CURIOSITY & CREATIVITY

KPBSHD Fri, 10/13/2023 05:29:59:29 00:26:46:00

Life is full of unseen challenges. It's how we respond that makes all the difference. George Kamper is a Miami-based lifestyle photographer who worked all over the world. When the pandemic hit, his curiosity and creativity helped his brand become even more well-known. Plus, volunteer Diana DeLano created a way to help neglected and abused horses, and it's not just the horses who are benefitting. A big part of Martha's life is traveling which, of course, went away during the pandemic. And, for more than 40 years, Rick Steves has helped millions explore Europe. He's also a bit of a philosopher. Unable to travel, he's hunkered down at his home in Seattle where we caught up with him and asked him to share some thoughts about life in general.

THE STORY OF SEEDS: FROM BREEDING TO EATING

KPBSHD Sun, 10/15/2023 11:00:00:00 00:26:46:00

Walk into the produce section of the grocery store and you'll see big, beautiful heads of broccoli. Grow it at home, and the plants make small stems that taste as good or better but are a fraction of the size. Bite into a homegrown tomato and you'll experience flavor and juiciness far superior to what you find in the store. What's going on here? Why are store bought and home grown fruits and vegetable so different? It starts with the seed. In this episode, we discover the world of vegetable seeds, starting with breeding. We learn about the four different target markets for vegetable breeders: commercial farmers, home growers, farmer's market farmers, and the growers who grow the seedlings that we buy in the nursery.

THE ART OF A GARDEN

KPBSHD Sun, 12/24/2023 11:00:00:00 00:26:46:00

There's no question that gardening is an art and some of the most interesting and inspiring gardens belong to artists. San Diego has no shortage of wonderful gardens made by artists. In this episode, we visit several local artists to tour their gardens and learn from their insight and vision. We talk with them about how they use space, how they use color, how they select plants, and how they incorporate objects, sculpture, and other art pieces into their gardens.

A SONG FOR CESAR

KPBSHD Mon, 10/09/2023 21:00:00:00 01:26:46:00

This is a documentary film that explores the life and work of Cesar Chavez, a civil rights activist and labor leader who used music as a tool to unite and inspire workers during the United Farm Workers' struggle for better labor conditions. The film sheds light on the challenges that Chavez and his followers faced, and how they managed to overcome them through solidarity and perseverance. The film also touches on the broader historical context in which the United Farm Workers' struggle took place, including the social and economic realities of farm workers in the mid-20th century United States, the role of political activism and organizing in the civil rights movement, and the power of music as a medium for political expression and social change. Directed by Andres Alegria and Abel Sanchez.

AMERICA AT A CROSSROADS WITH JUDY WOODRUFF

KPBSHD Tue, 12/19/2023 21:00:00:00 00:56:46:00

At a time of heightened partisanship, declining trust in institutions, increased political violence, and rapid social change, Judy Woodruff set out this year on a two-year reporting project, America at a Crossroads, to explore the forces driving Americans apart, and to ask people from all walks of life and all political persuasions what might be done to reverse these worrying trends. She crisscrossed the country, listening to researchers and writers, school board members and parents, activists, local leaders, even the President of the United States, discuss how they view challenges before us and what can be done to surmount them. She centered these stories on lived experience, historical context, and compassion, reporting on the phenomenon of negative partisanship - intense dislike from one party for the other; growing distrust of the judiciary, and the privileging of partisan politics over the rule of law; how school boards became the center of fights over social issues; ongoing concerns about domestic extremism and rising political violence; the difficulties of racial healing, and the progress that's been made; and how the disappearance of local news has contributed to the unraveling of civic connection. Now, to round out the first year of Crossroads, in an hour-long special we'll revisit some of our most compelling stories with a combination of writers, policymakers, big thinkers and regular people to explain what we've learned about America's divisions, what we're still grasping to better understand, and what might be done to move forward.

GREAT YELLOWSTONE THAW #101H

KPBSHD Sun, 12/31/2023 12:00:00:00 00:56:45:28

A Yellowstone winter is a brutal one. With temperatures that plunge down to minus 40 degrees Fahrenheit the wildlife has to find strategies to survive. Some animals leave, some hide and some tough it out. Grizzlies hunker down and hibernate, but this winter the temperatures have been erratic and some bears are emerging early. Finding food is a huge challenge, but our camera crews follow one male who's lucky enough to hit the jackpot and find a bison that's been released from its icy tomb down in the valley. But he has to hang onto it while the scavengers hassle him. Great Gray owls suffer as their prey hides under an icy layer of snow that proves almost impossible to break through. Will this lack of food affect their mating and ability to raise a family in the Spring? Cameraman Jeff Hogan is following them to find out. And top wolf biologist Doug Smith explains why he's concerned about the number one predator. With a winter that's had less snow than usual it's favored the prey and the wolves are starving hungry. Host Kirk Johnson who's the Sant Director of the National Museum of Natural History in Washington, visits this unique wilderness to unravel the story of this particular winter in Yellowstone.
