to work. We will see a rebound in the second half of this year. The President is working on a payroll tax holiday for workers, providing a 7.1 percent increase in after tax income. Currently, businesses have a phase 3 payroll tax holiday in place for the remainder of the year and it is a deferral paid back over a period of years. Travel and hospitality industries are being considered to receive major tax deductions or credits.

Today on Building on The American Heritage Series, American Historian, David Barton discusses the foundations of American government. He explains that the Declaration of Independence gives five fundamental principles on which American government operates: 1. We in government acknowledge that there is a Creator. 2. The Creator gives certain inalienable rights to every man. Among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. 3. Government exists to protect these rights. 4. There is a moral law; the laws of nature and the laws of nature's God (the Bible). 5. Below the moral law we do things with the consent of the governed. In the Bible there are four types of law 1. Ceremonial law; by which you become righteous through a sacrifice. 2. Judicial law; the penalty that is applied to a crime. 3. The ten commandments. 4. Social Compact; the consent of the majority.

In the case of Christians, the Bible also clearly defines the roles of judges. David debunks the myths that federal judges are appointed for life, that the judiciary is an independent branch, and only the judges decide what is constitutional or not. The Legislative Branch, the Executive Branch, and the Judiciary Branch, are not independent of the people. All three branches are accountable and decide what is constitutional. The Bible is the basis of our judicial system.

On this episode of Somebody's Gotta Do It, Host, Mike Rowe, takes us inside the national competition for Skills USA to find out how they are creating thousands of great careers while keeping the American Dream alive. Skills USA has filled in the gap that was created when Vo-tech vanished from high schools, by establishing a partnership between education and industry. Every year this organization trains over 300,000 students in dozens of skilled trades; welding, baking, and broadcasting, to name a few. At this competition, every competing student has already won a competition at the state level, and now they are competing for scholarships. Each competition lays out specific tasks to be completed within a certain amount of time with the opportunity to be awarded gold, silver, and bronze medallions. We're looking at a shortage of over 250,000 workers in the next ten years of retiring age. Our entire infrastructure is held together by welds, and the people who know how to make them. Right now, a good welder who is willing to go where the work is could pretty much write his or her own ticket. The baking industry is also struggling to find qualified people. While students are coming out of college mired in debt with no guarantee for a job in their field, the students who participate at Skills USA are gaining valuable training that makes them ready for the workforce as soon as they graduate.

Tonight on Praise, Dr. Scott Hannen discusses the Coronavirus; COVID-19. CO stands for Coronavirus, VI stands for Virus, D stands for Disease, and 19 is the year (2019) it was identified. Since it is a new strain or new virus, the Coronavirus is called a novel virus. COVID is an umbrella of viruses, such as Sars and the common cold. Like most flus, the way it proliferates is there will be a peak, it will flatten, then it will decline. The goal is to try to do everything you can in your immune system to try to remain resistant to it. The cure is always going to be prevention first, followed by medical care. Currently, there is no cure for COVID-19. There are some things you can do to safeguard and try to help your body to resist such as taking Vitamin C with bioflavonoids, Vitamin D3, Zinc (zinc with copper formula), Vitamin E, Proanthocyanidins (found in grapeseed extract and pine bark). Over the next few weeks it would be to your advantage to refrain from refined sugars, smoking and tobacco products, alcoholic beverages, breathing aerosols, and immune suppressing drugs. Go to TBN.org/Dr. Hannen for free information (cheat sheet). Dr. Hannen reports that in America 50,000 suicides are committed annually and there have been 35,000 suicides for this virus worldwide. He encourages viewers not to allow fear into our spirit for God has not given us the spirit of fear. God's peace is greater.

Tonight on Praise, Jordan Rubin, Founder of Ancient Nutrition, and Chiropractic Physician and Nutritionist, Dr. Josh Axe, discuss the nutrient, collagen, that virtually everyone is missing from their daily diet, which is so important that it makes up ninety percent of our bodies tissues and organs. Thirty percent of all of the protein in our body is collagen, such as our skin, hair, nails, bones, discs, ligaments, tendons, connective tissue, and gut lining. What is the one food that people have been given throughout history when they're not feeling well, post-surgery in a hospital, even today all around the world, and what does grandma give you when you're feeling under the weather? Chicken soup; which is really a bone broth or chicken soup made from the bones, joints, and ligaments of the animal. Today, we skip the soup and we go for the chicken breast, nuggets, tenders, beef tenderloin and the burger. In our history when we ate meat; fish, poultry, or red meat, we would eat the meat and take the bones and make a soup, stock, or broth. The way we look, feel and move is largely related to the amount of collagen in our body, and as we age, we slow down production and eventually stop producing collagen. Multi-Collagen Protein was developed by Jordan Rubin and Dr. Josh Axe to provide people with an easy, simple way, to get collagen in the diet, in the right amounts, in virtually every meal. While calcium is needed for strong bones, there is more collagen in your bones than calcium and all other minerals combined, and it is essential for our health. When you consume collagen peptides, small chains of protein, your body begins to regenerate its collagen supply. When selecting collagen, there are various types of collagen, and just like we need multiple types of vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants, we need multiple types of collagen.

Tonight on Huckabee: Dr. Ben Carson 17th Secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development talks about solutions for the crisis of inner cities. The coronavirus COVID-19 outbreak has taught us is that there are certain people in our society who are extremely susceptible. The mortality rates in the African American community and Hispanic community are very, very, high and it is largely because of the comorbidities. We should direct our attention to the Hyper-tension, Diabetes, Obesity, Asthma, and ask why these things are occurring. We need to address long term affordable and fair housing, long term medical care, food deserts, healthy food, transportation, and most importantly education.
