

Date	Key	Synopsis	Guest/Reporter	Duration
		Quarterly Programming Report JAN-MAR 2013
		KPCC / KVLA / KUOR
1/1/13	MIL	With 195,000 soldiers, the Afghan army is bigger than ever. But it's also unstable.	Rod Nordland	8:16
1/1/13	HEAL	When are animals like humans? More often than you think, at least according to a new movement that links human and animal behaviors. KPCC's Stephanie O'Neill reports.	Stephanie O'Neill	4:08
1/1/13	ART	We've all heard warning like, "Don't go swimming for an hour after you eat!" "Never run with scissors," and "Chew on your pencil and you'll get lead poisoning," from our parents and teachers.	Ken Jennings	7:04
1/1/13	ECON	In "The Fine Print," Pulitzer Prize-winning author David Cay Johnston details how the U.S. tax system distorts competition and favors corporations and the wealthy.	David Cay Johnston	16:29
1/1/13	ART	Eddie Izzard joins the show to talk about his series at the Steve Allen Theater, plus he fills us in about his new show, "Force Majeure."	Eddie Izzard	19:23
1/1/13	ART	Our regular music critics Drew Tewksbury, Steve Hochman and Josh Kun join Alex Cohen and A Martinez for a special hour of music to help you get over your New Year's Eve hangover.	Drew Tewksbury, Steve Hochman and Josh Kun	12:57
1/1/2013	IMM	DREAM students in California get financial aid for state higher ed	Guidi	1:11
1/1/2013	ECON	After 53 years, Junior's Deli in Westwood has closed its doors	Bergman	3:07
1/1/2013	ECON	Some unemployed workers are starting off the New Year with more debt	Lee	2:36
1/1/2013	ECON	Lacter on 2013 predictions	Lacter	4:02
1/1/2013	ECON	Extended lockout put NHL in dangerous place with coporate ticket buyers	CC	:17
1/1/2013	ECON	Extended lockout put NHL in dangerous place with coporate ticket buyers	Watt	:54
1/1/2013	ART	Salvadoran youth band makes four-day trip for Rose Parade performance	Guzman	3:56
1/1/2013	SPOR	The Clippers' recent success is part of an LA sports tradition	CC	:16
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	1:50
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	2:49
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	:56
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	:53
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	:57
1/1/2013	ART	Ben Bergman reports from the Rose Parade route	Bergman	1:44
1/1/2013	SGV	Occupy float makes an appearance at the Rose Parade in Pasadena	CC	:19
1/1/2013	POLI	LA voters will elect a new mayor this year	CC	:20
1/1/2013	ECON	Lacter predicts Southern California will be fine, no matter what happens with the fiscal cliff	CC	:20
1/1/2013	ART	Every year more than 50 marching bands from near and far compete for one of the 16 slots in the Rose Parade	CC	:05
1/1/2013	ART	Every year more than 50 marching bands from near and far compete for one of the 16 slots in the Rose Parade	CC	:05
1/1/2013	ENV	National Weather Service issues a wind advisory	CC	:08
1/1/2013	ENV	National Weather Service issues a wind advisory	CC	:17
1/1/2013	ART	Hundreds of thousands of people turned out this morning for the 124th annual Rose Parade in Pasadena	Bergman	1:58
1/1/2013	POLI	California cities will ban open carry of shotguns and rifles in New Year	Russ	:52
1/1/2013	POLI	Person carrying any type of firearm openly displayed cause of public unrest	CC	:07
1/1/2013	POLI	Gun owners to continue to work California that recognizes constitutional rights	CC	:11
1/1/2013	LAW	Several new laws are intended to improve reporting of suspected child abuse.	Milne	:53
1/1/2013	POLI	Lacter on the LA Mayor's race	Lacter	3:53
1/1/2013	ECON	Lacter on job growth in hospitality industry	Lacter	3:57

1/1/2013	ECON	Lacter on Rick Perry's attempt to lure business to Texas	Lacter	3:56
1/2/13	ECON	How will this deal affect the middle class? What about those who rely on entitlement programs? And does this deal really add up to make any noticeable dent in the country's deficit?	Dan Gorenstein, Tom McClintock, Adam Schiff	15:00
1/2/13	LIT	What words, phrases and twitterisms are you sooo over? Call in and tell us - YOLO!		15:00:00
1/2/13	ECON	Will more debt hurt already fragile economic growth? Why didn't the Fiscal Cliff deal resolve this issue? Why does the US Government need to borrow trillions of dollars simply to pay its bills? And why is the actual deadline so nebulous?	Curtis Dubay, Michael Ettlinger	30:00:00
1/2/13	ENV	San Fernando Valley nature lovers and environmental groups say the Army Corps Of Engineers recently cleared too much vegetation from the Sepulveda Basin Wildlife Area.	Molly Peterson, Kris Ohlenkamp	17:00
1/2/13	LIT	Do you have trouble making or breaking habits? What are your plans for keeping your resolutions this year?	Jeremy Dean	17:00
1/2/13	ECON	It seems that the dreaded tumble over the fiscal cliff was avoided. Though the House didn't vote until after the Monday deadline, but there is a deal. It avoids cuts to defense and other programs, and prevents an income tax increase for all but the richest Americans, but it's still a short-term deal.	Molly Ball	7:28
1/2/13	ECON	KPCC's Matt DeBord talks about economist Robert Gordon's theory that the period of economic growth that began in the 18th century may be drawing to an end.	Matt DeBord	5:57
1/2/13	ENV	December 2012 was the first month on record that no adoptable healthy animals were euthanized by L.A. animal shelters. About 4,000 fewer animals were killed this year.	Brenda Barnette	6:38
1/2/13	SCI	Hundreds of species of frogs from the basins of the Sierra Nevada to Panama, and even extending to Australia and Europe, face extinction due to a deadly fungus.	William Booth	7:46
1/2/13	MIL	It was nearly 60 years ago that Americans fighting a grueling war in Korea saw an end in sight. The armistice to end the war was signed in July 1953, but since then, the Korean War has often been called, "The Forgotten War.	James Matray	6:36
1/2/13	YOUT	You've done a lot this holiday season. You've gone to see some movies, went up to the mountains for a day in the snow, maybe even headed to the mall for some post-holiday sales. So now what? If you've got kids at home for winter break and are looking for creative ways to keep them occupied, you'll want to check out a new book called "Unbored: The Essential Field Guide To Serious Fun.	Joshua Glenn	9:57
1/2/13	MIL	Shortly after President Obama took office in 2009, he vowed that he would close the Guantanamo Bay detention facility within a year. But as of now it remains open. Joining us once again to talk about what's been happening of late at Gitmo is Mattathias Schwartz, a contributor for the New Yorker magazine who has been covering Guantanamo.	Mattathias Schwartz	7:02
1/2/13	MIL	The draft ended almost 40 years ago, and even though the U.S. population has grown, the size of the military has declined.	Matthew Schofield	7:10
1/2/13	TECH	Google is facing off against Apple, Facebook and Amazon in a tech rumble that's promising to heat up this year.	Greg Bensinger	5:41
1/2/13	TRAN	If your New Year's Eve plans involve going out on the town, maybe having a drink — or two, or three — Lets hope you've got a designated driver on board to shuttle you around.	Drew Winter	6:36

1/2/13	ART	KPCC's Sanden Totten examines the unfolding drama between origami maker Robert Lang and painter Sarah Morris.	Sanden Totten	6:58
1/2/13	ART	We've all been there before... dumped. Broken hearted. Certain that you will never find love again.	Meghan Laslocky	8:14
1/2/2013	IMM	Starting in 2013, CA Deferred Action youth can apply for driver's licenses	Guidi	:57
1/2/2013	OC	Vietnamese Oral History Project hopes to preserve and exchange stories of Vietnamese-Americans of different generations	Guidi	4:27
1/2/2013	POLI	Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa expected to return to Los Angeles from Mexico	Walton	:31
1/2/2013	DC	California's 14 new freshmen arrive in DC	Felde	1:00
1/2/2013	LAW	New Year's shootings resulted in two men dead	Lee	:43
1/2/2013	LAW	Fewer traffic-related deaths and DUIs over the New Year's holiday in California	Lee	:47
1/2/2013	HEAL	Mexico remakes old midwife traditions	Uribe	4:06
1/2/2013	SPOR	The Clippers' winning streak ends at 17 games	CC	:14
1/2/2013	SPOR	Stanford tops Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl football game	CC	:11
1/2/2013	SFV	A paparazzo dies after trying to get pictures of Justin Bieber's car	CC	:11
1/2/2013	ENV	Sierra snowpack surveyors will have their hands full this year	Miller	1:06
1/2/2013	OBIT	Clippers owner Donald Sterlin's son found dead in Malibu	CC	:17
1/2/2013	ECON	Social Security payroll tax goes back up, slimming most paychecks a little	Watt	:42
1/2/2013	TT	"No Kill" month in LA: no healthy dogs or cats euthanized in December	CC	:18
1/2/2013	IE	More gusty winds are in the Southland forecast	CC	:18
1/2/2013	LAW	Law enforcement deaths declined last year	Palta	:51
1/2/2013	DC	California Congressman makes last case for E-verify	Felde	:57
1/2/2013	LAW	Sandy Hood survivors attend open house at new school	CC	:15
1/2/2013	ECON	Republican Congressman Tom McClintock voted against the fiscal cliff bill	CC	:25
1/2/2013	ECON	Lawmakers will continue debating the debt ceiling issue next month	CC	:15
1/2/2013	TRAN	Review of new Expo Line performance New Year's Eve	McNary	:47
1/2/2013	IMM	New waiver allows immediate family members of US citizens to get green cards faster, without leaving US	CC	:14
1/2/2013	ECON	Governor Brown to propose higher funding to school with poorer students	Guzman	:38
1/2/2013	ECON	An opaque measure of housing market inventory shows the market continuing to improve	DeBord	:44
1/2/2013	IMM	New waiver allows immediate family members of US citizens to get green cards faster, without leaving US	Guidi	1:42
1/2/2013	ECON	Holding pattern continues for Aerospace industry subcontractor after fiscal cliff deal	Watt	:51
1/2/2013	IMM	A new law kicked in Jan. 1, allowing driver's licenses for deferred action recipients, but some see the law as symbolic - many already have their licenses	Berestein Rojas	1:53
1/2/2013	MIL	US Army sergeant recounts surprise reunion with his family aboard Rose Parade float	Trujillo	4:14
1/2/2013	HEAL	Fiscal cliff agreement means fewer Medicare dollars to hospitals	O'Neill	1:00
1/2/2013	SAC	Facebook's fall cost California's state government $900 million	Small	1:03
1/2/2013	ECON	The entertainment industry retains a tax cut as part of the fiscal cliff deal...	DeBord	:54
1/2/2013	MEDI	Apparent deal between Al Jazeera and Al Gore	Trujillo	1:33
1/2/2013	POLI	State Sen. Darrell Steinberg on WSJ's list of people to watch	Quinton	:57
1/2/2013	POLI	State Sen. Darrell Steinberg on WSJ's list of people to watch	CC	:16
1/2/2013	ENV	Measurements show Sierra snowpack way above normal	Quinton	:55
1/2/2013	ENV	Measurements show Sierra snowpack way above normal	CC	:12

1/2/2013	ECON	Holding pattern continues for Aerospace industry subcontractor after fiscal cliff deal	CC	:16
1/2/2013	LAW	Youth sports mentor Victor McClinton's funeral announcement	CC	:10
1/2/2013	POLI	Mayors race heats up now	Stoltze	:55
1/2/2013	POLI	Homeowners Bill of Rights goes into effect	Stoltze	:47
1/2/2013	POLI	Key figure in LA jail abuse investigation retires	Stoltze	:53
1/2/2013	POLI	New measure would allow most pot shops	Stoltze	:58
1/3/13	HEAL	Is California on its way to looser marijuana laws? How should Los Angeles regulate medical marijuana? With two competing measures on the May ballot, how will Angelenos cast their votes?	Don Duncan, Aaron Green, Alice Walton	22:00
1/3/13	IMM	Immigrants closely related to U.S. citizens can now apply for visas from the U.S., according to a rule announced by the Department of Homeland Security, Wednesday.	Angela Maria Kelley, Jessica M. Vaughan	18:00
1/3/13	MEDI	The Qatar-based media company Al Jazeera has purchased former Vice President Al Gore's Current TV.	Bob Wheelock	17:00
1/3/13	ENT	Are entertainers, their publicity machines and the star-hungry tabloids somehow complicit? In the age of Instagram, anybody with an iPhone can shoot for the stars if they're in the right place at the right time. So why do paparazzi still go to such dangerous lengths?	Dennis Zine, David S. Kestenbaum	15:00
1/3/13	EDU	In San Francisco, a high school student has been suspended for writing a poem with violent allusions and referencing the Newtown shooting.	Ailleth Tom	16:00
1/3/13	TECH	Who will get the next generation of tablet computer right? Why are tablets so popular in an era of amazing smart phones and superpowered laptops?	Dan Ackerman	17:00
1/3/13	SAC	For once, here in California, a budget crisis is not at the top of the agenda. And 2013 is not an election year. Here to tell us which issues will be in play at the Capitol this year, we're joined by John Myers, political editor for the ABC affiliate in Sacramento.	John Myers	8:09
1/3/13	POLI	Today is moving day in Congress. Whatever you thought of the old Congress — that would be number 112 — you'll now have a new class to blame for fiscal cliffs and the like.	Kitty Felde	6:31
1/3/13	DIV	The Obama administration made a big change to its immigration policy yesterday. A new rule issued by the Department of Homeland Security aims to reduce the time immigrants are separated from their American families while applying for residency.	Alvaro Huerta	6:41
1/3/13	ART	From the way Mormons speak to the influence of reality TV shows, a convention of American dialect experts meets tomorrow to track developments and the direction of American English.	Allan Metcalf	8:05
1/3/13	MEDI	It's official. The Al Gore-founded cable news channel Current TV has been sold to Al Jazeera. The purchase gives Al Jazeera the opportunity to establish a bigger presence here in the United States.	Brian Stelter	7:04
1/3/13	ART	Rico Gagliano from the Dinner Party talks with Alex Cohen about the Hobbit menu at Denny's, the first emergency morse code sent to ships, and the discovery of King Louie's blood on a handkerchief.	Rico Gagliano	7:46
1/3/13	ECON	Many of Hollywood's elite will be paying more in personal income tax under the new rules that were part of the fiscal cliff legislation. But the corporations that rule Hollywood came out as winners.	Ted Johnson	7:07
1/3/13	ECON	The Tribune Company, parent to the L.A. Times and Chicago Tribune, emerges from bankruptcy. It's board of directors reads like a who's who of the entertainment world, including executives from News Corp, Disney and Discovery. The group's background may signal which way the company moves as speculation swirls around the likelihood it will get rid of some assets.	Andrea Murphy	6:41

1/3/13	ART	Architect Chris Downey designed buildings for 20 years, but then he lost his eyesight. Using special technology he's managed to continue his career in architecture and help design buildings for the blind.	Scott Shafer	6:17
1/3/13	ART	California woodworker Sung Kim creates musical devices that look and sound like nothing else. The California Report's Rachel Dornhelm has the story.	Rachel Dornhelm	5:30
1/3/13	ART	ESPN writer Tim Keown tells us how California's Inland Empire has become the epicenter for a new generation of Mixed Martial Arts fighters.	Tim Keown	6:25
1/3/13	SPOR	Adam Lazarus, author of the new book "Best of Rivals: Joe Montana, Steve Young, and the Inside Story behind the NFL's Greatest Quarterback Controversy," joins the show to talk about the rivalry between 49ers Joe Montana and Steve Young.	Adam Lazarus	7:11
1/3/2013	ECON	Increase in social security and state sales tax puts financial pressure on lower to middle income workers	Lee	1:57
1/3/2013	MIL	US Army sergeant recounts surprise reunion with his family aboard Rose Parade float	Trujillo	3:59
1/3/2013	ECON	California has ninth largest economy in the world	Russ	:53
1/3/2013	EDU	Lawmakers pass bills to curb California's high suspension rate	Tintocalis	:58
1/3/2013	LAW	Anyone convicted of a felony that violates public trust is barred from running for office in California for 20 years	CC	:11
1/3/2013	OBIT	Music legend Patti Page dies	CC	:08
1/3/2013	TT	The American Dialect Society meets today to discuss the latest information in the field	CC	:19
1/3/2013	AT	A look at competing measures to regulate medical marijuana in the city of Los Angeles	CC	:11
1/3/2013	AT	A look at competing measures to regulate medical marijuana in the city of Los Angeles	CC	:06
1/3/2013	ENT	Palm Springs Film Fest opens Thursday: one son's documentary looks at his father's reign as editor of Esquire Magazine in the 1960's	CC	:14
1/3/2013	LAW	The senior lawmakers in Congress are replaced by new faces	CC	:08
1/3/2013	LAW	Federal authorities are on the hunt for two child pornographers they believe are in the San Fernando Valley	CC	:16
1/3/2013	LAW	Students from Sandy Hook elementary return to classroom	CC	:12
1/3/2013	ECON	Macy's to close its Paseo Colorado store	Lee	1:06
1/3/2013	DC	Congressman says frosh are in honeymoon stage	CC	:23
1/3/2013	DC	Congressman says frosh are in honeymoon stage	CC	:23
1/3/2013	LAW	Congress includes nine new Latino members - the largest in history	CC	:55
1/3/2013	SACTO	Negrete-McLead's Congressional win sets off uoar of musical chairs in California legislature	Small	:53
1/3/2013	LAW	Authorities released photos of unidentified suspected child pornographers traced to the San Fernando Valley	Palta	1:28
1/3/2013	HEAL	Federal govt. approves CA health insurance exchange	CC	:10
1/3/2013	DC	Congressman says frosh are in honeymoon stage	Felde	3:16

1/3/2013	HEAL	California joined Nevada to run its own health insurance marketplace	Bartolione	:49
1/3/2013	LAW	California bans former state lawmakers from becoming lobbyists until they've been out of office for a year	Adler	1:03
1/3/2013	LAW	Newly-retired California lawmakers are supposed to wait a year before they can lobby at the state capitol, but some do anyways.	CC	:08
1/3/2013	HEAL	The California Nurses Association will merge with the National Union of Healthcare Workers	CC	2:13
1/3/2013	LAW	Two LAPD officers under investigation for allegedly forcing women to have sex with them	CC	:07
1/3/2013	ECON	California lawmaker proposes $10,000 public college degree	Guzman	:46
1/4/13	LAW	The justices urged the legislature to change the outdated law to correct the obvious incongruity. But as it stands, their ruling is legally correct, however morally incomprehensible it may seem to 21st century sensibilities. How could such an archaic law remain on the books for so long?	Stanley Goldman	14:00
1/4/13	MEDI	As social media and digital technology continue to grow, they are challenging some legal and journalistic principles.	Gregg Leslie, Dan Filler	18:00
1/4/13	LAW	With an ever aging population, how can we guarantee the mental and physical fitness of workers in these important roles? Which mental and intellectual skills decline, or improve, into old age? What are other costs and benefits associated with mandatory retirement?	Dr. Gary Small, David DeLong	16:00
1/4/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Tim Cogshell from Box Office Magazine and Henry Sheehan from dearhenrysheehan.com to review the week's new film releases including Allegiance, A Dark Truth and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan	20:00
1/4/13	ENT	If you've seen "Django Unchained," were you offended by the violence? Or did it seem like an artistic treatment of a brutal time? Are you or any one you know boycotting the film?	Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan	27:00:00
1/4/13	POLI	President Obama has yet to appoint a new secretary of defense, but one person on his reputed short-list could make history.	Matea Gold	6:41
1/4/13	ART	Members of the Senate Intelligence Committee want to see the filmmakers behind "Zero Dark Thirty," and it's not to express their congratulations on the film.	David Robb	8:22
1/4/13	ECON	Now it's time for the Friday Flashback, our weekly wrap-up of the week's big news. Joining us from Washington today, David Gura, D.C.-based reporter for Marketplace, and James Rainey, political columnist for the L.	David Gura, and James Rainey	16:41
1/4/13	TRAN	First a riddle...Why did the train carrying biofuels cross the border 24 times in 13 days and never unload any cargo? Stumped? OK. Here's the answer: To earn millions of carbon credits.	John Nicol	6:06
1/4/13	MEDI	The Television Critics Association meets with producers in Pasadena to get a preview of the year ahead. Some of the events ahead: Al Jazeera's takeover of Current TV and Jimmy Kimmel's move to the 11:35 slot, putting him up against late-night kings Leno and Letterman.	Tim Molloy	7:15
1/4/13	ENV	Most Americans get their drinking water from fresh water sources like lakes and rivers, or from groundwater drawn from wells. But freshwater supplies are falling at a time when demand is rising.	Alison St. John	7:19
1/4/13	ENV	Southern California's growing thirst for fresh water continues to put pressure on the region's two main sources of imports: The ecologically troubled San Joaquin Delta and the overdrawn Colorado River.	Erik Anderson	4:20
1/4/13	ART	For 50 years, the Magic Castle in Hollywood has cast its spell on both Angelenos and visitors alike, but it wasn't always a hideaway for purveyors of prestidigitation.	Joe Furlow	8:37

1/4/13	ECON	The wind industry is breathing a sigh of relief. Congress extended the sector's tax credits for another year. Lawmakers also restructured the deal so that any project started in 2013 can get the write-offs, even if they don't finish until years later.	Matthew Wald	6:24
1/4/13	SPOR	The Clippers soundly defeated the Lakers when they met early in the season and tonight is the highly anticipated rematch. "The Clippers versus Lakers is by the far the biggest Clippers game we've ever sold, bigger than the playoffs last year, but it's partially because they're playing the Lakers," said broker Barry Rudin of Barry's Ticket Service.	Brad Schy	2:01
1/4/13	SPOR	Tonight the Lakers have an opportunity to avenge their early season loss to the Clippers. Since then, the Clippers have become one of the league's best teams, but KPCC's Ben Bergman looks at why their ticket prices still pale in comparison to the Lakers.	Kevin Arnovitz	7:06
1/4/13	ART	Well we can all relax now that the holidays are over, put away the wrapping paper, store the decorations. Wait, no, what about "El Dia de los Reyes?" It's also known as 12th night, the feast of the magi and it's celebrated all over the world. Even here in the US. But what is it?	Stuart Ashman	5:04
1/4/2013	SPOR	Clippers tickets are more popular than ever, but they're still about half the cost of Lakers tickets	Bergman	1:46
1/4/2013	ECON	Old Farm Bill remains in place	CC	:18
1/4/2013	LAW	A man was sentenced three years after getting in bed with a woman whose boyfriend had gone home	CC	3:10
1/4/2013	ECON	Cold temperatures mean strawberry growers must turn on wind machines.	CC	:12
1/4/2013	LAW	An appeals court in LA wants legislators to update on 1872 measure after unusual rape case	CC	:16
1/4/2013	LAW	Authorities arrest child porn suspect after media blitz leads to tips	CC	:12
1/4/2013	ECON	California is doing better than the rest of the US and could see more housing jobs	DeBord	:33
1/4/2013	POLI	City Controller Greuel subpoenas city cell phone bills	CC	:17
1/4/2013	IMM	Criticism of new waiver that allows immediate family members of US citizens to get green cards faster, without leaving US	CC	:11
1/4/2013	SEC	Homeland Security doesn't have a plan to maintain agent integrity	Marizco	1:03
1/4/2013	SPOR	LA's basketball rivalry continues as the Clippers and Lakers face off Friday night	CC	:20
1/4/2013	DC	California Congressman looks back	Felde	4:16
1/4/2013	LAW	Woman sues LAPD over alleged sexual harassment	Palta	:53
1/4/2013	OC	The lawyer for the family of a 25-year-old fatally shot by Anaheim police last summer is asking police to hand over documents in the case	Bergman	:59
1/4/2013	LAW	California gun control debates continue after Newtown	CC	:19
1/4/2013	POLI	City Controller Greuel subpoenas city cell phone bills	Watt	:51
1/4/2013	IMM	Criticism of new waiver that allows immediate family members of US citizens to get green cards faster, without leaving US	Guidi	1:39
1/4/2013	EDU	US Department of Education official denies California waiver request	Guzman	:53
1/4/2013	LAW	Investigation finds CA parks superiors intentionally kept millions of dollars secret	Quinton	:49

1/4/2013	LAW	AG Kamala Harris wants legislators to update an 1872 measure after unusual rape case	CC	:09
1/4/2013	ENT	Academy Awards technical achievements in filmmaking	Watt	:47
1/4/2013	LAW	AG Kamala Harris wants legislators to update an 1872 measure after unusual rape case	CC	:09
1/5/2013	ART	Half marathon will run through downtown LA	Romo	:28
1/5/2013	LAW	500 mourners gathered for the funeral of an LA Sheriff's Department employee and beloved coach	Romo	1:23
1/5/13	LIT	Piper Laurie speaks to John Rabe about her new memoir.	John Rabe / Piper Laurie	12:48
1/5/13	YOUT	Off-Ramp contributor Tanya Jo Miller is following a couple of young adults who graduated from Crenshaw High in 2012 as they make their way into the adult world.	Tanya Jo Miller / Tyris Williams	3:42
1/5/13	YOUT	Dylan Brody writes a moving piece for the shootings in Newtown.	Dylan Brody	2:48
1/5/13	ART	The new release from jazz sax player Bruce Babad - A Tribute to Paul Desmond - wasn't recorded in a studio or a local jazz club, but in a private home. It happened in an A-Frame high in the Hollywood Hills, whose owner, a Texan named Betty Hoover, hosts Sunday afternoon concerts every month.	John Rabe / Betty Hoover	5:24
1/5/13	ART	On a drizzly, cold Sunday afternoon on the eastern edge of Downtown Los Angeles, several dozen people wandered through the rain with their phones outstretched and their heads swiveling around the landscape.	Grant Slater	0:00
1/5/13	MEDI	RH Greene tells us about Voluptua, a short-lived 1950s local tv sensation, branded "Corruptua" by Christian protest groups.	RH Greene / Gloria Pall	6:11
1/5/13	HIST	In the world of broadcast journalism, the only practice more important than spelling a word correctly is pronouncing a word correctly.	Kevin Ferguson / Patt Morrison	3:36
1/6/2013	ENV	US Fish and Wildlife Service designates land to protect an endangered songbird	Morales	1:24
1/6/2013	DC	California Congressman camping out in office	Felde	1:00
1/6/2013	ART	Hollywood's Magic Castle turns 50	CC	:20
1/6/2013	HEAL	Two California lawmakers say they want to make sure changes to the Medi-Cal system go smoothly	Bartolone	:58
1/6/2013	HEAL	Two California lawmakers say they want to make sure changes to the Medi-Cal system go smoothly	CC	:13
1/6/2013	EDU	LAUSD boosts police patrols after Sandy Hook shooting	Romo	:28
1/6/2013	ENV	Malibu Lagoon restoration works gets a three-month extension	Peterson	:44
1/7/13	DC	President Barack Obama has nominated Chuck Hagel to serve in his cabinet as Secretary of Defense. Hagel, a Republican and former Senator from Nebraska, would be the first enlisted soldier and veteran from Vietnam if he secures the position.	Michael Cohen, Michael Rubi	13:00
1/7/13	LAW	Two Southern California Councilmen have proposed a 20-year property tax increase to generate $3 billion dollars to repair city streets.	Joe Buscaino, Richard H. Close	17:00
1/7/13	ECON	Even when telecommuting seems to work there are still problems.	Mary C. Noonan	17:00
1/7/13	SAC	Legislation proposed by Assemblyman Tom Ammiano of San Francisco could protect California's homeless population from discrimination. The Assembly Bill 5, better known as the "Homeless Bill of Rights" would give legal protection to homeless people who engage in life-sustaining activities on public property.	Paul Boden, Estela Lopez	23:00
1/7/13	SPOR	Will you be eager for a return to center ice? Or has hockey lost your attention for good? What is in the new collective bargaining agreement and was it worth the wait? Are the Kings ready to defend the title?	Bob Miller, Nicholas J. Cotsonika	8:00

1/7/13	MEDI	What will you remember most about Huell? What is your favorite memory of Huell Howser?	John Rabe	17:00
1/7/13	EDU	Los Angeles public school students head back to class today for the first time since the Newtown shootings. In response to that tragedy, Los Angeles Police announced a new plan to ensure security at the district's schools.	Mary Plummer	4:45
1/7/13	YOUT	Professor Mary Ellin Logue of the University of Maine joins the show to tell us about her research on how children play and why boys seem drawn to guns.	Mary Ellin Logue	6:24
1/7/13	EDU	When it comes to student performance, we hear a lot about teacher evaluations and class size, but what about the classroom itself? A study in this month's Building and Environment Journal found that classroom layout can have a significant influence on children's grades, both positively and negatively.	Peter Barrett	6:25
1/7/13	EDU	Under fire from federal officials about what many saw as an excessive use of tickets for minor offenses, the district police department vowed to reform the way it handles LAUSD cases. But, as KPCC's Vanessa Romo reports, changes are slow to come.	Vanessa Romo	4:35
1/7/13	TECH	Suitcase trackers, scratch-proof glass, and a fork that tracks how much you eat. You'll find all of these products at the Consumer Electronics Show, which starts today in Las Vegas. Companies use the convention as an opportunity to unveil new technologies that can be both kitschy and important.	Scott Stein	6:05
1/7/13	SPOR	It was a jam-packed weekend as the National Hockey League has saved what's left of its season, the Lakers look like they're in trouble, college football will crown a new champ. And then there's Lance.	Brian Kamenetzky	5:31
1/7/13	ENT	The Oscar ballots are in, and later this week we'll find out who made the cut. The Academy Award nominations will be announced early Thursday.	Rebecca Keegan	7:23
1/7/13	MIL	President Obama has appointed John Brennan to head the CIA. Brennan was one of the key officials overseeing the use of targeted killings against al-Qaeda and Taliban militants during President Obama's first term.	Joshua Foust	11:51
1/7/13	IMM	In Arizona, a battle is playing out in the courts over unauthorized immigrants who get hired for work by using fraudulent social security numbers.	Jude Joffe-Block	4:29
1/7/13	IMM	Since 2006, more than 50 journalists have been killed or gone missing in Mexico. That's the same year former President Felipe Calderon went on the offensive against drug cartels. Stories about the drug war sell papers in Mexico, but reporting on it can be life threatening.	Bernardo Ruiz	8:13
1/7/2013	DC	California Congresswoman gets foster care law passed	Felde	1:00
1/7/2013	TRAN	Empty oil tanker slams into San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge, no structural damage	CC	:08
1/7/2013	POLI	California legislators return for the first session of the New Year	CC	:18
1/7/2013	ART	Loh Life Roses	Loh	2:52
1/7/2013	ECON	LA-based start-up rents out crowds of people	Lee	4:08
1/7/2013	TRAN	LAWA pitches LAX redesign plans	Romo	:46
1/7/2013	ENV	Federal agencies say they'll work together to clean up a coal-fired power plant	Peterson	:47
1/7/2013	IMM	Arizona county battles with unauthorized immigrants who were hired using fraudulent IDs	Joffe-Block	4:07
1/7/2013	ART	"The Texas Chainsaw Massacre" beats "Django" at the weekend box office	CC	:11
1/7/2013	SPOR	The NHL lockout is over	CC	:13
1/7/2013	SAC	Sacramento set to wrangle over healthcare reform, school funding and environmental regulations	Small	1:36
1/7/2013	EDU	Police start daily patrols at LAUSD schools	CC	:11
1/7/2013	EDU	Police start daily patrols at LAUSD schools	CC	:11
1/7/2013	OBIT	Huell Howser was against any kind of tribute, and so will not have a funeral service	Rabe	:37

1/7/2013	OBIT	Longtime TV host Huell Howser has died at 67	CC	:21
1/7/2013	LAW	LAPD chief says cops won't have elementary school rotations forever	CC	:21
1/7/2013	OBIT	Longtime public TV storyteller dies	Rabe	3:46
1/7/2013	RELI	Judge orders release of thousands of documents identifying Catholic priests accused of child molestation	Guidi	:54
1/7/2013	OBIT	Fans on the street react to news of Huell Howser's death	CC	:12
1/7/2013	TECH	Consumer Electronics Show is the week's big draw in Las Vegas	CC	:16
1/7/2013	OBIT	Fans on the street react to news of Huell Howser's death	CC	:19
1/7/2013	ECON	Immigration enforcement is the biggest source of federal law enforcement spending	Marizco	1:01
1/7/2013	POLI	New legislation would regulate ammunition sales	Quinton	:53
1/7/2013	OC	A judge orders Anaheim PD to hand over documents in a civil case involving a fatal shooting last summer	CC	:14
1/7/2013	LAW	Trial resumes in case of child who killed his Neo-Nazi father		3:41
1/7/2013	POLI	New legislation would regulate ammunition sales	CC	:14
1/7/2013	SAC	Pressures to restore some budget cuts grows even as California nears solvency	Small	2:06
1/7/2013	LAW	Trial resumes in case of child who killed his father	CC	:12
1/7/2013	POLI	Two LA city councilmen back a $3 billion bond for road repairs	Walton	1:17
1/7/2013	OC	A judge orders Anaheim PD to hand over documents in a civil case involving a fatal shooting last summer	Bergman	1:20
1/7/2013	POLI	CA Republican lawmakers say they have a role in legislature with Democratic supermajority	CC	:16
1/7/2013	POLI	CA Republican lawmakers say they have a role in legislature with Democratic supermajority	Quinton	:55
1/7/2013	TRAV	Southland restaurants hope to cash in at LAX expansion	Moore	4:05
1/8/13	MEDI	shooting in Aurora, CO. Coverage of the shooting and the trial add to a fast-spreading discussion about how the media should cover mass violence. Standard media practices have evolved throughout the years to accommodate other tragedies – new outlets don't publish details of most rapes, and especially don't publish details about the victim and their appearance. Suicides are hardly ever covered unless the person is especially famous; details are kept under wraps to prevent "copycat" attempts and associations between the act of suicide and notoriety. Several news outlets have argued that mass murders may be spurred on by the idea of fame. Could new, self-imposed restrictions on reporting these crimes change the impact of the press? Some have suggested leaving names and details about the perpetrators out of coverage completely, or at least until they are on trial. Many many have called for less sensationalized reporting, criticizing reporters who interview traumatized victims and witnesses in the immediate aftermath of tragic events. Could media sensitivity have an effect on the future of violent crime? Is re-focusing reporting away from perpetrators of violence a good media decision? Does the public	Steve Buttry, Ms. Kelly McBride	23:00

1/8/13	LAW	Local governments in Los Angeles scored a victory today over environmentalists in the Supreme Court. The issue at hand was runoff from L.A.'s storm water sewer system. Groups such as the Natural Resources Defense Council Inc. and Santa Monica Baykeeper were accusing Los Angeles County of violating the Clean Water Act. The city's runoff system carries storm water to the Pacific Ocean, and is often marked by the various materials and substances which find their way into the water due to storms and flooding. Thus, environmental groups stressed that the drainage system was allowing for the discharge of pollutants into the Pacific, as bacteria and feces were often far above normal levels. The Supreme Court, however, determined that water, and any pollutants in said water, flowing from a runoff system into the ocean wasn't the same as actively polluting a waterway. While the legal aspects are settled for now, there is still a great deal of uncertainty surrounding this issue.	Steve Fleischli, Mark Pestrella	8:00
1/8/13	LIT	The "yesterday" in the title of Jared Diamond's new book refers to the period 11,000 years ago when hunter-gatherer groups evolved into modern human societies. Despite the emergence of civilization, organized religion, industrialization and mass communication, have we really changed that much as humans? Has ordered government supplanted or protected group harmony? Have our health, diet and family life suffered or improved thanks to modern innovations? Where do agrarian and industrialized societies intersect? These are some of the questions Diamond attempts to answer by comparing human societies both ancient and modern, drawing on his extensive fieldwork among the traditional cultures of New Guinea, the Amazon and Kalahari which are still in existence. What remnants of human societies past still linger in our modern DNA? Which have been lost to us, possibly forever? What do these changes mean to our collective future?	Jared Diamond	17:00

1/8/13	ECON	Five years ago, California's state prisons were full to bursting – over 170,000 inmates housed in 33 facilities. Civil rights groups decried the overcrowded conditions, which included prisoners bunked three to a cell or in outdoor pens and inmates with severe medical and mental health issues that were going untreated, sometimes resulting in death. Things got so bad that a federal court in 2009 ordered the state to reduce its prison population by 40,000 within two years. Realignment practices have included transferring prisoners to county facilities or out of state (at a cost of over half a million dollars a day) and early release of lesser offenders, but the number of prisoners is still more than 9,000 above what the federal judges ordered. But despite the fact that some state facilities are still well over capacity and prison rights groups continue to lobby for further reductions, Governor Jerry Brown announced today that California has sufficiently reduced its prison population and there's no need to do more.	Governor Jerry Brown, Don Specter, Julie Small	24:00:00
--------	------	--	--	----------

1/8/13	ENT	Disney theme parks have come a long way since Disneyland opened in Anaheim in 1955, and Epcot showed us a vision of the future alongside Orlando's Disneyworld in 1982. With fans young and old hoping to get the shortest possible lines to the most popular attractions, Disney is deploying more technology to boost your experience in the Magical Kingdom. An app called MyMagic+ is being rolled out to create a more personalized visit, the company tells The New York Times. Taking advantage of massive WiFi networks and its thousands of visitors armed with smartphones, guests can choose how much information they'd like to share with the app, and whether to wear corresponding wristbands (called "MagicBands"). If you enter your name and other details, Snow White might greet you by name, and wish you a happy birthday. Moms in strollers could speed their way through turnstiles. And the band could even be used for purchases. The company in turn gets to speed up lines and transactions, learn more about consumers, and presumably boost purchases. So far, it's only heading to the Florida theme parks. A spokeswoman for Disneyland and California Adventure says, "For now we're just focused on Orlando-based Walt Disney World," but, "we always look to enhance guest experience."	Brooks Barnes	13:00
1/8/13	ENT	Production house Laika and Focus Features were responsible for 2009's Coraline, the first-ever stop motion 3D movie. They continued on the path of innovation this year with ParaNorman, a comedic horror film aimed at youthful audiences. The story of a young boy who can communicate with the dead, ParaNorman is the second stop motion 3D feature ever made, and the first to use 3D color printers to make character faces. Stop motion cinematography has come a long way since the days of Rudolph the Rednosed Reindeer, but it's still a painstaking practice, that relies on lifelike puppets, elaborate mini-sets and delicately crafted props. The movie attracted attention not only for the beautiful results of its groundbreaking animation technology, but also for story composition and script. One character has broken new ground with audiences and reviewers – Mitch, the older brother of the titular Norman's friend, reveals at the end of the film that he has a boyfriend, making him the first openly gay character in a mainstream children's animated film.	Chris Butler, Sam Fell	10:00
1/8/13	SAC	California assembly woman Nancy Skinner wants the state to track every bullet and shotgun shell sold in the state. She introduced AB-48 yesterday in Oakland and gun rights advocates are calling it an overblown reaction.	Adam Winkler	6:30
1/8/13	LAW	The Archdiocese was set to release as a huge cache of internal church documents as part of a settlement reached more than five years ago, but an L.A. County Superior Court judge has put a kink in the plan.	Victoria Kim	6:26
1/8/13	SCI	In the movie "Alien," astronauts like Ripley traveled through space in deep sleep chambers. But in real life, there's no short cut for traveling to distant planets.	David Dinges	7:57

1/8/13	ART	The famous LA restaurant Campanile closed its doors in October as part of a plan to reopen at LAX. It's one of 15 local eateries coming to the airport.	Corey Moore	4:26
1/8/13	ART	Conservationists say the demand and rising price for bluefin tuna is decimating the fish's numbers around the world.	Richard Ellis	5:27
1/8/13	ENV	A few days after Christmas, the state of California got an unusual visitor — A large gray wolf.	Karen Kovacs	5:09
1/8/13	ART	Blogger Brian Shimkovitz created the blog Awesome Tapes From Africa as a way to bring to light the wealth of cassette-based music from Africa into the mainstream.	Brian Shimkovitz	10:26
1/8/13	IMM	The U.S. Census is taken every 10 years, and there is one yes or no question everyone is asked: Is this person of Hispanic, Latino or Spanish origin?	Mark Lopez	5:19
1/8/13	IMM	A number of Central American countries have been besieged by violent crime. Honduras, for example, now has the highest murder rate in the world, with 82 homicides per 100,000 inhabitants.	Roberto Cajina	5:57
1/8/13	MIL	The US military has been developing technologies to help boost troops, performance abilities for years. Now, a new study looks at the future of military enhancement. Max Mehlman joins the show to discuss the ethical ramifications of an enhanced military. Mehlman is the co-author of the study "Enhanced Warfighters."	Maxwell Mehlman	7:35
1/8/13	LAW	At issue is responsibility for polluted water that flow into the Los Angeles and San Gabriel rivers, and eventually the Pacific Ocean, after heavy rainfalls.	Molly Peterson	4:13
1/8/13	EDU	This year marks the 11th anniversary of the No Child Left Behind program. California applied for a waiver to have some of the requirements relaxed but was denied.	Adolfo Guzman Lopez	3:57
1/8/13	EDU	Alex Cohen talks to filmmaker John Mellow about his upcoming Frontline documentary, "The Education of Michelle Rhee."	John Mellow	10:04
1/8/2013	TRAN	There's been trouble with the new Boeing 787	Lacter	4:16
1/8/2013	ENT	Late-night TV host Jimmy Kimmel changes time slots	CC	:15
1/8/2013	POLI	New legislation would regulate ammunition sales	Kim	1:26
1/8/2013	LAW	Gov. Brown submits a plan to ease prison crowding in the state	Small	:55
1/8/2013	POLI	The California chapter of NOW endorses Eric Garcetti for mayor	CC	:19
1/8/2013	HEAL	Brown says he is finished with treatment for prostate cancer	CC	:07
1/8/2013	LAW	LA Archdiocese prepares to release abuse records	CC	:10
1/8/2013	TT	An update on the lone gray wolf roaming California	CC	:13
1/8/2013	HEAL	Genetics appear to play a significant role in weight gain from a high-fat, high-sugar diet	O'Neill	:55
1/8/2013	ART	Construction crews "top off" the Broad Museum in Downtown LA	CC	:18
1/8/2013	ECON	The California Association of Relators signs onto a bill to extend debt forgiveness for homeowners who do short sales	DeBord	:38
1/8/2013	LAW	Gov. Brown tries to vacate prisoner population cap, vows to reclaim prison medical care	CC	:25
1/8/2013	SPOR	Dodgers announce upgrades to stadium for upcoming season	Moore	:59
1/8/2013	ECON	Boeing 787 facing more technical issues	CC	:13
1/8/2013	ECON	Constructoin begins on the new Gerald Desmond Bridge in Long Beach	Lee	:50
1/8/2013	LAW	LA Sheriffs Department says any expansion of prison realignment would mean jail expansion	Palta	:46
1/8/2013	YOUT	New report shows growing imbalance between old, young in CA	Russ	:46
1/8/2013	YOUT	New report shows growing imbalance between old, young in CA	CC	:11
1/8/2013	LAW	Missle frigate deployed from San Diego for a six-month mission in Central American waters	Replogle	1:13

1/8/2013	RELI	LA Catholics react to orders release of thousands of documents identifying Catholic priests accused of child molestation	Guidi	2:40
1/8/2013	POLI	The California chapter of NOW endorses Eric Garcetti for mayor	CC	:09
1/8/2013	SAC	Gov. Brown tries to vacate prisoner population cap, vows to reclaim prison medical care	Small	3:21
1/8/2013	SPOR	Dodgers announce upgrades to stadium for upcoming season	Moore	1:46
1/8/2013	LAW	Police Commission debates conditional official reprimands - office discipline policy - for use of force situations	Aguilar	1:21
1/8/2013	HEAL	"Future of the Hospital" crowdsourcing game goes national and online to find solutions for community hospital issues	O'Neill	:55
1/8/2013	TT	Jack Black wants a Globe of his own	CC	:13
1/8/2013	TT	Jack Black wants a Globe of his own	CC	:16
1/8/2013	EDU	State school officials propose overhaul to standardized tests	Romo	1:35
1/8/2013	ECON	CA Insurance Commissioner criticizes plan by Anthem Blue Cross to hike rates	CC	:15
1/8/2013	EDU	Mixed reactions from 11th anniversary of No Child Left Behind	Guzman	1:48
1/9/13	DC	When writing new gun laws, what should the focus be – banning military assault weapons? Tighter background checks? Limits on ammunition sales?	Doyle McManus	13:00
1/9/13	OC	Larry and our talented trio of Orange County journalists riff on the latest news from the O.C.	Norberto Santana, Julie Gallego, Ben Bergma	17:00
1/9/13	ENT	Director Ruben Fleischer's biggest work until now was 2009's Zombieland. But with a star-studded cast that includes Sean Penn, Josh Brolin, Ryan Gosling, Emma Stone and Nick Nolte, Gangster Squad is poised to do very well at the box office.	Ruben Fleischer	17:00
1/9/13	SAC	As Vice President Biden looks at crafting new national gun control legislation, and New York Governor Andrew Cuomo proposes additional regulations in his state, California has some of the toughest gun laws in the country.	William Vizzard	14:00
1/9/13	EDU	One of the oldest debates in our society is the fight between those who champion the traditional parenting unit of a mother and father, and those who defend the single mother.	Gayle Tzemach Lemmon	17:00
1/9/13	MEDI	We may understand that outward circumstances do not define happiness, but UC Riverside psychology professor Sonja Lyubomirsky believes most of us associate certain life events with happiness or misery. These preconceptions, or misconceptions, restrict us from a satisfying life.	Sonja Lyubomirsky	16:00
1/9/13	FOR	According to a report by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, 2012 was the hottest year on record for the U.S. But in California, the snowpack is well above normal, so what's going on with the weather?	Matt Inwood	6:06
1/9/13	LAW	Recent marijuana legalization measures in Washington and Colorado have sparked an international dialogue on drug policy, and how to change it. This is especially true in Latin American countries, where the drug trade has had deadly consequences.	Sylvia Longmire	6:48
1/9/13	LAW	One thing the cartels aren't dealing yet is laundry detergent, but they may start. U.S. law enforcement officials have noticed a curious trend of Tide detergent being used to buy drugs	Aubrey Thompson	5:35
1/9/13	LAW	Governor Jerry Brown is stepping up his campaign to end federal oversight of the state's prison system and quash a court order for further cuts in the inmate population. KQED's Michael Montgomery says Brown's message is simple: California's prison crisis is over.	Michael Montgomery	2:03

1/9/13	ART	Actor Jack Black talks to Alex Cohen about his new film "Bernie," his Grammy and Golden Globe nominations, and the future of Tenacious D.	Jack Black	17:01
1/9/13	ECON	The shrinking number of immigrants coming into California means fewer children are born here. That, combined with an oncoming tidal wave of retirees could have serious consequences for the Golden State, according to a new report out this week.	Stephen Levy	4:39
1/9/13	HEAL	When the Affordable Care Act goes into effect, millions of new patients will have access to health care. But the law excludes undocumented immigrants, estimated to be about 11 million people nationwide.	Megan Burks	4:13
1/9/13	SPOR	The Houston Rockets selected power forward Royce White for their first pick in last June's NBA draft. White has refused to play a minute with the Rockets as he's locked in a bitter dispute with the team over how to handle treatment for his anxiety disorder.	Henry Abbott	13:24
1/9/13	FOR	President Hugo Chavez was scheduled to be inaugurated for a fourth term on Thursday, but the Supreme Court ruled that the celebration could be postponed so Chavez could recover from the "respiratory insufficiency" he suffered after emergency cancer surgery on December 11.	-	7:27
1/9/13	ART	This Saturday will not be a good day for Burmese Pythons in Southern Florida. That's when the Python Challenge starts, a government-sponsored, month-long snake hunt, complete with cash prizes for catching the most and longest pythons.	Frank Mazzotti	6:52
1/9/2013	LAW	Beleaguered medical school in South Central makes a comeback	Martinez	4:34
1/9/2013	ENV	UC Irvine scientist wants to control greenhouse gases	Peterson	:48
1/9/2013	LAW	Closing arguments begin in Neo-Nazi murder trial	Osen	:45
1/9/2013	POLI	Dems decline to endorse	Stoltze	:57
1/9/2013	POLI	Dems make their endorsements in municipal elections	Stoltze	:52
1/9/2013	ENV	"No Burn" alert in effect through midnight in parts of LA, Orange Counties	CC	:10
1/9/2013	ENT	Film production up overall in LA in 2012, but still more big-budget TV projects leave	CC	:16
1/9/2013	ENV	Cold weather, rain and high winds are expected to hit LA area tomorrow	CC	:17
1/9/2013	ENT	Film production up overall in LA in 2012, but still more big-budget TV projects leave	CC	:13
1/9/2013	HIST	Richard Nixon Library celebrates Nixon's centennial	CC	:15
1/9/2013	HIST	Richard Nixon Library celebrates Nixon's centennial	CC	:22
1/9/2013	LAW	Closing arguments begin in Neo-Nazi murder trial	CC	:12
1/9/2013	ECON	Another hedge fund has jumped into the battle for the future of Herbalife	DeBord	:42
1/9/2013	POLI	The LA City Council delays a vote on a proposed $3 billion bond for street repairs	Walton	:35
1/9/2013	POLI	The LA City Council delays a vote on a proposed $3 billion bond for street repairs	CC	:12
1/9/2013	LAW	LA sheriff releases 2012 crime stats	CC	:07
1/9/2013	LAW	Police find body of missing woman	CC	:11
1/9/2013	ECON	Gov. Brown unveils budget proposal for the coming year	CC	:13
1/9/2013	ECON	Court reporter funding cuts and recruitment	CC	:08
1/9/2013	ECON	The multi-billion dollar California teachers pension fund is selling off its firearms holdings	DeBord	:39
1/9/2013	LAW	Attorneys deliver closing arguments in juvenile's neo-Nazi murder trial	CC	:09
1/9/2013	HEAL	Living in the United States could be hazardous to your health and to your life span	O'Neill	:55
1/9/2013	IMM	New waiver that allows immediate family members of US citizens to get green cards faster, without leaving US, means more pro-bono applications	Guidi	1:26

1/9/2013	ECON	State Controller's Office reports revenues above estimates, but fiscal condition is only fair	Quinton	:44
1/9/2013	HEAL	Health care organizations spend huge amounts of money on lobbyists in DC	CC	:15
1/9/2013	LAW	Closing arguments begin in Neo-Nazi murder trial	Osen	2:07
1/9/2013	SAC	Governor's budget to boost funds for public schools and universities, but restrict most other programs	Small	1:10
1/9/2013	LAW	LA's sheriff weighs in on gun control after deputies shot at with assault rifle	Palta	1:34
1/9/2013	LAW	A third suspect has been charged in the fatal shooting of a Pasadena youth sport coach	Aguilar	:53
1/9/2013	POLI	Will Hilda Solis run for supervisor	Stoltze	:58
1/10/13	ENT	Which films, actors, and filmmakers made the cut and which were left on the cutting room floor?	Nicole Sperling	21:00
1/10/13	LAW	Hear the latest LAPD news from Chief Charlie Beck	Charlie Beck	25:00:00
1/10/13	SAC	After years of being in debt, California's budget deficit is gone for the first time since the recession.	H.D. Palmer, State Senator Mimi Walters, Astrid Campos	18:00
1/10/13	ENT	Life of Pi' writer David Magee talk about their journey to transform Yann Martel's magical novel into film.	David Magee	19:00
1/10/13	ENT	While no one can argue that the Globes are the biggest party in Hollywood, there is a debate over the integrity and reputation of the event.	Leonard Maltin	10:00
1/10/13	SAC	Today, Governor Jerry Brown will unveil his plans to close a $1.9 billion budget gap. That may sound like a lot of money, but $2 billion is practically peanuts compared with the fiscal mess Brown has faced in the past.	John Myers	8:04
1/10/13	SPOR	Today on Good Morning America, it was revealed that former USC and San Diego Chargers star Junior Seau had the degenerative brain disease called CTE when he committed suicide by shooting himself in the chest.	Robert Cantu	7:07
1/10/13	ART	The big movie news is the Oscar nominations, and by now, you probably already know the big winner was a movie about a big guy, "Lincoln." Daniel Day Lewis, as Abraham Lincoln, received a Best Actor nomination, one of 12 the film earned, including Best Picture.	Rebecca Keegan	8:00
1/10/13	ART	Fishermen are reporting huge catches of Humboldt squid off the coast of Orange County, which can measure up to 6 feet long and weigh up to a 100 pounds.	Ben Bergman	2:59
1/10/13	ART	"Gangster Squad" is the latest in a long list of crime thrillers based in the City of Angels. Film historian Mark Jordan Legan tells us his 10 favorite L.A. crime films.	Mark Jordan Legan	8:31
1/10/13	ART	In San Juan Capistrano, a heated battle has been raging between city planning commission and an unlikely duo — a woman and her dinosaur.	Carolyn Franks	7:02
1/10/13	HEAL	Although one goal of President Obama's Affordable Care Act was to rein in the high cost of health insurance, dozens of health plans continue to hike up rates. In California, premiums on insurance coverage rose almost 19%. And although California Insurance Commissioner Dave Jones calls some of the increases unreasonable, he admits that he has no authority to stop them.	Dave Jones	8:35
1/10/13	HEAL	By the end of the year, there will be a new option for Californian's shopping for health care coverage. It's called a Health Insurance Exchange, and California was the first state in the nation to begin the process of creating one.	Stephanie O'Neill	3:55
1/10/13	ART	For years, Yosemite National Park authorities have been looking for ways to balance the interests of its 4-million annual visitors with preserving the environment. Last week the park unveiled how it plans to do so.	Kathleen Morse	7:45

1/10/13	ENV	For a long time geologists believed it was unlikely that a massive quake in say, San Diego could reach all the way to San Francisco. But a new study published by the journal Nature says that kind of mega-quake isn't out of the question.	Kate Hutton	5:54
1/10/2013	POLI	Entertainment companies and workers give big in LA mayor's race	McNary	4:20
1/10/2013	OC	Fishermen are reporting more and more huge catches of "Humbolt squid" off the coast of Orange County	Bergman	2:59
1/10/2013	SPOR	The Clippers win and the Lakers lose	CC	:07
1/10/2013	ENT	Academy Award nominations are announced	CC	:30
1/10/2013	ENT	Nominees for the Academy Awards are out, and the host is up for an award	CC	:16
1/10/2013	ENT	ParaNorman snags Oscar nomination	CC	:11
1/10/2013	ENT	Steve Zeitchick on biggest Oscar snubs	Unknown	3:05
1/10/2013	ENT	"Silver Linings Playbook" rakes in Oscar nominations	CC	:10
1/10/2013	ECON	For the first time in year, California's budget does not have a deficit	CC	:14
1/10/2013	TRAN	Snowfall closes the grapevine	CC	:15
1/10/2013	POLI	Gov. Brown releases state budget plan with no deficit and education funding increases	CC	:11
1/10/2013	ECON	Supervalu sells Albertsons chain to Cerberus affiliate	Lee	:35
1/10/2013	TT	A new report shows football player Junior Seau suffered from a degenerative brain disease	CC	:17
1/10/2013	LAW	Teacher talks down gunman at Taft High School	CC	:16
1/10/2013	POLI	Kuehl announces run for LA County Supes	CC	:14
1/10/2013	HEAL	LA County health head says LA's flu season is "roughly average"	CC	:19
1/10/2013	HEAL	This is supposed to be a rough flu season, public health officials predict	CC	:14
1/10/2013	ENV	The US Forest Service is asking for volunteers to come up to the San Bernardino and San Jacinto mountains this weekend to help count bald eagles	CC	:17
1/10/2013	POLI	CA lawmakers express relief over Gov's announcement about erasing budget deficit	CC	:20
1/10/2013	LAW	State court lays off court reporters, find new jobs	Aguilar	1:49
1/10/2013	HEAL	Brown administration says it's committed to expanding Medi-Cal under federal health law	CC	:12
1/10/2013	TRAN	I-5/SR-14 HOV Lane Connector allows Southland carpoolers to zip between freeways	CC	:17
1/10/2013	TRAN	I-5/SR-14 HOV Lane Connector allows Southland carpoolers to zip between freeways	Moore	1:41
1/10/2013	LAW	The crime decline in LA County is changing the reputation of notorious crime areas, like Compton	Palta	2:47
1/10/2013	ECON	Prop 30 seems to have put California back in the black	Small	2:58
1/10/2013	SPOR	LA Kings announce their new, shorter season	CC	:14
1/10/2013	HEAL	Gov. Brown commits California to full Medi-Cal expansion in his budget proposal	O'Neill	:56
1/10/2013	ECON	California Governor proposes large increase in public school funding	Guzman	:43
1/10/2013	POLI	Mayor endorses Feuer for city atty, but will it help?	Stoltze	:50
1/10/2013	ECON	Reactions to overhaul of state funding formula for public schools	Guzman	3:30
1/11/13	SPOR	Will the new rules restore trust in our super-hero athletes? How will the fans react to "cleaned up" baseball – will the games still hold the same excitement without the bigger-stronger- faster factor?	Elliott Almond, Lincoln Kennedy, Tomm Looney	17:00
1/11/13	LAW	In May of 2011, a ten-year-old boy in Riverside shot and killed his father. Now, a California judge must decide if prison is just punishment for or if this boy's upbringing is a mitigating factor for his decision to kill his neo-Nazi father.	Cyn Yamashiro, Deborah S. Miora	31:00:00

1/11/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Andy Klein from the L.A. Times Community Papers chain and Claudia Puig from USA Today to review the week's new film releases including Gangster Squad, FrackNation and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Andy Klein, Claudia Puig	31:00:00
1/11/13	ENT	It's been just three years since Kickstarter was created, and already it's being called one of the most notable Internet ventures ever.	Yancey Strickler	17:00
1/11/13	LAW	Last night, Vice President Joe Biden met with various leaders from the film industry to talk about efforts to curb gun violence. For years politicians have called on the entertainment industry to reduce depictions of violence, but they've been mostly unsuccessful.	Ted Johnson	8:20
1/11/13	FOR	Saturday marks three years since a magnitude 7.0 earthquake hit the impoverished Caribbean island nation of Haiti. The quake caused tremendous damage in some of the country's major cities, including the capital of Port-Au-Prince.	Megan Coffee	6:46
1/11/13	LAW	Now it's time for the Friday Flashback, our weekly wrap-up of the week's big news. Joining us from the offices of The Guardian newspaper in New York, Heidi Moore, U.S. finance and economics editor, and James Rainey, political columnist for the L.	Heidi Moore	13:23
1/11/13	ART	Along California's coast today, the highest tides of the winter season will batter the shore for the third day in a row.	Molly Peterson
1/11/13	HOUS	The real estate research firm Data Quick reports that for the first time since the housing crash in 2007, short sales now outnumber the sale of foreclosed homes. This is good news, not just for homeowners who find themselves underwater with their loans, but for banks as well.	Matt DeBord	5:18
1/11/13	ART	Cue the wind machine. Ventura County farmers need it during cold nights to keep their expensive strawberry crops warm.	Brian Watt	4:07
1/11/13	ECON	Since the Chinese government deemed the US an "approved destination" in 2008, tourism from China has risen. It is now the top source of international tourism for LA, leading to a demand for Mandarin speakers.	Lauren Osen	3:50
1/11/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show. On tap this week, texting prayers, Bernie Madoff's reading materials and the birth of the Texas oil business.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:04
1/11/13	LAW	L.A. County's reputation as a crime capital is beginning to wane. Sheriff Lee Baca released statistics that indicate declines in crime - including in Compton.	Rina Palta	2:47
1/11/13	POLI	In just a few months the city of Los Angeles will choose a new mayor, so today we're kicking off the first in a regular series we're calling: City Hall Pass. Think of it as your ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	10:20
1/11/13	HOUS	In other housing news, the curious phenomena of zombie titles. Thousands of homeowners are finding themselves legally liable for houses they didn't know they still owned after banks walk away from foreclosed homes before they're final.	Michelle Conlin	9:37
1/11/2013	LAW	14 people assaulted during an armed robbery in Westchester	CC	:06
1/11/2013	LAW	A man is dead after another officer-involved shooting in Santa Ana	CC	:17
1/11/2013	POLI	Recall campaign officially begins against Pasadena City Councilman who supported NFL lease plan at the Rose Bowl	Watt	:43
1/11/2013	ECON	For the first time ever, China is $1 source of tourism for LA	Osen	3:50
1/12/13	LGB	In light of the recent death of PFLAG Founder, Jeanne Manford, an interview from 1997 is aired in which she tells John Rabe about the origins of PFLAG and about her son.	John Rabe / Jeanne Manford	5:09

1/12/13	OBIT	Twenty minute tribute to Huell Howser featuring thoughts from John Rabe, Kevin Ferguson, Queena Kim, President and Vice-President of Chapman University, and more.	John Rabe, Kevin Ferguson, Queena Kim, Phil Noyes, Christopher Peake, Tom Labonge, James L. Doti	20:59
1/12/13	OBIT	John Rabe remembers Huell Howser after his passing.	John Rabe / Kevin Roderick	3:46
1/12/13	OBIT	Kevin Ferguson talks with Matt Groening about Huell Howser's retirement.	Kevin Ferguson / Matt Groening	4:44
1/12/13	ART	Charles Solomon, author of The Toy Story Film: An Animated Journey and The Art and Making of Peanuts Animation, reviews The Animation Show of Shows DVD box set.	Charles Solomon	5:17
1/12/13	LIT	Steve Soboroff collects historic typewriters and has machines that were previously owned by Ernest Hemingway, John Lennon, Joe DiMaggio, and others.	John Rabe / Steve Soboroff	7:56
1/12/13	ART	John Rabe speaks to Larry Davis, a gay singer who made a career switch at 74 years old after being discovered in a piano bar.	John Rabe / Larry Davis	6:53
1/12/13	ART	Chris Rivera is the winner of KPCC's fourth Instagram challenge with IGLA (Instagram Lovers Anonymous) called "Double Exposed." He speaks to Mae Ryan about his winning photo of, a self-portrait incorporating the LA skyline.	Mae Ryan / Chris Rivera	3:23
1/12/13	HIST	The American Civil War was one of the first wars to be covered by photography. An exhibit called "Strange and Fearful Interest: Death, Morning and Memory In The American Civil War is on display at the Huntington Library. It features war imagery from the battlefields to Abraham Lincoln's funeral.	Patt Morrison / Jennifer Watts	5:20
1/13/2013	ECON	Nearly one-third of homeowners in the US don't have a mortgage and some of them are just 20 to 24 years old	Lee	:32
1/13/2013	EDU	Education groups take a closer look at Gov Brown's ed funding proposals	Quinton	:50
1/13/2013	EDU	Education advocates mull over some proposals in Gov Brown's budget	CC	:15
1/14/13	LAW	The federal government has had a no-gun-sale database since 1998. California maintains its own Armed Prohibited Persons list. Yet millions of mentally ill people remain unlisted, ostensibly still able to purchase firearms legally. Vice President Biden's task force to reduce gun violence has focused on improving the effectiveness of such databases. Is this a realistic goal, given how many different agencies need to coordinate the information at the local, state, and federal level? Is the focus on gun access for the mentally ill an appropriate response, given the vast majority of acts of gun violence are not committed by those with mental illness? What are the practical implications of maintaining such a list? Can someone ever be removed from the list if they regain their mental well-being?	Steve Lindley	13:00

1/14/13	ENV	Toxins, sewage and debris ranging from plastic water bottles to soccer balls regularly find their way Southern California's beaches and oceans through L.A.'s waterways after a heavy rain. Now, county water officials are proposing a property-based tax to help fund clean-up efforts. The fee would be based on the size of an owner's land parcel; homeowners would be assessed approximately $54 a year, city parks around $600 and elementary schools around $8,000. The LACFD estimates the parcel tax would raise around $275 million a year, to be spent on various cleanup projects. Cities, homeowners associations and school districts have voiced opposition to the proposal. The county Board of Supervisors is holding a public hearing on Tuesday, and is expected to decide soon on whether to issue a special ballot asking landowners to vote on the measure. In other environmental news, the Supreme Court has agreed to hear an appeal by the American Trucking Associations against the City of Los Angeles. The truckers are protesting regulations at the Port of Los Angeles that set standards for air quality, safety and security.	Zev Yaroslavsky, Don Knabe, Molly Peterson	18:00
1/14/13	ECON	Ever since China enacted its one-child policy, negative stereotypes have been associated in association with the rise of the country's "Little Emperors." These only children are marked as being lazy, spoiled and prone to tantrums. While that may not sound so different from our perception of only children in the United States, there is different weight to China's situation. One only child can be a handful, but what about a whole nation of them? Now, it looks like a recent study from Monash University in Australia reinforces those popular presumptions with research. When comparing adults born after the one-child policy went into effect to those born before the rule, the younger adults display less altruism and a higher aversion to taking risks. They also shied away from competition in relation to their counterparts born before the policy, and displayed a higher degree of negativity. Researchers also drew connections between these characteristics and China's future economic competitiveness. As those born after the one-child policy continue to enter the workforce, eventually they will be the predominant group. What will it mean for an entire office to be comprised of only children? What if they're risk averse? Will that negatively impact entrepreneurship? How does this apply to the United States? What's your take on all this? Do you think the plight of the only child is	Clayton Dube, Jean M. Twenge	16:00

1/14/13	ECON	Lobbyists and legislators in Sacramento are debating whether California should boost the minimum wage. Currently, it sits at $8.00 an hour, but Assemblymember Luis Alejo's (D-Salinas) AB 10 seeks staggered increases in the coming years. His plan would bump it to $8.25 in 2014, follow with two 50 cent boosts over subsequent years, then automatically index it to inflation as of 2017. Alejo tried a similar bill last year but it failed in the face of business opposition. Groups such as the California Chamber of Commerce and the California Restaurant Association warn of the unintended consequences of a higher minimum wage. They argue employers will cut down on hiring or move out of state. The last increase was before the great recession, back on January 1, 2008. Reacting to the freeze, a handful of California cities have instituted their own wage hikes above $10.	Sylvia Allegreto, John Kabateck	22:00
1/14/13	HEAL	While the trees are only saplings, the figurative seeds have been planted for a fruit park in Del Aire. A fruit park may sound redundant, but this marks a change in the way communities approach and use public space. Typically, fruit trees and the like are frowned upon for use in parks due to the risk associated with child injuries from falling. But when proposals were being accepted for changes to Del Aire Park, one group found a way to convince Los Angeles County to reconsider. Fallen Fruit, a group of artists which focuses on community involvement projects, proposed turning Del Aire Park into a place where residents could not only gather outside, but even use the fruit trees in the park for food. It will take some time for the saplings to grow, but the ultimate vision is to use a variety of crops so that there will be some kind of fruit ripening throughout the entire year. Beyond providing a healthy snack, what benefits do these parks provide? How did Fallen Fruit come up with the idea? Will the park primarily be maintained by the city, or resident volunteers? Are you a Del Aire resident? What do you look forward to most about this park?	David Burns	7:00
1/14/13	ENT	Depending on how you feel about television, the conference that's wrapping up in Pasadena this week is either your dream or your nightmare. TV writers and critics from all over the country have been camped out in ballrooms watching hours and hours of new shows, meeting with stars, writers and executives, all for The Television Critics Association's winter press tour. While smaller cable and online channels like Sundance, Netflix and blip made their showing--impressing some of the critics with edgy new offerings and mini series--a big focus at TCA is on the networks. Specifically, whether they're able to create exciting new content and get the ratings to support those shows.	Alyssa Rosenberg, Brian Lowry	17:00

1/14/13	LAW	We just heard President Obama holding his last press conference of his first term as president. The president took on subjects ranging from the debt ceiling to gun control. For more on this we're joined now by Josh Gerstein, White House Reporter for POLITICO.	Josh Gerstein	8:30
1/14/13	ENV	First we're going to start with the news everyone is talking about: the cold weather. Downtown Los Angeles hit a record low this morning at 35 degrees. The cold snap is now in its fifth day, but we're not burning surfboards yet.	-	7:01
1/14/13	MIL	In November of 2010, a young Somali American man named Mohamed Mohamud was arrested in Portland, Oregon. He was charged with attempting to use a weapon of mass destruction after allegedly trying to set off what he believed to be a bomb at a popular tree-lighting ceremony in Pioneer Square.	April Baer	6:30
1/14/13	LAW	On May 1, 2011 at about 4 a.m., a 10-year-old boy crept down the stairs of his family's home with a .357 magnum and killed his sleeping father with one shot to the head. The trial of the boy, now 12, has focused not on his guilt in the act, but whether or not he understood the difference between right and wrong.	Lauren Osen	5:17
1/14/13	LAW	In 2011, California shifted thousands of felons to county custody. But local officials still lack critical information about who they are and where they reside.	Julie Small	4:11
1/14/13	ENV	Del Aire Public Fruit Park, located here in Southern California, encourages visitors to help themselves to fruit. But will it foster a 'pick what you need' spirit? Susan Valot reports.	Susan Valot	4:04
1/14/13	HEAL	Flu season this year began about a month early, and it is already taking its toll across the U.S. How can you protect yourself and your loved ones from the virus?	Carl Zimmer	6:38
1/14/13	ART	Hollywood's brightest stars were out last night for the Golden Globes, but it was the ladies who really shined. Including the evening's hosts, Tina Fey and Amy Poehler. Here to recap some of the big moments is Rebecca Keegan, film writer for the L.	Rebecca Keegan	8:25
1/14/13	YOUT	Taft Union High School remains closed Monday after a 16-year-old walked in last week with a shotgun and critically injured one of his classmates. As news crews pack up and leave Kern County, the town is still in a state of shock over the incident.	Alice Daniel	3:43
1/14/13	-	This weekend, Southern California lost a prominent Holocaust survivor and educator. Leon Leyson of Fullerton died Saturday after a 4-year-long battle with lymphoma. He was 83.	Leon Leyson	2:55
1/14/2013	ART	Loh Life Roses	Loh	2:39
1/14/2013	LAW	Antonia Villaraigosa to talk immigration reform in DC today	Guidi	:54
1/14/2013	IE	Groups may not buy Mt. Rubidoux cross site	CC	:18
1/14/2013	EDU	CSU begins online degree program	Guzman	:53
1/14/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidates prepare for debates	Walton	:31
1/14/2013	OC	Former President Bill Clinton speaks Monday in Laguna Niguel	Bergman	:44
1/14/2013	ENV	LA County officials want to tax homeowners for polluted water	Peterson	3:22
1/14/2013	HEAL	Democratic Senator Leland Yee prepares legislation to make it easier for counties to implement Laura's law	O'Neill	1:02
1/14/2013	SAC	Police chiefs lack critical information on felons under county supervision	Small	4:11
1/14/2013	EDU	USC starts new semester with new security measures in place	Fox	:49
1/14/2013	ART	Lena Dunham receives best actress awards at the Golden Globes	CC	:11
1/14/2013	ART	Actress Jodie Foster receives special honor at the Golden Globes	CC	:17
1/14/2013	OC	NRC Chair to meet with environmental groups, some political leaders, check out San Onofre nuclear plant Monday	Joyce	1:40
1/14/2013	LAW	Trial begins against six former leaders of Bell	Julian	:41
1/14/2013	OBIT	Youngest member on Schindler's List dies in Whittier	CC	:22
1/14/2013	OC	The head of the NRC meets with environmental groups in Orange County	CC	:23

1/14/2013	ENV	Cold temperatures continue in SoCal, early morning walkers don extra layers	CC	:12
1/14/2013	LAW	Riverside judge rules boy knew it was wrong when he shot and killed neo-Nazi father	CC	:13
1/14/2013	ENV	Cold temperatures across Los Angeles	CC	:14
1/14/2013	LAW	Riverside judge rules boy knew it was wrong when he shot and killed neo-Nazi father	CC	:07
1/14/2013	ENV	The recent SoCal cold snap threatens the 2 billion dollar citrus industry	CC	:14
1/14/2013	LAW	LAPD arrests five people for takeover robbery at Nordstrom Rack store in Westchester	CC	:10
1/14/2013	ECON	Cold temperatures continue in SoCal. Canadian laughs at extra layers.	Watt	:49
1/14/2013	OC	Head of Nuclear Regulatory Commission visited San Onofre plant	Bergman	1:00
1/14/2013	HEAL	UCLA study points to immediate health risks posed by childhood obesity	O'Neill	:56
1/14/2013	DC	Villaraigosa lobbies for comprehensive reform	CC	:11
1/14/2013	EDU	Crenshaw High School parents make last attempt to block reconstitution	Romo	:54
1/14/2013	RELI	Evangelical leaders launch a prayer challenge in support of immigration reform	Guidi	1:22
1/14/2013	ECON	Assemblyman Alejo wants to boost California's minimum wage	CC	:24
1/14/2013	ECON	Assemblyman Alejo wants to boost California's minimum wage	CC	:19
1/14/2013	IE	Judge finds 10-year-old boy murder neo-Nazi dad	Osen	1:46
1/14/2013	DC	Villaraigos nosing around for Cabinet job	Felde	3:45
1/14/2013	SAC	Legislative analyst: Governor's plan to fund healthcare for indigent Californians premature	Small	1:04
1/14/2013	OC	The head of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission visited the San Onofre nuclear plant Monday	CC	:14
1/14/2013	POLI	CA legislative analyst offers thoughts on Brown's budget proposal	Adler	:49
1/14/2013	OC	For the first time today, the head of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission visited the shuttered San Onofre nuclear plant	Bergman	2:09
1/14/2013	POLI	CA legislative analyst offers thoughts on Brown's budget proposal	CC	:17
1/14/2013	ENV	Farmers crossing fingers amid cold snap	Stoltze	3:08
1/14/2013	EDU	USC starts new semester with new security measures in place	Fox	:49

1/15/13	SPORq	Last night, Lance Armstrong sat down for an interview with Oprah Winfrey. It's a dance we've seen in America time and time again—disgraced celebrity seeks absolution from TV icon. Say your apologies, shed a few tears, promise to never do it again and then get out of there. But will that prove to be enough for Lance Armstrong? He was a figure so central to his sport that the current situation regarding doping seems to be an indictment of cycling in general. His critics are furious with him for letting down so many people and tarnishing the reputation of an activity that was already beset with problems of athletes using drugs. Furthermore, Armstrong has been vehemently denying drug use for years now. For him to reverse his position convinces many that this move is purely opportunistic and not genuine in the least. How can someone lie so aggressively for so long? There are fans out there who come to Armstrong's defense. There is the old argument that all athletes at the highest professional levels use performance enhancers of some kind, so Armstrong was simply trying to keep up. Or there are the supporters who were positively affected by Armstrong's Live Strong organization, and aren't really affected by what may or may not have happened in the world of sport. So who is right? Is this sincere? Is Armstrong trying to make amends with his past and move onward and upward? Or is this just a ploy to keep competing and avoid ruining his legacy?	Dan Empfield, Royal Oakes, Dan Ariely	47:00:00
1/15/13	HEAL	From research, it's been shown that pedophilia is not stemmed directly from childhood sexual abuse. Some of the new information on the disorder comes from the Center for Mental Health and Addiction in Toronto, where studies have been conducted on convicted sex offenders. Increasingly, pedophilia is seen as an intrinsic disorder rather than a trait developed after suffering child sexual abuse. Genetic predisposition may delineate potential pedophiles: 30% are left-handed or ambidextrous, and many are about an inch shorter than average, with a 10 point below-average IQ. The disorder has been found and researched almost exclusively in men. While many perpetrators of child sexual abuse are motivated by violent tendencies, and usually choose relatives as their victims, pedophiles are more likely to see children as romantic partners. Their sexual preference may be as biologically innate as any other, and although many pedophiles struggle with their desires, many are able to control their sexual urges. Most psychiatrists have stopped trying to change pedophile's sexual orientations, instead opting to help their patients find the best ways to control their sexual desire, sometimes through therapy and sometimes with hormone treatment. Is there a good way to create a support system for pedophiles that keeps children safe? How will new	Fred Berlin, Dr. Hy Malinek	16:00

1/15/13	ECON	Companies like Herbalife, Mary Kay, Avon and Amway have been around for decades. Proponents of direct sales and multi-level-marketing (MLM) companies claim they offer consumers a line of time-tested, quality products that are used and endorsed by distributors and marketed with the personal touch. For some sellers, direct sales and MLM's can lead to financial independence - perhaps even wealth - and a chance to give a leg up to friends and family. But for every legitimate business that uses this model, there are dozens of illegal "pyramid schemes" luring the hopeful, underemployed and desperate into a never-ending cycle of spend/recruit/spend. Recently Herbalife, the poster boy for MLM's with a 32-year track record of success, came under attack for its marketing practices. Hedge fund manager Bill Ackman publicly labeled it a pyramid scheme, pointing out the many similarities with illegitimate businesses that make money selling dreams, not vitamins. Pyramid schemes make their top levels rich by recruiting sellers and encouraging them to purchase vast amounts of product, attend expensive sales seminars and - of course - mine their social circles for new recruits. More often than not, the riches don't materialize and distributors end up with garages full of product, broken marriages, ruined credit and lives.	Joe Mariano, Stacie Bosley	23:00
1/15/13	EDU	Why are California's college graduates struggling to find employment? Northern California Assemblyman Don Logue believes it's because too many students are graduating with liberal arts degrees and entering into a job-market without a high demand for those professions. Logue's Assembly Bill 51 proposes capping the price of science, technology, engineering, and math degrees to $10,000 dollars, which is half of the current tuition fee, on CSU Long Beach, CSU Chico, and CSU Stanislaus. Governor Rick Scott of Florida has proposed a similar initiative in Florida universities to freeze tuition rates of these majors while tuition rates continue to rise in the other fields of study. At the University of Florida, a group of history professors have already organized a protest petition, fearing that this move would decrease the number of students studying liberal arts and thereby decrease funding in those departments. As for funding, Logue expects the state of California to pay for the financial discrepancies for these departments, and Scott hopes that Florida's state financing and private-public partnerships will cover the expenses. What do you think about tiered education and a $10,000 bachelor's degree? Do you think students will change their fields of study based on these proposals? Will this alleviate employment issues? Will it affect funding for the humanities?	Assemblymember Dan Logue	8:00

1/15/13	LIT	Creamy, crunchy, salty or plain – how do you like your peanut butter? Although it's not popular in other countries, more than 75 percent of the American population consumes over one billion pounds of it annually. However, peanut butter has not been immune to social and economic trends. Sales dropped when it got a bad rap for being unhealthy, and risen again when recession-strapped families rediscovered it as a high-protein and cost-effective food. This prompted Hormel Foods to purchase Skippy for $700 million dollars earlier this month; the company forecasts sales of $370 million this year. "Creamy and Crunchy: An Informal History of Peanut Butter, the all-American Food," claims to be the first comprehensive history of peanut butter. The book covers the history of the humble peanut butter's affect on Third-World hunger, how "Choosy mothers choose Jif" made Jif number one in peanut butter sales, proper peanut butter eating etiquette, and how a salmonella scare almost ruined the entire industry.	Jon Krampner	16:00
1/15/13	SPOR	On Monday, former champion cyclist Lance Armstrong apologized to staff of Live Strong, the cancer foundation he founded, the same day Oprah Winfrey is scheduled to interview him.	Mike Anderson	6:25
1/15/13	ECON	Whether or not Armstrong's confession is good for the sport is debatable. What's not in dispute is that the two-and-a-half hour interview is a boon for Oprah Winfrey, a fact she acknowledged on CBS This Morning:	Brian Stelter	6:03
1/15/13	ENV	The "airpocalypse" is the term being used to describe the record high levels of pollution in China's northern region, including the capital city of Beijing. In recent days, the poor air quality has sent hundreds to local hospitals for respiratory problems, and the thick smog closed freeways and airports because of poor visibility.	Kim Prather	6:03
1/15/13	FOR	This past weekend marked the third anniversary of the earthquake in Haiti that killed as many as 300,000 people and left nearly a million people homeless. Yet three years on the crisis continues with 350,000 Haitians still in relief camps.	Amy Wilentz	7:53
1/15/13	ART	In 1969, a group of Native Americans occupied Alcatraz for two years. It's a history written in graffiti that the National Park Service has been working to preserve.	Alexandra Picavet	6:00
1/15/13	ART	Isabela Raygoza and Joel Moya from the Latin Alternative music magazine, Remezcla, join Barbara Bogaev to talk about some upcoming releases.	Isabela Raygoza and Joel Moya	10:31
1/15/13	SAC	When it comes to rebuilding the Republican party in California, the challenges are many.	Jim Brulte	6:43
1/15/13	IMM	Now to Washington where LA Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa is spending the week. He'll be attending the inauguration next Monday, and in the meantime he's making the rounds at the US Conference of Mayors.	Kitty Felde	6:37
1/15/13	LAW	There are new details in the mysterious death of Hollywood legend Natalie Wood. In 1981, the actress drowned off the coast of Catalina Island, while a weekend boating trip with her husband Robert Wagner and actor Christopher Walken.	Alex Ben Block	5:27
1/15/13	SPOR	NHL players are back on the ice, this Saturday. They resolved a labor dispute with owners that led to 510 cancelled games.	Jarret Stoll	3:42

1/15/13	MIL	More than 2 million veterans reside in the state of California, half of those live right here in Southern California. Yesterday, veterans affairs was the topic of a three-person panel discussion hosted at SCPR's Crawford Family Forum.	Dr. Anthony Hassan, Elizabeth Heger and Joseph Costello	17:02
1/15/2013	ECON	Pension fund jus tposted huge returns on investments	Quinton	:48
1/15/2013	ECON	CA legislative analyst offers thoughts on Brown's budget proposal	Adler	:41
1/15/2013	LAW	AG Kamala Harris wants legislators to update an 1872 measure after unusual rape case	CC	:16
1/15/2013	LAW	AG Kamala Harris wants legislators to update an 1872 measure after unusual rape case	Quinton	:58
1/15/2013	HEAL	Parkinson's disease is linked to pesticides	Khoka	1:16
1/15/2013	LAW	Ice skating coach charged with molesting a skater	CC	:19
1/15/2013	TT	The LA Kings get ready for the shortened regular season	CC	:18
1/15/2013	ENV	China is dealing with the worst air quality in the country's history	CC	:22
1/15/2013	YOUT	LA Youth newspaper to close after 25 years	CC	:22
1/15/2013	ENV	Environmentalist Mark Gold backs proposed LA County parcel tax for stormwater pollution controls	CC	:06
1/15/2013	ECON	If you want to buy a house in the Southland, it helps to have a lot of cash	DeBord	:37
1/15/2013	ENV	National Weather Service issued frost advisory for Tues night through Wed morning	CC	:11
1/15/2013	LAW	LAPD closes longtime headquarters	Palta	:48
1/15/2013	POLI	Los Angeles City Council declines to place bond for road repairs on May ballot	Walton	:32
1/15/2013	ECON	Wertz Brother Antique Mart to close on Feb. 1	Lee	:55
1/15/2013	HEAL	Health officials worry about drug-resistant gonorrhea	Martinez	1:18
1/15/2013	ECON	Gov Brown proposed state budget would restore, increase oversight of logging	Quinton	:48
1/15/2013	ECON	Gov Brown says there are still economic hurdles ahead, despite the balanced budget	CC	:09
1/15/2013	OBIT	LA City Councilman Tom LaBonge hosted memorial for Huell Howser	CC	:10
1/15/2013	OBIT	LA City Councilman Tom LaBonge hosted memorial for Huell Howser	CC	:33
1/15/2013	IMM	Westminster's Tet parade out of funds a couple of weeks before their big parade	Guidi	1:22
1/15/2013	OC	The lawyer for a former Santa Ana city councilman charged with multiple counts of sexual assault is asking a judge to remove the District Attorney from the case	Bergman	1:53
1/15/2013	ECON	Farmers can only begin to assess crop damage from cold snap	Watt	:51
1/15/2013	EDU	Gov. Brown pitches online college program	CC	:13
1/15/2013	POLI	LA Supes postpone decision on parcel tax vote until March 12 hearing	Whatley	3:23
1/15/2013	ENV	Santa Clarita city councilman opposes proposed LA County parcel tax for stormwater pollution controls	CC	:16
1/15/2013	ECON	Gov Brown proposed state budget would restore, increase oversight of logging	CC	:16
1/15/2013	ECON	Port of LA begins work on new Rail Yard Project to streamline container transfer	Watt	:29
1/16/13	DC	What is the role of mental health in the gun violence discussion? What is the most important focus point in this dialogue? What kind of weight will President Obama's executive action carry in the grand scheme of things?	Erwin Chemerinsky, Paul Neuharth, Doyle McManus	32:00:00
1/16/13	TECH	The future may involve a much more candid sexual health disclosure between partners, thanks to smartphone apps like MedXCom. The app provides a service where doctor-approved test results and medical records are verifiable via smartphone. Scoundrels beware.	Tracy Clark-Flory, Gail Wyatt	16:00
1/16/13	HEAL	Should personal trainers be taxed for holding classes in public parks? If you use public parks, are you bothered by an overcrowding of group fitness? What is the best way to make the parks usable and fun for everyone?	Sonki Hong, Karen Ginsberg	13:00

1/16/13	LIT	Do you have any experience in sales? Well, if you have a job in today's society, author Dan Pink says the answer is yes. While one in nine Americans work in a traditional sales department, the other eight draw upon the same techniques salespeople use every day.	Daniel Pink	18:00
1/16/13	LIT	Apted continued his own life trajectory by becoming an acclaimed director, while revisiting the series every seven years. The latest installment, directed by Apted, is 56 Up!, which opens in L.A. this Friday.	Michael Apted	17:00
1/16/13	LAW	This morning, President Obama is expected to announce the most aggressive and expansive national gun-control agenda in generations.	-	14:44
1/16/13	LAW	President Obama unveils his administration's plan to overhaul the nation's gun laws Wednesday. In California, which already has some of the nation's toughest gun laws, state lawmakers are moving forward with plans of their own to further thwart gun violence.	Julie Small	2:59
1/16/13	IMM	San Diego Mayor Bob Filner has announced plans to open up an office in Tijuana. Adrian Florido explains where the office will be, what it will do and why this is another step in cross border cooperation.	Adrian Florido	4:30
1/16/13	ART	In the future, the words luxury, boxy, zombie and doozy might not hold the same weight in a Scrabble game, that is, if one UC San Diego researcher has his way. He's been floating a very controversial proposal to change the value of some tiles to more accurately reflect modern usage.	Stefan Fatsis	6:24
1/16/13	ART	Joseph Rodriguez's new work is a photo series called Re-Entry in Los Angeles, featuring men and women recently released from prison as they return to life on the outside.	Joseph Rodriguez	9:15
1/16/13	EDU	The country's largest university system is wading into the world of online education. Yesterday, San Jose State announced it's joined forces with one of the leading for-profit online education companies, Udacity	-	7:59
1/16/13	ART	Nuclear historian Ward Wilson explodes some misconceptions about the bomb in a new book called "Five Myths About Nuclear Weapons."	Ward Wilson	12:25
1/16/13	ART	Adventurer Tim Jarvis will lead a team of six on what would be the first authentic re-enactment of Shackleton's historical journey across the Antarctic.	Tim Jarvis	7:14
1/16/13	ART	The National Book Critics Circle announced finalists for its annual awards earlier this week. Several California authors made the short list, including one based right here in Los Angeles.	David Kipen	7:37
1/16/2013	LAW	LA DA spokeswoman Sandi Gibbons retires	Whatley	3:29
1/16/2013	EDU	LAUSD votes to reconstitute Crenshaw High	Romo	1:24
1/16/2013	SAC	California lawmakers answer to gun violence	Small	2:59
1/16/2013	SPOR	The San Diego Chargers announce their new head coach	CC	:09
1/16/2013	EDU	Gov Brown proposed state budget would restore, increase oversight of logging	Shuler	1:06
1/16/2013	LAW	Judge to decide whether to dismiss charges against anti-gang worker	CC	:08
1/16/2013	SPOR	San Diego Chargers will not come to LA - at least not this year	CC	:13
1/16/2013	ECON	Dunkin' Donuts to expand business in California	Lee	:55
1/16/2013	ENV	Tijuana nonprofit opens a composting center	Florido	:50
1/16/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council considers adding a third medical marijuana measure to the May ballot	Walton	:50
1/16/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council considers adding a third medical marijuana measure to the May ballot	Walton	1:17
1/16/2013	HEAL	Santa Monica considers limiting personal training in Palisades Park	CC	:10
1/16/2013	HEAL	Santa Monica considers limiting personal training in Palisades Park	CC	:16
1/16/2013	OBIT	"Different Strokes" actor Conrad Baine dies	CC	:12
1/16/2013	DC	Democrats line up behind President's gun proposals	CC	:19
1/16/2013	DC	Democrats line up behind President's gun proposals	Felde	:57

1/16/2013	DC	Foe of high speed rail gets plumb job	Felde	:57
1/16/2013	LAW	FBI announces reward for AK47 Bandit	CC	:21
1/16/2013	ECON	A new study funds that LA is actually well prepared to pay pension costs	DeBord	:49
1/16/2013	OC	An environmental group argues San Onofre's operator, Southern California Edison, should have been required to go through the NRC's license amendment process before installing new steam generators in 2009 and 2010	Bergman	2:38
1/16/2013	EDU	UC Pres says he will heed warnings to avoid tuition increases	CC	:12
1/16/2013	LAW	The feds have a national database used for denying mentally ill firearms, but depend on the states for the info	Palta	2:17
1/16/2013	HEAL	Only nine SoCal cities earn top rankings from state chapter of the American Lung Association	O'Neill	1:45
1/16/2013	TRAN	FAA grounds all 787s, including a few daily flights out of LAX	Watt	:35
1/16/2013	HEAL	California legislator pushes for a national mental health initiative	CC	:12
1/16/2013	TRAN	Very few flights at LAX are on 787 Dreamliners; one 787 was on the ground at LAX when FAA made announcement	CC	:19
1/17/13	SPOR	Manti Te'o's herculean performance on the football field following the twin tragedies of his grandmother and girlfriend dying within days of one another vaulted him to national prominence. Why did Te'o fail to disclose he never met the girl face-to-face? How was he able to speak so convincingly of meeting this non-existent girlfriend, and of the depth of their connection?	David Wharton, Aisha Harris	21:00
1/17/13	MEDI	How did media outlets from Indiana's South Bend Tribune to CBS, ESPN and the Associated Press take this bizarre fabrication, based largely on Tweets, hearsay and other writers' stories, and run the full nine yards with it?	Kelly McBride	10:00
1/17/13	MEDI	Is social media causing more anxiety than happiness? Does interacting with sites like Facebook, Twitter, and Instagram give you FOMO? How should users handle their fear of missing out – is logging off the only solution?	Caterina Fake, Sophia Dembling,	17:00
1/17/13	HEAL	Obama's administration wants to strengthen the effectiveness of mental health registries used to stop firearms sales to potentially violent individuals, a debate that's familiar to psychologists and psychiatrists.	Dr. Steven K. Hoge	23:00
1/17/13	TECH	After two incidents with lithium ion batteries that caused a small fire and the smell of smoke, regulators around the world have grounded Boeing's newest widebody jet. Europe, India and Japan grounded 787s on Thursday following the U.S. FAA's grounding of the planes on Wednesday.	George Ferguson	7:00
1/17/13	MEDI	Critics tell Dunham to put some clothes on, but fans of the show's famously-awkward sexual scenarios have spoken up in defense of Dunham, her body, and the creative choice to focus on sex for the sake of sex, rather than what some have called "the gaze."	Shira Tarrant	16:00
1/17/13	LAW	President Obama issued 23 executive orders on gun control yesterday.	Lawrence Rosenthal	8:09
1/17/13	LAW	Escalating violence in Oakland has forced city leaders to consider a wide range of possibilities for addressing the problem, including bringing in former NYPD & LAPD Chief Bill Bratton as a consultant.	Mina Kim	6:30
1/17/13	POLI	There's a rich history to the Presidential inaugurations of the past. Emphasis on the "rich."	Kenneth C Davis	8:46
1/17/13	ART	Music plays a big role during presidential inaugurations.	Steve Hochman	7:51
1/17/13	SPOR	did the sports media drop the ball in not fact checking the existence of Mani Te'o's fictitious girlfriend?	David Folkenflik	7:25
1/17/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show. On tap this week, the worst thing on a dinner menu, the birth of the roller coaster and going to the grave in style.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	7:25

1/17/13	POLI	An issue that seems to be evergreen here in Los Angeles: medical marijuana. The city council decided yesterday to put a third pot measure on the ballot for the upcoming city election.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	8:11
1/17/13	ECON	A messy fight is brewing in Fresno over the city's decision to privatize residential garbage collection. This week, garbage workers are doing some heavy lifting to try and bring the issue to the ballot box.	Sasha Khokha	4:27
1/17/13	HEAL	Next Tuesday marks 40 years since the decision in the landmark Supreme Court case, Roe v. Wade. The issue of abortion has been a topic of debate ever since, as conservatives and liberals have fought over how to interpret the court's ruling.	Lynn Paltrow	7:09
1/17/13	HEAL	A new report of the nation's hospitals found a sharp increase in the number of emergency room visits triggered by energy drink consumption. The report, published by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, is the most comprehensive look yet at the safety of energy drinks.	Garance Burke	5:52
1/17/13	EDU	English class offerings at public schools are always in high demand, but because of budget cuts, many of those classes have been cut or eliminated. The California Report's Chris Richard has the story.	Chris Richard	4:14
1/17/13	ART	Penelope Eckert, professor of linguistics and anthropology at Stanford, disagrees. She and her team of researchers are traveling all over the state to prove it by conducting a study called Voices of California.	Penelope Eckert,	5:45
1/17/13	ECON	Did you hear that yelp of joy? That was your friend, the East Coaster, learning Dunkin' Donuts is expanding into Southern California. More than 150 stores starting in 2015. Others, though, wonder whether the Massachusetts chain will threaten doughnut business at the mom 'n pop shops that dot L.	Dan Pashman and Zach Brooks	5:54
1/17/2013	DC	CA high speed rail pals up with Amtrak for cost and clout	Felde	1:00
1/17/2013	ENT	The latest installment of a documentary series that follows the lives of 13 English men and women comes to a theatre in LA on Friday	CC	:16
1/17/2013	TRAN	CA high speed rail authority teams up with Amtrak to build high speed trains	CC	:16
1/17/2013	IMM	Border patrol in San Diego says arrests have dropped significantly over the last several years	Florido	:32
1/17/2013	LAW	Armed robbery suspects, pursuit, Cal State Fullerton lock down, will stand trial	Aguilar	:53
1/17/2013	ECON	Avon announces plans to close distribution center in Pasadena, but not until 2014	Watt	:38
1/17/2013	HEAL	Federal government awards CA $674 million for online health insurance marketplace	CC	:14
1/17/2013	FOR	Algerian government kept US officials out of the loop in hostage mission	CC	:13
1/17/2013	ENT	John C. Reilly plays in a bluegrass band	CC	:17
1/17/2013	HEAL	Federal government awards CA $674 million for online health insurance marketplace	Quinton	:54
1/17/2013	SAC	State audit finds "confusion and lack of knowledge" at Public Utilities Commission to blame for overstated funds	Small	1:22
1/17/2013	EDU	24th Street is first school to invoke parent trigger	Romo	3:50
1/17/2013	LAW	Bell City Council members go on trial for public corruption charges	McNary	4:14
1/17/2013	HEAL	Overburdened MediCal won't be able to handle a million more kids in its dental programs	O'Neill	:53
1/17/2013	EDU	UC Pres says he will heed warnings to avoid tuition increases	Adler	:51
1/17/2013	HEAL	California Dept of Insurance issues preparedness tips on 19th anniversary of the Northridge earthquake	O'Neill	:51
1/17/2013	ECON	A new study funds that LA is actually well prepared to pay pension costs	CC	:23
1/17/2013	POLI	California Congressional delegation splits down party lines on President's gun control suggestions	Shafer	1:00
1/17/2013	POLI	Fight brews about privatizing garbage collection in Fresno	Khoka	4:27

1/17/2013	ENV	Levee on the Sacramento River in danger of failing	CC	:08
1/17/2013	ECON	FTC upholds ruling against POM Wonderful for deceptive advertising	Watt	:40
1/17/2013	TT	Linguistic researchers look into the California accent	CC	:11
1/17/2013	TT	Linguistic researchers look into the California accent	CC	:08
1/17/2013	ENT	The latest installment of a documentary series that follows the lives of 13 English men and women comes to a theater in LA on Friday	CC	:16
1/17/2013	TRAN	CA High speed rail authority teams up with Amtrak to build high speed trains	CC	:16
1/17/2013	DC	LA Mayor delivering gun control speech Friday in DC	Felde	:57
1/17/2013	IMM	Border Patrol in San Diego says arrests have dropped significantly over last several years	Florido	:32
1/17/2013	LAW	Armed robbery suspects, pursuit, Cal State Fullerton lock down, will stand trial	Aguilar	:53
1/17/2013	ECON	Avon announces plans to close distribution center in Pasadena, but not until 2014	Watt	:38
1/17/2013	FOR	US officials are frustrated with the Algerian government's handling of the hostage crisis	CC	:13
1/17/2013	ENT	John C. Reilly shows off musical prowess	CC	:17
1/17/2013	HEAL	Federal government awards CA $674-million for online health insurance marketplace	Quinton	:54
1/17/2013	HOUS	Solid economic reports out this morning	CC	:11
1/17/2013	HEAL	California Dept of Insurance issues preparedness tips on 19th anniversary of Northridge earthquake	O'Neill	:50
1/17/2013	POLI	CA congressmen react to Obama's gun legislation	Shafer	1:00
1/17/2013	ENV	Levee on the Sacramento River in danger of failing	CC	:08
1/17/2013	ECON	California sees foreclosures drop in 2012, but still room for recovery	CC	:15
1/18/13	SPOR	This fallen-hero story won't end with part two of Oprah's interview tonight. Armstrong is facing innumerable lawsuits and actions against him. So why did he finally tell the truth? What judgements did you make after watching him last night?	Steve Bartolucci, Dan Empfield	23:00
1/18/13	LAW	Congresswoman Zoe Lofgren proposes amendment to the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act (CFAA) to exclude terms of service violations from the law.	Jody Westby, Susan Freiwald	25:00:00
1/18/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan and Charles Solomon to review the week's new film releases including 56 Up, Broken City, Mama and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan, Charles Solomon	31:00:00
1/18/13	ENT	When Deborah Nadoolman Landis was starting out in the costume shops of major Hollywood studios, she remembers finding "stacks and stacks" of old drawings - stuffed under tables, into walls for insulation, underfoot, being used as doormats. At that time, no one considered the sketches made for costume designs to be art.	Deborah Nadoolman Landis	17:00
1/18/13	SPOR	In an exclusive interview with Oprah Winfrey last night, Lance Armstrong said his regimen consisted of blood transfusions, EPO and testosterone. He also said doping was an integral part of the sport and helped him win the Tour De France.	Ed Engay	9:55
1/18/13	ECON	For years, Lance Armstrong rode with a team sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service. Armstrong is reportedly in talks to return some of the millions of dollars he received from the agency.	Heidi Moore	6:36
1/18/13	LAW	We wrap up the week's news and look forward to what's to come in the Friday Flashback. This week's guests, Sophia Nelson of NBC's The Griot, and James Rainey of the LA Times.	Sophia Nelson and James Rainey	13:58
1/18/13	ART	Actor John C. Reilly is known for his comic roles in films like "Talladega Nights" and "Step Brothers," but acting isn't his only forte.	John Reilly and Friends	15:15

1/18/13	IMM	Latinos will have a special gala this Sunday for President Obama's inauguration: the Latino Inaugural. Hosted by Eva Longoria and featuring a star-studded cast, it's also a way for them to celebrate their influence on the 2012 campaign.	Andrés Lopez	7:31
1/18/13	ART	KPCC's Meghan McCarty is back and better than ever in a revamped and retooled Weekend Alibi. For those that don't know, it's your guide for a fun weekend.	Meghan McCarty	4:01
1/18/13	HEAL	A recent report published in the Journal of Health, Politics and Policy and Law says hundreds of women have been denied their civil liberties because they were pregnant. The study examined specific examples, and touched on a legal grey area where the rights of the mother and the fetus intersect.	Matthew Staver	6:35
1/18/13	POLI	The city's legal bills top $1 million annually, water rates and parcel taxes remain high. But residents have a renewed interest in their community.	Sharon McNary	4:14
1/18/13	EDU	More than a 100 parents from a West Adams elementary school, on Thursday, invoked the "Parent Trigger" law to take over the failing school from the district.	Vanessa Romo	3:51
1/18/13	ART	Meet the bartender in Las Vegas who mixes her potables with a heavy dose of science and technology, and a little spice, as well. Reporter Adam Burke prepared this refreshing story.	Adam Burke	7:42
1/18/13	ART	Mavericks, the big wave surfing competition, will be held on Sunday for the first time in years in Pillar Point, Half Moon Bay, CA.	Peter Mel	6:18
1/18/2013	LAW	Debate heats up over whether to license an undocumented immigrant and allow him to become a practicing lawyer	Guidi	1:48
1/18/2013	SPOR	The LA Lakers lose another big game at home	CC	:12
1/18/2013	ENT	Cathy Rigby has portrayed Peter Pan for four decades	Unknown	2:50
1/18/2013	HEAL	Health officials say widespread flu activity could indicate early or worse flu season in California	CC	:11
1/18/2013	OC	A Santa Ana judge has set a trial date for two ex-Fullerton police officers involved in the 2011 beating death of Kelly Thomas	CC	:12
1/18/2013	DC	Senator Feinstein enlists US mayors in assault weapons ban battle	CC	:13
1/18/2013	SPOR	Armstrong came clean in an interview with Oprah	CC	:23
1/18/2013	ENV	The NWS is putting out a high surf advisory for LA area	CC	:16
1/18/2013	ECON	CA unemployment rate holds steady at 9.8 percent in December	CC	:16
1/18/2013	POLI	A new general manager is confirmed to oversee the Department of Neighborhood Empowerment	Walton	1:02
1/18/2013	HEAL	Health officials say widespread flu activity could indicate early or worse flu season in California	CC	:10
1/18/2013	IMM	New poll shows majority of voters support legalization of illegal immigrants	Uribe	:48
1/18/2013	OC	OC woman sentenced to probation after pleading guilty to helping a World War II vet commit suicide	Bergman	:49
1/18/2013	DC	California mayors come to DC for regulation relief	Felde	2:28
1/18/2013	POLI	The president of the Board of Public Works resigns	Walton	:31
1/18/2013	OC	A Santa Ana judge has set a trial date for two ex-Fullerton police officers involved in the 2011 beating death of Kelly Thomas	Bergman	1:49
1/18/2013	ECON	CA economy had a bad December	Adler	:42
1/18/2013	ECON	CA economy had a bad December	CC	:09
1/18/2013	POLI	Pasadena city councilman rebuts the recal campaign's charge of conflict-of-interest	Watt	2:12
1/18/2013	LAW	Judge allows lawsuit against city LAPD impound policy	CC	:11
1/18/2013	ENV	LA County Supervisors postpone vote on property tax for water quality programs	Peterson	3:34
1/18/2013	ECON	Gas prices climb in Southern California	Watt	:32

1/18/2013	EDU	Longtime UC chancellor Mark Yudoff steps down	Guzman	:49
1/19/2013	IMM	There is increasing need to provide more assistance and care for victims of human and sex trafficking	Guidi	1:25
1/19/2013	LAW	Federal charges against gang interventionist Alex Sanchez dropped	Aquilar	1:20
1/19/13	MEDI	Downey has a history of musical talent, including The Carpenters and Metallica. The town's newest addition is an 84-year-old rapper named Kwayzar. James Kim talks with Stanley Jerry Hoffman (aka Kwayzar) about his career in showbiz and how he hasn't given up looking for his big break.	James Kim / Stanley Jerry Hoffman	6:09
1/19/13	MEDI	Ian Whitcomb, the self-professed "Jimi Hendrix of the ukulele" (because he plays it left-handed, and not restrung, just as Hendrix played the guitar) joined Off-Ramp to speak about the history of the ukulele, the resurgence of its popularity and he spotlights some of his favorite uke heroes.	John Rabe, Michelle Lanz, Ian Whitcomb	4:11
1/19/13	HIST	President Franklin Marshall, possibly the most-obscure President of all, and for whom the historical record is so scant, you might even question whether he existed at all. But Franklin Marshall has found his Boswell at last in Barry Cutler, an actor and amateur historian who lives in Palm Desert. John Rabe talks with Barry Cutler about what we know about Marshall and why we know so little.	John Rabe / Barry Cutler	1:13
1/19/13	MIL	Kevin Ferguson talks with affiliates and participants in the Hearts Apart program, a nonprofit organization that gives military families a free, professional portrait session before deployment. There are professional artists, commercial photographers and Pulitzer Prize winners—all trying the best they can to keep families connected. Families like Amy and Tim McCoy, of Helendale, a small community halfway between Victorville and Barstow on Route 66.	Kevin Ferguson, Ross Whitaker, Brownie Harris, Amy McCoy, Tim McCoy	4:24
1/19/13	MEDI	Things got a little out of hand when Hunter Davis came into the Off-Ramp studio to talk about his spot-on Ian McKellen impression in this million+ hit YouTube video.	John Rabe / Hunter Davis	8:43
1/20/2013	POLI	Latino Inaugural of 2013 kicks off at the Kennedy Center	CC	:10
1/20/2013	LAW	Roe v. Wade 40th anniversary	CC	:20
1/20/2013	SPOR	The Mavericks Surfing competition is being held in Half Moon Bay for the first time in three years this weekend	CC	:08
1/20/2013	HIST	Music plays a big part in the presidential inauguration ceremony	CC	:22
1/20/2013	ECON	Honda recalls about 750,000 Pilot and Odyssey vehicles	Lee	:37
1/20/2013	POLI	The five leading mayoral candidates debate at the annual Empowerment Congress	Walton	1:58
1/20/2013	ECON	Honda recalls about 750,000 Pilot and Odyssey vehicles	Lee	:37
1/21/13	POLI	Today marks President Barack Obama's second inaugural address. While the first time was certainly a historic moment, not just for the man but for the whole country, this one marks a momentous occasion as well. Obama just fought his way through a nasty election cycle to secure his second term, and the country has a very important four years ahead of it.	Aaron Blake, David Birdsell	31:00:00
1/21/13	POLI	Congress will vote Wednesday on a bill to extend the limit for the U.S. debt ceiling that will allow the deadline to be postponed until May 18.	David Mark, Lisa Mascaro	16:00
1/21/13	HEAL	Should you get a flu shot? How many times a day should you wash your hands to stay reasonably safe? Is it silly or effective to wear surgical masks in public places? How can people die from a disease as common as the flu in 2013? And how do researchers create new vaccines to protect us from next year's flu bug?	Dr. Jonathan Fielding, Shannon Pettypiece	14:00

1/21/13	TRAN	The TSA effectively has carte blanche to be all up in your junk, or to at least look at pictures of it, before you get on an airplane. But the federal agency announced on Friday that it will stop using the kind of x-ray body scanners that produced the anatomically revealing images of passengers at security checkpoints in airports.	Michael Grabell, Brian Michael Jenkins, Patrick Smith	16:00
1/21/13	ART	Sullivan interviewed dozens of artists, including Len Chandler – who, along with Joan Baez and Bob Dylan, galvanized the crowd at the 1963 March on Washington – Buffy Sainte-Marie, Solomon Burke, Yoko Ono, Janis Ian and Richie Havens. And she asks the question, where have the voices of protest gone in today's music? What forces – social, political and corporate – have conspired to silence the sounds of freedom, justice and equality?	Denise Sullivan	17:00
1/21/2013	ART	Palm Springs high school marching band performs in the presidential inauguration	CC	:12
1/21/2013	ART	Palm Springs high school marching band performs in the presidential inauguration	CC	:11
1/21/2013	IMM	Latinos celebrate the Presidential Inauguration	Davies	3:49
1/21/2013	IMM	New options for deferred action, provisional waivers, allowing more young undocumented immigrants to stay in US	Guidi	2:10
1/21/2013	MEDI	Loh Life Advertising	Loh	2:45
1/21/2013	EDU	Volunteerism "constant" on MLK Day - but more engagement is needed, leaders say	Moore	2:13
1/21/2013	HEAL	LA Conventin Center hosted LA Fit Expo	Walton	2:05
1/21/2013	SPOR	The 2013 Super Bowl is set	CC	:14
1/21/2013	DIS	Firefighters contained a fire at Mountain View High School in El Monte	CC	:17
1/21/2013	LAW	Jury selection resumes in Bell city official corruption trial	Cuevas	1:07
1/21/2013	LAW	The LA County Sheriff's Department conducts a gun buyback event	CC	:10
1/21/2013	ENV	EPA gives largest coal-fired plant in the US 10 years to install pollution controls	Morales	1:22
1/21/2013	ENT	Mama tops at the box office	CC	:17
1/21/2013	TRAV	TSA is replacing its Rapiscan machines for less revealing scanners	CC	:12
1/21/2013	LAW	Compton officials buy back guns with gift cards	CC	:14
1/21/2013	EDU	Republicans think Prop 30 money should go to freezing tuition at public colleges	Quinton	:51
1/21/2013	EDU	Republicans think Prop 30 money should go to freezing tuition at public colleges	CC	:18
1/21/2013	SCI	Jupiter will appear extremely close to the Moon Monday night	CC	:08
1/21/2013	HEAL	Pool entrepreneur donates $27 million to OC children's hospital	CC	:09
1/21/2013	LAW	Compton hosts gun buyback to celebrate MLK Day	Palta	1:06
1/22/13	RELI	Archbishop Emeritus of Los Angeles Roger M. Mahoney has again apologized for his involvement over twenty years ago in concealing child molestation by priests from law enforcement, including keeping clergy out of California to avoid prosecution. Mahoney's apology came as his previously confidential correspondence from 1986 and 1987 recently became public evidence in a civil court case.	Harriet Ryan, Barbara Dorris	24:00:00
1/22/13	ECON	Tonight, the Glendale City Council will host a discussion regarding the fate of its gun show, which typically comes to town multiple times a year.	Paul Neuharth	7:00
1/22/13	ECON	With the constant fear of rising tuition costs, some college students are seeking alternate methods to pay for their tuition and living expenses.	Brandon Wade, Kathleen Barry	16:00
1/22/13	DIS	Should the federal government be responsible for disaster relief? Should states more prone to natural disaster pay more in taxes? What is the best way to implement relief – should it go hand in hand with spending cuts? If a Sandy-level event were to take place in California, how would you want it to be handled?	Barney Keller, Michele Dauber	23:00

1/22/13	FOR	Details have emerged in fits and starts from the messy siege in Algeria that ended Saturday.	Martha Crenshaw, Mark R. Jacobson	15:00
1/22/13	SCI	On Wednesday, JPL will release a new documentary titled "The Changing Face of Mars." Today on AirTalk, we invite the creator of the movie, Blaine Baggett to discuss JPL's exploration of Mars over the years, as well as any exciting new developments being found.	Blaine Baggett	11:00
1/22/13	EDU	Bilingual immersion programs have been growing exponentially in California. You can find a public school that teach Spanish, German, French and even Hmong. For the first of our three-part series on language immersion, KPCC's Deepa Fernandes, takes you on a tour of some of Southern California's bilingual schools.	Deepa Fernandes	7:46
1/22/13	RELI	Newly released documents show Retired Cardinal Roger Mahoney and other high-ranking officials in the diocese stymied police investigations of alleged abuse.	Victoria Kim	-
1/22/13	TECH	This past weekend, MEGA - a new file storage website - made its debut. This wouldn't be all that exciting if it weren't for the site's creator - a man known as Kim Dotcom. His last venture, a website called Megaupload, was shut down for hosting pirated copyrighted material. And Dotcom has since been caught up in an international criminal investigation. Charles Graeber joins Barbara Bogaev with an update on the story. He profiled Dotcom for WIRED magazine in October.	Charles Graeber	-
1/22/13	YOUT	Developments in neuroscience have led the Supreme Court to reconsider minors' culpability, but that science isn't finding its way into juvenile courts.	Lauren Osen	3:58
1/22/13	TRAV	Lots of changes are underway for when you take flight.	Patrick Smith	-
1/22/13	YOUT	In the new memoir "The Heavy," Dara-Lynn Weiss writes about her efforts to help her seven-year-old daughter lose weight. The book follows a controversial article Weiss wrote for Vogue magazine.	Dara-Lynn Weiss	-
1/22/13	ECON	PBS' Frontline looks at why the government has been unable to criminally convict any Wall Street executives for their alleged role in the housing crisis.	Martin Smith	-
1/22/2013	ECON	Mikawaya, the maker of mochi ice cream, will launch a new line of ice cream products	Lee	4:03
1/22/2013	ENV	LA City Council questions rooftop solar program	Peterson	1:17
1/22/2013	IMM	Arizona lawmakers are part of a bipartisan Senate group working on immigration reform	O'Dowd	3:53
1/22/2013	SAC	Democrat supermajority changes focus on "swing votes"	CC	:06
1/22/2013	SPOR	Sacramento team looks like it may move to Seattle	Quinton	:51
1/22/2013	DIS	Fourteen people hurt after apartment fire in San Pedro	CC	:12
1/22/2013	POLI	Glendale City Council to discuss a ban on gun shows at Tuesday evening meeting	Watt	:43
1/22/2013	ENT	More women work behind the camera in independent films than Hollywood productions	CC	:17
1/22/2013	LAW	New study counters law enforcement perception that they're constantly dealing with parolees and probationers	Palta	:49
1/22/2013	ECON	PBS Frontline documentary investigates Wall Street	CC	:18
1/22/2013	ECON	PBS Frontline documentary investigates Wall Street	CC	:21
1/22/2013	DIS	LAFD investigators treating San Pedro fire as "criminal" in nature	CC	:13
1/22/2013	DC	No sweeping climate change bill expected	CC	:11
1/22/2013	LAW	LA County District Attorney's office to review newly released records on priest abuse	CC	:12
1/22/2013	DC	No sweeping climate change bill expected	Felde	:59
1/22/2013	ENER	Federal nuclear officials will meet in Orange County to talk about restarting San Onofre plant	CC	:15

1/22/2013	EDU	A tour of language immersion schools in Southern California; first of three parts of Bilingual Language series	Fernandes	4:00
1/22/2013	DC	House hearing on mental health and guns	CC	:23
1/22/2013	ECON	Deep Space Industries announces plans for asteroid harvesting by small spacecraft	CC	:18
1/22/2013	HEAL	In one of the largest study of its kind, Kaiser Permanente is finding a spike in ADHD among its young patients	O'Neill	:51
1/22/2013	HEAL	Study finds substance use up among children and siblings of those deployed in the military	O'Neill	:54
1/22/2013	IMM	Arizona under pressure to reverse driver's license decision on young undocumented immigrants	Joffe	:56
1/22/2013	IMM	Immigrant rights rally in San Diego	Orr	:41
1/22/2013	ENER	LA City Council decides not to block rooftop solar program	Peterson	:51
1/22/2013	ECON	Deep Space Industries announces plans for asteroid harvesting by small spacecraft	Watt	:57
1/22/2013	ENV	Southern California hit recordbreaking winter temperatures	CC	:10
1/22/2013	EDU	Cal State wants a quarter billion more than in Governor Brown's budget	CC	:12
1/22/2013	LAW	40th anniversary of Roe v. Wade decision	CC	:11
1/22/2013	RELI	Possible implications of release of thousands of documents identifying Catholic priests accused of child molestation	Guidi	3:54
1/22/2013	DC	House hearing on preventing gun violence	CC	:21
1/23/13	POLI	The reelection of recently inaugurated President Obama is a telltale sign of a greater shift in perspective among Americans on many issues including immigration policy. A newly released poll conducted by Associated Press-GfK indicates that 6 in 10 Americans now support allowing illegal immigrants to eventually become United States citizens, a significant increase driven by a turn in many Republicans' positions since the 2012 elections. A majority in the GOP - 53 percent - now favor blazing a more inclusive trail toward citizenship. That's a 22 percent increase from 2010. The Republicans' shift in their approach to immigration policy comes as the GOP seeks to increase its lackluster support among Latino voters, who rallied behind President Obama in November. In his inaugural speech on Monday, Obama declared, "Our journey is not complete until we find a better way to welcome the striving, hopeful immigrants who still see America as a land of opportunity; until bright young students and engineers are enlisted in our workforce rather than expelled from our country." Moreover, David Axelrod, one of Obama's top advisors, stated on Monday that immigration reform will be a high priority for the Obama administration that will be prompted early on during the president's second term. Why has such a significant shift in immigration ideology among Republicans happened so fast? Is the GOP simply pandering to Latino voters for their support or has a more comprehensive understanding of immigration needs been adopted? What kinds of real and enduring changes in immigration policy might we see over the next four years?	Mark Lopez, Dan Judy	14:00

1/23/13	LIT	Although General Stanley A. McChrystal may want to be known for enacting a counterinsurgency doctrine that changed the war in Afghanistan, the public may remember him more for his success in being part of the task force that captured Saddam Hussein and the accusations of insubordination that forced his resignation. In his new book, McChrystal tells his side of the story. "My Share of the Task: A Memoir by General Stanley A. McChrystal" is not McChrystal's outlet for criticizing government and the military, nor does it attempt to vindicate his highly publicized statements in "Rolling Stone." Rather, he simply tells his story and attempts to personalize the soldiers fighting in the war. McChrystal details how he grew up in a military family and then spent six years as Commander of a special operations task force in Iraq. He remembers some of the thousands of raids, explaining how creating a network between different departments led to greater intelligence that quickened their operating speed. In 2009, McChrystal became the Commander of the NATO coalition in Afghanistan and took on the task of changing public distrust toward the government and the war. In addition, he had to convince the leaders of 37 countries, as well as over 100,000 troops, that the war could be won by counterinsurgency methods of effective communication rather than brute force.	General Stanley A. McChrystal	15:00
1/23/13	HEAL	Last week, George Taylor was given a two-day jail sentence and three years probation for killing his wife, Gwynn. The couple, both in their 80's and with unspecified medical problems, had wanted to die together. After suffocating his wife with a plastic bag, Taylor attempted to do the same to himself, but failed. He pleaded guilty to the felony of assisted suicide. The outcome was the result of leniency on the part of both the prosecutor and the judge – and it's not an isolated case. There have been several recent instances of elderly people who made their wish to die known, and were aided in carrying out that wish by spouses, friends, or family members. Although doctor-assisted suicide is allowed in three states, California is not one of them; ending a life is clearly against the law. Yet assisted-suicide cases rarely come to trial. Prosecutors, feeling that jurors will be sympathetic to, say, a grieving, elderly person who has helped an ailing spouse to end his or her suffering, prefer to bring lesser charges.	Robert Weisberg	17:00

1/23/13	SPOR	The family of deceased NFL linebacker Junior Seau sued the NFL today for “acts or omissions” about the danger of repetitive blows to the head that led to Seau’s chronic traumatic encephalopathy (CTE) and ultimately his suicide. Seau’s family is accusing the NFL of deliberately concealing the consequences of traumatic brain injuries, and this isn’t the first accusation made to the NFL. In fact, the Associated Press reported over 3,800 players have sued the NFL over head injuries. The Seaus are also suing the helmet manufacturer Riddell and calling the company “negligent.” Does the NFL promote violence in the game? Do football players know the risks involved when they sign up to play? Can these lawsuits change the way American football is played?	Jody Armour, David Orentlicher	14:00
1/23/13	SPOR	Reportedly, the Dodgers have agreed to a deal with Time Warner Cable for the team’s television contract. As a result, the Dodgers will now get its own channel, akin to the setup the Lakers have after their deal with Time Warner Cable last year. The specifics of the deal aren’t yet known—it has yet to be sent to the MLB for approval—but it is expected to land somewhere between $6 and $7 billion. Previously, the Dodgers had a deal with Fox Sports, but Time Warner Cable came into the conversation when an exclusive negotiating window with Fox expired. Time Warner Cable now has television deals with the Lakers and the Dodgers, both of which were previously with Fox Sports. So what does this mean for Los Angeles Dodgers fans? How has the Lakers deal with Time Warner Cable played out? Can we expect to see more of the same in this deal? What does it mean for the team, and for local television?	Bill Shaikin, Jon Weisman	17:00
1/23/13	HIST	Can you imagine Los Angeles with a series of interconnected public parks? With major freeways cutting through canyons and hills? In an upcoming exhibit at Los Angeles’ A+D Architecture and Design Museum, co-curators Sam Lubell and Greg Goldin explore a version of L.A. that was imagined, but never built. “Never Built: Los Angeles” will showcase skyscrapers and hilltop museums from famed architects that didn’t make it into the city’s skyline and will explore how the envisioned works might have changed L.A. – for good or bad. What do you think of Los Angeles architecture? Would the city be better with more skyscrapers or more interconnected roads and public transportation? Could any of the imagined architecture be ruinous to Los Angeles lifestyle or culture? What would you change or keep the same? A+D curators Lubell and Goldin join Larry to discuss their upcoming exhibit and the architecture that could have transformed Los Angeles.	Sam Lubell, Greg Goldin	16:00
1/23/13	HEAL	A U.S. Court of Appeals ruled that marijuana should continue to be classified as a schedule-one drug, meaning it has no medical value and the potential for abuse is high.	Tony Dokoupil	5:47
1/23/13	LAW	The Pentagon is reportedly planning to step up its training of Mexican security forces, with a goal to teach them to pursue the cartels the same way U.S. went after Al-Qaida. We’ll speak to Ioan Grillo, author of the book “El Narco.”	Ioan Grillo	6:49

1/23/13	EDU	Bilingual immersion programs are growing in popularity all over California, but are there actual benefits to programs that teach multiple languages at the elementary level?	Deepa Fernandes	5:54
1/23/13	ART	California's cheese makers have benefited from milk prices lower than the federal level, but the state's dairy farmers say they can't sustain the low prices any longer.	-	6:21
1/23/13	EDU	We all want our kids to eat healthier, but no matter how much you try to fill their lunch box with organic, whole grain whatever, it won't do much good if your kids aren't eating it.	Adolfo Guzman-Lopez	3:00
1/23/13	ENV	Whale watchers off the Southern California coast saw a lot more than they expected when a chartered boat descended on a large pod of 23 gray whales, which usually travel alone or in groups of two or three as they migrate.	-	6:15
1/23/13	IMM	Fronteras Desk reporter Jill Replogle takes a look at what legalization might mean for one industry with a high percentage of undocumented immigrant workers.	Jill Replogle	4:38
1/23/13	POLI	President Obama has made gun control a priority, and he'll expect Majority leader Harry Reid to champion legislation in the Senate. But there's just one problem, Reid has portrayed himself in the past as a supporter of gun rights.	Jon Ralston	7:14
1/23/13	ART	Petra Haden's latest acapella album "Petra Goes to the Movies" features this LA vocalist singing famous film scores.	Petra Haden	11:29
1/23/13	HOUS	The real estate listing site Redfin recently released its list of the 10 most "up-and-coming" neighborhoods, and as no surprise to many, California dominated. So what does that mean for home buyers? We'll speak to KPCC's business reporter Matt DeBord.	Matt DeBord	6:10
1/23/13	TRAV	Karen Alpert is the brains behind the parenting blog, Baby Sideburns. This week she's back to talk about the dark side of being a parent, and why we shouldn't be afraid of the minivan	Karen Alpert	5:19
1/23/13	SPOR	Researchers at UCLA have discovered a groundbreaking new development in the area of brain trauma. Brain scans performed on five former, but still living NFL players revealed clues to a specific type of football-related brain damage called CTE, or chronic traumatic encephalopathy.	Gary Small	7:02
1/23/13	ART	Ashok Rajamani's new books talks about the day he discovered he had arteriovenous malformation, or AVM, is a congenital brain injury that can cause seizures, strokes and severe neurological problems.	Ashok Rajamani	9:47
1/23/2013	ENV	LA River may open another section for recreational use	Peterson	:48
1/23/2013	IMM	Legalization of undocumented immigrants will have an effect on industry	Replogle	4:03
1/23/2013	LAW	40th anniversary of Roe v. Wade decision	Adler	:52
1/23/2013	SAC	Investors try to keep the NBA's Kings in Sacramento	CC	:06
1/23/2013	LAW	Oakland City Council voted to bring in Bill Bratton as a consultant	CC	:16
1/23/2013	POLI	Glendale City Council votes to move forward with banning gun sales on city property	CC	:11
1/23/2013	POLI	Glendale City Council votes to move forward with banning gun sales on city property	CC	:12
1/23/2013	ART	Letters from Los Angeles' exhibit featured at LA Art Show	CC	:11
1/23/2013	POLI	Gov Jerry Brown to strike different tone in State of State	Adler	:48
1/23/2013	POLI	Gov Jerry Brown to strike different tone in State of State	CC	:22
1/23/2013	ECON	As foreclosures in the Golden State decline, short sales pick up	DeBord	:43
1/23/2013	SPOR	Former football player's family sues league over brain injuries	CC	:15
1/23/2013	SPOR	Former football player's family sues league over brain injuries	CC	:13
1/23/2013	DC	House hearing on preventing gun violence	Felde	1:01
1/23/2013	ENT	A fire broke out early this afternoon at Univesal Studios, injuring one	CC	:22
1/23/2013	HOUS	Steve Cochrane says less foreclosures in CA means a housing recovery	CC	:13

1/23/2013	HOUS	Steve Cochrane says less foreclosures in CA means a housing recovery	CC	:09
1/23/2013	EDU	Last of three parts of Bilingual Language series: two Latino families' experiences in language immersion	Fernandes	4:00
1/23/2013	YOUT	Pepper spraying incident injures 20 students at Narbonne High School in Harbor City	CC	:14
1/23/2013	SPOR	Dodgers and Time Warner Cable proposal generates speculation	Watt	:57
1/23/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council will review contracts LAX gave to firms for public education	Walton	:58
1/23/2013	SAC	California's movers and shakers set top priorities for the year	Small	4:14
1/23/2013	MIL	Reaction to Secretary Leon Panetta lifting the ban on women in combat	Unknown	2:39
1/23/2013	MIL	Military women may serve in combat under Pentago rule change	CC	:14
1/23/2013	TRAN	Southland leaders to discuss jobs related to Crenshaw/LAX light rail line construction	Moore	1:02
1/23/2013	POLI	Criminal trial gets underway tomorrow for ex Bell City leaders	Moore	:48
1/23/2013	EDU	Azusa school innovates by on forefront of nutrition improvements by changing lunch-recess	Guzman	3:00
1/23/2013	POLI	Glendale City Council moves to ban gun shows	Watt	:34
1/23/2013	DIV	ACLU threatens state with lawsuit if it doesn't improve English learner services	CC	:23
1/23/2013	DIV	ACLU threatens state with lawsuit if it doesn't improve English learner services	Guzman	1:25
1/24/13	LAW	Defense Secretary Leon Panetta has announced officially that women will no longer be banned from front-line combat. On paper, women have been excluded since a 1994 Pentagon rule, but in practice tens of thousands have served in conflict. That fact sparked lawsuits by service women who were precluded from promotion without accredited combat experience.	Hal Kempfer, Ariela Migdal, Mr. Kingsley Browne,	31:00:00
1/24/13	TECH	The GenoDroid can instantly solve a paternity question or calculate the odds of you and a partner having a child with a genetic disease.	Gene Tsudik, Jeremy Gruber	17:00
1/24/13	ECON	In his State of the State today, Brown endorsed a $14 billion proposal that would modernize California's water distribution system.	Nancy Vogel, Barry Nelson,	13:00
1/24/13	TECH	Have you purchased any of these disappointing appliances and been let down by the technology? Have you seen them in use? What do you wish your appliances could do? Think outside the ice box.	Farhad Manjoo	18:00
1/24/13	ART	Peter Moruzzi tells about iconic mid-century restaurants in the U.S. and right here in Los Angeles. What's your favorite classic watering hole? Which bygone haunts do you miss the most, and why?	Peter Moruzzi	17:00
1/24/13	SAC	California Governor Jerry Brown delivered his third State of the State address since he's taken office. His speech outlined an ambitious and optimistic policy agenda for California.	Julie Small, Adolfo Guzman Lopez and Daniel Schnur	10:47
1/24/13	EDU	All week we've been looking into bilingual immersion programs. In her final report, KPCC's Deepa Fernandes profiles two Latino families who tried bilingual education with vastly different results.	Deepa Fernandes	5:58
1/24/13	IMM	Many conservatives see the 11 million undocumented immigrants in the U.S. as clear evidence that border protection is failing. They argue that before the immigration system can be reformed, the border needs to be secured.	Michel Marizco	4:16
1/24/13	SPOR	The Lakers have lost 10 of their last 12 games and this morning, found themselves closer to last place than a playoff spot with less than half the season left to play.	Andy Kamenetsky	5:39

1/24/13	POLI	The city councilwoman has represented the Ninth District since 2001. She's hoping that 2013 is the year she becomes mayor of Los Angeles.	Alice Walton	4:23
1/24/13	POLI	Take Two's ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles. This week, KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton talk about the leading candidates for mayor and the upcoming mayoral debates.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	12:20
1/24/13	MIL	It's a landmark moment for women in the military. Defense Secretary Leon Panetta on Thursday is expected to formally announce that he's lifting the ban on women in combat. The move will open up hundreds of thousands more front-line jobs to women, and allow female soldiers already on the front lines to receive recognition for their service.	Mary Jennings Hegar	9:07
1/24/13	FOR	Two people from Orange County recently traveled to the Syrian border to carry supplies and money to refugees. One of them has been there seven times in a year.	Ben Bergman	3:56
1/24/13	EDU	A former 4th grade teacher at George de La Torre Elementary school was arrested yesterday and charged with 15 counts of "committing lewd acts and continual sexual abuse of numerous students.	Brian Watt	5:05
1/24/13	LAW	The massacre at Sandy Hook Elementary school in Newtown, Connecticut has opened a new national dialogue about guns and gun violence. In some communities people are trying to push the idea that gun violence is a public health emergency.	Mina Kim	4:30
1/24/2013	IMM	Conservatives want to secure the border before reforming immigration system	Marizco	4:16
1/24/2013	MIL	Pentagon poised to lift ban on combat service for women	Whatley	2:00
1/24/2013	LAW	Fourth grade teacher arrested on accusations of molesting students	CC	:20
1/24/2013	POLI	A profile of Los Angeles mayoral candidate Jan Perry	Walton	4:24
1/24/2013	OC	Two Orange County residents travel to Syria to bring supplies and money to refugees	Bergman	3:57
1/24/2013	HIST	California Hall of Fame inductees	Adler	:46
1/24/2013	EDU	Former LAUSD fourth grade teacher charged with sexually abusing 20 students	CC	:08
1/24/2013	EDU	Former LAUSD fourth grade teacher charged with sexually abusing 20 students	CC	:06
1/24/2013	ENV	Rain to continue in SoCal through Saturday	CC	:13
1/24/2013	EDU	Jerry Brown addresses college tuition increase in his California 'state of the state' address	CC	:21
1/24/2013	EDU	Parent of kindergarten student at George De La Torre expressed frustration after Pimental arrest	CC	:14
1/24/2013	POLI	Republicans respond fairly positively to CA Governor Jerry Brown's SOS	CC	:03
1/24/2013	POLI	Republicans respond fairly positively to CA Governor Jerry Brown's SOS	CC	:14
1/24/2013	DIV	Latest analysis of Latino electorate says California will be majority Latino by end of year	CC	:21
1/24/2013	DIV	Latest analysis of Latino electorate says California will be majority Latino by end of year	Guidi	1:05
1/24/2013	TRAN	Metro: New express lanes will open in February along San Bernardino Freeway	CC	:14
1/24/2013	POLI	Opening statements begin in Bell City corruption case	Moore	:44
1/24/2013	DC	CA Democrat forms task force on climate change	Felde	:58
1/24/2013	DC	CA Democrat forms task force on climate change	CC	:19
1/24/2013	EDU	Parent of kindergarten student at George De La Torre expressed frustration after Pimental arrest	CC	:37
1/24/2013	POLI	Senator Feinstein introduced assault gun ban	CC	:11
1/24/2013	EDU	Attorney representing Miramonte families says LAUSD is not protecting children	CC	:20
1/24/2013	EDU	Last of three parts of Bilingual Language series: two Latino families' experiences in language immersion	Fernandes	3:57
1/24/2013	POLI	CA Gov Brown calls for fiscal discipline, major investments in State of the State	Adler	:46

1/24/2013	EDU	Former teacher pleads not guilty to charges of molesting 20 children, one adult	CC	:19
1/24/2013	SEC	More drugs were seized at San Diego and Imperial County border crossings last year than anywhere else in the nation	Replogle	1:15
1/24/2013	SAC	Water sellers hold key to Governor's plan to build water tunnels	Small	2:35
1/24/2013	EDU	Teacher held under suspicion of molesting 20 children, one adult	Aguilar	4:23
1/24/2013	POLI	Attorneys pitch opening statements in "Bell 6" corruption trial	Moore	1:54
1/24/2013	EDU	Governor uses speech as pep talk on education reforms	Guzman	:46
1/25/13	EDU	The U.S. Department of Education clarified today that K-12 schools cannot exclude students with disabilities from after-school athletics and clubs. Officials explained that they are not looking to change sports teams, but "reasonable modifications" need to be implemented for disabled students who can compete with their classmates. For example, if a deaf runner wanted to compete in track and field, schools could use a visual cue instead of a starter pistol. Some schools have already made modifications.	Terri Lakowski, Bob Gardner, Bev Vaughn	18:00
1/25/13	LAW	How did public nudity become a thing in San Francisco? Why is it so important to these activists? Do you view it as a First Amendment right? Does someone else's nudity interfere with your privacy or safety - as the ordinance states?	Christina DiEduardo, Eugene Volokh,	14:00
1/25/13	LAW	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics to review the week's new film releases including Parker, Tabu, John Dies at the End, Knife Fight and more. Peter Rainer from the Christian Science Monitor checks in to share the latest updates from the Sundance Film Festival. TGI-FilmWeek!	Michael Vogler, Steve Madison	16:00
1/25/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics to review the week's new film releases including Parker, Tabu, John Dies at the End, Knife Fight and more. Peter Rainer from the Christian Science Monitor checks in to share the latest updates from the Sundance Film Festival. TGI-FilmWeek!	Andy Klein, Lael Loewenstein, Peter Rainer	31:00:00
1/25/13	ENT	Today, Tom Hooper stops by the studio to sit down with Larry Mantle and discuss the making of his new film "Les Miserables," and why he chose to undertake such an ambitious project. The film has been positively received thus far, and won three Golden Globes: Best Comedy or Musical, Best Supporting Actress and Best Actor in a Comedy or Musical.	Tom Hooper	17:00
1/25/13	FOR	In his State of the State address, California Governor Jerry Brown announced he's going on a trade and investment mission to China this spring. But just how are the two economies linked? And what does Brown has in mind for strengthening ties? We'll find out.	-	8:53
1/25/13	LAB	Union membership is at a 97-year low. In the past year, their ranks fell to just over 11 percent of the workforce nationally, with sharp drops in places like Wisconsin and Indiana. And, as you may remember, those states had some pretty dramatic political standoffs over unions.	Harley Shaiken	7:26
1/25/13	LAW	It's time for Friday Flashback! A round up of this week's biggest stories. On tap this week are Christina Bellantoni the political editor for the PBS Newshour and James Rainey, political columnist for the LA Times.	Christina Bellantoni and James Rainey	13:17
1/25/13	ECON	Come Sunday, the price of a first-class stamp is also going to increase, from 45 cents to 46. Yes, just one penny, but still. Joining us now is Ken Martin, executive director of American Philatelic Society, the world's largest stamp collectors organization.	Ken Martin	4:45

1/25/13	ECON	What are we going to call the Charles Shaw brand wine now that Trader Joes has increased its price from a reasonable $1.99 to a whopping $2.49?	Meghan McCarty	5:10
1/25/13	SPOR	Kobe Bryant, Peyton Manning - those guys are old news. Today, we're ignoring the NBA drama and the Pro Bowl hype, and taking a look at the other biggest stars in sports - people like Gretchen Bleiler, Tucker Hibbert and Shaun White.	Brandon Graham	5:30
1/25/13	LAW	The Oakland city council has hired Bill Bratton to develop a plan to bring down the city's violent crime rate. Bratton has led police departments in Los Angeles, New York and Boston.	Bill Bratton	4:49
1/25/13	IMM	It's gotten a lot more complicated in recent years to hire undocumented workers -- and that's especially true in a state like Arizona, which mandates strict hiring practices. Workplace enforcement will be a part of the upcoming debate over immigration reform.	Jude Joffe-Block	4:09
1/25/13	ART	Art has a way of redefining public spaces, particularly those marked by hardship or violence. That's what drew photographer Stefan Falke to the US-Mexico border. He's capturing the work of artists in this region for a project he calls "La Frontera.	Mónica Ortiz Uribe	4:10
1/25/13	HEAL	The Fountain of Youth may seem like it's at your grocery store.	Melinda Wenner Moyer	5:17
1/25/13	YOUT	After 25 years, LA Youth newspaper is closing down, and current and former writers are devastated.	Jazmine Mendoza and Andrea Domanick	2:40
1/25/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show. On tap this week, a house in France for a Euro! One catch: it may have ghosts.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	5:30
1/25/2013	LAW	What's behind the rise in gun sales over the past decade	Palta	3:50
1/25/2013	OC	The Anaheim Ducks face the Vancouver Canucks in their home opener Friday night	Bergman	1:01
1/25/2013	HEAL	USC researchers find there's a reason we tend to stare at those different from us	O'Neill	2:07
1/25/2013	POLI	Gov Brown spoke on ACA, high speed rail, and then veered off-script	CC	:11
1/25/2013	POLI	Gov Brown spoke on ACA, high speed rail, and then veered off-script	CC	:02
1/25/2013	ART	2013 Coachella lineup announced	CC	:05
1/25/2013	ART	2013 Coachella lineup announced	CC	:07
1/25/2013	POLI	LA Mayor less powerful than other cities, but hardly powerless	Stoltze	4:14
1/26/13	ART	Director Morgan Neville tells the story of backup singers in the documentary 20 Feet from Stardom, which became the first film to sell at Sundance 2013. Off-Ramp contributor and documentarian Ray Greene talked with Neville at Sundance soon after the director heard the good news that The Weinstein Company will be screening the film in theaters.	RH Greene / Morgan Neville	8:45
1/26/13	HEAL	Off Ramp host, John Rabe, speaks to his siblings about his brother's kidney transplant and about his sister's willingness to be a donor.	John Rabe, James Rabe, Joan Rabe	10:03
1/26/13	LIT	Mike Roe speaks to Marvel Comics writer Sam Humphries about his new comic which takes place in Los Angeles, "Uncanny X-Force."	Mike Roe / Sam Humphries	2:44
1/26/13	SCI	In the year of nylon's 75th anniversary, Marc Haefelee remembers the creator of the fiber who is rarely recognized perhaps because of his suicide, Wallace Carothers. Matthew Hermes, who works at Clemson, wrote a biography about Carothers called "Enough for One Lifetime."	Marc Haefelee	4:32

1/26/13	ART	Cannibalism is the theme of the third MexiCali Biennial at Vincent Price Museum. John Rabe speaks to the curators about the art and artists being featured from Mexico and California.	John Rabe, Ed Gomez, Luis Hernandez, Amy Pederson	4:07
1/26/13	SPOR	Marathon Crasher is a book released on Kindle about Merry Lepper, the first American woman to run a marathon.	John Rabe, David Davis, Merry Lepper, Lyn Carman	6:47
1/26/13	I	Jeanne Cooper, the 83 year old star of "The Young and The Restless" tells John Rabe about her new memoir "Not Young, Still Restless."	John Rabe / Jeanne Cooper	7:17
1/27/2013	TRAN	Metro and Metrolink find solution to rider transfer issue	CC	:10
1/27/2013	ENV	Yes, Virginia - human activity DOES affect climate	Peterson	:52
1/27/2013	TRAN	Metro hosted the last of three public forums on whether to extend the 710 freeway or create other transportation options in the area	CC	:13
1/27/2013	SCI	Anniversary of both space shuttle accidents this week	CC	:13
1/28/13	IMM	Eight leading senators have reached a consensus proposal for immigration reform that allows a path to citizenship for the 11 million illegal immigrants in the United States, as long as they pay back taxes, a fine and pass a background check. Meanwhile, how will Obama and the House of Representatives respond?	Steven Camarota, Angelica Salas, Doyle McManus	32:00:00
1/28/13	DC	Senator John Kerry signaled a possible change of policy on the use of drones. His comments came on the heels of a United Nations announcement of launching an investigation into U.S. and U.K. drone strikes at the request of Pakistan and two unidentified permanent members of the U.N. Security Council. The investigation could change U.N. resolutions on drone strikes.	Danya Greenfield, Bill Roggio	16:00
1/28/13	GEND	How could transgender rights change in the next four years, socially and politically? What kind of federal legislation might feasibly pass? Should gender identity discrimination be handled on a national level, or by individual states?	Shannon Minter, Ilya Shapiro	15:00
1/28/13	SAC	If an unexpected disaster of the magnitude of Hurricane Katrina or Superstorm Sandy hit populated areas of California, would we be ready?	Alex Padilla, Douglas Given	16:00
1/28/13	MEDI	It's awards season in Hollywood, but celebrities aren't the only ones passing around golden statues. These days, you're likely to see awards given out in every industry under the sun, from best closet organizer to longest beard.	Troy Halsey, Beth A. Livingston	16:00
1/28/13	IMM	Immigration reform is getting its moment in the sun. In just a couple of hours, a bi-partisan group of Senators nicknamed "the gang of eight" will unveil their proposal for overhauling the nation's immigration policies.	Fawn Johnson and Angela Maria Kelley	8:46
1/28/13	POLI	With public opinion of Congress at an all-time low, the group No Labels says it's "dedicated to promoting a new politics of problem solving."	Kitty Felde	4:07
1/28/13	ECON	After just 8 months on the job, San Bernardino's acting city manager is leaving. The Finance Director is rumored to be right behind her. They are two big blows to a city limping through bankruptcy court.	Lauren Osen	3:15
1/28/13	LAW	Gun violence will be the focus of a joint hearing at the California state capitol on Tuesday. California lawmakers have previously looked at banning certain weapons or limiting ammunition.	Mina Kim	4:04
1/28/13	ENT	L.A. Times film writer Rebecca Keegan joins the show to discuss the latest industry news coming out of Hollywood.	Rebecca Keegan	8:28
1/28/13	ART	Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison, Dad in the garage with his tool box. America is a country known for it's tinkerers, people with a passion for fixing, improving and inventing useful objects.	Alec Foegel	7:36

1/28/13	LAB	The immigration reform plan being proposed later today calls for legislation to help the agricultural industry find more workers. Some say that the nation's current guest worker program makes it hard to bring in foreign workers. Adrian Florido from the Fronteras Desk reports.	Adrian Florido	4:19
1/28/13	IMM	Throughout the country, about 32,000 immigrant detainees are living behind bars, with no legal right to a visit from family or friends. Most of them have no legal representation at all.	Rex Dalton	7:57
1/28/13	POLI	The last time Congress tried to pass comprehensive immigration reform was in 2007, and that was, well, a failure. Many of the measures proposed that time around are resurfacing, now, in a new plan, but under a much different political environment.	Lisa Garcia-Bedolla	9:08
1/28/13	LIT	Jane Austen's classic novel "Pride and Prejudice" turns 200 today. What makes this piece of literature still relevant two centuries since its first publication?	Audrey Bilger	7:31
1/28/13	LIT	The Newbery and Caldecott medal winners were announced today. They're the equivalent of Pulitzer prizes for children's books.	Pulitzer	5:30
1/28/2013	HEAL	A special legislative session to deal with health care begins today in Sacramento	CC	:16
1/28/2013	IE	San Bernardino city searching for new city manager	Osen	3:17
1/28/2013	TRAN	Metro and Metrolink find solution to rider transfer issue	CC	:14
1/28/2013	ECON	The giant pension fund is about to get back to even...	DeBord	:34
1/28/2013	HEAL	Special session on health care starts in Sacramento	CC	:16
1/28/2013	ECON	Winmakr Corp. said it plans to open five more stores in the San Gabriel Valley in the next few years	Lee	:33
1/28/2013	ENT	Fruitvale wins Grand Jury Prize and Audience Award at 2013 Sundance Film Fest	Jahad	:55
1/28/2013	LAW	Senator Feinstein and the Senate Judiciary Committee take up the issue of gun control this week	Jahad	:46
1/28/2013	POLI	Candidates for LA Mayor meet tonight in a live TV debate at UCLA	Stoltze	1:15
1/28/2013	OC	Federal regulators have pushed back the date when they could have a decision on whether to restart the San Onofre nuclear plant	Bergman	:59
1/28/2013	LAB	Farmers want an immigration reform bill to fix their labor shortage	Florido	4:17
1/28/2013	ENV	Endangered species have taken up residence in an unlikely spot	Hamilton	4:59
1/28/2013	ENT	Argo won highest award at SAG Awards	CC	:08
1/28/2013	ENER	Gas prices inched up over the weekend	CC	:10
1/28/2013	ECON	Dodgers tickets go on sale Saturday with a new pricing scheme	Watt	:50
1/28/2013	SPOR	Dodgers announce launch of TV network for 2014	CC	:17
1/28/2013	LIT	The Newberry and Caldecott Awards for children's literature were announced today	CC	:07
1/28/2013	OBIT	Funk frontman Leroy "Sugarfoot" Bonner dies at 69	CC	:08
1/28/2013	IMM	President and Congress float immigration reform plans	CC	:22
1/28/2013	IMM	President and Congress float immigration reform plans	CC	:26
1/28/2013	LAW	An autopsy report shows man fatally shot seven times in the back by sheriff's deputies	CC	:08
1/28/2013	ENV	Greenhouse gas market rules can stand, judge determines	Peterson	:48
1/28/2013	ENV	Lawmaker introduces quake early warning system bill	CC	:24
1/28/2013	LAW	Arsonist sentenced to death for death in 2003 Old Fire	Roman	:56
1/28/2013	IMM	The Senate has announced a comprehensive reform plan, but reaction is mixed, as are its chances for success	CC	:25
1/28/2013	ECON	Dodgers tickets go on sale Saturday with a new pricing scheme	Watt	1:01
1/28/2013	LAW	Shooter kills near Hoag Hospital	CC	:11
1/28/2013	POLI	CA senator wants quake warning system	Moffitt	:39

1/28/2013	IMM	The Senate has announced a comprehensive reform plan, but reaction is mixed, as are its chances for success	Berestein Rojas	2:03
1/28/2013	HEAL	State lawmakers met for a special legislative session on health care	CC	:14
1/28/2013	SAC	State lawmakers to tackle Medi-Cal expansion - but not the cost	Small	1:33
1/28/2013	LAW	A new autopsy report shows a man was shot by sheriff's deputies seven times in the back	Walton	1:02
1/28/2013	LAW	Shooter kills near Hoag Hospital	CC	:14
1/28/2013	ENT	Kevin Tsujihara named CEO of Warner Brothers	Watt	:41
1/29/13	LGB	The Boy Scouts of America may lift its ban on gay members and leaders as early as next week. The BSA reaffirmed its prohibition of homosexuals in July 2012 and has since come under fire for what many consider to be outdated and discriminatory policies. The Scout's national board will discuss reforms to the ban next week as part of what they say has been an ongoing dialogue.	Rabbi Sarah Hronsky, Peter Sprigg	21:00
1/29/13	POLI	The Service Employees International Union has yet to throw their weight behind a candidate but there are signs the nod will come soon; they've called Greuel and Garcetti back for a second interview, to be held this evening.	David Zahniser	6:00
1/29/13	IMM	Join us live as the nation awaits Obama's proposed legislation on immigration reform.	Josh Gerstein, David Grant	30:00:00
1/29/13	ENT	New Yorker writer Margaret Talbot opens the gates to 1930s Hollywood's in her new book "The Entertainer: Movies, Magic, and My Father's Twentieth Century." The memoir is a portrait of Talbot's father, actor Lyle Talbot, the titular entertainer.	Margaret Talbot	17:00
1/29/13	HEAL	Are we unknowingly harming our bodies by sitting too much? How damaging is lack of physical activity?	Christian K. Roberts	10:00
1/29/13	ECON	KPCC reporter Matt DeBord joins Larry to discuss the rise in home prices in Los Angeles. How will changes to the housing market affect you? Will this dissuade you from buying a home? Do investors throw off prices? How could this affect rentals?	Matt DeBord	7:00
1/29/13	POLI	President Obama travels to Las Vegas today to outline his proposals for changing the current immigration system. So what makes Vegas and the middle of the Mojave Desert the soapbox of choice for a seminal speech on immigration? Adam Burke from the Fronteras Desk explains.	Adam Burke	3:33
1/29/13	IMM	Democratic Congressman Xavier Becerra of the 34th District, which includes the Eastside of Los Angeles, joins the show to talk about his view of how Congress is handling the latest immigration reform effort.	Xavier Becerra	7:39
1/29/13	MIL	The 'Gang of Eight' immigration proposal has a number of elements that offer a path to legal residence for the millions of people here without documentation. But the plan calls for a pre-requisite: That the borders must first be secure.	Ander Becker	8:00
1/29/13	HEAL	Tucked away in Southern California neighborhoods, like Chino Hills, Rowland Heights and Hacienda Heights, are businesses known as maternity hotels. Women travel many miles, mostly from Asia, to reach these boarding houses where they can give birth to babies with automatic American citizenship.	Don Knabe	5:06
1/29/13	YOUT	Ten years ago, Alan Eckert was on the verge of earning the rank of Eagle Scout, but at the same time he was also coming to terms with his sexuality. Because of the policy against gays in the Boy Scouts of America, Eckert quit.	Alan Eckert	4:20
1/29/13	ECON	Warner Brothers CEO Barry Meyer is stepping down on March 1, and his successor has already been announced. Kevin Tsujihara, 48, will helm the company that brought characters like Porky Pig, Batman and Harry Potter to screens around the world.	Brooks Barnes	6:01
1/29/13	ECON	85°C, a Taiwan-based bakery and cafe, plans to add five more U.S. stores this year. The chain has stores in Irvine, West Covina and Hacienda Heights.	Wendy Lee	3:49

1/29/13	ART	Today, we're very excited to talk about a track you won't find on iTunes or Amoeba Records. It's an extra-special project from the L.A. based group, Ozomatli. Take Two's new theme song!	Asdru Sierra	3:49
1/29/13	POLI	The top five candidates reached their biggest audience yet last night as they participated in the first televised debate of the election. But politicians yearning for a fight may have been disappointed.	Frank Stoltze	8:23
1/29/13	POLI	In a primary with a low voter turnout, the candidate for LA mayor who wins the Jewish vote could win a place in the runoff election.	Sharon McNary	3:09
1/29/13	LAW	Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor visited the KPCC studios last week for an event at the Crawford Family Forum.	Patt Morrison, Sonia Sotomayor	10:37
1/29/13	SPOR	This Sunday in New Orleans, the Ravens and 49ers will play in Super Bowl XLVII. Aside from fame and glory, one of the perks of winning is a trip to the White House. President Obama is a big sports fan, routinely weighing in on a variety of sports stories.	David Jackson	7:53
1/29/13	SPOR	Many folks who will tune in to the Super Bowl this weekend will watch not only on a big screen TV, but also on a so-called second screen.	David Steinberg	7:43
1/29/2013	ECON	Taiwan-based bakery chain 85 Degrees C, the "Starbucks of Taiwan" expanding in SoCal	Lee	3:50
1/29/2013	LAW	First Latina on the Supreme Court praises her grandmother in new memoir	CC	:20
1/29/2013	POLI	How a traditionally liberal voting cohort may affect the next LA mayoral election	McNary	3:09
1/29/2013	POLI	LA mayoral hopefuls focus on city's economy in first televised debate	CC	:10
1/29/2013	POLI	LA mayoral hopefuls focus on city's economy in first televised debate	CC	:15
1/29/2013	IMM	President delivers immigration speech in Las Vegas	CC	:09
1/29/2013	ECON	The LA housing market is rebounding, but buyers should beware	DeBord	:43
1/29/2013	LAW	Backlash develops against "maternity hotels" for foreign women	CC	:14
1/29/2013	LAW	LA City Council posts $10,000 reward in shooting death of young teen	Devall	:42
1/29/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council votes to add a third medical marijuana measure to the May ballot	Walton	:43
1/29/2013	IMM	President addresses immigration reform	CC	:14
1/29/2013	HEAL	Local brand of pasta recalled for food label problem that could sicken some consumers	O'Neill	:39
1/29/2013	ENV	Snowfall is below average this year	Quinton	:47
1/29/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council votes to add a third medical marijuana measure to the May ballot	Walton	1:39
1/29/2013	HOUS	California lawmakers consider providing tax relief to homeowners forced into short sale	Russ	:48
1/29/2013	HOUS	California lawmakers consider providing tax relief to homeowners forced into short sale	CC	:17
1/29/2013	IMM	Activists gather in San Diego to watch Obama's immigration reform speech	Repogle	1:15
1/29/2013	POLI	Gun advocates appear before California legislature	CC	:13
1/29/2013	SAC	California to focus on seizing illegal guns from felons, mentally ill	Small	:52
1/29/2013	TECH	Man arrested for computer hacking and "sextortion"	CC	:17
1/30/13	FOR	Egypt President Mohamed Morsi has dismissed the violence and told reporters, "What is happening now in Egypt is natural in nations experiencing a shift to democracy," but as the bodies pile up and the calls for his ouster grow louder, what could be done to shift the course in Egypt?	Sherine Tadros, Heba Morayef	13:00
1/30/13	EDU	Starting next fall, the University of Wisconsin system is offering the first competency-based online degree program in the nation. This program, called the "UW Flexible Option," will allow adult students to earn a bachelor's by passing a series of assessments that determine competency in a field of study.	Aaron Brower, Barmak Nassirian	18:00

1/30/13	HEAL	In the pre-digital days it was okay to just stay home, eat chicken soup, curl up in bed and watch Andy Griffith reruns. Nobody expected you to do anything. But nowadays with our digital interconnection, we feel compelled to keep up with email, participate in conference calls, and work remotely.	David Couper	16:00
1/30/13	TECH	Blackberry rolls out two phone models today, the Z10 and Q10. But if these phones are not well received by consumers, Blackberry may be out of the smartphone game for good. Where do your Blackberry loyalties lie?	Andrea Chang	13:00
1/30/13	TECH	Does digital streaming mean physical copies of movies on DVD and blu-ray disc will go the way of the vinyl record?	Ryan Lawler, Amy Jo Smith	18:00
1/30/13	SCI	The common perception is that as time marches on, the human population will continue to rise. Advances in technology and health will lead to longer lives, and thus the Earth will be burdened by billions upon billions of hungry mouths to feed, both young and old. And not just food, but oil, land, water and other resources will be gobbled up until there isn't enough to go around.	Warren Sanderson, Phil Cafaro	17:00
1/30/13	LAW	This morning, the Senate Judiciary Committee is holding the first Congressional hearing on gun violence since the shooting in Newtown, Connecticut. Former Arizona Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords made the opening statement:	Dan Berman	8:32
1/30/13	IMM	Earlier this week, a group of senators, the so called Gang of Eight, unveiled their plans for immigration reform.	Patrick Egan	6:22
1/30/13	SPOR	This week Time Warner Cable announced a 25-year, $7 billion deal for a Dodgers baseball channel.	David Lazarus	6:16
1/30/13	TECH	As of January 26, it became illegal to unlock your cell phone, meaning that even if you own it outright, you can't alter the device to make it to work on another carrier without risking a fine.	Molly Wood	6:51
1/30/13	SCI	Coffee growers in Central America are facing a crisis due to coffee rust, a fungus that prevents the plant's leaves from going through photosynthesis.	John Vandermeer	5:46
1/30/13	ENV	We've heard a lot about immigration today but one of the other big issues President Obama pledged to tackle in his inaugural address is climate change. It's an important issue for California, which relies on heavy snow in the winter and abundant runoff in the spring to produce cheap energy.	Molly Samuel	4:28
1/30/13	SPOR	Professional surfer Garrett McNamara barreled down a behemoth wave off the coast of Nazaré, Portugal earlier this week, and some witnesses in his camp claim it was 100-feet high.	Chris Dixon	5:57
1/30/13	ECON	Economic growth shrank in the last quarter of 2012, according to a preliminary report by the Commerce Department. The nation's output of goods and services decreased slightly, after growing at an annual rate of more than three percent in the previous quarter.	Ryan Avent	6:20
1/30/13	TRAN	Just six months remain until California is set to break ground on its high speed rail project. A project with a price tag of more than $68 billion. The intensely debated plan would link San Diego to San Francisco by way of trains traveling up to 220 miles per hour.	Tim Sheehan	5:41
1/30/13	LAW	This week the State Department announced that their special envoy assigned to close the U.S. prison at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, has been reassigned. Some say its another sign that President Obama may not fulfill his campaign promise to close the base.	Carol Rosenberg	10:00
1/30/13	SPOR	This Sunday's Super Bowl is the first time in American sports history that brothers will compete for a championship as head coaches. On one side, we have John Harbaugh of the Baltimore Ravens, and on the other, his little brother Jim, with the San Francisco 49ers.	Brian and Andy Kamenetzky.	6:11

1/30/13	YOUT	Girls today face a lot of pressure: Be smart, popular and perfect while doing well in school, playing sports and volunteering. But too often they spend so much time meeting everyone else's expectations, which doesn't leave them much time for themselves.	Ana Homayoun	9:58
1/30/2013	ECON	The outlook for rental property development in California is bright...	DeBord	:47
1/30/2013	HEAL	Cases of the flu continue to rise throughout the Southland	O'Neill	2:38
1/30/2013	SPOR	San Francisco 49ers hope to win their sixth Super Bowl this Sunday in New Orleans	CC	:10
1/30/2013	LAW	Stanford is being sued by environmentalists	Samuel	1:03
1/30/2013	TRAN	La Cienega has reopened after a road closure	CC	:20
1/30/2013	POLI	SEIU leaders weigh who to endorse in LA mayor race	CC	:15
1/30/2013	OC	Prosecutors have charged a 75-year-old Lake Elsinore man with fatally shooting his doctor inside a Newport Beach medical office	Bergman	:38
1/30/2013	TT	Lawmakers weigh how to recognize same-sex couples for immigration purposes	CC	:13
1/30/2013	TECH	Blackberry maker changes name, unveils new devices	CC	:14
1/30/2013	IE	House may contain explosives = authorities checking	CC	:26
1/30/2013	POLI	A new survey finds California Governor Jerry Brown's approval rating is at a record high - and people approve of his budget plan	Russ	:50
1/30/2013	TRAN	Montebello-based Worlwide Aeros tests cargo airship of the future	Watt	:48
1/31/13	LAW	Are the emotional arguments in the gun control debate effective? In the wake of the Newtown school shooting, the U.S. push for gun safety reform has sparked passionate, emotional arguments from both sides of the debate. Testimony from grieving parents and frightened children has been cited in political discourse. President Obama read from the letters of schoolchildren in his speech about upcoming gun control legislation. Gun advocates have also approached the issue emotionally, with remembrances of heroic moments and elaborate stories about what could have happened differently if there were more armed "good guys." Perhaps the most stirring voice is that of former Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords, who was shot in the head during a political rally in Arizona in 2011. Yesterday, Giffords' Senate testimony called for immediate gun reform, and packed a heavy emotional punch. Are the impassioned pleas an effective part of the gun control debate? Politicians on both sides continue to discuss legislation, economics, and constitutional rights, but the slow-going nature of policy reform leaves plenty of room for interim theatrics. Sentimental arguments for and against gun control have been thrust into the limelight.	Tom Hollihan, Nancy Snow	14:00

1/31/13	SPOR	After many twists and turns, it looks like the Manti Te'o story is starting to become clear. First, he had a long-distance girlfriend who passed away after the death of his grandmother. Then, he comes out and says she wasn't real, at which other people are labeled as perpetuating a hoax against the football player. Now, the man who was behind it all is speaking out to provide his side of the story. In an interview with Dr. Phil, Ronaiah Tuiasosopo admitted to masterminding the plan because he was in love with Te'o. In an effort to get close to him, Tuiasosopo went so far as to create an online profile, establish a back story, and even use a woman's voice on the phone when talking to Te'o, which he did quite regularly. Now that everyone knows the what, people are asking, "Why?" What are the psychological aspects of this story? Why would someone create a fake profile and pretend to be someone else? How did Te'o fall for it, or sustain it? And what's next? Some are saying that Te'o has legitimate grounds to sue Tuiasosopo for online fraud. Could he have a case? If it went to court, how would a jury view Te'o's plight?	Michael McCann, Dr. Clark Smith	17:00
1/31/13	SPOR	You're born, and your life is great. Then, you get a little brother or sister and everything changes. Suddenly, time with the family is ripped between the two siblings. Toys must be shared. The television must be split between two pairs of eyeballs. Then you grow up and go to school. You have to live in your older brother's shadow, or worry about your younger counterpart tattling on you for doing something out of line. Everyone goes through the traditional sibling rivalry, and by the time you become an adult and start pursuing your own life, the conflict typically falls by the wayside. But not for John and Jim Harbaugh. Who cares about some adult brothers who are still going at it? Well, John and Jim are the coaches of the Baltimore Ravens and the San Francisco 49ers, respectively. And it just so happens that those two teams are competing in this year's Super Bowl. Winning this ultimate game would be the absolute pinnacle for any former athlete and professional coach. One of the brothers will win, and the other will lose, thus fueling an already likely sibling rivalry that will continue to go forward.	Dr. Jeanne Safer	17:00
1/31/13	SPOR	Last Thursday, at the Winter XGames in Grand Junction, Colorado, 25-year-old snowmobiler Caleb Moore failed to land a backflip on his snowmobile resulting in a gruesome crash which led ultimately to his death, which was announced by his family today. It's natural for athletes to compete at the highest levels possible, and in the extreme sports community a sense of one-ups-manship drives competitors to push the envelope of what is considered "make-able," but how far is too far? Do we now find extreme sports on a big enough stage that it's time to create commission to determine safety standards? Is it time to create laws in a community that's always prided itself on not playing by rules?	Lance Pugmire	14:00

1/31/13	LIT	Hollywood denizens know best that Scientology is at once celebrity-laden and secretive. Author Lawrence Wright tries to unfurl both in his controversial new book - so controversial it won't be published in the UK or Canada. This despite the fact Wright's unauthorized history of the church used prominent former church members, including Oscar-winning filmmaker Paul Haggis, as primary sources on the record. Wright cites reams of research in detailing the life of Scientology founder, L.Ron Hubbard, as well as 200 interviews with those close to the Church of Scientology who reveal unflattering, even frightening, accounts of the control the church wields over its members. In response, Scientology officials state, "The book is an error-filled, unsubstantiated, bigoted anti-Scientology book." They refer to Wright's atheism and call him bigoted. Yet Wright isn't alone in this assessment. So why did he pursue this subject? How does his research into Scientology compare to other religions Wright has focused on? What's his reaction to the accusations from Scientology representatives? And why does so much of this story come back to Hollywood?	Lawrence Wright	25:00:00
1/31/13	FOR	Israeli filmmaker Dror Moreh set out with an immodest proposal. He wanted on-camera interviews with all the former chiefs of Israel's secret service unit, Shin Bet, about the Palestinian-Israeli conflict. Somehow he pulled it off and secured lengthy, candid interviews with each of the six chiefs still alive. As Moreh explains, these were "the people with the power to shape history from behind the scenes. Living in the shadows, they have never spoken about their work in front of a camera before." Their perspective might surprise you. How did Moreh make it happen? How does he compare a history told by Shin Bet to a history told by political leaders and civilians on either side of the conflict? How has the documentary been received in Israel and the occupied Palestinian territories?	Dror Moreh	8:00
1/31/13	TECH	Yesterday, the Wall Street Journal reported computer systems in its Beijing bureau had been infiltrated by Chinese hackers. This came a day after The New York Times announced similar cyberattacks.	Rob Gifford	8:25
1/31/13	TECH	The Grey Lady isn't the only one hiring additional security experts... The Pentagon is also expanding its cybersecurity forces. Three years ago, the Defense Department created it's Cyber Command, a group tasked with defending critical computer systems as well as launching offensive cyber operations.	Pentagon	10:42
1/31/13	POLI	Last November, voters overwhelmingly approved Proposition 36, the measure that changed California's three strikes law to require that third strike be serious or violent felonies. It also allowed some of the inmates serving life sentences to have those sentences reduced.	Kenneth Corley	7:09

1/31/13	IE	Riverside/Ontario area now leads the nationThe in unemployment among large population centers. Riverside and San Bernardino both were at the top of a list of worst run cities, and a once-proud park in downtown San Bernardino has turned into an urban eyesore.	Matt DeBord	6:16
1/31/13	IE	San Bernardino County supervisors voted to end the emergency proclamation against the bark beetle, a pest that had been ravaging conifers trees in the County's forests for a decade.	Timothy Paine	6:17
1/31/13	ART	It's the last day of January. So, how's that New Year's resolution you made while when you were nursing your hangover going? Are you sticking to it?If you are like most of us, probably not so well.	Charles Duhigg	7:15
1/31/13	ART	Tonight at the UCB Theater in Hollywood, a group of TV writers will perform an 8-bit musical version of a "King of Kong," based on the 2007 documentary film.	Matthew Patrick Davis	8:09
1/31/13	TRAN	President Obama's Cabinet has no Latinos, which means LA's mayor could possibly get serious consideration to succeed Ray LaHood.	Frank Stoltze	4:42
1/31/13	POLI	While Villaraigosa considers a possible future in Washington, we now look at the latest in the fight to replace him as mayor of LA. It's time now for our weekly segment on local politics.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	9:01
1/31/13	ENER	One year ago today, a tube burst inside one the newly installed steam generators at the San Onofre Nuclear Power Plant. A tiny amount of radioactive steam was released, and the plant been closed ever since.	Ben Bergman	6:32
1/31/13	POLI	Looking for work? Here's a job description in Washington that piqued our interest:	Mikhail Carpenter	5:52
1/31/13	SCI	An engineering professor from our own backyard is heading to the White House. Dr. Solomon Golomb has spent the past 50 years teaching engineering at the University of Southern California.	Solomon Golomb	5:05
1/31/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:28
1/31/2013	POLI	Senators and Assembly members throw support behind federal immigration bill	CC	:12
1/31/2013	ECON	California no longer has the nation's worst credit rating!	Adler	:48
1/31/2013	TRAN	After Measure J defeat, LA Metro pushing ahead with other transit plans	Moore	2:22
1/31/2013	HEAL	New American Heart Association PSA battles number one killer of US women	O'Neill	2:45
1/31/2013	RELI	LA Archdiocese has released thousands of pages of priest personnel files	CC	:10
1/31/2013	HOUS	Southern California's homeless count continues tonight	CC	:33
1/31/2013	HOUS	Southern California's homeless count continues tonight	CC	:16
1/31/2013	HOUS	Southern California's homeless count continues tonight	CC	:16
1/31/2013	HEAL	Healthcare workers picket staff layoffs outside Glendale Memorial	CC	:12
1/31/2013	EDU	President Obama presents National Medal of Science to a USC professor	CC	:09
1/31/2013	LAW	Take Two talks to first man released under Proposition 36	CC	:16
1/31/2013	SPOR	Oscar winner joins chorus from attacked school at NFL championship. Is this a great country, or what?	CC	:26
1/31/2013	ECON	Southern California businesses spend millions of dollars to air their Super Bowl ads	Lee	2:00
1/31/2013	ECON	S&P upgrades California's bond rating from an A-minus to an A	CC	:16
1/31/2013	POLI	Democratic PAC picked Republican House targets for next year	Felde	1:18
1/31/2013	ECON	Super Bowl ads feed LA's commercial production and ad agency industry	Watt	1:25
1/31/2013	ENV	Regional regulators consider stricter pollution rules for the area's ports	Peterson	2:37
1/31/2013	HOUS	Counting the homeless in SoCal	Fox	2:31
1/31/2013	LAW	New charge from Orange County against former LAUSD teacher Pimental	Aguilar	1:04

2/1/13	EDU	Hear from a truly distinguished panel of higher educational leaders who represent the diversity of California's public higher education institutions.	Mark Yudof, Timothy Price, Brice Harris	47:00:00
2/1/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan and Charles Solomon to review the week's new film releases including Bullet to the Head, Girls Against Boys, Warm Bodies and more. Also Peter Rainer from the Christian Science Monitor dishes on the latest news from the Santa Barbara Film Festival. TGI-FilmWeek!	Tim Cogshell, Henry Sheehan, Charles Solomon, Peter Rainer	11:00
2/1/13	ENT	Naomi Watts talks with Larry about the physical and emotional demands of filming "The Impossible," the challenges portraying a real-life survivor of a tsunami and the close relationship she forged with the young actor who plays her son.	Naomi Watts	6:00
2/1/13	ENT	Starting Friday, February 8, the Downtown Independent Theatre is screening a documentary called Young Turks, which tells the story of the old arts scene.	Stephen Seemayer, Pamela Wilson	6:00
2/1/13	RELI	Los Angeles Archbishop Jose Gomez described the newly released personnel files of priests accused of child molestation as "brutal and painful" reading. The papers date back to the 1940s, and detail attempts by the church to shield known child abusers from law enforcement.	Thomas Doyle	14:54
2/1/13	ART	We'll talk about the week that was with our regular political roundtables. On tap this week, Molly Ball from the Atlantic and James Rainey from the Los Angeles Times.	Molly Ball and James Rainey	12:16
2/1/13	MIL	Yesterday, a jury in Oregon found Mohamed Mohamud guilty of trying to detonate a weapon of mass destruction. The 21-year-old Somali-American was arrested in November 2010 when he tried to set off what he believed to be a bomb at a popular tree lighting ceremony in Pioneer Square.	April Baer	5:41
2/1/13	OC	A two mile-plus stretch around Trestles beach has been known for decades as a world-class surfing spot. But is it historic? A panel will decide next week.	Ben Bergman	4:32
2/1/13	ART	Beyonce stirred up a bit of controversy by lip-syncing the National Anthem at Obama's inauguration. The Star-Spangled Banner is notoriously hard to perform, and many pop singers have tried and botched it. Those who want to get it right turn to UCLA vocal coach, Michael Dean.	Sanden Totten	6:47
2/1/13	FOR	Yesterday, the Wall Street Journal reported computer systems in its Beijing bureau had been infiltrated by Chinese hackers. This came a day after The New York Times announced similar cyberattacks.	Rob Gifford	8:25
2/1/13	LAW	Jeff Beard once testified about inadequate healthcare in California's prisons. He now says the system is meeting federal standards.	Julie Small	3:18
2/1/13	ECON	In Oakland today, officials are rolling out a new municipal ID card that has an added bonus: it's also a debit card. It's the first card of its kind in the nation, and it's designed to solve common banking problems for immigrants and people living on the financial edge.	Aarti Shahani	3:50
2/1/13	ART	Over the past century, technology has done a lot to improve the quality of movies. Technicolor helped move motion pictures beyond black and white, stereoscopic imaging and special glasses have allowed 3-D figures to burst off the screen.	John August	7:00
2/1/13	SPOR	Earlier this week, during an interview with radio host Artie Lange, San Francisco 49ers Defensive Back Chris Culliver said gay teammates would not be welcomed on his team. The remarks struck a chord in a city known as the gay rights mecca of the country.	Wade Davis	7:22

2/1/13	ECON	Some Southern California companies – including LA-based Paramount Farms – are betting millions of dollars on Super Bowl commercials they hope will pay off.	Wendy Lee	2:00
2/1/13	GEND	The NBC comedy "30 Rock," starring Tina Fey and Alec Baldwin, ended its 7-year run last night. The show was about the cast and writers of a live sketch comedy show, led by showrunner Liz Lemon, played by Tina Fey.	Linda Holmes	7:14
2/1/2013	LAW	California's new Secretary of Correctoins uniquely qualified to take up the state's fight with federal courts	Small	3:18
2/1/2013	LAW	LA Archdiocese has released thousands of pages of priest personnel files	Unknown	2:59
2/1/2013	RELI	Catholic Archbishop relieves predecessor of public and administrative duties following molestation scandal	CC	:17
2/1/2013	ECON	Football fans get ready to spend a lot of money for the Super Bowl	Lee	1:16
2/1/2013	SCI	Tenth anniversary of space shuttle Columbia is today	CC	:23
2/1/2013	ART	New 'parklet' debuts on York Boulevard in Highland Park	CC	:17
2/1/2013	LAW	LASD deputy pleads not guilty to murder charges	Aguilar	:47
2/1/2013	OC	A state commission will decide whether to move ahead with placing the Trestles surfing spot on the National Historic Register	Bergman	4:04
2/2/13	ART	Charles Solomon talks about Philip Glass' opera "The Perfect American." Solomon debunks several myths about Walt Disney that the Opera explores.	Charles Solomon	3:14
2/2/13	ART	John Rabe talks with Pamela Wilson and Stephen Seemayer about their documentary "Young Turks." The documentary looks at the 1980s LA art scene, featuring several artists of the period as well as the homeless of Los Angeles.	John Rabe / Pamela Wilson / Stephen Seemayer	4:02
2/2/13	ART	John Rabe talks with Off-Ramp contributor Gordon Henderson about his family's (mainly his wife's) propensity to bring home large, some times odd, and possibly unneeded, items from the Rose Bowl Flea Market. John Rabe asks: "Is there anyone out there willing to be the Henderson's flea market chaperone?"	John Rabe / Gordon Henderson	4:02
2/2/13	HIST	John Rabe visits the closed-off wing of the Alexandria Hotel with KPCC's Mae Ryan. They talk with developer Nick Hadim about his plans to restore the wing -- Hadim will not doubt be able to capitalize on the nostalgia surrounding this 'time capsule' within the Alexandria.	John Rabe / Mae Ryan / Nick Hadim	7:45
2/2/13	MEDI	KPCC's Sanden Totten talks with Star Spangled Banner expert and UCLA voice coach Michael Dean about what some singers get wrong with the National Anthem.	Sanden Totten / Michael Dean	6:47
2/2/13	MEDI	Kevin Ferguson interviews legendary folk rock singer/songwriter Richard Thompson. Getting his start with Fairport Convention, Thompson's songs have been performed by REM, Loudon Wainwright and Los Lobos.	Kevin Ferguson / Richard Thompson	9:58
2/3/2013	LAW	Chinese tourist stabbed to death in West Covina	Aguilar	:35
2/3/2013	TRAN	Bus involved in crash was on federal watchlist	Osen	1:00

2/4/13	RELI	Retired Cardinal Roger Mahony responded to criticisms in a blog post published Friday. Archbishop José H. Gomez stripped Mahony of his administrative and public duties and accepted the resignation of bishop Thomas Curry, who allegedly assisted in the cover-up of church sexual abuse with Mahony. Gomez also agreed to fulfill a court order to deliver thousands of pages of confidential files related to Catholic priest sexual abuse. Mahoney publicly apologized two weeks ago after the release of confidential church files showed that he had played a part in covering up sexual abuse in the church, and had kept evidence away from prosecution. In a blog post published Friday, Mahony expressed his frustration at being shamed by Gomez and argued that his archdiocese had been at the forefront of abuse victim protection. Gomez's public rebuke continued Sunday when he addressed the Catholic community from the pulpit and in a letter. What's your reaction to Mahony's explanations? Is it possible Church leadership didn't know any better how to deal with perpetrators of child sexual abuse? How could someone in such a position of (moral) authority seem to have a moral disconnect?	Mary Gail Frawley-O'Dea, Jennifer Hughes	13:00
2/4/13	ENV	Last Thursday, the city of Whittier made a bold move regarding a local nature preserve. Whittier purchased the land for this preserve, along with the mineral rights, using $9.3 million in funds opened up to the city by the passage of Proposition A. Proposition A stipulated that any land purchased must be used for conservation purposes, and thus a preserve was established. However, now the preserve is on the table as a source of revenue, as Whittier and Matrix Oil Company are eyeing it for development and drilling. The arrival of bulldozers prompted outrage in environmentalists, as well as those convinced that this is in direct violation of Proposition A. Los Angeles County is coming down hard on Whittier, saying that the city doesn't have the authority to decide what happens to the land, since it was purchased with county bonds. However, the city points out that the bond does not take into account mineral rights, which Whittier owns exclusively. Beyond the legal nuances of who owns what, there is also the issue of what parties would benefit from the newfound revenue, which could be upwards of $100 million per year. The city is obviously pushing for this to beef up its budget, but the county stresses that any financial rewards should go to county taxpayers, not the city itself. So who is	Gloria Molina, Jim Markman	19:00:00

2/4/13	TRAN	On February 20th Metro ExpressLanes opens the HOT (High Occupancy Toll) lanes on the I-10 freeway. The I-10 will adhere to most of the same confusing rules as the I-110, but will the toll lanes actually relieve congestion or is Metro just trying to make money? Metro ExpressLanes is primarily funded with a $210 million grant from the U.S. Department of Transportation. The funds have made two ExpressLanes in each direction by converting the HOV (High Occupancy Vehicle) lane and adding a new lane. The condition for the grant is the HOT lanes must allow for speeds over 45 mph at least 90% of the time. Currently, the 110 freeway is meeting that minimum requirement, according to Metro officials. While carpoolers with at least three people are always able to use the ExpressLanes for free, two-person carpools will have to pay a toll during peak hours on the 10 freeway. Solo drivers in the ExpressLanes will be charged between $0.25 to $1.40 per mile, depending on the congestion at that moment. Single drivers who use the toll lanes less than four times a month will pay an additional $3 monthly for maintenance and revenue costs, but Metro is still analyzing the benefits and consequences of that fee and will discuss it more in March. If the ExpressLanes become overcrowded, tolls will increase to alleviate congestion in those lanes. Metro estimates generating $18-20 million annually from the toll lanes. After $10 million for operations and maintenance, the balance will be reinvested in	Stephanie Wiggins, Jim Thomas	15:00
2/4/13	POLI	Looking forward to the next presidential election, some big names have been bandied about. Even before the 2012 race was over, Hillary Clinton, Joe Biden, Jeb Bush and Chris Christie were all mentioned as potential contenders for their respective parties. While Democrats and Republicans are at odds more than ever these days, all their possible candidates have one thing in common. They're not Barack Obama. Now, while some may think that's a positive aspect, there's one thing that Obama undeniably has over any other candidate in modern history. He energized and inspired the youth vote in a way that significantly contributed to his victory, particularly in 2008. None of the top tier candidates that have been discussed have the same ability to appeal to Millennials. Hillary Clinton may appeal to young female voters, but what about their male counterparts? Joe Biden may be a hit in The Onion, but what about on the campaign trail? And Republicans have long had a problem connecting to the younger generation, no matter who the candidate is. Are there any younger politicians out there who can tap into this group in the same way that Barack Obama did? Can they also retain the other voting blocs, such as seniors and the middle-aged? Or does it have to be one or the other? Who do you think out there has the most youth appeal?	Morley Winograd, Matt Rodriguez	22:00

2/4/13	SPOR	Who knew that football and social media go together like chips and dip at a Super Bowl party? Everyone knows that the Super Bowl scores big viewer ratings for TV networks, but this year the Baltimore Ravens' victory over the San Francisco 49ers also ignited more posting on Twitter, Facebook, and other social networks than ever before. During the game, there were an estimated 47.7 million social media posts, according to Trendrr TV, which tracks social media activity. That means the rate of social network bustle during this year's big game nearly tripled since the 2012 Super Bowl, which was the subject of approximately 17 million posts. What explains the explosion of social media activity during this year's Super Bowl? Are Twitter and Facebook simply more accessible to more people now? Or has there been a cultural shift in how society communicates on a daily basis? Has our perspective and appreciation of social media drastically changed since the previous Super Bowl and if so, why?	Mark Ghuneim	8:00
2/4/13	YOUT	Anyone who spends time with toddlers know they can have active imaginations. Now a study shows some children as young as two are capable of telling minor fibs. Researchers in the journal of Developmental Psychology say it's the first time deception has been studied in children so young. They found 25 percent of children that age say little mistruths. It's not just to cover-up things, according to these experts, but rather to show how smart or capable they are. It could be indicative of advanced mental development. As children grow, so can lying. Eighty percent of four-year olds are said to lie. However, the percentage decreases through adolescence, according to empirical evidence. Has that been your experience as a parent? How can you teach honesty when lying is a natural stage of development? How should you react when your tot tells tales?	Angela Evans	17:00
2/4/13	RELI	More accusations of child sexual abuse are coming out of the files from the Catholic Diocese of Los Angeles. One former Catholic priest who was accused of extensive sexual misconduct with minors went on to work at L.	Hailey Branson-Potts	6:00
2/4/13	RELI	For decades, many of the Catholic priests accused of molestation across the country were sent to The Servants of Paraclete treatment center in the small New Mexico town, Jemez Springs.	Tom Roberts	10:02
2/4/13	HEAL	Take Two host A Martinez spoke with former NFL wide receiver Billy Davis and LAUSD medical advisor Dr. Jerry Bornstein about the risks to the pros and to kids just starting out on their favorite playing fields.	Billy Davis and Dr. Jerry Bornstein	15:36
2/4/13	ENT	A poor factory worker in "Les Miserables" with perfectly coiffed hair, a hard-drinking CIA agent in "Argo" with the pecs of a body-builder, and Abe Lincoln. With a pierced ear?	Rebecca Keegan	10:35
2/4/13	TECH	A number of industries that need workers desperately find that immigration reform is a no-brainer. Industrial farming is one, but so is the tech industry.	Emily Lam	6:11
2/4/13	EDU	A school district in the Southern California city of Fontana is already arming its police with semiautomatic rifles. Reporter Chris Richard has the story.	Chris Richard	4:19
2/4/13	HEAL	Nearly a decade ago, voters here approved Proposition 71, the California Stem Cell Research and Cures Initiative. The initiative made conducting stem cell research legal and authorized the sale of bonds to generate $3 billion for stem cell research and research.	David Jensen	6:58

2/4/13	HIST	King Richard III never got a funeral fit for a king. The 15th century British monarch died in combat, defending his crown from an uprising. His remains were hastily buried and soon they were lost to ages.	Patt Morrison	5:24
2/4/13	SCI	By the time the Ravens sealed their Super Bowl win over the 49ers, Americans consumed around 79 million pounds of avocados. Until recently, most of those avocados were coming from San Diego County, the nation's top producing region.	Rua Petty	7:11
2/4/13	LIT	Sendak's posthumous title, "My Brother's Book," comes 50 years after the publication of "Where the Wild Things Are," and is a dark and interesting final chapter for the widely celebrated author.	Patrick Rodgers	5:12
2/4/2013	TRAN	Mother and daughter experience different trauma around fatal bus crash	CC	:15
2/4/2013	YOUT	Loh Life Morning 2	Loh	2:42
2/4/2013	HEAL	Rheumatoid arthritis is a medical condition that's often misunderstood	Martinez	4:22
2/4/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council is considering a ballot measure related to the Citizens United court decision	Walton	:37
2/4/2013	POLI	Author of bill that would exempt 20-thousand union members from pensino overhaul defends meaure	Adler	:46
2/4/2013	POLI	Author of bill that would exempt 20-thousand union members from pensino overhaul defends meaure	CC	:06
2/4/2013	POLI	Author of bill that would exempt 20-thousand union members from pensino overhaul defends meaure	CC	:05
2/4/2013	ENT	Churches make up one of hottest markets for live equipment	Valot	4:03
2/4/2013	RELI	Catholic churches address LA Archdiocese sex abuse scandal during Sunday mass celebrations	Aguilar	1:25
2/4/2013	RELI	LA priest accused of sex abuse worked for LAUSD after leaving the church	Aguilar	:58
2/4/2013	LAW	USC Human Trafficking conference concludes more research needed on the prevalence of the crime	Aguilar	1:00
2/4/2013	TRAN	Investigators on scene at site of deadly tour bus crash in San Bernardino County	CC	:16
2/4/2013	SPOR	Ravens coach says it was hard to compete against his brother, who coaches the 49ers	CC	:12
2/4/2013	ENT	Warm Bodies tops the weekend box office	CC	:16
2/4/2013	TRAN	Tour bus crash in San Bernardino County	Watt/Julian	1:57
2/4/2013	TRAN	Investigators on scene at site of deadly tour bus crash in San Bernardino County	CC	:08
2/4/2013	POLI	John Kerry reports for duty as Secretary of State	CC	:10
2/4/2013	POLI	John Kerry reports for duty as Secretary of State	CC	:11
2/4/2013	TRAN	NTSB investigates fatal tour bus crash	CC	:14
2/4/2013	POLI	Early voting begins in Los Angeles municipal election	Walton	:36
2/4/2013	SPOR	NFL still trying to find cause of Super Bowl power outage	CC	:14
2/4/2013	TRAN	Mother and daughter experience different trauma around fatal bus crash	CC	:15
2/4/2013	TECH	Tech entrepreneurs want more H1B visas for entrepreneurs	CC	:19
2/4/2013	DIS	Mother of woman injured in crash victim assumed the worst after learning her daughter was airlifted	Watt	:50
2/4/2013	LAW	Fourth defendant in murder of off-duty LA sheriff's deputy goes to trial for murder	Palta	:56
2/4/2013	ECON	The state's finances are improving, but it's going to be hard to put money in the bank	DeBord	:54
2/4/2013	LAW	Tarzana teacher is arrested on molestation charges	CC	:15
2/4/2013	DC	CA lawmakers reintroduce chopper noise bill	Felde	1:01
2/4/2013	SAC	California's highest court could clear legal haze on medical pot dispensaries	Small	3:06
2/4/2013	TRAN	Airport Commissioners to vote on modernization plan for LAX	Moore	:59
2/4/2013	DC	CA lawmakers reintroduce chopper noise bill	CC	:13

2/4/2013	IMM	A new report details how Asian Americans are far more diverse a population, economically and otherwise, than "model minority" myths might indicate	Berestein Rojas	1:40
2/4/2013	OC	Police have identified the couple found fatally shot in Irvine last night as a Cal State Fullerton coach and USC Public Safety officer	Bergman	1:09
2/4/2013	TRAN	Bus involved in crash was on federal watchlist	Osen	3:11
2/4/2013	LAW	California sues ARCO over safety violations with underground storage tanks	CC	:17
2/4/2013	POLI	Texas Governor attempts to lure CA businesses to Texas in radio ad	CC	:12
2/4/2013	POLI	Texas Governor attempts to lure CA businesses to Texas in radio ad	CC	:12
2/4/2013	EDU	Warning accompanied accused priest who worked for LA Unified, archdiocese says	Romo	1:02
2/4/2013	TRAN	Bus in collision has a record of safety violations	Osen	1:00
2/4/2013	EDU	Big Hollywood donors enter school board race for first time	Guzman	4:20
2/5/13	LAW	In 2011, Governor Brown signed Assembly Bill (AB) 109, which was called "realignment" and was designed to help reduce costs, ease overcrowding, and close the revolving door of low-level inmates cycling in and out of state prisons, which for a long time have been far beyond capacity. Offenders are ending up back on the street faster than before, and watchers of this phenomenon are wondering if realignment isn't to blame. Could this attempt to lessen our prison population be putting a strain on police departments and local communities?	Frank Stoltze, Tyler Izen	13:00
2/5/13	ECON	The California and U.S. governments have filed suit against credit ratings agency Standard & Poor's over its ratings of subprime mortgage investments. The suits claim S & P knowingly gave favorable ratings to high-risk investments so as to increase its market share and revenue. "When the housing bubble burst, S&P's house of cards collapsed and California paid the price - in billions," said California Attorney General Kamala Harris in a statement. Was the agency just incompetent or willfully negligent? Why has the Justice Department pursued the same legal action against other credit rating groups such as Moody's? Are there political motivations behind these suits? Could the suits lead to positive change or unintended adverse consequences?	Dean Baker, Alex Pollock	18:00
2/5/13	ECON	Are raves worth the economic boost, or are they too dangerous to justify?	Ron Lin	16:00
2/5/13	POLI	There is a dogged battle in the race for L.A. city attorney. The defending incumbent, Carmen Trutanich, is facing ambitious challengers. Mike Feuer, former state assemblyman and past L.A. City Council member, has raised nearly $1 million to aggressively take on Trutanich as a known quantity. Also funding a tough campaign is Greg Smith. The private attorney has a formidable war chest of several hundred thousand dollars. He's using some of it to fund TV ads - the only campaign to do so. It's all in an effort to be the city's number one attorney: counsel to the mayor and city leadership; defender in court cases and prosecutor of misdemeanors. What kind of city attorney do Angelenos need? How can he balance the interests of citizens with the interests of city leadership? What's your question for the candidates?	Carmen Trutanich, Mike Feuer, Greg Smith	31:00:00

2/5/13	HEAL	With all their obsession over yoga, exercise, attention to alcohol consumption and the evils of smoking, you'd think baby boomers would be the healthiest generation ever. Not true, says a new study just published in JAMA Internal Medicine. Researchers surveyed a sample of the nearly 80 million Americans born between 1946 and 1964 and compared their overall health to that of their parents at the same age. Surprisingly, the survey showed higher rates of hypertension, diabetes, obesity and high cholesterol than that of the previous generation. Similarly aged Americans in 1988 to 1994 - from 46 to 64 years old - were actually in better overall health.	Linda Martin	9:00
2/5/13	ENT	The field of nominations for the original screenplay Oscar this year is the what darkness, violence and psychodrama - from the gratuitous shoot-em-ups and racial slurs in Django Unchained to the all-too-real, moment to moment hunt for Bin Laden depicted in Zero Dark Thirty. Thank goodness for Moonrise Kingdom, which brings a lightness and charm to the field that make it stand out among the other, more serious entries. The film, a first-love fairy tale between two misfit pre-teens, is set on a windswept New England outpost in 1965. Its co-authors are Wes Anderson, (Bottle Rocket, The Fantastic Mr. Fox), and Roman Coppola. Coppola entered the family business portraying the young Sonny Corleone in The Godfather, Part II, directed by his father, Francis Ford Coppola. Along the way he's served as a cinematographer, producer, director of music videos and second-unit director to his sister, writer/director Sofia Coppola. He both wrote and directed his next release, A Glimpse Inside the Mind of Charles Swan III, which stars Charlie Sheen, Bill Murray, Patricia Arquette and yet another member of la familia Coppola, Jason Schwartzman. Anderson and Coppola previously teamed up to write The Darjeeling Limited.	Roman Coppola	7:00
2/5/13	IMM	A bipartisan group of House lawmakers meet today for their first full hearing on immigration. The President and a group of senators have already publicly outlined framework for immigration reform.	Kitty Felde	6:08
2/5/13	IMM	If immigration reform passes Congress, it's a given that immigrants stand to gain. But there's something in it for non-immigrants, too. We find out about the economic winners and losers with Christopher Matthews, a reporter for Time Business.	Christopher Matthews	7:06
2/5/13	IMM	The last time Congress passed a major immigration bill, one of its goals was to stop the flow of undocumented migrants across the border. Instead, it seemed to have the opposite effect as illegal immigration surged.	Adrian Florido	3:59
2/5/13	LGB	This week, the Boy Scouts of America could drop its policy of banning gay scouts or scout leaders. But one troop in Southern California took that step years ago.	Corey Moore	3:42
2/5/13	ENT	Hollywood donates a lot of money to national politics, but local school board races have been way off the radars of these big donors. Until now.	Adolfo Guzman-Lopez	4:27
2/5/13	ART	Joy Division bassist Peter Hook's new book "Unknown Pleasures — Inside Joy Division" chronicles the band's short history.	Peter Hook	17:20
2/5/13	LAW	Cities, counties and medical marijuana advocates have a lot at stake when the state Supreme Court considers the regulatory power of local governments.	Julie Small	3:06

2/5/13	POLI	An effort is building in Congress to change U.S. marijuana laws, including moves to legalize the industrial production of hemp and establish a hefty federal pot tax.	Tony Dokoupil	7:15
2/5/13	ECON	In-N-Out president and owner Lynsi Torres is a media shy, thrice-married mother of twins who races hot rods in her spare time. She's also just 30 years old.	Seth Lubove	6:26
2/5/13	ECON	There are all sorts of ways for companies to go green these days: Solar panels, eco-friendly packaging, biofuels, and now, beer. One Alaskan brewery is using the extra grain left over after it brews its beer to create energy.	Brandon Smith	6:12
2/5/13	SCI	Last week, a British man walking his dog on a beach in northern England came upon what looked like a waxy and smelly soccer ball-sized rock. Turns out, it wasn't an ordinary rock, it was something called ambergris, or Sperm whale excrement, and it's worth more than $100,000.	Christopher Kemp	12:00
2/5/13	ENV	A so-called "sneaker wave" is a disproportionately large wave that can sometimes appear behind a smaller one, without warning. Because they are much larger than preceding waves, sneaker waves can catch unwary swimmers, washing them out to sea.	-	3:57
2/5/2013	TRAN	Bus in collision has a record of safety violations	CC	:13
2/5/2013	DIV	Southland troop leaders say eliminating "no-gay" policy could revitalize boy scout programs	Moore	3:42
2/5/2013	POLI	Texas Governor attempts to lure CA businesses to Texas in radio ad	Adler	:45
2/5/2013	LAW	California sues ARCO over safety violations with underground storage tanks	Moffitt	:45
2/5/2013	TECH	Lacter on tech and media company expansion	Lacter	4:04
2/5/2013	HOUS	California's housing market is growing faster than the national average	Adler	:44
2/5/2013	HOUS	California's housing market is growing faster than the national average	CC	:15
2/5/2013	TRAN	NTSB inspecting condition of tour bus involved in deadly crash	CC	:17
2/5/2013	TT	Immigration takes center stage on Capitol Hill	CC	:25
2/5/2013	POLI	President wants congressional action on the budget deficit	CC	:16
2/5/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidate Wendy Greuel announces a plan to hire more police officers and firefighters	CC	:14
2/5/2013	DC	CA agriculture prompts sharp criticism at house immigration hearing	CC	:11
2/5/2013	DC	House stakes out positions on immigration reform	Felde	:55
2/5/2013	EDU	Two teenagers whose fingers were severed during tug-of-war game now out of hospital	CC	:12
2/5/2013	ECON	4th annual FutureBuild Conference focuses on financial feasibility of sustainable building and development	Watt	:47
2/5/2013	POLI	California Assemblyman pushes liability insurance for gun owners	CC	:15
2/5/2013	POLI	California Assemblyman pushes liability insurance for gun owners	Russ	:52
2/5/2013	MEDI	Rick Perry launches radio campaign boasting Texas' favorable business climate	CC	:10
2/5/2013	TRAN	NTSB has to examine other vehicles involved in crash before moving onto the bus	CC	:10
2/5/2013	LAW	San Luis Obispo police officer arrested on federal bribery charges	CC	:06
2/5/2013	TRAN	Bus involved in crash was on federal watchlist	Osen	1:10
2/5/2013	POLI	The Los Angeles City Council votes to add a third medical marijuana measure to the May ballot	Walton	:29
2/5/2013	LAW	Opening statements in murder trial for slaying of LA County sheriff's deputy	Palta	:57
2/5/2013	OC	A Minnesota man will appear in a Santa Ana court today/tomorrow accused of running the largest Ponzi scheme in Orange County history	Bergman	:56
2/5/2013	LAW	California Supreme Court reluctant to tread on local government's right to ban medical pot dispensaries	Small	1:45
2/5/2013	LAW	California Supreme Court hears a case on medical marijuana dispensaries	CC	:15
2/5/2013	LAW	California Supreme Court hears a case on medical marijuana dispensaries	CC	:07
2/5/2013	POLI	Gov Brown dismisses news that the Department of Forestry hid money in a nonprofit account	Quinton	:43

2/5/2013	YOUT	Local family hopes for a change on the "no gays" policy of the Boy Scouts' national board	Moore	3:36
2/5/2013	RELI	How culpable is Cardinal Mohony in the priest sex abuse scandal?	Stoltze	4:01
2/6/13	SAC	Two California lawmakers have introduced legislation that would require gun owners to purchase liability insurance for damages done with their weapons. The proposed bill, AB 231, comes in the wake of the mass shooting at Sandy Hook elementary school and a national discussion about gun violence and control	Chuck Michel, Adam Winkler, Justin Wolfers, Russell Roberts, Pete Moraga	31:00:00
2/6/13	SGV	Cities are all flutter about the newest backyard pet – the chicken. San Marino ruled last month that residents will be allowed to raise chickens in the backyard.	Kelli Johnson, Richard Ward, Kim Sturla	16:00
2/6/13	DC	Today the U.S. Postal Service will announce the end of Saturday mail delivery, effective in August of this year.	Ed O'Keefe	14:00
2/6/13	HOUS	An innovative community concept that started in Boston ten years ago is catching on quickly across the country and in Southern California. "Villages" are virtual communities that enable aging folks the option of continuing to live in their homes - rather than move into elder-care facilities.	Andrew Scharlach, Mike Babcock	16:00
2/6/13	ENT	"Frankenweenie" director Tim Burton joins AirTalk to talk about his new film, his filmmaking process, and his passion for the handmade feel of stop-motion film.	Tim Burton	18:00
2/6/13	ECON	Today President Obama is expected to nominate Sally Jewell for the post of Interior Secretary. Jewell is currently the president and CEO of the outdoor and recreational retailer REI.	Coral Davenport	8:19
2/6/13	ECON	Well, starting this August the postman only rings five times a week. The struggling U.S. Postal Service has announced it is cutting Saturday mail delivery. It's a move that has been anticipated for some time as the agency has sunk deeper into financial instability.	Heidi Moore	7:40
2/6/13	YOUT	Two moms and their Eagle Scout son hope for an end to the Boy Scouts' "no gays" policy. The longstanding ban could end in May at the group's annual meeting.	Corey Moore	3:36
2/6/13	ECON	Heads Up California, Texas is coming for your businesses. This week, Texas Governor Rick Perry released this radio ad aimed at California business owners:	Matt DeBoard	6:54
2/6/13	IMM	Both the Senate and President Obama's proposals for immigration reform are clear on one thing: For the estimated 11-million undocumented workers living in the U.S., the pathway to citizenship begins in the "back of the line," behind everyone who's legally waiting.	John Rosman	4:01
2/6/13	ENT	We talk to Marty Kaplan, who worked as a speechwriter for Walter Mondale before moving West, where he had a successful run as a writer and producer.	Marty Kaplan	10:20
2/6/13	SCI	Chris Lowe at CSU-Long Beach's Shark Lab explains that the current health of the great white shark population is unknown, and what the listing would mean for his own research.	Chris Lowe	6:16
2/6/13	IMM	While it has a lot invested in the immigration debate, Mexico has remained mostly silent. LA Times reporter Richard Fausset explains that it's politically advantageous for government leaders in Mexico to stay under the radar.	Richard Fausset	6:49
2/6/13	SPOR	Every year, anticipation builds around Signing Day as the financial stakes around college football get higher. We talk to a top California college prospect and Adam Kramer of the Bleacher Report about the spectacle of it all.	Adam Kramer	6:31
2/6/13	HEAL	Imagine you're at the grocery store. The organic bananas are so much more expensive, and you wonder if you should really spend the extra dough. Or maybe you're getting ready to have a baby, and can't sleep at night because you're unsure if you should head to the hospital or try for a homebirth.	Nathanael Johnson	12:40

2/6/13	ENV	This year, unseasonable weather has created serious training obstacles for Iditarod contestants in parts of the Alaska. Here with more is Greg Sellentin, publisher of Mushing magazine.	Greg Sellentin	5:39
2/6/13	ART	Executive Chef Joseph Martin oversees two restaurants, three kitchens, hundreds of employees and multiple menus of food for Staples Center sports games and special events. Hayley Fox reports.	Hayley Fox	3:58
2/6/2013	ECON	Feeding the fans at Staples Center	Fox	3:58
2/6/2013	POLI	Immigration reform proves difficult as "back of the line" policies get complicated	Rosman	4:01
2/6/2013	ECON	Post office plans to cut Saturday mail delivery	CC	:22
2/6/2013	OC	California health officials fine Orange County hospital after doctor fondled patient	CC	:09
2/6/2013	TRAN	Beverly Hills opens compressed natural gas fueling station	Watt	:37
2/6/2013	TT	Great white sharks in California may get more protection	CC	:20
2/6/2013	TT	Today is the last day a high school senior can sign a binding National Letter of Intent for college football	CC	:12
2/6/2013	ECON	Record number of California buyers paid cash for homes last year	Russ	:49
2/6/2013	ECON	The city's online identity gets a major facelift	DeBord	:45
2/6/2013	OC	In a letter to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission Senator Barbara Boxer said she obtained an "alarming" report about San Onofre	Bergman	1:28
2/6/2013	FOR	Drug violence in Mexico may be declining	Florida	1:18
2/6/2013	POLI	CA lawmakers want to ban banks, leaders from garnishing the wages of students who can't repay private loans	CC	:13
2/6/2013	LAW	Sheriff moves to fire accused clique of deputies who celebrated officer-involved shootings	Palta	:40
2/6/2013	ENV	Conservation groups present Army Corps with proposal to restore Sepulveda Basin	Peterson	1:48
2/6/2013	ECON	State report finds LA Unified, other districts, misusing lunch funds	Guzman	:44

		There is a feverish manhunt underway in the Southland. It all started when Christopher Jordan Dorner, a former LAPD officer, posted a manifesto on his Facebook page. Dorner, who is fixating on being forced out of his job in 2009, listed dozens of targets in the document and promised to bring "unconventional and asymmetrical warfare" against any law enforcement personnel who got in his way. The violence has already been staggering. Dorner has been connected to a double homicide in Orange County which occurred last weekend. The victims were Monica Quan and her fiancé, Keith Lawrence. Quan is the daughter of Randy Quan, a retired LAPD captain mentioned in Dorner's manifesto; Dorner targeted Quan for his role in Dorner's dismissal from the force. Then, very early Thursday morning, Dorner was connected to a shooting of two LAPD officers in Corona, who were protecting one of the other names on Dorner's list. Shortly after that, two local officers were shot in Riverside, and Dorner is suspected of ambushing them. One of those officers has died, while others are in the hospital suffering from gunshot and graze wounds.	David Klinger, Rina Palta, Erika Aguilar, Ben Bergman, Frank Stoltze, Brian Watt, William Bratton
2/7/13	LAW			1:37:00
2/7/13	HEAL	Today, a bipartisan group of senators will introduce legislation which they say would strengthen the nation's mental health services and hopefully prevent violent acts by the mentally ill.	David O. Russell	7:53
2/7/13	RELI	Amid the thousands of pages of priest abuse files released by the LA Catholic Archdiocese, you find one name over and over: Cardinal Roger Mahoney. The man who led the nation's largest archdiocese for more than two decades repeatedly acknowledges abuse, but he never alerted law enforcement.	Frank Stoltze	4:05
2/7/13	MIL	Funding for military grocery stores could be cut under sequestration. The stores help save military members and their families 30 percent on groceries.	Wendy Lee	3:46
2/7/13	MIL	For The California Report, Erik Anderson of KPBS recently attended the largest military trade show on the West Coast and found lots of people talking about the "s-word." Sequestration.	Erik Anderson	3:57
2/7/13	ART	Pioneering make-up artist Stuart Freeborn, responsible for Yoda, Chewbacca and many other iconic movie characters, passed away earlier this week in London at 98.	Nick Dudman	7:56
2/7/13	ART	KPCC's Steve Proffitt has the curious story of the Vee-Jay record label, and how they had, and lost, the recording rights to what would become the most successful pop band ever, The Beatles.	Steve Proffitt	9:57
2/7/13	ART	Grammy nominee Radmilla Cody was raised on a reservation, and has been nominated for an album sung in her Native American language. From the Fronteras Desk, Laurel Morales reports.	Laurel Morales	4:43
2/7/13	LAW	PRESS CONFERENCE: LAPD Chief Charlie Beck briefs the public about suspect Christopher Dorner:	-	6:20

2/7/13	POLI	The primary for Los Angeles mayor is less than a month away. Last night, KPCC's AirTalk hosted a debate with the five leading candidates for mayor. Reporter Alice Walton, who was here late covering the event, joins the show with a recap.	Alice Walton	6:27
2/7/13	ECON	By many measures, investors are starting to feel better about the economy. Congress dodged the fiscal cliff (at least for now), housing prices are looking a little better, and the stock market is climbing.	Paddy Hirsch	5:35
2/7/13	TECH	Now for a bit of positive financial news. This week Amazon announced that it would be handing out free money, in the form of 1,000 Amazon Coins. The virtual currency will be released in May for Kindle Fire app purchases.	Matt Debord	6:01
2/7/2013	LAW	Villaraigosa says "no beef" justifies the alleged Dorner killings	CC	:21
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:19
2/7/2013	LAW	Truck resembling Dorner's prompts Torrance shooting	CC	:17
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:17
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:19
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:21
2/7/2013	ECON	Design unveiled for new Wilshire Grand Tower	CC	:15
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:09
2/7/2013	ECON	Real estate is recovering, but it's well off its peaks...	DeBord	:35
2/7/2013	LAW	Dorner manhunt shifts to Big Bear	CC	:18
2/7/2013	POLI	Los Angeles budget official outlines cuts if sales tax isn't approved	Walton	1:08
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:07
2/7/2013	ECON	The animation studio is cutting back workers...	DeBord	:49
2/7/2013	IMM	A new report takes a close look at second-generation adult children of immigrants, and now they are transforming the nation	Berestein Rojas	2:30
2/7/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:14
2/7/2013	LAW	Is Dorner trying to hike out of Big Bear?	CC	:18
2/7/2013	ENV	Most of California's population relies on treating contaminated water	Adler	:39
2/7/2013	POLI	State Senate Dem leadership rolls out package of bills with intent of reducing gun violence	CC	:11
2/7/2013	ECON	Proposed budget cuts to the Department of Defense could hurt military commissaries	Lee	3:47
2/7/2013	POLI	LA Mayoral candidates face off in KPCC debate	CC	:11
2/7/2013	POLI	LA Mayoral candidates face off in KPCC debate	CC	:10
2/7/2013	POLI	LA Mayoral candidates face off in KPCC debate	CC	:12
2/7/2013	POLI	LA Mayoral candidates face off in KPCC debate	CC	:10
2/7/2013	POLI	LA Mayoral candidates face off in KPCC debate	CC	:15
2/7/2013	LAW	Three police officers have been shot, suspect Christopher Dorner is suspect	CC	:05
2/7/2013	LAW	CHP says Dorner is suspect in police shootings; dead, manhunt underway in Southern California	CC	:11
2/7/2013	LAW	Police hunt for Christopher Dorner, suspected of shooting several police officers this morning	CC	:10
2/7/2013	LAW	CHP says Dorner is suspect in police shootings; 1 dead, manhunt underway in Southern California	CC	:16
2/7/2013	LAW	Manhunt for Christopher Dorner continues	CC	:14
2/7/2013	LAW	Manhunt for Christopher Dorner continues	CC	:29
2/7/2013	LAW	Dorner is suspect in police shootings; 1 dead, manhunt underway in Southern California	CC	:12

2/8/13	POLI	This year, Los Angeles will elect a new mayor for the first time since 2005. It will be hard to match outgoing Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa's flair for the dramatic, or his apparently boundless energy – for the past eight years, he's seemingly been in every corner of the city at once. But as the last weeks of the run-off campaign unwind, the candidates are doing their best to get their messages out. Here's a chance to hear them address the issues that L.A. faces over the next four years. It's a long list. Start with the city budget, transportation, crime and safety – add in public health, education, energy and the environment. Not to mention potholes, lighted billboards, runaway production and our future NFL team. What issues are most important to you? What should L.A.'s next mayor put at the top of his or her to-do list?	Eric Garcetti, Wendy Greuel, Kevin James, Jan Perry, Emanuel Pleitez	47:00:00
2/8/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Andy Klein from the L.A. Times Community Paper chain and Peter Rainer from the Christian Science Monitor to review the week's new film releases including A Glimpse Inside the Mind of Charles Swan III, Identity Thief, Side Effects and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Andy Klein, Peter Rainer	13:00
2/8/13	ENT	Where does "Life of Pi" stand in his growing list of big-screen achievements?	Ang Lee	18:00
2/8/13	LIT	Al Gore tells Larry about "The Future," Gore's new book that analyzes six issues causing the degradation of the modern world.	Al Gore	17:00
2/8/13	LAW	Former LAPD chief William Bratton joins us to talk about what he remembers about Dorner and whether he thinks the LAPD's screening and psychological processes need an update.	William Bratton	7:30
2/8/13	LAW	As authorities continue the hunt for Christopher Dorner, many wonder what might have led the former LAPD officer to possibly commit such crimes. Some who knew him as a friend say he didn't seem violent at all, but others who knew him as a cop say he was a bad apple.	Joe Domanick	5:16
2/8/13	POLI	We'll talk about the week that was in this regular political reporter roundtable. On tap this week, Chrystia Freeland, editor of Thompson Reuters Digital and James Rainey from the Los Angeles Times.	Chrystia Freeland, and James Rainey	11:24
2/8/13	ART	Actor Rob Lowe joins the show to talk about his penchant for political roles, his newest film 'Knife Fight,'	Rob Lowe	16:50
2/8/13	ENV	Ex-LAPD officer Christopher Dorner has been on the run for more than 24-hours, and while officials suspect he's up in the Big Bear area, and a snow storm there is complicating the search.	Judi Bowers and Tom Allman	12:05
2/8/13	EDU	Many professionals are required to report suspected cases of child abuse. Failing to contact authorities is a crime. But those prosecutions aren't as easy as you'd think.	Vanessa Romo	5:06
2/8/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:28
2/8/13	ENT	The Oscars are a few weeks away, but the show's geekier cousin, the Scientific and Technical Awards, happens tomorrow. KPCC's Sanden Totten reports.	Sanden Totten	4:18

2/8/13	TECH	The Grammys have been around for more than 50 years, and through that time we've seen pretty much everything. From Nikki Minaj staging a fake exorcism during the show to Elton John performing with Lady Gaga.	Emily Reese	8:20
2/8/2013	ECON	Demand for lion dancing heats up for Lunar New Year	Lee	3:20
2/8/2013	ENT	Grammy honor for Al Schmitt	Whatley	3:54
2/8/2013	EDU	Why is it so hard to prosecute mandatory reporters for failing their duty	Romo	5:06
2/8/2013	POLI	State Senate Dem leadership rolls out package of bills with intent of reducing gun violence	Adler	:56
2/8/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:11
2/8/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:05
2/8/2013	TRAN	Flights cancelled at LAX due to East Coast snow storm	CC	:07
2/8/2013	LAW	Hunt continues for Christopher Dorner	CC	:19
2/8/2013	LAW	Attorney for two women mistakenly shot in Torrance says incident was mishandled	Watt	:53
2/8/2013	TT	Former LAPD chief talks about the manhunt for an ex-cop	CC	:22
2/8/2013	LAW	Attorney for two women mistakenly shot in Torrance says incident was mishandled	Watt	:57
2/8/2013	LAW	SB County Sheriff says officials making good progress in Christopher Dorner search	CC	:17
2/8/2013	SPOR	Loh Life Superbowl Virgins	Loh	2:49
2/8/2013	ART	Award-winning conductor James DePriest died today at 76	CC	:25
2/8/2013	LAW	Theories and opinions about Dorner case falling like snow in Big Bear	CC	:17
2/8/2013	LAW	Law enforcement searches Dorner's mother's home	CC	:12
2/8/2013	LAW	Law enforcement searches Dorner's mother's home	CC	:17
2/8/2013	LAW	Big Bear ski resorts reopen as Dorner search continues	CC	:08
2/8/2013	LAW	While authorities hunt for triple murder suspect near Bear Mountain Resort, skiers have their own theories of where Dorner is	Palta	2:07
2/8/2013	LAW	Aerial search for Christopher Dorner suspended because of snowy conditions	CC	:09
2/8/2013	LAW	Two Latino Compton gang members have been indicted on hate crimes charges after allegedly attacking four black teenagers	Berestein Rojas	1:46
2/8/2013	HIST	California Historical Resources Commission re-nominated California Trestles for special recognition	Small	1:18
2/8/2013	POLI	Wendy Greuel picks up major Valley endorsements in the mayor's race	Walton	:35
2/8/2013	LAW	A profile of suspected triple murderer Christopher Dorner	Bergman	3:28
2/8/2013	ECON	CA Jan revenue way above projections but unclear where money came from	Adler	:45
2/8/2013	LAW	FBI searched Dorner's home in Las Vegas	Klemack	1:28
2/8/2013	LAW	FBI searched Dorner's home in Las Vegas	CC	:11
2/8/2013	LAW	Law enforcement searches Dorner's mother's home	CC	:15
2/8/2013	ENT	BAFTAs handed out last night, Argo took three awards	CC	:11
2/8/2013	ENT	Mumford and Sons takes home Grammy for Album of the Year	CC	:10
2/8/2013	LAW	Search continues for Christopher Dorner	Aguilar	4:22
2/8/2013	ENT	Fun took home two Grammys	CC	:11
2/8/2013	ENT	Fun took home two Grammys	CC	:08
2/8/2013	ENV	California boasts another national park	Samuel	:44
2/8/2013	HEAL	Children with special needs are embraced by the ACA	Korry	4:55
2/8/2013	LAW	Manhunt for Christopher Dorner, reward offer, review case	Aguilar	4:44
2/8/2013	LAW	Authorities receive more than 600 tips in Dorner search	CC	:10
2/8/2013	TRAN	LA County Coroner identifies chopper crash victims	CC	:18
2/8/2013	RELI	Catholics in SoCal react to Pope's retirement	CC	:25
2/8/2013	RELI	Local Catholic respond to Pope resignation	CC	:14
2/8/2013	DC	JPL scientist invited to State of the Union	Felde	:46

2/8/2013	TRAN	NTSB investigates reality TV crew's helicopter crash	CC	:14
2/8/2013	LAW	Riverside County District Attorney announces charges against Christopher Dorner	CC	:20
2/8/2013	LAW	Riverside Police Chief Sergio Diaz gives update on wounded Riverside police officer	CC	:17
2/8/2013	ECON	Home prices continue to move up, but housing supply is tight...	DeBord	:41
2/8/2013	RELI	Catholic clergy and parishioners in Southern California support	Watt	1:43
2/8/2013	POLI	Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa endorses sales tax increase	Walton	1:28
2/8/2013	POLI	CA lawmakers say state isn't prepared to hold an election following a natural disaster	CC	:10
2/8/2013	ECON	Local governments wonder how to replace money a year after CA dissolved nearly 400 redevelopment agencies	Small	2:17
2/8/2013	LAW	Critics of the LAPD say its Board of Rights process is stacked in favor of the department	Bergman	2:03
2/8/2013	LAW	Police sift through hundreds of tips	Stoltze	2:56
2/9/2013	LAW	LAPD guarding individuals singled out in Dorner's manifesto	Stoltze	1:02
2/9/13	ART	John Rabe speaks with Civil War reenactors and authors of a book called "Battlefields of Honor: American Civil War Reenactors." They discuss reenactors, Civil War photography, and their book.	John Rabe, Mark Elson, Jeannine Stein	10:22
2/9/13	ART	John Rabe speaks with Hammer Mueseum director Ann Philbin, art fan Andy Schwartz, and artist Llyn Foulkes at Hammer Museum about Foulkes' artwork.	John Rabe, Ann Philbin, Andy Schwartz, Llyn Foulkes	4:19
2/9/13	AT	Larry Mantle speaks with Tim Burton about the creation of his film 'Frankenweenie.'	Larry Mantle, Tim Burton	17:45
2/9/13	ART	Kevin Ferguson speaks with Dutch artist Marinus Welman and Langer's Delicatessen owner Norm Langer about the story behind the deli paintings.	Kevin Ferguson, Marinus Welman, Norm Langer	6:05
2/9/13	SPOR	Take Two host A Martinez speaks with former NFL wide receiver Billy Davis and LAUSD medical advisor Dr. Jerry Bornstein about the risks of playing football.	A Martinez, Billy Davis, Dr. Jerry Bornstein	15:36
2/9/13	DIV	Bridget Read speaks with passers-by about whether or not they believe in soulmates - one and only one true love for every person.	Bridget Read	5:35
2/9/13	ENV	Kevin Ferguson speaks with Larry Serpa, an ecologist with the Nature Conservancy, about the gruesome expressions of love that go on in the animal world.	Kevin Ferguson / Larry Serpa	6:39
2/9/13	HIST	Marc Haefele tells us that the Romans didn't think Cupid was so cute.	Marc Haefele	2:32
2/10/2013	ENT	This year's Grammy Awards will be the first time a video game score has a nomination	CC	:27
2/10/2013	ENT	Bobby Sanabria is up for a Grammy for Latin Jazz	CC	:15
2/10/2013	ENT	Grammys include little-known categories like Best Album Notes	Whatley	3:33
2/10/2013	ECON	George Lucas can now sell his Disney stock if he chooses...	DeBord	:42
2/10/2013	SPOR	CSUF women's basketball team remembers 'Coach Mo' as tough, warm	Moore	1:21
2/10/2013	LAW	LAPD to reexamine case that got Dorner fired	O'Neill	:45
2/10/2013	HEAL	Preteen Vaccine Week begins in California on Sunday	O'Neill	:40
2/10/2013	LAW	LAPD to reexamine case that got Dorner fired	CC	:16
2/10/2013	LAW	LAPD to hold news conference at 1p on case of alleged triple murder	Moore	:58
2/10/2013	LAW	Big Bear ski resorts are open for business despite manhunt	CC	:11
2/10/2013	TT	Racial issues at the LAPD surface in wake of Christopher Dorner allegations	CC	:16
2/10/2013	SCI	Two Inglewood teachers are flying out into the stratosphere Tuesday as part of NASA program	CC	:24

2/11/13	LAW	With a $1-million reward out for Christopher Dorner, hundreds of tipsters have called police.	Connie Rice, Tim Maher, Kelly McBride	31:00:00
2/11/13	TRAV	Should Ontario be released from LAWA's control? What efforts have been made to regionalize on LAWA's behalf? What would be the benefits of Ontario being under local control? What effect would that have on the local communities?	Jess Romo, Steve Pontell	17:00
2/11/13	RELI	In a stunning announcement today, Pope Benedict XVI said that he would be resigning at the end of the month. Pope Benedict cites his age and health as his reasons for retirement.	John Thavis, Cathy Grossman, Father Allan Figueroa Deck,	23:00
2/11/13	SCI	What pictures fill your mind on a daily basis, and how do they help you navigate your life? What would they look like in the mind's eye of another? How do we use our imagination to turn clouds into circus animals, dreams into reality?	Benjamin K. Bergen	15:00
2/11/13	ART	Who cleaned up at this year's Grammys? Who deserved their awards, and who was snubbed? Rolling Stone's Patrick Doyle joins us to discuss music's biggest night and weigh in on the winners and losers.	Patrick Doyle	8:00
2/11/13	LAW	The manhunt for triple murder suspect and former LAPD officer Chris Dorner is entering its sixth day. Over the weekend, Mayor Villaraigosa announced a $1 million reward for information about the case.	Charlie Beck	6:09
2/11/13	RACE	The case of Christopher Dorner has raised some questions about the LAPD and its treatment of black officers. It's a subject that Connie Rice knows very well. The L.A.-based civil rights attorney has represented dozens of black officers over the course of the past two decades, and she has interviewed hundreds of cops about race relations within the force.	Connie Rice	9:13
2/11/13	RELI	Catholic Church parishioners are waking up today to the news that Pope Benedict the 16th is stepping down. It's been nearly 600 years since a Pope resigned from leading the Roman Catholic Church.	Brian Watt	5:33
2/11/13	ECON	A fatal bus crash in the San Bernardino Mountains raises concerns about the safety of the discount bus business as it takes off in Southern California.	Lauren Osen	4:25
2/11/13	ENV	A new report from the U.S. Department of Agriculture says climate change will dramatically reshape America's outdoor spaces in the coming years. The report compiled data from more than 1,000 studies.	David Peterson	6:27
2/11/13	ENT	L.A. Times film writer Rebecca Keegan joins the show to discuss the latest industry news coming out of Hollywood.	Rebecca Keegan	7:24
2/11/13	TECH	When Hollywood stops distributing movies on 35mm film at the end of this year, that leaves the few drive-in theatres around the country in the lurch.	Kipp Sherer	5:15
2/11/13	POLI	Tomorrow night President Obama will deliver his fifth State of the Union Speech. He has a lot of ground to cover — budget deals, spending cuts, gun control, immigration — In all, the President will be speaking for about an hour.	Glenn Thrush	6:27
2/11/13	POLI	Sherman versus Berman was the biggest local political story in last November's election. The battle between two Westside Democrats who ended up running against each other because of redistricting.	Shane Goldmacher	8:21
2/11/13	HEAL	The Oscar nominated film, "Silver Linings Playbook," tells the story of several people seeking to find a strategy to deal with their mental illnesses. It's been called out by doctors, educators and audiences everywhere for its ability to help remove the stigma of mental illness.	Jake Clark	7:45
2/11/13	MIL	In Hollywood, it's all about who you know, but that can be tough for military veterans trying to break into the industry. Now some veterans are building their own networks.	Josie Huang	4:51

2/11/13	EDU	As the Affordable Care Act takes shape in California, embracing hundreds of thousands of children with special needs, the insurance industry is bracing for a battle. Elaine Korry reports.	Elaine Korry	4:54
2/11/13	IMM	In the Salinas Valley, small farm towns like Soledad and Greenfield dot Highway 101. Most farmworkers here are from Mexico, and an increasing number are indigenous people from Oaxaca and other Mexican states.	Lisa Morehouse	5:19
2/11/2013	ENT	The Black Keys are up for six Grammys, including Best Record	CC	:32
2/11/2013	ECON	Discount bus business is taking off in CA, but is it safe?	Osen	4:26
2/11/2013	DC	Activist says it'll take more than Rubio to woo Latinos	Felde	:55
2/11/2013	DC	Activists push for Latinos in Cabinet	Felde	1:15
2/11/2013	POLI	Voters have their first crack at choosing LA's next mayor in just under a month	Walton	:35
2/11/2013	SOC	Undocumented immigrants license bill has some Republican support	Adler	:46
2/11/2013	SOC	New bill would make undocumented immigrants who pay taxes, pass driving tests eligible for a license	CC	:12
2/11/2013	LAW	Attorneys call mistaken identity shooting in Torrance 'reprehensible,' could sue Torrance PD	Moore	1:35
2/11/2013	DC	CA freshmen adjusting to slow pace of Congress	Felde	3:47
2/11/2013	LAW	A one-million dollar reward has been offered for information leading to the capture of Dornier	CC	:12
2/11/2013	LAW	Attorney says two newspaper delivery women shot by LAPD doing 'fairly well' but traumatized	Moore	1:03
2/11/2013	LAW	LAPD continues to protect officers mentioned as targets in Dornier's manifesto	CC	:14
2/11/2013	RELI	Change in leadership at the Vatican. Live report from a Catholic Church in LA	Watt	:57
2/11/2013	LAW	Funeral for Riverside Police Officer set for Wednesday	CC	:16
2/12/13	DC	What do you want to hear from the President tonight?	Josh Gerstein, Sean Sullivan	13:00
2/12/13	YOUT	As ideas of what constitutes a "traditional" family change and expand to include divorced couples, same-sex partners, and step-parents, are non-romantic parenting matches a sign of a change in the tides? Should people who raise a child together be romantically involved? How should the law accommodate these couples?	Darren Spedale, Jennifer Lahl, Diane Goodman	23:00
2/12/13	GEND	How often do women swear compared to men? And are they judged differently for it? Do you swear more than most other women? Or are you a man who doesn't like to curse? Call in to AirTalk and let us know. Oh, and watch your language.	Michael Adams	11:00
2/12/13	SAC	Texas Governor Rick Perry is in Los Angeles and Orange County this week trying to tempt California businesses to the lone star state. Yesterday, Perry told the San Jose Mercury-News that Austin, Texas is set to be the "next Silicon Valley." He said high taxes and strict regulation in California are stifling growth.	Chuck DeVore, Carl Guardino	15:00
2/12/13	TRAN	Are you a motorcyclist? How do you feel about these rules? Have you ever had any encounters with lane-splitting as a driver? Should motorists be more aware of cyclists when they're driving, or is the road no place for such risky behavior?	Gabe Ets-Hokin, Robert Gladden	16:00
2/12/13	LIT	Flynt and Hillary Leverett's new book hopes to dispel "myths" about Iran and change 30 years of foreign policy of sanctions, isolation and attempted regime change.	Flynt Leverett, Hillary Mann Leverett	17:00
2/12/13	RELI	Speculation is mounting over who will succeed Pope Benedict the sixteenth. Will it be a liberal or a conservative, and what does that even mean? Joining us to define terms is senior correspondent for the National Catholic Reporter, John Allen.	John Allen	4:58
2/12/13	RELI	While the Latino population of Catholics is fast-growing, influential and will no doubt have some bearing on the choice of the new pope, the church that once dominated Latin America now has serious competition from Pentecostalism.	Juan Martinez	5:38

2/12/13	ECON	This week the Federal Trade Commission released a report saying that one in 20 consumers had significant errors on their credit reports, mistakes that could lower their credit scores, making them pay more for things like auto and home loans.	Liz Weston	5:51
2/12/13	SPOR	Wrestling is down for the count at the 2020 Olympic Games.	Phil Wallace	6:24
2/12/13	SPOR	The SAP Open tennis tournament is moving on after 125 years in the Bay Area. It's been home to some of the tennis greats, like John McEnroe, Andre Agassi and Pete Sampras.	Bruce Jenkins	6:35
2/12/13	ART	This week for our New Music Tuesday segment, we turn our attention north to San Francisco. That's where you'll find Thao Nguyen, the Vietnamese-American lead singer of the indie rock band Thao and the Get Down Stay Down.	Alex Cohen	14:26
2/12/13	MIL	President Obama addresses the nation tonight in his fifth State of the Union speech. The focus will be jobs and the economy, but he's also expected to announce the withdrawal of 34,000 troops from Afghanistan.	Gordon Lubold	5:20
2/12/13	LAW	Patt Morrison joins take two to talk about what kinds of infractions can get an officer fired from the LAPD. In light of Christopher Dorner's accusations and subsequent dismissal Morrison will look at how typical this case is.	Patt Morrison	5:57
2/12/13	MIL	A cover story in Esquire magazine about a former Navy Seal is generating lots of controversy. According to the report, the unnamed Seal claims he was the man who actually killed Osama Bin Laden.	Brandon Friedman	8:22
2/12/13	MIL	Veterans who've already gained a toehold in the entertainment business are helping newcomers break in, and the rest of the industry may be following suit. Josie Huang reports.	Josie Huang	4:04
2/12/13	ART	We speak with author and map collector Simon Garfield about his latest book, "On The Map: A Mind Expanding Exploration of the Way the World Looks," which charts the history of map making and the way maps showcase the best and worst of human nature.	Simon Garfield	10:54
2/12/13	SCI	Lasers can do more than taunt your tabby: a California non-profit is using thousands of lasers to create 3D digital models of the 28 cultural heritage sites along the state's El Camino Real.	Justin Barton	5:28
2/12/2013	TT	Wrestling may be on the way out of the Olympic Games	CC	:18
2/12/2013	ECON	California economic recovery won't start until next year	Milne	:56
2/12/2013	ECON	Clerical workers at the Ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach reject tentative contract	Lee	1:51
2/12/2013	HEAL	Newly identified protein blocks HIV and other deadly viruses	O'Neill	:47
2/12/2013	ECON	California proposes new flammability standards for upholstered furniture	CC	:10
2/12/2013	ENV	New flammability rules could mean fewer flame-retardant chemicals in the environment	Bartolone	:49
2/12/2013	POLI	California needs an emergency election plan in the case of a natural disaster	Adler	:43
2/12/2013	ENV	State lawmakers hold an oversight hearing on fracking	CC	:12
2/12/2013	ENV	State lawmakers hold an oversight hearing on fracking	Quinton	:56
2/12/2013	FOR	San Diego and Tijuana try to strengthen bond	Orr	3:48
2/12/2013	HEAL	Vascular brain injury may play a far greater role in cognitive decline than toxic brain plaques	O'Neill	:52
2/12/2013	DC	LA gun violence victim guest of Sen. Feinstein at State of the Union	Felde	:57
2/12/2013	LAW	Update on the Christopher Dorner investigation	Palta	:46
2/12/2013	LAW	Police investigating more than 1,000 tips about Dorner	CC	:14
2/12/2013	LAW	Arcadia Catholic school closes because relative of Pastor of Parish is named in Christopher Dorner's manifesto	Watt	:48
2/12/2013	LAW	Police await forensic results to determine if Christopher Dorner is dead	CC	:20
2/12/2013	LAW	Latest in Dorner standoff	CC	:15
2/12/2013	LAW	Fish and Wildlife joined in the Dorner manhunt	CC	:13

2/12/2013	IMM	Local Korean American leaders have launched a drive to urge more participation from Korean immigrants in the municipal election	Berestein Rojas	1:19
2/12/2013	LAW	Deputy dies in shootout with suspect	CC	:05
2/12/2013	LAW	Latest in Dorner standoff	CC	:24
2/12/2013	LAW	Mayor Villaraigosa speaks on the potential death of Christopher Dorner	CC	:15
2/12/2013	LAW	LAPD has not confirmed Dorner is inside burning cabin	CC	:07
2/12/2013	LAW	Latest in Dorner standoff	CC	:17
2/13/13	LAW	It appears as if the manhunt for Christopher Dorner is finally over. Dorner, an ex-LAPD cop, published a manifesto with names of his targets online, before wreaking havoc in the Southland. He is connected to four homicides, an attempt to steal a boat, firing on personnel from several different law enforcement agencies, carjacking, and holding innocent people hostage.	Phil Willon, Ben Bergman, Mary Ellen O'Toole, Frank Stoltze, Mary Plummer, David Schmid	47:00:00
2/13/13	DC	President Barack Obama pitched new ideas to stimulate the economy, urged bipartisan approaches and emotionally called for legislative movement on gun control.	Jonathan Wilcox, Matt Rodriguez	18:00
2/13/13	ECON	What did you think of the president's ideas? Are they realistic, affordable or even doable? Does his speech give us reason to be optimistic, or is Obama dreaming the impossible dream?	Jared Bernstein, Phillip Swagel	13:00
2/13/13	ENT	Protestors in the film industry and in Washington D.C. have serious objections to "Zero Dark Thirty" portraying torture as the United States government's effective method for obtaining information. Journalist-turned-writer Mark Boal, who wrote "Zero Dark Thirty," joins Larry to talk about the research involved in creating this movie and responds to attacks of being pro-torture.	Mark Boal	17:00
2/13/13	LAW	Yesterday authorities cornered a man they believed to be Chris Dorner, the ex-LAPD officer accused of murder. We'll get the latest news from KPCC's Ben Bergman and Frank Stoltze.	Ben Bergman and Frank Stoltze	10:20
2/13/13	POLI	Last night during the President's State of the Union address, the GOP unveiled a new tool to reach Latino voters: A Spanish-language Twitter feed. We'll talk to Republican political consultant Mike Madrid.	Mike Madrid	8:00
2/13/13	HEAL	Insurance companies charge a lot in premiums if you're tempting death on a regular basis, and some refuse to even offer coverage.	James Mills	6:09
2/13/13	ART	To millions of Americans actress Valerie Harper will remain Rhoda Morgenstern, BFF to Mary Tyler Moore's and star of the eponymous spinoff Rhoda. She has a new memoir about the character, and how its affected her working career.	Valerie Harper	10:24
2/13/13	SCI	An asteroid that's 150 feet across is barreling towards our planet and it's expected to pass by Earth this Friday. We'll speak about the asteroid, and other space news with Adam Steltzner, who recently led the landing team for the Mars Curiosity Rover.	Adam Steltzner	5:25
2/13/13	TECH	In last night's State of the Union address, among the topics covered by President Obama was cyber security, how important it is to our nation, and how ill-equipped we are when it comes to protecting ourselves.	Siobhan Gorman	7:38
2/13/13	POLI	Here to explain the history, use, and limits of executive authority is Allan Lichtman, presidential historian and professor of history at American University.	Allan Lichtman	6:12
2/13/13	EDU	Early childhood education advocates say President Obama fell short in his State of the Union speech, but they were pleased with some of his remarks.	Deepa Fernandes	6:19

2/13/13	POLI	Yesterday, the Los Angeles school board candidates received the largest donation-to-date for a school board contest. But it didn't come from anyone in L.A., and it didn't even come from anyone in California. It came from billionaire businessman and New York City mayor Michael Bloomberg.	Jessica Levinson	6:19
2/13/13	IMM	San Diego's Mayor Bob Filner is promising his new Tijuana office will open soon, but there have been a couple hiccups so far. KPBS Metro reporter Katie Orr checks in on the status of the office and why the mayor thinks they need one.	Katie Orr	4:07
2/13/13	ART	Sriracha hot pepper sauce is huge in the U.S. So big that the potato chip maker, Lays is making a bag featuring the flavor. We'll talk about why people love sriracha so much with Randy Clemens, who wrote the book, "The Sriracha Cookbook."	Randy Clemens	6:19
2/13/13	SCI	Leading polar bear researchers have just published a paper outlining possible solutions for preserving the world's declining polar bear population. Warming temperatures are rapidly melting the arctic ice the bears use as a hunting platform.	Andrew Derocher	3:05
2/13/2013	SAC	State lawmakers want tougher regulations of fracking	Small	1:47
2/13/2013	POLI	LA Area Chamber of Commerce endorses Wendy Greuel for mayor	Walton	:36
2/13/2013	DC	Democrats and Republicans sit together	CC	:11
2/13/2013	DC	Freshman Congressmen reflect on first State of the Union	Felde	:48
2/13/2013	FOR	Mexico announces changes to federal security forces	Morales	:56
2/13/2013	LAW	Dorner was hiding in Big Bear	CC	:09
2/13/2013	ENV	Dept of Water Resources withholding water because of delta smelt deaths	CC	:13
2/13/2013	LAW	Fish and Wildlife joined in the Dorner manhunt	CC	:20
2/13/2013	LAW	Ben Bergman with updates on Dorner	Bergman	2:06
2/13/2013	LAW	Fish and Wildlife joined in the Dorner manhunt	CC	:12
2/13/2013	LAW	Ben Bergman with updates on Dorner	Bergman	2:00
2/13/2013	LAW	Ben Bergman with updates on Dorner	Bergman	2:07
2/13/2013	LAW	Fish and Wildlife joined in the Dorner manhunt	Julian	2:52
2/13/2013	LAW	Corey Moore with updates from LAPD Headquarters	Moore	:54
2/13/2013	ENV	Dept of Water Resources withholding water because of delta smelt deaths	Quinton	:50
2/13/2013	ECON	Democrats proposed a bill to tax California oil	Adler	:51
2/13/2013	ENER	Nuclear Regulatory Commission held another hearing on the San Onofre Nuclear Plant reopening	St John	1:30
2/13/2013	LAW	Ben Bergman with updates on Dorner	Bergman	2:09
2/13/2013	LAW	Mary Plummer at the funeral of Riverside police officer killed by Christopher Dorner	Plummer	2:53
2/13/2013	LAW	LAPD resumes normal patrols, continues to protect families	CC	:17
2/13/2013	ECON	Democratic lawmakers want a new tax on California oil	CC	:09
2/13/2013	LAW	Funeral service for Riverside police officer Michael Crain	CC	:24
2/13/2013	DC	Big Bear Congressmen cautious on new gun laws	Felde	:48
2/13/2013	ECON	Home sales in Southern California have surged, but there aren't enough homes on the market	DeBord	:38
2/13/2013	LAW	Fallsvale elementary locked down for four hours during Dorner standoff	CC	:16
2/13/2013	SCI	Asteroid veers mighty close to this planet	CC	:14
2/13/2013	LAW	Slain cop's wife remembers him at funeral service	CC	:26
2/13/2013	LAW	Mary Plummer at the funeral of Riverside police officer killed by Christopher Dorner	Whatley	2:59
2/13/2013	HEAL	Health exchange unveils benefit plan choices	Quinton	:50
2/13/2013	HEAL	Health exchange unveils benefit plan choices	CC	:17
2/13/2013	HEAL	New legislation would eliminate caps on health coverage for California college students	O'Neill	2:31

2/13/2013	ECON	The foreclosure situation in California drastically improved in January, but there's more to the story	DeBord	:55
2/13/2013	LAW	Detective killed by gunman in Dorner manhunt recalled by a friend	McNary	1:01
2/13/2013	SAC	CA healthcare exchange sets standard benefits and cost for insurance plans	Small	2:00
2/13/2013	LAW	Update on the Christopher Dorner investigation	Stoltze	5:58
2/13/2013	LAW	AP correspondent late of this station spoke with slain SB sheriff's detective days ago	CC	:19
2/13/2013	LAW	Dorner manhunt comes to an end	Palta	1:04
2/13/2013	EDU	SOTU proposal for Universal Preschool	Fernandes	1:29
2/13/2013	LAW	Reflections on San Bernardino detective shot by Dorner	CC	:16
2/13/2013	LAW	San Bernardino County Sheriff's department still trying to confirm if remains from burned cabin belong to Christopher Dorner	CC	:14
2/14/13	DIS	What was meant to be a fun vacation got cut short when the engine room caught on fire Sunday morning. Ever since then, the boat has been without electricity and dependent only on generators. Water and food have been limited, and passengers are reportedly urinating in bags. People have taken to sleeping on the boat's deck to escape the stifling heat inside the cabins without air conditioning. Tensions are running high, and medical experts are concerned that Triumph is basically a petri dish of disease and germs just floating in the middle of the Gulf of Mexico. On the bright side, the end is in sight. The ship is about 25 miles or so from Mobile, Alabama, where it is being sent to port. The only problem is that it is being pulled by a tugboat against the wind. Carnival says it expects the boat to dock sometime between eight and 11 p.m. EST. But there's another snag, as the boat initially left from Galveston, TX. Apparently, the plan is for buses to take passengers from Mobile elsewhere, although locals are calling for passengers to stay in town and then use the local airport to get home. After the torturous trip at sea, how will these people react to any more trials and tribulations? How are they being compensated for their time and experience? Will this	Jimmy Mowlam, Monty Mathisen	13:00
2/14/13	GEND	A federal judge in Canada ruled two weeks ago that employers must reasonably accommodate child-care requests from employees. A woman employed with the Canadian Border Control claimed that she was discriminated against for having young children after the Border Control refused to allow her to work longer shifts fewer days a week. The federal court upheld a 2010 Human Rights Tribunal hearing ruling that ordered the Border Control to alter its policies. As family values moves into the forefront of employment law, businesses in Canada will have to reconsider their policies and address the concerns of parents who have concerns about child-care and maternity/paternity leave.	Ann O'Leary, Matt Patterson	10:00

2/14/13	ECON	As of this morning, American Airlines and US Airways has official combined to become the "new American Airlines." It's new iteration, the airline is said to be worth a whopping $11 billion and will offer more than 6,700 daily flights in 56 countries. The merger is reported to be a good thing for financial stakeholders, but what about consumers? How will travelers fare as a result? In the ever-consolidating world of air travel, does the loss of competition cost the average traveler?	George Ferguson, Mark Murphy	13:00
2/14/13	DIS	The year 2012 came and went without an apocalyptic disaster taking place, but that doesn't mean a major catastrophe won't still occur. If a devastating earthquake hit tomorrow and knocked out the power grid, how much food and water would you need for your family? Where's the safest place to go in the wake of a disastrous event? Former U.S. Merchant Marine, EMT and wilderness firefighter Sam Sheridan offers answers to these questions and more in his new book entitled "The Disaster Diaries: How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Apocalypse." In an effort to prepare himself and his family for as many different worst-case scenarios as possible, Sheridan trained with an Olympic weightlifter, took an apprenticeship crash-course in stealing cars with an ex-gang member and completed agonizing lessons in Arctic survival. Sheridan shares what he learned from these and other extreme experiences that might help him survive not only an initial devastating event, but potential resulting long-term post-apocalyptic environments too. Listen in as Larry is joined by Sheridan to enlighten us on how to mentally and physically endure a major disaster and its aftermath.	Sam Sheridan	17:00
2/14/13	HEAL	Valentine's Day is about celebrating love in all forms, and in an increasingly digital world, many romances begin online. But are there still love stories beginning offline? Are the sparks still flying face-to-face, whether in a modern "meet-cute" or an awkward romantic mishap? We want to hear your stories of offbeat, offline romance – the person you met in the elevator or on an international flight, the odd encounters with love-struck strangers, the weird, the wild, the romantic. Leave your stories in the comments, or tweet us @airtalk.	David Isay	17:00
2/14/13	RELI	The Archdiocese of Los Angeles has quietly added two dozen members of the church to its list of clergy accused of child molestation without publicly addressing the circumstances about the accused members.	-	6:52
2/14/13	LAW	Efforts are continuing today to identify charred human remains found in a burned-down cabin in Big Bear. They are widely believed to be those of fired LAPD officer Chris Dorner, who has now been charged with murdering of four people since February 3rd.	John Asbury	7:03
2/14/13	POLI	Law enforcement officers furloughed, kids kicked out of Headstart programs, dangers to the safety of the food supply, and three-quarters of a million jobs lost.	Christina Bellantoni	7:02

2/14/13	FOR	From the Fronteras Desk, reporter Jill Replogle tells the story of a late Iraqi interpreter and Capt. Blake Hall's quest to insure his family's safe arrival in the U.S.	Jill Replogle	4:31
2/14/13	EDU	Most money funding Los Angeles Unified school board races is coming from independent expenditure committees that can raise unlimited amounts of cash.	Adolfo Guzman-Lopez	4:16
2/14/13	ART	It's Valentine's Day, so you're probably seeing lots of images of Cupid with a bow and arrow. But these days, the God of love might want to add a calculator to his tool kit.	Dan Slater	7:47
2/14/13	SCI	Well whether you meet a mate online or off, new research suggests you may be syncing up with your partner in unexpected ways. A new study out of UC Davis appears to confirm the wisdom of countless love songs: That two hearts in love really do beat as one.	Jonathan Helms	7:08
2/14/13	POLI	The mayoral candidate started working in City Hall as a college intern. After three decades of service, she's hoping to take on the city's top job.	Alice Walton	4:50
2/14/13	POLI	It's City Hall Pass, Take Two's ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles with KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	6:34
2/14/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	5:40
2/14/13	ART	Joey Ramone fans can finally own a piece of his life and legacy as nearly 100 records along with a variety of other personal items is going up for auction online.	Bobby Livingston	6:31
2/14/13	SPOR	Over the years, the National Football League has tweaked its game to make it safer for its players. For example, the league has rules barring a player from crashing into another by leading with his helmet.	Cindy Boren	5:41
2/14/13	ART	Music critic Isabela Raygoza recommends some Spanish-language romance songs to get you in the mood for love on Valentine's Day.	Isabela Raygoza	7:13
2/14/13	ART	We asked you to tell us about your best exes. Maybe you wanted to lose them, but sometimes you still love them but know you're better off broken up.	Kate Anthony	3:22
2/14/2013	POLI	Profile of Mayoral candidate Wendy Greuel	Walton	4:50
2/14/2013	HOUS	California foreclosures dropped to lowest level in seven years	CC	:14
2/14/2013	ECON	Majority of California voters oppose tax on sugary drinks	Adler	:41
2/14/2013	LAW	A couple allegedly held captive by ex-LAPD cop	CC	:12
2/14/2013	LAW	Funeral service for Riverside police officer Michael Crain	Cuevas	3:08
2/14/2013	LAW	A couple allegedly held captive by ex-LAPD cop	CC	:11
2/14/2013	DC	Boxer defends President's power to push climate agenda	CC	:19
2/14/2013	DC	Boxer introduces carbon tax measure	Felde	:55
2/14/2013	LAW	As part of a settlement, the Orange County Sheriff's Department can no longer order Muslim women in custody to remove religious head coverings	Berestein Rojas	1:02
2/14/2013	LAW	More names released of clergy members accused of abusing children	CC	:24
2/14/2013	AT	Disabled Carnival cruise ship tugged back to shore	CC	:19
2/14/2013	LAW	Search for Christopher Dorner ends with his death	Stoltze	3:37
2/14/2013	ECON	LA Unified school board race could break fundraising records	Guzman	4:16
2/14/2013	LAW	Rina Palta on Dorner	Palta	4:22
2/15/13	POLI	Is Congress handling cabinet nominations and sequestration budgeting in a responsible way? Are senators playing a game of chicken with what both parties agree could be devastating spending cuts? Should the president have an unencumbered right to pick members of his cabinet?	Aaron Blake	14:00

2/15/13	YOUT	L.A. Times finds a report given secretly to the Board of Super-visors detailing abuse, fatalities, and neglect of children under the care and supervision of County Departments. L.A. County Department of Children and Family Services Director Phil Browning and member of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors Zev Yaroslavsky tell if any improvements have been made.	Phil Browning, Zev Yaroslavsky	17:00
2/15/13	LAW	However, as certain tragic events come to a close, such as the funeral of Riverside police officer Michael Crain, many questions linger. The public questions if police officers' use of seven tear gas canisters, nicknamed "burners," intentionally led to a fire that burned the cabin and Dornier. How did over 200 police officers swarm Big Bear and not find the suspect hiding just a few doors away? And, who gets the $1 million dollar reward?	Andrew Blankstein, Ben Bergman	13:00
2/15/13	DIS	A meteor struck the Ural Mountain city of Chelyabinsk, Russia early Friday morning, injuring nearly 1000 people. The meteor, estimated to weigh about 10 tons, was traveling at 10 to 12 miles per second, causing a bright flash and sonic boom upon disintegration.	Mike Brown	4:00
2/15/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Claudia Puig and Henry Sheehan to review the week's new film releases including Beautiful Creatures, A Good Day to Die Hard, No and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Claudia Puig, Henry Sheehan	31:00:00
2/15/13	ENT	Along with the rise of reality television and the invention of the DVR, "binge watching" of popular TV series is probably the biggest paradigm shift in how and what we watch TV since it went from black and white to color back in the 1950s.	Alyssa Rosenberg, Beau Willimon	17:00
2/15/13	LAW	During the stand off with Christopher Dornier, police used what they call 'burners', or a type of tear gas grenade. Use of the grenades quickly started a fire, which engulfed the cabin and ended the standoff with Dornier.	-	4:22
2/15/13	ECON	Have you seen this ad? Yes, that's Pamela Anderson of Baywatch fame, shilling for the company FrogAds. They and a few other companies got in trouble with the Feds this week for a stock scheme, known in the biz as a classic "pump and dump."	Howard Lindzon	7:08
2/15/13	LAW	Once again, it's time for our analysis of the week that was in our weekly Friday Flashback. Joining us from the island of Manhattan is Heidi Moore, finance and economic editor for the Guardian.	Heidi Moore, and James Rainey	16:23
2/15/13	SCI	Last night a large meteor exploded in the sky over the Western Russian city of Chelyabinsk. The event was captured by people with cell phones and dashboard cams:	Bruce Betts	7:43
2/15/13	LAW	Walk around your neighborhood and you might see a neighbor's tree brimming with fruit ripe for picking. It might be tempting to help yourself, but is it legal?	Tess Vigeland	6:01
2/15/13	ECON	KPCC's Corey Moore reports Metrolink plans to fix accounting problems after an internal report calls the agency's bookkeeping process a "sham."	Corey Moore	2:40
2/15/13	ECON	If you've ever bought a personal finance book, or watched a money makeover TV show you might have heard things like: A lack of belief is keeping you from wealth or you're latte-ing away your financial future.	Helaine Olen	7:53
2/15/13	EDU	When college students don their graduation caps, they may be clutching a diploma in one hand, but are holding onto thousands of dollars in student loan debt in the other.	Janet Lorin	5:06
2/15/13	LGB	In 2008, Californians voted to pass Proposition 8, banned same-sex couples from marriage. In response, same-sex marriage advocates filed lawsuits challenging the law. The legal battle continues next month when the issue goes before the U.	Steven Cuevas	5:41
2/15/13	HEAL	Scientific evidence on the benefits of exclusive breastfeeding is uncontested, yet fewer than half of mothers are still nursing at six months	Ama Chris Nsiah-Buadi	6:17

2/15/13	HOUS	It's only been a few years since the housing market imploded both here in southern California and across the country. The common refrain was that it would take another few years, possibly a decade or more for housing to bounce back.	Chris Thornberg	7:17
2/15/13	HOUS	Last year home values in Phoenix were up 29 percent from the year before — the highest jump in the nation. That's driving a rebound in new housing construction, but what's not rebounding is the labor force.	Jude Joffe-Block	4:14
2/15/2013	ECON	Customers go to the bank to pull out cash to fill red envelopes	Lee	1:56
2/15/2013	TRANS	Port volumes rise in Long Beach, fall in LA due to shift of shipping services	Watt	:44
2/15/2013	ECON	American Airlines/US Airways join forces with merger	CC	:11
2/15/2013	HIST	Nixon's life highlighted in new centennial exhibit in Yorba Linda	CC	:16
2/15/2013	ECON	Audit of state Parks Department reveals accounting problems	CC	:13
2/15/2013	EDU	Obama releases plan for early childhood education	Fernandes	1:58
2/15/2013	LAW	Former Seven Oaks resident Teanna Fink's reaction to Christopher Dorner drama	CC	:25
2/15/2013	LAW	Former Seven Oaks resident Teanna Fink's reaction to Christopher Dorner drama	CC	:15
2/15/2013	LAW	Construction firms fined by city ethics commission over campaign money laundering	McNary	1:04
2/15/2013	DC	Senate committee approves another federal judge for LA	Felde	:50
2/15/2013	POLI	State Senator hopes to leverage the federal tax code and raise money for college financial aid	CC	:14
2/15/2013	TRAN	American Airlines and US Airways will merge	Lee	:58
2/15/2013	POLI	Democratic State Senator Leland Yee continues to push for tougher gun legislation despite a threat on his life	CC	:18
2/15/2013	TRANS	Metrolink explains why it hasn't fixed its longstanding accounting problems	Moore	2:40
2/15/2013	LAW	Dorner's remains positively ID'ed - now the scramble for reward money begins	CC	:14
2/15/2013	ECON	A new audit says that the Parks Department has had unreported surpluses since 1999	Quinton	:44
2/15/2013	CRIM	Big Bear residents are questioning just how comprehensive the search for Christopher Dorner was	Bergman	2:49
2/15/2013	HEAL	Will banning formula help more moms breastfeed?	Fernandes	5:55
2/15/2013	POLI	Some Mormon church members conflicted about Prop 8	Cuevas	5:41
2/15/2013	SPOR	Longtime LA Lakers owner is hospitalized	CC	:10
2/15/2013	SPOR	LA Lakers owner Jerry Buss has been hospitalized	Watt	:56
2/15/2013	TT	Deputies' use of 'burners' questioned in Dorner standoff	CC	:17
2/15/2013	ECON	US House extends pay freeze for federal workers	CC	:19
2/15/2013	TT	Authorities indict 15 people on a so-called "pump and dump" scheme	CC	:18
2/15/2013	LAW	US port inspector found guilty of drug charges	Marizco	:34
2/15/2013	DC	House Democrats recruit Laker star for gun violence bill	Felde	:59
2/15/2013	POLI	Supporters of Eric Garcetti are forming a political action committee	Walton	:37
2/15/2013	YOUT	More child deaths challenge child welfare agency	CC	:17
2/15/2013	SAC	CA Republicans want audit on agencies required to report mentally ill patients prohibited from owning guns to the DOJ	Small	:46
2/15/2013	LAW	Conclusions of investigation into Dorner's final hours	CC	:08
2/15/2013	ENV	Cleanup cost of Superfund site exceeds $1.5 million	Peterson	:46
2/15/2013	LAW	Conclusions of investigation into Dorner's final hours	CC	:22
2/15/2013	LAW	Conclusions of investigation into Dorner's final hours	CC	:21
2/15/2013	LAW	Affidavit in Christopher Dorner investigation provides additional details	CC	:19
2/15/2013	RELI	Newly released priest files lead judge to order more questioning of Mahony	McNary	1:14

2/15/2013	LAW	Judge dismisses lawsuit against USC by Chinese parents whose kids were killed in an off-campus shooting	Aguilar	:42
2/15/2013	EDU	Supt Deasy issues new guidelines for teacher evals	Romo	1:27
2/16/13	OBIT	The East Coast is still dealing with the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy. One family and a circle of friends is still dealing with one tiny part of the destruction it caused: the death of Claudene Christian, a former USC Song Girl who, it seemed, had found redemption before she died in the storm.	John Rabe / Matt White	4:24
2/16/13	POLI	Noelle Conti looks at the state of parking meters in Los Angeles. Conti interviews several residents, including Tom LaBonge. Meters are now being repaired faster than ever and the city is making substantially more money from working as opposed to not-working meters. Some residents explain that the fines are too much for people to handle right now.	Noelle Conti / Tom LaBonge	4:16
2/16/13	ART	Off-Ramp finds a Rose Bowl Flea Market 'chaperone' for Gordon Henderson and family. Pam Johnson accompanies the Hendersons to the flea market and they explore, sometimes a bit chaotically, what items are about.	John Rabe / Gordon Henderson / Pam Johnson	3:45
2/16/13	ART	Every day from 9 a.m. until sunset, Nathan Pino can be found at his piano playing classical pieces by Gershwin, Rachmaninoff, and Chopin on Venice Beach Boardwalk. Pino talked with Off Ramp's Mukta Mohan about the bands performed with, why he plays on the boardwalk, and shares some of his own compositions.	Mukta Mohan / Nathan Pino	4:04
2/16/13	ART	For the first time in decades, Parks has a new album--12 tracks first released on 7" singles and are now in one CD, Songs Cycled, to be released this Spring. But before that--on Wednesday, February 27--Van Dyke Parks will celebrate the city of South Pasadena's 125th anniversary with a performance at the city's library. Off-Ramp producer Kevin Ferguson talked with Parks about the performance, politics, and the new album.	Kevin Ferguson / Van Dyke Parks	8:06
2/16/13	OBIT	This weekend, Southern California lost a prominent Holocaust survivor and educator. Leon Leyson of Fullerton died Saturday after a 4-year-long battle with lymphoma. He was 83.	A Martinez / Alex Cohen / Leon Leyson	2:55
2/17/2013	TECH	Library of Congress announces new plan to preserve national audio archives	CC	:23
2/17/2013	TT	A visionary plan to reconstruct mission buildings in case of catastrophe	CC	:12
2/17/2013	SPOR	Laguna Hills High coach reacts to wrestling ban at 2020 Olympics	CC	:11
2/17/2013	ENT	Personal items of Ramones' lead singer Joey Ramone are for auction	CC	:22
2/17/2013	ENV	Activists to rally against Keystone pipeline	Peterson	:50
2/17/2013	HEAL	New legislation would eliminate caps on health coverage for California college students	O'Neill	:58
2/17/2013	ECON	British retailer Topshop opens its first West Coast store	Lee	1:18
2/17/2013	HIST	A day-long event to remember the Holocaust	CC	:25

2/18/13	ENV	The Golden State's nearly 1000 miles of coastal terrain is perhaps its most defining feature. Not only has the California coastline shaped the state geographically, it has fundamentally influenced Californians and Americans in terms of economics, politics, social values and more. Award-winning journalist and environmental conservationist David Helvarg comprehensively examines the California coast's heritage and impact on the United States in his new book, "The Golden Shore: California's Love Affair with the Sea." In preparation for the book, Helvarg interviewed commercial fisherman, scientists and U.S. Navy officials among others. He also observed and reports on underwater exploratory science vessels, marine container ships, the San Diego Coast Guard's nightly migrant patrol to scan for smugglers and other endeavors.	David Helvarg	13:00
2/18/13	LIT	In his new book "The Future: Six Drivers of Global Change," former Vice President and Nobel winner Al Gore draws upon his background and observation of the world to identify six issues causing the degradation of the modern world. These "six drivers" are economic globalization, worldwide digital communications, emerging sources of power that are causing a U.S.-centered system power shift, unsustainable economic growth, genetic and biotechnological advancement that is redefining the natural course of human life and evolution, and the disruption of earth's ecosystems. Gore asserts that because of these drivers, the world is becoming more linked together and is collectively on a downward path of degradation. However, he writes, by analyzing these problems there is potential for change and changing the course of the world. Although these six problems are each given a chapter in his book, Gore also covers topics ranging from cows in Switzerland that text their owners when it's time to breed, to genetic enhancement and population growth and income equality issues in the U.S.	Al Gore	17:00
2/18/13	HIST	Just as it is today, California in the 1800's was a place to reinvent yourself – perhaps more than once. Edward Muybridge was a man of with many hats, a series of professions and a half-dozen names. Muybridge – born Edward Muggerridge – was a bookseller, inventor, banker and even a murderer. But the calling that would earn him respect and notoriety – photography – also secured his place in history. Muybridge's friend and patron, the railroad tycoon Leland Stanford, was another reinvented, bigger-than-life figure in California history and founder of the Palo Alto university named for his dead son. A discussion between the two about Stanford's beloved racehorses sparked a question: when a horse runs, do all four hooves leave the ground at any point? It was Muybridge who found a way to answer the question, thanks to innovative use of his camera. And in doing so, he originated the technique of stop-motion photography, paving the way to the invention of motion pictures years before Thomas Edison introduced his Kinetoscope. The story of these two men, vagabond and tycoon, is every bit as cinematic as the art form they inspired. And in their intertwining journeys to California, they rewrote its history even as they were reinventing their own.	Edward Ball	17:00

2/18/13	EDU	Rising tuitions, student unrest, "distanced" learning, the challenges of for-profit colleges and trimmed budgets — what do all of these factors mean for the future of higher education? Our distinguished panel of higher-educational leaders representing the diversity of California's public higher education institutions — President Mark G. Yudof of the University of California system, Chancellor Timothy Peter White of the California State Universities and Colleges, and Chancellor Brice W. Harris of the California Community Colleges — weigh in on the biggest and most pressing issues facing California's higher-learning systems.	Mark G. Yudof, Timothy Peter White, Brice W. Harris	48:00:00
2/18/13	IMM	Last week, the White House reportedly sent copies of its draft proposal on the issue to government officials who deal with border security and other immigration issues. USA Today wrote about that plan this weekend, touching off a wave of criticism from legislators working on their own immigration proposals.	Manu Raju	7:10
2/18/13	IMM	As Congress prepares to tackle immigration reform, two Southland Democrats are addressing an unintended consequence of the current policy. KPCC's Washington Correspondent Kitty Felde says it involves thousands of U.S.-born children of undocumented parents in foster care.	Kitty Felde	3:59
2/18/13	SPOR	Roland Lazenby, who has written five books on the Lakers, talks about Jerry Buss's legacy in Los Angeles, the NBA and beyond. Buss died at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center.	Roland Lazenby	8:04
2/18/13	MIL	Writer Kevin Sites has collected soldiers' stories in his new book "The Things They Cannot Say: Stories Soldiers Won't Tell You About What They've Seen, Done or Failed to do in War."	Kevin Sites	8:15
2/18/13	ENT	New studies on screen violence, accuracy in Oscar movies and our weekly Ben Affleck update with entertainment reporter Rebecca Keegan of the LA Times.	Rebecca Keegan	6:50
2/18/13	HIST	Whitney Young worked behind the scenes during the civil rights movement to mold many of the policies that broke down racial segregation. Filmmaker Bonnie Boswell had a front row seat to Young's life and career: she was his niece.	Bonnie Boswell	10:50
2/18/13	MIL	During the Bush administration, more than 100 suspected terrorists were believed to have been held in secret CIA prisons or shipped to other countries in secret where they were held and interrogated.	Cora Currier	12:12
2/18/13	EDU	Dozens of students at Pitzer, Scripps, Harvey Mudd, Pomona, and Claremont McKenna are lobbying their trustees to take the schools' endowments fossil fuel free.	Molly Peterson	4:30
2/18/13	LGB	Reporter Steven Cuevas has the story of a Mormon mother and son working to bridge a historical divide	Steven Cuevas,	5:24
2/18/13	HEAL	If you're a calorie counter, you are probably constantly checking the nutrition labels of everything you eat. It's just part of trying to stay fit, be healthy, keep track of your diet, right? But what if those calories you've been counting are wrong? And not just by a little, but by as much as 50 percent.	Rachel Carmody	7:30
2/18/13	POLI	Shortly before President Obama was re-elected, writer David Maraniss published an extensive biography of the 44th president. The book "Barack Obama - The Story" chronicles Mr. Obama's childhood through his post-college years in New York and Chicago. We'll talk to him about the book	David Maraniss	10:04
2/18/2013	SPOR	Buss as Laker boss	Roman	:58
2/18/2013	OC	Nixon's life highlighted in new centennial exhibit in Yorba Linda	CC	:14

2/18/2013	SPOR	Loh Life Superbowl Virgins	Loh	2:56
2/18/2013	POLI	The Pat Brown Institute for Public Affairs will host a mayoral debate	Walton	:53
2/18/2013	POLI	Voter registration to participate in county, LA, Burbank, Bell, Cudahy elections is Tues	McNary	:44
2/18/2013	ENV	Carbon credits auction on Thursday	Peterson	:53
2/18/2013	LAW	Closing arguments expected Wednesday in Bell corruption trial	Moore	:48
2/18/2013	ECON	Two Wet Seal executives resign, 35 jobs eliminated at the company	Lee	1:22
2/18/2013	LAW	Gathering of Scots in Long Beach includes tributes to slain officers	Fernandes	2:25
2/18/2013	IMM	Are steep government processing fees keeping more legal residents from becoming US citizens?	Berestein Rojas	1:30
2/18/2013	TRAN	Street, sidewalk closings for Oscars set up	Watt	:40
2/18/2013	TRAN	California's defense industry worries about sequestration	Watt	:53
2/18/2013	DC	A thousand kids of undocumented parents stuck in LA County foster care	Felde	3:59
2/18/2013	POLI	Health committees hear bills that would codify aspects of ACA into law	CC	:13
2/18/2013	ENV	CA almond growers may not have enough honey bees to pollinate this year's crop	CC	:11
2/18/2013	ENV	CA almond growers may not have enough honey bees to pollinate this year's crop	Quinton	:47
2/18/2013	ENV	Anniversary of the LA Aqueduct	Schmidt	4:23
2/18/2013	SCI	An unusual flash of light in Northern California was no big deal	CC	:14
2/18/2013	MIL	Daughter gets the Purple Heart medal of the father she never knew	CC	:05
2/18/2013	MIL	Daughter gets the Purple Heart medal of the father she never knew	CC	:10
2/18/2013	SPOR	Clippers point guard Chris Paul gets MVP honors at this year's All-Star Game	CC	:09
2/18/2013	SPOR	Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:13
2/18/2013	SPOR	Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:14
2/18/2013	SPOR	LA Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:15
2/18/2013	SAC	State hearing to expand Medi-Cal to 1 million Californians set for Tuesday	Small	1:12
2/18/2013	POLI	State lawmakers consider changes to insurance market rules	CC	:10
2/18/2013	POLI	State lawmakers consider changes to insurance market rules	Bartolone	:54
2/18/2013	ENER	Public comment solicited over fracking	CC	:10
2/18/2013	SPOR	Team remembers longtime owner Jerry Buss	CC	:16
2/18/2013	IE	Riverside County Fair and National Date Fest continues in Indio	CC	:08
2/18/2013	ECON	A look at business legacy of Jerry Buss	Watt	2:43
2/18/2013	IE	Riverside County Fair and National Date Fest continues in Indio	Bailey	1:28
2/18/2013	IE	Riverside County Fair and National Date Fest continues in Indio	CC	:19
2/18/2013	POLI	Lawmakers want to see higher young voter turnout	Quinton	:52
2/18/2013	POLI	Lawmakers want to see higher young voter turnout	CC	:14
2/18/2013	ECON	California may have a better chance at raising the minimum wage than the federal government	Adler	:48
2/18/2013	ECON	CA legislature considers increasing minimum wage	CC	:09
2/18/2013	ECON	CA legislature considers increasing minimum wage	CC	:10
2/19/13	LAW	Early this morning, a man committed a series of carjackings and murders in Orange County before taking his own life. When his rampage ended, four were dead (including the perpetrator) and others were wounded. In the wake of 2012's mass killings in Aurora, Colorado and Newtown, Connecticut, gun violence is in our consciousness more than ever in recent years. According to State.com's running tally of gun-related deaths in the U.S. since the Newtown shootings, since December 14, 2012, 1,935 Americans have been killed with a firearm. Are we seeing a trend toward more gun violence in our future, or are the recent tragedies outliers? Or could gun-related violence be on our radars more than ever before because it's creeping into communities where it once was almost nonexistent?	Ben Bergman, Lawrence Rosenthal	13:00

2/19/13	HEAL	In the early 1960's, mind-altering drugs like psilocybin and LSD got a bad rap, thanks largely to experiments that spun out of control. Psychologists Timothy Leary and Richard Alpert notoriously unleashed their "turn on, tune in" philosophy on a culture that was eager to try the new miracle drug, but ill-prepared on their own to handle its effects. As a result, psychedelics were outlawed by 1970 and research into their potential benefits halted. But recently, interest in these drugs for clinical use has been revived. New studies have shown that the use of LSD and other psychotropic drugs greatly reduces the stress, fear, anxiety and pain associated with advanced cancer, PTSD and other conditions. After just one dose of psilocybin, administered by a doctor under controlled circumstances (which, in a nod to Dr. Leary, can include plush sofas, Persian carpets and sitar music), patients report a sense of euphoria, emotional well-being, peace and optimism that can last a year or more, greatly changing their outlook even in the face of terminal illness. Some doctors and psychologists specializing in palliative care believe that the use of psychedelics can go a long way towards providing what they term a "good death" - one that implies a positive experience, free of end-of-life pain, stress and remorse.	Anthony P. Bossis, Ph.D., Charles Grob, M.D.	18:00
2/19/13	TECH	Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) is pushing for mandatory crash recorders for all cars. Some groups are bristling at this effort, namely the Electronic Frontier Foundation. They are worried that this will lead to tracking and recording of data that encroach on the privacy of drivers. For instance, what if you lend your car to a friend who proceeded to drive like a speed demon up and down the highway? If the data in the black box was accessed, then the information could make it back to your insurance company, resulting in a huge rate hike. And the black box would track more than just your speed, but if airbags are deployed, what seat belts are connected, the position of the brake and accelerator, and more. With no regulations in place for how much information can be stored, critics of the plan are sincerely worried that these devices could be used for more harm than good. Supporters of the plan, however, point to the fact that most cars already have some form of a crash recorder, and that the amount of data gathered is routinely used to make cars safer for consumers. When it comes to the privacy issue, they indicate that the NHTSA doesn't have the jurisdiction to access such information anyway. Should cars have these black boxes in them? Will it really make driving any safer? Or	Clarence M. Ditlow, Nate Cardozo	17:00

2/19/13	SPOR	Jerry Buss, the Los Angeles Lakers owner who led the team to 10 NBA championships died at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center on Monday, he was 80. When Buss purchased the Lakers in 1979 he had a vision of the 'showtime' era and immediately drafted Earvin 'Magic' Johnson out of Michigan State. Johnson, along with Buss, went on to be part of 10 Lakers Championships as a player and owner. Under Buss' leadership, the Lakers became part of the landscape of Southern California, bringing in names like Shaquille O'Neal, Kobe Bryant, Karl Malone, and Dwight Howard. During Buss' reign, the Lakers were the NBA's most successful franchise. Many former and current players formed strong bonds with the well-liked Buss. He was regarded as a very generous and highly revered owner. Buss was a trailblazer in the NBA and one of the first owners to sell naming rights to his arena, the forum. He also turned the forum into not only a place to see games, but a place to be seen.	Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Narda Zacchino	13:00
2/19/13	GEND	On February 6th, a man set out on a mission. That man's name is Joe Wagner, and his mission is to see more women on comedy shows in Los Angeles. After seeing one of his female friends complain on Facebook about not enough women being booked on shows, Wagner took it upon himself to launch a campaign of sorts to, from his perspective, raise awareness of the issue.	Joe Wagner, Brandie Posey, Jeff Wattenhofer	17:00
2/19/13	ENT	As Oscar night gets closer by the minute, Hollywood insiders are busy preparing for their most important night of the year; however, there's another venue experiencing an upswing of activity... online gambling sites. After the presidential election, the Oscars are the most gambled upon annual non-sporting event in the United States, according to some estimates. Oscar gamblers also tend to skew younger and more female. Not all odds listings are the same, but this year, most bookmakers name Daniel Day Lewis as most likely to win Best Actor, Jennifer Lawrence to scoop up the Best Actress award, and list "Argo" and "Lincoln" as the two frontrunners for the Best Picture Oscar. Do you bet on the Oscars? What factors most influence how gamblers place their bets?	Pat Morrow	17:00
2/19/13	LAW	While there are limits on how far agents can go to get their hands on illegal guns, the program is being closely watched nationwide as gun control laws remain a top issue for lawmakers. Joining us with more is Jessica Garrison who writes about the program for the L.A. Times.	Jessica Garrison	6:49
2/19/13	SCI	Solar power is often hailed as one of the cleanest available sources of energy, but that claim may not be entirely true.	Dustin Mulvaney	6:15
2/19/13	ENER	California is set to create the nation's most ambitious energy makeover for public buildings. That's because Californians overwhelmingly passed Proposition 39, which closes a corporate tax loophole and funnels much of the money to energy efficiency upgrades. The details, however, have been left to state lawmakers and, not surprisingly, there's disagreement over where the funds will go.	Rachel Dornhelm	4:09
2/19/13	ENV	California's Department of Conservation will host a public workshop on the issue in Los Angeles on Tuesday.	Molly Peterson	5:36
2/19/13	FOR	The US government officially recognized Somalia's government last week for the first time since 1991. Now the nation is rebuilding under a newly elected president, and Somalis in San Diego are eager to help. KPBS reporter Megan Burks spoke to a young refugee who says he can't wait to go back permanently.	Megan Burke	4:01

2/19/13	ENT	Hollywood's elite has spent the past few weeks on the awards circuit, picking up prizes and glad-handing at fancy parties. But the biggest award night is still to come — the Oscars. Getting there takes a lot more than just making a good movie. Gina Delvac reports.	Gina Delvac	4:10
2/19/13	ART	It's that time again! Tuesday, the day when record companies release new music. Today, music critics Oliver Wang (Soul-Sides.com) and Ann Powers (NPR Music) join the show to talk about new tunes by DJ Day, Lady, Nick Cave and the Bad Seeds, Apples and Three Oranges, Sallie Ford and the Sound Outside, and Holly Williams.	Oliver Wang and Ann Powers	13:36
2/19/13	LAW	Today LAPD Chief Charlie Beck will hold a press conference to update the public on the Dorner case and investigation.	Rina Palta	6:29
2/19/13	LAW	It's been more than six months since protests rocked Anaheim after two deadly police shootings. Have officers been able to restore trust with the community?	Ben Bergman	4:22
2/19/13	SCI	This year, the first ever America's Science Idol competition was held as part of the the American Association for the Advancement of Science conference. Contestants had 3 minutes to give a compelling presentation on the topic of their choice.	Tom Di Roberto	4:58
2/19/13	ENT	American Idol is one of the many reality programs on the dial, a lot of which come from the production company Bunim/Murray.	Gabriela Cocco-Sanchez	6:21
2/19/13	ECON	Some good news for wine drinkers here in California. A new report on the annual grape crush shows that 2012 was a bumper year for grape-growing in the state. More than 4 million tons of wine grapes were grown, and they fetched record high prices.	Meghan McCarty	4:26
2/19/13	ART	Writer Rosie Schaap has spent a lot of time in bars — 13,000 hours by her calculations. But she's got a great reason, she's the "Drink" columnist for the New York Times Magazine. Her new memoir, Drinking with Men is an homage to the many bars, pubs and taverns she's loved and lost along the way.	Rosie Schaap	12:16
2/19/2013	DC	House Democrat proposes constitutional amendment on campaign finance	Felde	1:00
2/19/2013	ECON	The economic outlook is improving for US states and California, for the big ratings agency is still negative...	DeBord	:42
2/19/2013	OC	Regulators will hold public hearings this week to address San Onofre costs	Bergman	:44
2/19/2013	ECON	City of Pasadena is designated as a Fair Trade City	Lee	1:42
2/19/2013	LAW	Four dead and more wounded in OC shooting	CC	:11
2/19/2013	IMM	When lawmakers talk about immigrants going to the 'back of the line' how long a wait are we talking about? Answer: people can wait decades.	Berestein Rojas	2:39
2/19/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidates face off	Stoltze	4:30
2/19/2013	RELI	An American group wants Cardinal Roger Mahony to avoid participation in papal conclave	CC	:11
2/19/2013	ENV	Rain is in the forecast across Southern California	CC	:08
2/19/2013	LAW	Riverside police officer faces a long road to recovery	CC	:12
2/19/2013	LAW	LAPD officers under police protection during Dorner manhunt speak out	CC	:19
2/19/2013	LAW	LAPD captain talks about protective detail during Dorner search	CC	:20
2/19/2013	TT	Gunman kills three people - and then self - in shooting spree	CC	:19
2/19/2013	HEAL	First US-approved retinal prosthesis now available	CC	:19
2/19/2013	LAW	Riverside police officer faces a long road to recovery	CC	:14
2/19/2013	LAW	Police are investigating six different crime scenes in Orange County after an early morning rampage left four people dead, including the suspect	Bergman	:55
2/19/2013	ENT	Players place bets on who will win big at the Oscars	CC	:08
2/19/2013	LAW	LAPD chief backs Dorner capture tactics	CC	:12
2/19/2013	HEAL	Low protein diet found to slow Alzheimer's and improve memory in mice	O'Neill	:49
2/19/2013	DC	Activists push immigration reform while Congress out of town	Felde	:56

2/19/2013	SCI	Science Idol competition tries to spread the love for careers in science	CC	:17
2/19/2013	LAW	LAPD Chief reflects on Christopher Dorner saga and its impact on the department	Palta	1:47
2/19/2013	POLI	A new poll finds 46 percent of likely voters oppose a sales tax increase	Walton	:41
2/19/2013	HEAL	California may expand Medicaid program under the federal health law	Bartolone	:45
2/19/2013	POLI	CA Senator wants to get tough on driving under the influence of drugs	CC	:14
2/19/2013	ENV	Fracking debate in California	Peterson	:59
2/19/2013	LAW	Canadian tourist found in a water tank at a hotel in downtown LA	CC	:13
2/19/2013	SAC	Legislative Analyst: California will come out ahead on Medi-Cal expansion	Small	:54
2/19/2013	ECON	Parks Department Director says he's committed to transparency after record-keeping scandal	CC	:15
2/19/2013	ECON	State Parks Department vows to fix problems that led to a hidden surplus of millions	Quinton	:51
2/19/2013	OC	Police still don't know why a 20-year-old man went on a deadly shooting rampage in Orange County	Bergman	2:34
2/19/2013	POLI	CA Senator proposes zero tolerance for driving under influence of drugs	Adler	:51
2/19/2013	EDU	Education officials hold workshop on campus shootings for school administrators and police	Guzman	:46
2/20/13	HEAL	A new law proposed by State Senator Lou Correa (D-Santa Ana) would make driving under the influence of certain Class I through IV drugs illegal, unless you have a prescription. Also, common medications that contain codeine such as Tylenol with codeine and Xanax fall into this category.	Norma Torres, Lanette Davies	21:00
2/20/13	LAW	In the wake of the Christopher Dorner case, the Los Angeles Police Department has its hands full. It has been an especially busy and no doubt difficult two weeks for LAPD Chief Charlie Beck, but he's making time to sit down with Patt Morrison.	Charlie Beck	27:00:00
2/20/13	EDU	Is traditional education working? In the "Flipped Learning" method, teachers assign home viewing of videotaped lectures, then spend class time helping their students solidify what they've learned with projects, exercises and Socratic discussions.	Aaron Sams, Gary S. Stager, Crystal Kirch	23:00
2/20/13	SPOR	With the passing of Lakers owner Jerry Buss, comes not just mourning but questioning over how the kids will do with the family business.	Paul Swangard, Quentin Fleming	24:00:00
2/20/13	OC	Police still don't know why a 20-year-old man went on a deadly shooting rampage in Orange County yesterday morning, killing three and wounding at least two others. We'll talk with KPCC's Ben Bergman, who's been covering the story.	Ben Bergman	7:17
2/20/13	LAW	Closing arguments began Wednesday for the trial of the six Bell officials charged with corruption. Prosecutors accused them of collecting paychecks for jobs that didn't exist. Defense attorneys will speak in the afternoon.	Jeff Gottlieb	7:08
2/20/13	ENV	Climate change has been getting a lot of attention lately. It was blamed for last year's extreme heat and for Super-storm Sandy.	Jon Christensen	8:53
2/20/13	FOR	"Zero Dark Thirty" is up for a Best Picture Oscar this Sunday, but the movie about the hunt for Osama Bin Laden has been condemned by some politicians who say it misrepresents the U.	Rebecca Santana	6:49
2/20/13	ENT	How much does a studio gain from a best picture win? How much more money can an actor command with a gold statue on their resume? Gina Delvac reports.	Gina Delvac	4:06
2/20/13	ART	Kevin Mazur is the director and producer of a new documentary about paparazzi called "Sellebrity." Mazur joins the show to talk about his film and the paparazzi phenomenon.	Kevin Mazur	8:26
2/20/13	HEAL	Medi-Cal, California's version of Medicaid, already provides help to nearly 8 million residents. This week, the State Assembly is considering a bill which could add more than a million new people to Medi-Cal's rosters.	Shana Alex Lavarreda	6:00

2/20/13	POLI	Los Angeles voters have a choice between the established Sacramento lawmaker or the longtime bureaucrat in a district that stretches from Northeast L.A. to Pico-Union.	Sharon McNary	5:30
2/20/13	TECH	Vine debuted less than a month ago but it's already being used for commercials and movie releases. It's even suffered from a porn scandal. Here with more on Vine is Angela Watercutter, who covers pop culture for Wired.	Angela Watercutter	6:12
2/20/13	ART	The James Beard Foundation announced the semifinalists for their 2013 Restaurant Awards yesterday, and for once LA chefs are generously represented. Here to talk about some of the contenders is Patric Kuh, a recipient of a James Beard award for his food writing at Los Angeles magazine.	Patric Kuh	6:24
2/20/13	ECON	The collective buying power of the Latino population in the U.S. will reach an estimated $1.5 trillion in 2015. Not surprisingly, researchers say that much of that money will be going to buying food.	Jill Replogle	4:12
2/20/13	TECH	Todd Martens, a critic for the LA Times who has recently written about violent video games, joins the show.	Todd Martens	6:11
2/20/2013	LAW	How the Tingirides family coped during the Dornier incident	Aguilar	3:50
2/20/2013	POLI	Gil Cedillo battles Jose Gardea in the 1st Council District primary on the streets of Pico-Union	McNary	5:31
2/20/2013	DIS	Pine Mountain driver gets stuck	CC	:08
2/20/2013	TRAN	Grapevine along I-5 closed due to snow	CC	:11
2/20/2013	ECON	LA's Silicon Beach is financially strong	DeBord	1:09
2/20/2013	ENV	CHP closes Grapevine and Route 58 near Bakersfield due to ice and snow	CC	:12
2/20/2013	ECON	Economists predict growth for LA's technology industry in 2013	CC	:15
2/20/2013	TT	Closing arguments are underway in the Bell corruption trial	CC	:17
2/20/2013	LAW	Seven officers who mistakenly shot newspaper carrier during Dornier manhunt will not be on duty until an investigation is completed	CC	:22
2/20/2013	LAW	Chief Beck is still deciding how to divide up Christopher Dornier reward money	CC	:13
2/20/2013	SCI	Mars rover Curiosity collects sample from rock interior	CC	:24
2/20/2013	ECON	The Southern California region is growing faster than the nation, but it still has a ways to go before fully recovering	DeBord	:39
2/20/2013	ECON	California businesses may get a sales tax break on manufacturing equipment	CC	:15
2/20/2013	LAW	Police investigate the death of a Canadian tourist	Unknown	3:52
2/20/2013	LAW	Police release 911 tapes from shooting rampage, identify victim	CC	:20
2/20/2013	ECON	California businesses may get a sales tax break on manufacturing equipment	Quinton	:50
2/20/2013	IMM	El Paso wants a voice in immigration debate	Uribe	:50
2/20/2013	ENV	Lawmakers introduce bills to help Californians who rely on contaminated drinking water	Quinton	:49
2/20/2013	POLI	California lawmakers decide how geography can affect health insurance premiums	CC	:15
2/20/2013	POLI	Bell corruption case goes to the jury	Moore	:53
2/20/2013	LAW	911 tapes from deadly rampage in Orange County have been released	Bergman	3:51

2/21/13	HEAL	If your child hits his or her head and is rushed to the emergency room, he or she should automatically get a CT scan, right? Not so fast, says a recommendation from the American Board of Internal Medicine (ABIM), a consortium of over 30 professional medical organizations. CT scanning is associated with radiation exposure that may escalate future cancer risk and may be unnecessary. Doctors who automatically order a CT scan, or who immediately prescribe antibiotics for respiratory illnesses are probably not 'Choosing Wisely,' according to the ABIM. The organization's campaign, called Choosing Wisely, aims to "promote conversations between physicians and patients by helping patients choose care that is supported by evidence, not duplicative of other tests or procedures already received, free from harm and truly necessary." Which so-called 'overused medical treatments' have you had and do you regret having a procedure that you feel was unnecessary? How can doctors work with patients to better prevent overusing medical treatments?	Daniel Wolfson, Kavita K. Patel	23:00
2/21/13	HEAL	The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) yesterday published a report that shows a steady rise in drug overdose deaths in the United States. The report states that nearly 17,000 people died from drug overdoses in 1999; in 2010 the number was almost 39,000. That's a 127% increase over the past 11 years. Almost half of those deaths were due to opioid analgesics, such as OxyContin and Vicodin. Anti-anxiety medications including Valium were also common causes of overdose deaths. Why have overdose deaths risen so significantly? The CDC speculates that many doctors and patients don't realize pain management drugs can be addictive and that many deaths result from mismanagement of multiple prescription medications. California is one of the states that has an electronic database designed to monitor prescription drug use, with an eye to catching both pill-pushing doctors and doctor-shopping patients. But is it being utilized, and if so, is it effective enough? Is the public well-informed about prescription drug abuse and overdosing? What are the signs of drug abuse? What are health care professionals and the federal government doing to prevent this trend from continuing?	Natalie Strand, M.D., Lynn Webster, M.D.	17:00

2/21/13	ECON	After weeks of negotiations, the Chamber of Commerce and the AFL-CIO (American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations) today agreed on principles for creating a new system for worker visas. This new system focuses on filling employment for lesser-skilled occupations. Although they are still hammering out details, business and labor groups have agreed on some common grounds for immigration reform. In this proposed new system, American workers will still be given employment priority and information about job openings in lesser-skilled occupations will be more publicized. However, when employers are not able to fill the job opening with American workers, the process to hire foreign workers will be more efficient and not keep all workers in a permanent temporary status, providing labor mobility. Also, the groups call for more research and data on immigration and work visas be provided to the public. How will this affect immigration reform? Will it take away jobs from American workers and open the doors for immigration? Is a new system feasible? Who benefits from this new system?	Jeff Hauser, Mark Krikorian	7:00
2/21/13	SCI	President Obama plans to announce a big and bold scientific initiative to map the human brain. According to The New York Times, it will try to achieve for brain research what the Human Genome Project did for genetics. The report says Congress will be asked to allocate $3 billion dollars over ten years. In his State of the Union address last week, Obama said, "Every dollar we invested to map the human genome returned $140 to our economy" - meaning such projects combine scientific endeavors with economic benefits. But should we ask for a money-back guarantee? When looking at California's investments in stem cell research - funding allocated thanks to Proposition 71 in 2004 - government sometimes has a poor track record of making good science materialize despite billions spent. What other science has government been successful at managing and investing? What about NASA getting to the moon? Or nuclear research? Could cancer research be better off if it were a centralized project of the National Institute of Health? Or has a laissez faire approach been more fruitful?	Michael Roukes, Daniel Sarewitz	23:00

2/21/13	ENT	It has been seven years since Sony Corp. released a new version of its PlayStation (PS) game console, and the entertainment market has undoubtedly changed considerably in that time. Not only does Sony now have to compete with other console proprietors like Xbox-maker Microsoft, but also with smartphones, tablets, and other mobile gaming devices hoping to carve out their share of the market. Some games for mobile devices are given away for free or for a $1, which is virtually free compared to a PS3 game that sells for nearly $60. Prices for the new PlayStation games are not yet officially announced, but Sony will have to work a little harder to convince consumers to fork over anything close to PS3 prices. With console sales slowing, some industry observers are wondering how well home video game consoles will survive in a constantly changing marketplace. Sony certainly is not giving up on the market anytime soon and will likely fight hard to keep the PlayStation relevant. Accordingly, the new PlayStation exploits advancements in networking and cloud technology. One new feature targeting gamers who are also social networkers is the "Share" button on the new Playstation controllers, which allows players to instantly share their game status and chat on social media sites like Facebook.	Tim Stevens	16:00
2/21/13	GEND	Automobile website Edmunds.com has released the top ten cars bought in Los Angeles for 2012 based on sex. Looking at the two lists, it appears that when it comes to cars and trucks, socio-normative gender roles are holding on strong. For instance, the list for females is comprised of smaller vehicles and no trucks. For men, on the other hand, trucks take up more than half the results. While this may not be surprising, some of the nuances of the data do have interesting implications. It seems there is a connection between domestic automobiles and men, as there are only three foreign vehicles that made it to the top ten. Also, the top result for women is the Volkswagen Beetle. This is unfortunate for VW, as the 2012 Beetle was geared towards attracting male consumers. Why doesn't that car appeal to men? And why do men buy so many trucks, especially in L.A. where parking is notoriously awful? Why are women more likely to buy foreign cars? Do you have a "male" or "female" car? Do you think there is a connection between one's sex and the choice of a vehicle?	Jessica Caldwell	8:00
2/21/13	LAW	Yesterday, the high court refused to block the deportation of thousands of immigrants, many of them here legally, who have pled guilty to committing a crime.	Kevin Johnson	7:11
2/21/13	POLI	Now it's time for another installment in our regular look at LA City politics with City Hall Pass, your ticket to all the latest news out of downtown with KPCC's Alice Walton and Frank Stoltze.	Alice Walton and Frank Stoltze	9:01
2/21/13	ECON	The all new, all-electric Tesla S is the second act for the California company that first produced a tiny roadster. KPCC's Steve Proffitt took a ride in one and has a report.	Steve Proffitt	10:16

2/21/13	ECON	Sales of the Chevy Volt and Nissan Leaf drove off a cliff at the turn of the new year, falling by more than half. And that's despite the government rebates, savings from gas, and other incentives to get behind the wheel. For more on why this is and what that means for the future of electric cars, we're joined now by Paul Eisenstein, publisher of TheDetroitBureau.com.	Paul Eisenstein	6:44
2/21/13	ENT	Four generations of the Westmore family have done hair and make-up on film and TV in Hollywood. They created beauty and beasts.	Brian Watt	4:28
2/21/13	ART	This week, fans of mid-century modern design and architecture are gathering in Palm Springs for that city's annual Modernism Week. Modernism Week actually lasts 11 days and began last weekend. Culture critic Edward Lifson joins the show with more.	Edward Lifson	7:25
2/21/13	OBIT	George Aratani, a Los Angeles businessman who donated millions in support of a wide variety of Japanese-American causes has died. We take a look back at his life and legacy with his biographer, Naomi Hirahara.	Naomi Harihara	5:31
2/21/13	POLI	Democratic Congressman Adam Schiff, who represents the 28th district in the heart of Los Angeles County, joins the show to talk about the $85 billion automatic, across the board spending cuts.	Adam Schiff	13:00
2/21/13	POLI	As reform is being discussed, Republicans are bowing to political realities after Latinos overwhelmingly voted Democrat in November.	Kitty Felde	4:30
2/21/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party podcast and radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:16
2/21/13	LAW	California Highway Patrol officer and Medal of Valor recipient Rafael Rivera joins the show.	Rafael Rivera	5:01
2/21/13	ENV	California produces more than two million tons of hazardous waste each year, but a new report from the group Consumer Watchdog finds the DTSC isn't pulling its weight. Liza Tucker, the author of that report, joins the show to explain.	Liza Tucker	11:13
2/21/2013	SPOR	Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:18
2/21/2013	DC	California GOP moderating on immigration reform	Felde	4:31
2/21/2013	LAW	Rina Palta at funeral of San Bernardino County Sheriff's detective	Palta	1:01
2/21/2013	OBIT	Japanese American philanthropist George Aratani died	CC	:17
2/21/2013	POLI	Majority of Californians approve of Jerry Brown for first time since he's returned to office	Adler	:47
2/21/2013	ENT	Oscars 2013: Westmore family continues to make-up Hollywood	Watt	4:28
2/21/2013	HEAL	How will LA families be affected if Head Start is cut due to Sequestration?	Fernandes	2:36
2/21/2013	OC	Authorities have released the 911 tapes from Tuesday's deadly rampage in Orange County	Bergman	2:39
2/21/2013	ENV	Lawmakers introduce bills to help Californians who rely on contaminated drinking water	CC	:12
2/21/2013	POLI	California lawmakers decide how geography can affect health insurance premiums	Bartolone	1:18
2/21/2013	ENV	New report claims hazardous waste management agency is biased toward industry	Khokha	1:01
2/21/2013	SPOR	The Lakers beat the Celtics in first game since Jerry Buss' death	CC	:09
2/21/2013	SPOR	The Lakers beat the Celtics in first game since Jerry Buss' death	CC	:08
2/21/2013	LAW	Rina Palta at funeral of San Bernardino County Sheriff's detective	Palta	1:03
2/21/2013	LAW	Rina Palta at funeral of San Bernardino County Sheriff's detective	Palta	:56
2/21/2013	ECON	The Southern California economy is growing faster than the U.S., but it still isn't good enough to make for a robust recovery	DeBord	:57
2/21/2013	ECON	Clerical workers at Ports of LA and Long Beach approve contract with their employers	Lee	:51

2/21/2013	DC	Governer Brown in DC for governer's meeting	Felde	:58
2/21/2013	SPOR	Thousands of people attended funeral for detective Jeremiah MacKay	CC	:17
2/21/2013	ENV	Consumer Watchdog criticizes California regulators for not doing enough to protect the public from toxic harm	CC	:23
2/21/2013	LAW	Memorial service held for San Bernardino County Sheriff's detective Jeremiah MacKay	CC	:12
2/21/2013	ECON	The inventory crisis in housing is affecting the Southern California market in a big way	DeBord	:42
2/21/2013	TRAN	Air travelers react to potential added hassles if sequestration becomes reality	Watt	1:08
2/21/2013	ECON	Port of LA enters exclusive negotiations with SoCal developer	Lee	:52
2/21/2013	SPOR	Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:16
2/21/2013	HEAL	LA Public Health Department tests the water at Cecil Hotel, where tourist was found dead	CC	:22
2/21/2013	POLI	A new Pew Research survey shows Latino support for President Obama jumping dramatically since 2011	Berestein Rojas	:47
2/21/2013	SPOR	Lakers owner Jerry Buss dies	CC	:21
2/21/2013	POLI	Bill would ban interruptions of wires services	Quinton	:51
2/21/2013	POLI	Bill would ban unauthorized interruption of wireless services	CC	:15
2/21/2013	HEAL	New report shows big gap in the money state will owe retirees	Quinton	:46
2/21/2013	ECON	Sequestration cuts could affect California's economic recovery	Adler	:47
2/21/2013	ECON	California could lose $4 billion if sequestration kicks in	CC	:09
2/21/2013	LAW	Defense says ex-Bell city council members broke no laws in drawing huge salaries	Moore	1:06
2/21/2013	LAW	Las Vegas police try to piece together what happened during yesterday's deadly gunfire and car crash on the strip	CC	:14
2/22/13	POLI	While Republicans and Democrats may agree on the inevitability of the sequester, they don't agree on the effect sequestration will likely have on the American economy. Will it really trigger a fiscal cliff or not cause the economy any major harm?	Scott Lilly, Phil Swagel	21:00
2/22/13	ENT	Hollywood's biggest night of the year is nearly here and as Tinseltown prepares for the Oscars, Larry Mantle and the FilmWeek critics offer their recommendations, critiques, and predictions about who should, who will, and who won't win Academy Awards on Sunday. Who do the critics think will win Best Actor, Best Actress and Best Picture? To find out, listen in as Larry hosts the Eleventh Annual FilmWeek Oscar Preview at the historic Egyptian Theatre.	Tim Cogshell, Wade Major, Lael Loewenstein, Claudia Puig, Peter Rainer, Henry Sheehan, Charles Solomon	1:13:00
2/22/13	EDU	School board races don't usually garner much attention from the general public, but the races for three seats on LA Unified's school board are making national headlines. KPCC's Vanessa Romo reports.	Vanessa Romo	5:03
2/22/13	ECON	This week, David Dreier, the recently retired Republican congressman from the 26th district in the foothills east of LA, announced his next gig. He'll be leading a new commission focused on trade as part of the nonprofit Annenberg Foundation Trust at Sunnyslands.	Shane Goldmacher	6:58
2/22/13	ECON	We'll talk about the week that was with our regular political roundtables. On tap this week, Sophia Nelson of NBC's The Grio, The Daily Beast and Essence Magazine, and James Rainey of the L.	Sophia Nelson and James Rainey	15:03
2/22/13	ENT	The very first thing you'll likely hear during the Oscars this Sunday is the Academy orchestra, but who are these musicians and what do they do when it's not awards season? KPCC'S Kevin Ferguson reports.	Kevin Ferguson	4:18

2/22/13	ENT	Another place in the show that we'll hear the orchestra play is before, during and after the winners' speeches. Every year you have a couple of moving speeches, a few awful speeches, but mostly OK speeches that no one remembers.	Patt Morrison	7:13
2/22/13	ENT	One thing that will be different about this year's award show is the person handing the Oscar statue to the presenter. The tall model will be replaced by film students.	Tatenda Mbudzi	6:02
2/22/13	POLI	President Obama has until the end of next week to weigh in on Prop 8, which goes before the Supreme Court next month. Gay rights groups want the administration to file a "friend of the court" brief urging the justices to declare California's gay marriage ban unconstitutional.	Douglas Nejaime	5:47
2/22/13	RELI	Tomorrow, Cardinal Roger Mahony is scheduled to be questioned in a lawsuit about a Mexican priest accused of molesting more than two dozen children in the late 1980s. Reverend Nicolas Aguilar Rivera fled to Mexico after parents complained about him.	Barbie Latza Nadeau	6:55
2/22/13	SCI	About two million Californians live in unincorporated areas, outside the sheltering arms of a city governance plan - and budget. Many of these communities are so poor, they lack basic infrastructure, like sewers or sidewalks. One of these places, a tiny town in Fresno County, has locals expecting the streetlights will be turned off next week. The California Report's Sasha Khokha has the story.	Sasha Khokha	4:51
2/22/13	IMM	Most members of California's delegation are following the party script, but at least a couple of newcomers are treading carefully.	Kitty Felde	2:58
2/22/13	LAW	Joining us to consider that comparison are Judy Muller, a veteran journalist who covered the OJ Simpson trial, and former defense attorney Stan Goldman.	Judy Muller, and Stan Goldman	9:43
2/22/13	ECON	Nearly three years ago an explosion on the Deepwater Horizon oil rig killed 11 workers and dumped 4.9 million barrels of oil into the Gulf of Mexico. BP is one of the companies being held responsible, and on Monday they head to court as a defendant in what could be one of the biggest civil trials ever.	Ken Feinberg	9:56
2/22/2013	DC	House Democrats split on some immigration issues	Felde	2:40
2/22/2013	IMM	Majority of California voters believe undocumented immigrants should have a path to citizenship	Adler	:48
2/22/2013	EDU	Battle for District 4 seat heats up	Romo	5:02
2/22/2013	SPOR	At a memorial yesterday, Dr. Jerry Buss was remembered as a sports business visionary, a renaissance man, and the rare team owner who was compassionate towards his players	Bergman	3:22
2/22/2013	POLI	Top candidates for mayor remain nearly equal for fundraising	McNary	:45
2/22/2013	DC	Top House GOP on armed services blames President for sequestration	Felde	:58
2/22/2013	ENT	Film students to replace models as Oscar statue presenters	CC	:15
2/22/2013	ECON	Obama urged Congress to avoid sequester	CC	:15
2/22/2013	POLI	LA Opinion endorses Garcetti in Mayor's race	McNary	:56
2/22/2013	LAW	Tens of thousands of prisoners have shifted from state to local supervision, creating a strain on counties	Russ	:53
2/22/2013	ENV	Lawmaker proposes a bill that can speed up the judicial process around California Environmental Quality Act	CC	:14
2/22/2013	ENV	Lawmaker proposes a bill that can speed up the judicial process around California Environmental Quality Act	Quinton	:50
2/22/2013	POLI	Central Valley Democratic Senator Michael Rubio unexpectedly resigns	CC	:19
2/22/2013	POLI	California voters' attitudes toward driver's licenses for undocumented immigrants appear to be softening, a new Field Poll suggests	Berestein Rojas	:46
2/22/2013	TRAN	New toll express lanes opened on the 10 freeway	CC	:12
2/22/2013	HEAL	Tough strain of TB found in LA's Skid Row	CC	:19
2/22/2013	HOUS	Health officials try to tackle tough strain of TB on skid row	CC	:16
2/22/2013	POLI	Jury deciding fate of six former Bell city leaders in public corruption trial	Moore	1:05

2/22/2013	LAW	LASD ups patrols in area of Westmont area b/c of gang related shootings	Aguilar	1:01
2/23/13	I	Off Ramp's host, John Rabe, interviews Charlie LeDuff about his new book 'Detroit - An American Autopsy.' LeDuff reads about discovering a body encased in ice in an abandoned factory.	John Rabe / Charlie LeDuff	6:27
2/23/13	ART	Grant Slater interviews Xavier Jombart, winner of the Instagram contest. The theme was "Shall We Dance?"	Grant Slater / Xavier Jombart	3:43
2/23/13	ENT	As David Dean Bottrell tells us in his lightly fictionalized one-man show, David Dean Bottrell is Working, his resume is varied. Off Ramp Host John Rabe speaks with Bottrell about his employment history.	John Rabe / David Dean Bottrell	4:47
2/23/13	ART	John Rabe and Los Angeles Magazine's Chris Nichols go to Bahooka in Rosmead to talk about the forthcoming closure of the iconic tiki restaurant.	John Rabe / Chris Nichols	5:11
2/23/13	ART	Colette Miller painted wings on the pull-down security shutters at the Regent Theatre in downtown Los Angeles, and Gary Leonard photographed anyone who wanted a portrait. John Rabe speaks with Leonard about the project.	John Rabe / Gary Leonard	3:00
2/23/13	OBIT	KPCC news editor Nick Roman joins Off-Ramp host John Rabe to talk about the life, Lakers, and legacy of Jerry Buss.	John Rabe / Nick Roman	4:30
2/23/13	MIL	Take Two's Josie Huang explores American Legion Post 43 where casting agents and studio executives mingle with more than 100 veterans looking for their big break.	Josie Huang / Kyle Hausmann-Stokes / Mike Dowling	4:27
2/23/13	LIT	At the Philosophical Research Society on Los Feliz Blvd., there's a plaque that reads, "Dedicated to the truth seekers of all time." Off Ramp's Robert Garrova talked with Obadiah Harris, the Society's president.	Robert Garrova / Obadiah Harris	5:58
2/23/13	MIL	Take Two's Josie Huang explores military veterans making their way through the Hollywood entertainment industry.	Josie Huang	4:04
2/24/2013	ENT	Roman Coppola is nominated for the Best Original Screenplay Oscar for Moonrise Kingdom	CC	:19
2/24/2013	ENT	Tim Burton's film Frankenweenie is nominated for the Best Animated Feature Film Oscar	CC	:18
2/24/2013	ENT	Zero Dark Thirty nominated for five Oscars	CC	:19
2/24/2013	LAW	Memorial service held for victims of Dornier's killing spree	Palta	:53
2/24/2013	TRAN	405 improvements are running a year behind schedule	CC	:19
2/24/2013	TRAN	405 improvements are running a year behind schedule	Martinez	1:23
2/25/13	ENT	What kinds of changes could make the Oscars more compelling? What were your favorite moments from last night's show? Join us to discuss last night's awards, the biggest snubs and surprises and the most deserved wins.	Nicole Sperling, Brian Lowry, Mallika Rao,	31:00:00
2/25/13	ENT	NBC once dominated primetime ratings and reigned supreme for "Must see TV" shows like Friends and Law and Order. However, it's been struggling to keep up with competitors and its ratings finished last place this sweeps week, behind ABC, CBS, Fox and Univision. Former NBC President of Entertainment joins Larry to give an insider account.	Warren Littlefield	17:00
2/25/13	ECON	How do shareholder rights coexist or conflict with corporate interests?	Laura Berry, Robert M. Daines, Eric Talley	20:00

2/25/13	POLI	An $85 billion automatic cut is set to happen on Friday, and the Obama administration yesterday issued reports about how sequestration will affect each state.	Kitty Felde	10:00
2/25/13	RACE	Many Americans like to think that they hold few, if any, racial prejudices, but when it comes to choosing friends, a number of these same people are likely to base their choices on race without even realizing it.	Anthony Greenwald, Mahzarin Banaji	17:00
2/25/13	LAW	California is one of 28 states with laws on the books that allow authorities to take DNA samples from people arrested for a serious crime. The Justices will be deciding if those DNA samples violate the 4th Amendment, which guards against unreasonable search and seizure.	Laurie Levenson	9:24
2/25/13	LAW	Today in Sacramento, the Assembly's Committee on Public Safety will take up special security units in the state's prison system, which was the focus of widespread hunger strikes in 2011.	Michael Montgomery	5:47
2/25/13	ENT	Early reports show a jump in the ratings for this year's Academy Awards show, probably helped along by some popular films up for Best Picture. There was a stumble on the stairs, host Seth McFarlane played to mixed reviews, and the First Lady announced the winner for Best Picture.	Rebecca Keegan	6:53
2/25/13	ART	Writer Patrick Meighan normally works as a writer for Seth MacFarlane's hit show "Family Guy," so when MacFarlane was chosen to host the awards show, Patrick was enlisted to help write material.	Patrick Meighan	6:18
2/25/13	SCI	Making body parts from scratch sounds like the stuff of science fiction novels, but scientists are already creating artificial organs and tissue with the help of machines.	Quentin Hardy	6:18
2/25/13	EDU	As the public education system becomes more rigorous and standardized, the effect is creeping down to the youngest students. Educators worry that 4-year-olds aren't quite yet ready for the academic focus that kindergarten today demands. KPCC's Deepa Fernandes reports.	Deepa Fernandes	5:40
2/25/13	IMM	Tracking down smugglers and illegal immigrants, the old-fashioned way. "We do exactly what any other agent in any other vehicle does except we do it on horseback, that is our vehicle." Coming up, a ridealong with a Border Patrol Horse Unit....	Erin Siegal	4:18
2/25/13	POLI	His credentials are impeccable, but questions remain about whether his search for consensus will work in the city's top job.	Frank Stoltze	5:28
2/25/13	TECH	The Center for Copyright Information has revealed more details about its Copyright Alert System, a cooperation between internet providers and content owners. The new plan, nicknamed the "six strikes" system, warns users when they are downloading or sharing owned content then issue a warning, a requirement to watch an educational video, or a temporary slowdown of service.	-	6:57
2/25/13	HEAL	KPCC's state capitol reporter Julie Small has been tracking California's efforts to implement these reform and joins us now to talk about it.	Julie Small	5:27
2/25/13	ECON	If sequestration cuts take effect this Friday, California stands to lose about $16 million marked for public health spending. Joining us to explain where those cuts would come from and what effect they could have on California's public health, is Dr. Kavita Patel. She's an adjunct professor at UCLA and a fellow at the Brookings Institution.	Kavita Patel	7:12

2/25/13	ART	Those joyful Oscar acceptance speeches we've all rehearsed in our heads a hundred times. Oscar speeches have become the stuff of legend, deconstructed and criticized as if they were one of Lincoln's great orations. No one has looked at them closer than Rebecca Rolfe. She's a graduate student at Georgia Tech who has been studying expressions of gratitude in Oscar speeches going back to the 1950s.	Rebecca Rolfe	7:09
2/25/13	ART	Take Two host Alex Cohen met up guerrilla gardener and TED speaker Ron Finley next to his garden in his South LA neighborhood.	Ron Finley	8:10
2/25/2013	EDU	What is TK and why is it necessary?	Fernandes	5:23
2/25/2013	TECH	Loh Life Facebook	Loh	2:59
2/25/2013	ECON	Gas prices in Southern California have been seeing record increases over the past month, but analysts say prices will go higher	DeBord	:40
2/25/2013	POLI	Top candidates for mayor remain nearly equal for fundraising	McNary	1:18
2/25/2013	DC	Most California members support an agriculture guestworker program	Felde	2:38
2/25/2013	ENT	More than a thousand people are expected to attend the TED Conference in Long Beach	Martinez	:57
2/25/2013	ENV	Declared water emergency in 4 communities while pipeline upgraded	Peterson	:50
2/25/2013	ENT	Argo wins Best Picture at the Oscars	CC	:13
2/25/2013	ENT	Ang Li took home Best Director	CC	:11
2/25/2013	ENT	Jennifer Lawrence wins "best actress" at the Oscars	CC	:09
2/25/2013	ART	Oscars' host Seth MacFarlane	CC	:11
2/25/2013	ART	Quentin Tarantino wins an Oscar for "Django Unchained."	CC	:12
2/25/2013	ENT	Adele wins "best original song" at the Oscars	CC	:16
2/25/2013	LAW	Committee on Public Safety takes up prison issues	Montgomery	5:24
2/25/2013	SPOR	Jimmie Johnson wins the Daytona 500	CC	:08
2/25/2013	ENT	Patt Morrison on the Oscars	Morrison	2:53
2/25/2013	LAW	Memorial service held for victims of Dornier's killing spree	Aguilar	2:05
2/25/2013	ENT	Patt Morrison dishes on what it was like behind-the-scenes at the Oscars	CC	:19
2/25/2013	LAW	Irvine couple believed to have been killed by Dornier remembered at memorial	CC	:16
2/25/2013	ENV	Guerrilla gardening at the TED Conference	CC	:18
2/25/2013	POLI	Sequestration would mean less money for public health in CA	CC	:24
2/25/2013	POLI	Governors wrap up meeting with President Obama	CC	:09
2/25/2013	LAW	Supreme Court looks at genetic privacy	CC	:12
2/25/2013	DC	White House numbers on how sequestration will affect California	Felde	:53
2/25/2013	OBIT	Former US Surgeon General C. Everett Koop died	CC	:19
2/25/2013	ENT	Oscar telecast was most-watched in three years	CC	:11
2/25/2013	IMM	Business and labor agree that immigration bill should address need for better data to guide policy	Joffe-Block	:54
2/25/2013	ENT	Visual effects firm that worked on "Life of Pi" files for bankruptcy	Watt	:48
2/25/2013	ECON	Some Californians could face a cut in unemployment benefits if sequestration goes ahead	CC	:16
2/25/2013	SAC	Governor Brown, state Republicans want escape hatch on Medi-Cal expansion	Small	2:35
2/25/2013	TRAN	Head of CA High Speed Rail Authority says construction on first phase should begin this summer	CC	:08
2/25/2013	LAW	Coast Guard searches for a boat that was reported sinking	CC	:05
2/25/2013	TRAN	Head of CA High Speed Rail Authority says construction on first phase should begin this summer	Adler	:51
2/25/2013	POLI	If no budget deal, Defense Department says it will notify 64 thousand CA workers about furloughs	Moore	1:09
2/25/2013	ECON	Lacter on the sequestration	Lacter	4:03
2/25/2013	EDU	Grant sends volunteers to some of the nation's worst schools	Romo	:58

2/25/2013	POLI	Garcetti wants to be mayor	Stoltze	5:17
2/25/2013	POLI	Vote by mail deadline Tuesday	Stoltze	:50
		Nine-year-old lead actress Academy Award nominee Quvenzhané Wallis did not make headlines for winning an Oscar on Sunday, but she certainly has been the subject of many op-ed articles after satirical news outlet The Onion published a tweet about her that provoked outrage. On Oscar night, @TheOnion tweeted: "Everyone else seems afraid to say it, but that Quvenzhané Wallis is kind of a c---, right? #Oscars2013." The tweet was taken down within an hour of publication, according to Steve Hannah, The Onion's CEO who apologized for the quip yesterday. Regarding the tweet, Hannah wrote, "It was crude and offensive—not to mention inconsistent with The Onion's commitment to parody and satire, however biting. No person should be subjected to such a senseless, humorless comment masquerading as satire." Nevertheless, backlash against The Onion for the tweet has been fierce with some demanding the name of the individual writer who wrote the comment about Wallis.
2/26/13	MEDI		Alyssa Rosenberg	23:00
		Rep. Eshel Sanchez, D-Calif., has introduced a bill to Congress outlining a means to fund gun buyback efforts nationally. Since the Newtown shooting, local enforcement agencies have spearheaded buyback programs as a means to reduce the number of guns out in the population. Incentives include cash or other forms of compensation, such as the retail gift cards handed out to buyback participants in Los Angeles. However, the financial backing to run a buyback with staff, logistics and rewards is not always easy to come by. That's why Rep. Sanchez has called for a 10 percent tax on any sales of weapons considered concealable, like handguns, which would funnel into these programs to make them monetarily viable. But critics of the proposal call into question the effectiveness of buybacks in general. They are quick to point out that there hasn't been a documented drop in gun violence after these buybacks, and that the guns returned are antiques and unlikely to fall into the hands of a criminal. Still, Los Angeles law enforcement state that the collection of 2,000 firearms in December via these buybacks is a testament to their success.
2/26/13	LAW	How effective are these programs? Are they making a difference? Should taxes on gun sales be used to try and curb the spreading of guns, or is that counterintuitive?	Lee Baca, Sam Paredes	25:00:00

2/26/13	LAW	It would be tough to overstate the level of interest in tomorrow's high court hearing on voting rights. The case is challenging a historic piece of legislation. In 1965, the creation of the Voting Rights Act was heralded as a landmark victory for civil rights. It outlawed discriminatory polling practices that were commonplace, particularly in the Deep South. Now, some regions - including the petitioners of this case, Shelby County, Alabama - say the Act is for a time that has passed. They argue the federal government should no longer have oversight into the local issue of polling places or redistricting. There is a long list of stakeholders watching the case intently. It touches on politics, the law, race and history. Is the federal government still needed to police discrimination? Are there still racist practices affecting elections? Why are political parties paying close attention to this case?	Nancy Abudu, Joshua Thompson	14:00
2/26/13	LAW	Information that is not available to the public in a public agency should be available to the public. This has been upheld in various ways and in different legislative terms. However, ruthless web entrepreneurs have taken advantage of Florida's open government laws by posting mugshots online. The subjects of these photos, who may not have been convicted of a crime, could google their name and stumble upon their mugshot gone viral. The Facebook page "Florida Mug Shots" has over 59,000 likes and hosts comments on daily mugshots. Websites such as florida.arrests.org continuously update the mugshots and even allow you to browse by topics such as "celebrity," "hotties," "scary," and "transgender." To remove this post, subjects can pay various amounts to have their embarrassing snaps removed. RemoveSlander.com charges $399 and advertises, "You Have Nothing to Lose But the Humiliation." Now, a bill was filed in Florida on February 11 that would require these websites to take down personal information of those not convicted of a crime. However, this bill would also include media publications that disclose names and photos of alleged and convicted offenders in news articles. Should websites be allowed to post these	Arthur D'Antonio III, Holden Green	17:00

2/26/13	ECON	You'd think a company that traffics in internet innovation would embrace telecommuting. But Yahoo's new CEO Marissa Mayer has appeared to put the kibosh on employees phoning – or Skyping – it in. Currently, some of the Yahoo team work remotely full time, while some are occasional telecommuters. But in a recent company memo, Yahoo's head of human resources informed its nearly 12,000 workers that starting in June, every employee will be expected to make face time full time by reporting to work at a company office five days a week. The memo pointed to the company's aim to make work time "more productive, efficient and fun." Studies have shown that telecommuting can be a money saver for companies, and that workers are no less productive at home using Skype, e-mail and other modern conveniences. Employees with families appreciate having flextime options and are often willing to take a pay cut in exchange. So why the throwback attitude? Mayer has said that she wants her teams to focus more on communication and collaboration; presumably, she's looking to the new policy to foster more watercooler conversations, bullpen sessions and overall creative spark. Mayer has a job ahead of her to turn Yahoo's misfortunes around. Will this method prove successful? Or will it result in a workplace full of resentful, unproductive employees? Does Yahoo risk losing valuable talent who don't want to relocate or commute? Is it possible for a company to foster team spirit without having its workers onsite? If you're a Yahoo telecommuter, will this decision make you reconsider?	Beth A. Livingston, Rose Stanley	16:00
2/26/13	LAW	A civil war is brewing over gay marriage. At last count, 75 Republicans have signed on to an amicus brief supporting gay marriage. They'll submit that brief to the Supreme Court in support of the suit seeking to strike down Prop 8, California's ballot initiative that banned same-sex marriage.	Sheryl Gay Stolberg	7:46
2/26/13	LAW	For more on the case, how it was covered by the media and what's happened in the year since, we're joined now by Eric Deggans, media critic for the Tampa Bay Times and author of the book "Race Baiter."	Eric Deggans	11:09
2/26/13	LAW	As communities in Fresno grapple with keeping gangs and guns off the streets, some residents in the rural, forested ranges of Northern California say guns are a means of survival. The California Report's Mina Kim has the story.	Mina Kim	4:55
2/26/13	ART	Eddie Huang, owner/chef of BaoHaus in New York, chronicles his unconventional career path in his new book, "Fresh Off the Boat."	Eddie Huang	14:11
2/26/13	POLI	LA municipal elections are known for low voter turnout, but this year's mayoral candidates are hoping a small increase in participation may lead them to victory.	Alice Walton	3:44
2/26/13	ART	While horse meat has yet to be found in the U.S., Americans have reacted to the possibility with revulsion. But people in other countries regularly eat horse meat. So why is it such a taboo here?	Marion Nestle	7:11
2/26/13	SCI	Researchers from the University of Nevada, Reno found a four-pound whopper of a goldfish, measuring in at a foot-and-a-half. And it wasn't alone, all told they found 15 other goldfish, which suggests that there are a lot more swimming around. For more we're joined by Dr. Sudeep Chandra, Associate Professor of Conservation Ecology at the University.	Sudeep Chandra	8:39

2/26/13	ART	The song you sing before you blow out the candles and cut the cake is aptly named "Happy Birthday to You." Turns out its copyrighted, and while you won't be hauled off to court for singing it at a party, if you run a restaurant, and waiters sing it to patrons, watch out.	Ken Freedman	8:30
2/26/13	IMM	DHS is mandated by congress to keep 34,000 jail beds available for immigrant detainees, but Napolitano said yesterday the department may not be able to afford those after the across the board cuts.	Alvaro Huerta	5:39
2/26/13	ART	Today is Tuesday, that day of the week when new album drops. Here to share some of his personal faves is LA-based music critic Steve Hochman.	Steve Hochman	7:00
2/26/2013	ENT	Bankruptcy of company involved in Life of Pi visual effects highlights troubled sector of movie-making industry	Watt	4:11
2/26/2013	POLI	Local travelers could face delays or cancellations due to sequestration	Bergman	1:34
2/26/2013	DC	California Senator says Edison aware fixes at San Onofre not done	Felde	:57
2/26/2013	HEAL	Sequestration cuts will affect California medical research and public health spending	O'Neill	:57
2/26/2013	POLI	A mayoral candidate works to increase voter turnout	Walton	3:29
2/26/2013	EDU	A model teacher training program in Long Beach keeps it simple	Smith	4:02
2/26/2013	POLI	Californians think it's more important to have tighter gun control than protect the right to own guns	Quinton	:44
2/26/2013	LAW	Pedro Marin was released after the change in CA's three strikes law	Unknown	2:04
2/26/2013	ENER	Transformer fire cause electricity outage in Whittier	CC	:07
2/26/2013	ECON	Matt DeBord on LA housing numbers	DeBord	2:36
2/26/2013	LAW	New bill would require ski areas to report deaths and injuries on the slopes	CC	:07
2/26/2013	HOUS	December LA Home prices rise 10.2 percent	CC	:12
2/26/2013	TT	Researchers find giant goldfish in Lake Tahoe	CC	:15
2/26/2013	LAW	Two fatal officer-involved shootings in two days in Southern California	CC	:12
2/26/2013	LAW	Sheriff Baca responds to critics	CC	:15
2/26/2013	LAW	Activists show support for Christopher Dorner's message at LA Police Commission	CC	:13
2/26/2013	LAW	DHS releasing illegal immigrants ahead of sequester	CC	:18
2/26/2013	ENT	Cablevision is suing Viacom	Watt	:31
2/26/2013	ENER	Mayor Villaraigosa promised LA will end reliance on coal within 12 years	Peterson	1:00
2/26/2013	DC	Growers and farmworker union testify on guestworker	Felde	1:01
2/26/2013	ECON	FAA will eliminate air traffic control at several small airports if budget cuts take effect	CC	:10
2/26/2013	LAW	LAPD chief to review other termination cases in the wake of Christopher Dorner episode	Palta	:45
2/26/2013	ECON	FAA will eliminate air traffic control at several small airports if budget cuts take effect	Ibarra	:45
2/26/2013	HEAL	LA County public health officials ask homeless shelters for medical data in TB outbreak	Fox	:38
2/26/2013	EDU	School districts will lose millions of dollars if budget cuts take effect	CC	:15
2/26/2013	LAW	California has 11th highest youth incarceration rate in the country	CC	:18
2/26/2013	LAW	Audit of detective cases at Pasadena Police Department	Aguilar	:56
2/26/2013	SPOR	A merciful end to the SoCal college hoops season	Roman	1:00
2/26/2013	TRAN	Two new tunnels open on a stretch of road known as "devil's slide"	Samuel	1:10
2/26/2013	ENT	Subject of Oscar-award winning documentary short honored by the city she grew up in	Relogle	1:00
2/26/2013	LAW	Pomona police shoot and kill a man who was armed with a knife	CC	:12
2/26/2013	LGB	Supreme Court justices raised doubts that they should be hearing the Prop 8 case at all	CC	:22

2/26/2013	LAW	LAPD chief says he still supports paying out Dorner reward, amidst donors pulling out	CC	:12
2/26/2013	HEAL	California's health exchange will launch this fall	CC	:12
2/26/2013	ECON	Sequestration is affecting low-income renters	CC	:21
2/26/2013	SPOR	LA Kings and Galaxy visit the White House	CC	:15
2/26/2013	SPOR	LA Kings and Galaxy visit the White House	CC	:15
2/26/2013	LGB	West Hollywood residents listen in on Prop 8 arguments at a local bar	CC	:22
2/26/2013	HIST	Old Tower Records building on Sunset may become a historical landmark	CC	:10
2/26/2013	LAW	Opening statements begin in San Diego trial of two alleged Mexican drug gang leaders	Flrido	:41
2/26/2013	LGB	West Hollywood residents listen in on Prop 8 arguments at a local bar	CC	:22
2/26/2013	LAW	Man trapped between two boulders is hospitalized in good condition	CC	:12
2/26/2013	LAW	California revises fire safety standards on upholstered furniture	CC	:10
2/26/2013	LAW	California revises fire safety standards on upholstered furniture	Quinton	:52
2/26/2013	ENV	Goodrich agrees to toxic cleanup settlement	Peterson	:51
2/26/2013	LAB	Opponents of a minimum wage increase released a study that predicts job losses for small businesses	CC	:11
2/26/2013	TRAN	LA launches big bike lane project on Figueroa	Fox	:53
2/26/2013	LAW	Jury awards $1.2 million to LAPD officer victimized by racist pranks	Aguilar	1:20
2/26/2013	OC	Orange County Sheriff Hutchens reveals she's fighting breast cancer	CC	:12
2/26/2013	HEAL	CDC TB researchers leave LA, LA County health still watching new cases	Fox	:52
2/26/2013	EDU	USC Village project development deal signed	Roman	:51
2/26/2013	HEAL	CA legislation blocks higher health care premiums for smokers	O'Neill	2:40
2/27/13	ECON	Have you been affected by bundling? Do you seek out smaller channels, or would you rather pay a la carte? Even if you disagree with bundling, should it be illegal?	Barton Crockett, Chad Gutstein, Alex Ben Block	14:00
2/27/13	ENT	Is the small increase in sales representative of a new profitable era for the music business?	Chad Fitzgerald, Roberto Baldwin, David Lowery	17:00
2/27/13	LAW	With the March 5 election approaching, Los Angeles business owners, public safety officers, and politicians find themselves in debate mode as the city considers a .5% sales tax increase to generate funding.	Ruben Gonzales, David Adelman	16:00
2/27/13	IMM	The first cuts of sequestration have begun. The Department of Homeland Security released hundreds of illegal immigrants from detention this week. Will the sequester make immigration jail spots unaffordable?	Rep. Adam Schiff , Ron Nehring	23:00
2/27/13	HIST	The Golden State Killer is believed to be responsible for 50 rapes and 10 murders. The police believe he is still alive and not yet caught.	Michelle McNamara	23:00
2/27/13	POLI	Candidates for the LA mayor race continue to launch ads. The latest from Kevin James features Wendy Greuel and Eric Garcetti look-alikes engaged in seedy activity.	Jessica Levinson, and Ken Wheaton	13:33
2/27/13	IMM	In immigration debate, politicians press for heightened border security despite a period of historically low violence and illegal crossings.	Molly Ball	6:34
2/27/13	EDU	Next week Los Angeles voters will head to the polls to choose school board members in three of the seven LAUSD districts. In the northeast San Fernando Valley, one man's spending power is crushing his opposition.	Mary Plummer	4:19
2/27/13	ECON	To get ready for across-the-board spending cuts, the FAA is preparing to furlough staff and close air traffic control towers. This could mean delays at LAX.	Ben Bergman	6:09

2/27/13	SPOR	The NBA season is heading into the home stretch and Clipper fans are feeling pretty good. But their potential opponent - if the playoffs were to start today - are no pushovers. The Golden State Warriors are currently eighth in points per game and third in rebounds.	Brandon Schneider	6:43
2/27/13	ART	The hooded sweatshirt has many facets. It's worn on runways, at protests, even in boardrooms. Tim Maly details the rise of this ubiquitous piece of clothing.	Tim Maly	5:27
2/27/13	ART	Rep. John Campbell talks about what can and cannot be done to prevent the looming sequestration.	John Campbell	11:21
2/27/13	TRAN	Wouldn't it be nice if, say when you're driving to a place like Big Bear, you could know about road closures - because for example, there's a massive manhunt - before you get stuck on Highway 18 for hours on end? Well, as of today, you can - if you use the popular navigation app, Waze.	Devindra Hardawar	6:47
2/27/13	SCI	The brown tree snake, a mildly venomous non-native serpent, is worrying wildlife officials in Guam. The snakes have devastated native animal populations on the Pacific making officials there try a novel approach: air-dropping poisoned mice. We'll speak with Daniel Vice. He's the assistant state director with the USDA Wildlife Services in Guam.	Daniel Vice	5:56
2/27/13	MEDI	The Bible of the entertainment industry has finally succumbed to the realities of the print media business.	Rick Edmonds	7:35
2/27/13	SAC	Legislators from CA's Women's Caucus sent a letter to the Academy saying MacFarlane's performance "crossed the line from humor to misogyny."	-	2:27
2/27/13	LIT	Reading the top-selling book from each of the last 100 years sounds like an invigorating intellectual adventure.	Matt Kahn	5:56
2/27/2013	HEAL	UC Berkeley policy experts join with industry to create health plan for state	O'Neill	:47
2/27/2013	LAW	Supreme Court hears arguments about the Voting Rights Act of 1965	CC	:21
2/27/2013	LAW	Supreme Court hears arguments about the Voting Rights Act of 1965	CC	:21
2/27/2013	POLI	Angelenos asked to vote on increasing the city of Los Angeles' sales tax	Walton	1:59
2/27/2013	EDU	A look at the school board race in District 6, which covers the northeast section of the San Fernando Valley	Plummer	4:19
2/27/2013	LAW	Two police detectives shot and killed in Santa Cruz	CC	:15
2/27/2013	LAW	Two police detectives shot and killed in Santa Cruz	CC	:04
2/27/2013	LAW	Last-minute brief opposing Prop 8 was filed before the deadline	Shafer	1:52
2/27/2013	TRAN	Tanker driver 'lucky' to escape fire after 210 Freeway crash near Irwindale	CC	:12
2/27/2013	OBIT	Canoga Park woman featured in "voicebox" anti-tobacco ad dies of cancer	CC	:21
2/27/2013	ECON	The animation studio has hit a rough patch after the failure of "Rise of the Guardians"	DeBord	:37
2/27/2013	TT	How do the Golden State Warriors attract so many fans?	CC	:18
2/27/2013	ENT	Pianist Van Cliburn dies	CC	:10
2/27/2013	ECON	Air traffic controllers worry about sequester cuts	CC	:09
2/27/2013	LAW	Head of Mexico's most powerful teachers union was arrested for embezzling funds	Florida	1:21
2/27/2013	EDU	GOP lawmakers author legislation to make restore funding for Cal Grants at private colleges	CC	:13
2/27/2013	TRAN	Air traffic controllers warn budget gridlock could mean gridlock at LAX and other airports	Bergman	1:22
2/27/2013	POLI	Field Poll finds increasing support among Californians for gay marriage	Russ	:43
2/27/2013	ECON	If sequestration kicks in, it will affect vaccines and day care funding	CC	:12
2/27/2013	DC	CA freshmen office reacts to sequestration	Felde	2:54
2/27/2013	SCI	Astronomers have calculated the spin rate of black holes	CC	:17
2/27/2013	LAW	LAPD holds Q&A on how the Board of Rights disciplinary process works	CC	:13

2/27/2013	ECON	More than a third of all homes sold in California in 2012 were foreclosures, but that total has dropped significantly	DeBord	:43
2/27/2013	EDU	A survey finds teachers have received very little training on Common Core standards	Plummer	:46
2/27/2013	LAW	LAPD tries to clarify how its disciplinary system works	Aguilar	:59
2/27/2013	ART	South LA resident tries to bring a sense of community back to her neighborhood	California Report	3:16
2/27/2013	ECON	OC Congressman doesn't consider the sequester a crisis	CC	:09
2/28/13	LAW	The city of Los Angeles appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court to overturn a lower court ruling that prevents the city from seizing the unattended property of the homeless on public sidewalks.	Andy Bales, Carol Sobel	13:00
2/28/13	LAW	California Senator Mark Leno wants to make heroin and cocaine possession a misdemeanor.	Kim Horiuchi , Cory Salzillo	18:00
2/28/13	ECON	How will the U.S. war on terrorism end? Max Boot joins Larry to talk about "Invisible Armies," guerilla warfare, and the war we face today.	Max Boot	16:00
2/28/13	EDU	The L.A. Unified School District has been under scrutiny this year as it has faced some major public battles. Parents, teachers, and politicians have all demanded reform, but the question is what needs to change and who can change it. In this year's school board election all eyes are on District 4's candidates—incumbent Steve Zimmer and lawyer Kate Anderson. They join Larry for a live debate as they talk about where they stand on Deasy, why Zimmer does not agree with charter school expansion and Anderson is pushing for it, and if teacher evaluations can be tied to student performance.	Steve Zimmer, Kate Anderson	31:00:00
2/28/13	GEND	Should using a gender identity that does not match one's biological sex be considered fraudulent? Should Cal Baptist have the right to expel students who use their preferred gender identity on official school documents? What kinds of laws should protect gender non-conforming students from discrimination?	Mara Keisling, Steve Crampton	17:00
2/28/13	POLI	Los Angeles is fighting to seize and destroy some homeless people's belongings.	Andrew Blankstein	8:34
2/28/13	EDU	Some California families do not have to imagine what the impact of sequestration might be. Subsidized early childhood education programs in California have already been cut by 40 percent over the past five years -- and Los Angeles has been hit the hardest.	Deepa Fernandes	4:39
2/28/13	SCI	California scientists are concerned about losing funding for important research projects as budget cuts tied to the sequestration looms.	Stephanie O'Neill	2:32
2/28/13	ECON	Despite the threat of looming across-the-board budget cuts, traders on Wall Street seem remarkably calm. Investment advisor Barry Ritholtz explains why.	Barry Ritholtz	9:22
2/28/13	SPOR	From the top of Mt. Everest to the Alaskan wilderness, Cindy Abbott is no stranger to tough challenges. She's gearing up to run Iditarod dog sled race.	Cindy Abbott	7:09
2/28/13	RACE	The U.S. Census has decided to remove the word "Negro" from its forms, citing complaints from some respondents who found the word offensive. Linguist John McWhorter talks about the cultural history of the word.	John McWhorter	8:49
2/28/13	POLI	KPCC's political team Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton join the show for a regular roundup of the latest political news.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	16:29
2/28/13	FOR	This week, the hermit kingdom seemed to emerge from its shell- just a bit.	Jean Lee	5:59
2/28/13	ART	The Dinner Party hosts join us to talk about a Chinese business man who outsourced his daughter's homework, the history of Woolworth's and teen movies.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:36
2/28/13	HOUS	A 23,000 square foot home designed by California architect John Lautner is for sale in Palm Springs. Chris Nichols tells Take Two about the building.	Adrian Glick Kudler	4:53
2/28/2013	LGB	Majority of Californians now support gay marriage	Quinton	:54

2/28/2013	HOUS	Fewer foreclosed homes are selling in California	Milne	:48
2/28/2013	EDU	Impact of budget cuts on early childhood education programs in California	Fernandes	4:19
2/28/2013	HEAL	Sequestration could cause cuts across health and social programs	Bartolone	1:13
2/28/2013	LAW	A Santa Cruz police detective killed in Santa Cruz was from the Southland	CC	:16
2/28/2013	EDU	Mixed reaction on Gov Brown's plan to boost state funding for students who could use support	Shuler	1:16
2/28/2013	HEAL	Wonder why some of us get zits? UCLA may have the answer	O'Neill	:47
2/28/2013	LAW	City of LA is filing a request to overturn a ruling about the seizure and destruction of homeless people's belongings left on the street	Watt	2:01
2/28/2013	HOUS	Los Angeles asks the US Supreme Court to hear a case pitting homeless activists and the city against each other	CC	:16
2/28/2013	RELI	LA Cardinal Roger Mahoney among the crowd in Rome bidding farewell to Pope	CC	:09
2/28/2013	HEAL	LA Health officials say it's okay to drink water at Hotel Cecil	CC	:15
2/28/2013	ENV	UC Davis researchers say Lake Tahoe clearest it's been in a decade	CC	:11
2/28/2013	TRAV	Sequestration could delay Tioga Pass reopening and hurt eastern Sierra towns	CC	:11
2/28/2013	LAW	LA ask SCOTUS to vacate Skid Row injunction	CC	:09
2/28/2013	LAW	City Attorney announces new gang injunction in San Fernando Valley	CC	:10
2/28/2013	LAW	LA ask SCOTUS to vacate Skid Row injunction	CC	:17
2/28/2013	LAW	LA ask SCOTUS to vacate Skid Row injunction	Watt	1:01
2/28/2013	LAW	DEA and LAPD make dozens of arrests in multi-state drug sweep	CC	:18
2/28/2013	ECON	Southland defense contractors scaling back in advance of the sequester cuts	Bergman	2:03
2/28/2013	ENV	January, February are driest on record for northern Sierra Nevada	Quinton	:50
2/28/2013	HOUS	Homeless count results on Skid Row	Fox	:54
2/28/2013	SAC	Attorneys accuse Brown Administration of suppressing report on inmate suicides in CA prisons	Small	1:32
2/28/2013	LAW	LA City Atty to call for city's 45th gang injunction	Palta	1:08
2/28/2013	LAW	President Obama, California Assembly Speaker files brief with Supreme Court to overturn Proposition 8	CC	:13
2/28/2013	LAW	Jury restarts deliberations in Bell corruption trial after judge dismisses woman	Moore	1:22
2/28/2013	DIS	Fire in Rancho Jurupa park burned about 75 acres, evacuated residents	CC	:20
2/28/2013	RELI	Today marks the end of Benedict the 16th's papacy	CC	:13
2/28/2013	POLI	Profile of mayoral candidate Kevin James	Stoltze	4:34
2/28/2013	POLI	Greuel calls on Garcetti to cut ties with oil	Stoltze	:56
3/1/13	DC	After a brief meeting this morning between President Obama and Congressional leaders, the parties emerged resolved that there will be no deal to avoid $85 billion in budget cuts under the moniker of "sequestration."	Scott Horsley, Lisa Mascaro	13:00
3/1/13	ECON	How could cuts to aerospace technology affect research and development or military technology? Should sequestration cuts be more calculated, or are indiscriminate cuts the only fair solution?	Greg Bloom, Kevin Klowden, Mattie Duppler	17:00
3/1/13	POLI	Harbor Gateway is building small pocket parks. The primary purpose of these parks is not to provide recreation but an attempt to drive out the city's sex offenders.	Joe Buscaino, Janice Bellucci, Angel Jennings, Janet Shour	17:00
3/1/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Tim Cogshell and Peter Rainer to review the week's new film releases including Jack the Giant Slayer, 21 & Over, The End of Love, and...	Tim Cogshell, Peter Rainer	30:00:00
3/1/13	ART	You may not notice them, but they're there. Background actors are one of the many aspects of filmmaking that makes a movie seem realistic. Even though everyone in the audience is there to see the famous actor in the foreground, it is the extras, bit players and stand-ins who take a film to the next level by creating a world for the main characters to live in.	Anthony Slide	17:00

3/1/13	POLI	March 1 marks the start of sequester, something that Reps. Tom McClintock and Xavier Becerra are none too happy about.	Tom McClintock and Xavier Becerra	16:10
3/1/13	POLI	The sequester: it arrives with something of a whimper. The LA mayoral race has become kind of a slug-fest, and linking together ... rats' brains?	James Rainey and David Gura	14:22
3/1/13	SPOR	The NFL says it will investigate claims made by three college players who say they were asked about their sexual preference and whether they "liked girls" at this year's scouting combine in Indianapolis.	LZ Granderson	8:44
3/1/13	ART	California already has an official song -- "I Love You California." Does it need to be updated?	Melissa Locker	7:56
3/1/13	ART	If you're looking to dine out this weekend, you might want to head to Rosemead, where Tiki restaurant Bahooka will soon close its doors.	Alison Martino	8:02
3/1/13	POLI	The conventional wisdom in Los Angeles is that Emanuel Pleitez's campaign for mayor is going nowhere. If so, it's definitely going nowhere fast. The 30-year-old former tech executive is spending his final days running for mayor performing a low-tech, high-speed publicity stunt designed to increase name recognition. KPCC's Grant Slater followed the hopeful mayor.	Grant Slater	4:06
3/1/13	EDU	Based on the media coverage and celebrity endorsements this LAUSD school board election has received, you'd think sitting on the seven-member panel was one of the most glamorous jobs in LA. And it is ... if your idea of glamour is working crushing hours to wrangle a behemoth district that's trying to reinvent itself amid warring factions, for less than $50,000 a year.	Vanessa Romo	4:54
3/1/13	LAW	A new study out this week from the Sentencing Project finds the number of whites and Hispanics in prison have increased, while incarceration rates for black Americans have dropped. The study looked at incarceration rates across the nation from 2000 to 2009.	Marc Mauer	6:27
3/1/13	HEAL	A study released by the Food Research and Action Center finds that L.A. County has some of the highest rates of food insecurity in the nation: one in five people say they struggled in the past year to buy food.	-	10:36
3/1/13	SCI	The fish and sea life that call California's oceans home have been in trouble for the past few decades. Overfishing and pollution have threatened fish populations and diversity.	Liz Whiteman	5:18
3/1/2013	POLI	Profile of longshot mayoral candidate Emanuel Pleitez	Slater	4:15
3/1/2013	POLI	A profile of Los Angeles' Ninth District	Walton	4:56
3/1/2013	SCI	Space X launches a rocket	CC	:17
3/1/2013	POLI	Unions showing clout by pouring millions of dollars into independent campaigns in city elections	McNary	2:03
3/1/2013	EDU	Overview of LAUSD's school board races	Romo	4:32
3/1/2013	ART	TED Talks wrap up in Long Beach. Next year's conference will move to Vancouver	Plummer	1:10
3/1/2013	POLI	CA Assembly Speaker Perez thinks sequestration could stall California's economy	CC	:02
3/1/2013	POLI	CA Assembly Speaker Perez thinks sequestration could stall California's economy	CC	:15
3/1/2013	ENV	January, February are driest on record for northern Sierra Nevada	CC	:16
3/1/2013	ENV	Wildfire in Riverside is contained	CC	:11
3/1/2013	ENV	Wildfire in Riverside is contained	CC	:05
3/1/2013	POLI	Obama Administration's decision to weigh in on Prop 8 changes the game	Shafer	1:24
3/1/2013	TRAN	55 hour lane reductions on the northbound 405 begin Friday night	Watt	1:14

3/1/2013	LAW	Sentence handed out in case of juvenile killing his neo-Nazi father	Osen	:52
3/1/2013	TRAN	55 hour lane reductions on the northbound 405 begin Friday night	CC	:19
3/1/2013	ENV	Firefighters concerned about wind while fighting 200-acre fire in Riverside County	CC	:08
3/1/2013	HEAL	Homeless advocates have doubts about the reported TB outbreak	CC	:20
3/1/2013	HOUS	TB or not, it's "business as usual" on LA's Skid Row	CC	:07
3/2/13	ART	Monday, the LA Philharmonic unveiled its new season, which will start by celebrating the tenth birthday of Walt Disney Concert Hall. The hall was designed by architect Frank Gehry, and the news conference featured a tape of Gehry and LA Phil President Deborah Borda reminiscing about the hall	John Rabe / Frank Gehry / Deborah Borda / Gustavo Dudamel	2:43
3/2/13	ART	The first Ernest Borgnine Movie Star Gala happened Saturday night at the Sportsmen's Lodge. The winner of the first Ernie was Sean Penn, who sent word that he couldn't accept the award because he's back in Haiti, helping earthquake victims.	John Rabe / Christopher Murray / Loretta Swit / Leonard Maltin	4:24
3/2/13	ART	Kevin Ferguson goes to Richard Simmons' studio in Los Angeles to 'sweat to the oldies'	Kevin Ferguson / Richard Simmons / Mary Beth Cornell / Gerry Sinclair	5:11
3/2/13	ART	Carole Bayer Sager co-wrote the songs of a generation. Come In From The Rain, Don't Cry Out Loud, That's What Friends Are For, It's My Turn. But to quote another song, the times are changing, and she told KPCC's Hettie Lynne Hurtes that as the outlets dried up for her music, and her songs started to stack up, unsung, she turned to an old flirtation - painting - which has turned into a new love.	John Rabe / Hettie Lynne Hurtes	21:49
3/2/13	TRAN	L.A. County has some of the highest train fatality rates in the country and one of the highest for presumed suicides by train. It's something every engineer has to deal with.	John Rabe / Charles Flemming / Ron Iseli	8:15
3/3/2013	POLI	CA lawmakers introduce more than a dozen bills to change CEQA	Quinton	1:24
3/3/2013	POLI	CA lawmakers introduce more than a dozen bills to change CEQA	CC	:12
3/4/13	HEAL	A nurse at an independent living facility for the elderly refused to perform CPR on a resident who was barely breathing. The nurse called 911. The dispatcher implored her to perform CPR, but the nurse said she was not allowed to do so.	Laura Mosqueda, David Orentlicher	30:00:00
3/4/13	POLI	We're two days away from the city election. The race for mayor intensified last week with candidates trading insults and attacks. Accusations of corruption and lying may get the attention of voters, but on a lighter note, celebrity endorsements have also been on an upswing.	Frank Stoltze, Dan Schnur	17:00
3/4/13	RELI	With Pope Benedict XVI now officially retired, the Catholic church is without a full-fledged world leader. How will this impact the status quo?	Cathy Grossman, Donna Bethell, Sister Simone Cambell,	23:00

3/4/13	CUL	Social media has become an indispensable part of our everyday life. We tweet, we IM, we Facebook, we email, we chat with our coworkers online—even when they sit just two cubicles away. As a consequence, a new style of writing has emerged. We are writing shorter, we are using more acronyms and abbreviations, and much less punctuation.	Mignon Fogarty, Dr. Kelley Crowley, Ben Zimmer	17:00
3/4/13	HEAL	How could treating infants early help prevent the spread of H.I.V.? Is there a way to make these drugs more affordable? Could the United States see an AIDS-free generation?	Michael Gottlieb	7:00
3/4/13	POLI	John Myers, Political Editor for KXTV in Sacramento, covered this past weekend's convention. He joins the show with an update.	John Myers	6:41
3/4/13	POLI	Grow Elect is a political action committee formed to do just that by recruiting, funding and training Latino Republican candidates for public office. The group recently hired Ruben Barrales as its new president. Barrales former San Diego Regional Chamber of Commerce CEO also served under President George W. Bush.	Ruben Barrales	8:45
3/4/13	LAW	Sentencing is set for Monday for Jose Renteria, convicted last month in the fatal drive by shooting of Sheriff's Deputy Juan Abel Escalante. His death helped change a neighborhood.	Rina Palta	3:46
3/4/13	LAW	Since he became the first former gang member granted political asylum in the United States, many have followed the activism and work of gang interventionist and Homies Unidos founder Alex Sanchez. But for the last three years, many have followed him for a different reason-his implication in a complicated, high-profile criminal case.	Erin Siegal	3:48
3/4/13	ECON	On Friday President Obama accused Congressional leaders of failing to reach a compromise to avoid the impending spending cuts. the end of the day. We'll talk with some business owners who'll feel a direct impact because of sequestration.	business	3:32
3/4/13	ENT	L.A. Times entertainment reporter Rebecca Keegan joins us for her regular Monday update of the latest from Hollywood.	Rebecca Keegan	8:54
3/4/13	ENT	Today, the Chinese government announced the creation of an international scriptwriting contest. The idea behind the contest is to target American writers. The winners of the "Tale of Beijing" contest will all get prize money and an all-expenses paid trip to Beijing to meet with potential investors.	Clayton Dube	7:08
3/4/13	POLI	Stretching from Hollywood to Echo Park, the district is booming. A flood of candidates are on the ballot to represent the diverse area.	Frank Stoltze	4:03
3/4/13	POLI	It's time for City Hall Pass, your ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles with KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton. On tap this week, tomorrow's primary election.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	10:09
3/4/13	ART	Peter Pin is a Cambodian photographer who's been documenting Cambodian refugees as they adapt to life in America.	Pete Pin	10:44
3/4/13	ART	Patients with Alzheimer's disease and other dementias find peace and joy through Music & Memory's personalized iPod music program.	Stephanie O'Neill	6:32
3/4/13	POLI	A lot of Los Angeles' best-known landmarks — and eyesores — came about because of the whims of top city leaders. Where will the next L.A. mayor stand on architecture? Christopher Hawthorne, architecture critic for the LA Times, has talked to the mayoral candidates about city design, and discusses which L.A. spots could use the most work.	Christopher Hawthorne	6:33
3/4/2013	POLI	USC/LA Times poll shows Garcetti and Gruel in the lead	CC	:24
3/4/2013	TRAN	LAX: no significant delays so far following sequestration	CC	:19
3/4/2013	POLI	President Obama announces three cabinet picks, including EPA head	CC	:15
3/4/2013		Loh Life Forest Lawn	Loh	2:37

3/4/2013	EDU	SAT college test gets a redesign	Romo	:59
3/4/2013	POLI	A preview of Tuesday's election	Walton	:38
3/4/2013	SAC	Thousands of students push for tuition roll back at public universities and colleges	Small	:58
3/4/2013	TRAN	Part of Coldwater Canyon to be closed for a month for water main replacement	Moore	:51
3/4/2013	LAW	New jury heads into another day of deliberations in Bell corruption trial	Moore	1:03
3/4/2013	TRAN	More work ahead on 405 construction project after crews finish early this weekend	Jahad	1:04
3/4/2013	HEAL	Jury deliberations underway in lawsuit against Johnson & Johnson over faulty hip implants	Jahad	:58
3/4/2013	POLI	Mayoral elections take place in cities across LA	McNary	1:44
3/4/2013	POLI	City Attorney Carmen Trutanich suspends personal campaigning but messaging goes on	McNary	:44
3/4/2013	LAW	Sentencing scheduled in murder case that helped change a gang-riddled neighborhood	Palta	3:46
3/4/2013	LAW	Bomb threat evacuated Mission Community Hospital in Panorama City	CC	:05
3/4/2013	ENT	Bobby Rogers of "The Miracles" dies	CC	:27
3/4/2013	SPOR	The Clippers lose and the Lakers win on a busy Sunday at Staples Center	CC	:07
3/4/2013	EDU	UC Davis study finds an achievement gap between races	Almanzan	3:49
3/4/2013	ENT	Jack the Giant Slayer' debuts number one at the box office	CC	:09
3/4/2013	POLI	California's Republican Party plots a comeback	Detrow	3:16
3/4/2013	HEAL	Elderly woman dies at a Bakersfield retirement home after nurse refuses CPR	CC	:13
3/4/2013	ECON	Warren Buffett says 'no thanks' to buying batch of papers that includes LA Times	CC	:07
3/4/2013	HIST	Today is National Grammar Day	CC	:13
3/4/2013	LAW	Defendant gets life in prison without parole in murder of deputy sheriff	Palta	:53
3/4/2013	POLI	Immigration legislation supporters made a stop at the California Capitol today to push for immigration reform	CC	:16
3/4/2013	TRAN	Measuring the impact of sequestration at airports in the first days	Watt	1:14
3/4/2013	LAW	Local journalist killed in Mexican border city	Ortiz	:38
3/4/2013	EDU	Hundreds of college students rally at State Capitol	CC	:14
3/4/2013	LAW	Federal appeals court overturns sections of Arizona's immigration law	Joffe-Block	:46
3/4/2013	EDU	CA Dept of Education report shows fewer CA students attending school districts in financial trouble	CC	:14
3/4/2013	POLI	Chairman of the LA County Democratic Party speaks out on a misleading mailer	Walton	1:24
3/4/2013	TRAN	Angeles Crest Highway is closed while CHP investigates a fatal car crash	CC	:15
3/4/2013	EDU	New report finds 65 fewer financially-troubled school districts than last year	Quinton	:52
3/4/2013	POLI	Election is tomorrow	Stoltze	3:20
3/4/2013	LAW	A look at the legal ramifications of a Bakersfield woman who died after staff at her independent living facility refused to administer CPR	Plummer	1:57
3/4/2013	POLI	Crowded 13th council district race	Stoltze	4:04
3/4/2013	POLI	Election is tomorrow	Stoltze	3:19
3/5/13	ECON	The Dow measures the performance of 30 of America's best-known companies, including General Electric, Chevron, and Wal-Mart, but does it accurately gauge the state of the U.S. economy? Should the average person care?	Paddy Hirsch, Christopher Thornberg	13:00
3/5/13	SAC	Governor Jerry Brown recently put out a new proposal on how to fund schools should across the state. Essentially, inner-city school districts will get more money, while suburban, tonier districts will get less. This proposal has some critics crying foul.	Lydia Cano, Alex Alvarez	21:00
3/5/13	SAC	With another election day upon us, why are Los Angeles voters so apathetic to politics in their own backyards?	Raphe Sonenshein	11:00

3/5/13	ENT	How can authorities keep information flowing freely while also protecting more sensitive viewers? What lessons might the U.S. apply based on other countries' attempts at banning porn?	Jennie Noll , Russ Warner	17:00
3/5/13	HIST	As KPCC's Patt Morrison reminds us, the legacy of L.A. mayors is filled with racy stories and characters seemingly plucked from the pages of a Raymond Chandler novel.	Patt Morrison	6:50
3/5/13	HEAL	The traditional company wellness program — think free flu shots — is gradually giving way to an approach that makes less healthy workers pay more for health insurance.	Kelley Weiss	4:28
3/5/13	ART	A new album from Helado Negro called "Invisible Life" comes out today. This is his third album, one that he made in his apartment in New York. Negro, whose real name is Roberto Carlos Lange, recently dropped by the studio to talk about his music and the making of his latest album.	Roberto Carlos Lange	6:15
3/5/13	ART	We asked YOU what you think California's state rock song should be. Some said the fairly well-known tune "California" by the group Phantom Planet, and of course Tupac Shakur's "California Love" was a popular choice. But by far, the favorite was "California Dreamin'" by the Mamas and the Papas.	-	6:55
3/5/13	ENER	President Obama nominated environmental official Gina McCarthy to head the EPA and MIT professor Ernest Moniz as energy secretary. If they join the Cabinet, they could be key in pushing through the kind of climate change regulations that eluded the administration during the past four years.	John Broder	5:05
3/5/13	ENV	This month, new standards for teaching science will be released and for the first time, and they will include a recommendation to teach kids about the evidence for man-made climate change starting as early as elementary school.	Stacy Feldman	7:07
3/5/13	ECON	New Jersey is going all in. Governor Chris Christie has signed a bill making his state the third in the nation, after Nevada and Delaware, to legalize internet gambling.	David Schwartz	6:39
3/5/13	TECH	Even though SimCity's been around for decades, fans on the Internet have been buzzing about the release of SimCity 5. With more on what makes SimCity so enduring is Jamin Warren, founder of the video game magazine and website Kill Screen.	Jamin Warren	6:15
3/5/2013	ENT	SoCal libraries are rolling out a new Netflix-style movie streaming service	CC	:15
3/5/2013	HEAL	More companies are turnign to wellness programs with financial penalties	Weiss	4:29
3/5/2013	MILI	Members of CA National Guard head to Afghanistan	Moffitt	:49
3/5/2013	MILI	Members of CA National Guard head to Afghanistan	CC	:18
3/5/2013	POLI	Polling places open across Southern California	Watt	1:15
3/5/2013	ENV	Americans throw away about 40 percent of their food	Khokha	1:11
3/5/2013	ECON	Big companies up for sale in LA	Lacter	3:52
3/5/2013	POLI	Polling places open across Southern California	Watt	1:09
3/5/2013	OC	Newport Beach wants to get rid of popular fire rings that line its beaches, but the Costal Commission is expected to say no	Bergman	2:10
3/5/2013	POLI	Voters head to the polls in Los Angeles	CC	:18
3/5/2013	OBIT	Birds and the Bees' singer dies in Southern California	CC	:13
3/5/2013	ENV	Rain and snow headed for Southern California	Hurtes	:34
3/5/2013	LAW	New Jersey legalizes online gambling; operators hope California will follow	CC	:14
3/5/2013	POLI	A look at the polling center at 12139 National Blvd in Mar Vista	CC	:11
3/5/2013	HEAL	LA County begins plannin gfor 150 more beds for LA County-USC Medical Center	Martinez	:48
3/5/2013	ECON	Northrop Grumman plans to close its Dominguez Hills facility	Lee	:35
3/5/2013	LAW	Poll worker wounded in shooting outside school auditorium that was serving as a polling place	CC	:10

3/5/2013	DIS	President Obama issued a major disaster declaration for the Navajo Nation	Morales	:37
3/5/2013	HEAL	California's new health benefit exchange may encourage workers to abandon plans for better coverage	CC	:14
3/5/2013	HEAL	California's new health benefit exchange may encourage workers to abandon plans for better coverage	Lee	:50
3/5/2013	TRAN	LAX to unveil first look of upgrades to Tom Bradley International Terminal	Moore	1:02
3/5/2013	SAC	Sheriffs say hundreds of felons in Southern CA jails serving 5 years or more	Small	1:10
3/5/2013	LAW	Sheriff Lee Baca is on Twitter and has a blog	CC	:07
3/5/2013	TRAN	Study suggests state's local road system in disrepair	Quinton	:52
3/6/13	POLI	Redux is one word to sum up yesterday's primary election. The mayoral race between City Councilman Eric Garcetti and City Controller Wendy Greuel will head to a May 21 runoff, with Garcetti getting 33 percent and Greuel locking in 29 percent of the vote.	Frank Stoltze, Fernando Guerra, Miguel Santana	15:00
3/6/13	TRAV	Starting in April, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will allow certain small knives and items like hockey sticks, golf clubs and pool cues be permitted carry-on items on domestic flights. Do you think they should be allowed?	Kelly Skyles, Robert Poole	10:00
3/6/13	ENV	The city council of Newport Beach has voted to get rid of fire pits on the beach, and the California Coastal Commission is reviewing the city's request for a permit to remove them in San Diego today.	Nancy Gardner, Jack Wu	8:00
3/6/13	FOR	Venezuelans are stocking up on goods fearing destabilization in the country. The death of longtime leader Hugo Chavez yesterday may leave a leadership vacuum.	Miguel Tinker Salas, Christopher Sabatini	12:00
3/6/13	CUL	Clinical psychologist Dr. Meg Jay's recent TED talk encouraged young adults to realize one thing—make your twenties count. Is Jay putting too much pressure on 20-somethings or is she underestimating them?	Meg Jay	18:00
3/6/13	POLI	Yesterday's election brought no big surprises, at least in the mayor's race. City councilman Eric Garcetti and city controller Wendy Greuel took the lead in competition, and the two will now face off against each other in the runoff election, scheduled for May 21. KPCC's politics reporter Alice Walton joins the show to fill us in on the outcome of Measure A and more.	Alice Walton	5:20
3/6/13	POLI	KPCC's Education Reporter Vanessa Romo fills us in on the results of those elections and what they mean for the nation's second largest school district.	Vanessa Romo	4:54
3/6/13	POLI	The man charged with running L.A. Unified schools reacts to the results of Tuesday's election, the influence of money in the fractious campaign and the future of the city's schools.	John Deasy	7:05
3/6/13	EDU	Teacher's Union President Warren Fletcher joins the show for his take on last night's elections.	Warren Fletcher	7:27
3/6/13	SPOR	It's time to get a get a little exercise and take a run through the world of sports with Andy and Brian Kamenetzky. They've covered the Los Angeles sports scene for over a decade for the Times and ESPN.	Andy and Brian Kamenetzky	5:32
3/6/13	POLI	Come May 21st, there will be two names on the ballot to become the next mayor of Los Angeles: City Councilman Eric Garcetti and City Controller Wendy Greuel. Neither candidate captured a majority of the vote. Garcetti won 33 percent of the vote last night and the Greuel won 29 percent.	Eric Garcetti	5:30

3/6/13	POLI	Wendy Greuel joins the show to tell us about how she's different from her opponent Eric Garcetti, her views on education policy and gaining the campaign support of labor groups.	Wendy Greuel	5:34
3/6/13	RELI	In an interview published earlier this week, he defends his handling of the sexual abuse scandal that has tainted his legacy. Here with an update on what Mahony is saying is Barbie Latza Nadeau, Rome correspondent for the Daily Beast.	Barbie Latza Nadeau	5:58
3/6/13	POLI	Journalist Rory Carroll spent six years observing and writing about Chavez as Latin America correspondent for The Guardian. He's just published a book, "Comandante: Hugo Chavez's Venezuela," about the late president.	Rory Carroll	8:49
3/6/2013	EDU	Voter turnout continues downward spiral	Romo	1:58
3/6/2013	POLI	Rundown of primary council races, runoffs	McNary	1:46
3/6/2013	OC	CA Coastal Commission postpones decision on Newport Beach fire rings	Bergman	2:34
3/6/2013	SAC	State Senator logs heavy absences in run up to primary for LA City Council post	Small	:37
3/6/2013	HEAL	State lawmakers have questions about Gov Brown's Medi-Cal expansion plan	CC	:15
3/6/2013	EDU	After last night's city election, incumbents in Districts 2 and 4 hold onto their seats as District 6 heads for a runoff	Plummer	1:22
3/6/2013	ENV	LA Harbor Commission set to approve railyard project	Peterson	:42
3/6/2013	POLI	Election results	Stoltze	3:34
3/6/2013	POLI	Supporters reflect on runoff candidates for LA Mayor	CC	:11
3/6/2013	POLI	Trutanich blames his second-place finish in city attorney's race on his lack of skill working with the media	CC	:14
3/6/2013	POLI	Election results	Stoltze	1:44
3/6/2013	POLI	Trutanich says he's still hurting after the recent death of his mother	CC	:13
3/6/2013	POLI	LA Mayor's race pits Garcetti and Greuel in May runoff election	CC	:13
3/6/2013	POLI	LA Mayor's race pits Garcetti and Greuel in May runoff election	CC	:16
3/6/2013	POLI	Election results	Stoltze	3:20
3/6/2013	POLI	Election results	Stoltze	3:20
3/6/2013	POLI	Election results	Romo	1:47
3/6/2013	RELI	Cardinal Roger Mahony spoke out to an Italian newspaper about his handling of the sex abuse scandals	CC	:25
3/6/2013	POLI	Supporters reflect on runoff candidates for LA Mayor	CC	:18
3/6/2013	ECON	Toyota makes changes at the top	DeBord	:30
3/6/2013	LAW	Parents of deceased grad student claim negligence on the part of the college	CC	:16
3/6/2013	EDU	Results of school board election	CC	:12
3/6/2013	TRAN	Snowstorm in Midwest and on East Coast delays flights out of LA area airports	Watt	:47
3/6/2013	POLI	The leading mayoral candidates brace for impact of Measure A's failure	Walton	2:14
3/6/2013	POLI	Legislative hearing looks at budget forecast mistakes at PUC	CC	:17
3/6/2013	LAW	LA County undersheriff Tanaka retires	Stoltze	:58
3/6/2013	POLI	Legislative hearing looks at budget forecast mistakes at PUC	Quinton	:54
3/6/2013	POLI	City Union backs Greuel for mayor	Stoltze	:50
3/6/2013	LAW	LA County undersheriff Paul Tanaka retires	Stoltze	1:52
3/7/13	POLI	Senator Rand Paul - a Republican with strong Libertarian leanings - led a nearly 13-hour filibuster in the U.S. Senate yesterday. He began during proceedings to confirm John Brennan...	Stephen Vladeck , John Bellinger	13:00
3/7/13	MIL	The Navy wants to increase the number of training activities off the coast of Camp Pendleton and San Diego. Tomorrow, the U.S. Navy Pacific Fleet will propose details of underwater exercises, but environmental advocacy groups warn that sound waves of sonars cause deadly harm to marine mammals.	Michael Jasny, Alex Stone	17:00

3/7/13	TRAV	California has banned driving while using a hand-held cellphone since July 2008. Is technology or behavioral modification the key to ending distracted driving?	Jeffrey Coben, Paul Atchley	13:00
3/7/13	CUL	Author Dan Baum is a self-professed Democrat and gun lover. Baum argues that appreciation of guns is not as polarizing as the media might have us believe. To prove his point, he set out on a road trip to discover what America's gun culture really looks like.	Dan Baum	19:00
3/7/13	POLI	In the wake of Tuesday's election, L.A. could soon be without any women on its 15-member city council. It's possible that in a few months, only one will be a woman.	Alice Walton	6:30
3/7/13	POLI	Here to discuss what might be ahead for the City of LA in the wake of Measure A's failure is Bob Stern, former president of the LA-based Center for Governmental Studies.	Bob Stern	7:45
3/7/13	HEAL	We're always told that a cheery outlook is the path to long life, but a new German study published in this month's journal Psychology and Aging finds that pessimism leads to positive health benefits because Debby Downers tend to take more precautions, fewer risks.	risks	5:03
3/7/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	7:04
3/7/13	LAW	Outside the jails, there's been a spike in the number of parolees going rogue. Data released yesterday shows that more than 2,000 paroled sex offenders have gone missing after they removed their GPS tracking devices. That's a 15 percent jump since California's re-alignment law took effect.	Julie Small	4:55
3/7/13	IMM	Children of Mexican immigrants are going to college in record numbers, but they see themselves differently from earlier generations of Mexican-Americans. From the Fronteras Desk, Adrian Florido reports.	Adrian Florido	4:38
3/7/13	IMM	While the debate has been dominated by Latinos, a wide range of Asian ethnicities are making their voices heard in lobbying for immigration reform.	Charlie Castaldi	4:15
3/7/13	TECH	The Lifeline program gives discounted landline phone service to nearly 1.5 million poor people in the state. But starting this week, cell phones are now an option, too. That's good news for a specific segment of the population: the homeless.	Jennifer Freidenbach	7:12
3/7/13	LAW	The once powerful number two in the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department is retiring. Embattled Undersheriff Paul Tanaka will step down August first, amid allegations he condoned deputy violence against inmates inside LA County jails. That alleged abuse sparked a widespread FBI investigation. For more on Tanaka's departure, we turn to KPCC's Frank Stoltze.	Frank Stoltze	5:47
3/7/2013	HEAL	CDC arrives in LA for TB investigation	Fox	1:50
3/7/2013	IMM	Asian community speaks up on immigration reform	Castaldi	3:54
3/7/2013	LAW	Inmates starting to petition court for resentencing under Prop 36	Palta	2:44
3/7/2013	LAW	Undersheriff Paul Tanaka decides to retire from the LASD	Aguilar	1:52
3/7/2013	ECON	New York private equity firm to acquire Hot Topic for $600 million	Lee	:36
3/7/2013	HEAL	About 26 million people are living with diabetes in the US	Martinez	:52
3/7/2013	LAB	A wildlife expert says woman shouldn't have been killed in lion attack	CC	:17
3/7/2013	LAW	Jury asks for testimony to be read back of them	Aguilar	:48
3/7/2013	ENV	Mayor of Long Beach opposes railyard project in Wilmington	CC	:09
3/7/2013	ENV	Mayor of Long Beach opposes railyard project in Wilmington	CC	:14
3/7/2013	ECON	Time Warner unloading magazine business	DeBord	1:07
3/7/2013	ENT	Mike Tyson brings his one-man show to the Pantages	Uknown	:18
3/7/2013	LAW	Seven three strike inmates were resentenced in an LA court	Palta	1:25

3/7/2013	LAW	Revived bill would allow CA employees to work flexible schedules	Adler	:46
3/7/2013	LAW	Revived bill would allow CA employees to work flexible schedules	CC	:15
3/7/2013	OBIT	Intern at exotic animal facility died by lion attack	CC	:11
3/7/2013	MILI	Navy wants to increase use of sonar and underwater explosives	CC	:25
3/7/2013	MILI	Navy wants to increase use of sonar and underwater explosives	CC	:18
3/7/2013	ART	LACMA proposes merger plan with MOCA	Watt	1:03
3/7/2013	POLI	Bill that would expand health care coverage to low-income Californians moves a step closer to passing	CC	:11
3/8/13	ART	Yesterday, the venerable Los Angeles County Museum of Art (LACMA) proposed acquiring the troubled Museum of Contemporary Art. Could this signal a shake-up in the L.A. art scene?	Christopher Knight, Lynn Zelevansky	14:00
3/8/13	ECON	The Los Angeles Harbor Commission yesterday approved the Southern California International Gateway (SCIG), a $500 million rail yard project that will bring a large new rail yard and trucking depot to the area near the Port of Long Beach.	David Pettit, Roger Nober	11:00
3/8/13	ENT	After a career punctuated by pulverizing opponents in the ring and serving time in prison for rape, Mike Tyson's life after boxing has resembled a never-ending confessional. Tyson tonight begins a three-night show in L.A. where he tells it all and no topics are off limits.	Mike Tyson	11:00
3/8/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Andy Klein, Henry Sheehan, and Charles Solomon to review the week's new film releases including Oz the Great and Powerful, War Witch, Dead Man Down, and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Andy Klein, Henry Sheehan, Charles Solomon	33:00:00
3/8/13	POLI	Here's a thought to consider: "American politics today has migrated from an NFL atmosphere to the Hunger Games." That bleak assessment came from Dirk Kempthorne at a bi-partisan conference held earlier this week at the Ronald Reagan Library in Simi Valley.	Dan Glickman	7:59
3/8/13	POLI	Former Sec. of Labor Hilda Solis talks about her possible run for a seat on the L.A. Board of Supervisors, her accomplishments in Obama's cabinet, and her speech during the Latino State of the Union.	Hilda Solis	10:10
3/8/13	POLI	A break in the gridlock on Capitol Hill, some big economic news, and the anniversary of a cultural milestone. Time for our weekly review of the news, The Friday Flashback.	James Rainey, and Nancy Cook	10:48
3/8/13	TRAN	Because of sequestration, the FAA will be furloughing 47,000 employees, including air traffic controllers, starting next month. There might also be epic waits at the security line because the TSA says cuts will reduce their staffing as well.	Barbara Peterson	7:03
3/8/13	LIT	To help us navigate to the best of the best bedtime books, we've called in our resident children's book expert, Mara Alpert, a librarian with the LA Public Library.	Mara Alpert	7:00
3/8/13	ART	Actress Tippi Hedren's Shambala Preserve – Acton's 'pride' and joy – is an 80-acre parcel of land that houses and maintains lions, tigers, leopards ... any sort of big cat in need of a home.	Kevin Ferguson	5:41
3/8/13	ART	Perhaps no one knows street food better than Bill Esparza. He's a food blogger who goes by the handle "Street Gourmet LA," and he's an expert at sniffing out the best street eats around Southern California and even as far south as Baja.	Bill Esparza	8:20
3/8/2013	POLI	Funeral set for Hugo Chavez; Venezuelan-Americans in LA respond	CC	:18
3/8/2013	LAW	Former Moreno Valley school board member Mike Rios convicted of pimping is to be sentenced Friday	Jahad	:39
3/8/2013	LAW	Supreme Court Justice Anthony Kennedy says CA spends too much money on prison system	:19
3/8/2013	LAW	Gov Brown and Atty General Harris honored two detectives killed in the line of duty	CC	:21
3/8/2013	ECON	AT&T announces it's hiring 500 people in CA	Watt	:42

3/8/2013	LAW	School board member Mike Rios sentenced to 14 yaers in prison	Hurtes	:33
3/8/2013	LAW	Small claims court alternative a victim of budget cuts	Palta	1:00
3/8/2013	DIS	Fire damaged a restaurant in Berkeley	CC	:10
3/8/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidates seek the endorsements of former rivals	Walton	:39
3/8/2013	ECON	Disney to hire 1,000 veterans over the next two years	Lee	:53
3/8/2013	OC	Federal regulators have released documents that Senator Barbara Boxer says show that the operator of the San Onofre nuclear plant tried to shortchange safety	Bergman	:54
3/9/2013	LAW	Jury selection begins in murder trial of aman who posed as member of the Rockefeller family	McCarty	1:02
3/9/13	ART	The LA Times reported Wednesday that the Los Angeles County Museum of Art has officially moved to acquire the museum of contemporary art, located in downtown LA. The move would put under the same umbrella two of the larges museums in LA county. For details on the proposed deal, Off-Ramp producer Kevin Ferguson talked with Christopher Knight, art critic for the LA Times.	Kevin Ferguson / Christopher Knight	4:00
3/9/13	ENV	Off-Ramp producer Kevin Ferguson visits actress and activist Tippi Hedren's big-cat preserve, Shambala. Ferguson speaks with Hedren about her experiences and the director of Shambala Preserve, Chris Galluci.	Kevin Ferguson / Tippi Hedren / Chris Galluci	5:41
3/9/13	SPOR	People have been playing video games competitively since Pac Man. As the popularity of video games grew, so did the size of the tournaments. One tournament took place last month on the campus of UC Irvine. Off Ramp contributor Jefferson Yen went to find out how things have changed since the arcade game's heyday.	Jefferson Yen / Dana Graham / Roger Tung / Kenneth Pope	4:10
3/9/13		Peter Sagal, host of Wait, Wait, Don't Tell Me, the NPR news quiz, cut some fundraising segments with John Rabe.	Peter Sagal / John Rabe	1:39
3/9/13	HIST	John Rabe explores a fallout shelter kept in pristine condition at a house recently purchase by Chris and Colleen Otcasek in the Valley. Inside, they found untouched Kleenex, sanitary napkins, canned food, sleeping bags, magazines, and more!	John Rabe / Mae Ryan / Charles Phoenix / Chris Otcasek / Colleen Otcasek	10:12
3/9/13	ART	LA sketch artist Mike Sheehan spent Election Night with the Garcetti camp at the Avalon.	Mark Sheehan	0:00
3/9/13	ENT	Comedian Dylan Brody comments on the role of social networking in the entertainment industry.	Dylan Brody	3:12
3/9/13	ART	Charles Solomon compares animation to dance and discusses the lack of animation in LA's 'Rite of Spring' festival.	Charles Solomon	3:52
3/10/2013	HEAL	A UCSF study shows risk factors for Americans over 50 years old	CC	:14
3/10/2013	POLI	Bill would force mattress manufacturers to set up a recychnig program	CC	:12
3/10/2013	POLI	Budget Chair Paul Krekorian says the city should expect drastic cuts to cloes deficit	CC	:19
3/10/2013	ECON	Woodland Hills job fair draws 3,000 job applicants	Lee	1:05
3/10/2013	ECON	Ross Dress for Less opens store in Historic Downtown LA	Lee	1:16
3/10/2013	TT	New standards for teaching man-made global warming in schools	CC	:18
3/10/2013	SCI	Team of USC engineering students fixes LA Coliseum thermometer	CC	:18
3/10/2013	POLI	LA Mayor race is down to Garcetti and Grueel	CC	:30
3/11/13	HEAL	As California moves toward implementation of Obamacare in the state, Governor Jerry Brown and Democratic state lawmakers have hit a speed bump in how the state will pay for coverage of the poorest Californians.	Holly Mitchell, Dylan Roby	13:00

3/11/13	GEND	In her new book, Facebook COO Sheryl Sandberg tells women they need to "lean in," embrace success and self-confidence, take charge of their careers. But the problem is not just women themselves, she says - it's ingrained societal prejudices.	Avivah Wittenberg-Cox, Brett Singer	22:00
3/11/13	FOR	Venezuela's government has announced that it plans to embalm the body of recently deceased leader Hugo Chavez, so that it may be displayed in a glass coffin "eternally" and inspire Venezuelans to keep the socialist revolution alive.	Nina Tumarkin	12:00
3/11/13	ECON	As the unemployment rate continues to drop, employers have large numbers of qualified candidates from which to choose. But many companies are taking a more cautious and timely approach to hiring new labor. What can convince employers to invest in their workforce and fill vacant positions? Have you been run through the ringer to get a job?	Cynthia Shapiro	23:00
3/11/13	POLI	Last week, California congressman Mark Takano wrote a letter saying that he would vote against any cuts to Medicare, Medicaid or Social Security benefits, and that he would stand strong against raising the retirement age.	Michael A. Fletcher	9:01
3/11/13	ART	Writer Mark Seal tells the story of Christian Gerhartsreiter in his book, "The Man in the Rockefeller Suit."	Mark Seal	11:17
3/11/13	ART	Time now for our regular Hollywood update from Rebecca Keegan of the L.A. Times. She's in Austin today, for the annual South by Southwest festival.	Rebecca Keegan	7:32
3/11/13	YOUT	Every year, volunteers around the nation count the number of homeless in their communities, but a specific segment of the homeless population often gets missed: young people.	Leo Duran	5:19
3/11/13	LAW	Drive across the Southwest and you are likely to encounter a Border Patrol Checkpoint. These roadside stations are set up to check immigration status. But what happens next is an open question.	David Martin Davies	3:37
3/11/13	TECH	The mobile apps "Words With Friends" and "Fruit Ninja" provide a great distraction from work, but what about apps that can be the basis for work themselves? Are there apps that can be considered as a job creator? We'll find out.	-	5:13
3/11/13	ART	Imagine this: In the not-too-distant future, space might not be the place for just scientists or astronauts. It could be home to everyday people and artists too. Drew Tewksbury from KCET's Artbound has the story.	Drew Tewksbury	4:54
3/11/13	TECH	An online listing of outpatient surgery centers is incomplete and lacks required information on owners, their license numbers, and accreditation problems. The state says they're working on it.	Stephanie O'Neill	4:27
3/11/2013	DIS	LA fire deputy in Fukushima on second anniversary of Japan earthquake and tsunami	CC	:18
3/11/2013	ENV	Environmental groups filed a lawsuit against the US Forest Service	Morales	:49
3/11/2013	POLI	Inland area voters in special election to fill 42nd Assembly seat vacated by Negrete-McLeod	McNary	:42
3/11/2013	ENT	Loh Life Les Miz	Loh	2:42
3/11/2013	EDU	New safety measure would require classroom doors to lock from the inside	Russ	:51
3/11/2013	EDU	New safety measure would require classroom doors to lock from the inside	CC	:16
3/11/2013	ENV	The first killer whale sighting in Orange County happened on Saturday	Lee	:54
3/11/2013	ENT	TV Hall of Fame adds six members	Lee	:58
3/11/2013	HEAL	The Medical Board of California's database fails to provide consumers with data required by law	O'Neill	4:28
3/11/2013	ECON	Gas prices drop in SoCal	CC	:11
3/11/2013	IMM	US Customs and Border Protection suffers budget cuts due to sequestration	Replogle	3:54

3/11/2013	SAC	State Sunset Review of Medical Board, rally prescription drug deaths	Aguilar	1:23
3/11/2013	HEAL	New bill intends to make health care more stable for the working poor	CC	:18
3/11/2013	HEAL	New bill intends to make health care more stable for the working poor	Bartolone	1:00
3/11/2013	RELI	Kocavik and crew were among the last to be let inside the Sistine Chapel before the doors closed on pope discussions	Kocavik	1:39
3/11/2013	RELI	Pope watch: Cardinals prepare for Tuesday's conclave	CC	:14
3/11/2013	ENV	Anza store owner felt earthquake while filling up propane tank for customer	CC	:08
3/11/2013	LAW	Court says reasonable suspicion required before border agents can search computers	Florido	1:20
3/11/2013	DIS	A series of quakes hit SoCal Monday morning	CC	:12
3/11/2013	LAW	Deliberations ender third week in Bell city criminal trial	Moore	:58
3/11/2013	HEAL	A majority of women with ovarian cancer don't receive recommended treatment, study says	O'Neill	:57
3/11/2013	IE	A 4.7 earthquake rattled Southern California this morning shortly before 10 o'clock, rattling the nerves of top tennis players competing in Indian Wells	Bergman	:53
3/11/2013	POLI	Attorney Carmen Trutanich files an ethics complaint against his political rival	Walton	:40
3/11/2013	ECON	The tallest building west of the Mississippi has been sold	DeBord	:35
3/11/2013	EDU	Army suspends Tuition Assistance program in wake of sequestration	Plummer	1:13
3/12/13	HEAL	Is legislation the most to help people make informed choices about their health? If not, is price control a better way? Is putting a graphic advisory, a la cigarette packages in countries like Canada or England, the way to go? What's the most effective way to help consumers make the decision to kick certain bad habits themselves?	Dr. Peter Ubel	13:00
3/12/13	TECH	Who can we trust as consumers? How can we sniff out bogus reviews? What are consumer review sites doing about this growing problem?	Bing Liu, Adam Medros	23:00
3/12/13	RELI	Not that anybody needs a good excuse to go to Rome, but this week is an especially crowded one there as journalists flock to Vatican City to pontificate on the selection of the next pope. And as Kevin Roderick noted in LAObserved today, local news outlets who tend to give short shrift to Sacramento politics seem to be especially well-represented there. Channel 2, KCAL 9, NBC 4, KTLA 5 and ABC 7 all have reporters on the scene.	Todd Mokhtari, Kelly McBride	13:00
3/12/13	DIV	Have you dealt with the grief process online? Do you prefer privacy while you mourn, or can the support of an online community be beneficial? Is group grief a natural impulse? Is it healthy?	Ross MacDonald, Karen North,	23:00
3/12/13	FOR	North Korea is threatening to break a 1953 truce and declare war against its neighbor to the south, and against the United States. Observers say even for a country known for saber rattling, the North Koreans are acting with particular belligerence.	Daniel Sneider	9:04
3/12/13	RELI	Today in Rome, Catholic Cardinals are meeting to decide who'll be the next pope. The meeting, known as a papal conclave, is expected to last several days. We sent KPCC's Charles Castaldi to visit a couple of churches in Los Angeles to hear what parishioners are looking for in a new leader.	Charles Castaldi	4:05
3/12/13	LAW	A new survey by Latino Decisions, a political opinion research firm, shows that across the board, Latinos support stronger gun laws.	Adrian Pantoja	6:07
3/12/13	ART	Although 72-year-old Harry Taussig is an icon for many guitar aficionados, he's never performed live. That's about to change. Alex Cohen reports.	Alex Cohen	9:05
3/12/13	LAW	State lawmakers are taking a close look at the Medical Board of California, and whether it's doing enough to police doctors who freely prescribe painkillers. A recent L.A. Times investigation found the medical board took so long to investigate doctors suspected of prescription abuse that 30 of their patients died while the probe was underway.	Scott Glover	6:55

3/12/13	SPOR	One of the biggest tennis tournaments of the year is going on right now right here in Southern California. The BNP Paribas Open at Indian Wells attracts major tennis stars and hundreds of thousands of fans, and is proof that American tennis is alive and well. KPCC's Ben Bergman has been at the tournament and joins us now with an update.	Ben Bergman	5:49
3/12/13	SCI	Even when you think you are home alone, you're not. Your house is teeming with tiny roommates in the form of microbes. Almost all of them are harmless, and now scientists are trying to determine which microbes like to hang out in the living room, and which prefer, say, the water heater. Science writer Veronique Greenwood joins the show with more.	Veronique Greenwood	4:56
3/12/13	SPOR	The Miami Heat are on an 18-game winning streak, the 7th longest streak in NBA history. Granted, the team does have one of the best players on the planet, LeBron James, and he's been having an exceptionally good season. But is a streak like this a measure of how good a team is, or just good old fashioned luck?	Alan Reifman	7:13
3/12/2013	POLI	Special elections in Pomona, Fontana and Ontario today	Adler	:46
3/12/2013	POLI	Two special elections in State Senate districts today	CC	:07
3/12/2013	RELI	LA Catholics discuss what they are looking for in a new pope	Castaldi	4:05
3/12/2013	SAC	Lawmakers hold hearing on Medical Board investigation practices on doctors who freely prescribe painkillers	Small	3:16
3/12/2013	ECON	Lacter on weekend box office	Lacter	3:29
3/12/2013	ECON	CSU Chancellor promises not to raise tuition for two years	CC	:19
3/12/2013	LAW	CA Chief Justice delivered State of the Judiciary speech, railed against budget cuts	CC	:18
3/12/2013	DIS	Three men hospitalized after a fire while making pot butter	CC	:07
3/12/2013	LAW	LAPD will not be giving a new truck to the women shot during the Dorner manhunt	CC	:13
3/12/2013	RELI	Robert Kovacic in Rome	Kovacik	3:15
3/12/2013	DC	NASA rover finds conditions suited to life on ancient Mars	Felde	1:35
3/12/2013	LAW	Women shot during Dorner pursuit still haven't gotten their promised truck	CC	:14
3/12/2013	DC	NASA rover finds conditions suited to life on ancient Mars	CC	:13
3/12/2013	OBIT	Founder of Cardenas Markets has died	Trujillo	2:46
3/12/2013	IMM	Companies, organizations with a stake in immigration reform are spending big bucks to lobby legislators	Replogle	:53
3/12/2013	LAW	Beck's personal data swiped by computer hackers	CC	:14
3/12/2013	ECON	A coalition of advocacy groups is calling on CA lawmakers to leave the state's landmark environmental law alone	CC	:06
3/12/2013	ECON	A coalition of advocacy groups is calling on CA lawmakers to leave the state's landmark environmental law alone	CC	:09
3/12/2013	SAC	Democrats reject prison stays for paroled sex offenders who fail to register	Small	1:11
3/12/2013	DC	Mayor and hundreds of other Anelenos lobby for LA	Felde	:54
3/12/2013	IMM	A new USC study predicts that by the end of this year, for the first time in recorded history, a majority of LA County residents will be native Californians	Berestein Rojas	:50
3/12/2013	DC	Mayor not wistful about missing out on Transportation Secretary	CC	:13
3/12/2013	OBIT	Founder of Cardenas Markets has died	CC	:13
3/12/2013	OBIT	Founder of Cardenas Markets has died	Unknown	3:16
3/12/2013	ENV	LA Supes postpone vote on stormwater property tax for at least a year	Peterson	:55
3/12/2013	SAC	Democrats reject prison stays for paroled sex offenders who fail to register	CC	:11

3/13/13	POLI	We've poured billions of dollars in the war against terror. But according to James Clapper, the Director of National Intelligence, the country now has a newer, bigger enemy: cyber attacks.	Dave McIntyre	12:00
3/13/13	RELI	The 115 cardinals in Rome have chosen a new pope. White smoke billows up from chimney of the Sistine Chapel, the bells of St. Peter's Basilica are ringing, and everyone watched as Argentine Jorge Mario Bergoglio was named the new pope.	Robert Moynihan, Professor Cecil M. Robeck, Charles Reid	40:00:00
3/13/13	POLI	California Democrats are celebrating this morning. Last night they eked by in the polls to reclaim their Supermajority in the state senate.	John Myers	9:36
3/13/13	EDU	School offers child care program – but will sequestration cuts force it to scale back?	Deepa Fernandes	5:45
3/13/13	EDU	A bill being introduced today could have huge implications for higher education in California. The legislation would require the state's public colleges and university to give credit to students when they take online courses, substituting for on campus classes they couldn't register for.	Jeffrey Young	7:06
3/13/13	EDU	The Los Angeles Unified School District announced Tuesday that it settled 58 lawsuits over Berndt's alleged misconduct. But nearly two-thirds of the 191 civil suits filed against the nation's second-largest school district in the case remain unresolved.	Vanessa Romo	4:08
3/13/13	SPOR	It's time to get a get a little exercise and take a run through the world of sports with Andy and Brian Kamenetzky. They've covered the Los Angeles sports scene for over a decade for the Times and ESPN.	Andy and Brian Kamenetzky	9:52
3/13/13	ART	Take Two's new recurring feature with Chris Nichols, editor at LA Weekly magazine. On tap this week, ex-Disney Imagineer and amusement park designer Bob Gurr.	Chris Nichols	7:32
3/13/13	MIL	A new report by the Center for Investigative Reporting shows wait times for benefit checks have skyrocketed under the Obama administration.	Aaron Glantz	7:48
3/13/13	MIL	A program at UCLA works to bridge the divide between military and civilian worlds. It pairs LA families with injured service members coming to town for reconstructive surgery. As Josie Huang found, it's an education for everybody.	Josie Huang	5:01
3/13/13	ECON	If you were to invent a viable alternative to an e-book, you might want to patent it. For the past 200 years, that patent filing process has remained pretty much unchanged, but this Saturday the system is shifting from first to invent to first to file.	Eric Talley	7:38
3/13/13	LIT	It's a brave new world, and we're not talking about the Aldous Huxley novel. How much authors should get off of used eBooks is up in the air, and Take Two examines how the digital world is affecting the publishing world.	Jenny Shank	7:25
3/13/13	ECON	President Enrique Peña Nieto on Monday touted proposed new reforms to boost competition in Mexico's highly concentrated telecommunications sector, moves that could weaken the influence of billionaire Carlos Slim and television giant Televisa. We'll speak with Tim Johnson, the Mexico City bureau chief for McClatchy Newspapers.	Tim Johnson	6:11
3/13/13	ART	Can't get a ticket to one of the hundreds of bands at South by Southwest in Austin, Texas? Well, it's not the only music fest in town. The 3rd annual Mexican-American Experience kicks off today, and and just like SXSW, the two-day event brings together acts from all over the world.	Leonard Davila	6:18
3/13/2013	ECON	Programs in Baldwin Park school district that serve teen moms facing sequestration cuts	Fernandes	5:45

3/13/2013	ECON	Advocates demand that the bank do something about its foreclosure pipeline in California	DeBord	1:16
3/13/2013	HEAL	California lawmakers want to allow some healthcare workers to expand their range of services under the ACA	Bartolone	1:08
3/13/2013	ECON	California takes six weeks to process business filings, other states take five days	CC	:20
3/13/2013	SCI	A sea lion rescue center deals with an excess of stranded sea lion pups	Plummer	2:11
3/13/2013	ECON	A coalition of advocacy groups is calling on CA lawmakers to leave the state's landmark environmental law alone	Adler	1:33
3/13/2013	SAC	Gov Brown proposes redistribution of education funding	Shuler	3:44
3/13/2013	ECON	LAUSD settles lawsuits over teacher misconduct	CC	:08
3/13/2013	RELI	LA Archdiocese settles in 4 sex abuse cases	Unknown	3:48
3/13/2013	ECON	UCLA Anderson Forecast says US Economy is slowly ramping up for some real growth, and California will share in that growth	Watt	1:48
3/13/2013	LAW	LA Archdiocese settles in 4 sex abuse cases	CC	:18
3/13/2013	POLI	Inland area voters in special election to fill 42nd Assembly seat vacated by Negrete-McLeod	McNary	:58
3/13/2013	LAW	Lawyer for plaintiffs in Michael Baker abuse case criticizes Mahony	CC	:08
3/13/2013	ECON	Cash investors are dominating the Southern California real estate market	DeBord	:44
3/13/2013	TT	Lawmakers in California consider offering online courses for college credit	CC	:12
3/13/2013	DC	More than 150 Angelenos lobbying Capitol Hill	CC	:21
3/13/2013	RELI	Father Greg Boyle reacts to selection of Francis I	CC	:17
3/13/2013	ECON	UCLA Anderson Forecast says US Economy is slowly ramping up for some real growth, and California will share in that growth	Watt	:57
3/13/2013	DC	More than 150 Angelenos lobbying Capitol Hill	Felde	:52
3/13/2013	RELI	Governor Brown shares his reactions to the election of a jesuit pope	CC	:01
3/13/2013	RELI	Governor Brown shares his reactions to the election of a jesuit pope	CC	:09
3/13/2013	RELI	Election of Pope Francis marks first Latin-American and first Jesuit pope	CC	:20
3/13/2013	RELI	LA Archbishop announced Pope selection at noon mass	CC	:14
3/13/2013	RELI	Reaction to the first Jesuit pope	CC	:11
3/13/2013	POLI	CA Governor says he supports the people regulating fracking	CC	:15
3/13/2013	ECON	California and Florida have switched places as the foreclosure crisis grinds on	DeBord	:43
3/13/2013	RELI	Rabbi Hier hails election of Pope Francis	CC	:13
3/13/2013	HEAL	Advocates for the poor urge lawmakers to restore welfare-to-work funding	CC	:07
3/13/2013	HEAL	Advocates for the poor urge lawmakers to restore welfare-to-work funding	CC	:08
3/13/2013	RELI	Southland Latinos react to new Argentinian Pope	Guzman	2:40
3/14/13	RELI	Ever since Pope Francis was named the new pope yesterday, many are asking, "Who is he?" Will Pope Francis address the issues of the Catholic Church today? Will his papacy bring in reform or will it just pass by unnoticed in history? How will being a Jesuit and Latin American pope influence the papacy?	Father Thomas Rausch, Cathy Lynn Grossman	13:00
3/14/13	YOUT	Is teaching deprivation the best way to achieve long-term health for overweight kids? Should potentially vulnerable teens go through this process on national television? Will it help parents and kids who are dealing with the same issues?	Dave Broome, Dr. Yoni Freedhoff	18:00
3/14/13	ECON	Is extending alcohol service hours a good idea? Would it make California cities more exciting tourism destinations? Could it put a stress on public transportation or cause more drunk driving accidents? Guest: Mark Leno, Democratic State Senator, 3rd District (San Francisco)	Mark Leno, Bruce Lee Livingston	17:00

3/14/13	MIL	There's a new military medal and it's getting a lot of flak. Last month, former Secretary of Defense Leon Panetta last month approved the new Distinguished Warfare Medal, which is awarded to drone pilots and cyber warfare troops that do not directly engage in ground combat.	Lieutenant Commander Nathan Christenson, Joe Davis	14:00
3/14/13	SPOR	How will the future of AEG affect L.A. sports? Should Anschutz have sold the company?	Sam Farmer	5:00
3/14/13	LAW	Have you ever ignored a jury summons? Have you ever served on a jury? What will you do next time you're called?	Andrew Ferguson	12:00
3/14/13	ART	When songwriter and folk hero Woody Guthrie died in 1967 at the age of 55, he left behind paintings, sketches, journals, and over 3,000 songs. His autobiography, "Bound For Glory," was published in 1943 and has become somewhat of a cult classic. But almost 50 years after his death, his only known novel has been published.	Douglas Brinkley	17:00
3/14/13	RELI	Yesterday the world witnessed the selection of Pope Francis of Buenos Aires, formerly Cardinal Jorge Bergoglio. He is not only the first pope from outside Europe in modern times, but also the first Jesuit, the first from Latin America, and the first named Francis, in recollection of St. Francis of Assisi, who dedicated his life to helping the poor.	Leslie Berestein Rojas	2:22
3/14/13	SCI	California's Earthquake Early Warning System gave scientist a 30-second heads up, and that, in the future, might be enough to save lives. Thomas Heaton is the Director of the Earthquake Engineering Research Laboratory at Caltech joins the show with more.	Thomas Heaton	7:45
3/14/13	LAW	Los Angeles County is getting a new Assistant Sheriff for custody. In other words a Jails Chief who'll be responsible for running the largest jail system in the country. Monday is Terri McDonald's first day on the job.	Rina Palta	6:23
3/14/13	ENT	"Veronica Mars" star Kristen Bell and its creator Rob Thomas launched a Kickstarter campaign to raise 2 million bucks for a movie version of the teen drama which debuted in 2004. It worked. In less than 24 hours they raised all the money.	Alan Sepinwall	7:20
3/14/13	SCI	A nationwide shortage of honeybees could begin harming the global supply of almonds, which are largely grown in California, farmers and biologists say.	Wendy Lee	3:36
3/14/13	SCI	Monarch butterfly populations are at their lowest in 20 years, with a 59 percent drop from just over a year ago. Each year these majestic insects migrate thousands of miles between the upper-U.S. and Canada to northern Mexico and Southern California.	Chip Taylor	8:26
3/14/13	POLI	It's time for City Hall Pass, your ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles with KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton. On tap this week, tomorrow's primary election.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	8:34
3/14/13	ECON	The LA Better Business Bureau is the first local chapter of the national organization to be expelled since Miami, 25 years ago. But do consumers still care about its ratings?	Matthew DeBord	5:53
3/14/13	TECH	Samsung unveils its new smartphone, the Galaxy S4, in New York. Could this new iteration of the Galaxy series give the iPhone a run for its money (and its users)?	Dan Ackerman	7:02
3/14/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Francis Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party radio show	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Francis Newnam	4:44

3/14/13	ECON	Soda Stream, the cola DIY is pulling out all the stops to try to make a dent in the American pop market. With more we're joined by Joshua Rothman who wrote about Soda Stream in the The New Yorker.	Joshua Rothman	6:43
3/14/13	ECON	Here with more on the delicate balance between work and family, especially here in Southern California, we're joined by Darby Saxbe, a mother of two who works as assistant professor of psychology at USC.	Darby Saxbe	7:51
3/14/2013	ECON	This year's almond crop could be impacted by the declining population of honey bees	Lee	3:36
3/14/2013	LAW	Expert hired to help lower suicide rate in state prison gives up	Small	1:45
3/14/2013	RELI	The election yesterday of Argentina's Joge Bergoglio as the first pope from Latin America drew excitement and praise in Southern California	Bergman	2:22
3/14/2013	HOUS	US foreclosure rates drop to 6-year low	CC	:11
3/14/2013	EDU	Leader of California senate wants to provide online courses for credit at state colleges and universities	Adler	1:03
3/14/2013	HEAL	California senator introduced bill to help meet new patient demands under ACA	CC	:11
3/14/2013	ENV	Nuclear Energy Institute says there's enough uranium in Arizona to power LA for 124 years	Morales	3:45
3/14/2013	LAB	San Francisco Symphony musicians are on strike	CC	:11
3/14/2013	LAW	State corrections officials catch parolee that had eluded them for 3 decades	Watt	:45
3/14/2013	TT	Testing a new earthquake detection system	CC	:20
3/14/2013	DC	Assault weapons ban bill makes it out of committee	Felde	:59
3/14/2013	POLI	LA City Councilman Bill Rosendahl reacts to personnel change at AEG	CC	:12
3/14/2013	SPOR	AEG is no longer for sale. The Anchutz Company will retain ownership. Sports consultant says price must not have been right.	CC	:16
3/14/2013	LAW	Legal aid groups sue LA courts for cutting eviction hearing services	Aguilar	1:06
3/14/2013	LAW	SEIU rallies against court budget cuts	CC	:09
3/14/2013	SAC	Riverside lawmakers renew push for medical school funds	Small	1:48
3/14/2013	LAW	Police reclassify case of missing Fox exec as a homicide investigation	Moore	1:15
3/14/2013	SPOR	Future of NFL team in LA is uncertain now that AEG is no longer for sale	CC	:25
3/14/2013	DC	CA members report on Obama meetings	Felde	1:01
3/14/2013	EDU	State sends out far fewer pink slips down from last year	CC	:10
3/14/2013	POLI	Brown administration releases Delta Tunnel plan	CC	:10
3/14/2013	ECON	Frank talks about Anschutz's decision to not sell AEG, what it means for LA team	Stoltze	5:31
3/14/2013	LAW	Two women shot by LAPD during the search for Dornier will get $40,000 to buy a new truck	Aguilar	1:25
3/14/2013	RELI	Mahony defends his participation in choosing the Pope	CC	:14
3/15/13	MEDI	Fans of the TV detective series 'Veronica Mars' have raised $3.3 million and counting to get the show onto the big screen. More than 50,000 people have made donations to the Veronica Mars movie project on the crowdfunding site Kickstarter and Warner Bros. agreed to distribute and market the film.	Dawn Chmielewski	24:00:00
3/15/13	HEAL	The idea of using "truth serum" to get a subject to open up and spill the beans goes back to ancient Rome, when people noticed the tongue-loosening effects of wine. But is information obtained under the influence admissible in court? This week, a judge in Colorado ruled that prosecutors could use a "truth serum" to extract uninhibited testimony from James Holmes.	Park Dietz, Royal F. Oakes	24:00:00
3/15/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Tim Cogshell, Claudia Puig, and Charles Solomon to review the week's new film releases including The Call, The Incredible Burt Wonderstone, Spring Breakers, and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Tim Cogshell, Claudia Puig, Charles Solomon	31:00:00
3/15/13	ENT	Perhaps you grew up knowing of Cynthia Ann Parker or perhaps you know her story from Ford's 1950s Western, "The Searchers." Glenn Frankel tells Larry about how this story has influenced America's treatment of cultural divides.	Glenn Frankel	17:00

3/15/13	POLI	The Conservative Political Action Conference (CPAC) convened this week. Take Two checks in on the week's agenda and where conservatives' conversation on immigration stands.	Alex Burns	7:57
3/15/13	SAC	Jerry Brown has water on his mind. Yesterday, the Governor unveiled a $23 billion plan to overhaul how the state moves water from north to south. But while the plan for this new plumbing is still in the developmental stages, critics are already coming out against it.	Paul Rogers	6:22
3/15/13	POLI	Time for our weekly review of the news, The Friday Flashback. Here with us in the studio, James Rainey, political columnist for the LA Times and from New York, Heidi Moore, U.S. finance and economics editor for The Guardian economic and fiscal policy correspondent for The National Journal.	James Rainey, and Heidi Moore	12:21
3/15/13	ART	Take Two's new series, Neighborhoods, hopes to change what we know, or think we know, about the city. First up, exploring Boyle Heights.	Tess Vigeland	8:32
3/15/13	ART	In the late 70s, a curious event took place in Manhattan: the arrival of the "Treasures of Tutankhamun," exhibit at the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Millions of people visited, and it caused a huge shift in how museums marketed special collections.	David Kamp	10:19
3/15/13	ECON	L.A. Live was Tim Leiweke's baby, and he was the biggest cheerleader for bringing a football stadium to downtown LA. So what happened?	Arash Markazi	6:48
3/15/13	SPOR	The NFL announced this week it'll spend $60 million to research and develop new technology to prevent future injuries. But there might be millions more to be had by companies that are springing up to offer their own equipment and products to the league.	Darren Heitner	7:17
3/15/13	TECH	Take a look at the laptop or computer screen that's closest to you and you may see a little camera. As it turns out, hacking that little camera and viewing your entire life isn't that hard. We'll talk with Nate Anderson from Ars Technica.	Nate Anderson	6:46
3/15/13	ECON	The LA County Science Fair may not have enough money to provide basics like tables and chairs in the hall where projects will be displayed. Meghan McCarty reports.	Meghan McCarty	6:41
3/15/13	YOUT	A Pew Research study found fathers are increasingly concerned about their kids and they worry they're not doing a good job as a parent.	Jeremy Adam Smith	9:18
3/15/13	SPOR	At first, Ellison was seen as a huge boon to pro tennis, but now some tournament owners complain that the billionaire has been spending too much.	Ben Bergman	3:25
3/15/2013	SPOR	AEG is no longer for sale. The Anchutz Company will retain ownership. Sports consultant says price must not have been right.	Watt	2:43
3/16/13	OBIT	After losing their baby, the Banks family donate a bassinet they had already bought to the Hollywood LAPD 'Soft Room.' John Rabe talks to the Banks family about their loss, what a soft room is and why it is helpful to families that find themselves in a police station.	John Rabe / Xiomara Padilla- Banks / Darnell Banks / LAPD Lt. Marc Reina	4:31
3/16/13	RELI	John Rabe talks with Father Greg Boyle about the new Pope, sex scandals, and what he hopes to see in a new leader.	John Rabe / Father Greg Boyle	11:27
3/16/13	ART	Maya Sugarman talks to the latest Instagram challenge winner: Salvador Capiello who lives in Caracas, Venezuela.	Maya Sugarman / Salvador Capiello	3:25

3/16/13	ART	Mukta Mohan talks with Sara Velas about the Velaslavaysay Panorama in West Adams. Currently, founder and artist Sara Velas has a panorama on display called The Effulgence of the North. It's an immersive exploration of an arctic night scene illuminated by the Aurora Borealis, surrounding the reader at over feet in circumference and heights of up to 12 feet.	Mukta Mohan / Sara Velas	4:04
3/16/13	ART	John Rabe talks with James Fearnley about being in a Brit-Irish punk band, firing their a band member and Americans on St. Patrick's day.	John Rabe / James Fearnley	7:39
3/16/13	LIT	According to Haefele: Amy Wilentz, who teaches at UC Irvine's literary journalism program, has been writing about the troubled little nation since 1986. She keeps these elements in proper proportion, and tells a rippingly human story in her latest book, Farewell, Fred Voodoo ... "Fred Voodoo" being the media's name for Haiti's man on the street.	Marc Haefele	3:40
3/18/13	YOUT	In an emotionally charged Ohio courtroom yesterday, two high school students were convicted of raping a drunk and apparently unconscious girl at a party last summer. The two football players were sentenced as juveniles to a minimum of one-year for sexually assaulting an unidentified 16-year old.	Rachel Dissell	24:00:00
3/18/13	POLI	Is the Republican party out of touch? Will it take heed of this dire warning, or are its leaders clinging to conservative principles at its own peril?	Paul West	8:00
3/18/13	HEAL	Michael Moss joins Larry to talk about his work and how to eat healthy in a salty, sugary, fatty world.	Michael Moss	15:00
3/18/13	SAC	In October, 20,000 workers hired by the state will enroll Californians in the state's new health insurance exchange, Covered California. The workers won't be government employees, but they will be handing quite a bit of personal information. Should they undergo strict background checks?	Carla Saporta, Pam Dixon	13:00
3/18/13	LGB	What does it take to change someone's mind about LGBT rights on a personal level? A son or daughter? A prominent celebrity? A friend of a friend? How effective are these personal connections at changing public opinion in big (or small) ways?		17:00
3/18/13	YOUT	"Our family's falling apart." When Bruce Feiler's father spoke those words to him, Feiler had to face reality. And perhaps he's not the only one who's ever been in that position. In his new book, Feiler writes about "The Secrets of Happy Families."	Bruce Feiler	17:00
3/18/13	POLI	Former Civil Rights attorney Thomas Perez has been picked to replace Hilda Solis as labor secretary. The son of Dominican immigrants is the first Latino to be nominated to the Presidents' second term cabinet. We'll speak with Matt Vasilogambros covers the White House for the National Journal.	Matt Vasilogambros	7:29
3/18/13	LAW	Fifty years ago today, the U.S. Supreme Court unanimously ruled that in criminal cases, state courts must provide counsel for defendants who are unable to afford an attorney. The case was Gideon v. Wainwright, and though it's a half-century old, the decision may be more timely than ever due to budget cuts on the California court system.	Tani Cantil-Sakauye	8:56
3/18/13	FOR	This month marks the 10th anniversary of the invasion of Iraq. We take a look back at the decade of war through the eyes of some Southern California Iraq War veterans. KPCC's Josie Huang reports.	Josie Huang	6:19
3/18/13	ART	David Gilkey is a staff photographer and video editor for NPR, and was one of the first unilateral journalists to cross the border into Iraq while embedded with the U.S. Army. He talks about the images he captured, and what it was like working in a war zone.	David Gilkey	13:30
3/18/13	ENT	L.A. Times entertainment reporter Rebecca Keegan joins us for her regular Monday update of the latest from Hollywood.	Rebecca Keegan	8:54

3/18/13	ENV	Environmentalists give the outgoing mayor high marks for his efforts to increase the use of renewable energy, get off of coal, conserve water, and cut air pollution.	Molly Peterson	4:36
3/18/13	ENV	Three of LA Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa's green talking points have wider implications, either beyond the city or beyond environmental policy or both.	Molly Peterson	3:39
3/18/13	SPOR	Few consumers are welcoming the new Los Angeles Dodgers/Time Warner Cable TV deal because many assume the cost per month will be high. The team has yet to submit their television deal to Major League Baseball for approval. We'll find out why.	Andrew Zimabalist	6:37
3/18/13	TRAN	All of LA's nearly 4,400 intersections that have a signal, are now monitored and synchronized for better traffic flow. It's the first city in the world to do it. Reporter Colin Berry has the story.	Colin Berry	4:08
3/18/13	POLI	This morning, the Republican National Committee released a new report on its shortcomings. The 98-page analysis has been dubbed an "autopsy" of the GOP, following failures in last fall's election. For more on the digital future of the Republican Party, we're joined now by Steve Friess, technology reporter with POLITICO.	Steve Friess	6:42
3/18/13	LAW	Last year, 38-year-old Ian Thorson died of apparent dehydration in a cave in southeastern Arizona. Earlier that year, he and his wife Christie McNally travelled to Arizona's Diamond Mountain to pursue Buddhist perfection. Much of how he died has been shrouded in mystery.	Scott Carney	14:59
3/18/2013		Loh Life Craveables	Loh	2:40
3/18/2013	HEAL	Media campaign tries to bring attention to uninsured Californians	CC	:05
3/18/2013	HEAL	Media campaign tries to bring attention to uninsured Californians	CC	:12
3/18/2013	DC	More worry than reality in sequestration fears so far	Felde	3:28
3/18/2013	POLI	Budget Committee hosts a public hearing on the 2013 budget	Walton	:29
3/18/2013	LAW	Deliberations enter fourth week in Bell city criminal trial	Moore	1:05
3/18/2013	ENV	Assessing LA Mayor Villaraigosa's environmental legacy	Peterson	4:37
3/18/2013	HEAL	Media campaign tries to bring attention to uninsured Californians	Bartolone	1:11
3/18/2013	TRAN	Road closures this week to build a truck lane on the 5 in Santa Clarita	Jahad	:28
3/18/2013	SPOR	Erik Mose of Ethiopia and Aleksandra Duliba of Belarus win the LA Marathon	Jahad	:43
3/18/2013	SPOR	54 year old, legally blind, Irvine mom Cindy Abbott comes home after the grueling adventure of running the Iditarod	Jahad	:43
3/18/2013	RELI	Catholics celebrated new Pope at masses this weekend	Fox	1:27
3/18/2013	LAW	Two arrested in suspicion of shooting Fullerton police officer during traffic stop	CC	:09
3/18/2013	SPOR	The finals of the World Baseball Classic are tomorrow night in San Francisco	CC	:13
3/18/2013	ECON	California unemployment remains the highest in the US, but construction is surging	DeBord	:33
3/18/2013	EDU	First Spanish-language spelling bee for high school students set for April in Azusa	CC	:18
3/18/2013	EDU	First Spanish-language spelling bee for high school students set for April in Azusa	CC	:14
3/18/2013	TT	California's chief justice says budget cuts are hurting state's court system	CC	:14
3/18/2013	LAW	LA's new jails chief faces tough questions on first day	CC	:13
3/18/2013	IMM	US Supreme Court reviews whether voters should provide proof of citizenship to register	CC	:12
3/18/2013	IMM	US Supreme Court reviews whether voters should provide proof of citizenship to register	CC	:14
3/18/2013	SPOR	Dodgers' TV deal with Time Warner creates controversy	CC	:19
3/18/2013	HEAL	California's health exchange will create new jobs in October	CC	:15
3/18/2013	POLI	LA City Councilman Paul Krekorian endorses Eric Garcetti for mayor	Walton	:31
3/18/2013	EDU	CSU plans for a bigger budget thanks to Prop 30	CC	:14

3/18/2013	LGB	ACLU accuses Hesperia school officials of discriminating against gay students	CC	:12
3/18/2013	EDU	CSU vows no tuition hikes in new academic year budget plan	Moore	1:06
3/18/2013	OC	A new report released today finds that the San Onofre nuclear plant could operate safely at full power	Bergman	:41
3/18/2013	TRAN	FAA to decide by end of week which Air Traffic Control Towers to close due to sequestration	CC	:13
3/18/2013	POLI	California lawmakers provide extra money to reduce paperwork backlog	CC	:10
3/18/2013	OC	Orange County has removed about 280K people from its active voter rolls	Bergman	:52
3/18/2013	POLI	State Assembly rushes through a budget bill	Adler	:45
3/18/2013	FOR	Report estimates more firearms are being trafficked into Mexico than previously thought	Florida	1:26
3/18/2013	LAW	Criminal trial begins for German national Christian Gerhartsteiter who is accused of murdering a San Marino man and acting as a member of the Rockefeller family	Aguilar	1:33
3/18/2013	EDU	Observers say Villaragosa's legacy on education is mixed	Guzman	4:47
3/19/13	IMM	Should economic-based immigration come at the cost of family unification? Could giving visa preference to highly skilled workers and STEM graduates lead to U.S. economic growth? Should those candidates get a bigger slice of the immigration pie - or should we just make the pie bigger? If you're a foreign-born citizen or green card holder, what would this legislation mean to your family?	Aaron Blake, Jeremy Robbins, Judy Chu	31:00:00
3/19/13	YOUT	Disneyland has just announced its first-ever age policy; children 13 years and younger will have to be accompanied by an adult in order to enter the Magic Kingdom.		17:00
3/19/13	FOR	What reflections do you have on the 10th anniversary? Was it worth it? Was it a mistake? How has it influenced U.S. foreign policy at present?	Tim Arango	13:00
3/19/13	FOR	It's been 10 years since the start of the Iraq War. Larry is joined by four veterans who share with us their personal homecoming experiences and how the transition has been.	Thom Tran, Sandra Altamirano, David Barr, Michael Chan	34:00:00
3/19/13	GEND	Immigration reform is rarely thought of as specifically a women's issue, but it is central to the fight for women's equality. That's the argument of an organization of women calling themselves We Belong Together.	Pramila Jayapal	6:55
3/19/13	FOR	In Guatemala today, General Efraim Rios Montt will be prosecuted for the crime of genocide. This case is being closely watched. Jill Replogle from the Fronteras Desk reports.	Jill Replogle,	4:12
3/19/13	FOR	In the years after the US invasion of Iraq, Paul Bremer and the Coalition Provisional Authority sought to create a new Iraqi government. Rajiv Chandrasekaran, former Baghdad bureau chief for the Washington Post, joins the show with more.	Rajiv Chandrasekaran	12:03
3/19/13	IMM	Since the U.S. opened up its doors to Iraqi refugees in 2007, more have ended up in California than any other state, nearly 20,000. An increasing number of them are arriving in Orange County and are facing big challenges once they arrive. As KPCC's Ben Bergman reports, they can face significant challenges.	Ben Bergman	4:37
3/19/13	RACE	In the City of Brotherly Love, there's little love for a magazine article that's stirred up race relations. Philadelphia Magazine recently published a cover story, "Being White in Philly."	David Wall Rice, Vilma Ortiz	9:53
3/19/13	RACE	Yesterday, the Pew Research Center's Project for Excellence in Journalism released its 2013 annual report on the state of the news media. While most all sorts of media has been negatively affected, African-American news media outlets seem to be hit especially hard.	Eric Deggan	6:42

3/19/13	POLI	The outgoing Los Angeles mayor made a big play for public education. But he was rebuffed, and his smaller goals proved elusive. This is part of a series looking at the mayor's legacy.	Adolfo Guzman-Lopez	4:47
3/19/13	ART	Tuesday's the day that record companies usually release their new albums, so to help get caught up on the newest in music we have Oliver Wang from Soul-Sides.com and Morgan Rhodes from KPFK.	Oliver Wang and Morgan Rhodes	12:59
3/19/13	TECH	It's game over for John Riccitiello. Yesterday, Riccitiello announced he's stepping down from his post as CEO of the video game maker Electronic Arts. He cited poor earnings as the reason for his departure. But some say the move is a bigger indication of the shaky future of video games in today's media market.	Kyle Orland,	7:52
3/19/13	SCI	A new study out of Oklahoma seems to suggest that the cliff swallows there are adapting to their modified environments in an interesting way. Researchers found their wings may be getting shorter to help them get out of the way of traffic.	Charles Brown	7:10
3/19/2013	HEAL	Fourth-year medical students from USC learn where they will spend their residency	Martinez	4:19
3/19/2013	DIV	An increasing number of Iraqis are arriving in Orange County and the challenges once they get there can be significant	Bergman	4:37
3/19/2013	LAW	LA sheriff brings new jail proposal before Board of Supervisors	CC	:12
3/19/2013	ENV	LA DWP commissioners approve plan to end use of coal by 2025	Peterson	1:25
3/19/2013	ECON	Lacter on possibility of LA NFL team	Lacter	3:56
3/19/2013	EDU	CSU trustees make plans for boost in budget	CC	:12
3/19/2013	DC	Freshman Congressman and former Jesuit noviate reflects on Pope	CC	:24
3/19/2013	EDU	Elementary school girl was almost crushed by a school bus yesterday	CC	:08
3/19/2013	DC	Freshman Congressman and former Jesuit noviate reflects on Pope	Felde	1:03
3/19/2013	OC	Swallows return to San Juan Capistrano up in the air	Moore	1:16
3/19/2013	LAW	MS-13 gang indictment, extortion food trucks Hollywood	CC	:13
3/19/2013	HEAL	A common strategy to battle HIV - called "test and treat" may generate more resistant HIV	O'Neill	1:01
3/19/2013	ECON	UCLA Professor hired to help Washington st develop rules for marijuana sales	CC	:05
3/19/2013	MEDI	African-American newspapers face trouble	CC	:13
3/19/2013	ECON	UCLA Professor hired to help Washington st develop rules for marijuana sales	CC	:13
3/19/2013	ENT	Electronic Arts CEO resigned	CC	:14
3/19/2013	LAW	LAPD Chief says he's conducting internal survey on race relations in department	CC	:16
3/19/2013	ECON	American Airlines and US Airways Merger	CC	:11
3/19/2013	OC	OC prosecutors charge Anaheim gang member with the attempted murder of a Fullerton police officer over the weekend	Bergman	:47
3/19/2013	LAW	LAPD on MS-13 gang arrests, extortion of Hollywood food trucks	CC	:13
3/19/2013	YOUT	California's top Senate Democrat has introduced a bill to provide career training for teens and young adults	CC	:14
3/19/2013	ECON	New study finds women in California aren't faring well as men during the economic recovery	CC	:12
3/19/2013	ART	A book of short stories about US-Mexico border is this year's winner of the Pen/Faulkner literary award.	Fronteras	:59
3/19/2013	LAW	LA Sheriff asks the Board of Supes to approve new jail plan	Palta	1:12
3/19/2013	SACTO	Republicans push to rollback realignment, build more prisons	Small	2:15
3/19/2013	POLI	Cal. Natl. Guard says its ability to respond to calls for service will be hampered if a spending plan isn't approved soon in Washington.	Motiff	:43
3/19/2013	SAC	Republicans in the state legislature are criticizing Gov. Jerry Brown's decision to shift some prisoners from state to county jurisdiction	CC	:11
3/19/2013	POLI	Cal. Natl. Guard says its ability to respond to calls for service will be hampered if a spending plan isn't approved soon in Washington.	CC	:17

3/19/2013	ENV	DWP Commissioners approve plan to get entireley off of coal by 2025	Peterson	3:21
3/19/2013	HEAL	Dept. of Managed Health Care finds Kaiser Permanente failing to provide timely access to mental health treatment	Kim	1:53
3/20/13	HEAL	CVS is bucking the trend of offering incentives, and instead will penalize workers on the company's health plan who don't submit to health screenings.	Deborah Peel, Helen Darling	31:00:00
3/20/13	LAW	Police Chief Beck joins Larry to talk about pocket parks, Dorner, realignment and property crime, ankle bracelets and car chases.	Charlie Beck	17:00
3/20/13	SPOR	Depending on who you talk to, March Madness can be a boon or a bust for employers. A recent survey says that nearly a third of employees spend an average of 3 hours per work day watching games, but other reports cite a boost in employee morale that more than makes up for the loss.	Kris Dunn	13:00
3/20/13	YOUT	A recent report shows delaying marriage is a rising trend. College-educated women are reaping the financial benefits of delaying marriage and childbearing, but young women with less education are reversing the order of marriage and the baby carriage.	Kelleen Kaye	10:00
3/20/13	LAW	The jury has reached a verdict in the Bell trial. Five out of six former elected officials in Bell were convicted of abusing public funds by giving themselves high salaries. Victor Bello, George Cole, Oscar Hernandez, Teresa Jacobo and George Mirabal were found guilty on various counts, but Luis Artiga was found not guilty on all counts.	Corey Moore	7:00
3/20/13	ENT	Tonight, veteran English stage actress Tracie Bennett, goes on stage at the Ahmanson to enact the final years of the late, great Judy Garland's life in "End of the Rainbow."	Tracie Bennett	17:00
3/20/13	LAW	For a look at the whether this cooperation will stem the tide of crime and violence, we're joined by Ioan Grillo, a journalist based in Mexico City and the author of , "El Narco: Inside Mexico's Criminal Insurgency."	Ioan Grillo	8:25
3/20/13	LAW	Horne v. USDA pits California raisin farmers against the Department of Agriculture. The decision could have widespread implications for property rights and government compensation.	Karl Manheim	6:57
3/20/13	MIL	Former Iraqi translator Tariq Abu Khumra fled Baghdad after working for the US military. Ten years after the war began, he makes a new life for himself in California. He doesn't know when he'll see his family again.	Mary Plummer	4:20
3/20/13	MIL	Matt Gallagher is a former Army captain who served 15 months in Iraq. He's one of the 15 men and women whose lives were affected by war and who contributed to the new book, "Fire and Forget, Short Stories from the Long War."	Matt Gallagher	10:50
3/20/13	POLI	State GOP lawmakers say counties can't manage the thousands of new felons under their supervision.	Julie Small	2:16
3/20/13	SPOR	It's time to get a get a little exercise and take a run through the world of sports with Andy and Brian Kamenetzky. They've covered the Los Angeles sports scene for over a decade for the Times and ESPN.	Andy and Brian Kamenetzky	7:09
3/20/13	ART	Inspired by March Madness, KPCC has launched its own bracket, the public radio bracket. It's your chance to cheer on and vote for your favorite public radio show, from national shows like All Things Considered and This American Life to KPCC's own, including AirTalk, Take Two and Off-Ramp.	Mike Roe	3:00
3/20/13	SCI	A tectonic that disappeared millions of years ago has turned up in Central California and Mexico. It's a big breakthrough in how we think about California's 100-million-year-old geology and could have implications for how we predict earthquakes.	Sean Gulick	4:52

3/20/13	LAW	As part of our look this week at the legacy of Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa, we turn our attention to public safety. The crime rate hit historic lows during his tenure, but how much credit should go to the two-term mayor? KPCC's Frank Stoltze reports.	Frank Stoltze	5:37
3/20/13	SCI	Scientists are using trace amounts of radiation found in fish from the waters near the Fukushima nuclear disaster in Japan to track their movements across the Pacific.	Daniel Madigan	6:17
3/20/13	SCI	Fisherman in Washington state are spotting an odd creature washing up on their shores. It's a translucent glob known as a salp, jelly-fish like creatures about the size of a deflated balloon. Sometimes they swim on their own, sometimes they swim in a chain formation, and they've been known to show up in very large numbers.	Pat Krug	5:19
3/20/13	ART	One informal study of 100 LinkedIn profiles found that people with fewer grammatical errors had a higher level of professional achievement.	Mignon Fogarty	6:52
3/20/13	OBIT	The California wine industry recently lost one of its earliest pioneers, James Barrett. He was 86.	-	1:49
3/20/2013	LABOR	Last fall, Governor Jerry Brown vetoed the Domestic Bill of Rights.	Whatley	3:02
3/20/2013	TRAN	FAA to decide by end of week which Air Traffic Control Towers to close due to sequestration	Watt	1:07
3/20/2013	EDU	Gov. Jerry Brown wants to consolidate all of California's adult education programs into the state's communities college system	Adler	:40
3/20/2013	ENV	New study commissioned by the group "Next 10" finds clean energy companies in California are reducing pollution while creating jobs	CC	:13
3/20/2013	ENV	A new study finds California is adding jobs in green technology and cleaner air	Moffitt	:54
3/20/2013	SPOR	Dominican republic wins World Baseball Championship in San Francisco	CC	:07
3/20/2013	ENV	Climate Change is headline news for California's 30-billion dollar farm economy	Miller	1:48
3/20/2013	ART	MOCA board asserts independence	Guzman	:45
3/20/2013	POLI	Long Beach city council votes to temporarily ban new mortuaries, funeral homes, crematoriums	CC	:12
3/20/2013	POLI	Glendale City Council votes to ban gun shows	Moore	:33
3/20/2013	TT	US Supreme Court reviews case involving California raisin farmers	CC	:22
3/20/2013	LAW	Five of six former Bell officials found guilty of misappropriation of public funds	CC	:08
3/20/2013	LAW	Only one Bell city official was acquitted of all charges	CC	:16
3/20/2013	POLI	NASA tells Congress sequestration will affect future projects	CC	:16
3/20/2013	LAW	Bell officials convicted of misappropriation of public funds	Moore	1:20
3/20/2013	LAW	Five of six former Bell officials found guilty of misappropriation of public funds	CC	:07
3/20/2013	POLI	NASA tells Congress sequestration will affect future projects	Felde	1:05
3/20/2013	POLI	CD9 candidates talk about race in South Los Angeles	Walton	1:07
3/20/2013	ENT	End of the Rainbow opens at the Ahmanson Theatre	CC	:21
3/20/2013	LAW	The Bell verdicts are in; now attention turns to ex-city manager Robert Rizzo, the alleged puppeteer	Palta	1:22
3/20/2013	SAC	California will have to contribute billions more each year to close CalSTRS pension liability	Small	1:44
3/20/2013	ENV	Ranchers and farmers in California deal with drought	CC	:19
3/20/2013	ECON	New bill could make it easier for unemployed Californians to start their own businesses	CC	:16
3/20/2013	ECON	New bill could make it easier for unemployed Californians to start their own businesses	Russ	:52
3/20/2013	POLI	Voters support California's water bond and high speed rail projects, but only if prices drop	CC	:09
3/20/2013	POLI	Voters support California's water bond and high speed rail projects, but only if prices drop	Adler	:48

3/20/2013	LAW	Orange county prosecutors will not file charges in officer-involved shooting	Bergman	4:29
3/20/2013	POLI	Defendants react to jury verdict in Bell corruption case	Moore	2:35
3/20/2013	POLI	As part of our look this week at the legacy of Mayor Villaraigosa, we turn our attention to public safety.	Stoltze	5:37
3/20/2013	POLI	Wesson proposes commision on city finances	Stoltze	:59
3/20/2013	ART	MOCA trustees say they'll put museum back on course on their own	Guzman	2:01
3/21/13	LAW	The jurors in the Bell trial are in court again today, but some juror notes to the judge raise questions about the verdicts.	Dmitry Gorin	13:00
3/21/13	ENT	Jay Leno, current host of "The Tonight Show," and NBC Entertainment Chairman Robert Greenblatt sparred over some of Leno's jokes that were targeted at NBC's poor ratings. Now, sources report that Leno's show will move back to New York and Jimmy Fallon may replace Leno in the next few years.	Bill Carter, Joe Flint	17:00
3/21/13	OC	Larry and our talented trio of Orange County journalists riff on the latest news from the O.C.	Norberto Santana, Ben Bergman, Martin Wisckol	17:00
3/21/13	FOR	What is the U.S. role in the Israeli/Palestinian conflict? Is the White House abdicating its historic position as a lead negotiator?	Rashid Khalidi, David Makovsky	14:00
3/21/13	FOR	A U.K. fertility watchdog has approved a controversial new procedure to prevent mitochondrial disease. In this in vitro procedure, faulty genes from the mother are replaced by those from a donor, creating, in effect, three parents per embryo.	Shoukhrat Mitalipov, Arthur Caplan,	17:00
3/21/13	TECH	Is Voyager I still making meaningful contributions to our understanding of space? Is the edge of our solar system a defined boundary like the strata of Earth's atmosphere? What are we learning about the boundary between our solar system and interstellar space?	Edward Stone,	6:00
3/21/13	SPOR	Yesterday, NFL team owners voted 31-1 to ban the players from ducking their heads to deliver a hit with the "crowns" of their helmets. The Cincinnati Bengals were the only team to vote against the new rule, which penalizes a team 15 yards if a player uses the top of their helmet in a tackle, block, or attempt to advance the ball outside the immediate area surrounding the line of scrimmage.	Sam Farmer	10:00
3/21/13	ECON	A technological creation that has consumers swimming the other way. This week, several large grocery chains, including Whole Foods and Trader Joe's, agreed not to sell genetically modified salmon. The salmon has yet to be officially approved by the FDA, but if it is, it will be the first transgenic animal to enter the food supply.	Whole	7:34
3/21/13	TECH	Many highly skilled immigrants aren't sticking around for very long. Instead, they're taking their skills and going home to places like India, China and Brazil. From the California Report, Aarti Shahani has more.	Aarti Shahani	5:00
3/21/13	POLI	KPCC's Patt Morrison sat down with Mayor Villaraigosa to talk about his leadership — and his love — of Los Angeles.	Patt Morrison, and Antonio Villaraigosa	11:08

3/21/13	HIST	This year marks the 75th anniversary of "kinder transport." The program brought Jewish children out of Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland before the Nazis tried to wipe out the Jewish populations there. Many of those "kinder," now mostly in their '80s, eventually ended up in California.	Susan Valot	5:08
3/21/13	TECH	Researchers in California are launching a major study that hopes to gain a lot more information about heart disease, but they won't be conducting clinical trials in a lab. Instead, they'll be using, among other things, your smart phone.	-	6:54
3/21/13	LAW	When it debuted in 2007, the LA Times' blog The Homicide Report was a breakout hit. Reporter Jill Leovy meticulously wrote about every homicide victim in L.A. County. Now the paper is reviving it by looking for a dedicated reporter. Assistant managing editor Megan Garvey explains that it's a difficult job.	Megan Garvey	6:54
3/21/13	SCI	For more on the Sumo orange and its fascinating backstory, we're joined by David Karp, a writer for the Los Angeles Times, and a citrus researcher with the University of California at Riverside.	David Karp	7:03
3/21/13	POLI	It's Take Two's ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles with KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	7:58
3/21/13	SPOR	Gabrielle Ludwig has faced a lot of hurdles in her mission to play basketball for the Mission College Lady Saints. She's 51, a veteran of Desert Storm and was born a man.	Gabrielle Ludwig	12:26
3/21/13	SCI	Writer Bill Streever's new book "Heat: Adventures in the World's Fiery Places," looks at the effect of heat on the human race and on the world at large. Streever traveled throughout the world to experience the effect of heat in its many forms firsthand. We'll talk to him about the book, and his thoughts on global warming.	Bill Streever	12:33
3/21/2013	POLI	Some businesses give more in political donations than city laws permit, example from mayoral race	McNary	2:50
3/21/2013	LGB	Immigration advocates aren't necessarily on board with reforms for LGBT community	Berestein Rojas	3:02
3/21/2013	LAW	50th anniversary of Gideon v. Wainwright	Aguilar	:56
3/21/2013	OC	Orange county prosecutors will not file charges in officer-involved shooting	Bergman	2:33
3/21/2013	LAB	Farm labor groups drop off petitions at the EPA	Khokha	:42
3/21/2013	OBIT	USC student died on spring break	CC	:10
3/21/2013	LAW	DA says Anaheim officer was justified in shooting and killing Manuel Diaz	CC	:08
3/21/2013	SCI	LA County Science Fair begins in Pasadena	CC	:10
3/21/2013	AT	"The Tonight Show" could be leaving Burbank	CC	:23
3/21/2013	LAW	Juror in the Bell corruption trial wants to reconsider the guilty verdicts	Moore	1:23
3/21/2013	POLI	City atty candidates clash at debate	Stoltze	:59
3/21/2013	HIST	Library of Congress is adding audio recordings for preservation	CC	:08
3/21/2013	HIST	Library of Congress is adding audio recordings for preservation	CC	:08
3/21/2013	ECON	California businesses will have new health coverage options under SHOP program	CC	:13
3/21/2013	POLI	State lawmakers plan to rewrite a water bond scheduled for the November ballot	CC	:17
3/21/2013	OC	Diaz family protests decision not to file charges against the Anaheim officer	Bergman	2:39
3/21/2013	LAW	Judge in Bell corruption case declares a mistrial on some counts	Moore	4:13
3/21/2013	EDU	Congress saves the military's Tuition Assistance program from sequestration cuts	Plummer	1:04
3/21/2013	POLI	Judge declares mistrial in Bell corruption case	Moore	1:43
3/21/2013	EDU	Lawyers for alleged victims of teacher abuse say LA Unified higher ups heard accusations	Guzman	:59

3/22/13	LAW	The complex case involving the deaths of a chief of Colorado prisons and a pizza delivery man is under investigation. The suspect, Evan Spencer Ebel, was a Colorado parolee and white supremacist who was killed in a shootout with Texas police.	Pete Simi, Carla Hill	13:00
3/22/13	LAW	The Bell corruption trial has reached new levels of abnormality after Los Angeles County Superior Court Judge Kathleen Kennedy declared a mistrial yesterday.	Corina Knoll, Richard Gabriel	18:00
3/22/13	ART	Two new apartment buildings will go up soon in West Hollywood, that caters to young people who don't live the traditional 9-to-5 lifestyle, but who work from home and hope to find the sense of community we envision when we think of bohemian loft living and sharing physical space as well as wifi passwords.	Mike Leipart, Amitai Etzioni	16:00
3/22/13	ENT	Guest host Patt Morrison and the critics review this week's new releases, included Olympus Has Fallen, Admission, The Croods, and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Andy Klein, Lael Loewenstein, Charles Solomon	31:00:00
3/22/13	ENT	Writer and Producer David Mamet joins AirTalk to talk about the inspiration for "Phil Spector," why he chose to depict Spector's personal side in such a way, and the relationship between Spector and his lawyer that drives the movie.	David Mamet	17:00
3/22/13	POLI	Alex and A preview next week's arguments with two professors of constitutional law who both have stakes in the cases.	Courtney Joslin	11:24
3/22/13	RACE	This Saturday, these images are getting tossed out of the rickshaw they rode in on: the first summit on Asian-American stereotypes takes place at the Japanese American National Museum in LA.	Jeff Yang	10:39
3/22/13	POLI	We'll talk about the week that was with our regular political roundtables. On tap this week, the Nancy Cook with the National Journal and James Rainey from the Los Angeles Times.	Nancy Cook and James Rainey	14:53
3/22/13	ART	Fifteen years ago, "The Big Lebowski" became an obsession for many, sparking hundreds of Halloween costumes, fan movies and something known as the Lebowski Fest. KPCC's Kevin Ferguson reports.	Kevin Ferguson	6:01
3/22/13	POLI	KPCC's Patt Morrison sat down with Mayor Villaraigosa to talk about what surprised him about his time in office and what he hopes to see in the next mayor.	Patt Morrison, and Antonio Villaraigosa	11:06
3/22/13	SCI	It's been quite a week for space news. Bruce Betts from the Planetary Society joins Take Two with the latest on Voyager, Curiosity and the age of the universe.	Bruce Betts	8:04
3/22/13	ART	Every week we get your weekend conversation starters with Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam, the hosts of the Dinner Party radio show.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam	6:58
3/22/13	LAW	Today, it's one of San Francisco's biggest tourist destinations, attracting more than a million visitors a year. Here to tell us a little more about the history of Alcatraz is John Martino, a former park ranger at Alcatraz and the author of the book, "Fortress Alcatraz."	John Martino	8:11
3/22/13	SPOR	Passionate fans make LA Galaxy vs. Chivas USA matches in Major League Soccer (MLS) as intense as any matchup on the Southern California sports landscape. Compare the two MLS teams in Los Angeles, the only city in the league with two soccer teams.	Charles Castaldi	5:04
3/22/13	ART	You might remember that we had this pledge drive, you know where we ask for your support, you know to keep giving you things like that great story on the Lebowski Fest . Well, one of the prizes we were giving away was a brand Toyota Avalon. Yesterday, we gave a call to tell the winner the good news.	Robin White	-
3/22/2013	ART	Guest host Patt Morrison is joined by KPCC film critics Andy Klein, Lael Lowenstein and Charles Soloman to review Olympus Has Fallen, Admission, The Croods and Starbuck	Morrison	2:52

3/22/2013	ECON	California businesses will have new health coverage options under SHOP program	Bartolone	1:01
3/22/2013	DC	Congress longs for old ways of making laws	Felde	3:44
3/22/2013	SPOR	LA soccer rivalry	Castaldi	5:04
3/22/2013	LAB	Citizens Compensation Commission isn't likely to approve any pay raises this year	CC	:14
3/22/2013	ENER	California drafts new fracking standards	Detrow	:46
3/22/2013	TRAV	Flight attendants are angry about change in TSA policy	CC	:11
3/22/2013	LAW	Police estimate about two million dollars worth of cocaine hidden in big rig in Sylmar	CC	:14
3/22/2013	ENV	Wind advisory issued for LA County on Fridays	CC	:07
3/22/2013	TRAN	Coldwater Canyon closures start Saturday	Plummer	1:04
3/22/2013	TRAN	Coldwater Canyon closures start Saturday	CC	:09
3/22/2013	ENT	Lebowski Fest kicks off in Beverly Hills	Ferguson	4:10
3/22/2013	TRAN	Pilot shows complexity of skies above LA ahead of possible closures of air traffic control towers	Watt	3:10
3/22/2013	EDU	New state department of education book list includes first transgender themed book	Guzman	1:27
3/23/13	ART	Robert Garrova speaks with 97 year old architect Gordon Powers who is known for his bowling alleys.	Robert Garrova / Pat Williams / Gordon Powers	5:32
3/23/13	ART	Getty curator Stephanie Schrader, Korean Cultural Center curator Heeseon Choi and John Rabe explore the mystery of who the man in Peter Paul Ruben's "Man in Korean Costume" drawing from 1617 is.	John Rabe / Stephanie Schrader / Heeseon Choi	5:05
3/23/13	YOUT	After LA high school senior Jake Davidson asked model Kate Upton to prom, John Rabe asks 17-year old Gracie Roman to see what it would take.	John Rabe / Gracie Roman	3:26
3/23/13	ENT	'The Big Lebowski' become an obsession for thousands of people, and many of them are in L.A. for "Lebowski Fest." KPCC's Kevin Ferguson reports on the film's transformation from cult classic to L.A. institution.	Kevin Ferguson / Michelle Lanz / Todd McCarthy / Will Russell / Jeff Dowd / Scott Foundas	6:01
3/23/13	ART	LA Magazine's Chris Nichols hosted a Hollywood Heritage Museum event for the 82-year old Gurr who was an imagineer at Disneyland and worked there since before it opened.	Bob Gurr / John Rabe	4:57
3/23/13	ART	Kevin Ferguson speaks with opera composer Gabriela Ortiz about Camelia la Tejana, an opera that tells the story of a drug smuggler from Texas who shoots her male partner and takes off with the money.	Kevin Ferguson / Gabriela Ortiz	6:12
3/23/13	POLI	Off-Ramp contributor Jon Regardie explains the financial and political situation surrounding Downtown Los Angeles.	Jon Regardie	3:56
3/23/13	TRAV	Video about Desert Christ Park	John Rabe	0:00
3/24/2013	LAW	McDade family attorney comments on McDade one year shooting anniversary	CC	:17
3/25/13	LAW	The Supreme Court is having a busy week, with two hearings scheduled on cases concerning marriage equality and an announcement today that the court will take on a Michigan affirmative action case.	David Savage, Frank Newport,	18:00
3/25/13	SPOR	After a 20-point loss to lower-seeded Minnesota in the second round of the NCAA tournament on Friday, UCLA fired basketball head coach Ben Howland after ten years at the helm of the one-time college basketball superpower.	A. Martinez	6:00

3/25/13	EDU	If dual language immersion programs are so successful, why aren't more California schools adopting them? What are some of the challenges and drawbacks? What are the benefits?	Karen Cadiero-Kaplan, Roger Lowenstein, Karen Nemeth	22:00
3/25/13	ECON	Is there a Fresh and Easy in your neighborhood? Were you impressed with the stores, or turned off? Why do you shop where you shop? What are you looking for in your local grocer?	Jim Prevor,	23:00
3/25/13	ECON	Cyprus' banking crisis and subsequent bailout raises questions about how tax regulations in the European Union affect individual countries	Scheherazade Rehman, Ph.D.	7:00
3/25/13	LAW	Three parties are fighting for the $1.2 million reward for the capture of ex-LAPD officer Christopher Dorner, but some donors are withdrawing their pledges.	Eugene O'Donnell	17:00
3/25/13	ART	Photographer Ashley Gilbertson's work is among the photos in a new exhibition at the Annenberg Space for Photography, WAR/PHOTOGRAPHY. He joins the show to discuss his work.	Ashley Gilbertson	15:11
3/25/13	POLI	This week the U.S. Supreme Court hears oral arguments on the constitutionality of the federal Defense of Marriage Act, or DOMA, and Proposition 8. Reporter Scott Shafer is in Washington D.C. for two days of arguments and has this look at what's at stake for both sides.	Scott Shafer	-
3/25/13	POLI	Many GOP fund raisers believe this shift in views could mean an influx of cash in places like California, New York and Florida.	Tarini Parti	-
3/25/13	RACE	Picture a strong and positive Latino character in film or TV, and you might think of Edward James Olmos as math teacher Jaime Escalante in 1988's Stand and Deliver.	Miguel Picker and Chyng Sun	8:53
3/25/13	ENV	A National Park Service plan to better protect the Merced River calls for closing some commercial ventures in Yosemite National Park.	Molly Peterson	-
3/25/13	ECON	Nearly 6 million Americans in their 40s go to at least one movie a month, up from 3.3 million just two years ago.	Rebecca Keegan	-
3/25/13	POLI	Many thought this race was Greuel's to lose. Now, it's turning into a close contest.	Frank Stoltze	-
3/25/13	OBIT	The godfather of bodybuilding, Joe Weider, passed away over the weekend at Cedars Sinai, he was 93. He started the popular magazines like Muscle and Fitness, Flex, Men's Fitness or Shape and brought weight lifting to the masses.	John Balik	-
3/25/13	TECH	For years, parents have heard the warnings to not let their children zone out in front of the TV for too long; the American Academy of Pediatrics warns against any TV time for children under 2.	Hanna Rosin	8:08
3/25/13	YOUT	At an elementary school in Baldwin Park, children receiving a bilingual education appear to be vaulting over the achievement gap.	Deepa Fernandes	5:53
3/25/2013	LGB	SCOTUS hears arguments on California's Prop 8	CC	:19
3/25/2013	SPOR	LA Galaxy and Kings visit DC	CC	:15
3/25/2013	HEAL	California goes before a federal judge again this week on prison mental health care	Jahad	:42
3/25/2013	ENV	Hikers say warnings needed after Eaton Canyon death	Guzman	1:22
3/25/2013	SPOR	UCLA lost in the first round of NCAA tournament	Martinez	1:30
3/25/2013	SPOR	Florida Gulf Coast makes NCAA history	CC	:10
3/25/2013	SPOR	Howland out as UCLA basketball coach	CC	:15
3/25/2013	TRAN	Coldwater Canyon closes	Moore	1:22
3/25/2013	TRAN	Daytime Coldwater Canyon closure underway in Studio City	CC	:10
3/25/2013	TRAN	Motorists brave Coldwater Canyon Ave shutdown on first weekday closure	Moore	1:37
3/25/2013	ECON	AT&T West workers and company back at negotiating table	Lee	:40

3/25/2013	IMM	Poll finds bi-partisan support amongst California voters for immigration reform	CC	:13
3/25/2013	EDU	New Jersey is taking over Camden's school system	CC	:09
3/25/2013	LAW	Donors to the Dorner reward fund reconsider their commitment	CC	:25
3/25/2013	LAW	Tickets to sit in this week's Supreme Court hearings on gay marriage have reached a high price	CC	:22
3/25/2013	EDU	Poll shows many California voters don't want to tax themselves to fund education	CC	:20
3/25/2013	POLI	Clinton endorses Greuel	Stoltze	1:32
3/25/2013	SPOR	Former UCLA basketball coach Howland will continue coaching elsewhere	CC	:16
3/25/2013	LAW	Police evacuate Santa Monica city bus after device left over from training exercise left on bus	CC	:21
3/25/2013	LAW	Supreme Court hearings on gay marriage start tomorrow and some people are braving freezing weather to be there	CC	:10
3/25/2013	POLI	Clinton endorses Greuel	CC	:14
3/25/2013	ECON	Watchdog group calls for big changes in California's park system	Quinton	:52
3/25/2013	ECON	Watchdog group calls for big changes in California's park system	CC	:16
3/25/2013	EDU	State budget cuts have led to decreased enrollment at community colleges	Quinton	:47
3/25/2013	LAW	Airport developer charged with conspiracy and perjury	CC	:18
3/25/2013	ECON	The animation studio has been struggling, with a big holiday flop and layoffs. But things may be turning around...	DeBord	1:13
3/25/2013	LAW	LA has dished out $375 in reward money to those who've helped solve crimes since January 2012	Palta	1:02
3/25/2013	LAW	Car crashes into Glendale bakery, killing 55-year old man	CC	:18
3/26/13	LAW	During the first hour of our program, we'll broadcast the recorded audio of oral arguments heard earlier today at the Supreme Court. After that, our team of experts will discuss and analyze what was said at the hearing.	Kitty Felde, Jody Armour, Lisa McElroy, Greg Stohr, John Eastman, Tara Borelli	33:00:00
3/26/13	POLI	This morning the U.S. Supreme Court heard arguments on whether lesbians and gays have the right to marry here in California. In just a few moments, we'll retrace the history of Proposition 8, from the moment it became a ballot measure in 2008.	Scott Shafer	5:44
3/26/13	ECON	Monthly rents have already been hiked by $100 for some families and housing vouchers have been denied to 300 families. That's especially worrisome for the city with the largest homeless population in the country.	Doug Guthrie	6:00
3/26/13	HEAL	California will ask a judge to end federal oversight of mental health care in state prisons. But the state's case is complicated by a stubbornly high inmate suicide rate.	Julie Small	4:19
3/26/13	ART	Every Tuesday record companies usually release new albums, so that's the day Take Two reviews new music. On tap this week, we'll talk to the Los Angeles area duo the Milk Carton Kids.	Kenneth Pattengale and Joey Ryan	13:45
3/26/13	HEAL	The president of the California Hospital Association recently described trying to revamp the state's health care system to implement president Obama's Affordable Care Act as, "Flying an airplane while rebuilding the engine at the same time."	Peter Lee	12:18
3/26/13	SCI	The Van Allen Belts are a pair of rings, circling the earth, made up of charged particles. Named for astronomer James Van Allen, these cosmic doughnuts were discovered early in the space age - back in the late 1950's, when Van Allen and his team identified two distinct zones of radiation.	Veronique Greenwood	6:05

3/26/13	EDU	Last night, the Long Beach school board voted to push the start times at the district's five middle schools back an hour starting in the fall. The district is considering a similar plan at area high schools.	Stephen Ceasar	5:27
3/26/13	ENV	Thanks to warming ocean temperatures scientists believe that fish may have trouble growing large and the world may end up with more small fish in the water. We'll talk about it with marine biologist Pat Krug.	Pat Krug	3:33
3/26/13	ART	Take Two speaks with Dominic Priore, who hopes to convince the Hollywood's Historic Preservation Commission to preserve the building and turn it into a museum.	Dominic Priore	7:14
3/26/2013	ECON	Lacter on decline of TV	Lacter	2:58
3/26/2013	DC	SCOTUS hears arguments on California's Prop 8	Felde	4:12
3/26/2013	HEAL	CDC TB researchers leave LA, LA County health still watching for new cases	Fox	:52
3/26/2013	EDU	USC Village project development deal signed	Fox	:50
3/27/13	LAW	The Supreme Court heard arguments today in the case of United States v. Windsor, which will determine whether the Defense of Marriage Act is unconstitutional. DOMA currently restricts more than 1000 federal marriage benefits to opposite sex couples, including many for veterans.	Greg Stohr, John Eastman, David Cruz	28:00:00
3/27/13	TRAV	What should California do in response to this report? What are the best options for state parks? What other agencies, entities, and grassroots groups could do a better job? What could happen to 1.5 million acres of parkland if poor choices are made at this apparently critical time?	Stuart Drown, Craig Middleton, Carolyn Schoff	17:00
3/27/13	LAW	The Supreme Court doesn't usually release audio recordings and transcripts of hearings on the day they occur, but the court is making an exception for this week's landmark marriage equality cases.	Lawrence Rosenthal	15:00
3/27/13	EDU	The Long Beach school board has voted to start classes an hour later for middle schoolers. If the change is adopted, that dreaded morning bell would ring at 8.50 in the morning, later than the current 7.40am start time. The school board says it will help save money. Many experts say adolescent minds will learn better with the extra sleep.	Kyla Wahlstrom	16:00
3/27/13	ART	Sara Horowitz, the executive director of the Freelancer's Union, offers tips on how independent contractors should navigate the world of freelancing in "The Freelancers Bible."	Sara Horowitz	17:00
3/27/13	POLI	When it comes to Prop 8, one major issue for the Supreme Court is the question of whether the parties defending the ban on same-sex marriage have legal standing to do so? The question came up because not one single elected official in California chose to defend the initiative.	John Myers	6:51
3/27/13	POLI	Yesterday the Supreme Court heard arguments on Prop 8, and today, the high court will shift its attention to gay rights. The Defense of Marriage Act, or DOMA, is on the docket today. Kyle Cheney, healthcare reporter for POLITICO, says DOMA is all about health insurance.	Kyle Cheney	6:41
3/27/13	ECON	Weddings are one of the most stressful and expensive events you can plan, so what happens if couple's have to call off their wedding?	Lauren Byrne	7:14
3/27/13	LGB	Since about the 1970s, from Archie Bunker to "Modern Family," American television has grappled with homosexuality and same-sex marriage. Alex Cohen talks with The Washington Post's Krissah Thompson about that history and how television has both challenged and reflected the country's views on the issue.	Krissah Thompson	8:10
3/27/13	ECON	The L.A. Dodgers open the 2013 season against the Giants this coming Monday at Dodger Stadium. The Dodgers' ownership spent the off-season giving the stadium a $100-million makeover. KPCC's Brian Watt says it's all part of a strategy to cultivate fan loyalty.	Brian Watt	3:19

3/27/13	SPOR	It's time to get a get a little exercise and take a run through the world of sports with Andy and Brian Kamenetzky. They've covered the Los Angeles sports scene for over a decade for the Times and ESPN.	Andy and Brian Kamenetzky	9:48
3/27/13	LAW	Illegal immigration at the US/Mexico border is at its lowest level in 40 years, but drug smuggling continues to be a problem. A new report shows that most of the people being caught aren't immigrants, they're U.S. citizens.	Andrew Becker	8:26
3/27/13	RELI	Cardinal Roger Mahony promised the Catholic Church would stay at their side in the immigration fight until the end. Archbishop Jose Gomez is working to keep that promise to the faithful.	Charles Castaldi	2:37
3/27/13	HEAL	Scientists at the Mind Research Network in Albuquerque, New Mexico, recently led a new study on the brain and how it controls impulse and decision-making. We'll speak to neuroscientist Kent Kiehl.	Kent Kiehl	6:51
3/27/13	SCI	It's been a dry winter the last couple months here in California. Great for garden parties, but not so great for the Sierra snow pack. According to scientists' preliminary surveys, the snow pack is about half of normal for this time of year.	Frank Gehrke	5:55
3/27/13	TECH	Why do some things get passed around and around and around? We speak to Jonah Berger, an Assistant Professor of Marketing at the University of Pennsylvania and author of the new book "Contagious, Why Things Catch On."	Jonah Berger	6:39
3/27/13	SPOR	The talk of the NCAA Basketball Tournament has to be the improbable fortune of Florida Gulf Coast University. Their fame has even created a trickle down effect to FGCU student Adebola Adigun, known by the rap handle Black Magic. He, along with fellow FGCU students created the Dunk City rap video, which has become a viral hit in its own right. We'll speak to him about campus life, and how he came up with his video.	Malik Adigun	4:05
3/27/13	TECH	During yesterday's Supreme Court hearing on gay marriage, maybe you noticed that many people changed their online profile pics to a red and pink equals sign.	Marcia Stepanek	5:53
3/27/2013	POLI	Former CIA director apologized for his affair	CC	:15
3/27/2013	LAW	SCOTUS hears arguments on DOMA	Felde	1:56
3/27/2013	POLI	Final count forces Gil Cedillo into a runoff in Council District 1	McNary	:51
3/27/2013	LAW	The US Supreme Cout discusses the Defense of Marriage Act	CC	:26
3/27/2013	ENV	Sierra snowpack about half of normal for this time of year	CC	:08
3/27/2013	SPOR	The Miami Heat are closing in on the Lakers consecutive win record	CC	:12
3/27/2013	LAW	10-year-old missing girl found	CC	:17
3/27/2013	OC	The South Coast AQMD is holding a public meeting to discuss fire rings	Bergman	:54
3/27/2013	EDU	Cal State Long Beach president says he's leaving to become the system president of LSU	CC	:15
3/27/2013	TRAN	Pulse of Ports forecasters say port volumes should rise in 2013 as economy grows slowly	Watt	:52
3/27/2013	LAW	LAPD found missing 10-year-old girl	CC	:13
3/27/2013	POLI	Streetscape issues in CD1 runoff	McNary	2:14
3/27/2013	LAW	10-year-old missing girl found	CC	:10
3/27/2013	LAW	LASD toy gun lawsuit ends with mistrial on malice question	Aguilar	:43
3/27/2013	POLI	Los Angeles City Council members look at what to do with the Convention Center if an NFL team does not move to the city	Walton	1:01
3/27/2013	HEAL	California announces pilot program to improve health care quality and coordination for those dually eligible for Medi-Cal and Medicare	O'Neill	:53
3/28/13	RELI	A federal appeals court ruled on Tuesday that it was not unconstitutional for the Lancaster City Council to open its meeting with prayer.	Roger Jon Diamond, Mathew Staver	23:00

3/28/13	TRAN	California's high speed rail project has faced opposition from several constituencies throughout the state, but its toughest criticism yet comes from longtime proponents of the project who say that too many political compromises are undermining legal safeguards, among other complaints.	Ralph Vartabedian, Dan Richard	14:00
3/28/13	ECON	Dog owners today spend an average of $655 dollars a year on health care for their pets, up 50 percent from a decade ago, and health care costs for cats are up nearly 75 percent. Why are owners willing to spend so much on their pets?	James A Serpell	10:00
3/28/13	FOR	How real are North Korea's threats? What exactly is North Korea's military capability?	Jim Walsh, Ph.D.	14:00
3/28/13	TECH	Are we just less polite or thoughtful when it comes to dealing with businesses? If restaurants adopted this more widely, would it prevent people from "no-showing?" Read the tweets and share your opinion in our poll.		18:00
3/28/13	DIV	Are these views concerning sex rooted in history, culture, and religion? Do you think there's the potential of change? And how does the Arab world's view of sex compare with the Western world?	Shereen El Feki,	15:00
3/28/13	TECH	No, it's not the flat, bottom-dwelling sea creature you take efforts to avoid when you're wading along in the ocean. This breed of StingRay is an elaborate surveillance system that simulates a cell phone tower and is used to locate and track individual cell phones.	Ellen Nakashima	8:26
3/28/13	TRAN	This week, the International Monetary Fund is calling for countries around the world to halt their energy subsidies to encourage people to consume less energy. Critics reason that subsidy cuts would increase the cost of living for nearly everyone on the planet by raising fuel costs, and in turn transport and food prices.	Amy Myers Jaffe	10:00
3/28/13	ECON	For San Antonio, Texas, "Semana Santa" (Holy Week) is one of the biggest weeks for retail sales. A strong peso is raising hopes of strong sales among some retailers in border states.	Joey Palacios	2:59
3/28/13	ECON	Why is the peso doing so well? To find out, we've reached Marcela Meirelles, head of Latin American research at the LA-based investment firm, TCW.	Marcela Meirelles	5:30
3/28/13	TECH	California airports are competing for a federal contract to test out drones for civilian use. The untapped civilian market is estimated to be worth billions.	John Rose	10:19
3/28/13	SCI	The wholesale price of these poultry pieces soared 76 percent on average last year. That rapid growth is due in part to the actual growth of chickens, they're becoming much bigger. But larger chickens aren't necessarily a good thing for restaurants that serve chicken wings.	Mike Hughlett	5:31
3/28/13	POLI	Until now, it appeared labor unions preferred LA City Controller Wendy Greuel over City Councilman Eric Garcetti in the race for mayor. That has now changed.	Frank Stoltze	4:50
3/28/13	POLI	It's Take Two's ticket to all the latest political news coming out of downtown Los Angeles with KPCC's political team of Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton.	Frank Stoltze and Alice Walton	10:04
3/28/13	ART	On tap this week: Why you're not allowed to say "ungoogleable" in Sweden, the elimination of entrees in restaurants, and this week back in 1989 two scientists claim to have discovered cold fusion.	Rico Gagliano and Brendan Newnam,	6:03
3/28/13	ART	Millions of people live in the city, occupying diverse neighborhoods like Little Tokyo, Echo Park and Glassell Park. But how much of the city do you really know? In Take Two's new series, Neighborhoods, reporter Tess Vigeland takes us to Leimert Park.	Tess Vigeland	5:51

3/28/13	HEAL	A "tobacco surcharge" in the Affordable Care Act could lead to higher health premiums for smokers. But a bill in the California assembly would block higher rates in the state.	Stephanie O'Neill	2:40
3/28/13	MIL	Vets returning from Iraq and Afghanistan face a 10 percent unemployment rate when they come home. But Take Two looks at one path to giving them a job: encouraging them to become farmers.	D'Artagnan Scorza	8:22
3/28/2013	LAW	Gov Brown wants to end federal oversight of state prisons, not looking likely	Small	1:28
3/28/2013	POLI	Environmentalists worry about Gov Brown's new tunnel plan	Sommer	1:40
3/28/2013	SPOR	NCAA tournament comes back to LA	Moore	1:00
3/28/2013	LAW	LAPD search for kidnap suspects	CC	:14
3/28/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidates receive major endorsements from Magic Johnson and Councilwoman Jan Perry	CC	:20
3/28/2013	TT	Announcement of LA city commission to balance budget	CC	:19
3/28/2013	SCI	Drones may soon be applied to commercial uses	CC	:25
3/28/2013	OC	A longtime Lake Forest city councilman and former mayor has pleaded "no contest" to DUI charges	Bergman	:34
3/28/2013	OBIT	Don Payne, writer and producer, died	CC	:16
3/28/2013	LAW	LAPD search for kidnap suspects	CC	:18
3/28/2013	LAW	Auditor's report says CA Transportation workers falsified data on 11 different projects	CC	:11
3/28/2013	ECON	State lawmaker wants to eliminate sales tax on college textbooks	CC	:08
3/28/2013	SAC	Audit says lax management at CalTrans allowed technician to falsify safety data	Small	:59
3/28/2013	POLI	Mayoral candidates receive major endorsements from Magic Johnson and Councilwoman Jan Perry	Walton	2:24
3/28/2013	LAW	Northridge girl gives info on suspects	Aguilar	1:11
3/28/2013	EDU	An LAUSD cafeteria worker tries his hand at acting in a new play about healthy schools	Plummer	1:05
3/28/2013	POLI	Why labor is divided in LA Mayor's race	Stoltze	4:49
3/28/2013	ECON	Former Secretary of Commerce formed a panel to examine LA finances	Stoltze	3:03
3/28/2013	EDU	National test watchdog group says 37 documented cheating cases in last 4 years	Guzman	:48
3/29/13	HOUS	The Los Angeles city Planning Commission yesterday approved two 55-story high-rises in Hollywood. These new skyscrapers, which occupies one million square feet for apartments, offices, and retailers, would be next to the Capitol Records building.	Tom LaBonge, Dana Perlman	13:00
3/29/13	MEDI	NPR has decided to cancel "Talk of the Nation," a 21-year-old call-in show produced by Boston affiliate WBUR. Starting July 1, "Talk of the Nation" will be replaced by "Here and Now," which falls into the increasingly popular "news magazine" style.	Gabriel Kahn	19:00
3/29/13	FOR	How will Peña Nieto's strategy differ from his predecessor, and why should we believe that it will cut down on death and corruption?	Shannon O'Neil	12:00
3/29/13	SPOR	Major League Baseball's season kicks off Sunday night, with the two Texas teams going at it, but the rivalry most worth watching in 2013 could just be the one in our own backyards between the Dodgers and Angels.	Ned Colletti	4:00
3/29/13	ENT	Larry is joined by KPCC film critics Wade Major and Henry Sheehan to review this week's releases, including A Place Beyond The Pines, The Host, Blancanieves, and more. TGI-FilmWeek!	Wade Major, Henry Sheehan	31:00:00
3/29/13	ENT	Who was Dennis Hopper? The better question may be what wasn't he? This actor, filmmaker, art collector and photographer lives on as an off-beat icon in entertainment history, and biographer Tom Folsom couldn't resist the roller coaster of Hopper's life.	Tom Folsom	17:00

3/29/13	IMM	From the use of a racial slur to a trip to the border to appearances by the President on Spanish language tv, it's been an interesting week in immigration issues. For more we're joined by Fawn Johnson, who covers immigration for the National Journal.	Fawn Johnson	10:22
3/29/13	SCI	On Tuesday, President Obama signed into a law the spending bill Congress had approved last Friday, but his swipe of the pen sparked protests outside the White House.	Bill Lambrecht	6:14
3/29/13	POLI	We'll talk about the week that was with our regular political roundtables. On tap this week, the Heidi Moore with The Guardian and James Rainey from the Los Angeles Times.	Heidi Moore and James Rainey	12:58
3/29/13	EDU	The L.A. County Sheriff's Department marked a milestone Thursday, the first time the facility has had enough participants in educational programs to stage a graduation ceremony.	Rina Palta	3:01
3/29/13	ART	The Place Beyond the Pines, stars Ryan Gosling as Luke, a wandering soul who makes his living performing motorcycle tricks at a traveling carnival. How Gosling's character chooses to take care of a newly discovered family and how those choices affect the lives of others is the basis of the film. We'll speak to Derek Cianfrance who is the writer and director.	Derek Cianfrance	12:53
3/29/13	LAW	Charles Manson and several of his followers were found guilty in the murder of seven people more than four decades ago, but now there could be some new information in the case.	Richard Winton	6:18
3/29/13	-	Five hikers have died in the rural canyon in the past two years. Official warnings haven't kept people from taking a dangerous path to a second waterfall.	Molly Peterson	3:56
3/29/13	LIT	In Las Vegas, plenty of people are trying to get on one list or another, at clubs, bars, restaurants and the like. But one list that no one wants to be on is the so-called "Black Book."	John Glionna	8:29
3/29/13	ART	If you are looking some other ways to celebrate with a little southern California flair, oh, have we got suggestions for you!	Charles Phoenix	5:50
3/29/13	TRAN	Roman Mars and Eric Molinsky of 99% Invisible tell the real story about what happened to LA's Red Car system.	Roman Mars and Eric Molinsky	12:16
3/29/13	ART	California craft distillers are pushing to change a Prohibition-era law that restricts them from having paid tasting rooms and selling bottles of their product on site. Wineries and breweries have had that right for decades.	Meghan McCarty	4:32
3/29/2013	ENV	Renewed calls for safety after hiker falls to her death	Peterson	3:56
3/29/2013	LAW	Jail-based incarceration program reaches milestone in LA County	Palta	3:01
3/29/2013	OBIT	Actor Richard Griffiths has died	CC	:08
3/30/13	OBIT	Williams was the author of dozens of books and founder of Crawdaddy! -- a vanguard rock music magazine that predated Rolling Stone by nearly 2 years. Kevin Ferguson talks with L.A. Record's Chris Ziegler about Williams' life and work.	Kevin Ferguson / Chris Ziegler	4:24
3/30/13	LGB	28-year old Jorge Gutierrez is 28, lives in LA, and is an activist with United We Dream. He says it was easier to come out as gay to his family than to come out as undocumented to his school. He attended anti-Prop 8 rallies in Washington DC when the Supreme Court took up the case.	Frank Stoltze / Jorge Gutierrez	3:30
3/30/13	MEDI	An audio essay from Dylan Brody: It's easy to let ourselves turn into angry passengers, helpless in a world of air currents and weather patterns, moving sidewalks and unmoving doors. But with just a little bit of conscious effort, we can smile, laugh at the delays, and make sure that through the vagaries of the voyage we remain, all of us, good traveling companions.	Dylan Brody	3:13

3/30/13	ART	John Rabe talks with Val Kilmer about his new play 'Citizen Twain.'	John Rabe / Val Kilmer	7:53
3/30/13	SPOR	The L.A. Dodgers open the 2013 season against the Giants this coming Monday at Dodger Stadium. The Dodgers' ownership spent the off-season giving the stadium a $100-million makeover. KPCC's Brian Watt says it's all part of a strategy to cultivate fan loyalty.	Brian Watt / Stan Kasten / Janet Marie Smith	3:19
3/30/13	ART	Alex Cohen interviews Kenneth Pattengale and Joey Ryan of the band Milk Carton Kids about their new album, playing music in Los Angeles and their influences.	Alex Cohen / Kenneth Pattengale / Joey Ryan	13:45
3/30/13	ENT	John Rabe interviews Peter Rowe about the financial disaster that was Valitar. Valitar was a horse show in San Diego that recently shut down, without paying many of its employees and contractors what they are owed.	John Rabe / Peter Rowe	8:53
3/30/13	HIST	Kevin Ferguson explains President Reagan's admiration for Walt Disney and his accomplishments. Reagan even mentioned Disney in his speeches. Kevin talks with John Highbush of the Reagan Library and Steven Clark, President of the Disney Fan Club.	Kevin Ferguson / John Highbush / Steven Clark	5:50
3/31/2013	POLI	Candidates for various LA city offices will participate in a forum on public transportation and the environment	Walton	:33
3/31/2013	LAW	Debate over plastic bag ban returns to Sacramento	CC	:10
3/31/2013	LAW	Debate over plastic bag ban returns to Sacramento	Adler	:53