October 20 — The Charge Toward Manhood - Knowing what to do and doing what you know are two different things. Rick Phillips, Dennis Rainey, Dan Allender, Tim Kimmel, and Robert Lewis each give a charge to see and pursue God's best as a godly man.

November 4/5 — Spiritual Liberation for Prisoners - Dennis Rainey gives a message at a local prison, and some of the gentlemen in that prison catch a vision to be the spiritual leaders of their families even while being incarcerated. Also, hear from Pete Leonard, a coffee roaster, who wants to bestow dignity and worth to former prisoners.

November 29 — How to Make, Disturb, and Keep the Peace - Sometimes the way to peace is through conflict. Christian counselor Lou Priolo encourages listeners not to shy away from conflict, but to face it head on, knowing that's the only way we can finally gain resolution and peace.

November 30 — Prerequisites for Resolving Conflict - A proud person always sees the speck in another's eye while never seeing his own sin, but that dynamic only intensifies conflict. Biblical counselor Lou Priolo opens the Scriptures to Ephesians 4 to understand the benefits of humility and gentleness when resolving conflict.

December 20 — Serving the Hurting - Missionary Katie Davis Majors, author of the book, "Daring to Hope," talks about the lives of the people she's served while in Uganda.

December 21 — Learning How to Love - Don and Sally Meredith, cofounders of FamilyLife, join their good friends Dennis and Barbara Rainey to reminisce about the good ol' days.
