1/2/2023	7PM	PKG	TECHNOLOGY CONTINUES TO EVOLVE. BUT WHAT'S SUPPOSED TO BRING US TOGETHER - COULD CUT OFF THOSE MOST IN NEED OF A CONNECTION. FOX REPORTER CARL DEFFENBAUGH RECENTLY VISITED A HIGH SCHOOL CLASSROOM, WHERE STUDENTS ARE HELPING SENIORS - BREAK THE DIGITAL DIVIDE. I was just telling this girl about how we used to have to get off the couch and go up and turn the little black-and-white TV on and off. Rabbit ears? Umm, maybe during Easter time? I don't know. (laughs) I don't know. Katelyn Scannell and Mia Vetter are both juniors. But once a week, the students become the teachers. I don't have children or nieces or nephews. So everything I learn I have to go about getting information somewhere. They lead a technology class for seniors, partnering with the Aging and Disability Resource Center of Washington County. Cuz the high school students are way smarter than me when it comes to technology. (laughs) The goal is to open the doors to an a sometimes intimidating world. Every time I touched them in the past, they did something that they weren't supposed to do. There have been some bumps along the way getting this pilot program off the ground. Alright go to your messages app. And all of a sudden someone shouts out What's an app? 1.57 And so we both had to be taken back by it. Ohhh, we're that far behind. In many ways, it's like learning a new language. Cookies. Well I tell you what, I got some in my bag here. Like any good startup, the girls recalibrated on the fly – focusing on simple tasks like sending texts, emails, video calls. Even that most confounding of concepts... emojis. I had a person – we went through every single emoji, which took some time. That's a gif, they haven't gotten that far yet. He wanted to do the laughing-crying emoji. But he did the actual crying, sad emoji. So his daughter probably thought he had a bad experience. While the tone of the class is light, self-deprecating, the reason for it is no laughing matter. There's a movement right now focusing on social isolation and loneliness. Not only because of the pandemic, that's something that was going on before that. Studies show almost a quarter of U.S. adults aged 65 and up are socially isolated. And living like that significantly increases a person's risk of premature death – from all causes. There's a 50% increased risk of dementia. Around 30% for heart disease or stroke. If you just sit at home and get cobwebs built on you, what good is that? I want to learn some of these things. Leave it to this former teacher to be the model student. That third door over there says it. Never stop learning because life never stops teaching. (referencing sign in classroom) Some people always think technology is tearing us apart. But if you look at it, it's kind of bringing us together. While many of these students are in their autumn years, it's never too late to turn over a new leaf. Well, except for one topic. I've heard of TikTok but I know nothing about it. Umm, there's always a possibility but I don't know if it'll be during this session. (laughs) With photojournalist Tim Primeau, Carl Deffenbaugh, Fox News. ")

1/5/2023	7PM	PKG	YOU MIGHT THINK DEPRESSION AND SADNESS -- ARE BASICALLY THE SAME. BUT THAT'S NOT ALWAYS THE CASE -- WHEN IT COMES TO MEN. THEIR SIGNS OF DEPRESSION -- CAN COME OUT -- IN ALL SORTS OF DIFFERENT WAYS. ☐ When we think MEN WHO ARE DEPRESSED -- Dr. Suvrat Bhargave of the Center for Family Psychiatry in Tyrone, GEORGIA says -- we often ASSUME THEY WILL FEEL SAD. “But it turns out the number one symptom of depression in men is not sadness, it’s often irritability. So, being more easily irritated, frustrated, having big reactions to things. And men who are depressed understand that they are irritable. It’s not as though they don’t realize that their reactions are much bigger than they used to be.” The National Institute of Mental Health says other common signs of depression in men INCLUDE: Feeling anxious or restless. Loss of interest in work, family, hobbies.Problems with sexual desire and performance. Feeling sad, "empty," flat, or hopeless. Not being able to concentrate or remember details “It can affect their energy level on how much they can do things. Their focus can often be affected when they're depressed. Sleep patterns will change, and even their appetites will sometimes change. “And I think one of the messages that a lot of men need to hear is that it's okay to ask for help because there is a way for them to feel better. “ DR. Bhargave says treatment usually involves either medication, like antidepressants, or talk therapy, OR SOME COMBINATION OF THE TWO. “so all I'm asking men to do is to come in and start the discussion, talk to their primary care doctors, talk to a therapist, come in and see a psychiatrist. Whatever you're comfortable, whoever you're comfortable talking to. Just begin the discussion and trust that the expert will be able to tell you what's the best plan for you. “

AND HE MAY EVEN HAVE TO DO A PERP WALK IN FRONT OF THE CAMERAS BEFORE HIS ARRAIGNMENT, WHERE HE WOULD PRESUMABLY ENTER A NOT GUILTY PLEA.

THE CASE SURROUNDS AN ALLEGED HUSH MONEY PAYMENT DURING THE 2016 ELECTION MADE TO ADULT FILM STAR STORMY DANIELS, WHO CLAIMS SHE HAD AN AFFAIR WITH TRUMP.
REPUBLICANS HAVE LARGELY SAID THAT THE INVESTIGATION IS POLITICALLY MOTIVATED.
EVEN SOME OF TRUMP'S POTENTIAL RIVALS IN THE 20-24 RACE ARE COMING TO HIS DEFENSE.

DESANTIS says: "To go back many, many years ago to try to use something about porn star hush money payments... you know, that's an example of pursuing a political agenda."

THE D-A'S STAR WITNESS IN THE CASE IS TRUMP'S FORMER PERSONAL ATTORNEY MICHAEL COHEN, WHO CLAIMS HE MADE THE PAYMENT ON TRUMP'S BEHALF.

TODAY THE GRAND JURY HEARD FROM COHEN'S FORMER LEGAL ADVISOR ROBERT COSTELLO.

COSTELLO IS EXPECTED TO CAST DOUBT ON COHEN'S CREDIBILITY... AND WE'RE TOLD THAT HE JUST WRAPPED UP THAT TESTIMONY ABOUT AN HOUR AGO.

FOX'S KAILEY TRACY EXPLAINS WHY IT WAS SO IMPORTANT TO MAKE SURE IT SWAM OUT OF A CREEK- AND INTO THE OPEN WATER. About 30 biologists hopped into a canal in Clearwater Wednesday and formed a human chain all to help this guy right here. Brittany Baldrice, senior rescue biologist with the aquarium: "we wanted to create a physical barrier as well as an auditory barrier so we had somebody behind us that was banging on a boat revving their engine" Brittany Baldrice ... senior rescue biologist with the Clearwater Marine Aquarium ... says neighbors called about a dolphin swimming alone in the canal on January first. It had been there for at least 24 hours. Baldrice: "he was behaviorally ok at that point and then upon talking to other people within the residency they had said the animal may have been there for at least four days so we were just concerned separated from other animals" A team monitored the dolphin for about 18 days ... and he didn't leave the canal. Baldrice: "it was in a neighborhood so we were concerned for the potential of human interaction and harassment so just like with Izzy's story" NOAA and its partners rescued Izzy the dolphin in June from Texas after a few years of human interaction caused her health to decline. She now lives at the Aquarium. The staff says Izzy got hit by boats ... and relied so much on the public for food that she didn't know how to find her own food ... things they were concerned may happen to this dolphin. Baldrice: "we didn't want the animal once it did leave the canal to associate humans with something reinforcing whether that's being fed whether that's interacting with humans" NOAA made the decision to intervene. Biologists with NOAA ... the aquarium and FWC stood shoulder to shoulder ... and slowly moved closer to the dolphin ... encouraging it to swim under a bridge ... towards Tampa Bay. Baldrice: "we were splashing the water and moving forward" And then ... DESIREE FLUELLEN IS LOOKING INTO HOW WE'RE MAKING THAT HAPPEN. That's right you guys the goal is zero waste for Super Bowl 57 and this compost facility in South Phoenix is helping reach that goal. "Today were at the 27th Ave. compost facility." ITS A STATE OF THE ART FACILITY... THAT PROCESSES GREEN ORGANICS MATERIAL AND FOOD WASTE. "the compost, were able to produce from here, actually goes to places like our parks, we sell it as well to nurseries." THIS GIANT MACHINE — PROBABLY SOMETHING YOU'VE NEVER SEEN BEFORE — IS HELPING SORT FOOD WASTE MORE QUICKLY AND EFFICIENTLY. It's a new piece of equipment. It's actually the only one that we know of here in Arizona. "It's called a scotch machine. It allows us to take palletized material, post, consumer, pre-consumer food, waste package it, and turns it into compostable material." "This is where the process starts. The food waste is dumped here into the hopper, and then it runs up the belt into the machine. "It's got screens and shakers inside and paddles that will generate the food through the screens in separate the food waste going one way and the trash going the other." THE ARMS OF THE MACHINE ARE CALLED OGGERS. "The one to the left is where your finished material is, that's what's going into the compost." "that raw organic raw organic material is what we scoop and then we take directly to these piles." THE TRASH — LIKE PLASTIC WRAP OR FOIL — IS SORTED THROUGH THIS OGGER AND ENDS UP IN THE GREEN BIN. THE USE OF THIS NEW MACHINE COMES JUST IN TIME TO HELP CLEAN UP SUPER BOWL TRASH. "We are just very excited, because otherwise, this food would have just gone straight toward landfills."

Partnering with ASU - by offering scholarships - in mass communications.

Up for grabs to veterans, their spouses and dependents.

Here's University President Michael Crow - on the Fox / ASU connection.

"Fox is doing all sorts of things. We have the tech center that were doing with Fox. An opportunity to work together with students and veterans and technical things related to the media. And then Fox is scholarships for veterans are powerful. So we feel strongly supported by Fox 10 net work by the local entity. By everybody. It's a very powerful partnership."

The money also helps veterans- with mental health. Like a growing program - called Treks for Vets.

Small groups wandering through the wilderness - to discover nature. And maybe find themselves along the way.

Natalie's calls it - life changing.

"And you realize how much how much do you want to how much purpose you might have how much passion you might have left."

Now Natalie - is on her own trek. Hoping to head a nonprofit for veterans one day. And following in Pat Tillman's footsteps. Veteran. Student. Leader. And fully armed - to make the world a better place. Brian Webb, Fox 10 news.

3/13/2023 7PM PKG A 91 YEAR OLD VETERAN IS SPEAKING OUT TONIGHT -- AFTER POLICE IN MARANA, NEAR TUCSON -- SAY HE WAS ROBBED AT A GAS STATION LAST WEEK... FOX'S SHELBY SLAUGHTER EXPLAINS WHAT HAPPENED. Veteran robbed of $7,000 It happened right here at this Fry's gas station.
Floyd Barber tells me he was just trying to get gas before heading to the bank. And that's when he says a woman came up to him and stole $7,000. "I've lived 91 years, and nothing has ever happened like that to me."
Floyd Barber still is coming to terms with what happened. He remembers it vividly. Because he'd been saving up for a dental procedure for a year. Carrying $7,000 with him before heading to the bank to deposit it.
Before his life was derailed. Marana Police didn't have much to tell me. Other than this incident is still under investigation. But Barber tells me, it was a woman who came up and took all his savings. "I turned around and this woman came out of nowhere and started kissing me and hugging me. I didn't know her. And that's when she got my money." He thought stopping for some gas would be a safe bet. But looking back... He wishes he would have gone straight to the bank. "I was on my way to the bank to put the money in. I had the money at home, saving it. I should have just went to the bank instead of stopping to get gas." Today, he says he's thankful that he's safe. And while he wishes it wouldn't have happened. He says he has no choice to try and just move past it. "I'm a good person. It shouldn't have happened. I give money away even when I can't afford it. That shouldn't have happened to me." There is a GoFundMe set up for Floyd to try and raise some of that money back for him.
You can find the link to donate up on our website. Reporting in Marana, Shelby Slaughter fox 11 NEWS.

1/1/2023	Guest: Arizona Gov. Doug Ducey	Arizona Governor Doug Ducey sits down one-on-one with FOX 10's John Hook to talk about his impact on the Grand Canyon State, how elections have played out in recent years and what he looks forward to. He answers some of Arizonan's most burning questions about the election process in Arizona following two contentious election cycles in 2020 and 2022.
1/8/2023	Jeremy Corbell, a UFO expert	Do you believe we're being visited here on Earth? A Gallup poll says 4 in 10 Americans now think some UFOs that people have spotted were alien spacecraft visiting Earth from other planets or galaxies. This is up from a third saying so two years ago. FOX 10's John Hook talks to Jeremy Corbell, a UFO expert who has been doing a deep dive into this subject for over 20 years.
1/15/2023	Robert Glennon, Author of "Unquenchable" Kris Mayes, Attorney General	Newsmaker: How bad is Arizona's water crisis + meet our new AG, Kris Mayes In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we're sitting down with Robert Glennon, author of "Unquenchable," and described on the University of Arizona's website as "one of the nation's preeminent experts on water policy and law." We're also talking with Arizona's new Attorney General Kris Mayes. She goes over the highly contentious race against GOP's Abe Hamadeh, and wanting to fight for all Arizonans, not just those who voted for her. Mayes says combating the fentanyl crisis is top of mind, as well as our water issues.
1/22/2023	Dr. Colleen Fitzpatrick, Forensic Genetic Genealogist	Newsmaker: Solving crimes with forensic genealogy FOX 10's John Hook talks to Dr. Colleen Fitzpatrick, a pioneer in the discipline, who has solved murders. She's revealed identities of murder victims and unraveled countless mysteries.
1/29/2023	Akil Davis, Special Agent and Kevin Phelps, Glendale City Manager	Newsmaker: FBI's Special Agent in Charge & Glendale City Manager Kevin Phelps In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we're chatting with the FBI's Special Agent in Charge of the Phoenix Field Office, Akil Davis, who is an Arizona native and served in the Scottsdale Police Department. He says the biggest issue he's facing right now, like all other major cities, is a spike in violent crime. In the second segment of Newsmaker, we're talking with Glendale City Manager Kevin Phelps about the city's turnaround within the last decade and where Phelps sees it going as Super Bowl LVII makes its way to the home of the Arizona Cardinals, State Farm Stadium.
2/5/2023	Lisa Graham Keegan, Former AZ Superintendent of Public Instruction and Beth Lewis, Save Our Schools	Newsmaker: Arguments for and against school choice In this week's episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we're talking with Lisa Graham Keegan, former Arizona Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is in favor of vouchers to allow parents to choose where their children attend school, public or private. Beth Lewis from Save Our Schools is taking the side of public schools, saying vouchers take away from funding and hurt the most vulnerable populations.
