

Quarterly Issues/Programs List for Stations

WBPW-FM, WOZI-FM and WQHR-FM

October 1 - December 31, 2020

Section I. Issues

The stations have identified the following issues as significant issues facing our community in this quarter:

- A. Homelessness: With colder weather arriving, homeless shelters in northern Maine are facing a rise in people needing assistance. Job losses and economic hardship connected to the current health crisis will likely compound the need for housing accommodations in the community during the winter months.
- B. Education: In the midst of the pandemic, school administrators in Aroostook County are working with flexible plans combining in-person and distance learning to safely educate our children. Many rural schools and residents face technological challenges associated with remote instruction.
- C. Public Health: Local hospitals have been restricting access to elective services in light of the coronavirus pandemic. Medical Centers in Presque Isle, Caribou, Houlton and Fort Kent are working to adapt their practices to accommodate patients while keeping emergency care patients safe from the spread of the virus.
- D. Unemployment: Maine's unemployment rate doubled in the first six months of the pandemic (3.4% to 7%). Some small businesses in our mostly agricultural area have been forced to close and workers are either furloughed or seeking employment elsewhere. Other complications arise from shifting to working from home.
- E. Senior Citizens: Maine is the state with the oldest median age and a high percentage of senior citizens. Several scams targeting older residents have been reported in recent months, some arising out of the changing environment associated with COVID-19.

Section II. Responsive Programs

WBPW-FM, WOZI-FM and WQHR-FM in Presque Isle, Maine provided responsive programming this quarter as detailed below.

InfoTrak airs on WBPW-FM every Saturday at 6:00 am, on WOZI-FM every Sunday at 6:00 am, and WQHR-FM every Sunday at 6:30 am.

QUARTERLY ISSUES REPORT, OCTOBER-DECEMBER, 2020

Show # 2020-40

Date aired: Oct. 4 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Stuart N. Brotman, executive policy adviser, legal analyst, author of "Privacy's Perfect Storm: Digital Policy for Post-Pandemic Times"

The COVID-19 lockdowns have expanded the online world of work and school at home to unprecedented levels. Mr. Brotman outlined the rapid increase in digital privacy issues related to this new trend, and what is necessary to address the problem. He also talked about privacy issues related to terms of agreement that consumers typically ignore when installing apps or other software.

Issues covered:

Length: 9:43

Privacy
Government Regulation
Consumer Matters

Ajit Mathew George, founder of Second Chances Farms, LLC in Wilmington, DE

Mr. George founded an organization that employs only convicted felons, training them in entrepreneurship through mentorship programs and green collar jobs at hydroponic, indoor vertical farms in economically distressed communities. He explained how the farms replace recidivism with compassionate capitalism and turn entrepreneurs-in-residence into “Agripreneurs.” He also explained how the farms were forced to rapidly adapt to serving consumers directly, when the coronavirus lockdowns closed restaurants.

Issues covered:

Length: 8:33

Criminal Reform
Entrepreneurship

Environment Poverty

Show # 2020-41

Date aired: Oct. 11 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Carol L. Rickard, Tobacco Treatment Specialist, author of “The Benefits of Smoking: Why It's So Hard to Quit Smoking and What You Can Do about It”

70% of smokers would like to quit, but only 4 to 7% will be successful. Ms. Rickard explained what smokers perceive as the benefits and why it's so hard for people to kick the habit once they've started. She also discussed the potential risks associated with e-cigarettes and vaping. She suggested resources that smokers can use to quit for good.

Show # 2020-42

Date aired: Oct. 18 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Dennis Culhane, PhD, Dana and Andrew Stone Professor of Social Policy at the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Policy and Practice, co-founder and Co-Director of the Actionable Intelligence for Social Policy initiative

Over the next decade, the number of elderly homeless Americans is projected to triple — and that was before COVID-19 hit. Prof. Culhane explained why younger members of the boomer generation have remained the dominant homeless population in the United States, and what can be done to address the problem. He noted that people who experience homelessness have a life expectancy of 64-65 years.

Issues covered:

Length: 7:38

Homelessness

Senior Citizens

Drug Abuse

Christopher Ali, PhD, Associate Professor, Department of Media Studies, University of Virginia

Nearly 40 million households lack a quality internet connection, cutting them off from work, schools and more. Prof. Ali said the same huge government efforts that brought electricity and telephone service to rural areas in the 1930s and 40s should be applied in a similar way to broadband service today. He said lower income and minority Americans are most likely to be affected by the digital divide.

Issues covered:

Show # 2020-43

Date aired: Oct. 25 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Farrokh Alemi, PhD, Professor of Health Informatics, George Mason University College of Health and Human Services

Suicide among US veterans is on the rise. Prof. Alemi led a study that examined the reasons that vets take their own lives. He found that while social factors like family problems and homelessness can predict suicide, they are not the cause of it -- mental illness is. He said the results of the study were a surprise. He added that the social isolation that accompanies COVID-19 has been a major factor in increasing suicide rates overall.

Issues covered:

Length: 8:31

Suicide
Veterans Issues
Mental Health

Joseph Dieleman, PhD, Associate Professor in the Department of Health Metric Sciences at the University of Washington, faculty lead of the Resource Tracking team at the Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation

Prof. Dieleman said five major health risks, things such as obesity, high blood pressure, and smoking, were linked to over $730 billion in preventable health care spending in the US in 2016. He talked about policy changes and public awareness programs that may influence people to take steps to avoid costly health problems.

Show # 2020-45

Date aired: Nov. 8 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Patricia Boyle, PhD, neuropsychologist, Professor of Behavioral Sciences at the Rush Alzheimer's Disease Center, part of Rush University in Chicago

Scammers are using the COVID-19 pandemic as a new weapon to target senior citizens. Dr. Boyle outlined the latest battery of financial scams, including telemarketer offers for contact tracing – for a fee – or to reserve a slot for a future vaccine. She said many older adults don't realize that they are more frequent targets of scams. She added that changes in financial decision-making may be an early warning sign of impending dementia or cognitive decline.

Issues covered:

Steve Webb, PhD, Certified Social Media Intelligence Expert, Certified A.L.I.C.E. Active Threat Training Instructor, R.A.I.D.E.R. Solo Engagement Tactics Level II Instructor for law enforcement, Associate Professor in Educational Administration at Southern Illinois University and McKendree University, the author of "Education in a Violent World"

Online school instruction has caused children to spend more time in front of computers than ever. Dr. Webb said American parents would be shocked at how much data about a child is collected when he or she is online. He also talked about cyberbullying and its effect on the suicide rates of children.

Issues covered:

Length: 9:11

Online Security

Show # 2020-46

Date aired: Nov. 15 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

Nicholas Bloom, PhD, Professor in the Department of Economics at Stanford University, Co-Director of the Productivity, Innovation and Entrepreneurship program at the National Bureau of Economic Research

Around 32% of American adults are now working from home fulltime, compared to just 2% prior to the pandemic. Prof. Bloom talked about the technical handicaps faced by large numbers of workers, and why working from home produces less innovation. He also explained the inequality effect, as more educated, higher-earning employees are far more likely to work from home and continue to get paid, develop their skills and advance their careers.

Issues covered:

Length: 9:43

Employment

Technology

Shelby Kerns, Executive Director, National Association of State Budget Officers

US states are facing the biggest cash crisis since the Great Depression, as varying levels of lockdowns for months have caused tax revenues to collapse. Ms. Kerns said states have responded with different approaches, including spending reductions ranging from 0 to 20%. She discussed the likelihood of state tax increases or bailouts from federal taxpayers for states in the deepest trouble.

Issues covered:

Length: 7:22

Government Spending

Show # 2020-47

Date aired: Nov. 22 Time Aired: 6:00 a.m.

William Schaffner, MD, Professor of Preventive Medicine, Department of Health Policy, Professor of Medicine, Division of Infectious Diseases at Vanderbilt University

This year's flu season presents a unique challenge as COVID-19 positive tests continue to rise. Dr. Schaffner outlined the similarities and differences between the flu and COVID-19, and discussed the chances that the similar symptoms may cause doctors to make wrong diagnoses. He also addressed reports that cases of influenza appear to have plummeted by 98% across the globe. He recommended that patients contact their doctor via email or phone if they suspect they have the coronavirus, to avoid spreading it in waiting rooms or emergency rooms.

Shujing Sun, PhD, Assistant Professor of Information Systems in The Naveen Jindal School of Management, University of Texas at Dallas

Overcrowding in emergency rooms is a costly and concerning problem, compromising the quality of patient care. Prof. Sun investigated the potential of telemedicine as a generic solution to reduce ER congestion, and found that on-site nurse practitioners or physician assistants can effectively treat patients with minor conditions under the remote supervision of off-site physicians. She said even serious conditions such as a stroke can be better treated if emergency physicians can consult remote stroke specialists.

Daniel Karpowitz, PhD, Director of Policy and Academics for the Bard Prison Initiative, Lecturer in Law and the Humanities at Bard College in Annandale-on-Hudson, NY, Co-founder of the Consortium for the Liberal Arts in Prison, author of "College in Prison: Reading in an Age of Mass Incarceration"

Prof. Karpowitz explained how and why Bard College has provided hundreds of incarcerated men and women across the country access to a high-quality liberal arts education. He said inmate students are expected to meet the same requirements as students on a traditional campus. He added that, while education does reduce the rate at which convicts return to prison, higher education should never be measured in that manner.
