

Forever Communications

1st Quarter 2020

Issues and Public Service

Submitted April 6, 2020

WBVR-FM

Bowling Green, Kentucky

2020 Q1 WBVR

January 2020

Jan 2nd 8:45 Kim w City of BG
Jan 6th 8:45 Steve with CASA " Training" 270-782-5353
Jan 8th 8:45 Michelle with New Beginnings "Pins And Pony Bowling Tournament"
270-991-0591
Jan 9th 8:45 Kim with Relay for Life " Kick -off

Jan 13th 8:45 Jessie Anderson Room in the Inn, BG 270-202-7971
Jan 14th 8:45 Student with Warren county School " MLK Day"
Jan 15th 8:45 BG Police Dept " Recruitment"

Jan 20th 8:45 Melissa Black with Army National Guard Recruiting 304-5333
Jan 21st 8:45 Caitlin with FSP " Watch your Language" 270 -404-2380
Jan 22nd 8:45 Linda Hill with FSP "Watch your Language " 270-782-8906
Jan 23rd 8:45 Julie Ranger with BG High " Princess Tea" 270-791-4262

Jan 27th 8:45 Page with Rail Park "Romance At the Railpark"
Jan 29th 8:45 Chandler Park " Free Day of Dentistry" Martha's Account
Jan 30th 8:45 St Jude radiothon

2020 Q1 WBVR

February 2020

Feb 3rd 8:45 Mckinze Willard with Hospice " Chocolate Fest" 502-553-3143
Feb 4th 8:45 Judy with BGWHS
Feb 5th 8:45 Eric w BG Convention & Visitors Bureau 270-782-0800 *** no show****
Feb 6th 8:45 Kim w City of BG
Feb 7th 8:45 *****Lone Star Rodeo

Feb 10th 8:45 Denise with Family Enrichment " Run and Walk for Children
Feb 11th 8:45 Dana Matukas with Norton Children's Hospital Heart Month/ Brave
Heart/ New CICU
Feb 12th 8:45 Jonathan with WKU Fund Raiser for Disk Golf Nationals 270 421-
3330
Feb 14th 8:45 Chandler Park " Free Day of Dentistry" Martha's Account

Feb 17th 8:45 Jessie Anderson Room in the Inn, BG 270-202-7971
Feb 18th 8:45 Crocker Law Media Group Grown Up Egg Hunt/Ashley Reynolds
270-202-6082
Feb 19th 8:45 Chandler Park " Free Day of Dentistry" Martha Account
Feb 20th 8:45 Page with Rail Park "Magic Dinner and Bourbon"

Feb 24th 8:45 Jessica Heffinger w Glory Baby Ministries" Derby Partners
Funraising Auction
Feb 25th 8:45 Kim with Relay for Life " Purse, Pouts & Pearls"
Feb 26th 8:45 Glynda Chu "Crime Stoppers Breakfast"
Feb 27th 8:45 Tim Allen "Raise the Rafters" 270-535-9161

2020 Q1 WBVR

March 2020

March 2nd 8:45 Dana Matukas with Norton Children's Hospital "Dance Big Red"
March 3rd 8:45 Anita Napier with "The Buildings Association"
March 4th 8:45 German America Shamrock Sprint/Ashley Reynolds 270-202-6082
March 5th 8:45 Kim w City of BG

March 9th 8:45 Felicia Bland, Girl Scout Cookies 270-320-6816
March 10th 8:45 Tina with "Girls Day Out" 270-792-1078
March 11th 8:45 Jessie Anderson Room in the Inn, BG 270-202-7971
March 12th 8:45 Ashley with Hadley Jo Foundation 270-784-4181

March 16th 8:45 Kids on the Block Facebook Live for at home kids
March 17th 8:45 Jessie Anderson - Room In the Inn - BG
March 18th 8:45 Sheriff Brett Hightower - Stay at Home

March 23rd 8:45 Connie Maddox - Warren County Schools Food delivery program
March 24th 8:45 Sue Parrigin with the Census 2020
March 25th 8:45 Ronnie Ward PIO BGPD
March 26th 8:45 U.S. Representative Brett Guthrie (Stimulus Package)

2020 Q1 WBVR

Jan- Mar - Across Kentucky aired 5:30a Monday - Friday

Across Kentucky - January 1, 2020

Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Ryan Quarles says he is pleased with legislation approved in 2019 by the Kentucky General Assembly, including revisions to the grain indemnity fund and a fake meat bill. Quarles told Kentucky Farm Bureau members during their recent meeting he will be advocating for revisions to the tax system that favor agriculture and food safety regulations in 2020.

Across Kentucky - January 2, 2020

Fruit and vegetable growers from across the state will gather in Lexington at the Embassy Suites on Newtown Pike next week for the Kentucky Fruit and Vegetable Conference. Shelby county farmer Matt Gadjzik talks about the conference and highlights some of the topics that will be on the agenda.

Across Kentucky - January 3, 2020

The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture will host their annual Winter Wheat Meeting next week in the Siemer Milling Conference Center at the new Grain and Forage Center of Excellence in Princeton. Center Director Dr. Chad Lee says a number of timely topics will be on the agenda for the meeting.

Across Kentucky - January 6, 2020

A young lady from Spencer County is the 2019 Outstanding Farm Bureau Youth female. In today's program we meet Madison Goodlet, learn about her reason for participating in the contest at the Kentucky Farm Bureau Annual Meeting and hear the message that she wants to share about agriculture.

Across Kentucky - January 7, 2020

A young man from Garrard County is proud to be sharing the message of agriculture as the winner of the 2019 Kentucky Farm Bureau Outstanding Farm Bureau Youth Contest. Dylan Driskell says he excited to tell the story of agriculture, and is looking forward to participating in the Farm Bureau Congressional Tour in February.

Across Kentucky - January 8, 2020

The National Champion 4-H Livestock judging team from Kentucky will represent the United States in Europe this summer. University of Kentucky Extension Youth Livestock Associate Steve Austin discusses the trip, what the team will be doing and thanks the sponsors who support the program each year.

Across Kentucky - January 9, 2020

Shelby County farm market owner Matt Gadjzik says his family began Mulberry Orchard to help replace income from tobacco. Gadjzik talks about what they grow on the farm, what people enjoy while visiting the farm market each fall and the importance of having his family grow up in the agriculture lifestyle.

Across Kentucky - January 10, 2020

The economic outlook for corn, tobacco and soybeans in 2019 was heavily dependent on yield, weather and trade. University of Kentucky Agriculture Economist Dr. Todd Davis shared the numbers for the three major grain crops during the Kentucky Farm Bureau meeting in December.

Across Kentucky - January 13, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau just celebrated 100 years of being the voice of agriculture in the state and the organization's leadership is planning for the next 100 years. Second Vice-President Sharon Furches is heading up the Vision 100 committee that has developed a new mission statement and will soon set some goals for the future.

Across Kentucky - January 14, 2020

Corn, soybean and wheat farmers from across the state will gather in Bowling Thursday for the Kentucky Commodity Conference. Becky Kinder with the Kentucky Soybean Association talks about the Commodity Conference, who is speaking, the annual meetings that will take place and the awards dinner.

Across Kentucky - January 15, 2020

Cattle producers from across the Bluegrass State will be in Owensboro Thursday and Friday for the Kentucky Cattleman's Annual Meeting and Trade Show at the Owensboro Convention Center. Executive Director Dave Maples previews the annual meeting, the special guest speakers and the Cattleman's Hall of Fame inductions.

Across Kentucky - January 16, 2020

Kentucky Pork Producers will gather in Bowling Green Friday and Saturday for their annual convention at the Holiday Inn and Sloane Convention Center. Executive Director Bonnie Jolly talks about the meeting, the show pig clinic and some of the topics that will be on the agenda.

Across Kentucky - January 17, 2020

More than 400 Kentucky Farm Bureau members are heading to Austin, Texas this weekend for the American Farm Bureau Meeting. Kentucky Farm Bureau President Mark Haney talks about the meeting, who will be attending, Kentucky's impact on the meeting and some potential special guests.

Across Kentucky - January 20, 2020

The Kentucky Soybean Promotion Board and the Hutson School of Agriculture at Murray State University are hosting the 16th annual Soybean Promotion Day Tuesday, January 21. Hutson School of Agriculture Dean Dr. Tony Brannon talks about the speakers, the networking, the program, and shares other details about the event.

Across Kentucky - January 21, 2020

Kentucky delegates are among thousands of American Farm Bureau members that are in Austin, Texas, this week for the federation's annual meeting. Kentucky Farm Bureau President Mark Haney talks about the issues that will be discussed and the potential policies that could be voted on during the meeting.

Across Kentucky - January 22, 2020

The cost of H2A labor on Kentucky farms is continuing to increase. USDA National Agriculture Statistics Service Eastern Mountain Region Director David Knoff talks about the labor costs, factors contributing to the increase and the impact on farmers and agriculture.

Across Kentucky - January 23, 2020

More than 300 Kentucky farmers helped feed the hungry in the state by providing produce to food banks in all 120 counties. Feeding Kentucky Farms to Food Banks Coordinator Sarah Vaughn discusses the program, the results from 2019 and how farmers can get involved in 2020.

Across Kentucky - January 24, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau leaders are closely monitoring a number of federal and state issues in 2020. First Vice-President Eddie Melton says the issues include trade on the national level, and protecting the tobacco master settlement, infrastructure and broadband on the state level.

Across Kentucky - January 27, 2020

The cost of basic food items in Kentucky rose slightly in 2019 according to the Kentucky Farm Bureau Market Basket Survey. Farm Bureau Communications Director Todd Bright talks about the survey, what items saw increases, the trend compared to other years, and how the price of food impacts farmers.

Across Kentucky - January 28, 2020

Warren County farmer Jake Hunt took home the top prize in the Kentucky Corn Yield contest recently at the Kentucky Commodity Conference in Bowling Green. Hunt talks about his corn crop, what he planted, when it was seeded, and his love of the farm and agriculture.

Across Kentucky - January 29, 2020

A central Kentucky meat processor is providing excellent customer service to farmers and customers in their region of the state and beyond. We talk with Summit Meat Processing partner Kyle Turpen about their processing facility and something new they recently introduced.

Across Kentucky - January 30, 2020

Summit Meat Processing partner Kyle Turpen says the Mobile Meat Market is allowing their company to reach new customers. Turpen talks about the Mobile Meat Market, what is offered in the mobile market, and the Epic Food Truck that was introduced in 2019.

Across Kentucky - January 31, 2020

American Soybean Association past President Davie Stevens says he enjoyed his year leading the organization and promoting soybeans around the world. Stevens talks about some of the successes of 2019 and the need for the American Soybean Association to continue looking for new markets around the world.

Across Kentucky - February 3, 2020

University of Kentucky Extension Beef Cattle Specialist Dr. Drrah Bullock says selecting the correct herd bull for your farm is critical. Dr. Bullock talks about the Bull Value Assessment Program, what people will learn, and how to participate.

Across Kentucky - February 4, 2020

University of Kentucky Extension Nurse Dr. Debbie Reed, better known as Kentucky's Ag Nurse, is working to educate farmers about recognizing the dangers of stress. Dr. Reed talks about warning signs, where to find help and how to talk with friends and health care providers.

Across Kentucky - February 5, 2020

We continue our conversation about managing stress on the farm with Kentucky's Ag Nurse Dr. Debbie Reed. Dr. Reed talks about not being ashamed to admit that you are dealing with stress, how to ask for assistance, where to find help, and resources for dealing with stress.

Across Kentucky - February 6, 2020

Past United Soybean Board Chairman Keith Tapp from Kentucky says he learned quite a bit during his year leading the Soybean Board. Tapp talks about some of the places around the world he traveled to visit trading partners, trade with China and Japan, and some of the work of the organization to help find new buyers of soybeans.

Across Kentucky - February 7, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau Women's Committee Chairman Vickie Bryant from Monroe County says she is looking forward to serving on the American Farm Bureau Women's Committee. Bryant talks about her first event in March, traveling to other states to learn what they do, and what she is looking forward to during her two-year term.

Across Kentucky - February 10, 2020

The National Farm Machinery Show will fill the exhibit halls at the Kentucky Exposition Center later this week. Kentucky Venues President David Beck says there will be seminars, all the equipment anyone could ever want to see, and a new registration process that could lead to a nice reward.

Across Kentucky - February 11, 2020

Not only does the Kentucky Exposition host the National Farm Machinery Show this week, it is also home to the Championship Tractor Pull that attracts some of the top competitors from across the country. Kentucky Venues President David Beck says there will be new announcers and great pulling action on the track in Freedom Hall.

Across Kentucky - February 12, 2020

A Richmond farmer is helping to preserve the heritage of agriculture in Kentucky on his farm that is nestled in the hills and valleys of the Bluegrass. On today's program we meet Bob Minerich who owns and operates Minerich Land and Cattle Company.

Across Kentucky - February 13, 2020

On Wednesday's program we met Minerich Land and Cattle owner Bob Minerich who calls Richmond his home. Today we learn about Minerich's cattle herd, his passion for the animals he raises, and the pride he has in the way of life he has developed on his farm.

Across Kentucky - February 14, 2020

The Kentucky Agriculture Training Schools will soon kick off at the University of Kentucky Research and Education Center in Princeton. University of Kentucky Extension Soils Specialist Dr. Edwin Ritchey, who coordinates the program, talks about this year's KATS schedule and the first School Tuesday, February 18, that will focus on weed and soil science.

Across Kentucky - February 17, 2020

The McLean County Cooperative Extension Service is hosting a Poultry Conference Tuesday, February 18, at Myer Creek Park. Agriculture Extension Agent David Fourqurean discusses the conference, what people can see, who will be the featured speakers, and other details.

Across Kentucky - February 18, 2020

The University of Kentucky is hosting an irrigation conference Wednesday, February 19, at the Grain and Forage Center of Excellence in Princeton. Center Director Dr. Chad Lee talks about the conference, the topics that will be covered, featured speakers, and other details.

Across Kentucky - February 19, 2020

Past Kentucky Soybean Association Director Larry Thomas says he enjoyed leading the organization during the past year. Thomas talks about some of the highlights of the past year, the importance of the soybean association, and how his farming operation fared in 2019.

Across Kentucky - February 20, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau is taking applications for a variety of scholarships that will be awarded to students in 2020. Director of Special Projects Billy Toombs says for the first time students can complete their application online at the Kentucky Farm Bureau website.

Across Kentucky - February 21, 2020

The Kentucky Cattleman's Association honored five outstanding cattle producers from across the state during their annual convention in January. Executive Director Dave Maples provides a glimpse at the accomplishments of each of the most recent Hall of Fame inductees.

Across Kentucky - February 24, 2020

More than 14,000 Kentucky FFA members will join others around the nation this week in celebrating National FFA Week. Matt Chaliff, Kentucky Student and Career Readiness Director, says FFA chapters will participate in a number of activities to help their community appreciate agriculture and the FFA.

Across Kentucky - February 25, 2020

Kentucky FFA President Haley Nelson from Franklin County says her year leading the state organization has been exciting. Haley talks about her year, National FFA Week, activities that will be taking place, and her background in agriculture and the FFA.

Across Kentucky - February 26, 2020

Governor's Office of Ag Policy Director Warren Beeler is continuing to serve under new Governor Andy Beshear. Beeler talks about his role with the new administration, the focus on Ag Tech, and the need for farmers to continue to tell their story

Across Kentucky - February 27, 2020

Kentucky Soybean Association board member Jed Clark from Graves County was among farmers who recently shared the message of agriculture and soybeans at the 55th Annual National Farm Machinery Show in Louisville. Clark talks about his conversations with show visitors and his family farm in Graves County

Across Kentucky - February 28, 2020

Kentucky Student and Career Readiness Director Matt Chaliff says it is not only important to salute FFA members during National FFA Week, but is also a great time to thank FFA Advisers. Chaliff talks about the importance of FFA Advisers and the ever-changing focus of agriculture programs at schools across the state.

Across Kentucky - March 2, 2020

The University of Kentucky will host their second Kentucky Agriculture Training School Thursday, March 5, at the Grain and Forage Center of Excellence in Princeton. KATS Coordinator Lori Rogers says this school will focus on green-up of the 2020 wheat crop, soil considerations, straw sale, and other topics.

Across Kentucky - March 3, 2020

The film "Silo", that was filmed on a Kentucky farm, is helping to spread the message of farm safety across the state and nation. Kentucky Department of Agriculture Farm and Home Safety Coordinator Dale Dobson says the film will be shown at the Safety Symposium March 13 in Elizabethtown. And Dobson talks about the importance of farmers being when working in grain bins.

Across Kentucky - March 4, 2020

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Beef Expo is expected to attract exhibitors and livestock from a number of surrounding states to the Kentucky Exposition Center this weekend. Farm Bureau Commodity Division Director Joe Cain says the event will feature sales, youth shows, and a chance for the public to see beef cattle in the barns.

Across Kentucky - March 5, 2020

Miss Kentucky Alex Franke says her year representing agriculture in the state has been fun and rewarding. Franke says her highlights include having the chance to work with young people across the state and represent Kentucky at events such as the National Farm Machinery Show.

Across Kentucky - March 6, 2020

The University of Kentucky will host the Integrated Pest Management workshop next week at the Grain and Forage Center of Excellence in Princeton. U.K. Extension Entomologist Dr. Ric Bessin says this year's program will include topics about cost effective pest management, resistant weeds, soils, and more.

Across Kentucky - March 9, 2020

A new agribusiness is looking for farmers to grow Rapeseed in Kentucky during the 2020-21 Winter growing season. Perdue Agribusiness Grower Relations Manager Jeff Riddle talks about the company, growing Rapeseed, and two farmer meetings planned for Tuesday, March 10.

Across Kentucky - March 10, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau Outstanding Youth Madison Goodlett was among members that participated in the Farm Bureau Congressional Tour in late February. Madison talks about her experience on the tour, some of the topics she discussed with members of Congress, and what she learned while attending.

Across Kentucky - March 11, 2020

Madison Goodlett says serving as Kentucky Farm Bureau's Outstanding Youth has made for a busy and interesting year. Goodlett talks about her experiences, where she has been, what she has learned, and her connection to agriculture

Across Kentucky - March 12, 2020

Kentucky Corn Growers member Jeff Rice was among those sharing the story of corn and ethanol at the 2020 National Farm Machinery Show. Rice talks about the benefits of corn ethanol, talking with friends at the Farm Machinery Show, and shares some encouragement about the 2020 crop year.

Across Kentucky - March 13, 2020

Kentucky Farm Bureau is making some adjustments to Across Kentucky and adding some new programming to better share the stories of farmers and agriculture. Communications Director Todd Bright previews the changes that will begin Monday, March 16.

Across Kentucky - March 16, 2020

AFBF President Zippy Duvall discusses rural mental health.

Across Kentucky - March 18, 2020

KFB President Mark Haney discusses the importance of broadband for rural communities.

Across Kentucky - March 20, 2020

KFB Young Farmer Committee Chair John Henning on the challenges facing farmers tod