Wolves Re-introduction

January 19,2024

Reporter: Gabe Gonzales

Duration: 2:30

GOOD LAUGH Jokes flow faster... GOOD LAUGH AND SHOT than bottomless coffee at the Moose Café in Kremmling. he calls it the sewing club I call it the bullshit table Every morning this group catches up...and serves up a heaping helping of four letter words. I just ain't using the fbomb as much But to them...there's one topic dirtier than the rest. they just didn't put the wolves where it was voted on Wolves...their new neighbors that moved in a month ago. we voted against it—I bet there isn't a vote here for it is there? While it's hard to keep things quiet in a small town... not much secrets here—even if you think there is Colorado Parks and Wildlife were hush hush when they chose Grand County to start the state's wolf reintroduction program. they don't tell us didn't know they were dumping it in radium that's for sure-it was top secret No one got a heads up...not the locals...or ranchers who make a living here. "I heard it from my neighbor via text message." Merrit Linke thought he'd hear about the wolf release before it happened...not just because his family has ranched in this county for generations... he's also a Grand County commissioner. "It felt, when they first did this, it felt like a slap in the face. In more than one way, because we weren't notified. "I don't know the words to describe it. It just seems improper to do that, and it builds that whole notion of lack of trust. You're an elected official, but we don't trust you to hold information." About three weeks after they released the wolves in the area... "We are putting pieces back together." CPW officials apologized in a meeting. "We're here for the whole darn public and that means the pro-wolf people and that means the ranchers, and that means everybody in between They also promised no more surprises. "I just want to make sure folks know there is more information coming." Nothing yet...so news will travel fast like it always has...through neighbors and friends. politics are kinda subversive aren't they? The old topics still dominate the breakfast table.sometimes we talk about our wives but since we're on tv we ain't gonna pull that And now wolf is just another four letter word that creeps into conversations. hard to think that something as simple as a reintroduction of an animal that used be here gets that complicated but it does

SPRING IS IN THE AIR -- LITERALLY! (Dr. Purvi Parikh, Allergist, Allergy & Asthma Network) "With global warming, climate change, we are seeing these longer pollen seasons that not only last longer but are stronger with that." DR. PURVI PARIKH WITH THE ALLERGY & ASTHMA NETWORK SAYS TREE POLLEN MAY LAST THROUGH APRIL OR MAY -- AND THEN GRASS POLLEN WILL START TO PEAK UNTIL JUNE -- THEN, THERE'S DUST AND MOLD WITH WHICH TO CONTEND -- (Dr. Purvi Parikh, Allergist, Allergy & Asthma Network) "What I tell all of my patients is start your medication early right at the start of the season." PARIKH SAYS PREPARING NOW -- BEFORE SYMPTOMS START -- CAN HELP CONTROL THEM -- IF YOU HAVE ASTHMA -- SHE SAYS TO AVOID ATTACKS BY GETTING ON PREVENTATIVE OR CONTROLLER MEDICINE EARLY. FOR ALLERGY SUFFERERS -- GET ON A REGIMEN OF NASAL SPRAYS AND ANTIHISTAMINES -- BUT GET ONES WITHOUT A DECONGESTANT -- (Dr. Purvi Parikh, Allergist, Allergy & Asthma Network) "So that means without the letter D in it because it's actually harmful to use that long term, like for allergies, but things like Zyrtec Claritin Allegra, those are all 24 hour antihistamines that actually work quite well." HELP AVOID GETTING STUFFY -- BY USING STEAM INHALATION OR NETI POTS TO OPEN UP THE SINUSES -- KEEP WINDOWS CLOSED -- ESPECIALLY IN THE EARLY MORNING AT PEAK POLLEN TIME -- AVOID GOING OUTDOORS AT PEAK TIMES AS WELL -- WHEN YOU COME HOME -- CHANGE YOUR CLOTHES -- TAKE A SHOWER SO THAT POLLEN DOESN'T GO TO BED WITH YOU. AND USE DUST MITE COVERS IN THE BEDROOM -- (Dr. Purvi Parikh, Allergist, Allergy & Asthma Network) "HEPA air purifiers work well, for mold and animal allergies. But, those air purifiers don't purify everything. That's why those covers are important." FOR HEALTH MINUTE, I'M MANDY GAITHER.

Welcome back to midday live we are joined by Jenna and this is lucky charm from boys hearts Humane Society. How are y'all Good? How are you? I'm doing good. You have a kind of a tight job here. Yeah, wrangling wants to run away like you. Tell us a little bit about him if you may notice from the cameras. He's a little big. He has a big boy. He's a big boy. I don't know exactly how many pounds he has. But if you're looking for a big cat, lucky charm is your guy. He is only two years old about maybe a little less than that. And he is looking for a new home, preferably one without dogs. But he he's laid before. Yeah, he's just not a fan of dogs. He's lived with kids. I don't know if he's lived with cats, but I believe he's alright with other cats. He just wants a home without canines in it. Yeah, that's normal. Yeah. That's pretty weird. You'll find him? Well, originally he's, he's come to racehorse twice. So the first time he was actually found by someone, he was at the top of a tree. So he likes to climb really high places. And then his adopter took him home and tried to make it work out. But he just he wasn't a fan of the Dog in the home. So now he's back. And he's looking for a home without a dog. Okay, so that's a hard, hard line. No dogs. Yeah, he's just not like dogs. Yeah. Well, that's good. I mean, he's, how long have you had him? He's been back. I want to say maybe a month or so. Okay. How much does he weigh? You know, I don't know exactly how much he weighs. But my guess is maybe like 15 pounds. Can we stand him up? Maybe? Yeah, he's he wants to thank boy areas. But I mean, he's, he has a really nice personality. Right now. He's a little bit nervous. But he's cuddly. He's friendly. And he's very soft. He's soft. He's very soft. Yeah. But like all animals that y'all bring here. They get shy at first. But you know, once they settle into their new environment, and new things like that, I'm sure they get very, very comfortable. Is he relaxed at the shelter? Yeah, he's pretty chill. He's just in our free roaming room. So he gets kind of the rain of the room, hanging out and just get petted by our volunteers, which he loves. Yeah. Yeah. All he really needs is just somewhere calm where he can lay in the sunshine and preferably have somewhere to climb up pie like a cat tree or something like that. Yeah, that's awesome. And I mentioned to you before, but I don't know if you can see here. He has a black little spot on his nose like a cute that. Yes. He got dead by sharp. Yes. It's very charming. I like him a lot. Do you have a lot of cats like him at the shelter? Like him? I think he might be our only black and white cat that I can think of the other one that you brought two weeks ago. Did that one get adopted? It was a little. I don't remember the name, but it was a little one. I believe so. I don't think I'm ever thinking of the same one. Oh, yay. Yeah. But yeah, we can always look on our website. And you can see all of our adoptable pets. We have quite a few who are in foster care. And some also at our partners at JM aquatics we have some adoptable cats there as well. So you're looking for a cat. Yeah. So and that's also a good point. Because if you go to the shelter, you might not see a cat that you want, but it could be in foster care. Absolutely. So go on the website and see all of the animals that you'll have. Yep. Yeah, lucky charm was in foster care up until a couple of days ago. So we have some good ones in foster as well. So is he back at the shelter? Yes, he's back at the shelter now. So if you're looking to adopt lucky charm, just come on down to the shelter. Perfect. And if you cannot commit to adoption, because it is you know, it's a lot. It's, it's like taking on a whole new project every single day. For the next I don't know, 10 or 15 years. You can't do that. Fostering is always a really, really great way to give back. But also, you know, take some stress and some give some relief to the shelters. Yeah, we're always in need of new foster homes for all sorts of animals, whether it's just an adult cat who needs to stay at your house for a little while. Young kittens, bottle babies, adult dogs. So if you're interested in fostering we can definitely find a placement for you. Yeah, I mean, look, he likes it. So plenty. All right.

We are joined by Shalane Coit from a scanning Crimestoppers and Officer Arnold Naik from the Grand Junction Police Department. How are y'all? Great. It's good to be here. Of course. Good for you to be here. Thank you all, both for being here. We appreciate it. It's always fun and informative when you come. Today you brought us Officer Mike from the Grand Junction Police Department tell us what we're talking about today. And why it was important for you to bring officer light. Well, people might recognize right now it's sweater weather, right jacket weather because it's a little cold outside. And one of the things that we're seeing an increase in in cold weather is vehicle theft, both a theft from a vehicle, and also fifths of vehicles. And a big reason for that is puffing, which I'm gonna lead officer Naik, explain to us and tell us a little bit about how to keep our community safe, including your own personal cars. Yes, so puffing is when you know, when you go to start your car in the morning, you leave your car unattended in the driveway. You know, before you go to work before you go to school, things like that. And then we have a problem with there are people who go around neighborhoods at night or early in the morning. And look for those cars because easiest spot that you know smoking on the tailpipe, and they will take those cars and which will lead to the vehicle theft, which will lead to other crimes. Yeah. Now we've actually done a couple of stories, you can find those stories on our website. But we've done a couple of stories where how puffing is illegal if you leave your car unattended, correct. And I see every single morning when I take up my dogs, I see cars running, you know, and there's nobody in there. So it is it's you know, people are leaving their cars running and thefts are happening. How why? Obviously we see it in the wintertime because you know, people want to warm up their cars before they get in. What about when we go like toward the summer months does all of that kind of fade away? So during the summer months, mostly what we see is people leave valuables in their cars. And they either forget to lock their doors or the windows open. And really our crimes aren't people breaking windows or breaking into cars, they are taking his crimes of opportunity where they check car handles and open car doors. Yeah. And that defeats the alarm system. No one knows until the morning they wake up. Yeah. So we do want to have our cars, you know, as warm as we could have them before we get in? What's a suggestion that we would have to where we're not breaking the law, like doing something like puffing, what's the suggestion? Oh, for me, I'll answer them and pass it over to you. For me. I have a nice little blanket in the car so I can get in the car and I can kind of cuddle up for a couple of minutes, I scrolled a little Facebook, check or check my email or something. And I can sit there with my cup of cocoa or coffee while the cars warming up. And I'm staying warm to honestly just like Shane said, We it's very important to have someone with the vehicle. Because again, if someone driving by see someone standing with the vehicle are inside the vehicle, they're going to keep going. We just don't want vehicles left unattended. And what happens if somebody you know, goes outside warm, the car goes back in and goes out in the car's gone. What what's the next step? Well, obviously notify us and then we will enter that information what the vehicle is, it's good to have your license plate, things like that good description, even a picture if you have your car is great for us. Because then we can put that out in social media send it to the news as well. Yeah. And that'll help us locate the car faster. Awesome. I think you said something good. Always know your license plate because I'm thinking in my head. I don't know what my lesson number is. A lot of people don't I don't know how I would even find that out because our insurance is in the car. Correct. And it has Oh yeah. So know your license plate. Yes, it's good tips by Gabriel. How about that? Oh, your license plate. We're out of time. But thank you all so much for coming today. We'll see you next week or next month with a new topic. That's right. I'll see you then. Sounds good. Stay safe. We'll be right back after this.

Historic Marker Gone

February 19, 2024

Reporter: Adam Woodbrey

Duration: 2:35

Our work is to ensure that these unheard stories are being told" stories of what was once a thriving Chinatown in the late 1800s. And the racial violence perpetuated against the Asian American community that followed having some physical way to say that our history is important and matters months after a new historical marker was placed on 16th Street. As a reminder of over a century of forgotten history. It's hard pressed to speculate what exactly happened. A metal stump is all that remains, "it is possible that maybe a truck hit it and it broke. However, we are curious as to where the actual marker itself then is. I do think that there is a possibility that it could have been a motivated incident." Especially with the rise in anti Asian hate crimes that we saw the past few years Joey ha with Colorado Asian Pacific United tell CBS Colorado they filed a police report, and I've been looking for signs as to where the marker could be. We've definitely disappointed but we're also very motivated to reinstall it. Now. They're looking to the Denver community to help crowd fund and replace the marker and this time around. We're definitely looking at seeing if we can make it even sturdier and insured this time their history cannot be removed or forgotten. Remember marginalized peoples histories since they have been the very fabric of what makes this country this country.

all of our drone operators are certified through the FAA. TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we have, I believe, a total of 18, we have four civilian as well as 14 sworn personnel. AS TECHNOLOGY CHANGES...POLICE DEPARTMENTS ACROSS THE COUNTRY DO THEIR BEST TO CHANGE WITH IT. SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we use drones in a number of different ways. We will use them for traffic investigations. So if we have crashes, search and rescue, we've used them for crime scene documentation, TRENT RUNDQUIST IS THE DEPARTMENT'S CIVILIAN MANAGER. AS SUCH...HE WEARS A LOT OF DIFFERENT HATS...ONE OF THEM...DRONE COORDINATOR...AND THE PROGRAM WAS HIS LABOR OF LOVE... SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD it was brought to me and it was basically given to me and said, we'd like to start a drone program. So it was handed to me and I took off with it. .AND A START FROM SCRATCH... SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD I had not no drone experience at all. I had to figure out the policies and procedures, I had to figure out exactly how to fly a drone, as well as certifications and how we're going to implement them OVER THE LAST COUPLE OF YEARS, THE DEPARMENT HAS SPENT A LOT OF TIME AND MONEY GETTING THE DRONE PROGRAM UP AND RUNNING. SEVERAL DIFFERENT DRONES FOR A LOT OF DIFFERENT USES. SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we have anything from a larger drone, in which we fly for bigger missions outside, BUTTED TO we have some of the smaller drones we can use both inside and outside. THE IDEA...USING THE DRONES TO FLY IN...FEED BACK INFORMATION IN REAL TIME...GIVING OFFICERS A BIRD'S EYE VIEW... AND IN SOME CASES, THE SMALLER DRONES CAN GO INTO A BUILDING OR A TIGHT SPACE SEARCHING FOR ANY POTENTIAL THREATS...BEFORE SENDING OFFICERS INSIDE. TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD All of our drone operators should be able to utilize all these particular drones in the different scenarios in which we have so if we are going to utilize them outside, they know to be able to grab the larger drone whereas if we're going to be a flying an inside mission, they should be able to grab one of these smaller drones and be able to utilize them that way. SOME OF THESE DRONES ARE JUST YOUR RUN-OF-THE MILL DRONES...ONE OF THEM ISN'T UNLIKE OUR NEWS DRONE... THE SMALLEST DRONE...WEIGHS ONLY A FEW GRAMS... OTHERS HAVE A MORE SPECIALIZED FEATURES. TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD it can handle the elements, it can fly up to, I believe, 30 to 40 mile an hour winds and be able to stabilize that way, as well as it has two different types of cameras on it. ONE IS A TRADITIONAL CAMERA WITH AN OPTICAL ZOOM...SO IT CAN GET A CLOSE UP VIEW...WHILE STAYING HIGH UP AND AT A SAFE DISTANCE...AND THE OTHER CAMERA... TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD the other one has a thermal camera on it. So we can utilize it at night, be able to see if you know looking for somebody or looking for a particular thing, we can use the thermal imaging to be able to utilize that AND THOUGH IT MAY SEEM LIKE DRONES COULD ENABLE OFFICERS TO SPY ON THE PUBLIC...RUNDQUIST ASSURES EVERYONE...THAT SPYING ISN'T AN OPTION. SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we have a set of rules and policies and procedures that we're going to abide by, that really these drones are made to ensure the safety of the public as well as safety of our officers, AND AS TECHNOLOGIES CHANGE...THESE OFFICERS UNDERSTAND THAT ADAPTING TO THESE CHANGES...CAN MAKE ALL THE DIFFERENCE SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we've been able to utilize these in a number of different areas, which help protect our officers and protect the public, where we can send in a drone versus sending in a person and just makes it safer for officers to be able to work as well as the public.

"Last year, 11 people died in avalanches in Colorado. On average, six people die in avalanches each year in Colorado." THE CAIC MEASURES AVALANCHE DANGER ON A SCALE FOR 1 TO 5 WITH 1 BEING THE LEAST RISKY, AND 5 BEING THE MOST. THE DANGER SCALE IN THE AREA WAS ONLY AT A 3 OUT OF FIVE, BUT ACCORDING TO OFFICIALS, IT'S NOT THE LEVEL OF DANGER THAT MATTERS, BUT IT'S THE INHERENT DANGER OF A POSSIBLE AVALANCHE ITSELF. "Most fatal accidents in Colorado happen at a levels 2 and 3. The scale is really designed around the potential for avalanches, it doesn't really talk about the danger necessarily to a person." OFFICIALS ALSO STRESS THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING PREPARED AND HAVING PROPER TRAININGS IF YOU DO DECIDE TO GO OUT INTO THE BACKCOUNTRY, REGARDLESS OF THE AVALANCHE DANGER SCALE. NO MORE DETAILS HAVE BEEN RELEASED ABOUT THE INCIDENT, BUT THE C-A-I-C HAVE PUT OUT ITS PRELIMINARY REPORT ON THE INVESTIGATION, AND WILL RELEASE A FINAL REPORT NEXT WEEK, IF NOT EARLIER IF POSSIBLE.

Avalanche Numbers High

Reporter: Jeff Hinkle

Duration: 2:01

AVALANCHE CONCERNS CONTINUE TO ESCALATE AS MULTIPLE WARNINGS ARE IN EFFECT ACROSS THE COLORADO HIGH COUNTRY. THE COLORADO AVALANCHE INFORMATION CENTER REPORTS A STAGGERING 654 AVALANCHES RECORDED IN THE LAST THREE DAYS, A NUMBER THAT IS CONSTANTLY GROWING, EVEN UP TO THE MINUTE. OF THE REPORTED AVALANCHES, 99 WERE IDENTIFIED AS MAN-MADE, WHILE 22 REMAIN CATEGORIZED AS UNKNOWN IN ORIGIN. THE ASPEN SNOWMASS MARBLE AREA EXPERIENCED A SIGNIFICANT SHARE OF THE AVALANCHE ACTIVITY, WITH 164 REPORTED INCIDENTS. ADDITIONALLY, AN AVALANCHE OCCURRED IN THE GRAND MESA REGION, RIGHT IN THE LOCAL VICINITY, ON THE 15TH. "This is a floor, not a ceiling. These are the avalanches that people have witnessed, and reported to us, so including stuff that we've seen and reported, or the public has sent in to us or other professional operations. But it is very much a floor of a number, not a ceiling. We only capture a fraction of the actual avalanche activity that takes place, particularly when it's this active around the whole state" THE PERSISTENTLY HIGH AVALANCHE DANGER UNDERSCORES THE IMPORTANCE OF HEIGHTENED AWARENESS AND CAUTION FOR THOSE VENTURING INTO MOUNTAINOUS TERRAIN. CAIC ADVISES INDIVIDUALS TO STAY INFORMED ABOUT CURRENT AVALANCHE CONDITIONS, EXERCISE PRUDENCE IN DECISION-MAKING, AND FOLLOW RECOMMENDED SAFETY PROTOCOLS. "When we have an avalanche warning that means high avalanche danger, or level 4 out of 5 where we expect widespread avalanche activity, large enough to bury or kill a person, some of those avalanches may release naturally, and during those times we do not recommend travel in back country avalanche terrain." THE RECENT SPIKE IN AVALANCHE INCIDENTS SERVES AS A STARK REMINDER OF THE DYNAMIC AND UNPREDICTABLE NATURE OF WINTER CONDITIONS IN THE COLORADO HIGH COUNTRY. "Mother Nature makes the rules on this one unfortunately. There are things we can do to mitigate the risk from these avalanches, which is what happens along our state's highways and transportation corridors, what happens inside ski area boundaries, where we've got snow safety teams and forecasters working really hard to reduce the threat from avalanches" BACKCOUNTRY ENTHUSIASTS AND RESIDENTS ALIKE ARE URGED TO PRIORITIZE SAFETY AND TAKE NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS WHEN NAVIGATING AREAS PRONE TO AVALANCHES DURING THIS PERIOD OF HEIGHTENED RISK.

YEAH ALL ACROSS THE STATE ON THURSDAY, MASSIVE AMOUNTS OF SNOW HAVE HALTED TRAVEL ALONG I-70 AND OTHER ROADWAYS IN COLORADO. THAT'S NOT QUITE THE CASE HERE IN THE CITY OF MONTROSE. THE MAIN GOAL FOR THE CITY OF MONTROSE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT IS TO STAY AHEAD OF THE WEATHER. WORKERS NEED TO BE ON CALL AT ALL HOURS OF THE DAY, BECAUSE IF SNOW STARTS TO ACCUMULATE, IT'S BACK TO WORK FOR SNOWPLOW DRIVERS. SNOW PLOW DRIVERS HELP KEEP THE CITY CLEAR, AND KEEP ALL THOROUGHFARES OPEN FROM MAIN CITY STREETS TO WALKING TRAILS. THE ONLY THING THE PUBLIC IS IN CHARGE OF IS THEIR OWN PRIVATE PROPERTY. IF THERE'S ONE THING ABOUT WESTERN SLOPE WEATHER, IT'S THAT YOU NEVER REALLY KNOW HOW BAD IT'S GOING TO BE. WITH WEATHER BEING AS UNPREDICTABLE AS IT IS, SNOW PLOW DRIVERS NEED TO BE READY TO GO EVEN BEFORE IT STARTS TO SNOW. THE LAST TIME SNOW PLOWS HAD TO BE DEPLOYED IN THE CITY, MONTROSE HAD JUST GOTTEN A LITTLE OVER 10 INCHES OF SNOW, AND EACH SNOWPLOW IS EQUIPPED WITH ALL THE NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS TO KEEP ICE OFF THE ROADS, AND KEEP PEOPLE SAFE. WHETHER OR NOT THE CITY OF MONTROSE GETS ENOUGH SNOW TO CAUSE ISSUES, IT'S ALWAYS GOOD TO KNOW THAT THE CITY HAS THE INFRASTRUCTURE, AND HAS A PLAN IN CASE SOMETHING GOES SIDEWAYS.

Cyberscam Imposters

January 28, 2024

Reporter: Adam Woodbrey

Duration: 1:23

A highly sophisticated cyber scam that's been making waves. Cybercriminals are taking impersonation to a whole new level, posing as law enforcement officers to carry out an elaborate financial fraud scheme.

In this intricate plot, unsuspecting people receive contact from scammers who claim their bank accounts may be involved in financial fraud. The scammers then guide their targets through a series of steps, starting with downloading a seemingly harmless mobile app. Little do victims know that this app is the linchpin of the scam. Once installed, victims are assigned a case number, and the app generates legal-looking documents personalized with the victim's name. These documents are designed to make the scam appear legitimate, and it works.

Once trust is established, the app prompts victims to select their bank from a list and enter sensitive information, including account numbers. But here's the kicker – the app operates in the background, blocking all incoming calls and text messages. This prevents victims from receiving alerts from their banks about suspicious activities, giving cybercriminals the perfect window to steal money and sensitive information. If it's something like a possible warrant that they have, we'll use that as an example. They're going to scare them into believing that they're going to be arrested, that their kids will be taken away from them, that they have to act on this immediately, or someone is going to come to their house and take them away. So typically, what we suggest to people in those cases are just take a breath. Think about it. If you've not done anything wrong, there's no reason you'd have a warrant. There's no reason why law enforcement will be contacting you. But fear not; there are ways to protect yourself. Here are some tips: Download Wisely: Stick to trusted app publishers to avoid falling victim to cybercriminals exploiting official app stores. Watch for Emotional Manipulation: Be cautious of scare tactics that aim to catch you off guard and prompt you to reveal sensitive information. Verify Authority: If contacted by someone claiming to be from law enforcement, take steps to confirm their identity. Legitimate officials will understand your concerns and provide information without requiring you to download unfamiliar apps.

ACH Fraud

January 31, 2024

Reporter: Adam Woodbrey

Duration: 1:48

In an age of evolving financial fraud, it's easy to overlook longstanding threats like ACH fraud. While newer scams capture headlines, ACH fraud continues to plague consumers and businesses alike, posing significant risks to financial security. The Automated Clearing House, or ACH network, has been facilitating bank-to-bank transfers since the 1960s and remains a prime target for fraudsters. Despite warnings from the FBI spanning decades, instances of ACH debit fraud are on the rise, contrasting with declines in other forms of payment fraud. So, what exactly is ACH fraud? ACH fraud occurs when criminals exploit bank account and routing numbers to initiate unauthorized transactions. With these numbers readily available on checks, the crime presents an attractive opportunity for scammers, especially targeting businesses. How can individuals and businesses protect themselves? Banks offer safeguards like "positive pay" ACH fraud protection, while Nacha, the organization overseeing ACH payments, implemented enhanced fraud detection measures in 2021. If you fall victim to ACH fraud, swift action is paramount. Consumers have 60 days to report fraudulent transactions, while businesses may have a mere 24-hour window. Remember, reporting to your bank and agencies like the FBI's Internet Crime Complaint Center is essential to mitigate further damage. As financial fraudsters adapt, ACH fraud remains a persistent threat. By staying informed and proactive, individuals and businesses can fortify themselves against this age-old menace.

Gift Card Scams

Gift cards have held the title of the most requested gift for nearly two decades. However, this popularity has also made them a target for criminals seeking to exploit unsuspecting shoppers. The RGCA collaborates with law enforcement agencies, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and other entities to tackle fraudulent activities involving gift cards. They offer a variety of resources, including a public service announcement (PSA) aimed at educating consumers on recognizing and safeguarding themselves against scams involving gift cards. For more in-depth guidance, individuals can visit www.GiftCardSafety.org. This site offers a wealth of information, including details on reporting fraud, tips for protecting gift cards, and suggestions for ensuring positive gift card experiences. Here are some key tips to keep in mind: Reject Unsolicited Requests: Genuine government agencies or businesses will never demand payment via gift cards. Be cautious and decline such demands. Check Gift Card Packaging: When purchasing gift cards in-store, inspect the packaging carefully. Ensure the card is fully enclosed, the PIN is concealed, and the packaging is intact. If you suspect tampering, notify a store clerk immediately. Purchase from Trusted Sources: Always buy gift cards directly from reputable retailers or known brands, particularly when shopping online. Be wary of excessively discounted offers, as they may indicate a scam. Secure Storage: Safeguard your gift cards and avoid sharing account or PIN numbers with strangers. Use trackable shipping methods for physical cards and secure email or mobile programs for e-gifts. Keep Activation Receipts: Retain proof of purchase by keeping activation receipts. This documentation can be valuable if issues arise. As we approach National Slam the Scam Day, let's stay vigilant and informed to protect ourselves and others from fraudulent schemes.

OYS Cyber Crooks

March 17, 2024

Reporter: Adam Woodbrey

Duration: 1:26

So, picture this: European diplomats recently got roped into a sneaky cyber scam that's straight out of a spy movie. These cyber crooks posed as reps for the ambassador of India, and guess what they used as bait? Fake invites to an exclusive wine-tasting bash. Sounds fancy, right? But here's the twist: those invites were actually traps to install some nasty malware onto their devices. Now, let's break it down. These diplomats thought they were getting a golden ticket to sip wine and rub elbows with the elite. But when they opened those fancy-schmancy invitations, they were asked to fill out a questionnaire to secure their spot. Innocent enough, you might think. But the moment they clicked on that questionnaire link, bam! Their devices were hit with malware faster than you can say "cybersecurity nightmare." And here's the kicker: this malware wasn't just a nuisance. It lurked in the shadows, quietly snatching up sensitive data and sending it straight into the hands of those cybercriminal masterminds. So, what's the lesson here? Well, for starters, don't go jumping at every shiny opportunity that lands in your inbox. If something seems too good to be true, it probably is. And when you do get an email or invite, take a beat to sniff out any red flags. Check the timing, look for typos—basically, don't let your guard down. Oh, and whatever you do, never ever click on a link or download an attachment from an email you weren't expecting. It's like opening Pandora's box—you never know what kind of digital demons you might unleash. Stay smart, stay safe, and keep those cyber crooks at bay

AND IN SOME CASES, THE SMALLER DRONES CAN GO INTO A BUILDING OR A TIGHT SPACE SEARCHING FOR ANY POTENTIAL THREATS...BEFORE SENDING OFFICERS INSIDE.SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD All of our drone operators should be able to utilize all these particular drones in the different scenarios in which we have 4so if we are going to utilize them outside, they know to be able to grab the larger drone whereas if we're going to be a flying an inside mission, they should be able to grab one of these smaller drones and be able to utilize them that way.SOME OF THESE DRONES ARE JUST YOUR RUN-OF-THE MILL DRONES...ONE OF THEM ISN'T UNLIKE OUR NEWS DRONE... THE SMALLEST DRONE...WEIGHS ONLY A FEW GRAMS... OTHERS HAVE A MORE SPECIALIZED FEATURES. SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD it can handle the elements, it can fly up to, I believe, 30 to 40 mile an hour winds and be able to stabilize that way, as well as it has two different types of cameras on it. ONE IS A TRADITIONAL CAMERA WITH AN OPTICAL ZOOM...SO IT CAN GET A CLOSE UP VIEW...WHILE STAYING HIGH UP AND AT A SAFE DISTANCE...AND THE OTHER CAMERA... TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD the other one has a thermal camera on it. So we can utilize it at night, be able to see if you know looking for somebody or looking for a particular thing, we can use the thermal imaging to be able to utilize that AND THOUGH IT MAY SEEM LIKE DRONES COULD ENABLE OFFICERS TO SPY ON THE PUBLIC...RUNDQUIST ASSURES EVERYONE...THAT SPYING ISN'T AN OPTION. SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we have a set of rules and policies and procedures that we're going to abide by, that really these drones are made to ensure the safety of the public as well as safety of our officers, AND AS TECHNOLOGIES CHANGE...THESE OFFICERS UNDERSTAND THAT ADAPTING TO THESE CHANGES...CAN MAKE ALL THE DIFFERENCE SOT/TRENT RUNDQUIST/CIVILIAN MANAGER, GJPD we've been able to utilize these in a number of different areas, which help protect our officers and protect the public, where we can send in a drone versus sending in a person and just makes it safer for officers to be able to work as well as the public.

So long so long ago. But today we are talking something very important, something that we always talk about what we really want to emphasize, come the New Year, volunteering with the Food Bank of the Rockies. So with the holiday season behind us, you know, there's a little bit of a dip. Tell us about that. Yeah, so we had a huge outpouring during the holidays, both financially and through food drive. The community through food drives in November and December gave almost 20,000 pounds of food. And those foods, then we are able to distribute across the western slope to our hunger relief partners. And I'm Colorado gives day we saw 30% more donations. That's why my hair is green. I was gonna I was gonna mention that. Of course you see her hair's green, tell us the good reason behind that. It's all in good, fun and good. You know, good measure. I promised my team I said, Hey, if we go past our goal for Colorado gives day I'm going to do green highlights. So I was like, and I'm not just gonna hide it like they know everyone. They held you to that didn't they? Sure did. And our volunteers and donors, people have been asking me about it. So we had great outpouring during the holidays. And then sometimes people in the new year they go, Okay, I'm done with all that giving. Yeah, we really need people to give back through their time and volunteering. Yep. So tell us about some of the opportunities for volunteers. There's morning and afternoon. And they're what they do. Yeah. So Monday through Friday, we have morning and afternoon shifts, between two, two and a half hours. So good amount of time, you we have lots of options. Whether you're packing food boxes for our mobile pantries sorting through produce, you could work in our dehydrated room and preparing fruit to be dehydrated or packaging, the already dehydrated fruit. We will also have opportunities at our mobile pantries across the western slope. We need volunteers to help hand out food to our neighbors who need the food. Yeah. Well, when are those mobile pantries? I know that there's one always at the Mesa County Fairgrounds, right? Yes. So the orchard Mesa mobile pantry is every second Monday, in the afternoon. And so information is on our website, Food Bank rockies.org/ws. Now there are some benefits to volunteering some mental and physical benefits. So tell me about some of those. Yeah, if some of your new new year resolutions include taking care of yourself, volunteering is a great part of that. You not only get that good feeling, but there's also, you know, some physicality, towards your giving. And so we have people who say, I don't need a gym membership, I just come to the food bank of the Rockies and volunteer. So we can also save some money potentially potentially, actually doing that instead of the gym membership. That's so funny. And it's fun. You know, you can volunteer on your own with a group with your family. So it's, you know, it could be a family affair. Absolutely. And you know, we have a great opportunity for families. And we are going to be doing another family night in February, February night from 530 to 730. That's for all ages. We also add our normal volunteer shifts, and we can have people as young as 10, volunteering with us. And then we also will schedule Saturday's for groups as well. That is awesome. Well, you can find all of that information and on their website, food bank at the rocky Food Bank. rockies.org/volunteer+all of that information will be on this online article a little bit later. So keep an eye out for that too. Well, thank you so much for joining me very important topics. We appreciate what you do. Thank you so much.

Nice. Nice boy. Oh great. Well, yeah, a couple of treats. Anybody will do anything for some treats. So tell us a little bit about Buster because he's he has some energy, but he's also I mean, you're feeding him some treats and he's called just sitting here. He's a two year old neutered male. He's a mixed breed. Boxer can see his little nose here. And probably Pitbull. I don't know he's got black on his tail. Sometimes that is indicative of a shepherd. And then this isn't boxer or pencil. This is almost like Shepherd LAB Hair. So who knows? Well, let's check and see if you guys webbed feet. Ah, what does that mean? That's a swimmer. So they their feet in between its web to go swimming. So like hunting breeds, so he might have a little lab in him. Okay, so labs will have their big water. Yes. We haven't taken him to the water. Of course. We don't know. But yeah. Well, he has a big head. I'll tell you that. I know. He's a big old meat ball like me. I have a big head. He's it. He's a Hambone he loves attention. Yeah, he seems pretty. I mean, he's Chill, chill. Yeah, he reminds me he's a two year old. So he's overall the puppy stuff. He reminds me of a big old gangly teenager boy with rubber band, you know, and who's super friendly. Nice. He just kind of reminds me of that, but he isn't gonna get any bigger. He's probably like most of the dogs coming out of the county shelter. He's a little skinny. Yeah. been there since October. Wow. Where to find him. Do you know? I don't remember where he was found. I don't remember so I can't come in. I could look it up. Yeah, but I have to go home. I've been there since October. That's a long time for shelter. He's really working on his fifth month. He came in October 7 teeth I think that's four months. He's worked a high stress environment. It is a high stress environment. Not enough socialization. Yeah. He's a staff favorite. There so nice. They have him up behind the front desk. He's very treat motivated. Which makes it easy. It's always easy to train. You know, I really think he would do well with a retired couple. He I am well retired person. significantly past retirement. And I can walk on a leash. I was just out front locking him on a leash. Yeah. Let's get that worked fine. Yeah. And he'd be great with a family with kids. I have taken him he's been through the cat room a couple times with cats and cages. I really think he'd be okay with cats. Eventually, after a real slow two to three month introduction, you can see is quite you got pearly whites. Yeah. That means you're just a young he's like he was he was like a gentle giant. He is a gentle Yeah. Yeah. I mean, he wasn't when he came in. He wasn't crazy. He was just normal sniffing excited. But I mean this is kind of what you get. Yeah. And he's got these really unusual eye color he does not have all brown eyes are very stunning. Yeah, I saw that. And very quickly because we're almost out of time but volunteers and fosters volunteers Foster's we are still navigating the crisis of too many homeless cats and dogs. We pull them out of the county shelter mace county animal services, so they're always on the verge of not enough space for incoming pet so well balanced boy, no clue why he's still adoptable because he's got quite the shining personnel. Right. And yep, he's got the charm. And the good. Looks like he's almost smiling. Well, thank you so much for coming today. We appreciate it very much.

THANK YOU THE CENTER WAS PACKED TODAY AS TUESDAYS ARE DISTRIBUTIONS DAY, AND MANY I SPOKE TO SAID THAT THE RESOURCE CENTER IS REACHING NEW HIGHS WITH ITS RECENT NUMBER OF VISITORS... TWO WEEKS AGO, THE CENTER REPORTED AROUND 1,500 VISITORS. HOWEVER, THE LATEST FIGURES REVEAL A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE, WITH WELL OVER 2,500 INDIVIDUALS SEEKING ASSISTANCE. THE RESOURCE CENTER IS PROVIDING A PLACE FOR THOSE IN NEED IN THE COMMUNITY. "I JUST THINK IT'S A RIGHTEOUS BLESSING FROM THE LORD." A PLACE FOR ALL KINDS OF FACES AND BACKGROUNDS. "...WITH THE RESOURCE CENTER WITH SEEING SO MANY NEW FACES, SEEING SO MANY FAMILIES, WE'RE SEEING LITTLE KIDS, WE'RE SEEING BABIES..." STEPAHNIA VASCONEZ THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR WITH MUTUAL AID PARTNERS, A SERVICE PROVIDER AT THE RESOURCE CENTER, SAYS SINCE THE RESOURCE CENTER'S COMPLETION...MUTUAL AID HAS SEEN AN INCREASE IN DEMAND FOR THEIR SERVICES. "...WHEN HOMEWARD BOUND APPROACHED US ABOUT THE RESOURCE CENTER HERE AND PARTNERING WITH THEM AND MOVING OUR PROGRAMMING HERE, WE DEFINITELY DID NOT EXPECT THAT OUR NUMBERS WOULD GO UP BY 75%. AND THAT COUPLED WITH SPENDING TWICE THE AMOUNT ON FOOD..." AND VASCONEZ EXPECTS THE NUMBERS TO CLIMB EVEN HIGHER... "...ACROSS THE BOARD, WE'RE HEARING FROM EVERY SINGLE PROVIDER THAT NEED IS INCREASING FOR THEM. AND SO WE EXPECT THE NEED TO INCREASE...." CHRIS MASTERS, DIRECTOR OF ADMINISTRATIONS AND OPERATIONS AT HOMEWARD BOUND, VIEWS THE INCREASED NEED AS A POSITIVE SIGN OF HOW THE RESOURCE CENTER IS ABLE TO HELP OTHERS. "...I'VE NOTICED THAT MORE PEOPLE ARE BEING INTERESTED IN PROVIDING SERVICES. AND THAT IS DRAWING MORE OF A CROWD HERE DURING THE WEEK. SO PEOPLE CAN ENGAGE IN THOSE SERVICES... ...THIS IS AN PERFECT EXAMPLE OF WHAT HAPPENS WHEN A COMMUNITY COMES TOGETHER AND MAKES A DIFFERENCE..." WITH THE CLOSURE OF EMERSON PARK, THE NEED AND USE OF THE RESOURCE CENTER IS EXPECTED TO INCREASE. THE PROJECT IS ONLY A TWO YEAR PROJECT AND MANY INVOLVED WITH THE CENTER'S OPERATIONS HOPE A PERMANENT SOLUTION WILL ARISE BY THAT TIME.

March 14, 2024

Reporter: Gabe Gonzalaz

Duration: 3:13

We are joined by Christie Castor from the American Red Cross. How are you? I'm great. How are you? I'm doing great. So it's a big month for the Red Cross because it is Red Cross month. So first tell us, you know, why? Why is Red Cross month important and kind of what it is at the American Red Cross? Sure, absolutely. So, Red Cross month has started over 80 years ago with President Franklin Roosevelt when he issued the first proclamation of March being Red Cross month. And it's a tradition that's continued with every president since then. So pretty neat, and really is to celebrate, the Red Cross has over 140 years of, of history, starting with Clara Barton, who's one of history's kind of most celebrated women for our country. And it's also Women's History Month. So it's great Grayson to talk about Claire bikes, the big circle. Yeah, absolutely. We're very proud that a woman started the American Red Cross. And so her vision of preventing and alleviating human suffering is something that's continued on for over 140 years with our amazing community heroes who show up every day, to make sure that when emergencies happen, people aren't alone. And they provide care and comfort in that initial response, as well as making sure that our communities are prepared to handle disasters and emergencies. Absolutely. And you know, we have those here in western Colorado, Colorado, especially with wildfire season and things like that. So those things happen, not around the world, but here locally as well. Now, on my cheat sheet here, I'm seeing every eight minutes Red Cross volunteers respond to a disaster in the US. And the support is critical. Yeah. So talk to me about what and you know, not only around the US, but also here, here in western Colorado. I think one of the last things was maybe the Hawaii wildfires that you'll send somebody to. And then there was also wildfires around Colorado that you're also helped with to absolutely, yeah, so we have volunteers that, you know, respond locally to events. And we know wildfires is our biggest one flooding is another one that we deal with, often locally here in Colorado and Wyoming. But yeah, we do deploy volunteers all around the world. And we're seeing as a whole, those disasters are increasing in frequency and intensity. So it's something that we're very proud to be able to help with. And it's something that's going to be just continuing here over a year. And so our need for more volunteers is always always there. But we're happy to be able to respond. Yeah, absolutely. Now, before we get into volunteers, last time you were here last month, we did a whole demonstration with the dummies and CPR, things like that. So, you know, not only deal help people and send people out to you know, disaster places, but also, you know, you teach people here in our community, things that they can use here in the community, if they see somebody at Walmart, you know, having something that you know, is needed. So, talk to us about about the CPR and things like that, you know, things that you'll teach here. Yeah, so through our training services, we teach millions of people a year across the US to be ready to respond in an emergency because like you said, you never know when someone's going to collapse or having a medical emergency. So we have people trained in CPR, first aid, water safety skills, a lot of lifeguarding classes, so to make sure again, that our communities are prepared, and somebody is there. And so that's a great way to get involved. Yeah, I didn't even think about the water, the water safety. So that's a good one because of the big pool that Linkin Park and things like that are just your neighborhood pool or your own pool. That's a very, very important Absolutely, really everybody should be trained, especially if you have a pool in your own backyard be trained now we were talking about volunteers because volunteers are always needed, what's something that we can look forward to, for volunteers, but also, what is the Giving Day used to be Yeah, so that too, so March 27, is giving day in celebration of Marches Red Cross month, and so really our call to action is turn your compassion into action and several different ways one being donate. And that can be any, any amount of donation goes to supporting our relief efforts, providing care, emotional support, food, sheltering, all that kind of stuff. Also volunteering. So you can go to redcross.org/volunteer today to find out all of our volunteer opportunities, we have hundreds, but kind of you can see some of our most needed ones. And then finally, take a class we just talked about how important it is to, to know CPR, at least hands only CPR. So if you go to redcross.org/take-a-class, you can go and look on online and see what's available. Yeah, well, I love that. And the last thing you said, Turn compassion into action. Yeah, I love that. That's such a good phrase. Thank you for coming today.
