Parenting	Closer Look	Mar 21	7:00 pm	29 minutes	'Solo' Parent Society Hosts Free Online Support Groups After 13 years of marriage, Robert Beeson suddenly found himself single. "My wife left me -- and left me with our three daughters who were 9, 7 and 4 at the time. It was the darkest season." Grappling with this new solo responsibility, the divorced dad turned to his church for comfort and support. He was saddened to find very few Christian resources address the deep loneliness and doubt that many single parents endure. Out of his own need to be part of a welcoming faith community, Beeson founded the Solo Parent Society.
Human Trafficking	Closer Look	Mar 28	7:00 pm	13 minutes	'Without Permission' Educates Parents And Police On Human Trafficking Your teen meets a nice stranger at the mall. Or a guy she doesn't know likes all her posts on Instagram. What begins as flattery and flirtation has led thousands of kids -- kids just like yours -- down the dark and demeaning path to human trafficking. Groups like Without Permission urge parents to warn their teens about the tricks child predators use to trap victims. Health &amp; Wellness Pandemic Relief - Kids	K-LOVE's Positive People	March	Monthly Feature	60 second weekly promo  Podcast 2:13	Pandemic Relief: Engaging Youth Through Sports  Kevin Drake Making a Difference Via Upward Sports  “Children have been put away in their homes and cooped up for a year now. And kids need exercise.”  Kevin Drake works hard to provide a safe place for youngsters to get outside again. Children connect through sports leagues, like basketball and football. They learn teamwork and build friendships.  Kevin works with churches through the national organization Upward Sports. His focus these days is on rebuilding relationships.  “Churches are trying to figure out how to reconvene communities and get their people to come back. Sports offers an excellent way to do that.”  For those families involved in the sports programs who may not know Christ, they get a chance to learn more through devotionals read during each game’s halftime.  Kevin explains why he loves what he does. “You almost have to see it to believe it. To see how much enjoyment that the kids get from playing our leagues.”

Health &amp; Wellness - Cancer	K-LOVE's Positive People	March	Monthly Feature	60 second weekly promo  Podcast 8:35	Matthew West Encourages Families Fighting Cancer  Matthew West is a super successful Christian music artist who lends his talent and support to select ministries and projects that help others. "What separates Christian music from the rest of the world is God at work through the lyrics and the melodies, shooting straight to the hearts of people." And when a song he has written and performed can be of benefit to an outreach helping others, Matthew is often willing to come alongside and lend his name and talent to their project. That's the case with a ministry called Cancer Companions. On their web site, they offer hope and practical help: "Cancer Companions has Christian Bible Studies available in 21 states and online for any cancer patients, survivor, caregivers and loved ones." Bible studies are often available at churches, where specific cancer support, including prayer, is offered. When it comes to the anxiety that often accompanies a cancer diagnosis, Matthew looks at it this way: "I really think it does revolve around that word uncertainty. The unknown. A cancer diagnosis means you're about to walk a road. It's a road you've never walked before and you don't know how long that road is going to take you. You don't know what's on the other side of it, so my heart goes out to anybody who's dealing with a cancer diagnosis," Matthew speaks from his heart. As for the ongoing COVID situation, Matthew shares that "this past year of the pandemic has been a great opportunity for me to sort of get my priorities in check and sort of come off the road for a little while and take a deep breath and reexamine what matters. And I think that's a good key for all of us in our lives to just make sure that we're always checking our priorities, always checking our motivations, and then taking some inventory and making the changes that need to be made."

Education	Closer Look	Jan 17	7:00 pm	29 minutes	SCHOOL-AT-HOME: Advice For Distance Learning, Homeschooling Socially-distanced schooling in the age of COVID-19 has been bumpy for parents who feel inadequate as teachers. For some families, the shutdown drove disillusionment with public school curriculum, prompting a leap to homeschooling. Whether you homeschool or embrace distance learning, experts insist that school-at-home can indeed work for you. K-LOVE's Billie Branham reports. Guests: “Keeping it simple” is key says Arlene Pellicane, mom, author and host of Accessmore podcast A Happy Home. “Master the basics. Just focus on like two things that would help this distance learning thing work.” As homeschoolers, parents take full responsibility for what their children learn, a method mentor and coach Kayla Weller finds effective, flexible

Faith & Spirituality	K-LOVE's Positive People	Jan March	Monthly Feature	60 second feature promo  Podcast 7:55	Steven Dyer Uses Horses to Help Humans Understand God's Guidance At his SBH horse stable business near rural Grove, Oklahoma, former Pastor Steven Dyer is very active on YouTube. Video topics include "Wild Mustang Challenge" and "Teaching a Pony to Not be Afraid." With deep experience and plenty of patience, Steve demonstrates various ways to befriend and train a horse. But as he works with horses, he is constantly reminded of God. "The more I'm around horses, I see the beauty of how they are created and how we interact with them. And one of my little personal theories is that I believe God created the horse just for us to ride. They are perfectly suited, as no other animal is in creation, to carry us from place to place," he marvels. Because of that, some of his YouTube videos are in a series called "Sermon by Horse." One teaching is called "Boundaries: This mustang needs boundaries, even if he doesn't want them. So do we." There's a definite backstory to that video teaching. "I guess I got the idea for that from when I was a teenager and people would say, 'God says don't do this...and God says don't do that.' And I remember thinking, 'God must not want me to have any fun' (he laughs) ... And then as I matured and began to serve the Lord, I realized that those boundaries are there for our protection and other peoples' protection as well." So, when Steve was training a horse recently, he thought, "You know, he'd really like to get out of this pen and run away and be free, but if he did, something bad would happen. So, I just saw the connection, the analogy, between boundaries we give to the horse to the boundaries that God gives us," and that inspired the bible teaching video on Boundaries, which we feature further below. Over the years, Steve has trained horses and taught people to ride in such diverse places as the Navajo Reservation and Saudi Arabia. And he consistently found by way of horses he was able to share faith in Christ with others. Steve has always been fond of horses. "The first time my parents put me on a horse, I was about five years old and I grabbed the reigns, whacked the horse, and said 'ya!,' and the horse took off running...and my mom started screaming... and I had the time of my life, loved it!"

Special Needs - Autism	K-LOVE's Positive People	Jan	Monthly Feature	60 second feature promo  Podcast 10:29	Discovering He's on The Autism Spectrum, Pastor Jim Is Now Helping Others With Special Needs Pastor Jim McCaffrey was struggling with life issues that didn't make much sense - job losses, relational and social road bumps. "Early on, I always struggled with being able to keep a job, was horrible with interviews especially, just could never get he right words and things out to make a good interview or impression during an interview. So, ministry jobs, just regular employment, all those kinds of things were very difficult. Relationships-wise, it was hard making friends, understanding people, different things like that. So, yeah, it was definitely a struggle." At age 35, he knew he had to understand what he was dealing with. "I was sick of moving. I was sick and tired of having to pack up the house (with his wife and five daughters) and move after two years, uproot my family, my kids from schools and friends. This really got to the point of frustration not understanding what was going on at that time." Then there was a revelation. It took time and considerable research, but Jim was diagnosed as being on the autism spectrum. And that

					has opened the door to beneficial workarounds and has even led to new forms of ministry to help others.
--	--	--	--	--	--

				Jim explains that autism caused him to be focused - heavily focused - on different things, like reptiles and drums. "I'm a drummer and musician and I love it. And I would just dive right into learning as much as I can. It consumes a lot of my time and energy and so forth. And this is one of the things that happens with those on the autism spectrum, you just get this crystal-clear focus on it and that's what your emphasis goes to." Pastor Jim acknowledges "I had a lot of weird quirks and my wife can definitely tell you they're weird, and that's okay (he laughs)." On our podcast, below, he explains some of those quirks. He still misses cues at times. "I am not good with small talk and things like that" and "reading people is not a good area for me." But now, knowing it's autism he's dealing with, he has been able to understand relational gaps and work on improving. Life is better. Not perfect. Having experienced what autism can bring, Jim, the pastor at Gunpowder Baptist Church in Freeland, Maryland, is active in helping churches find ways to minister to people with all sorts of special needs. He has even worked on a project with the Tim Tebow Foundation, a Night to Shine, held in Puerto Rico. Jim believes special needs have often been "overlooked" by churches, but is

					seeing considerable interest taking place. And, with two Master's degrees and life experiences, he's willing to do what he can to help foster better understanding and serving people in Christ's name.
