VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 1: The film “Lincoln” has been out for a few months now and by just about everyone’s measure it’s a blockbuster. The movie just touches on the events surrounding the 13th Amendment to the Constitution that abolished slavery, without going into great detail about the events that led up to the activities in the film. We talk to a historian and author about the film, the men and events that led to the passage of the amendment and how the actors and craftspeople brought the people and the era to life. Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: David Rubel, historian, author of “A Steven Spielberg Film – Lincoln, a Cinematic and Historical Companion,” published by Disney Press, (www.davidrubel.net). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: the Presidency, the arts, slavery, African-American issues, war, government

WHIO REPORTS: This show focused on the special recognition for people in the Miami Valley who’ve made a major contribution to the community. It’s the “Top Ten African American Males” and the organization behind the movement. Every year they single out a group of men who are working in a variety of ways to make the Dayton region a better place to live. The award is a who’s who of people who work in education, business, and local churches. We talked about the contributions they made to the Miami Valley that put them on the list. Guests include: Patricia Meadows, Top Ten Co-Chair; Emmett Orr, Top Ten Co-Chair; John Moore, Sr., Top Ten Co-Chair Emeritus. PARITY, INC. 1111 S. Edwin C. VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 1: When the movie “Argo” won the Oscar for “Best Picture” last month, Producer/Director/Actor Ben Affleck thanked a former CIA operative for sharing the story of the amazing caper with him. Eleven years ago, we talked to that operative and his wife who was also a spy, about what it was like to work undercover, how Hollywood contributes to spycraft and how the couple used simple and complex methods of deception to fool the enemy. Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Antonio and Jonna Mendez, former CIA agents, both served in the Office of Technical Services and both were Chief of Disguise. Antonio and Jonna are authors of the book, “Spy Dust,” and Antonio is the author of “The Master of Disguise: My secret life in the CIA,” (www.themasterofdisguise.com) (www.spymuseum.org). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: war & espionage; national security; films & media; crime

3/24/13 9:30AM 00:07:55
RADIO HEALTH JOURNAL: SEGMENT 2: Science is a routine part of today's criminal investigations (and TV shows about them). An expert discusses how the forensics revolution came about as a result of one man and a now-forgotten French serial murder case. Host: Nancy Benson. Guest: Douglas Starr, Prof. and Co-Director, Center for Science and Medical Journalism, Boston Univ. and author, The Killer of Little Shepherds. COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: crime; technology; police, courts and criminal justice system.

3/31/13 9:00AM 00:11:55
VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 1: The U.S. Supreme Court will decide a number of high-profile cases this term, including ones on same-sex marriage, voting rights and election funding. The deliberations of the justices on these and other cases are done behind closed doors, so the public has little to no idea of how they make their decisions. To get an idea of how the system works, we talk to two Supreme Court specialists about how the process works, and look at how decisions were crafted in past cases. Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Carolyn Shapiro, Assoc. Prof. of Law, Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology, Dir. of the Institute on the Supreme Court of the United States (www.kentlaw.iit.edu); Marjorie Heins, former civil rights lawyer, Adjunct Prof. at NYU, founding Director of the Free Expression Policy Project, author of "Priests of Our Democracy: The Supreme Court, academic freedom, and the anti-communist purge," (www.fepproject.org). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: justice system, the Constitution, voting rights, civil rights, politics

3/31/13 9:30AM 00:01:50
RADIO HEALTH JOURNAL: SEGMENT 1: America's infrastructure is falling apart. Hundreds of bridges have failed the last 20 years, and thousands more are structurally deficient. Experts fear that the Minnesota bridge collapse in 2013, killing 13 and injuring 145, may be only the first of many tragedies or, at the very least, severe economic loss if state and federal governments fail to address the issue. Host: Reed Pence. Guests: Barry LePatner, founder and senior partner, LePatner & Assoc. construction law firm, New York, and author, Too Big to Fall: America's Failing Infrastructure and the Way Forward; David Goldberg, Communications Director, Transportation for America

RADIO HEALTH JOURNAL: SEGMENT 2: Societies have attempted to stamp out carnival freak shows, but they always return. Many experts believe reality TV shows are this generation's incarnation of this phenomenon. Experts discuss the purposes they may serve society, efforts to legitimize such shows and the seemingly irresistible pull they have on many of us. Host: Nancy Benson. Guests: Robert Bogdan, Distinguished Prof. Emeritus of Sociology and Special Education, Syracuse Univ.; Andy Denhart, Asst. Prof. of Journalism, Stetson Univ., and editor, RealityBlurred.com; Nadia Durbach, Assoc. Prof. of History, Univ. of Utah and author, Spectacle of Deformity: Freak Shows and Modern British Culture; Mark Andrejevic, Assoc. 3/10/13 9:00AM 00:09:55
VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 2: If you're a baby boomer then you know all about the excitement and frenzy that occurred when the Beatles first arrived on the scene and traveled to America. We talk to a photographer who not only took many memorable pictures of the Fab Four, but who also became their good friend. We discuss what the musicians were like, how he gained their trust, what it was like to photograph the Beatles and other luminaries of the time, and how the profession of news photographer has changed in the last 50 years. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Henry Grossman, professional photographer of the Beatles and others, author of the photographic book, "Places I Remember: My time with the Beatles," (www.curbender.com), (www.henrygrossman.com). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: visual arts & music; popular culture; media & journalism

VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 2: Watching the Best Picture clips during the Oscars® last month reminds us how technologically sophisticated movies are these days with special effects, gorgeous cinematography and amazing sound. It really wasn’t that long ago when just seeing a few pictures move for a very few seconds was as exciting as 3-D movies are to us today. But who made the pictures first come to life? Was it Thomas Edison? Or someone else? We talk to an author about how two very different men – one a millionaire, the other an artist and a murderer – joined forces to make pictures move. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Edward Ball, author of “The Inventor and the Tycoon: A gilded age murder and the birth of moving pictures,” (www.facebook.com/EdwardBallAuthor). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: crime, law, government, transportation, the arts, technology, education, philanthropy

3/24/13 9:00AM 00:11:41

VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 1: Baseball is quite a different game today than it was 45 years ago, when players made middle-class wages, lived in the neighborhoods in which they played and were, for the most part, wholly-owned employees of their team owners. What a difference a season makes! We talk to an author about the events of the 1968 baseball season and how they changed the players, the business of baseball and the country forever. Host: Christopher Michael. Guests: Tim Wendel, Writer in Residence, Johns Hopkins Univ., author of “Summer of ’68: The season that changed baseball and America forever,” (www.timwendel.com) COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: race, politics, recreation, business, media, labor issues

3/24/13 9:00AM 00:10:55

VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 2: Can race be taught as a school subject, like chemistry and foreign language? Are we doing those different from us a disservice by trying to “walk a mile in their shoes” as a way of understanding them? Are news stories giving the public a skewed view of what different factions in society and the world think of each other? Are racial tensions brought about just because of skin color? Or are there other factors in play? We talk to two researchers about the answers to these questions and take a slightly different look at race, ethnicity, religion and how they affect our perceptions of the world. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Lawrence Blum, Prof. of Philosophy,

VIEW POINTS: SEGMENT 2: Have you ever wondered what goes on behind the desk at the major hotels in the U.S.? How come some guests always get the best rooms and service, and you end up in a room overlooking the alley? Why is it that you have to pay for your mini-bar peanuts and some guests never pay? We talk to a hospitality industry insider about his experiences in two large hotels; how hotels figure out who to put where; how the mini-bar and movies work; and how to get the best service from the staff that counts. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Jacob Tomsy, veteran of the hospitality business in hotels in New Orleans and New York City, author of the book, "Heads in Beds: A reckless memoir of hotels, hustles and so-called hospitality," (www.jacobtomsky.com). COMPLIANCY ISSUES COVERED: business, transportation, consumerism, labor & employment
