DeVos points out that for the past 35 years she has advocated for school for K-12 students choice and encourages parents and students to stay in the fight against those who would try to take this choice away. She says we need to engage politicians and local leaders to also protect and promote this American right.

ISSUE: Weighing risk and reward of annual Forages for cow-calf operations

PROGRAM: Beefwatch

DURATION: 27 min.

AIRED: 7/17/22, 10:30 pm

DESCRIPTION: Aaron Berger, Nebraska extension educator and Beef Specialist Mary Drewnoski discussed the fact that because of early dry conditions followed by late wet conditions have caused some fields to be designated prevented planting acres, subsidized by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. Drewnoski says producers should carefully introduce livestock to mixes a little at a time and turn them out after allowing them to fill up on hay first. Brassicas, including turnips, grape seed and kale are an option due to high levels of crude protein and digestible carbohydrates. If these are planted in late July to early August they provide great potential for late Autumn grazing.
