B. Diversity in Recruitment

WETA acknowledges that modern best business practice is to treat each employee as an individual with a unique set of traits, skills and background. We are a stronger organization when we have people of diverse backgrounds, people who bring to bear different styles of thinking and have faced different challenges in life. In order to increase and improve the diversity of our workforce, WETA posts all open vacancies to job boards that reach a diverse audience and skill set. Selected sites include: Women in Film and Video, National Association of Black Journalists, National Hispanic Media Coalition, 40 Plus of Greater Washington D.C., South Asian Journalists Association, USO Employment Pipeline and the National Lesbian and Gay Journalists Association.

C. Sponsorship of Community Events About Employment Opportunities

WETA continues to provide facility tours of its radio and television production centers to a variety of organizations within the DC Metro Area. During these tours, WETA discusses its operations and opportunities for employment and volunteering. WETA has hosted over 20 tours since June 1, 2015 to groups including, but not limited to the following:

- Boy Scout troops
- College alumni groups
- International journalists with the US Telecommunications Training Institute

D. Internship, Fellowship, Apprenticeship Programs

Internship Program

WETA's Internship program is designed to provide students and recent graduates with practical work experience and educational and learning opportunities in the field of public broadcasting. In addition, Human Resources also offers resume workshops and benefits seminars, where interns learn best practices in resume writing and receive a basic overview of various benefits available in a workplace environment. Interns work in a variety of departments including Communications, Digital Media and National Program Development. Interns serve in an unpaid, volunteer capacity; however, transportation stipends may be available.

Throughout the year, WETA hosted 23 interns from 15 schools:

- American University
- Boston University
- College of William and Mary
- Davidson College
- Dickinson College
- George Mason University
- George Washington University
- Georgetown University
- James Madison University
- Northern Virginia Community College
- Trinity College
- Tulane University
- Virginia Commonwealth University
- Virginia Tech

Fellowship Program

The Washington Week Fellowship for emerging journalists is a six-month, paid position where individuals gain hands-on, real-world experience working on Washington Week with Gwen Ifill, the longest running news analysis program on PBS.

- Two Fellows were selected and participated in the program.
- Fellowships ran from June 2015 to November 2015 and December 2015 to May 2016.

Apprenticeship Program

The PBS NewsHour Broadcast News Assistant and Online News Assistant programs are six-month, paid, entry-level positions for recent graduates. The programs are aimed at providing practical experience in a news room setting. News Assistants are exposed to all aspects involved in producing a nightly television news program or an up-to-date news website. Seventeen people have participated in the program since June 1, 2015.

E. Employee Training Programs

Tuition Reimbursement

WETA offers all regular, full-time employees tuition reimbursement for courses related to professional development. Each course must be taken at an accredited institution and upon successful completion of the course, WETA will reimburse the employee. Since June 2015, two employees have taken advantage of this program.

Career Development Training

WETA offers employee training related to career, professional and personal skill development. Since June 1, 2015 staff training has included programs specialized in various technical platforms, such as AVID and Drupal, multimedia workshops, leadership seminars, and courses on financial wellness and active shooter preparedness.

WETA offers an Employee Assistance Program (“EAP”) to support employee work-life balance. Participation in the program is confidential and is designed to offer professional help to employees and members of their immediate family living in the same household. The EAP offers considerable professional training through Skill Builders and Online Seminars on topics for employees and managers, such as:

- Accomplished Employee
- Effective Manager
- Career Development
- Training and Development
- Workplace Diversity
- Workplace Productivity

- Workplace Safety
- Career Transition

Skill Builder training includes such topics as: how to be a leader at work, appreciating personality differences, business etiquette and professionalism, effective communication, emotional intelligence for success, and effective time management.

The EAP delivers monthly seminars on topics such as retirement prep, addiction, multigenerational care giving, and anti-bullying. Seminars held in previous months remain accessible on-demand through the EAP website.

Through the Corporate Executive Board, WETA offers tools for all staff to improve skills in effectively assessing their own work, interpersonal communications, performance management, and how to provide peer-to-peer feedback. Training tools are available online for staff members to access at their convenience.

WETA staff has also participated in various industry-wide meetings. These meetings include the PBS Annual Meeting, National Association of Broadcasters Conference, Public Media Business Association Annual Meeting, and Human Resource Leadership Forum meetings.

F. Management Training on Methods of Ensuring Equal Employment Opportunity

WETA requires all staff to complete online training programs on Preventing Discrimination and Harassment and Workplace Diversity. These trainings help staff identify and recognize behavior which may be discriminatory or harassing, and empowers staff to report behaviors that may constitute discrimination or harassment. The trainings also ensure that managers and supervisors have the knowledge and skills required to ensure equal employment opportunity and to manage staff legally and fairly.

WETA's Human Resources Department regularly refers managers to WETA's EAP as a resource for issues that arise in the workplace. The EAP offers additional online training on topics such as Cultural Diversity in the Workplace as well as articles discussing Age Discrimination in the Workplace.
