G. Outreach Activities Performed During the Reporting Period

Initiative: Attendance at Job Fairs

Station Staff Involved: Judy England, Administrative Assistant

Erma Byrd Higher Education Center Beaver, West Virginia October 28, 2016

Bluefield State College, Bluefield, West Virginia, March 30, 2017

Initiative: Participation in job banks, internet programs, and other programs designed to promote outreach.

Listing of each upper-level category opening in a job bank or newsletter of media trade groups whose membership includes substantial participation of women and minorities.

Minority Resources

Membership in the West Virginia Broadcasters' Association

Initiative: Internship program designed to assist members of the community to acquire skills needed for broadcast employment.

1. An internship co-op was established again with an area university: Concord University, Athens, WV, Department of Communication Arts. Contract period: July 2016 – August, 2016. The intern was assigned and initiated research as well as executing stories for West Virginia Public Radio. Duties included gathering sound, writing scripts, taking pictures, and prepping stories for the website. The intern also helped with minimal paperwork and equipment maintenance as well as other duties as needed.
2. West Virginia Media Diversity Fellowship program with West Virginia State University and WVPB to develop the next generation of media professionals through a one-year paid media fellowship in West Virginia. Fellows help WVPB to “tell West Virginia’s story”, including its rich and diverse history. They provide a unique and much-needed perspective to its TV, radio, social media and online offerings.

3. West Virginia Public Broadcasting is offering a six-week paid internship program for college students and recent college graduates who want to learn more about the world of public media. Interns will learn about all aspects of public media, from video and audio production, to news, to events, to the business side. Part of the internship includes job shadowing in each of the departments in our Charleston office: business, video, radio, development, Mountain Stage and news. West Virginia Public Broadcasting is a creative, supportive environment. As an intern you will get to work with a variety of our staff, while working on real projects that will help us grow.

Initiative: On-air announcement broadcast weekly inviting organizations to add their names to the list of organizations receiving job announcements. The WVEBA continues to update its list of recruiting resources.
