

WYJJ 2021-Q1 (January-March)
Hub City Now Quarterly Report

DATE: Sunday, January 3, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: n/a

TOPIC: Happy New Year, resolutions and special observations for the month of January

DATE: Sunday, January 10, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: n/a

TOPIC: Spoke about the January 6 Capitol riots, COVID-19 in Madison County

DATE: Sunday, January 17, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: n/a

TOPIC: Spoke about the warnings of more riots to occur across the United States, being safe during the COVID-19 pandemic, COVID-19 numbers in Madison County.

DATE: Sunday, January 24, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Melinda Hearn Reid, executive director of the Jackson Arts Council

TOPIC: Reid spoke about the "Mayor's Collection of Masterpieces," which will run year-long with rotating pieces. The first gallery will feature Kindergarten to 8th grade students and run through the spring. The second gallery will feature 9th to 12th grade students and run in the fall. The theme will be “For the Love of Jackson.” She also spoke about the Mayor’s Public Art initiative, which is an initiative that seeks to exponentially grow the number of public art installations to include murals, sculptures and other mediums across Jackson over the next four years.

DATE: Sunday, January 31, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Tiffany Marshall Woods, Center Coordinator for Washington Douglass Head Start/Early Head Start.

TOPIC: Woods spoke about recruitment, employment, child enrollment, and ongoing online applications.

DATE: Sunday, February 7, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Brittne Logan, owner of Heavenly Body Detox Studio

TOPIC: For Black History Month, I chose Logan, because she is someone who is making a difference in the community by encouraging people to take more of a holistic approach when it comes to their health.

Logan has helped women with fertility issues, helped them conceive and helped them deliver their babies at home. She said she started taking a holistic approach to her health and the health of her family before she began sharing it with others.

She also shared why she wants to help others and show them how to take care of their bodies, especially during a pandemic.

DATE: Sunday, February 14, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Kerri Lee Alexander, a Ph.D. student in U.S. History at Howard University

TOPIC: For Black History Month, I chose to replay interview with Alexander, about the legendary Bessie Coleman, the first African American woman and the first Native American to hold a pilot license.

DATE: Sunday, February 21, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Cheryl Wills, award-winning journalist, acclaimed author and incredible blogger

TOPIC: For Black History Month, I chose to replay interview with Wills. She spoke about her connection to the West Tennessee area (Brownsville/Haywood County), her search for her family's legacy, her three books (Die Free: A Heroic Family Tale, The Emancipation of Grandpa Sandy Wills and Emancipated: My Family's Fight for Freedom) and much, much more.

DATE: Sunday, February 28, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Mack White, Jr., James Dugger and Garry Thompson, first black firefighters of Jackson, Tenn.

TOPIC: For Black History Month, I chose to replay interview with the City of Jackson's First Firefighters Mack White, Jr., James Dugger and Garry Thompson.

These three courageous, intelligent and community-minded men stepped up when called and faced racism and overcame obstacles and adversities in order to not only open the door for future generations, but to take those doors off the hinges and allow future generations to achieve their God-given dreams.

DATE: Sunday, March 7, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Sonia Outlaw-Clark, director of West Tennessee Delta Heritage Center (which is also Home of the Tina Turner Museum)

TOPIC: Outlaw-Clark spoke about Brownsville's 7th annual Women's History Month program going virtual. Eight women will share their stories on Facebook during "Phenomenal Women Speak," Saturday, March 20, 3 p.m., from the West Tennessee Delta Heritage Center in Brownsville.

DATE: Sunday, March 14, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Dr. Cynthia Bond Hopson, noted author, Haywood County native and cultural historian

TOPIC: Dr. Bond Hopson spoke about Brownsville's 7th annual Women's History Month program going virtual this year. Eight women will share their stories on Facebook during "Phenomenal Women Speak," Saturday, March 20, 3 p.m., from the West Tennessee Delta Heritage Center in Brownsville. Dr. Bond Hopson, hosted and facilitated the panel of local trailblazers and leaders. This is the seventh year for the program led by Bond Hopson, whose books on Haywood County include The Women of Haywood: Their Lives, Our Legacy, Wiggle Tales, Times of Challenge and Controversy, and her latest inspirational book Totally Gracefull.

DATE: Sunday, March 21, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: the late Sarah Clayborne, "The Original Authentic Legendary World Famous Pie Lady"

TOPIC: For Women's History Month, I re-aired this interview with Clayborne, a past guest who died last year.

DATE: Sunday, March 28, 2021

TIME: 6:15 a.m.

GUEST: Margaret Taylor, executive director of A Step Ahead West Tennessee

TOPIC: For Women's History Month, I re-aired this interview Taylor about the organization. A Step Ahead Foundation of West Tennessee aims to prevent teen and unintended pregnancies by providing FREE long-acting reversible contraception (LARC), the most effective reversible methods of birth control, to women in West Tennessee.