PROGRAMS

APRIL 2018

April 1: 10:25 AM till 10:55 AM - Insight was broadcast. Insight is a thirty minute public affairs program that features an interview with a local government officer, an entertainer, a director of a local agency or the organizer for a local event. Mark Silvis spoke with Casey Ferry, Program Manager for the Warren County Historical Society, John Shaunessy, playwright, and Lynn Martin, actress, about the murder mystery-dinner to be held April 7 at the Conewango Club in Warren. This is an annual fund raiser for the historical society and this year's production is entitled "Death Stalks the Historical Society-Talent of Historical Proportions. A talent show will serve as the background for a murder mystery which audience members will attempt to solve. Topics covered during this interview included: the dinner menu; the cast; methods used in attempting to solve the mystery; and the cost of tickets and where to purchase them. All proceeds benefit the Warren County Historical Society. Also included on this Insight program, was an audio report from Pennsylvania State Senator Randy Vulakovich (R-Allegheny), who spoke on the senate floor in support of a resolution proclaiming March 29, as "Vietnam War Day" in Pennsylvania.

April 8: 10:25 AM till 10:55 AM - Week In Review from ABC News was broadcast. A thirty minute recap of the major news stories from the past week was hosted by Aaron Katersky.

April 15: 10:25 AM till 10:55 AM - Insight was broadcast. Mark Silvis spoke with Jean Gomory, an employee at the Warren County Conservation District, and Ron Keeney, a member of the Conewango Watershed Association, about the Allegheny Reservoir cleanup day. The annual event is scheduled for Saturday, May 12th, rain or shine. Volunteers will be on the shoreline from 9 AM till 4 PM, with a light meal available following the cleanup. Jean and Ron discussed the website available for registration and information, a volunteer agreement that must be filled-out by each volunteer, the organizations that are participating, and some unique items that have been found during past cleanup events.

April 22: 10:25 AM till 10:55 AM - Insight was broadcast. A recording of speakers who participated in the United Fund of Warren County Appreciation Luncheon on April 12 was broadcast. The Executive Director, Jim Goodling, served as the master of ceremonies. The $674,757 total was a new fund raising record and Jim recognized the volunteers in attendance along with members of the board of directors who will disburse the money to the twenty participating agencies. Speakers included J. D. Shaw, a boyscout who attended the Scout Jamboree in West Virginia, where 34,000 scouts gathered and were greeted by dignitaries including President Donald Trump. J.D. spoke about various activities in which he participated and some scouts and other dignitaries that he was able to personally meet. Emily Lord, mother of twins, spoke about the medical problems associated with their birth. The twin boys were born prematurely with nutrition complications. She spent months in Pittsburgh, while her husband commuted from Sheffield, until they were able to bring the boys home. They received financial assistance from Caring For Life, a United Fund of Warren County agency.

April 29: 10:25 AM till 10:55 AM – Insight was broadcast. The program featured a bill signing ceremony at the state capitol building in Harrisburg and reports of legislative action in the State Senate. Pennsylvania Governor hosted a signing ceremony for Tierne's Law which will provide risk assessment tools to Pennsylvania District Justices to predict an abuser's odds of re-offending and creating a dangerous circumstance for victims. Governor Wolf commented on the new law and Senator Camera Bartolotta, sponsor of the legislation, also commented on the importance of the new law. The State Senate approved legislation sponsored by Senator John Rafferty that would help to save lives by providing tougher sanctions for repeat DUI offenders. Senator Rafferty, who chairs the Senate Transportation Committee, spoke about the components of the legislation prior to the senate vote. The State Senate approved legislation that would help generate private donations to support pediatric cancer research. Senator Scott Martin explained the components of the legislation on the senate floor prior to the vote. The State Senate unanimously approved legislation that would create a statewide review committee to identify and investigate pregnancy-related deaths among expectant and new mothers. Senator Lisa Baker, who chairs the Senate Health and Human Services Committee, spoke on the senate floor prior to the vote. Also on this Insight program, State Representative Ryan Mackenzie (R-Lehigh-Berks) provided a legislative report with comments on legislation to permit students in Pennsylvania to apply sunscreen at school without a doctor's permission and legislation approved in the House to exempt High Tunnel Structures from DEP Water Management Requirements.
