NBC NETWORK NON-BROADCAST EFFORTS

October - December, 2018

NBCUniversal's The More You Know website:

Since 1989, The More You Know has brought the nation's most important social issues to the forefront, and remains a trusted voice for sharing knowledge to improve lives and inspire action. The More You Know's comprehensive website (themoreyouknow.com) includes in-depth resource and referral information on the campaign's important focus issues including:

- HEALTH – fighting childhood obesity, encouraging nutrition and physical fitness
- ENVIRONMENT – encouraging everyday actions that reduce environmental impact
- EDUCATION – recruiting new teachers and promoting their long-lasting impact
- DIGITAL LITERACY & INTERNET SAFETY - sharing online safety tips and information
- DIVERSITY – embracing differences and promoting inclusion, tolerance and respect

Also featured on site is The More You Know Learning series' Growing Up Online, a free eBook on digital literacy and Internet Safety. Growing Up Online is an important tool to initiate conversation with children about online safety. The eBook is a media-rich, two-part learning resource that provides easy-to-use information about navigating the digital world in a unique and engaging way. Part one includes safety tips, discussion questions and key takeaways for parents and teachers. Part two features four entertaining video comic books for children, focused on real situations that come up when kids go online.

Additional content on the site includes public service announcements, behind-the-scenes videos, a general overview, a talent directory, and a list of the campaign's accolades such as the prestigious Emmy and Peabody awards.

ISSUES AND PROGRAMMING FCC LOG
Time varies

October 15

Death Investigation (violence) – Two people are found dead in their Barron County home and their 13-year-old missing daughter is believed to be endangered. The sheriff's department says a call from the residence came in overnight asking for help.

Teen Sextortion (children/youth) – According to a new study done by a UW-Eau Claire professor, one in 20 teens reports being a victim of sextortion. Sextortion involves someone sending an explicit photo to someone and that person threatening the image could be used against them.

Drug Bust (substance abuse/addiction) – Four people are arrested after a drug bust in Black River Falls. Police say they found drugs and money in the home on Water Street after executing a search warrant.

October 24

Foster Closet (children) – A local foster agency is honoring a nonprofit organization providing free clothes to children in foster care. Anu Family Services recognized Wisconsin Foster Closet with a Champion for Children Award.

Flood Recovery (business) – Businesses in Vernon County area continue to rebuild after August flooding. One business says it's only back open thanks to community support. Other businesses say damage is so bad, they expect to stay closed for up to six more months.

Bomb Threats (violence) – Authorities discovered a series of suspicious packages addressed to high profile public figures – most of them Democrats.

November 7

LeRoy Butler Visit (education): Former Packers Player LeRoy Butler visited New Auburn High School to spread a message about overcoming diversity and anti-bullying.

Huffing Dangers (substance abuse/addiction): Local law enforcement are warning about the dangers of huffing after a fatal hit-and-run in Chippewa County. Officers say side effects to the body are similar to those of alcohol and other drugs.

New Playground (children): A ribbon cutting was held for new playground equipment at Devney Park in Altoona. The city planner says it's the culmination of a five-year plan to improve the park.

December 11

Human Trafficking Training (medical): Medical professionals at local hospitals trained with law enforcement and Fierce Freedom to learn the signs of human trafficking to help step in as needed. According to physicians, 63 percent of human trafficking survivors visited an emergency room sometime during their captivity.

Altoona Property Taxes (economy): Many residents in Altoona will see a decrease in property taxes this year because of an increase in lottery sales. The lottery tax credit, which is the largest in 20 years, will help to lower taxes for many community members.

Campus Sexual Assault (violence): After a sexual assault was reported on the UW-La Crosse campus during the weekend, we take a closer look at what the campus is doing to prevent this from happening and the resources available to help students impacted.

MEET THE PRESS TOPICS
Airs Sundays, 8:00am and 12:05am
Various topics covered (Business, Environment, Violence, and Cultural)

OCTOBER 7, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on Meet the Press, Sen. Chris Coons (D-Del.) told moderator Chuck Todd “it’s premature” to talk about impeaching newly-confirmed Supreme Court Associate Justice Brett Kavanaugh.

OCTOBER 14, 2018 – In an interview this morning on Meet the Press, Sen. Marco Rubio (R-Fla.) told moderator Chuck Todd that the United States’ “moral credibility” will be “undermined and compromised” if we don’t call out Saudi Arabia in response to the disappearance of journalist Jamal Khashoggi, adding a response from Congress if proven true will be “swift.”

Georgia Democratic Gubernatorial Candidate Stacey Abrams joined the broadcast as well, and told Todd that the stalling of voter registrations from African American voters by her opponent Brian Kemp was “absolutely” intentional. Abrams continued: “It’s part of a pattern of behavior where he [Kemp] tries to tilt the playing field in his favor or in the favor of his party.” But Abrams added she expects the contest to be a fair one, explaining: “My organization, working with the Democratic Party, we’ve put together the largest voter protection effort in the state’s history. And we have national organizations that are also paying attention. And I think we can make this work.”

OCTOBER 21, 2018 – In an exclusive interview this morning on Meet the Press, Sen. Thom Tillis (R-N.C.) told moderator Chuck Todd that the Saudi government’s explanation of the killing of journalist Jamal Khashoggi is not credible: “You do not do something of this magnitude without having clearance from the top.” He added, “I think it’ll be very problematic for our relationship going forward.” Sen. Tillis said that it looks like the crown prince ordered the killing and “there has to be a consequence for it” and those “who committed this horrible act” must be held “accountable.”

On President Trump’s suggestion that he might propose a middle class tax cut before the midterm elections, Sen. Tillis said, “I think that there is a way to rationalize that this tax cut will pay for itself through sustained economic growth. If we don’t make the numbers, it won’t. But if we do, and we’re already seeing it early into this cycle, then I do believe that we create the net incremental revenue. It’s not going to be enough to come anywhere close to retiring our $21 trillion in debt. That’s where we’re going to have to look at tough choices.”

OCTOBER 28, 2018 – In an interview this morning on Meet the Press, Pittsburgh Mayor William Peduto spoke to moderator Chuck Todd the morning after 11 people were murdered at Tree of Life Congregation synagogue in his city, saying: “I don’t think that the answer to this problem is solved by having our synagogues, mosques and churches filled with armed guards or our schools filled with armed guards. I think we’re dealing with an irrational person who acted irrationally. And trying to create laws around that is not the way that we should govern. We should try to stop irrational behavior from happening at the forefront. And not try to create laws around irrational behavior to continue."

On President Trump possibly attending a vigil for victims, Peduto said: "That's really up to the families themselves. You know, we're going to be working together as we have. We've had good cooperation from the state and the governor. And, you know, this is a Conservative synagogue. So the funerals will be very quickly. As soon as tomorrow. So that's really up to the families and whether they would want the president to be here."

NOVEMBER 4, 2018 – Democratic strategist Cornell Belcher, NBC News' Tom Brokaw and Kasie Hunt, TODAY co-anchor Savannah Guthrie and radio host Hugh Hewitt joined the broadcast's roundtable for insight and analysis on the week in politics.

NOVEMBER 11, 2018 – In an exclusive interview on Meet the Press, Rep. Adam Schiff told moderator Chuck Todd that if Acting Attorney General Matthew Whitaker doesn't recuse himself from the Russia probe, "any role that he plays will be exposed to the public."

When asked about President Trump's comments on the California wildfires, Rep. Schiff responded: "People are losing their lives, losing loved ones, losing their homes. ... For the president, at a time when people are facing utter disaster, to be making a statement like this, making a threat like this, this just goes to show how little he understands the job he has."

Gardner also responded to President Trump's remarks regarding the California wildfires where he threatened to withhold federal funding, saying he doesn't think it's "appropriate."

NOVEMBER 18, 2018 – In an exclusive interview on Meet the Press, Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-S.C.) told moderator Chuck Todd it is "impossible to believe" the Saudi Crown Prince was unaware of Khashoggi's killing.

NOVEMBER 25, 2018 – In an exclusive, live interview on Meet the Press, Sen. Mike Lee (R-Utah) said he disagreed with President Trump's assessment of Jamal Khashoggi's killing saying "it's inconsistent with the intelligence" he's seen.

When asked if impeaching President Trump should be a priority in this next Congress, Steyer replied, "I think it's an absolute first step to getting towards a positive vision for the country ... I think there's no question that this president has both met the grounds for impeachment and that it's urgent to get him out of office ..."

Pentagon correspondent for The New York Times Helene Cooper, TIME Contributor and NBC News Political Analyst Elise Jordan, presidential historian and author of Leadership: In Turbulent Times Doris Kearns Goodwin, and SVP of Foreign and Defense Policy Studies at the American Enterprise Institute and NBC News Contributor Danielle Pletka joined the broadcast's roundtable for insight and analysis on the week in politics.

DEC. 2, 2018 – Former Vice President Dick Cheney and former Secretary of State James Baker joined the program to honor the life and legacy of President George H.W. Bush.

DECEMBER 9, 2018 – Sen. Angus King (I-Maine) joined Meet the Press this morning telling moderator Chuck Todd that there's not enough public evidence at this point to impeach President Donald Trump: "I don't think that there's evidence yet available to the public where there would be, more or less, a consensus that this was an appropriate path." "We may get there, but we are not there now," the Maine independent said.

DEC. 16, 2018 – On President Trump's proposed border wall, Sen. Schumer said "President Trump should understand. There are not the votes for the wall. In the House or the Senate, he is not going to get the wall in any form."

Sen. Roy Blunt (R-Mo.) also joined the program for an exclusive, live interview on set to discuss the recent ACA lawsuit ruling and encouraged people to remember that the ruling has "no immediate impact."

"Nothing changes yesterday. Nothing changes tomorrow," Sen. Blunt said. "This will be another area where healthcare will be used as a political issue way beyond the ramifications of one district judge making a ruling that has no immediate impact."

When asked about 'Medicare for All,' Sen. Blunt said, "The one thing I think we would be able to unite on is 'Medicare for All' would wind up meaning 'Medicare for none.' If Democrats want to take that view to the American people, and seniors, particularly, people who are now covered by Medicare, understand the ramifications of that. There is no way that will happen. And there's no way voters will let it happen."

DEC. 23, 2018 – On President Trump's decision to withdraw troops from Syria, Toomey shared that he strongly disagrees with the decision and said "senators should speak out" when they have differences with the President. "We were elected separately from the president. We don't report to the President. We should cooperate where we can. And where we need to disagree, we should be willing to do that."

Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Ill.) also joined the program for an exclusive interview and told Chuck Todd that he is "absolutely" open to increasing funding for border security as long as it's not for what he called President Trump's proposed "medieval" border wall.

When asked about President Trump's decision to pull troops out of Syria, Castro responded, "I think that many folks recognize that it was time for us to pull out of Syria. However, here's the thing. Once you're there, you have to make sure that you have a plan for your operations there and, also, for your withdrawal."

On a potential 2020 presidential run, Castro said he has "no doubt" that there is enough room for him and Beto O'Rourke in the race stating, "There are going to be a whole bunch of folks that are running this time. And so you know, he's a very talented, very impressive guy. My brother, Joaquin, and I were proud to support him, when he ran against Ted Cruz. And I think that, that there are probably going to be 20 people up on that first debate stage.”

DEC. 30, 2018 – Today on Meet the Press, moderator Chuck Todd dedicated the full hour to exploring the critical issues and challenges of climate change – the science and politics of the climate crisis and the costs and damages to the environment.

The program explored the federal response to the climate crisis and the cost to the U.S. economy and also dived into the National Climate Assessment, produced by 13 agencies inside the Trump Administration that issued dire warnings on the threat climate change poses to both the economy and to the lives of people throughout the world. Additionally, Chuck Todd cited a new NBC News-Wall Street Journal poll that found two-thirds of Americans believe action is needed to address global climate change and a record-high 45 percent say the problem is serious enough for immediate action.
