Nonpartisan bill drafting and the legal research	Report from Santa Fe	1/15/2024	9:30AM	0:26:54	Raul Burciaga, the Director of the Legislative Council Service of the New Mexico Legislature, discussing the upcoming 30-Day Legislative Session. As Director, he makes sure the LCS fulfills its primary responsibility as the nonpartisan bill drafting and the legal research agency of the NM Legislature. The director and the LCS are also responsible for the control, care, custody, and maintenance of the State Capitol. the grounds, and other legislative buildings. Burciaga celebrates the fact that the NM Capitol is open and accessible to New Mexicans as well as tourists who come to enjoy the only round state Capitol building in the USA. They also enjoy the $6 million art collection displayed beautifully in the Capitol. Director Burciaga is a member of other important New Mexico Commissions such as the NM Compilation Commission which oversees the compilation & publishing of NM Laws and the National Uniform Law Commission which recommends uniform laws for states to consider enacting.
Finances, taxing and spending, the budget in the State of New Mexico	Report from Santa Fe	2/12/2024	9:30AM	0:28:027	Senator Peter Wirth (D-District 25), Majority Floor Leader of the New Mexico Senate. Wirth, who lives in Santa Fe, served in the NM House of Representatives for 4 years from 2004-2008, and was elected to the Senate in 2008 where he has served as a senator for sixteen years. He became the majority floor leader of the Senate in 2017 and works hard to effect real collaboration between Democrats and Republicans, so they can “agree to disagree without being disagreeable.” The 30-Day Legislative Session is a main topic of discussion in this interview and the senator talks about what kind of bills are considered “germane” in the Short Session. Appropriate bills are those having to do with state finances, taxing and spending, the budget, as well as bills relating to issues that the Governor includes in her “Call” for the Session. Senator Wirth describes the bills he is introducing this session, among them public safety gun bills, an omnibus tax package, and water bills such as the Water Trust Fund and a bill to protect state waters.
Education and Paid Family Leave	Report from Santa Fe	1/30/2024	9:30AM	0:28:01	Senator Mimi Stewart, (D-Albuquerque), the President Pro Tem of the New Mexico State Senate, discussing the current Thirty-Day Legislative Session and what to expect. Topics include Education, paid family leave bill,

Preserving the Culture of New Mexico	KANW Special Program	1/27/2024	7AM to 2PM	30 second breaks	The Hispano Chamber of Commerce of Valencia County sponsors the Matanzas every year, giving scholarships to local students from the money earned at the event. Visitors came to the Matanzas for many reasons — all came for the delicious traditional food, many went to see old friends and maybe make new ones, while others came to watch the teams work together to process and cook the hogs. David Apodaca has been going to the Matanzas since the beginning, and says his favorite part is the music and meeting all the people. “They come from all over New Mexico, California, Texas, Arizona and they just have a blast here,” said Apodaca. “It’s like it’s like having a big ol’ party with people you don’t even know but everybody’s all friendly.” The 12 teams comprised of friends, family and co-workers competed for the prestigious Grand Champion, the People’s Choice and the Rookie of the Year. The best of awards included the best carne adovada, a specialty pork dish, chicharrones and the iron pig — where teams had to create dishes using ingredients from a mystery basket. Jeff Flores, of the Farmers Insurance team, said that processing the hog is his favorite part of the Matanzas. “Because we’re doing it traditionally; we wait for the people to show up (before processing the hog),” said Flores. Richard Signs said his favorite part of the Matanzas is, “just seeing everybody’s different techniques of preparing this and preparing that, it’s just kind of fun to watch them all.”
