Host: Jen Myers – Guest: Jenn and Mark Hinkle, founders of the Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation  Host Jen Myers interviewed Jenn and Mark Hinkle about the Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation. The Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation was built on the LOVE Mark and Jenn Hinkle were shown when their son Ollie passed away from Congenital Heart Defect (CHD) at age one. Soon family and friends came from near and far and wrapped their family in love. Then acquaintances. Then complete strangers. And the circle of love surrounding them grew and grew. Through the love they received, they found peace, hope, and STRENGTH to keep going. And six years later, that circle of love continues to grow as they spread love to others through the Foundation. The Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation is dedicated to strengthening heart families and fighting against CHD through LOVE, awareness, education, and the advancement of CHD diagnosis and treatments. They do so by supporting heart families, providing education and funding leading pediatric heart research. To date, they’ve raised nearly $1.5 million to help fund our mission. They want people to join them in their fight against CHD, helping to bring hope and love to the one in 100 newborns diagnosed with a CHD each year, the leading U.S. birth defect. The Eat Drink Love fundraiser, formerly ‘I Heart Food &amp; Wine’, is back and will once again feature St. Louis’ most renowned chefs, wine distributors, craft breweries and more to benefit the Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation. New in 2019, Eat Drink Love will be held at the Four Seasons Hotel and expand its premium beverage selection to include specialty cocktails from leading local mixologists. Featuring food from more than 25 of St. Louis’ top restaurants and nearly 300 fine wines, award-winning local beers, and specialty cocktails, get ready to enjoy a delicious afternoon of eating and drinking for an important cause!

This year, more than 35,400 residents of Missouri will be diagnosed with cancer, and for some getting to treatments can be their biggest roadblock. A successful transportation assistance program can be a tremendous, potentially life-saving asset to the community. That’s why volunteering for the American Cancer Society’s Road To Recovery program is so important. Last year, the Road to Recovery program in the St. Louis Metro area provided more than 13,000 rides to residents. Their goal is to recruit 23 new Road to Recovery volunteer drivers in the St. Louis area to help patients get the lifesaving care they need. When cancer patients begin and end their treatments on time, and receive the follow-up care they need, it improves health outcomes. That is why it is so important they recruit more drivers to make sure all patients who need a ride to treatment have one. The American Cancer Society currently has nearly 10,000 Road To Recovery drivers nationally, but the need for drivers is greater than the number of volunteers. Volunteer drivers are needed to help give cancer patients a much-needed ride. The organization screens and trains all volunteer drivers, and coordinates the rides for patients. Volunteer drivers donate their time and can provide as many rides as they want. All drivers must have: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A current, valid driver’s license</li> <li>• A good driving record</li> <li>• Access to a safe and reliable vehicle</li> <li>• Regular desktop, laptop, or tablet computer access</li> <li>• Proof of car insurance</li> </ul> The American Cancer Society stands shoulder to shoulder with cancer patients and those supporting them, focused on improving patient access to quality care, including transportation. Host: Paul Cook Guest: Cindy Mince, CEO of Trailnet  Host Paul Cook interviewed Cindy Mince about Trailnet. Their aim is to get St. Louisans outside and walking, running or cycling. They host 2-3 huge events a year, but they are most known for their huge outdoor guide they put out each year detailing everything that's happening outside in our community. They believe fresh air and exercise are life sustaining gifts. She talked about crosswalks at stop lights for drivers to wait until the people are all the way to the other side before they start going. Their mission is to lead in fostering healthy, active, and vibrant communities where walking, bicycling, and the use of public transit are a way of life

Host: Paul cook Guest: Brad Kovak, Terrain Magazine  Host Paul Cook interviewed Brad Kovak about the Chouteau Greenway. They talked about where the Chouteau Greenway goes, you will be able to walk or hop on a Lime bike at the Arch and ride all the way to Forest Park in a safe way. They also talked about a Velodrome in North St. Louis County. The Velodrome has been going to be renovated through benefits made by fundraising. A citizen group known as the Metro St Louis Velodrome Association has announced that they have finally secured a commitment for the majority of funding necessary to repair the old bicycling velodrome track in Penrose Park near Kingshighway and Interstate 70. Bicycling velodromes are heavily banked tracks for bicycle races where speeds may exceed 50 miles per hour. The velodrome found in Penrose Park is one of only 27 bicycling velodromes in the United States found listed on the VelodromeShop.net website. Built in 1962, with a resurfacing occurring in the 1980s, and minor repairs in the track's rough surface helps it earn its nickname, "Mr. Bumpy Face."
