

Quarterly Programs & Issues Report

April 1, 2023 - June 30, 2023

Exposure, The Sci-Files, The Undercurrent and The State are shows that focus on events, issues, and programs that affect the greater Lansing area and Michigan State University. All shows are archived and are available as podcasts on our website, www.impact89fm.org, and popular podcast services such as iTunes and Spotify.

Exposure: Sundays 8:30-9 A.M.

The Sci-Files: Sundays 9:30-10 A.M.

The Undercurrent: Sundays 10:30-11 A.M.

The State: Monday-Friday 9 A.M.

These programs are designed to allow student and community groups a broadcast outlet. WDBM-FM provides the facilities, an engineer and a host.

Topics this quarter included:

April 2, 2023

Exposure: On this week's episode of Exposure, Tessa Kresch spoke with a few members of the TEDxMSU club. This club is a non-profit, student-led organization at Michigan State University that creates and cultivates a community of ideas worth spreading. Sarah, Jordan and Andrew spoke about the upcoming TEDx conference on April 2nd.

April 3, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the month focusing on campus news, awareness week brings sexual violence prevention campaign to MSU campus. For our second headline focusing on city news, Michigander's rally for acceptance on transgender day of visibility. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, GSCC hosted the annual Pride Prom in celebration of 'resilience, community.'

April 4, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, areas of MSU campus expected to close due to flooding. For our second headline focusing on campus security, MSU Police examine alert system following concern for delayed, vague alerts. For our final headline of the day focusing on campus news, ASMSU general assembly elections are coming soon.

April 5, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, MSU Union reopening welcomes students back almost two months after shooting. For our second headline focusing on MSU Athletics, historic season for MSU gymnastics ends at Pittsburgh regionals. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, community votes to decide names for baby peregrine falcons raised at MSU.

April 6, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on city news, final MSU shooting survivor released from Sparrow Hospital to other facility. For our second headline focusing on campus news, petition demands end to MSU's gambling deal, in line with interim president's goal. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, Capital City Film Fest brings global multimedia experience to Lansing.

April 7, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on city news, East Lansing City Council approves grant application for Hannah Community Center construction. For our second headline focusing on campus news, bandana painting project brings awareness to violence against migrant women. For our final headline of the week focusing on culture, MSU appoints new Director of Sustainability after year-long vacancy.

April 9, 2023

The Undercurrent: On this week's episode of The Undercurrent, host Claire Bacarella talks with three MSU seniors as they reflect on their time as students here.

April 11, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the week focusing on campus news, ASMSU passes bill encouraging creation of memorial bench. For our second headline focusing on city news, GoFundMe created for 19-year-old crash victim's family. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, 25th annual Research and Arts Forum will showcase work of over 900 students.

April 12, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, ASMSU recommends improvements to relationship violence, sexual misconduct training. For our second headline focusing on MSU Athletics, Tyson Walker makes it official, will return for third season with MSU. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, 6 Broadway productions announced for the Wharton Center's 2023-'24 season.

April 13, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, record number of public relations students to graduate this spring. For our second headline focusing on more campus news, board hopes to pick president by Thanksgiving, assemble committee in coming days. For our final headline of the day focusing on MSU Athletics, Malik Hall announces his return to MSU for the 2023-24 season.

April 14, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, sprinkler system causes flooding in men's wing of Butterfield Hall. For our second headline focusing on sports, how MSU cleans up campus after game days. For our final headline of the week focusing on campus news, Strange Matter Coffee to open in MSU Union next fall.

April 16, 2023

Exposure: On this week's episode of Exposure, Megan Samp and Tessa Kresch spoke with Sloan and Jaylin from the student club, Orchesis. Orchesis is a dance group open to experienced movers in the community; bringing dancers together to create, collaborate, and explore.

The Undercurrent: On this week's episode of The Undercurrent, host Claire Bacarella talks with MSU graduate and YouTube star Tyler Oakley.

April 17, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the week focusing on campus news, STEM event shows future footprint of MSU's campus. For our second headline focusing on more campus news, while MSU policy allows handouts, students frustrated after being offered Bibles. For our final headline of the day focusing on Michigan State Football, LB Itayvion Brown dismissed from team following gun charges.

April 18, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, attorney general renews call for release of MSU board's Nassar documents. For our second headline focusing on culture, students share their research findings at University Undergraduate Research and Arts Forum. For our final headline of the day focusing on more culture, African Student Union invites students to 'dabble' in African culture at annual gala.

April 19, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, MSU board to vote on 7% rate increase for dorms, dining plans. For our second headline focusing on more campus news, MSU hires external firm to review university response to mass shooting. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, 'Out of the Darkness' walkout raises awareness for suicide prevention.

April 20, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, ASMSU presidential candidate receives backlash from Jewish Student Union member. For our second headline focusing on Michigan State Football's kickoff this past Sunday, Payton Thorne, Noah Kim headline quarterback competition during final spring practice. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, Stoopfest is returning to Lansing. Here's what to know.

April 21, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on city news, lawmakers eye allowing alcohol sales on campus game days. For our second headline focusing on campus news, ASMSU elects new vice president for financial operations. For our final headline of the week focusing on culture, Risky Studios hosts grand re-opening in upgraded location, will expand services.

April 23, 2023

Exposure: On this week's episode of Exposure, Megan Samp and Tessa Kresch spoke with the a Brendan and Dani from the MSU Bowling Club, a competitive bowling club team for bowlers of all skill levels.

April 24, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the week focusing on campus news, MSU board refuses to release Nassar documents to attorney general. For our second headline focusing on more campus news, ASMSU elects Vice President of Internal Affairs, Vice President of Student Allocations in final election night. For our final headline of the day focusing more campus news, new labs and lecture hall unveiled in renovated packaging building.

April 25, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, MSU breaks ground on future multicultural center. For our second headline focusing on culture, environmental groups connect with students at fair ahead of Earth Day. For our final headline of the day focusing on more culture, students ease end-of-semester stress with Afro-Brazilian Capoeira class.

April 26, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, MSU Dean of Students resigned after drunken misconduct, records show. For our second headline focusing on more campus news, student plans protest against Board of Trustees following denial of Nassar document release. For our final headline of the day focusing on culture, graduating seniors reflect on time as rec sports Zumba instructors.

April 27, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on campus news, students protest Board of Trustees' refusal to release Nassar documents. For our second headline focusing on city news, East Lansing City Council, including Mayor Ron Bacon, accused of unethical behavior in anonymous complaint. For our final headline of the day focusing on more campus news, Woodruff, MSU leaders move together to dismiss Gupta lawsuit.

April 28, 2023

The State: In the news today: For our first headline of the day focusing on city news, East Lansing mayor and city manager suggest racism may be reason behind anonymous complaint. For our second headline focusing on MSU Men's Basketball, A.J. Hoggard joins Akins and declares for NBA draft, retains NCAA eligibility. For our final headline of the semester focusing on culture, seniors struggle with expectation to have a job upon graduation.

April 30, 2023

Exposure: On this week's episode of Exposure, Megan Samp and Tessa Kresch spoke with Mason and Elena from Telecasters. Telecasters is a video production club that consists of 5 different unique shows.

The Undercurrent: On this week's episode of The Undercurrent, host Claire Bacarella talks with the Michigan State University students behind the Combo for a Change initiative.