DATE	GUEST(S)	SHOW SYNOPSIS/TOPIC
7/2/2023	Wade Reeves, Bureau of Land Management and Jeff Huges	Wildfires & Artificial Intelligence Newsmaker In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we're talking wildfires and artificial intelligence. First, we chat with fire mitigation specialist Wade Reeves with the Bureau of Land Management. Then we head over to the more tech side with Jeff Huges. He talks about how kids interact with AI and how it can be harnessed in our society.
7/9/2023	Ann Atkinson, AZ State administrator and director of T.W.Lewis Center Todd Lee, Phx Real Estate Agent	Free speech & Phoenix's housing market Newsmaker In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we're touching, separately, on the topics of free speech and the difficult housing market in Phoenix. In the first segment, we talk with Ann Atkinson, an Arizona State administrator and director of the T.W. Lewis Center for Personal Development. She was criticized for inviting speakers who many on campus said were controversial. In the second segment, we chat with Todd Lee, a Phoenix real estate agent with Berkshire Hathaway. He talks about a home he found that's likely the cheapest, but livable, home in the city of Phoenix.
7/16/2023	Shawn Gilleland, Rural Metro Fire Central Arizona spokesperson Afghan Soldier Ahmand Majeed and his sister Daryaa	Wildfires and Afghan refugees Newsmaker In the first segment, Shawn Gilleland, Rural Metro Fire Central Arizona spokesperson, chats with FOX 10's John Hook about wildland fires in the summer heat. He also talks about how fires burning in urban areas are threats to homes that weren't there decades ago. In the second part of this episode, we hear from Afghan Soldier Ahmand Majeed and his sister Daryaa. She fought for her brother for months to be released from the custody of U.S. immigration authorities. They're now living in Arizona after fleeing from danger in Afghanistan.
7/23/2023	Dr. John Whyte & Holly Knight	Dr. John Whyte & Holly Knight Newsmaker We begin with the lessons learned from COVID-19. WebMD's Chief Medical Officer, Dr. John Whyte, talks to John Hook about people losing trust in public health institutions. Part 2: One of the post prolific songwriters of the 1980s, Holly Knight, talks to John about the process. The Songwriters Hall of Fame inductee penned dozens of hits for Pat Benatar, Tina Turner, Meatloaf, Patty Smyth, KISS, and more.
7/30/2023	Arizona State Senator Anthony Kern Krystal Ortiz, Fox 10 meteorologist	Free speech & Arizona's heat wave Newsmaker In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we catch up with Arizona State Senator Anthony Kern about a debate over Arizona State and the role of free speech after an event back in February sparked controversy due to the speakers being hosted. In the next segment, we talk with our own, meteorologist Krystal Ortiz, who dives deep into the heat wave Arizona is experiencing. She's an Arizona native, which gives her perspective on just how hot it gets here, for how long, and the trends she's seeing.

8/13/2023	Supt. of Public Instruction Tom Horne	Supt. of Public Instruction Tom Horne Newsmaker Arizona Superintendent of Public Instruction Tom Horne catches up with John Hook on this episode of Newsmaker Saturday, discussing matters of public education in the state. They talk about the controversy over school choice as the voucher program offering families thousands of dollars for private schooling, for example, is said by opponents to be taking away from public school funding.

8/20/2023	Arizona Democratic Rep. Ruben Gallego, and Tolleson Union High School District Superintendent Jeremy Calles	Rep. Gallego & Arizona education Newsmaker In this episode of John Hook's Newsmaker Saturday, we sit down with Arizona Democratic Rep. Ruben Gallego who is currently running for a U.S. Senate seat. We touch on various hot topics including the southern border, recent presidential and state elections, and more. In our second segment, we talk with Tolleson Union High School District Superintendent Jeremy Calles.
8/27/2023	Kathryn Sorensen, the Director of Research for Morrison Institute for Public Policy at Arizona State University and Jeff Masters, Meteorologist for Yale Climate Connections	Water policy & Maui fires Newsmaker In this week's episode of John Hook's Newsmaker, we chat with Kathryn Sorensen, the Director of Research for Morrison Institute for Public Policy at Arizona State University and Jeff Masters, Meteorologist for Yale Climate Connections. We're talking about Arizona's water shortage and storage, as well as the deadly and devastating fires in Maui.
9/3/2023	Arizona Rep. Raúl Grijalva, and Ed Desser	Arizona Rep. Raúl Grijalva on border security Newsmaker Arizona Rep. Raúl Grijalva chats with John Hook about the district he represents, District 7. All border towns fall in his district, so he gives us some perspective on what the U.S.-Mexico border battle is like. He says it's a "broken system" and the issue is the most complicated he's dealt with yet. Ed Desser on NCAA sports Newsmaker In this episode of Newsmaker Saturday, we talk with Ed Desser about Arizona State University and the University of Arizona becoming Big 12 schools. He gives his take on what he thinks it means for college sports as we know it.

3rd QTR. 2023 - CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING: AGES 13-16

Saturday @ 6AM	America's Heartland	A magazine-format show about American farming features stories of the hard-working men and women who produce food, fuel and fiber for the world, discussing the traditions of farming and ranching and the innovations that are making them better.
Saturday @ 6:30AM	Science Now	"Science Now" is a weekly half-hour series showcasing science stories in today's world. Each episode features topics from space exploration to plant biology to the latest in high technology advances. The series is aimed at young teenagers (13-16 years of age), seeking to enhance their scientific knowledge and encouraging them to seek further studies in scientific research.
Saturday @ 7AM	Xploration DIY Sci	Produced primarily for the 13-16 target audience, XPLOATION DIY Sci will inspire and educate audiences of all ages. Host, science educator, and leader in the field of professional educational training - Steve Spangler – encourages the discovery of scientific concepts through experiments viewers can do at home. With a fun, relaxed attitude, Steve will take viewers through step-by-step demonstrations of do-it-yourself experiments that amaze but which also relate back to solid principles of science. XPLOATION DIY Sci is a half-hour weekly E/I series produced with the intention of increasing and expanding our target audience' interest in the field of STEM education. This series will help kids understand how they can discover the principles of science with items they can find in their very own home.
Saturday @ 7:30AM from 7/1/23 to 8/19/23	Xploration: Sci Q	Sci Q is a fun, entertaining pop science series that tests the audience's knowledge of all things science. It engages viewers with surprising facts, quizzes and opinions of many science topics. We interview six experts to guide us through diverse subjects , including our planet, outer space, animals, and many more science related subjects. Our experts include a Neuroscientist, Environmental Engineer, Wildlife Educator, Professor of Astrophysics and a Wildlife Biologist. They will all be part of this educational program to educate and entertain our viewers. Produced primarily for the 13 to 16-year-old target audience, XPLOATION Sci Q will appeal to the entire family, and help increase and expand viewers' interest in the field of STEM education.
Saturday @ 7:30AM from 8/26/23 to 9/30/23	Xploration: Nature Knows Best	Host and marine biologist, Danni Washington, exudes energy as she relates how technology all around us was inspired by nature and how modern innovators are continuing with this practice. We will fly around in airplanes inspired by birds, whirl around in helicopters influenced by the dragonfly, and even jump from a few vehicles to illustrate how wingsuits were invented based on the flying squirrel! But engineers aren't the only scientists looking toward nature. We will also meet with biologists studying the behavior patterns of ants; architects who design "living buildings"; and roboticists who are making their designs bigger, stronger, and faster based on animals. This series will help kids to understand how getting outside and taking a look around can help them make the next great discovery! Xploration Nature Knows Best is a half-hour weekly E/I series produced with the intention of increasing and expanding our target audience' interest in the field of STEM education.
