

UPIKE- Where The 99 Lead

10/10/17 Length 28:34

Andrew Joyce talks with Kay Webb, Associate Professor of Psychology at UPIKE's Kentucky College of Optometry. She is also the wife of UPIKE President Burton Webb. After spending 22 years in southern Indiana and 5 years in Idaho, the Webbs came to Pikeville because of the small liberal arts school in combination of the Medical School and the new Optometry School. She considers herself a mentor to the students rather than just a teacher. As the wife of the University President, she fills the role of Ambassador of the university by being involved in the community.

10/17/17 Length 28:25

Andrew Joyce talks with second year optometry student Aaron Mullins. Aaron is a native of Elkhorn City, KY. UPIKE has been a huge influence for Aaron as he attended science camps while in elementary school and participated in the UPIKE Booth Scholars Program while in high school. After attending UK for a while, he came back to UPIKE to finish his degree and enroll in the new optometry program.

10/24/17 Length 28:11

Andrew Joyce welcomes Diane Whittier, Director of International Student & Scholar Services at UPIKE. There are currently 40 international students from 11 countries on campus and Diane discusses her role in recruiting and making those international students feel at home on campus.

12/5/17 Length 29:19

Andrew Joyce talks with UPIKE Men's Golf Kevin Auton and Women's Golf Coach Nelson Scott. The coaches gave an update on their respective teams golf season and some of the individual awards received by the team members.

12/19/17 Length 28:29

Andrew Joyce talks with Tommy Chamberlain about UPIKE Alumni and the display of biblical, archeological artifacts on display in Pikeville and student Abigail Leavitt from Lewiston, Idaho who had been on a dig in Israel where many of the artifacts were found. Tommy also discussed the intern program when student explained the history of the 3,000 year old artifacts.

12/26/17 Length 29:51

Andrew Joyce talks with Amanda Slone, Assistant Professor of English about the Drama & Theater program at UPIKE. They discussed the program Appalachian Murder Ballads (songs written about murder). The student composed their own songs and performed them on stage.