MAIN ISSUE #1 Program Summary:

Character Counts! is a nationally recognized program that the Mighty Eighth Air Force Museum has adopted to help instill better character into local student to help them be successful in school and life. Character Counts! uses six universal character traits to create a positive learning environment where all students enter ready to learn and be better people outside the classroom. The museum realized that they have thousands of stories within their archives that demonstrate admirable character traits and wanted to share those stories so they've partnered with the Chatham County School District to implement Character Counts! Today we talk with the museum's Director of Education about how it all works and some upcoming events.

MAIN ISSUE #2 Program Summary:

"ART, BUBBLY & CAKES" takes 10 local celebrity artists and pairs them with 10 local celebrity chefs to come up with a unique fusion of painting or sculpture accompanied by cake. Throw in some bubbly and you have a fabulous evening and a fun fundraiser for a great cause: funding a culinary artist-in-residence program for the non-profit Island School for The Arts for the 3rd and 4th graders at the Hilton Head Island schools. Last year's event raised enough to bring local Chef Sallie Ann Robinson to teach over 130 students about cooking Gullah recipes. Today we speak with the event co-chairs about how they thought this up, whom and what we can expect to see, and why it's important for kids.

MAIN ISSUE #3 Program Summary:

Many lonely and financially challenged seniors struggle with the holidays. They dread facing the season alone – being without family or friends, or just being away from children and grandchildren. It can produce extreme loneliness that's exaggerated by festivities of the season. Socks for Seniors volunteers bring holiday cheer along with a pair of new socks to warm the hearts and cover the cold feet of our elderly seniors. We speak with a member of the group to learn how put can put together a local sock drive here.

MAIN ISSUE #1 Program Summary:

The holidays can mean major financial challenges: entertaining family, buying gifts, and resisting the urge to buy things that look like such a great deal to pass up even if you don't need them. Not to mention it's open season for criminals looking to commit some quick identity theft. Consumer Credit Counseling's Education Coordinator stops by to talk about "Black Friday", "Cyber Monday", food and gift shopping and ID protection.

MAIN ISSUE #2: Health, Community, Charitable Organizations

MAIN ISSUE #2 Total Time: 10 minutes

MAIN ISSUE #2 Program Summary:

Savannah Feed the Hungry began operations in 2009 with a Thanksgiving Dinner for the homeless and working poor. After seeing the overwhelming response from the community, it became apparent that attending to the needs of the poor and homeless only once a month was not enough. In 2011, Savannah Feed the Hungry opened The Life Center to continue increasing it's daily impact on the community. They have now expanded to offer multiple Thanksgiving and Christmas Dinners in several nearby communities. We'll talk with the CEO about what to expect to expect if you go, who can attend, and how you can help out.

MAIN ISSUE #2 Program Summary:

"Georgia Gives" is a statewide initiative that focuses the attention of the public on the work and worth of nonprofits. Georgia Gives Day is on December 6, 2012, and organizers hope it inspires individuals to donate to participating nonprofits through a website with the goal of raising as much money as possible in a 24 hour period. There is no fee for nonprofits to participate. The goal of Georgia Gives is to highlight the critical work of our nonprofit sector by providing an easy way to showcase their missions and impact upon the quality of life in our community and state. We talk with the head of the Georgia Center for Non Profits about how they came up with it, what they expect, as well as the different ways that nonprofits touch our daily lives.

MAIN ISSUE #1 Total Time: 30 minutes

MAIN ISSUE #1 Program Summary:

The City of Savannah has decided to explore one its great architectural mysteries: The purpose of the 170-year-old vaults known as the Cluskey Embankment Stores which are on the Drayton Street Ramp next to Savannah City Hall. Archeologists from Georgia Southern University, under contract with the City, began exploring the brick vaults in early November. While the vaults have been used for parking over the past several decades, their historical use remains unclear. But they are considered architecturally significant, and were included as contributing structures in the Historic District's National Historic Landmark designation in 1966, and National Register of Historic Places designation in 1969. We'll go inside one of the vaults under investigation and learn about what we know so far, and what the expectations are, as well as about the process of the dig, and how the public can participate.
