ISSUE: SCOTUS Affordable Care Act & SCOTUS NCAA

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT: SCOTUS Affordable Care Act & SCOTUS NCAA

DATE: 7-5-21
TIME: 7pm-8pm, PDT
DURATION: 01:00 Hour

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAM:

It's playoff season for Supreme Court aficionados! This morning the Court issued three decisions, the first of which both retained the Affordable Care Act as the law of the land at the same time that it punted a bit, leaving the door open to future challenges. The second decision ruled that the First Amendment can be interpreted to mean that the City of Philadelphia cannot prevent a Catholic organization from discriminating against same-sex couples when it comes to fostering children. And as horrific as it sounds, the third decision states that Nestle and other cocoa bean producers are not culpable for child slavery practices in Africa's Ivory Coast. Jessica and Joe break down how the court voted and give some insight how these changes may affect American society.

As the end of the current Supreme Court term draws near, today the Court issued a narrow ruling on compensation for college athletes. In this episode of Passing Judgment, Jessica and Joe talk about how the court applied anti-trust statutes to the NCAA's claim that their rules should continue to prevent additional academic and other compensation for college athletes, and how justice Kavanaugh - a former coach - issued a fiery retort to the NCAA's position.

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT: Interview with Norma Torres and interview with Eric Segall

DATE: 8-5-21
TIME: 7pm-8pm, PDT
DURATION: 01:00 Hour

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAM:

Congresswoman Norma Torres (D-CA), forced to shelter-in-place in the House gallery, shares the harrowing details of January 6th, 2021. As the Capitol was under siege, Congresswoman Torres donned a gas mask and crawled on hands and knees to safety. She spent hours worried her life was at risk. When one of her sons called, she picked up the phone only to tell him that she was safe but running for her life. This is not merely an academic discussion about disinformation and security breaches. This is a personal conversation about one representative's fight to stay safe amid real danger.

Join host Jessica Levinson and guest Eric Segall. Eric is a professor at Georgia State University College of Law and an expert on the Supreme Court. How does the Supreme Court make its decisions? Does the Court function as intended? In this episode, Eric makes the provocative argument that the Supreme Court is not really a court, and that judges make their decisions on little more than their ideological views.

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT: Interview with Greg Bluestein and Tom Wait

DATE: 8-26-21
TIME: 7pm-8pm, PDT
DURATION: 01:00 Hour

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAM:

Why are all eyes on Georgia? On 1/5/2021, Georgia voters will head to the polls to pick their two U.S. Senators. If both democrats win, the Senate will be split 50-50 and with Vice President-elect Kamala Harris holding the tie-breaking vote, will in fact be controlled by Democrats. This has enormous implications for the Biden administration. Greg Bluestein, of the Atlanta Journal Constitution, stops by to tell us everything we need to know about these races.

WE RAN THE FOLLOWING PROGRAM TO ADDRESS IT: Interview with Dr. Lauren Crosby and interview with Dr. Aaron David Miller

DATE: 9-23-21
TIME: 7pm-8pm, PDT
DURATION: 01:00 Hour

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE PROGRAM:

We ask Dr. Lauren Crosby, a nationally-recognized parenting expert and pediatrician, all of your questions about kids and COVID-19. Can kids safely go back to school? What safety protocols should schools be putting in place? Are playdates safe? After school sports? Should every eligible child get the vaccine? And when will kids under 12 be eligible for the vaccine?

Dr. Aaron David Miller is a senior fellow at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and he has advised Secretaries of State from multiple presidential administrations on both sides of the aisle. With an ongoing international pandemic and a bollixed pullout of U.S. forces from a twenty year war in Afghanistan, what would someone with decades of foreign policy experience tell the Biden Administration about how to best face multiple challenges at home and abroad?
