This Saturday, February 11, 2012, AMERICA'S MOST WANTED will be airing the following cases from Arizona in a TWO-HOUR CRIMES OF PASSION EDITION on FOX.

Murder, greed and lust abound in the next two-hour special of America's Most Wanted on Fox. In this "Crimes of Passion" episode focusing on the dark side of love, John Walsh teams up with the U.S. Marshals to hunt down one of their 15 Most Wanted: a fugitive from Pennsylvania accused of brutally shooting and killing his wife in a jealous rage.

MIGUEL "MIKE" TORRES –Reading, PA:For years they enjoyed what seemed to be a storybook romance -- a love so strong they didn't even feel the need to formalize it with vows. But after BarbieLebron married Mike Torres, she found that her new husband had a dark side -- one that would drive him to violent extremes.

CONG CHI LE – Westminster, CA: Gunshots erupt on the streets of a Vietnamese neighborhood south of Los Angeles and now police are on the hunt for one of the shooters, Cong Chi Le, a gang member wanted on charges of attempted murder and street terrorism.

DAVID FRIEND – Springfield, OR: An unexpected family reunion quickly turns from a celebration into one man's fight to survive after he is beaten and shot. Police say a false accusation by a drunken twelve-year-old leads his neighbors, David and Nick Friend, to break into his mother's home and start attacking her cousin with metal pipes. According to authorities the Friend brothers left the home, but David quickly returned with a pistol, shooting his victim in the chest.

UNKNOWN STUART KINGSTON JEWEL HEIST– Wilmington, DE: The FBI hopes revealing surveillance footage can shed some light into the identities of a group of thieves who pulled off one of the most lucrative jewel heists ever. Investigators say four robbers burst through the doors of a family owned jewelry store, tied up the employees, and then fled with hundreds of thousands of dollars of precious gems – and one of those, a rare ruby, that can never be replaced. A Good Samaritan chased the suspect's van across state lines after the robbery, called 9-1-1 and relayed vital information that will hopefully lead to the thieves' identity and capture.

DAVID BURGERT – Missoula, MT: An ex-con and former militia man with a history of violence and anti-government threats, David Burgert is wanted for the attempted murder of two sheriff's deputies.

NATHANIEL HOWELL– Couer D' Alene, ID:Police in Idaho are on the search for a suspected child molester who barely evaded arrest in December 2011.

ALL POINTS BULLETIN (APB):

- JERRED HERNANDEZ – Ukiah, CA: Investigators say that in August 2000, Jerred Hernandez, a recovering drug addict, brutally and fatally bludgeoned his mentor with a baseball bat. Afterward, police say that Hernandez torched the victim's house to destroy the evidence. Though he's been on the run for more than a decade, the FBI is helping out by creating new, age-enhanced photos of what Hernandez might look like today.
- RICK MCLEAN – Southern California: Cops say that for years, Frederick "Rick" McLean, used his position in the Jehovah's Witnesses to hide a lengthy history of child molestation. Authorities tell AMW that when one family finally went to the police, McLean made a fast get-away with a small fortune of cash that he secretly had stashed away.

JOSE CORONA –Lewisville, TX:The U.S. Marshals, Texas Rangers and local law enforcement continue their massive manhunt for Jose Fernando Corona – a man accused of decapitating and dismembering his wife with a chainsaw while she was still alive.

LOVE STORY: DICKIE SIMMONS & LOURDES CARDENAS: In an "America's Most Wanted" case unlike any other, a personal tragedy ends in a love story written for the ages. When Los Angeles Police Detective Dickie Simmons first met Lourdes Cardenas in 1989, he believed their first encounter would be their last as the young woman barely clung to life in the hospital. Lourdes had been shot in the head and chest and her brother fatally wounded when gang members broke into her family's home. Beating the odds, Lourdes survived, and after a 1990 airing of her case on AMW, her brother's killers turned themselves in. At the taping of the capture episode, Dickie and Lourdes were reunited and instantly clicked; kindling a romance that today finds them happily married with two children.

Marine Corp Museum Shooting

John Henrehan Pkg.

In the fall of 2010, there were a series of overnight shootings, starting at the U.S. Marine Corps Museum in Triangle, Virginia, then at the Pengaton in Arlington, then at two military recruiting stations in Northern Virginia. No one was injured by the gunfire, but bullet holes could clearly be seen at the various locations. It turns out the shooter used a home video camera to record one of his assaults. Wearing a hood, he holds up a 9mm handgun, then with Arabic music playing in his car, he says he is going to "hit" a military target. He then shoots out the passenger widow as the car passes the Marine Corps Museum.

Thomas directed 7 public grants to three organizations he had control of. Then ..those organizations would transfer money to Thomas. In one case Thomas used 110 thousand dollars to pay for a political event but claimed it was to pay for a youth benifit.

Olney Fatal Ax

aThe crash occurred in Olney, on May 15th. The driver, Kevin Coffay, fled from the scene, and evaded a police search for three hours. When captured, his blood alcohol level was twice the legal limit. Coffay left three acquaintances in the car, two of them still alive at the time of the crash.

NAT SOT

b More than 150 people crowded into a courtroom in Rockville - most of them young people (or their parents) who knew the victims. The mother of Johnny Hoover reminded the judge that Kevin Coffay had shrugged off earlier alcohol violations, and, on May 15th was a "self centered coward who worried [only] about himself" when he left his dying friends at the accident scene. A tearful Coffay apologized, saying that night was a "blur" and he now feels guilty and ashamed of his conduct. Coffey got 20 years from the judge, and five years probation afterward with tight alcohol restrictions. Prosecutors got the stiff sentence they requested.

You'll remember Cm Thomas signed the civil agreement with the Dc attorney general in July.

That agreement laid out a payment plan - 50 thousand on the spot - 50 thousand dollars just about every six months until 300-thousand dollars was paid.

When he signed the agreement cm Thomas did not admit to any wrongdoing. But he did agree to pay back 300 thousand dollars he's accused of using for his personal pleasure. Including an expensive SUV, Luxury trips and meals.

Remember there is also a federal investigation underway into this by the US attorney.. Recently Thomas' NE home was raided by the FBI.

Several council members have called for CM Thomas to step down in the past.. Monday we asked Chairman Kwame Brown if he's ready to do the same.

VA General Assembly

John Henrehan pkg.

In recent years, Democrats held a narrow majority in the Virginia Senate. But, in November's elections, two Democratic seats were lost, making the chamber evenly split: 20 Democrats and 20 Republicans. [[When this last happened in the mid-1990's, committees were given equal numbers from each party, despite the fact that the tie-breaking Lt. Governor was a Democrat.]]

Now that the tie-breaking authority is held by Republican Lt. Governor Bill Bolling. Republicans offered organizational rules which would allow them to stack committees with GOP majorities. Democrats were sharply critical.

With Bob McDonnell in the governor's mansion, and with Republicans controlling 68 of the 100 seats in the House, and with the State Senate now divided 20 / 20 between Republicans and Democrats, the GOP is in the driver's seat in Virginia, especially since Lt. Governor Bill Bolling gets to cast the tie-breaking vote in the Senate on most issues. In the past, when the Senate has been tied, Democrats and Republicans SHARED power, by putting an equal number of each on Senate committees. George Mason University government professor Toni-Michelle Travis thinks, this time, Republicans will refuse to share power.

Occupy DC Charges

John Henrehan

On Saturday, a large contingent of U.S. Park Police officers, including mounted police, and scores of officers in full riot gear, gathered before dawn at McPherson Square to inspect the tents that protestors had erected there for months. Those tents that had sleeping gear (or a lot of personal possessions) were removed for allegedly violating anti-camping regulations. Later in the day, police and protestors scuffled several times. During one of those scuffles, police say, protestor Jeremiah DeSausa, threw a full Coca Cola bottle at police and it hit a Lt. in the face. According to court documents, the police officer still has blurred vision in one eye, and his physician says he can't judge whether the damage is permanent until bleeding stops and swelling subsides. Another defendant, Nathaniel Gorecki, is charged with throwing a three-foot long bamboo pole which allegedly bounced off a police sergeant's helmet. Both men are facing felony charges of assaulting a police officer. Occupy demonstrators say both sides suffered in the fracas.

Alexandria Waterfront

John Henrehan

In Old Town Alexandria, much of the Potomac River waterfront is already parkland. It is the dream of many residents that -- someday -- the WHOLE riverfront will be a continuous park.

But, long before there were parks, here, Alexandria was a port. This dock was used by ships to bring newsprint for the Washington Post. A subsidiary company still owns the dock AND owns the adjoining warehouse.

Occupy DC rats

John Henrehan pkg.

Even in this week's bitterly cold temperatures, dozens of protestors at the two "occupy" sites in D.C. are staying put. About half of Freedom Plaza (in front of the Wilson Building) remains covered with tents. And most of McPherson Square, in the heart of the city's business district, remains wall-to-wall tents. Nearby merchants are growing weary of (what they consider to be a now-unclean park).

Some neighbors have complained of an increasing rat population, and even some demonstrators at McPherson Square concede that rodents are around.
