US Policy	Commonwealth Club	10/5/145:00am	:30 minutes	General Anthony Zinni, USMC (ret.); Special Envoy to the Middle East (ret.); Author, Before the First Shots Are Fired: How America Can Win or Lose off the Battlefield In conversation with Michael Nacht, Ph.D., Professor and former Dean, Goldman School of Public Policy, U.C. Berkeley; Former Assistant Secretary of Defense for Global Strategic Affairs, Obama Administration. The question of whether the U.S. should act as the world's police force has been disputed for decades – should the U.S. respond to issues abroad with military force? Retired four-star General Tony Zinni examines this question and breaks down the process of how the U.S. decides to go to war in his latest book. Drawing on his extensive military career spanning several decades, General Zinni analyzes America's history of military action, the role of government in the military process and the necessary shifts in order to make the decision to go to war a more transparent process.
Health	Tuned In with Mike Johnson	10/5/14 5:30am	:30 minutes	Autoimmune The Cause and the Cure is a revolutionary book that has brought together scientific research from around the world, showing autoimmune sufferers, not only the cause of their disease, but also a diet-based means for a cure. The symptoms of autoimmune disease can now be clearly explained and traced back to their origin. The evidence proves that these diseases share a common source, and that this source is not viral, bacterial, or genetic, but originates with a fundamental lack of nutrients that are essential to the functioning of your body. What began as a personal journey of pain and suffering for the author has resulted in life-saving knowledge for autoimmune sufferers everywhere.
