The station has identified the following issues as significant issues facing our community in this quarter:

- A. Health: Organizations working to find cures for diseases.
- B. Community Services: There is a great need for services & people aren't aware they're available.
- C. Economy: People are living in & below poverty in our region.
- D. Ending hunger: Identifying causes of hunger in our region & ways to help.
- E. Education: Various educational programs for general & special needs students.
- F. Fundraising: The importance of fundraising to non-profits.

Section II. Responsive Programs

The station has broadcast programming dealing with each of the above referenced issues. Programming dealing with each issue is set out below.

A. Health:

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 1, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minutes. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and the founder of Joshua's Great Things about how the organization is working to help find a cure for pediatric brain tumors.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 8, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and Kellen Wolters w/American Foundation for Suicide Prevention. There were many suicides around this time & the focus of this interview was on mental health & to let people know how to get help.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on May 20, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and Karen Kirk with Lydia's House. This is a shelter for women & their children dealing with domestic violence and they help find transitional housing as some of these women & children are homeless.

B. Community Services:

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 1, 2018 at 5:30am; duration 15 minutes. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host Laurie Beakley & founder of Carondelet Community Betterment Federation, Inc. Carondelet Community Betterment Federation, Inc. (CCBF), founded in 1971, strives to identify and improve the basic social, economic and educational needs of Carondelet through community outreach and collaborative efforts with various organizations to maximize efforts and strengthen the quality of life in Carondelet.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 8, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from the American Foundation of Suicide Prevention. The grassroots work AFSP does focuses on eliminating the loss of life from suicide by: delivering innovative prevention programs, educating the public about risk factors and warning signs, raising funds for suicide research and programs, and reaching out to those individuals who have lost someone to suicide. As a part of AFSP’s growing nationwide network of chapters, we bring together people from all backgrounds who want to prevent suicide in our communities. Families and friends who have lost someone to suicide, vulnerable individuals, mental health professionals, clergy, educators, students, community/business leaders, and many others energize our chapter.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 15, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from Employment Connection. Employment Connection is a nonprofit St. Louis community asset that breaks down barriers to self-sufficiency for individuals with limited opportunities including the homeless, ex-offenders, U.S. veterans, high school dropouts, women on welfare, and at-risk youth. Offering more than just a job, Employment Connection provides valuable resources, training, and support to inspire and empower clients to change their circumstances and become employed.

C. Economy:

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on July 22, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and founder of iFM Community Medicine. iFM Community Medicine lives this mission every day by taking healthcare services directly to points of need in our community, overcoming access barriers related to cost, transportation, language and trust. David Campbell, M.D., recognized that health is at the root of many hardships faced by his fellow St. Louisans. Kids can’t focus in school, parents can’t work to provide for their children, and families in crisis can’t overcome major life hurdles if they’re in poor health. Dr. Dave, as he’s called by most patients, knew he could improve quality of life for those in need by taking healthcare services into the heart of St. Louis’ most disadvantaged communities. And so, the Institute for Family Medicine was born.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on August 5, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from the Affton Christian Food Pantry. The Affton Christian Food Pantry lives the Christian principles of our member churches by providing a continuous and reliable source of food and assistance to those in need in the Affton community. Order tickets for Pints for the Pantry using the code "Talk of the Town" at their website & get $15 off!

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on August 19, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and the founder of A Red Circle. A Red Circle is a community based, collaborative organization. It has five focus areas: employment, education, holistic living, policy, and the arts. "The best way to visualize A Red Circle is to consider north St. Louis County, its primary demographic, and its economic health. Where do you start? With schools that need funding, with vacant homes that need purchasing for tax revenue to fund the schools? With adults who need jobs and income to purchase the homes that fund the schools? With healthier food options to attract new businesses to hire the people who need jobs to buy the homes to fund the schools? With increasing the arts availability which adds flavor to everything? It's a circle, with no true beginning and no end. These disparities are the product of systemic and structural racism, but all blood is red."

D. Ending Hunger:

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on August 5, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from the Affton Christian Food Pantry. The Affton Christian Food Pantry lives the Christian principles of our member churches by providing a continuous and reliable source of food and assistance to those in need in the Affton community. Order tickets for Pints for the Pantry using the code "Talk of the Town" at their website & get $15 off!

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on August 12, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from Meals for a Million. Meals for a Million is a co-operative food packaging event for the entire St. Louis region with the goal of producing one million dried non-perishable meals to be distributed to starving people in the St. Louis area and international countries. Two nutritional formulas (Fortified Rice & Beans and Instant Apple Cinnamon Oatmeal) will be packaged in sealed pouches. Each sealed pouch provides a complete meal for six children (or four adults). The cost of each meal is approximately 25 cents.

“Talk of the Town” – Broadcast on August 12, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and Sunny Schaefer from Operation Food Search. Founded in 1981, Operation Food Search (OFS) is a hunger relief organization located at 1644 Lotsie Blvd. that provides food and nutrition education. With a strategic focus aimed at ending childhood hunger, OFS empowers families with a range of programs and services proven to reduce food insecurity and increase access to healthy and affordable food. The agency helps feed more than 200,000 individuals on a monthly basis – one-third of which are children – through a network of 330 community partners in 31 Missouri and Illinois counties.

E. Education:

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on July 29, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and Isaac Bruce. Isaac launched the Isaac Bruce Foundation in 2006 which focuses on health, wellness, nutrition, fitness and education. Through the Foundation, Isaac reaches out to youth and teaches them at an early age the importance of a healthy lifestyle with a focus on education.

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on August 5, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from Next Step for Life. The mission of NextStep for Life is to provide an array of services that assist individuals with disabilities to live fulfilled lives. NextStep for Life achieves this mission through supportive programs within five service areas: Community Supports, Employment, Family Supports, Leisure, and Residential. We work with individuals and their families to meet their needs by coordinating services that provide access to education, employment, housing, and socialization opportunities. NextStep’s programs and services promote independence by offering freedom to make choices in a supportive, encouraging environment.

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on August 19, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minute. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and the founder of A Red Circle. A Red Circle is a community based, collaborative organization. It has five focus areas: employment, education, holistic living, policy, and the arts. It's a circle, with no true beginning and no end. These disparities are the product of systemic and structural racism, but all blood is red."

F. Fundraising:

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on Sept. 2, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minutes.

A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and a representative from the American Cancer Society. At the American Cancer Society, we're on a mission to free the world from cancer. Until we do, we'll be funding and conducting research, sharing expert information, supporting patients, and spreading the word about prevention. All so you can live longer — and better.

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on Sept. 9, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minutes. A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and Stacey Switzer. Originally formed to help prevent cruelty to working animals and stray animals in the “country,” better known now as St. Louis County, the APA now assists and advocates for companion animals in both St. Louis City, St. Louis County and several surrounding counties. While the focus of the organization has shifted over the years to emphasize education and adoption, we have remained leaders in the humane treatment of animals in the St. Louis area.

“Talk of the Town” - Broadcast on Sept. 16, 2018 at 5:30am; Duration 15 minutes.

A segment of our locally produced public affairs program featuring a discussion between our host, Laurie Beakley and the director of Animal House Cat Rescue. Animal House is a safe, loving place for rescued cats to live while they find their forever homes. Our feline residents are welcome to stay with us as long as it takes for them to meet their perfect human match. In other words, we have a “no-kill” policy. We’re located in St. Louis, Missouri, and care for 200 to 300 kittens and cats of all sizes, breeds and ages. It’s important work that happens every day. Our Director, Brandyn, and volunteer staff will happily introduce you to cats of all kinds, fill you in about their personalities, and assist you with adoption when you find your match. It’s our number one priority to help cats find permanent, loving homes. Everything we do supports this goal.

Health, community services & housing issues	Talk of the Town – Interviews w/Joshua’s Great Things & Carondelet Community Betterment Federation	One of the central goals of Joshua’s Great Things Foundation is to fund and help speed up the research of cures for pediatric brain tumors. It is an extremely complicated field of knowledge, made more complicated because children respond differently to medicine than adults. There are only a few organizations dedicated to doing brain tumor research for children, so we are hoping to provide additional resources and motivation. There have been very few new chemotherapy drugs or other treatment technologies developed in the last 20+ years that have helped fight brain cancer. We want to give hope to families that something better is coming. Carondelet Community Betterment Federation, Inc. Homeless awareness, economy, ending hunger & fundraising	Talk of the Town –Interviews w/Living in Tents & Operation Food Search	In January 2011 Paul Crane(Director) discovered a tent city in downtown St. Louis, along the Mississippi River. He was curious as to who these people were, how they ended up there, and what life was like for them each day. So for a few weeks he spent nearly everyday at the tent city volunteering and getting to know people. He began to think that this place and the people living there could make a great story and he asked them if he could shoot some video, and they said “okay”. He initially thought he would simply go down during the day and capture footage when possible, but he quickly realized that if he wanted to truly capture how these people lived and the full reality of their collective and individual existence, he would have to be there full time and become a part of the place, so he moved in with them.  Founded in 1981, Operation Food Search (OFS) is a hunger relief organization located at 1644 Lotsie Blvd. that provides food and nutrition education.
