WPUR/Atlantic City, NJ

July 1 – September 31, 2021

Section 1. - Issues

A. Youth crime.

Atlantic City, in particular, has seen a noticeable increase in teenagers committing crimes that are sometimes violent. How the city deals with this issue, and on the flip side, how incarceration will impact young adults will continue to shape and change our community.

B. Climate change.

In a coastal area like Atlantic City, climate change is of great concern. As the economy restarts and construction begins to boom again, those working outdoors in our region – including those at outdoor restaurants, on the boardwalks, at amusement piers, and on construction sites, are being exposed to more extreme weather and temperatures. Should those outdoor workers have greater protection from the elements?

C. Education.

Dozens of school districts in the greater Atlantic City region will be welcoming children back to school for in-person instruction while society continues to deal with COVID-19 and its variants. Getting children back on track while educators manage a global pandemic will continue to impact the future of education.

D. COVID-19 and the environment.

One side effect of COVID-19 is its impact on the environment, which is of concern to those in and around the Atlantic City area. It's fairly common to see masks littering beaches and boardwalks in our region. If/when the pandemic wanes, how will we remember COVID-19 and all of its side effects?

E. Healthcare.

As one of the states that has been most impacted by COVID-19, the quickly rising cost of healthcare in New Jersey continues to be on nearly everyone's mind. Even routine trips to a hospital or doctor's office in the Atlantic City region can be more than people can financially handle. What can be done to keep these costs in-line?

SEGMENT 1:	WORKING IN INTENSIFYING HEAT	Time	Duration
Synopsis:	Many Americans stay home and crank up the air conditioning once temperatures reach 80 degrees. Imagine working for hours on end outside in temperatures exceeding 90 or 100 degrees. On top of this, there's little shade, minimal breaks and often not enough water. This is the reality for millions of laborers who work in agriculture, construction and other industries. Why aren't there more legal guidelines protecting these essential workers?	1:47	9:33
Host:	Gary Price
Guests:	Dr. Rachel Licker, senior climate scientist, Union of Concerned Scientists; Kate Suisman, attorney, Northwest Workers' Justice Project.
Issues Covered:	Labor, Career, Workers Rights, Health, Agriculture, Construction, Poverty, Climate Change, Environment

SEGMENT 1: A DEEPER EXPLANATION OF OCD
Time Duration

Synopsis: Like many other mental illnesses, Obsessive Compulsive Disorder (OCD) is often misunderstood and clumped into a stereotypical category. Many people believe that the disorder is just physical behaviors, such as persistent organization, washing one's hands all the time, or checking the lock on the door constantly. But what people don't realize is that OCD is a lot more than just these behavioral actions. David Adam, who has OCD and has extensively studied the disorder, joins us this week to help dispel any myths and preconceived perceptions. 1:47 9:55

Host: Gary Price

Guests: David Adam, freelance journalist, author of The Man Who Couldn't Stop: OCD and the True Story of a Life Lost in Thought.

Issues Covered: Health, Mental Illness, Behavioral Health, Health Education, History
