The last jobs report before Election Day showed the smallest monthly gain since May, raising concerns about a slowing and deeply uneven economic recovery. About half the initial 22 million jobs lost to the pandemic have been added back, but millions of Americans are struggling -- and running out of federal aid. We hear from some of them, and Amna Nawaz talks to The Washington Post's Heather Long.

Not Done: Women Remaking American chronicles the seismic eruption of women's energy and anger in the last five years, and examines the re-energized, intersectional fight for equality. The film picks up where the MAKERS series left off in 2014, capturing this rich period in recent history- from Black Lives Matter to #MeToo to the US Women's Soccer team's fight for equal pay and much more- taking the measure of how much has changed and why. This story is told collectively: through the firsthand experiences and narratives of prominent and everyday women who are remaking culture, politics, and most radically, our notions about gender.
