Mr Garner,

We received a fax from you today with the request to cease advertising placed by Louisiana Water Coalition PAC. In that request you state that their ad contains inaccurate information. It is our goal to be fair to all political matters and candidates and we take this very seriously.

We do not, however, want to be the judge of political matters when discrepancies arise out of claims from one side or the other. We will pass your concerns to the placing agency and request immediate documentation that supports their claim.

Thank you for bringing this to our attention.

Re: Louisiana Water Coalition PAC False and Defamatory Advertising
 Our File No.: 21497.0002

Dear Sir or Madam:

We represent Senator David Vitter and David Vitter for Louisiana, his campaign committee for governor.

It has come to our clients' and our attention that your station is running an advertisement paid for by the Louisiana Water Coalition PAC regarding Senator Vitter and an ex-staffer that includes false and defamatory statements. The most obvious is that the advertisement falsely states that Senator Vitter kept the ex-staffer on his staff years after the ex-staffer pled guilty to stabbing his girlfriend. In point of fact, the only charges to which the ex-staffer pled guilty and that were not dismissed and/or found unsubstantiated by the court were misdemeanors that did not involve personal, physical assault or a knife in any way. Consequently, the main penalty levied by the court was a $150 fine, and the ex-staffer served no jail time of any sort.

The falsity of the advertisement's statement was or should have been fully evident to your news organization through the court records and clear statements to that effect by my client when this false statement was made previously in connection with a previous political campaign. Please find enclosed the court records concerning this incident, which will serve as notice to you of the actual disposition of the case. Again, the actual disposition of this matter was markedly different than the advertisement running on your station falsely states.

Please do not respond to this letter with any public clarifying report. Given the false and defamatory statement in this advertisement, that would only increase our clients' damages regardless of how it were to be worded. Rather, our clients request that your station cease immediately running this advertisement or any other that makes this false and defamatory statement about Senator Vitter. Please confirm by end of business today that you will comply with this request so our client can evaluate all legal remedies available.

It should also be noted that your station has no affirmative duty to run any advertisement from a non-candidate group like the Louisiana Water Coalition PAC (versus a candidate or his committee). And, of course, you have an affirmative duty not to run a clearly false advertisement such as this one.

Thank you for your immediate attention to this matter.

Very truly yours,

RE: Louisiana Water Coalition PAC – “The People vs. Vitter” TV :30

Dear Station Manager:

The undersigned serves as counsel to Louisiana Water Coalition PAC, the official committee. This letter provides the substantiation for the campaign’s television advertisement, entitled “The People vs. Vitter.”

Claim	Evidence
The People vs. David Vitter: The evidence shows...
Vitter implicated in the DC Madam scandal...	“Senator Caught In “D.C. Madam” Scandal,” Joel Roberts, CBS News, 7/9/2007 http://www.cbsnews.com/news/senator-caught-in-dc-madam-scandal/ Louisiana Sen. David Vitter, whose telephone number was disclosed by the so-called “D.C. Madam” accused of running a prostitution ring, says he is sorry for a “serious sin” and that he has already made peace with his wife.
TEXT Count #1 “... I am, of course, completely responsible...” – David Vitter	“Hustler said it revealed Senator’s link to escort service.” CNN, 7/10/07 http://www.cnn.com/2007/POLITICS/07/10/vitter.madam/index.html “This was a very serious sin in my past for which I am, of course, completely responsible,” Vitter said in a statement given to reporters Monday night.
A New Orleans prostitute says Vitter was a regular...	“New Orleans’ Madam Says Sen. David Vitter Used Her Brothel,” Associated Press, 7/11/2007 http://www.foxnews.com/story/2007/07/11/new-orleans-madam-says-sen-david-vitter-used-her-brothel.html On Monday, Vitter acknowledged being involved with the so-called D.C. Madam. A day later, new revelations linked him to a former madam in New Orleans and old allegations that he frequented a former prostitute resurfaced, further clouding his political future. “New Orleans prostitute tied to Vitter passes lie detector test,” David Meeks, New Orleans Times-Picayune, 9/10/2007 http://blog.nola.com/times-

	picayune/2007/09/new_orleans_prostitute_tied_to.html Weeks after U.S. Sen. David Vitter tried to discredit her allegations, a woman who used to work as a prostitute in New Orleans passed a lie detector test averring that she had a "sexual relationship" with Vitter that lasted at least four months.
TEXT Count #2 "It was purely a sexual relationship..."	"Prostitute describes Vitter affair," Gary Scheets, New Orleans Times-Picayune, 7/12/2007 http://blog.nola.com/updates/2007/07/former_prostitute_confirms_vit.html Days after Senator David Vitter apologized for using an escort service in Washington, D.C., a woman who once worked as a prostitute in Louisiana said he was a regular client of hers several years ago while he was a state legislator. The woman worked under the name Wendy Cortez. Her birth name is Wendy Yow, according to her ex-husband, who asked not to be named but said he has seen her birth certificate.

David Vitter resigned Wednesday morning after ABC News reported that he had been arrested for attacking his ex-girlfriend with a knife, and had an open warrant for his arrest in Baton Rouge on a drunk driving charge. The aide, Brent Furer, worked on the Republican senator's last campaign, and has spent the last five years posted in his Washington office to handle, among other things, women's issues. An ABC News investigation out this morning revealed that Furer had repeated brushes with the law dating back to the 1990s. Those who have had encounters with Furer told ABC News that his presence on Vitter's payroll raised serious questions about the senator's judgment. Melanie Sloan, executive director of Citizens for Responsibility and Ethics in Washington, said it concerns her that the senator has talked so forcefully as an advocate for women and an opponent of drunk driving, and yet kept someone with Furer's background on his staff. Reached at Vitter's senate office last week, Furer declined to comment, saying he was "too swamped" with the office's response to the Gulf of Mexico oil spill. He did not respond to questions emailed by ABC News. Vitter, a 49-year-old first-term Republican who is up for reelection in November, also declined to comment when approached in front of his senate office building Tuesday.

	Vitter spokesman DiGrado acknowledged the senator had concerns about the 2008 arrest, in which Furer was accused of holding his ex-girlfriend against her will for 90 minutes, threatening to kill her, placing his hand over her mouth, and cutting her in the hand and neck.

Our station received the documentation you sent yesterday afternoon and we have reviewed it. We then contacted the agency that placed the LA Water Coalition PAC ads to address the concerns. They have assured me that a new commercial was being produced.

Their schedule does not have any more spots that will air before the new creative arrives.

Mr Garner,

We received a fax from you today with the request to cease advertising placed by Louisiana Water Coalition PAC. In that request you state that their ad contains inaccurate information. It is our goal to be fair to all political matters and candidates and we take this very seriously.

We do not, however, want to be the judge of political matters when discrepancies arise out of claims from one side or the other. We will pass your concerns to the placing agency and request immediate documentation that supports their claim.

Thank you for bringing this to our attention.
