Promoting Cancer Awareness.	News Program	10/10/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	Champions of Hope October 10, 2022 Deborah SFX: The Southeast Health Foundation is gearing up for its annual Champions of Hope event promoting cancer awareness on October 15th in historic downtown Dothan. Sarah Jenks is the Special Events Manager at the Foundation. Jenks SFX: Champions of Hope is Southeast Health Foundation's annual cancer awareness event raises funds for cancer services in the Wiregrass. This year, it is scheduled for October 15. We're going to be back at the plant in downtown Dothan. We have a spirit walk 5k 10k All those routes will go through downtown Dothan but along with that we will also have activities for cancer survivors. Kids activities, vendor booth, music, but it's a really great community event for the entire family. And along with our morning activities on Saturday, we have also added to our Friday night, we will have our normal packet pickup, but we've added music food fellowship, and then we're going to end the night at 7pm with a celebration of light which is going to be a luminary ceremony just to support and remember those affected by cancer. Deborah SFX: So what time does the event kick off on Friday? Jenks SFX: So Friday night we will kick off at 4pm with packet pickup and our vendor booths and then at seven o'clock we will have our celebration of life or

					luminary ceremony. Deborah SFX: And then on Saturday, what time will registration all of that take place Saturday morning. Jenks SFX: Our registration is going to open at 6:30am and then our races will begin at 8am. So everything will be at the plant in downtown Dothan. You can register there all of our vendors will be there and then our routes will be through the heart of downtown. Deborah SFX: Now this is the second year that you've had it downtown. Was it a big success last year? Jenks SFX: Yes, we moved it last year. To downtown and we have absolutely loved having the event there. We really get the downtown area involved. And it really is a great community event. Deborah SFX: If they would like more information on this upcoming event who would they call or how would they go online to check out the event. Jenks SFX: So if they have questions, you can go to the southeast Health Foundation website. We have a champions of Hope page there you will find our registration link donation link anything you might want to know about the event or you can always call the office at 334-673-4150. Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF News
Domestic Violence Awareness.	News Program	10/24/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	House of Ruth Candle Light Vigil October 24, 2022 Deborah SFX: October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month. The House of roof will hold a candlelight vigil on Thursday October 27. Angela

					Underwood is the Executive Director of the House Ruth Angela SFX: Each year The House of Ruth holds a candle light vigil in memory of those who lost their lives to domestic violence and this year from October 1st to October 1st from 2021 to 2022 we've lost three from our service area. We host a memorial we also honor those survivors. And this year, we plan to add an extra to acknowledge our law enforcement for the work that they do with our clients and with the House of Ruth. This year is going to be on October 27 2022 at 5:30pm downtown Dothan under the clock tower Deborah SFX: And who will be the speaker this year? Angela SFX: This year we focused on law enforcement and it's going to be retired Lieutenant Colonel Steve Searcy from Montgomery, Alabama. And we're inviting everybody to come. This year being three that we lost to domestic violence one to many the last year was record breaking in the history where we lost 11 on our service are to include three children. So the numbers are down this year. We're continuing to provide awareness to our nine surrounding counties just encourage everyone if you see something say something our theme this year Is Unite and Take a Stand. Stand up Stand Strong and Stand together. Deborah SFX: tell us what does the House of Ruth do? Angela SFX: The House of Ruth is a non-profit organization that provides safe shelters for victims of domestic violence and sexual assault along with their children from the nine surrounding counties. We are a 28-bed facility we provide both our shelter services as well as shelter services we have out of shelter advocates that provide accompaniment to court systems

					without protection from abuse applications, transportation, housing assistance in conjunction with the Department of Human Resources. Our shelter staff, we have Case Management and Health Crisis Intervention child advocacy on three shifts Deborah SFX: how many people actually house in the shelter in this past year? Angela SFX: From October 1 21 to October 1 22. We've have provided services to 297 victims that's with children included Deborah SFX: and those numbers tend to rise during the holidays is that generally what happens Angela SFX: yes ma'am during the holidays, our numbers increase. As a matter of fact, this past summer the number of children increased sleep at one time had 13 Children in shelter, the oldest being six years old. So we just had an influx of children this past summer Deborah SFX: and how do you educate the community about what the House Ruth does? Angela SFX: We have a prevention educator advocate that she goes into the schools, women's clubs, anywhere that you would like her to talk or teach about. She teaches law enforcement officers about our services. We also have four advocates that go into the various counties. We have our sexual assault advocate now on board and she goes into to nine counties that have six counties with sexual assault and the nine witnessed environment. Deborah SFX: Is there a domestic violence hotline number that people can call

Youth Enrichment For Boys & Girls.	News Program	11/07/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	Hawk Houston Youth Enrichment Center Pennies From Heaven Luncheon November 7, 2022 Deborah SFX: It will be a homecoming celebration for the Houston youth Enrichment Center as they are inviting former members of the Houston Boys and Girls Club and the community for the second annual pennies from Heaven luncheon an open house tour. It will be held on Thursday, November 17. Alpha Newman is the executive director of the Hulk Houston youth Enrichment Center. Newman SFX: It is a second Pennies From Heaven Community outreach and also talk about Pennies and it's threefold. The first one is to raise awareness and increase support court of hardship and as an organization and we are primarily reaching out to the religious narrative and individuals so that they can learn more about who we are and what we do. And the second part is, is a homecoming reunion for the alumni of Hawk Houston Youth Enrichment, Hawk Houston Boys and Girls Club and we'll have a special display that includes a membership list from the 80s and 90s photos of the youth from that era. We have newspaper articles. And then we have names of those who were the first to serve on our board of directors

				at Hawk Houston, and we've been able to preserve a lot of the rich history of our kids. And so a lot of them will be on display at this particular event. And the third thing is that we've been working really hard to improve the appearance over the last few years. So it's an open house. So we're asking for the public, the alumni and everyone else who has an interest in seeing the improvements that we've done over the last what this year alone. It's been tremendous. So we've worked very hard to improve the interior and the exterior of the facility. So we just want to have people come in and see that and hopefully that will help generate some support for our programs and services that we provide to the community for the last 50 years. It is open to the public. We do we want to attend to RSVP because it is a luncheon so we want to kind of have an idea of the numbers that we need for lunch but it is open to the public and we want the public to come we really want to also reach out so the alumni that have been coming in, although we've made a lot of progress on the interior, but we have some more work that we want to get done. So kind of a fundraiser even though it's free, but we want to have people come and see what we have done and what we can do in the future. We have people who will be speaking we're calling it a call to serve for someone who's on our board to speak about why they call on the board of directors, and we have someone who

					was a club kid and then now he's on the board and then we have one of our current members and she was speaking. We have Dr. Lewis from Dothan Community Church and he will speak about a call to serve the community. And then the last part would be a call to preserve a legacy and company that did a renovation workforce. They will speak about preserving the legacy and the history of Hawk Houston. Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF news.
Food For Food Bank / Bedding For Animal Shelter.	News Program	11/14/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	Peanut Butter and Blanket Drive November 14, 2022 Deborah SFX: As the holiday season approaches the need for peanut butter arises not only for people but for animals. For the third year Lucky Dog Training is hosting Peanut Butter and Blanket Drive to help get jars of the nutritional protein for the Wiregrass Area Food Bank and bedding for animals at the local animal shelter for the winter. Lisa Gunn of Lucky Dog Training. Lisa SFX: We are so excited at Lucky dogs to be a part of the PB& B Drive drop for the third year in a row. We have such a heart for babies and for helping with food. A couple of years ago we started this to raise peanut butter for the food bank. They had made an announcement I think on WOOF radio that they were running low on peanut butter and Thanksgiving was coming up and you know anybody that could

				help they were you know, asked him for help and so we decided to start the PB &B drive first given peanut butter to the food bank. And then of course a little bit of peanut butter goes to the animal shelters because you know the best way to get a dog to take a pill is to slip a little peanut butter and they oftentimes have to medicate or have really malnourished dogs and peanut butter is a great shelf staple protein for people and for our dogs. It's a little bit of a peanut butter goes to them but then we also want to bring in some blankets, bedding sheets, towels, anything anybody can spare for our Fur babies at the animal shelter. This time of year they really need help keeping them warm a lot of times they get in you know little puppies that that maybe are sick or malnourished and they need some soft bedding and then of course, you know we want to give them some bedding to help with the chilly nights. Hopefully we'll be able to experience coming up in the next few weeks. But we wanted to take this opportunity to to raise something about her and some beds, blankets bedding, those kinds of things and help out both of those great organizations. Deborah SFX: And where can people drop off these items/ Lisa SFX: You can drop off at Luck Dog's in Ashford, you can drop them off at Wags and whiskers on 231 you can drop off at something special Boutique. I think he guys at work radio

					are so graciously going to also be a drop off point at SE. Some of the volunteers there were asking about what they could do and so if somebody is at the hospital if they could get those out of the Jamie week in the volunteer department, she's going to be a collection point for me as well. And we'll be glad to collect those things from any of those great businesses that are helping us out. Deborah SFX: And this event will go on for how long? Lisa SFX: We're gonna run through the week of Thanksgiving and then you know, get the things to the food bank and to the shelter. Just really shortly after that. So I think around the 22nd is the date that we had kind of put to try to get all of it collected by. Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF news
Dealing With Holiday Depression.	News Program	11/19/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	Holiday Blues November 19, 2022 Deborah SFX: The Christmas holiday season is a time for families and friends to come together. It is a joyous occasion, but if you are going through a rough patch in your personal life or are suffering loss of a loved one you will naturally feel the holiday blues. Candy Gaff is with Spectra Care and says there are some

					Gaff SFX: First of all, let's talk about people if they've had a loss this year, they need to realize it normal to feel sadness and grief. They need to acknowledge their feelings. It's okay to take time to cry or express your feelings. You don't have to be joyful and happy all the time. Even though it's a holiday season. We need to acknowledge those feelings and not try to hide them. A lot of people like to start new traditions in honor of the person that they involve. Or maybe they continue a tradition that was very, very important to that loved one. That way they're still keeping that memory alive and still celebrating Christmas with the other family members or people that they're around. Another thing is to be realistic. Holidays don't have to be perfect. You know, we all watch those movies. And wonderful Hallmark movies that I love is that we know that as families change and grow traditions may change as well. So you know, choose a few that you want to hang on to and be open and open to the new ones too, that it's okay for new traditions to start as your family changes. Another thing is to take a breather some people just get overwhelmed with the planning and the shopping and eating and and celebrating the things take time for yourself. Find an activity that you enjoy and some time maybe that you just needed some alone time to take a walk at night and stargaze or just sit in your car and listen to soothing music. Take some time for overlap so that you don't feel overwhelmed. Don't be afraid to reach out to others. If you don't have a lot of family or friends close by. You know there are lots of community agencies that are always

					looking for volunteers and there's places that the people during Christmas that they would love to have somebody come in and he was so wonderful by you do a nice gift of kindness also it will warm your heart and then if you are feeling isolated or lonely and starting to have some of those symptoms we talked about before where you feel like you're sad all the time or you're having the thoughts of suicide reach out to professional help. Don't be afraid or don't let that stigma keep you from reaching out to someone because there's nothing wrong with asking somebody for help and we have our 24 hour helpline 24/7 1-800-951-4357 Somebody call that number 24/7 No matter the time of the day even on Christmas day if somebody is going to answer that phone to speak to them. Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF news
Santa For Seniors	News Program	12/05/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	Santa for Seniors December 5, 2022 Deborah SFX: Southeast Alabama Coalition on Aging is requesting help for this year's Santa for Seniors Drive. Santa for Seniors is a grassroots volunteer project to bring Christmas joy to Wiregrass seniors Deb Hodgett of SARCOA Hodgett SFX: We've already started with our

				online sponsoring opportunities for Santa for seniors, and we have currently 180 seniors that are in need of sponsorship. So people can go on our website there listed by county and when they click on the individual, they can see their wish list and a small description of that individual so people can sponsor seniors. They can also give a tax deductible donation and there's a button for that. There's also an Amazon wish-list for frequently requested items and there's also a button where you can volunteer your creativity and resources. So we would certainly appreciate more hands on deck when it comes to our collection sites during November when we collect all the gifts and we put them in the boxes for individual seniors and we make our deliveries Deborah SFX: and we will that collection day be Hodgett SFX the collection day will be Saturday, third, Friday night and Saturday the 10th all of December. That's at 2755 Choctaw street behind the former West Gate National Guard Armory Deborah SFX: tell me some of the items that are needed. Hodgett SFX They're really items for everyday living. The most frequently requested items are groceries, a lot of people request those. They request the jammies towels, bedding things of
--	--	--	--	--

					that nature. They also request things for their pets. A lot of people that are alone and homebound. Their only companion is their dog or their cat a lot of times so we get requests for dog toys and dog food and cat food and cat toys. Everybody receives a bucket of cleaning supplies because of your low income. Sometimes cleaning supplies are kind of down low on the list. So everybody gets a bucket of cleaning supplies. If you just go on SARCOA. org We have a pop up to make it really easy you don't have to look for it pops right up on our homepage and there's a button that says Learn More it'll take you right to the Santa for seniors 2022 page I make it easy to because the Amazon wish-list you know there's a lot of people for the frequently requested items you know you can just add to your cart and the items will be sent to SARCOA and we will make sure that individuals get things that they need such as disposable briefs and sometimes even need Ensure is a big one blood pressure monitors and heated blankets. Sometimes they need those plug-ins and smart lights so they have to use the bathroom in the middle of night there's a nightlight for them. So things like that Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF News
Providing Christmas fun for families in our communities.	News Program	12/12/22	5:40p	3:00 mins	City of Dothan Ice and Lights December 12, 2022 Deborah SFX: The Ice and Lights skating rink

					it back for a second year Kelly Staklum with the Department of Leisure Services. Staklum SFX: We are very excited about the second year of Isolite and beautiful downtown. I've been on more foster Street. We're hoping that everybody's going to come out to get Vantage at this awesome attraction that we have in this year. We have tickets that are $10 a person that includes your skate rental, we also sell gift cards at $10 a card and we have state cards which is a little bit of a discount if you buy eight states. You get that for $50 instead of 80. So all of those are available on site during operating Deborah SFX: you move to a different location this year. Can you tell us why? Staklum SFX: We did we moved to a different location. We were previously at Washington and it was a little bit too small. We had such a great response last year from the public that we needed a larger rink this year and we just did not have anywhere to expand so our new rink is 50 by 120. So much larger 50 feet longer, and that's why we had to move locations. Deborah SFX: And I think that you have some skate aides for children this year to help them stay. Staklum SFX: We really have skate aid that are
--	--	--	--	--	---

				available. First come first serve free of charge. And we do ask that people share not keeping too long that we do have several state aid that can help the kids as they're learning how to state Deborah SFX: do you have any for adults? Staklum SFX: Now some of these days are where you feed a child in front of you and then an adult can push but they're all basically kind of designed for children. And although adults, you know also can use them. And so Deborah SFX: are there any preparations that people might need to know before coming you know, this is new to the south. You know it's cold out there. So would you suggest about bundling up or anything of that nature. Staklum SFX: We recommend that you wear long pants on the ice. That way if you fall if you're a little bit protected and all things you start to wear your socks if you forget your socks, it's not a problem. We do sell socks on site gloves are a great idea. Let the children come out in their coats and hats and gloves because it is a little bit cooler on the ice than it is in other areas on Sundays are warmer than others that you know just look at the weather outside and make a decision on the right now we're open to phase three Fridays for 4pm until
--	--	--	--	--

					9pm We're open on Saturdays from 9am until 10pm So we're open on Sundays from 1pm until 9pm And then you said when school is out the schedule change? That's right. Yes and it changes on different days for different times. And so we recommend that everybody go check out our website Dothaniceandlights.com Deborah SFX: I'm Deborah Pearson reporting for WOOF news
