

ISSUES AND PROGRAM REPORT FOR

STATIONS KITS FM, KITS HD1, KITS HD2
(and all the streams associated with these signals)

2nd QUARTER, 2020
(April - June 2020)

Prepared by: Tim Jordan, Operations Manager Entercom San Francisco

PUBLIC AFFAIRS PROGRAMS

KITS & KITS HD1 & KITS HD2 PROGRAMS THAT ADDRESS COMMUNITY ISSUES

1. KCBS In Depth Sundays at 6:30am. Locally-produced commercial-free half-hour news interview program produced by KCBS staff with various authors, professors, public officials, and community organizations regarding issues of local and national concern. Show produced by KCBS News San Francisco.
2. Bay Area Focus Sundays at 6:00am. Locally produced commercial-free half-hour news interview program. Show produced by KPIX Channel 5. "Bay Area Focus" concentrates on local issues and guest include Senators, Mayors, Supervisors and other high ranking city officials, including Police and Fire Chiefs, and other community leaders.
3. Bay Sunday Sundays at 6:00am. Locally produced, commercial-free, half-hour news interview program. Show produced by KPIX Channel 5. "Bay Sunday" is an eclectic mix of light news, arts and community information all tossed up in lively conversation.
4. Black Renaissance Sundays at 6:00am. Locally produced commercial-free half-hour news interview program. Show produced by KPIX Channel 5. "Black Renaissance" is the Bay Area's longest running news/interview show that focuses on issues of concern to the African American community. Hosted by KPIX 5 reporter, Christin Ayers, it is one of the few programs in the Bay Area specifically tailored to the needs and interests of the African American Community. It also profiles those in the community who are doing great things, and making a difference. Topics addressed include housing, politics, education, health, and the arts. Former guests have included Oprah Winfrey, Danny Glover, Street Soldiers Founder Joe Marshall, the Reverend Cecil Williams, rapper Chuck D, filmmaker Spike Lee, "The Color Purple Stars" Jeannette Bayardelle, Stephanie St. James, Latoya London, actress Terri J. Vaughn, and many others.

ISSUES OF CONCERN TO THE SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA ADDRESSED IN RESPONSIVE PROGRAMMING IN THE
2nd Quarter, 2020

- 1. Staying Safe During Coronavirus Lockdown
- 2. Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It
- 3. Love Stories Get Complicated During Coronavirus Shelter-In-Place
- 4. Love Stories Get Complicated During Coronavirus Shelter-In-Place
- 5. Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It
- 6. Sheltering the Homeless During a Pandemic: How Fast is Fast Enough?
- 7. The Science of COVID-19: What's The Latest?
- 8. What It Will Take To Reopen Safely
- 9. Crisis and Community in San Francisco's Bayview District
- 10. What Has The Lockdown Accomplished?
- 11. Need Your Outdoors Fix? Here's How To Get It, Safely
- 12. After Days of Mass Protests, Could Reform Follow?
- 13. Talking Transit As Bay Area Traffic Returns
- 14. Police Reform Visions Diverge Over Defunding Question
- 15. Reopening Plans Reconsidered As COVID Cases Surge

QUARTERLY ISSUES/PROGRAMS REPORT

2nd Quarter 2020
(April - June 2020)

MOST SIGNIFICANT ISSUE-RESPONSIVE PROGRAMMING

ISSUE: Staying Safe During Coronavirus Lockdown

KCBS In Depth(replay from 3/29/20)

April 5, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

In this edition of KCBS In Depth, we speak with a University of Pennsylvania social epidemiologist about the most important rules of social distancing, following a week of stern admissions from Bay Area politicians and health officials over residents' lax adherence. Then, we visit with a UCSF epidemiologist about the most important steps we should take to keep our homes germ free - from cleaning tips to advice for how to deal with items that are brought in from the outside world. Host is KCBS' Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It

KCBS In Depth

April 5, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

With the coronavirus continuing to spread it seems every day there's something new to worry about -- new outbreaks, new restrictions, new layoffs -- so for many of us meeting this moment also means learning to manage our own stress and anxiety. On this edition of KCBS In Depth we hear from a stress and anxiety expert about how we can all better cope in these trying times. Then later in the program, we discuss how Bay Area residents are confronting the other scourge of mental well being during this lockdown, isolation and loneliness. Guests include Dr. Jonathan Horowitz, a clinical psychologist and the director of the San Francisco Stress and Anxiety Center, and Cathy Michalec, executive director of Little Brothers-Friends of the Elderly, San Francisco. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It

KCBS In Depth (replay from 4/5/20)

April 12, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

With the coronavirus continuing to spread it seems every day there's something new to worry about -- new outbreaks, new restrictions, new layoffs -- so for many of us meeting this moment also means learning to manage our own stress and anxiety. On this edition of KCBS In Depth we hear from a stress and anxiety expert about how we can all better cope in these trying times. Then later in the program, we discuss how Bay Area residents are confronting the other scourge of mental well being during this lockdown, isolation and loneliness. Guests include Dr. Jonathan Horowitz, a clinical psychologist and the director of the San Francisco Stress and Anxiety Center, and Cathy Michalec, executive director of Little Brothers-Friends of the Elderly, San Francisco. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Love Stories Get Complicated During Coronavirus Shelter-In-Place

KCBS In Depth

April 12, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

Even if there may be a glimmer of light at the end of this coronavirus tunnel, the lockdown is still causing massive disruptions - and for those just on the cusp of major life events, the timing couldn't have been worse. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we speak with a Bay Area wedding planner about how soon-to-be brides and grooms are dealing with these challenges, and how the rest of us planning lesser events can cope. Believe it or not, even with the lock down in place, dating sites are seeing a surge in popularity. We speak with a San Francisco matchmaker about the brave new world of socially-distanced dating as the lockdown forces date-night into the virtual world. Guests include KCBS' Mary Hughes, Lally Clark, owner of Lally Events, and Courtney Kay, a San Francisco-based matchmaker. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

SSUE: Love Stories Get Complicated During Coronavirus Shelter-In-Place

KCBS In Depth (replay from 4/12/20)

April 19, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

Even if there may be a glimmer of light at the end of this coronavirus tunnel, the lockdown is still causing massive disruptions - and for those just on the cusp of major life events, the timing couldn't have been worse. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we speak with a Bay Area wedding planner about how soon-to-be brides and grooms are dealing with these challenges, and how the rest of us planning lesser events can cope. Believe it or not, even with the lock down in place, dating sites are seeing a surge in popularity. We speak with a San Francisco matchmaker about the brave new world of socially-distanced dating as the lockdown forces date-night into the virtual world. Guests include KCBS' Mary Hughes, Lally Clark, owner of Lally Events, and Courtney Kay, a San Francisco-based matchmaker. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It

KCBS In Depth

April 19, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

With the coronavirus continuing to spread it seems every day there's something new to worry about -- new outbreaks, new restrictions, new layoffs -- so for many of us meeting this moment also means learning to manage our own stress and anxiety. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we hear from a stress and anxiety expert about how we can all better cope in these trying times. Then later in the program, we discuss how Bay Area residents are confronting the other scourge of mental well being during this lockdown, isolation and loneliness. Guests include Dr. Jonathan Horowitz, clinical psychologist and the director of the San Francisco Stress and Anxiety Center, and Cathy Michalec, executive director of Little Brothers-Friends of the Elderly. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Feeling Coronavirus Stress? Here's What To Do About It

KCBS In Depth (replay from 4/19/20)

April 26, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

With the coronavirus continuing to spread it seems every day there's something new to worry about -- new outbreaks, new restrictions, new layoffs -- so for many of us meeting this moment also means learning to manage our own stress and anxiety. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we hear from a stress and anxiety expert about how we can all better cope in these trying times. Then later in the program, we discuss how Bay Area residents are confronting the other scourge of mental well being during this lockdown, isolation and loneliness. Guests include Dr. Jonathan Horowitz, clinical psychologist and the director of the San Francisco Stress and Anxiety Center, and Cathy Michalec, executive director of Little Brothers-Friends of the Elderly. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Sheltering the Homeless During a Pandemic: How Fast is Fast Enough?

KCBS In Depth

April 26, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

Since the pandemic began, the Bay Area has been racing to protect one of its most vulnerable populations - the homeless. A lot of work has already been done. Hotel rooms have been opened, tests have been administered, shelters have stepped up social distancing. But in the face of these historic risks, will these efforts be enough? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we speak with one researcher who has applied some science to that question, and has some major concerns about the current pace of change. But, speed isn't everything. In the second half of the program, we also hear from an advocate warning of dire consequences for those placed in emergency shelters if authorities fail to also provide adequate services and support. Guests include Coco Auerswald, professor of community health science at UC Berkeley's School of Public Health, and Sam Cobbs, chief executive officer of Tipping Point Community. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Sheltering the Homeless During a Pandemic: How Fast is Fast Enough?

KCBS In Depth (replay from 4/26/20)

May 3, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

Since the pandemic began, the Bay Area has been racing to protect one of its most vulnerable populations - the homeless. A lot of work has already been done. Hotel rooms have been opened, tests have been administered, shelters have stepped up social distancing. But in the face of these historic risks, will these efforts be enough? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we speak with one researcher who has applied some science to that question, and has some major concerns about the current pace of change. But, speed isn't everything. In the second half of the program, we also hear from an advocate warning of dire consequences for those placed in emergency shelters if authorities fail to also provide adequate services and support. Guests include Coco Auerswald, professor of community health science at UC Berkeley's School of Public Health, and Sam Cobbs, chief executive officer of Tipping Point Community. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: The Science of COVID-19: What's The Latest?

KCBS In Depth

May 3, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

We've had a few months now to get to know this new coronavirus and because it is so new there's been a lot to learn - how it infects new people, how it changes over time, just how deadly it might be. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we check in with some of the Bay Area scientists who have been studying this pandemic to hear from them what they've managed to learn so far. Guests include Dr. Yvonne Maldonado, chief of infectious diseases at Lucile Packard Children's Hospital and professor of epidemiology at Stanford's School of Medicine, and Dr. Marm Kilpatrick, who studies infectious diseases at UC Santa Cruz's Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: The Science of COVID-19: What's The Latest?

KCBS In Depth (replay from 5/3/20)

May 10, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

We've had a few months now to get to know this new coronavirus and because it is so new there's been a lot to learn - how it infects new people, how it changes over time, just how deadly it might be. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we check in with some of the Bay Area scientists who have been studying this pandemic to hear from them what they've managed to learn so far. Guests include Dr. Yvonne Maldonado, chief of infectious diseases at Lucile Packard Children's Hospital and professor of epidemiology at Stanford's School of Medicine, and Dr. Marm Kilpatrick, who studies infectious diseases at UC Santa Cruz's Department of Ecology & Evolutionary Biology. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: What It Will Take To Reopen Safely

KCBS In Depth

May 10, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

For nearly two months now, life here in the Bay Area has been kept to a near standstill, but this time is being used in important ways. Even as most residents shelter-in-place at home, armies of health workers and medical professionals are hard at work, helping to prepare the region for the day when the lockdown is lifted. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we discuss that work and why health officials say to reopen safely a lot more of it still needs to be done. Then in the second half of the program we take a deep dive into just one of the major efforts underway - contact tracing. We'll hear what it is and why state officials are racing to train thousands of workers to make it happen. Guests include Dr. Sara Cody, Santa Clara County Health Officer, and Dr. George Rutherford, Professor of Epidemiology at University of California, San Francisco. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: What It Will Take To Reopen Safely

KCBS In Depth (replay from 5/10/20)

May 17, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

For nearly two months now, life here in the Bay Area has been kept to a near standstill, but this time is being used in important ways. Even as most residents shelter-in-place at home, armies of health workers and medical professionals are hard at work, helping to prepare the region for the day when the lockdown is lifted. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we discuss that work and why health officials say to reopen safely a lot more of it still needs to be done. Then in the second half of the program we take a deep dive into just one of the major efforts underway - contact tracing. We'll hear what it is and why state officials are racing to train thousands of workers to make it happen. Guests include Dr. Sara Cody, Santa Clara County Health Officer, and Dr. George Rutherford, Professor of Epidemiology at University of California, San Francisco. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Crisis and Community in San Francisco's Bayview District

KCBS In Depth

May 17, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we focus on just one corner of the Bay Area. San Francisco's Bayview District, among the city's hardest hit by the coronavirus, but with a strong network of community groups already present before the pandemic began, it's also been the site of a whirlwind of organizing and outreach. We speak with the community leaders behind that work to find out what it's taken to meet the needs of their community during this trying time. Guests include Shamann Walton, San Francisco Supervisor, Joi Jackson-Morgan, executive director 3rd Street Youth Center and Clinic, and Kristin Houk, owner and operator of three restaurants in Bayview. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi and Melissa Culross.

ISSUE: Crisis and Community in San Francisco's Bayview District

KCBS In Depth (replay from 5/17/20)

May 24, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we focus on just one corner of the Bay Area. San Francisco's Bayview District, among the city's hardest hit by the coronavirus, but with a strong network of community groups already present before the pandemic began, it's also been the site of a whirlwind of organizing and outreach. We speak with the community leaders behind that work to find out what it's taken to meet the needs of their community during this trying time. Guests include Shamann Walton, San Francisco Supervisor, Joi Jackson-Morgan, executive director 3rd Street Youth Center and Clinic, and Kristin Houk, owner and operator of three restaurants in Bayview. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi and Melissa Culross.

ISSUE: What Has The Lockdown Accomplished?

KCBS In Depth

May 24, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

It's been a long slow journey, but it's looking a lot like the Bay Area has indeed managed to bend the curve on this pandemic. The question now is, what's going to happen as we begin to reopen? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we consider the work that's been done to step up preparedness since the lockdown began - from boosting hospital capacity, to buying up protective gear, to expanding testing and tracing - and then ask how far that effort has gone toward making us safer. Guests include Dr. John Swartzberg, emeritus professor of public health at UC, Berkeley's Division of Infectious Disease, and Dr. Amesh Adalja, senior scholar at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: What Has The Lockdown Accomplished?

KCBS In Depth (replay from 5/24/20)

May 31, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

It's been a long slow journey, but it's looking a lot like the Bay Area has indeed managed to bend the curve on this pandemic. The question now is, what's going to happen as we begin to reopen? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we consider the work that's been done to step up preparedness since the lockdown began - from boosting hospital capacity, to buying up protective gear, to expanding testing and tracing - and then ask how far that effort has gone toward making us safer. Guests include Dr. John Swartzberg, emeritus professor of public health at UC, Berkeley's Division of Infectious Disease, and Dr. Amesh Adalja, senior scholar at the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Need Your Outdoors Fix? Here's How To Get It, Safely

KCBS In Depth

May 31, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

As the weather warms the great outdoors is beginning to beckon, and California's much-loved parks, campgrounds and beaches are starting to fill up. But with Covid-19 still circulating and lockdown orders still in place, are these outdoor excursions really safe? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we get the view from both a virologist and an outdoors expert as to how all this fun in the sun can be enjoyed responsibly. Guests include Tom Stienstra, KCBS and San Francisco Chronicle Outdoors Editor, and Paula Cannon, professor of microbiology and immunology with the Keck School of Medicine at the University of Southern California Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Need Your Outdoors Fix? Here's How To Get It, Safely

KCBS In Depth(replay from 5/31/20)

June 7, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

As the weather warms the great outdoors is beginning to beckon, and California's much-loved parks, campgrounds and beaches are starting to fill up. But with Covid-19 still circulating and lockdown orders still in place, are these outdoor excursions really safe? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we get the view from both a virologist and an outdoors expert as to how all this fun in the sun can be enjoyed responsibly. Guests include Tom Stienstra, KCBS and San Francisco Chronicle Outdoors Editor, and Paula Cannon, professor of microbiology and immunology with the Keck School of Medicine at the University of Southern California. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: After Days of Mass Protests, Could Reform Follow?

KCBS In Depth

June 7, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

The killing of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police has ignited waves of heated demonstrations that have swept across the Bay Area and the country. Of course protests against police brutality and calls for reform are nothing new, but many believe this moment is different. So on this edition of KCBS In Depth we consider what could be done to meet the demands of those who have been taking to the streets, from reforming police departments, to pushing for broader social changes outside of police work. Guests include Rev. Jethroe Moore II, president of the San Jose Silicon/Valley NAACP, and Richard Corriea, director of the University of San Francisco International Institute of Criminal Justice Leadership. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: After Days of Mass Protests, Could Reform Follow?

KCBS In Depth(replay from 6/7/20)

June 14, 2020

6:00 a.m.

30 Minutes

The killing of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police has ignited waves of heated demonstrations that have swept across the Bay Area and the country. Of course protests against police brutality and calls for reform are nothing new, but many believe this moment is different. So on this edition of KCBS In Depth we consider what could be done to meet the demands of those who have been taking to the streets, from reforming police departments, to pushing for broader social changes outside of police work. Guests include Rev. Jethroe Moore II, president of the San Jose Silicon/Valley NAACP, and Richard Corriea, director of the University of San Francisco International Institute of Criminal Justice Leadership. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Talking Transit As Bay Area Traffic Returns

KCBS In Depth

June 14, 2020

6:30 a.m.

30Minutes

It was nice while it lasted, but those empty Bay Area roads are filling up again pretty quickly as lockdown orders ease and residents begin heading back to work. An awful lot has changed though over the past few months: public transit agencies are now facing major budget challenges as they contend with low ridership, and, meantime, many commuters have gotten quite used to working from home and may just keep on doing so. So just what will the transit picture look like in a post-lockdown world? We'll discuss on this week's edition of KCBS In Depth. Guests include Randy Rentschler, the director of legislation and public affairs for the Metropolitan Transportation Commission. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Talking Transit As Bay Area Traffic Returns

KCBS In Depth (replay from 6/14/20)

June 21, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

It was nice while it lasted, but those empty Bay Area roads are filling up again pretty quickly as lockdown orders ease and residents begin heading back to work. An awful lot has changed though over the past few months: public transit agencies are now facing major budget challenges as they contend with low ridership, and, meantime, many commuters have gotten quite used to working from home and may just keep on doing so. So just what will the transit picture look like in a post-lockdown world? We'll discuss on this week's edition of KCBS In Depth. Guests include Randy Rentschler, the director of legislation and public affairs for the Metropolitan Transportation Commission. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Police Reform Visions Diverge Over Defunding Question

KCBS In Depth

June 21, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

Weeks of demonstrations against police brutality have thrust police reform into the center of the national conversation, but just how deep will those reforms go? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we consider the growing calls to defund police as well as the stiff push back against them. Guests include San Francisco Supervisor Shamann Walton and Tony Montoya, president of the San Francisco Police Officers Association. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Police Reform Visions Diverge Over Defunding Question

KCBS In Depth (replay from 6/21/20)

June 28, 2020

6:00am

30 Minutes

Weeks of demonstrations against police brutality have thrust police reform into the center of the national conversation, but just how deep will those reforms go? On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we consider the growing calls to defund police as well as the stiff push back against them. Guests include San Francisco Supervisor Shamann Walton and Tony Montoya, president of the San Francisco Police Officers Association. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

ISSUE: Reopening Plans Reconsidered As COVID Cases Surge

KCBS In Depth

June 28, 2020

6:30am

30 Minutes

The process of reopening has been moving forward slowly and steadily for more than a month now, but a recent surge in COVID-19 cases taking place across the country is forcing some counties to reassess their plans. On this edition of KCBS In Depth, we take a closer look at the troubling rise in the Bay Area's own Covid case numbers and consider what they could mean for reopening. Guests include Dr. Yvonne Maldonado, Stanford University School of Medicine professor of pediatrics and epidemiology, and Dr. Nicholas Moss, acting director for the Alameda County Public Health Department's Division of Communicable Disease Control & Prevention. Host is KCBS Radio's Keith Menconi.

A SAMPLING OF PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS AIRED ON STATIONS KITS FM, KITS HD1, KITS HD2

(And all streams associated with those signals)
DURING THE 2nd QUARTER 2020

ORGANIZATION/EVENT

The Jefferson Awards- KCBS/KPIX TV
The Vintage Paper Fair
The San Francisco County Fair
The Cartoon Art Museum
SF Beer Week
San Francisco Pier 39's iconic floral festival, Tulipmania
The 2020 Bay Area American Indian Two Spirits Powwow
BottleRock Napa Valley Festival
The Gilroy Garlic Festival
Hayward's COVID-19 Hotline Call Center
Free COVID-19 Coronavirus Testing
The Sonoma Valley Museum of Art
San Francisco Animal Care and Control
The Alameda County Law Library
The Mid-peninsula Regional Open Space
Marin County Emergency Pop-Up Childcare Program
The Marin County Department of Health and Human Services
Covenant House and Good Sports
Yosemite National Park
San Jose's Winchester Mystery House
The Alzheimer's Association
Fort Mason in San Francisco\
San Jose's Winchester Mystery House
Jack London Square in Oakland
City Arts and Lectures'
Shows at the Berkeley Repertory Theatre

Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco
Meals on Wheels
Stroke Warning Signs
The San Francisco Public Library
The Boardwalk in Santa Cruz
A2A
The American Cancer Society
The San Francisco SPCA
10K AIDS Walk
The Marin Humane Society
Cancer Prevention
Hunger Prevention
Habitat for Humanity
Foster Care
GLIDE Memorial Church
Guide Dogs for the Blind
Bay Area Food Banks
The Marin Humane Society
Breast Cancer Awareness
HIV-AIDS
United Way
St. Anthony's Dinner
The Arthritis Foundation
Autism Awareness
FEMA – Earthquake
United Way