The sole purpose of In Him Ministries is to be a 'very present help in the time of need'. As a ministry they are called to build and bridge the gap in the spirit of Love and Compassion, in one accord and with one purpose Christ Jesus. In doing so, they are able to boldly reach the lost, hurt and forgotten.

In Him Ministries is community minded. Their signature bible verse is Matthew 25-31-46, "I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me. I was sick and you looked after me. I was in prison and you came and to me. Whatever you did to the least of these you have done onto me."

As a ministry, they address the everyday life situations and issues that everyone is faced with from time to time. But they cannot do it alone, however together, the work can be accomplished!

Sad news... New Street House for Men flooded out due to a broken pipe that burst on the third floor. The Town of Georgetown condemned the 11 bed housing program until the costly repairs are completed. All men are now homeless. Jim and Cathy Martin are -now- also homeless. Please pray for the ability to solve these problems as quickly as possible!

A dozen men were living in the Georgetown transitional home, but they are now displaced after that home was condemned because of frozen and burst pipes which could no longer brave this week's freezing temperatures.

If you'd like to help these men, contact Jim Martin at (302)658-8556.

Outreach to Youth - using contemporary styles, at a familiar venue - has proven effective in reaching youth with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Impact World Tour has traveled around the World and across the USA With their exciting and high tech presentation of the Gospel which includes break dancing, gymnastics, and a light show.

We are fortunate that Delaware has come to their attention and Impact World Tour has altered their agenda to provide a ministry presentation here on the Delmarva Peninsula.

The millennial generation will graduate high school with fewer than 10% believing in Christ and half of those who go on to College will loose their faith. The Gospel of Jesus Christ presented to youth in a contemporary and meaningful way is a realistic hope for reversing the trend. The method is to provide this dynamic presentation in the facility of rented high school gymnasiums after preparing the youth in the area for this unique opportunity. Participating Churches will provide Counselors and small group Discipleship classes.

Men and Women who know the Lord and share a burden to save the next generation are needed to begin the planning to reach the youth of New Castle County. Pastors, evangelism and outreach workers, laity as well as businessmen, educators and many others are needed to do the work of organizing the County wide presentations of the Gospel to our youth. Impact World tour will help us organize every step of the way.

MISSIONARIES BEGIN RELIEF WORK IN NEPAL

How can we help?

A 7.8 magnitude earthquake struck Nepal, less than 50 miles outside the capital city of Kathmandu on Saturday

The quake has killed more than 4,400 people. Many fear the death toll could reach as high as 10,000.

*The earthquake left over 8,000 injured. Eight million people across Nepal are affected.
 And One million children are urgently in need of help.
 This is estimated to be the worst earthquake to hit Nepal in 80 years.*

Several Christian Missionary organizations are already on the ground assisting victims of the massive earthquake. -- Gospel for Asia, Samaritans Purse, Mercy Corps, and Christian Aid Mission

Each of these groups are trust worthy and they equip Native Missionaries that are working through local church contacts to provide aid in the name of Christ.

They will be providing relief items such as shelter materials, clean water supplies, and hygiene and cooking kits. Their teams work in the Name of Jesus, ministering with care and compassion to those who are suffering.

Heller

Greetings!

JJ Heller (and her husband Dave) are getting in the family mini van and visiting Christian radio Monday August 17 through Thursday August 20.

I am hoping to keep them busy for those four days. They will love to come and visit with you and talk about JJ's new album "Sound of a Living Heart" that streets THAT Friday the 21st! If the visit can happen around a meal time they will love to take you out to eat. If you want to plug them in for an on-air, a staff devotional, a recorded bit in the studio – seriously, they will be ready for it ALL!

I was with JJ and Dave recently on a promo tour and they are kind and sweet, no pressure, and above all – SO thankful for the role that Christian radio has played in wildly expanding their music ministry.

Are there days and times that work better for you than others? Or days and times to stay away from?

If you could get back to me quickly (we are two weeks out), then we can set them on a path for a meaningful and successful week.

While on the road with them recently, they did "This Year" on-air, which kicked off 2015 with a social media BANG (millions of Facebook views and a few hundred thousand shares in about a week).

"This Year"

And then here is an acoustic version of the new single.

Subject: today's morning show

Good Morning,

First I have to say how much I enjoy listening to your radio station. A few months after you went on the air a friend introduced me to the station and I have been hooked ever since. I didn't realize how much music affected my attitude towards everything. If I was in a bad mood I would pop in a hard rock CD and my mood would get worse. If I would listen to something lighter, it would get better.

So thank you for being on the air. Yours is the only station I listen to now.

This morning, as with other mornings, things are said that really touch my heart. Bill spoke about Peter and self-forgiveness and it really hit home with me. I am the type of person that owns up to my mistakes and will do whatever is necessary to fix them. I work at a job where no one is allowed to forget past mistakes whether work related or personal. A discussion will begin about something and when I try to speak about it I'm told I'm not allowed to speak about it because I (insert whatever past mistake I've made). I got to the point that I thought if my co-workers can't forgive me then how can I even think about forgiving myself. Throw in a failed marriage and you get the picture. I can't begin to tell you how difficult it is to work in an environment like that. I have applied for other jobs, but there has been no luck. A couple of years ago the pastor at a church I attended preached on forgiveness and one of the verses he used was Hebrews 9:14 (KJV) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God? That verse is now hanging on the wall in my office and whenever someone starts in about a past mistake I look up and read that verse. It reminds me that God who sent his Son to wash away my sins with his precious blood forgave me. So I need to be able to forgive myself. If others can't forgive me that is their problem not mine. Satan is trying to use those people to bring me down. When I came to that realization the song that spoke to me the most and has become almost a personal anthem for me is Big Daddy Weave "Redeemed". That was the same song Bill played after he spoke this morning.

It has taken me a while to come to the realization that God has a purpose for me to be in a job that is difficult for me. I will continue to apply for jobs that I am qualified for and when the time comes God will open up the right job for me. Until then I will keep Hebrews 9:14 on my office wall to remind me of God's grace and forgiveness and listen to "Redeemed".

God Bless you all for the wonderful work you're doing.

Thank you,

Donna Austin

Hi Kristin

Regardless of what you and the bridge may or may not be able to do. I wanted to thank you for listening and for praying for my family. I am very fortunate compared to others. We have a roof over our heads and we have enough to mostly maintain. I just get frustrated that the kids make sacrifices especially this time of year bc of our struggles.

But thru it all I have learned that as long as we have each other that is the most important gift of all. A little story, this summer when things were not such a struggle, I told each of the three boys to pick one thing, any one thing they wanted to do this summer, and I would find a way to make it happen since they have had to make so many sacrifices during our year of struggle. My youngest was easy ..boardwalk and fishing. My one twin Thomas, new fishing gear..my other son Jerry was sitting quietly.. I asked him what his thoughts were...his response Mom I have watched you go thru being homeless and making sure we have enough to eat and a place to stay, I watched as it broke your heart to give us to Dad...can i use my choice to help other homeless families? I knew in that moment that God showed me that thru it all i have done one thing right and taught my children to be loving self sacrificing unselfish givers ..for that memory alone i do not mind going thru what we do every week...

So either way, because i know many families are struggling, my family has been blessed just by you listening to my story. God bless you and will talk to you on Monday.

Thanks again

88.7 The Bridge adds longtime Eastern Shore radio personality to staff

Rodney Baylous, a longtime radio personality on Joy 102.5 (WOLC), is joining the staff of 88.7 The Bridge as midday host. Baylous will be on the air weekdays from 10am to 2pm, originating his broadcasts from Pocomoke City, MD.

88.7 The Bridge (WKNZ) has been serving Southern Delaware and New Jersey since 2010 from studios in Milford and transmitting facilities in Harrington. The non-profit ministry recently acquired 92.5, WICO-FM, licensed to Pocomoke and now reaches a population exceeding 750,000 from Middletown, DE south to Exmore, VA – and from South Jersey to Easton, MD.

Rodney Baylous was born in South Boston, Virginia. He attended Liberty University where he studied broadcast communications and had the opportunity to teach broadcasting courses at Liberty. He's been in broadcasting for a number of years working at stations in Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland – most recently at WOLC Joy 102.5 in Princess Anne.

Rodney has been married to his wife Lisa for over 20 years and have two awesome children Courtney and Tyler.

He began his broadcasting duties with The Bridge on Monday, June 12th.

Bill Sammons, Jr, president and general manager of The Bridge, said the addition of Baylous to the staff of The Bridge is part of the stations commitment to provide local programming and to serve the entire Delmarva Peninsula. "Christian music is available online and via out of state networks, but there is something special about local Christian radio where the announcers live and work and worship in the community. The Bridge exists to connect people to Jesus, and to each other, and Rodney shares that passion with us. Having an announcer based out of Pocomoke will be a tremendous asset as we work to serve this region", Sammons said.

The Bridge will soon be launching a new frequency in Ocean City, MD as well. A translator at 94.3 FM will be on the air by early summer.

88.7 The Bridge is a non-profit ministry owned and operated by The Bridge of Hope, Inc. More information and a link to listen online is available at 887thebridge.com

Team-

We were able to help bless four different families this Christmas season through a small benevolence fund we had set aside. Many of you have already heard their stories or have seen the emails come through. There were four different ones over the last week. One was a mom named Heather. They are living in Greenwood Inn. We were able to pay for a week's stay directly to the motel for their family as their next payment was due on Christmas Eve. This freed up the little bit of money they would have had after paycheck to buy some Christmas gifts. Kim also dropped off a basket of goodies for their family to their room. Se Heather's note below....very grateful!

Andrew dropped off a Walmart card lastnight to another lady named Amy. And I am buying a few gifts for a 6 year old girl today with hopes that we can take a team trip to Harrington tomorrow to bless this family as well.

God is so good and it's amazing being able to spread His love across our community!

Kristen and your co workers,

I have no idea where to begin. Thank you doesnt seem nearly enough for what you have done for my family. My husband just took his lunch at 1130, so i shared with him your news right after we hung up. My husband has only cried two times in front of me. He was brought to tears by your kindness. You do not have any idea the stress you have lifted from his shoulders. For that alone I thank you. On Xmas morning seeing the kids faces will be priceless. Thank you.

See things for us have not been easy. We met on a dating site in April 2014 and married 14 days later. We hardly knew each other, this led to many mistakes on our part, a whole lot of growing up and learning about the other. We have gone thru what most couples have not even endured in a 20 year marriage over the last 2 years. We lost a home, he had an affair, we lost a child, we have been homeless, thru it all we have come thru it together. We have fought hard this last year to forgive and learn to trust and rebuild our lives. The next piece of our puzzle will be hopefully by our third anniversary in May and hopefully by that weekend we will be in our own home. Then we can have the kids back under one roof, and i will have a safe place to baby sit my first grandson due this April.. So honestly your gift is a light in a very long tunnel our family had veen traveling and we can now see our future within grasp. Thank you for your generosity and the gift of love you and your coworkers and your donor has blessed us with. May you have a merry christmas and a wonderful new year.

Forever in your debt

Absolutely precious!

I shared this with Kristin by text earlier, but I thought I'd let you all know as well; when I dropped off the goodie basket to Heather this morning she told me I looked familiar. She looked very familiar to me as well. After we spoke, we found out we both graduated from Woodbridge (she was just 2 years behind me in school). So cool how God connects and re-connects folks 😊

Jobs for Life Employer Panel

Good morning,

The address for the Dover Public Library is:

35 E Lookerman St, Dover, DE 19901 (We will be in Multi-Purpose Room A)

The purpose of the Employers' Perspectives & Expectations Panel is to give participants the opportunity to gather information by asking fact-finding questions about a job, career path, company, jobs/company expectations, requirements, work environment, etc. This activity not only helps them practice interacting with employers, but it also helps them in the process of narrowing down their job interests.

Participants will share more about their career goals prior to Q&A but we do have two individuals who scored in the Artistic category of their career assessment. Communications, Literary Arts, Drama & Dance, and Visual Arts occupations all fall into this category which is why I thought having a representative from the Bridge might be helpful.

I hope this helps you to prepare and I look forward to seeing you soon. If you need to reach me you can do so at (302) 538-9193

Angela

88.7 The Bridge Public File - Programming & Issues

WKNZ & WNKZ

3rd Quarter - 2017

Hands and Feet initiatives

The Bridge initiated and coordinated a service project that we called Hands and Feet. We ran promotional announcements and recruited approximately 300 people who showed up on a Saturday morning, September 16th, volunteering for a work day at three area non-profit ministries: The Denton Camp, Delmarva Teen Challenge and HALO in Salisbury.

Listeners raked and bagged leaves, picked up trash, painted, washed, cleaned, stacked, folded and did an assortment of other chores to help these non profits.

The focus for these ministries is homelessness, drug and alcohol addiction rehabilitation and education.

Drug Addiction – Opioid epidemic

The Bridge hosted a group of broadcasters in the first quarter 2017, and as a result did an intensive on-air education campaign in the fourth quarter to help fight the opioid epidemic in our region.

We aired educational spots for families, and for addicts. We offered resources for help, counseling and information.

Approximately 8-10 spots per day were aired, along with interviews and discussions.

We also set up a special website called Loveworthsharing.com where we posted articles and information and resources to help addicts and their families.
