Second sandbag push in Fargo up to 293K
Eds: APNewsNow.

FARGO, N.D. (AP) - Volunteers in Fargo have filled 293,000 sandbags as part of a second campaign to help protect against flooding on the Red River.

The city called on volunteers to fill an additional 500,000 sandbags, to go with the one million bags made in early April and 300,000 bags left over from the 2011 flood.

Volunteers on Saturday filled 71,000 sandbags at a storage shed for garbage trucks that has been transformed into Sandbag Central.

The bags may be needed to protect against what is predicted to be one of the top five Red River floods of all time in Fargo and neighboring Moorhead, Minn.

Fargo-area officials outline plans for sandbagging

Eds: APNewsNow. Will be updated.

FARGO, N.D. (AP) - Fargo-area officials have mapped out plans for building clay levees and sandbag dikes to protect against what could be record flooding along the Red River and its tributaries.

Police will begin escorting flatbed trucks with sandbags into Fargo neighborhoods on Tuesday. Area high school students will begin placing the bags on Thursday.

Sandbagging in outlying areas of the city is scheduled to begin Monday.

The National Weather Service gives the river a 40 percent chance of topping the 2009 record of nearly 41 feet, which was the first of three straight major floods in the area.

Fargo and neighboring Moorhead, Minn., have made improvements to protect most residents to 38 feet, but hundreds of homes need sandbagging beyond that.

Moorhead is holding neighborhood meetings Monday to outline its flood-fighting plans.

Fargo-Moorhead flood project to get more funding
Eds: APNewsNow. Will be updated.

By HENRY C. JACKSON

Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) - A flood protection project designed to shield Fargo and Moorhead from Red River flooding looks like it will be getting more federal funding than originally expected.

The Fargo-Moorhead Metro Diversion Project is now expected to receive $7.4 million in federal funding during the 2013 fiscal year. The Office of Management and Budget told North Dakota's congressional delegation it was likely to approve the new figure later this year. That's about 60 percent more than the $4.5 million that had been allocated for the project.

The increase in funding would not affect the 2014 federal budget for the project. When President Barack Obama released his 2014 budget proposal last week it did not include any funding for the project.

Weather service unveils new flood forecasting plan

Eds: APNewsNow. Will be updated

~~★~~ FARGO, N.D. (AP) - The National Weather Service is unveiling a new flood forecasting system to address what it calls an unprecedented situation in the southern Red River Valley.

The weather service has historically issued forecasts based on historical probabilities until the ice melts, at which time it bases its predictions on real-water flows.

Because Fargo has received double the normal precipitation since March 1 and is looking at its latest river crest on record, forecasters say they developed a new model to narrow down the crest possibilities.

The forecast is scheduled to be released <sup>today</sup> Wednesday.

The weather service earlier gave the Red River a 50 percent chance of peaking at 38 feet in Fargo, which is about 3 feet under the all-time record in 2009.

Fargo officials are preparing for a 41-foot crest.

AP-WF-04-17-13 0935GMT

FARGO CITY COMMISSIONERS HAVE ANNOUNCED A PLAN TO PROTECT THE CITY UP TO 43 FEET. THAT'S IN ANTICIPATION OF A 41 FOOT CREST WITH A COUPLE OF FEET OF FREEBOARD. THAT WILL BEGIN WITH RE-OPENING SANDBAG CENTRAL, POSSIBLY WITHIN THE NEXT COUPLE OF DAYS. THIS COMES AFTER HEAVY, MOISTURE LADEN SNOWFALL OVER THE WEEKEND AND ANOTHER STORM LATER THIS WEEK THAT COULD DROP ANOTHER FOOT OF SNOW OVER THE SOUTHERN VALLEY.

IT WAS A GRIM MAYOR DENNIS WALAKER AT LAST NIGHT'S COMMISSION MEETING:

THE THREAT OF HEAVY RAINS THAT WOULD COINCIDE WITH THE MELT PROMPTED THE NATIONAL WEATHER SERVICE TO ADVISE FARGO *NOT* TO WAIT UNTIL AN ACTUAL CREST PREDICTION COMES OUT BECAUSE THERE MIGHT NOT BE TIME TO RAISE LEVEES. WALAKER AGREES:

Media : CHANGE IN PLANS

Length: 00:00:31.6 OutCue: "spring last year".

THE CITY WILL NEED ANOTHER HALF MILLION SANDBAGS, ADDED TO THE 1.3 MILLION NOW IN RESERVE. CITYSTAFF HAS ALSO BEEN DIRECTED TO MOVE AS QUICKLY AS POSSIBLE TO PURCHASE HOMES IN FLOOD PRONE AREA'S THAT HAVE WILLING SELLERS AND DETERMINE WHAT OTHER AREA'S OF THE CITY WILL NEED PROTECTION. COMMISSIONERS ALSO VOTED TO DEMOLISH 8 CITY OWNED HOMES IN OAK CREED TO PUT UP AN EMERGENCY LEVEE, ENDING WEEKS OF DEBATE OVER WHAT TO DO IN THAT NEIGHBORHOOD. MAYOR WALAKER ADDED THAT "TIME IS OFF THE ESSENCE."

Fargo to resume filling bags in advance of flood

Eds: APNewsNow. Will be updated.

FARGO, N.D. (AP) - Fargo officials are restarting sandbag filling operations to protect against spring flooding because of last week's snow storm and the prediction for more precipitation.

Work at Sandbag Central was put on hold last week after volunteers filled more than a million bags in nine days. City Administrator Pat Zavoral says there are plans to make another <sup>half million</sup> 500,000 bags.

Fargo officials had been preparing for a 38-foot Red River peak, or 20 feet over flood stage, based on last month's probabilistic forecast by the National Weather Service.

Zavoral says residents should now get ready for a 41-foot crest because the weather has taken a turn for the worse. The weather service says another spring storm is expected this week.

The additional sandbags would increase the city's total to 1.8 million.

Late Spring Slowing Down Area Resorts from Opening

4-10-13

With the unseasonably cold weather and snow in the forecast, area resorts and bait shops have not yet hit the panic button, but they are concerned about the lack of warm weather. Reports of ice thickness on lakes in East Otter Tail County range from 20 to 30 inches.

Chad Gabrielson, Owner of Big McDonald Lake Resort near Dent said
[:19sec Chad Gabrieslon 4-10 Big Mcdonald Resort] "Well, the biggest concern is with fishing opener. If there is a lot of ice on the lake it is going to be hard to get out and fish. And before that the problem is getting cabins ready for people to come in. We have to turn on our water and there are still four foot drifts around the cabins, so it makes it difficult for getting ready for guests"

The Minnesota Fishing Opener is Saturday, May 11.

Snow in the Area Thursday

4-11-13

Travel may be impacted by a snow system today, especially south and ~~south~~ southeast of Fergus Falls.

This is Weather Eye Meteorologist Greg Tatro:

“What we are seeing this morning is Winter Weather Advisory for Fergus Falls up north to Detroit Lakes and Fargo areas. South and East of Fergus Falls is a Winter Storm Warning. We are anticipating the heavier snows to be more so towards Morris, Alexandria, St Cloud and points to the south as the system continues to slowly make its way through.”

Fergus Falls is the line between the heavy and lighter snow. Elbow Lake & Grant County are included in the Storm Warning.

This heavy wet snow may increase the chance of flooding. Another smaller system is expected Sunday night.

FARGO, N.D. (AP) - County officials in the Fargo and Moorhead, Minn., area want to keep track of people who might need help getting around in case of a spring flood.

The vulnerable population registry is meant for people who require additional assistance, especially with transportation, in the event of a disaster.

Officials say those people typically live independently or with the help of a caregiver.

The National Weather Service says there's a 50 percent chance that the Fargo-Moorhead area could be in for one of the top five Red River floods of all time.

Minnesota farmers getting off to slow start

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - The U.S. Department of Agriculture says Minnesota farmers are getting off to a slow start because of the persistent winter.

In its first weekly crops and weather report of the year, the USDA's Minnesota field office says the cold start to April and continuing dry conditions have limited field work compared with last year. Only 0.2 days were suitable for fieldwork last week, and producers don't expect full-scale fieldwork to begin until about April 26th, about two weeks later than last year and five days behind the five-year average.

As the drought persists, topsoil moisture supplies are rated 10 percent very short, 30 percent short, 47 percent adequate and 13 percent surplus. Subsoil moisture is rated 28 percent very short, 46 percent short, 23 percent adequate, and 3 percent surplus.

AIRPORT WORKER CHARGED-MINNEAPOLIS

Minn. airport worker charged with stealing guns

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - A former Minneapolis airport employee is accused of stealing weapons and hundreds of other items from passengers' checked luggage.

Authorities say 23-year-old David Vang of St. Paul is facing several charges, including 10 counts of theft of a firearm.

Court documents say hidden cameras were installed after police at the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport received reports of thefts. Authorities say the video shows Vang removing items from baggage, then taking them to a parking ramp where his wife was waiting in a vehicle.

Investigators say 716 stolen items valued at more than $84,000 were found in his apartment.

Court documents don't list an attorney for Vang. Several phone numbers listed under his name in St. Paul have been disconnected.

Got brush or yard waste to burn? Do it soon

Eds: APNewsNow.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) - Got brush or yard waste to burn? Do it soon.

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is encouraging homeowners to complete their open burning now because restrictions will take effect soon after the snow melts.

Larry Himanga, the DNR's fire prevention coordinator, says the safest way to dispose of this vegetation is recycling or composting. But he says homeowners who choose to burn should do it while there's snow on the ground. A DNR burning permit is not required when there are three or more inches of continuous snow cover, but local restrictions are often stricter.

Spring fire restrictions usually last four to six weeks until the summer green-up. Traditionally, most wildfires occur in April and May, and more than 95 percent of them are caused by human error.

Take-A-Kid fishing June 7-9 and Fish Free

5/21/2013

The Minnesota DNR has designated June 7-9 as Take-A-Kid Fishing weekend and suggests celebrating the end of the school year with a potential angler-to-be by fishing free. "This is a great opportunity to discover fishing," said Mike Kurre, the DNR's mentoring program coordinator. "Minnesotans 16 or older who take a child 15 or younger fishing don't need a license that weekend. Opportunities for beginning anglers abound throughout Minnesota."

Even when it's not Take-A-Kid Fishing weekend, Minnesota residents may fish in a state park without a fishing license if the body of water doesn't require a trout stamp. Anglers must fish from shore or wade in water within the state park or from a boat or a float on a designated lake within a Minnesota state park. More information on fishing in state parks is available at www.mndnr.gov/state\_parks/fishing.html.

"Fishing is one of the easiest and most-accessible outdoor activities in Minnesota," Kurre said. "Take a kid fishing and, come the end of the trip, you're both likely to be hooked."

Number of People Asking About Cancer Tests Increasing

6-7-13

Actress Angelina Jolie announced in mid May that she had her breast removed and was planning for more surgery to have her ovaries removed after she tested positive for a gene that can increase her risk for cancer.

At Lake Region Healthcare Cancer Center, Dr Paul Etzell, thinks they are seeing an increase in the number of people asking about this test.

Etzell says that if immediate family members had cancer, sometimes insurance will pay for the test:

:15 "One aunt that had breast cancer that may not be enough... but if you have a mother and an aunt that both had breast cancer most insurance companies are starting to pick it up but certainly not all."

After a positive test for the gene, what to do may depend on the age of the woman. Women that are done having children or that are post-menopausal may option for the surgery.

The gene that is tested for, BRCA1 is only responsible for a small number of cancers. Etzell says many causes are unknown.

He thinks Angelina Jolie did a wonderful thing by letting the public know she had this done and bringing the topic out in the open.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — An aspiring half-marathon runner in Minnesota whose two-hour training session left her with a sore back was stunned to discover that the pain was not due to a pulled muscle or a slipped disc but that she was about to give birth.

Trish Staine says she had no idea she was pregnant. The 33-year-old Duluth mother of three insists she gained no weight, felt no fetal movement — and that her husband has had a vasectomy.

Staine says she noticed what she now realizes were labor pains after her run at noon on Sunday but she didn't go to the hospital until the following day. She gave birth to Mira — short for Miracle — at 3:25 p.m. Monday.

Mira weighed 6 pounds, 6 ounces, and was 18.9 inches long.

Jensen Completes Dream Big BikeTour

6-3-13

He went through 19 bike tubes and 2 tires, a cell phone that broke in Texas and other hardships but David Jensen has reached his goal of biking across America in the Dream Big Tour.

Both Jensen and his support driver Aaron Christensen are back in Fergus Falls and recovering. Jensen says the weight of his upper body was resting on his hands while biking and that is causing him some problems with his hands:

042 ...a lot of physical toll, no doubt."

He reached the ocean Saturday and was back to work already ~~this~~ Monday morning.

A welcome back reception will be held next Monday (June 10th) at 7 pm in Legacy Hall on the campus of M-State.

The Dream Big tour raised money to start a scholarship fund at M-State.

Athletic Republic Race Saturday

5-28-13

The Athletic Republic half marathon, 5k and one mile race is this Saturday in Fergus Falls.

If you are not planning to walk or run in the races, you could still participate by taking part in the Spectator Spectacular and win a prize by cheering the runners on.

Race Coordinator, Jarrod Asmus, says they will have judges running the race:

Support Runners

:15 "We got a couple of different judges lined up that will be running the race. They will keep their eye out for different places, people that put on a show and help support the runners."

The prize is a gas grill, $100 certificate to Fergus Locker and assorted Coke products.

They could also use a few more volunteers:

:29 "We're sitting good enough to run the race but we could always use a few more. So we encourage people if not going to participate in one of the races and maybe not going to participate in the spectator challenge to stop by and get some information on volunteering. We could use a few extra hands. It's never a bad thing to have some extra people along the course helping for traffic control."

Sign up for races and volunteering on their website:

Orchard Planted at Community Garden

5-27-13

The orchard was planted last week at the Community Garden, Lake Region Takes Root. 29 Fruit Trees were donated by Lake Region Healthcare employees in memory/honor of loved ones. Chaplain Brad Skogen led a service of memorial & dedication prior to the planting session. Master Gardener, Wayne Myrvik, shared his expertise and led the planting crew who got the job done in just 2 hours!

This orchard will leave a legacy of healthy apples, plums, cherries and pears.

So far, 24 raised beds have been planted with vegetables, more additional raised beds will be constructed in the weeks to come.

The next big project will be to put down landscaping fabric and spread the wood mulch over the orchard and raised bed areas.

To volunteer for the garden look for more information on the Lake Region Healthcare website.

They are currently working Mondays and Thursdays from 9a-12 noon but shifts are flexible.
