6-1-16

What will those evangelical leaders discuss with Donald Trump at their gathering in a few weeks? Tony Perkins, president of the Family Research Council, joins me to talk about it. Plus: Dr. Dan Allender discusses the hope of transformation after suffering sexual abuse. His book is called, "Healing the Wounded Heart." That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

The Bible is the blueprint for the values of Western Civilization. And yet, our culture has neglected the very framework that holds our liberties intact. How do we rescue it? Diana Weber-Bederman joins me to discuss that and her book, "Back to the Ethic." Plus: The Left's new attacks on Christian colleges -- and how some Christian colleges are undermining their own mission. That and more on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

The Obama Administration is intent upon moving America to a "green" economy, even though fossil fuels are the lifeblood of the world's energy! Energy expert Stephen Moore joins me to explain why oil, coal and natural gas are the best energy sources for our nation and the world. His book is called, "Fueling Freedom." Plus: University of San Diego law professor Gail Heriot on why she's getting death threats for speaking the truth on transgenderism. That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-6-16

Burning Man. Lightning in a Bottle. Electric Forest. These are just a few of the hugely popular transformational festivals that are pushing a pagan worldview to millions around the globe. How should the Christian respond? Carl Teichrib, editor of Forcing Change, will be my guest as he educates us on this cultural phenomenon. Don't miss Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-7-16

Many know about the incredible sacrifice and triumph of Olympian Eric Liddell through the Oscar-winning film, "Chariots of Fire." But what more should we know about Liddell's God-honoring life as a Christian missionary after his gold medal? Biographer Duncan Hamilton joins me to talk about it as we discuss his book, "For the Glory." That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-8-16

The far-Left Southern Poverty Law Center is out with a report calling for Congress to ban reparative therapy for homosexuals. How is this radical group misrepresenting the truth? Reparative therapist David Pickup joins me to explain. Plus: Retired Lt. Gen. Jerry Boykin from the Family Research Council has now been banned as a military prayer breakfast speaker. Why are biblical Christians being marginalized? That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

So many end-times views, so hard to understand them all! Billy Hallowell from The Blaze will offer some guidance as we discuss his new book, "The Armageddon Code." Plus: The former head of Exodus International is preaching at an LGBT "Pride" service at Washington National Cathedral this weekend. Alan Chambers' former colleague, Stephen Black of First Stone Ministries, will offer his thoughts on the abandonment of biblical truth. That's on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

How can young Christians escape the riptide of relativism? Jonathan Morrow, founder of Think Christianly and director with the Impact 360 Institute, will join me. He'll explain how to defend the Word of God as we discuss his ministry's online course, "Explore Truth." That and more next time on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

Another horrific terrorist attack has been waged against America, this time at a gay nightclub in Orlando, Florida. So why are ACLU attorneys blaming the "Christian Right?" We'll talk about it. Plus: Jeff King, president of International Christian Concern, brings us an update on the ISIS genocide against Christians -- and why Muslims are turning in faith to the Lord Jesus like never before. Don't miss Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY!

Southern Baptists will gather in St. Louis this week at their annual convention amid reports of both declining membership and baptisms. Dr. Jason Allen, president of Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, joins me to talk about it and what the future looks like for the largest Protestant denomination in the United States. His book is called, "The SBC and the 21st Century." That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

Tenured professor Robert Oscar Lopez endured years of harassment at California State University, Northridge, over his Christian faith and his conservative politics. Now, he's finally quit, saying he could no longer have both Jesus Christ and his job simultaneously. He'll join me to tell his incredible story about what he endured and why Christians in America should see his experience as a cautionary tale about Leftist control of academia. That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

A newly released report shows that the Common Core State Standards aren't preparing students for college or career. Dr. E. Ray Moore from Exodus Mandate joins me to explain what Christians need to know about these standards and why they should be another reason to get our kids out of public schools. He'll talk about his new film, "Escaping Common Core: Setting Our Children Free." That and more on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-17-16

What is moral narcissism, and how is it undermining our republic? I'll talk it over with Roger Simon, CEO of PJ Media and author of "I Know Best." Plus: How can the reality of God as our heavenly Father make a particular difference in the lives of men? Pete Alwinson joins me to discuss his book, "Like Father, Like Son." That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-20-16

It's one of the biggest controversies in Christendom: Do we have free will in salvation, or don't we? I'll discuss it with Scott Christenson, author of "What About Free Will?" Plus: David Kyle Foster from Mastering Life Ministries discusses his new film for families of homosexuals. It's called "How Do You Like Me Now? When a Child, Parent, Spouse or Sibling Says They're Gay." That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-21-16

How does the new attack on law and order make everyone less safe? City Journal's Heather MacDonald joins me to talk about her book, "The War on Cops." Plus: Who are some of the key figures in church history you need to know about? Robert Letham, author of "Gamechangers," will join me to explain. That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-22-16

Is the Genesis account of creation literal, or merely literary? I'll talk it over with Kenneth Gentry, author of "As It Is Written." Plus: Can you just be saved and not serve Jesus as Lord? Bill Hull joins me. We'll discuss it and his book, "Conversion and Discipleship." That and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-23-16

We often discuss witnessing to atheists, secularists or members of cults. But what about witnessing to liberals inside the church? Dr. Ron Rhodes from Reasoning from the Scriptures Ministries joins me to talk about some liberal objections to biblical Christianity, and how you can answer them with both truth and love. Tune into Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-24-16

The Left always pushes the idea of tolerance, but it's obvious its true ideology is "TOLERism." What is that, and how do we respond to it? I'll talk it over with author Howard Rotberg. Plus: Is marijuana really a harmless substance that we should decriminalize? We'll get some answers from Ed Gogek, author of "Marijuana Debunked." That and more Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-27-16

We've seen it in the rise of bitcoin and Apple Pay: the world is moving toward a cashless society. What are the implications for both consumers and businesses, and what implications does this shift have for biblical prophecy? I'll discuss it with Patrick Wood, author of "Technocracy Rising: The Trojan Horse of Global Transformation." That's on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-28-16

The Left has achieved much through the power of the courts, and now we're facing a judicial time bomb. How do constitutional conservatives stop unelected judges from transforming America? Daniel Horowitz, Senior Editor at Conservative Review, will join me to discuss it and his book, "Stolen Sovereignty." Plus: The largest health insurer in Minnesota is leaving that state's Obamacare exchanges. Dale Bellis, executive director of Liberty HealthShare, joins Janet to talk about the legal alternatives to government-run healthcare. That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

What are the marks of a true believer in Jesus Christ? I'll talk it over with Bob Christopher, host of the Basic Gospel and Just a Minute! radio shows. Plus: John Dickson discusses his book, "A Doubter's Guide to the Ten Commandments." That's on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

6-30-16

Angry parenting: It's not uncommon, and it's also unhealthy. How can moms and dads biblically deal with the stress of raising children? Israel Wayne, author of "Pitchin' a Fit," will offer his thoughts. Plus: Jackie Bledsoe unpacks for us "The Seven Rings of Marriage." That and more on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

Do science and the Bible really conflict with one another, or does science actually agree with the Word of God? I'll talk it over with Dr. Michael Guillen, former Harvard physics instructor and author of the book, "Amazing Truths." Plus: Conservative Review's Nate Madden on why Congress should ban sex-selection and disability abortion. That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-4-16

The Bible says Christians are to love, encourage and pray for one another. So why do we believe discipling should be left to the professionals? Dr. Paul Tautges joins me to talk about it and his book, "Counseling One Another." Plus: Dan Gainor from the Media Research Center on Disney's war against Christianity. That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-5-16

With more arrests linked to terrorism and more acceptance of leftist policies, America is changing. Barbwire.com's Paul Hair joins me to discuss how one Pennsylvania city and mayor shine a spotlight on a national problem. Plus: What is "evangelical terrorism," and how is it affecting Western millennials? We'll talk about it. That's next time on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-6-16

The Bible is the most attacked book in the history of the world. How have the attacks come, and how has God always used His people to guard His Word? Michael McCormack joins me to discuss his book, "Killing the Bible." Plus: Dr. Frank Moncher from the Culture of Life Foundation reveals why living together before marriage harms individuals and families. That's next time on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

In this age of interfaith impulses, how do we respond to the claim that Christians and Muslims really worship the same God? First, we must examine who the true God really is -- and who He is not. Apologist and author Greg Koukl, president of Stand to Reason, joins me for a vigorous and biblical defense of the God who actually is. You won't want to miss it -- be sure to join for Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-8-16

Everyone wonders what heaven will be like, but what about what it WON'T be like? Stephen Moroney joins me to talk about it and his book, "What you Won't Find in Heaven." Plus: How do we unlock the forgotten power of the American idea? Robert Curry will stop by to examine the ideals that made our nation great. His book is called: "Common Sense Nation." I'll talk it over with Bob Christopher, host of Basic Gospel and Just a Minute! Plus: Will a progressive denomination in Canada finally oust its famous atheist woman pastor? We'll talk about that and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-28-16

How do we pray effectively for our nation, our neighbors and for ourselves? Anne Graham Lotz joins me to talk about it and her book, "The Daniel Prayer." Plus: What's the best plan for your budget? Financial expert Tim Maurer joins me to discuss his book, "Simple Money: A No-Nonsense Guide to Personal Finance." That's next time on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-20-16

The Bible says Jesus Christ is the only mediator between God and man -- but the world doesn't want to hear it! But we still have to preach it. Dr. Robert Jeffress, pastor of First Baptist Dallas, joins me to talk about it and his book, "Not All Roads Lead to Heaven." Plus: Barbara Rainey talks about the art of being a wife as we discuss her book, "Letters to My Daughters." That's on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

Feminists today talk about a war on women, but they're not speaking for conservative Christian women. And that's why Penny Young Nance, CEO of Concerned Women for America, says it's time for God's women to stand up. She'll join me to discuss her book, "Feisty and Feminine." Plus: The claim of a so-called gay pastor that Whole Foods wrote a slur on his cake is revealed as yet another LGBT hoax. We'll talk about that and more on Thursday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

A public health expert who lost his job at the Georgia Department of Public Health after they reviewed his sermons is fighting back legally. We'll get the details from Jeremy Dys, attorney at First Liberty Institute. Plus: How do you get a college degree without going broke? Dr. Alex Chediak, professor at California Baptist University, will lay it all out for us. That and more on Friday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-25-16

How do we make sense of the most dangerous and complicated region on earth? Israeli intelligence analyst Avi Melamed will join me to talk about it and his book, "Inside the Middle East." Plus: There's been more lawlessness from the White House on Obamacare. Nathan Nascimento, senior policy advisor at Freedom Partners, will join me to talk about it. That and more on Monday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

Is the United States Constitution living and breathing, as the progressives contend? Or was its meaning fixed by the Founders at the time of its enactment? The answer matters more than you might think. Randy Barnett, professor of legal theory and director of the Georgetown Center for the Constitution, joins me to talk about it and his book, "Our Republican Constitution." That and more on Tuesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.

4-27-16

Galatians 5:1 tells us: "It is for freedom that Christ has set us free." What does it mean to be free in the Christian life? I'll talk it over with Bob Christopher, host of Basic Gospel and Just a Minute! Plus: Will a progressive denomination in Canada finally oust its famous atheist woman pastor? We'll talk about that and more on Wednesday's JANET MEFFERD TODAY.
