Length: 60 minutes
Airdate: 10/2/2020 6:30:00 PM
Service: PBS
Format: News (live news only)
Segment Length: 00:07:44

The last jobs report before Election Day showed the smallest monthly gain since May, raising concerns about a slowing and deeply uneven economic recovery. About half the initial 22 million jobs lost to the pandemic have been added back, but millions of Americans are struggling -- and running out of federal aid. We hear from some of them, and Amna Nawaz talks to The Washington Post's Heather Long.

Segment Length: 00:56:46

Christiane speaks with Archbishop of Canterbury Justin Welby about the importance of the UK maintaining its international aid commitments. She also speaks with Bard College President Leon Botstein about how the college has extended education opportunities to both disadvantaged youth and inmates. Walter Isaacson speaks with WIRED editor-in-chief Nicholas Thompson about misinformation.

Series Title: PBS NewsHour
Length: 60 minutes
Airdate: 12/16/2020 6:30:00 PM
Service: PBS
Format: News (live news only)
Segment Length: 00:07:58

Despite the fact that many school districts worked at being prepared during the pandemic, this fall has been a tough road for students, parents and educators. Most used some form of hybrid learning, but many have felt it's not safe enough to have children in the classroom. And for some students, virtual learning means that they are falling further behind. Amna Nawaz reports.

HEALTH/HEALTH CARE

Length: 60 minutes
Airdate: 10/6/2020 6:30:00 PM
Service: PBS
Format: News (live news only)
Segment Length: 00:04:06

President Trump is telling Americans not to be afraid of coronavirus, as the national death toll from the pandemic tops 210,000. Cases are again climbing in much of the country -- but attitudes about the threat posed by COVID-19 vary greatly. Amna Nawaz explores why so many Americans feel fears about the virus are overblown.

Series Title: PBS NewsHour
Length: 60 minutes
Airdate: 11/11/2020 6:30:00 PM
Service: PBS
Format: News (live news only)
Segment Length: 00:06:04

India ranks second only to the U.S. in total COVID-19 cases. Although there has been a decline in infections recently, officials worry the onset of winter could bring new surges. Another concern is the economy, the world's fifth largest, which has yet to show any signs of recovery -- compounding the suffering of millions of the poorest residents. Special correspondent Fred de Sam Lazaro reports.

Program Description: Corruption has plagued state government since its inception, and that trend is still going strong. Blair Horner from the New York Public Interest Research Group discusses why that’s the case. And if corruption had a cousin, it would be transparency. Cameron Macdonald from the Government Justice Center talks about that, and how litigation can deliver results in government accountability.

Program Description:

This one-hour program is a centerpiece of a major symposium titled The Time for Reckoning: Confronting Systemic Racism, Seeking Justice and Reimagining Society, co-sponsored by the Center for Law and Justice in Albany and the New York State Writers Institute at the University at Albany – in conjunction with several community partners. The symposium strives to create an ongoing dialogue between community members of color who live in urban communities where tensions with police run high and elected officials whose job is to protect and serve the public. The symposium will also present conversations with nationally-known experts on systemic racism and bestselling authors who will discuss ways to imagine and begin to create a more just society built upon a foundation of racial equality.
