

Issue	Organization	Date/Time/Duration	Program Segment
Cultural Identity, poverty remediation	Remote Area Medical	1/1/22 to Jan 15, 2023	Remote Area Medical, a major nonprofit provider of pop-up clinics will hold a free, two-day quality dental, vision and medical care clinic to those in need on January 13-15. RAM will be set up at the Jacob Building, located at 3301 E. Magnolia Ave., Knoxville, TN 37914 for three days only.
Cultural Identity	Oak Ridge Art Center	January 1 - 21, 2023	Oak Ridge Art Center's mission is to foster the experience and enjoyment of the visual arts through education, participation, and outreach. They offer regular schedules of classes in fine arts and craft as well as workshops in many media year round. Their current exhibition features two and three dimensional selections from their Permanent Collection featuring international and national artists as well as local favorites. For more information, oak ridge art center dot org
Cultural Identity	Traditional Irish Arts	Jan 1 - Feb 4, 2023	Traditional Irish Arts of Knoxville presents the 15th Annual Tune Junkie Concert Saturday, February 4, 2023, at the Historic Grove Theater in Oak Ridge, TN and featuring Four Leaf Peat, Josh Dukes, Tony DeMarco, John Skelton and more. Tune Junkie Weekend is an annual event featuring sessions, workshops and a concert. For more information or to purchase tickets online, go to www.tradknox.com
Cultural Identity	The Arts and Culture Alliance	Feb 4 - March 12, 2023	The Arts & Culture Alliance and the Metropolitan Knoxville Airport Authority announce a call for entries for Arts in the Airport. Artists may find more information and an online entry form at www.knoxalliance.com/airport-entry . The deadline for entries is Sunday, March 12, 2023.
Cultural Identity	Oak Ridge Art Center	January 21 - TFN, 2023	Oak Ridge Art Center offers a regular schedule of classes in fine arts and craft as well as multi media workshops year round. For more information, oak ridge art center dot org
Cultural Identity	Laurel Theatre	Feb 4 - March 31, 2023	Every 2nd Thursday the Laurel Old Time Jam happens at the Laurel Theatre from 7 to 9 PM. All skill levels are welcome. The Laurel Theatre is located at 1538 Laurel Avenue in Knoxville. For more information the website is Jubilee Arts dot org.

Cultural Identity	The Smoky Moutain Blues Society	January 1 - March 31, 2023	The Smoky Mountain Blues Society strives to preserve, promote and perpetuate Blues music along with fostering unity among all people. They offer programs for veterans and have a Blues in the Schools program. To keep the blues alive in East Tennessee, Smoky Mountain Blues Society offers shows featuring local and national talent. This year's line up includes the Blues Cruises on the Knoxville Riverboat as well as concerts at local venues. More information can be found at smoky mountain blues dot org slash events
Povert Remediation	Remote Area Medical Clinic	2/14/23 to 2/19/23	Remote Area Medical's pop-up clinic offering dental, vision and medical services is coming to Oak Ridge, TN for two days only, Feb. 18-19. RAM will be set up at the Oak Ridge Civic Center, located at 1403 Oak Ridge Turnpike, Oak Ridge, TN 37830.
Cultural Identity	Mabry Hazen House	2/21/23-3/8/23	Mabry-Hazen House is hosting its first Night at the Museum of 2023 on Wednesday, March 8, 2023 from 6pm-9pm! The home will be open for self-guided tours and there will be a fire pit and outdoor games available. For tickets and more information the website is mabry hazen dot com .
Remediating Poverty	Kiwanis Club	3/10/23 - 3/31/23	The Wilderness Road Kiwanis Club is having a benefit concert for young children Larry Sparks and the Lonesome Ramblers will be in concert along with TN 90. The event will be held at Walters State Community College in Tazewell, TN on Friday March 31--doors open at 6PM show starts at 7PM. For tickets and information 423 869 2444. All proceeds go to benefit young children.
Cultural Heritage	MS John Hurt Foundation	3/15/23-3/29/23	Central Cinema is hosting a benefit for the Mississippi John Hurt Foundation on Wednesday evening March 29th at seven. Vintage video footage from rural life in the south and a Louie Bluiie presentation of East Tennessee's Own Howard Armstrong is part of the festivities, plus the world premier of the official trailer to "Hurt: A Mississippi Inspiration" with John Hurt's granddaughter, Mary Frances Hurt Wright in attendance and providing commentary. Tickets may be purchased at Eventbrite dot com by searching Mississippi John Hurt

Culinary Cultural Heritage, workforce development	listeners	01/07/2023	Moonshiners and Sevierville natives Jessi and Joe Baker (the couple who created Ole Smoky Moonshine) share their stories about the Old Smoky Candy Kitchen, creating Ole smoky Distillery, Yee Haw Brewing, Jessi's cookbook, her style of cooking, her chicken and dumplings and her tasty moonshine cocktail. Segment Duration: 14 minutes
Culinary Cultural Heritage	listeners	01/14/2023	A visit with Kayla Sonneby and Kelley Calloway, Founders of a new small food business, Butter From the Block, Knoxville's Small Batch compound Butter made in the shared commercial kitchen and food incubator Real Good Kitchen, Knoxville, TN. Amy visits with these two young food entrepreneurs on the development and creation of their new business, the flavors they produce, and where their compound butter can be found. Segment Duration: 13 1/2 minutes
Education, sustainability	Blount County Public Library, Seed Savers.org	01/21/23	Seed Swap, Seed Library, and Master Gardener Deena Trimble on winter sowing. In honor of the upcoming National Seed Swap Day, January 28, 2014, we are setting the table with swapping seeds. It is that time of the year when we plan our gardens, order our seeds, and, if we are lucky, attend a local seed swap to swap seeds and stories with our neighbors. Today, we visit with Sheila Pennycuff, a Librarian at the Blount County Public Library located in Maryville, TN, and the woman who took an old wooden card catalog and turned it into a seed library. This seed library is located inside the Blount County Public Library. It is an essential service to the community where patrons check out seeds and contribute seeds back to the seed library. We also hear details of the seed and plant swap on Saturday, January 21, 2013, from 10:00 A.M.-12:00 Noon at the Blount County Public Library. Deena Trimble speaks on Seed saving, seed sharing, and winter sowing using plastic jugs with lids. Segment Duration : 17 minutes

Cultural Heritage	listeners	01/28/23	Houston's Mineral Well. New Market, Tennessee. Bill Houston narrates the story of Houston's Mineral Water, New Market, Tennessee - still going strong since 1931 - Bill Houston is the the owner and operator of this Mineral Well that his Grandfather established and this is a treasured watering hole for the community. http://www.houstonsmineralwater.com/ Bill Houston is a very gifted fine artist with focus primarily on Tennessee landscapes. He also taught fine art to students at Carson Newman University for over 40 years. Bill is a 3rd generation, New Market, Tennessee resident. Segment Duration: 21 minutes
Cultural Heritage, Education, sustainability	listeners	02/04/2023	Aliceson Bales of Bales Farm, Mosheim, Tennessee, with her cookbook, shares with us the cooking aspects and nutritional properties of lard from pasture-raised animals. Aliceson also shares a recipe for her white cheddar cheese from her cookbook "Bales Farm Cookbook" with the forward written by Dolly Parton. Marshall Bales, currently 15 years old and the 6th generation to farm on Bales Farm, shares how he started his egg program on Bales Farm. Molly Rochelson and Sally Buice from the musical group The Montvales talk about their group. In addition, Sally shares how she makes her biscuits. Segment Duration: 17 minutes
Cultural Heritage, remediation of poverty, remediation of food scarcity	The Love Kitchen.org	02/11/2023	A visit with the late Helen, Ellen, and Patrick Riggins. Helen and Ellen founded The Love Kitchen on Valentine's Day, 1986, feeding 22 people in need. I visited Helen and Ellen in 2015, and you can hear their voices in this podcast. Their truth that you will see posted on the wall of the love kitchen is "Everybody is God's Somebody" The Love Kitchen provides a Wednesday food pantry, serves 500 meals in-house, and delivers over 3,000 meals to the homebound weekly. That's 155,000 meals a year. So even though Helen and Ellen are no longer with us in body, they are with us in spirit, and The Love Kitchen is still thriving and serving. Segment Duration: 14 minutes

Cultural Heritage, Education, sustainability	listeners	02/18/2023	A discussion about of the book: The Creative Vegetable Gardener, written by a Tennessee Author, Kelly Smith Trimble. 60 ways to cultivate Joy, Playfulness, and Beauty, along with a bounty of food. Kelly also shares a recipe for carrot top pesto. This book offers a different take on backyard gardening, encouraging us to rethink the rules of vegetable gardening. Breaking out of perfectly straight rows or boxy raised beds, Kelly suggests planting in circles, spirals, or labyrinths and encourages us to grow herbs with our flowers and vegetables - mixing perennials with annuals and creating a meditative sanctuary and pollinator paradise. Kelly Smith Trimble is the author of Vegetable Gardening Wisdom. A lifestyle editor for over 20 years, she has worked with HGTV, Southern Living, Lowe's, Bonnie Plants, and the National Park Foundation. A Master Gardener with degrees in English and environmental studies, she grows vegetables, herbs, and flowers in her backyard in Knoxville, Tennessee Segment Duration: 24 minutes
Culinary Cultural Heritage, sustainability	listeners	02/25/2023	Today, we are setting the table with homemade pasta and sauces made with farm-raised ingredients - our guests are Dustin and Stacey Busby of DSB Provisions from Maryville, TN. DSB Provisions is a family farm where Dustin, Stacey, and their 3 kids grow fruits and vegetables, raise chickens and rabbits, make homemade pasta and sauces, and offer a personal chef experience. We also hear from Mary Dee Dee Constantine on the topic of collards and her recipe for a quick meal using collard greens and angel hair pasta that she calls Asian Noodles and Greens. Segment Duration: 13 minutes
Culinary Cultural Heritage, sustainability	listeners	03/04/2023	Seed Saving & Stories with our seed-saving pal John Coykendall of Knoxville, TN. John tells us how he became a seed saver, some of the varieties he has saved, where to find old-time heirloom seed like the ones he saves, and shares plus some cute stories. John and I (Amy) worked together in the garden at Blackberry Farm together in 2007, where I learned from John the importance of this heirloom seed. Segment Duration: 21 minutes
Culinary Cultural Heritage, sustainability, education	Blount County Bee Keepers Association	3/11/2023	Helping the Honeybee with D & Jim Brown, Honey Rock Herb Farm owners, Louisville, Tennessee. This is their 36th year of growing the good life at Honey Rock Herb Farm, and they have raised bees for over 40 years. They share with us how important bees and pollinators are to all of us, how to attract them, and steps we can take to protect them. Also, in Fred Sauceman's Pot Luck Radio series, he features Hot Slaw from Polk County, Tennessee. Segment Duration: 19 minutes

Culinary Cultural Heritage, sustainability, education	listeners	3/18/23	Flora De Mel. Meadery, Rossville Georgia. Today, we are setting the table with Mead. My guest is Jay Martin, Co-Owner of Flora De Mel, a Meadery and full-service restaurant located in Rossville, GA, just over the state line of TN from downtown Chattanooga. Jay is a proponent of urban beekeeping. This business sprang out of his and his business partner and wife Stephanie's beekeeping. And in this show, Jay will answer the question of ...What a demijohn is. In Fred Sauceman's Potluck Radio Series, he features the last surviving Blue Circle restaurant in Bristol, Tennessee. Segment Duration: 23 minutes
Culinary Cultural Heritage, sustainability	listeners	3/25/23	Today we are setting the table with a farm visit. We visit with a farmer, garden manager, farm manager, and Chef from Bluestem Hollow, located in Greenback, TN. They also operate a downtown Knoxville urban farm - The Old City Gardens on Depot Ave. On the Greenback farm, they raise grassland beef, chickens for pastured eggs, and sustainably grown fruits and vegetables, along with a lovely event venue. Chef Robert Allen (formerly of Citico's) is on property. He creates elevated farm-to-table meals on the farm for baby showers, weddings, and corporate events, and he also heads the catering program. Today, we focus on their CSA program that they are signing people up for now and hope to have all shares sold by early April. Segment Duration: 18 minutes
Cultural Heritage	Cades Cove Preservation Association	3/25/23	We also hear from Lois Caughron, known as the last woman out of the cove, meaning Cades Cove of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. This used to be her and her late husband Kermit Cughron's home. Lois and her daughter reminisce about Kermit, his love for honey bees, honey, and saving cucumber seed. Segment Duration: 7 minutes