Airdate: 02/10/18

Topics: Taxes

Guests: United Way & Krier Wealth Management

Duration: 23:47

First, I had United Way on the show to talk about the free tax services they offer for residents. We also discussed tax scams and how to avoid them. We shared money tips and saving advice. Joe Krier from Krier Wealth Management was also on the show and he discussed saving money tips for parents.

First Coast Forum

Host: Justin Cousart

Airdate: Saturday, February 10th, 2017 – Sunday, February 11th, 2017

Topic: Taxes

Guest: Zoran Pajkanovic

Duration: 25min

Justin talks with Zoran Pajkanovic, an accountant for Bookkeepers.com. Zoran talks about how some taxes will look different with the reform that was just passed. He explains what the differences are between exemptions, deductions, and credits when doing your taxes. He also explains that there will be a penalty if you did not have health insurance in 2017. Zoran tells us that we can reach out to him and his team by phone, email or social media if they have any further questions about contributing to your IRA in 2017, and if they realized they made a mistake on their taxes this year.

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: 2/17/2018

Topics: Tax Education Plus Financial education, United Way RealSense initiative

Guests: Steve Norris, Joe Krier

Duration: 23:22

Steve Norris of United Way and Jon Krier of Krier Wealth Management join Danielle and they discuss the basics of financial planning, tax preparation and how to utilize the programs and services offered. United Way's RealSense is a community coalition of companies, agencies, government, educational, non-profit and other organizations that provides free financial education, counseling and tax preparation services.

First Coast Forum

Host: Justin Cousart

Airdate: 2/17/2018

Topics: Tax reform, tax preparation

Guests: Zoran Pajkanovic

Duration: 23:38

Zoran Pajkanovic of Ourbookkeepers.com and 904tax.com discusses the recent tax reform legislation and how to be sure to take advantage of all available deductions, credits and exemptions while making sure that you are within IRS rules. Zoran was clear that a lot of the numbers he mentioned take effect for tax year 2018 and he made sure to emphasize the correct standard deduction amounts as well as the personal exemption rule that is applicable for tax year 2017 while noting the changes for 2018. He also mentioned deductions and credits that will be going away for tax year 2018 (such as alimony payments and the personal exemption).

Depression/Anxiety Disorders

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: 1/06/18

Topics: Depression

Guests: Norma Basford & Tara Wildes from NAMI

Duration: 23:37

This show was good one. I had NAMI on the show around the same time last year so it kind of served as a check-up for the stories shared back then. This time the springboard of our show was President Trump's initial comments regarding the Texas Church Shooting...we discussed what he said very briefly and then used this opportunity to share how NAMI is here for people who struggle with mental illnesses. Norma broke down the programs for those who are struggling and for their loved ones. Tara tackled the stigma surrounding mental health.

Jax Journal

Host: Danielle Leigh

Airdate: 01/13/18

Topics: Depression

Guests: Kelly Robbins

Duration: 23:15

I sat down with Kelly Robbins..She is the founder of BullyProof Vest, but this week we tackled more into how bullying impacts Mental Illness while also talking about 13 Reasons Why.

Kelly shared the story on how bullying drove her daughter to inflict self-harm, but was able to get her help in time. And we just talked about the show and how it actually shows the act, sharing our opinions on the show, and opportunities missed.

Voting Rights

First Coast Forum

Host: Julie Morgan

Airdate: Sunday, March 18

Topic: Felons Voting

Guest: State Representative Tracie Davis, District 13

Duration: 27 minutes

Today's interview with Representative is focused on a variety of topics. The first topic we consider is felons voting. Davis says in November the citizens of Florida will have the chance to say whether or not Florida will become an automatic restoration state. She also talks about the fact that voters need to make sure their personal information is up-to-date. In addition to that we talked about the recent shooting in Parkland and how the students went to the Capitol to make a statement. Davis says there will be a campaign as the year progresses to get people to the polls to vote for the felons voting amendment.

News Story

Associated Press

Airdate: March 27, 2018

Topic: Voting Rights

Duration: 8 minutes

A Federal Judge orders Florida to make voting rights changes. U.S. District Judge Mark Walker blocked the state's current system of forcing most ex-felons to wait at least five years before they can ask to have their voting rights restored. The system was put in place back in 2011 at the urging of Scott and Attorney General Pam Bondi. Walker did not specify what rules the state should put in place but instead gave Scott and state officials — who act as the state's clemency board — until April 26 to come up with a new process. Florida was sued on behalf of ex-felons whose requests for voting rights were turned down.

"The governor continues to stand with victims of crime," said Tupps. "He believes that people who have been convicted of felony offenses including crimes like murder, violence against children and domestic violence, should demonstrate that they can live a life free of crime while being accountable to our communities."

"Today the court has ordered defendants to make meaningful changes to Florida's voting rights restoration scheme that will eliminate the risk of arbitrary and discriminatory decision-making and not merely serve as smoke screens," said Sherman. "This is a victory for the principle that the right to vote cannot be subjected to officials' gut instincts and whims."

The legal fight comes just months before Florida voters will be asked to alter the current ban. Backers of a constitutional amendment have won a place on the November 2018 ballot. If sixty percent of voters approve, most former prisoners would have their rights automatically restored.

Airdate: January 7, 2018 (Original Airdate: 12/24/2017)

Topics: NTSB released information about sinking ship; Project Cold Case; Toys for Tots

Guests:

Duration: 20:46

The National Transportation Safety Board released its findings from the sinking of El Faro. Much of the sinking could be blamed on the Captain, but there are many other factors that come into play. The sinking of the ship is the deadliest maritime disaster that involved a US ship in 30 years. The NTSB stated that a major factor of the sinking was the captain's actions. The Chairman of the NTSB made statements that made family members upset. Stating that the crew members should have been more assertive. 53 recommendations were by the NTSB.

30 years ago, a body was found in a rolled-up carpet. Tamika Jackson, the daughter of the victim, reflects on the case.

Hundreds of local kids will have something under their trees thank to the Toys for tots program.
