Below is a list of Supplemental Outreach Initiatives that WGBH participated in from November 15, 2008 - November 13, 2009

- A) WGBH National Productions implemented and hosted the PBS/CPB Producers Workshop in June 2009, which brought the station in contact with a diverse pool of participants. The program offers an array of intensive hands-on workshops with senior staff in various aspects of the art of producing. We continue to cultivate ongoing relationships with members of past Producers Workshops to generate new potential candidates for future job openings. This effort is overseen by a senior editorial staff producer.
- B) Respectful Workplace Training
Participants learn about WGBH's Respectful Workplace Policy and learn through interactive exercises what types of conduct and communication may be discriminatory and harassing and violate the policy. The training also provides the tools needed to handle situations where participants think discriminatory or harassing conduct might be occurring.
- C) The WGBH Internship Program
This yearly program is for local college and university students. The goal is to provide each student with an opportunity to learn and develop practical skills through real world experience. Approximately 150 internship opportunities are offered annually. Representatives from the Human Resources department maintain relationships with Career Services at different local, educational institutions through onsite visits and continual communications. This year we visited Boston College, Boston University, Brandeis College, and Emerson College.
- D) Internship College Fairs
WGBH participated in several Internship Fairs during 2009: Two fairs at Emerson College (2/09 and 10/09) hosting about 700 students each time; two fairs at Brandeis University (3/09 and 9/09) with one hosting 30 media majors and the second hosting 1,000 students; one fair at Boston College (2/09) hosting 60 students; and one fair at Boston University (5/09) hosting 100 students. Human Resources provided information to many students about internships in all different departments and production units across the Foundation.
- E) Commonwealth Compact
WGBH is an active participant in the diversity initiatives group of The Commonwealth Compact. The Compact, convened by the McCormack Graduate School of Policy Studies at UMass Boston, seeks to increase diversity in the Bay State by encouraging people of all races, religions, nationalities, and genders to live and work in Massachusetts. Meetings are held monthly to discuss and collaborate on engaging and increasing a diverse workforce.

- F) Northeast Human Resources Association
WGBH sponsored a table at the annual diversity conference on January 28, 2009. Our HR employees network with other HR professionals in the hopes of recruiting for job opportunities. It was well attended and WGBH was able to engage a new audience of participants.
- G) Metcalf Fellows Program
This is a fellowship program funded by the National Science Foundation. WGBH currently has an employee from our radio program 'The World' who was accepted into the program. This program affords talented, energetic, young minority journalists a foot in the door by gaining valuable experience at hosting organizations such as WGBH.
- H) Crimson Summer Academy at Harvard University
The Crimson Summer Academy at Harvard is a program that is designed to help low-income, high-achieving high school students from Boston and Cambridge public and parochial schools prepare for college. On July 15th, 2009, WGBH hosted 30 students for an interactive tour and discussion designed to expose students to the many career opportunities available in the media industry and at the WGBH.
- I) VSA Arts of Massachusetts
VSA arts of Massachusetts promotes the involvement of people of all disabilities in the cultural life of our communities and develops arts-based teaching strategies in schools, opening new windows into the general curriculum for all students. WGBH hosted the 'Putting Creativity to Work' conference. The conference attendees along with our employees engaged in rich discussions around the technologies WGBH has created and enhanced to serve the disability community.
