January 16, 2023 – Kendall County Scam Alert

Interview with Sheriff Al Auxier - It's not a new scam, as it keeps coming back where the caller says they are with the Kendall County Sheriff's Office with a convincing message to call back if they leave one. Usually it's to tell you there's an outstanding warrant or fine that needs to be paid. The Kendall County Sheriff's Office wants you to know they would never call you to alert you to a warrant or ask for payment over the phone. Also never give out your personal information or wire money to an unsolicited caller. If you get this call, report it right away, and if you're a victim of this scam, report it with as much detail as possible...the phone number left,

Only use a generator outdoors and away from windows to prevent fire and carbon monoxide poisoning. If you lose power, turn off your heater and wait a few minutes after the power is restored before turning it and other large electronics back on. Disconnect appliances and electronics to avoid damage from electrical surges.

The police department needs to be prepared for the worst. All the officers go through Home Front Trauma training which replicates the worst of scenarios under war like conditions with the sights, sounds, and smells of a real traumatic event. Andrew Martinez with Home Front Trauma recently dropped off Trauma Medical Bags for every School Resource Officer for a few schools in Boerne, but they need more to cover the others...
