Autism Awareness

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: April 6th, 2019

Topics: Autism Awareness

Guests: Angelo Martinez – The Jericho School

Duration: 23:23

I sat down with Angelo Martinez who is the executive director at the Jericho School – which is a school for kids with Autism.

We touched on how the school works with both kids and families but we mainly discussed Autism in general. I wanted to touch on the disorder and with his experience to see if there was any advice he can lend to families looking for ideas on where to start once they learn their child has been diagnosed.

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: April 13th 2019

Topics: Autism Awareness

Guests: Elizabeth North

Duration: 25:17

After having a meeting with someone working at a school dealing with autism. I wanted to get a parent's insight. Elizabeth North has several kids and one of them is diagnosed with Autism. She walked me through her story after learning the diagnosis and how they're living with and dealing with it as a family to this day. Getting a parent's insight is crucial for stories like this because having officials or organizations are great – but I think having parents share their stories has the opportunity of sparking that “wow, I thought I was the only parent who was going through that.”

Amendment 4 (Voting Restoration)

First Coast Forum

Host: Kandace Thomas

Airdate: April 28th

Topic: Voting Restoration

Guest: Natasha Christie

Duration: 28min

Kandace talks with Dr Christie about Amendment 4 and what that means for voting restoration. They discuss the process of adding Amendment 4 to the ballot last election and how attitudes have changed over the years on voting. Dr. Christie talks about the history of disenfranchisement and how it can disproportionately effect communities of color. We also spoke about the future of the Amendment as the legislature moved to specify so of the ambiguity of the bill.

First Coast Forum

Host: Julie Morgan

Airdate: Sunday, June 22

Topic: Amendment 4

Guest: State Representative Tracie Davis, District 13

Duration: 24 minutes

Today's interview covers Amendment 4 as well as the sales tax holidays approved in the most recent Florida legislative session. Representative Davis talks about the changes to Amendment 4 and how those changes came about. She says they were asked to define terms in the Amedment but they ended up changing the Amendment which she was not in favor. She says Amendment 4 was a self-executing amendment and they didn't need to touch it for it to be enforced. They approved 2 sales tax holidays. The first is for disaster relief and the second is back-to-school. The difference between these sales tax holidays and the sales tax holidays from previous years is that these are 5 days instead of 3.

Medical Marijuana / Cannabis

First Coast Forum

Host: Meghan Lane

Airdate: weekend of May 10, 11,12

Topic: Medical Marijuana

Guest: Daniel Locke owner Compassionate Alternative Care

Duration: 26 minutes

Daniel discussed how Compassionate Alternative Care works, how patients acquire their medical marijuana card, stigmas associated with it, different types, conditions that are approved for medical marijuana, the differences between dispensaries and a lot more.

News Story

Airdate: June 3, 2019

Topic: Florida House Defends Medical Marijuana Law

Duration: 8 minutes

Tallahassee, FL - As court battles continue about whether the state is properly carrying out a 2016 constitutional amendment that broadly legalized medical marijuana, the Florida House is again trying to weigh in.

House attorneys Friday gave notice that they will appeal a Leon County circuit judge's ruling that blocked the House from intervening in a lawsuit to help defend a controversial 2017 law that was designed to carry out the constitutional amendment. The move came as the House also is asking the 1st District Court of Appeal to allow it to intervene in another case about the 2017 law.

The notice filed Friday, as is common, does not detail the House's arguments. But it seeks to overturn a decision last month by Leon County Circuit Judge Charles Dodson that kept the House out of a lawsuit filed by Patients and Producers Alliance, Inc. against the Florida Department of Health.

The non-profit Patients and Producers Alliance argues in the lawsuit that the 2017 law violates the constitutional amendment because it improperly restricts medical-marijuana firms. The House has contended in circuit court that it should be allowed to defend the law, in part pointing to the state's need to navigate federal laws, under which marijuana remains illegal.

"The Florida House of Representatives, as one-half of the state's policymaking branch, is well-situated to respond to the plaintiff and the court in defense of (the 2017 law)," the House said in a January filing in circuit court. "Notably, the MMA (medical marijuana amendment) gives implementation authority --- not policymaking authority --- to the Department of Health, and the Florida Constitution's strict, express separation of powers precludes this court from exercising policymaking authority. That leaves the Legislature with the sole constitutional authority to make the necessary policy choices for how to implement the MMA within the limits of an otherwise conflicting and superseding federal drug policy."

First Coast Forum

Host: Caitlin Johnson

Airdate: Saturday, May 24, 2019 to Sunday, March 26, 2019

Topic: Hurricane Preparedness

Guest: Amber Bierfreund, Red Cross

Duration: 26 minutes, 31 seconds

Amber Bierfreund from the Red Cross came by to get our listeners prepared for the Hurricane Season that kicks off on June 1st. We discussed all the different ways the Red Cross helps people. She explained the Red Cross's biggest need is helping people after residential fires. As you can imagine, these fires cause families to be immediately displaced from their homes and sometimes with nothing recovered, injuries and deaths. The Red Cross is an organization to turn to in those hard times. Obviously, they are also vital during and after the effects of a natural disaster, such as a hurricane. We are no strangers to hurricanes here in Florida and need to be prepared for the season. Amber reviewed what should be in your hurricane emergency kit. Items included food, water, radio, flashlights, plans for the family members and pets, etc. She also explained what the Red Cross provides during hurricanes and how they help with the aftermath. Everything from finding lost family members to providing shelters and mobile food and water trucks are available through the Red Cross based on need. The Red Cross provides a multitude of services to the public most people are unaware of. They are a huge help to the military and their families. Getting emergency information to deployed military and arranging travel if necessary, for them to come back to the states.

Airdate: 4/21/19

Topics: Notre Dame cathedral, special Olympics,

Guests: Deputy Chris Padgett, Mark and Natalie Bergman, Chris and Jean Everhart

Duration: 20:39

For the first time in hundred of years worshippers will not be able to go to the Notre Dame cathedral for Easter after the horrific fire. The flame took almost 9 hours to be put out by firefighters and the ceiling was one of the weaker points in the building. Over 3k athletes will be competing in this year's special Olympics in the next few months. This event is means a lot to not only the athletes but the communities that rally around them. Deputy Chris Padgett has been apart of this event since he was in high school and is passionate about making these athletes dream come true. Many babies are born prematurely every year and parents can feel helpless in these situations. Parents Mark and Natalie Bergman joined the show to discuss the experience with their baby boy being born early and the obstacles they had to overcome. April is financial literacy month but most people are not in tune with how to properly manage their finances. Local couple Chris and Jean Everhart discuss how they got out of their financial rut.

Action News Sunday

Host: Paige Kelton and Dawn Lopez

Airdate: 5/5/19

Topics: Toll roads, Teen Center, Children's Authors

Guests: Mal Washington, Jennifer Swanson

Duration: 20:44

Paige Kelton discussed toll roads returning to Jax. In 1988, taxpayers got rid of toll roads by agreeing to a $.05% sales tax increase. A reporter reached out to the President of SunPass. As of today, still no word from representatives of SunPass. He went to Tallahassee for answers where a representative spoke on how unprofessional it is for SunPass to ignore interview requests. In April, the Mal Washington foundation started to break ground to open a new teen center here in the Derkyville area. The center will be called Club 904. The foundation's staff and volunteers tell children that they have so many opportunities and help them to reach their potential. The center will have a host of activities and trainings for teens; to include but not limited to a teaching kitchen, music and more. Dawn spoke to Jennifer Swanson in regards to getting children away from computer screens, phones and tablets. They are hoping to get more kids to grow a love a reading by offering intriguing Nonfiction books for children of all ages. 70 Nonfiction authors and 7 editors recently got together in the Jacksonville area to talk and exchange ideas.

Action News Sunday

Host: Paige Kelton

Airdate: 05/19/19

Topics: Title II(lawsuit against Carnival, Women's death behind bars, Toll Roads

Guests: Jessie Hinkson, Dr. Garcia, Dr. Raymond Pom, Clay County Jail Director, Tim McGill, Rob Bradley, Audrey Gibson

Duration: 20:39

A local neurologist is suing Carnival Cruise lines for using property stolen from his family over 60 years ago. He was not allowed to take any of his personal belongings when he was forced out of his property; a business that was in the family since 1905. The owners have been waiting decades to sue over use of their land. Title III is being criticized but it reflects the intent of international law that prohibits confiscation of property without fair compensation. Settling the claims are crucial in order to reconcile between the US and Cuba.

A local mother died behind bars. Medical treatment in the Clay County jail may have played a role in the death. She died alone in a jail cell on March 4th of hypertensive heart disease and chronic drug withdrawal. Several drugs were found in her system. Clay County Jail Director spoke on the incident. Staff was informed that she may have had drugs in her system at the time she was booked. Cameras in the jail do not record; many are broken. The system is antiquated and need to be replaced. Looking to improve services by using a third party provider to screen and treat inmates. This will potentially impact the tax payers in Clay County.

Toll roads opening this weekend after taxpayers fought to get rid of them. The cost to print and mail the tickets is far more than the cost of the tickets themselves; a misuse of tax dollars. Rob Bradley spoke to reporters regarding Sunpass refusing to speak on the toll tax and fees. Audrey Gibson spoke on the marketing and advertising for Sunpass.

Action News Sunday

Subject: Covering the issues affecting Active Duty Service Members and Retired Veterans

Hosts/Anchors: Tenikka Hughs, John Bachman, Lorena Inclan, Ben Becker, Paige Kelton, Amber Krycka

Air Date/s: June 8, 2019, (WOKV) / June 9, 2019 (WOKV-F2, WJGL-F2, WJGL, WXXJ, WEZI, WOKV-AM, WAPE)

Time: 30:40

This week's program focused on the issues affecting active duty and retired veterans in our area. Throughout the program, several aspects of military life were reported on to include, combat littoral ships, women in the armed services, VA disability claims and how veterans are coping with post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). Jacksonville is currently the home of eight combat littoral ships and over the next several years six additional ships are slated to be permanently home ported at Naval station Mayport. Naval Station Mayport also housed a $30 million dollar combat ship simulator used to train sailors, one of only three in the country. Women currently make up 17% of the armed services; the Department of Defense has made efforts and is continually seeking ways of expanding opportunities to women in the military. The VA disability claim process can take anywhere from 3-7 years to complete. Policy at the Veteran's Administration is being revised to streamline the process to a year or less to include recourse for service members should a claim be disapproved. Finally, the program concluded with a package on Post Traumatic Disorder (PTSD) and how veterans have been coping. Some of those coping mechanisms include the use of service dogs, counseling and peer-to-peer activities.
