

From: Roger Bouchard wnriroger@yahoo.com
Subject: Fcc issues
Date: Mar 31, 2021 at 11:44:09 AM
To: Roger Bouchard wnriroger@yahoo.com

JAN Feb
march

Federal communications commission quarterly public file list

2021

January, February, March 2021

January 1, 2021, Russ Olivo, assistant editor Woonsocket called with the year in review of the top stories of 2020.

January 11, councilmember Valerie Gonzalez talking about Woonsocket city issues.

January 20, Seth Magaziner, Rhode Island general treasurer, talking about Rhode Island financial issues.

January 25, Kristen Quinn, executive director of the YMCA talking about programs available during COVID-19 dilemma.

January 27, mayor lisa baldelli-hunt talking about issues concerning the city of Woonsocket

February 5, 12, 19, 26. School committee chairman Paul Bourget and superintendent of schools Dr. Patrick McGee talking about students getting an education during the culvert 19 crisis. This is a series of four programs on successive Fridays with updates from the school department each week.

February 9, councilmember denise sierra talking about Woonsocket community issues.

February 17, state representative Robert Phillips talking about issues concerning the city of Woonsocket and the Rhode Island General assembly.

February 17 interview with state treasurer Seth Magaziner on Rhode Island financial issues.

February 23, Woonsocket councilmember David Soucy talking about

Woonsocket city issues.

February 24, Woonsocket mayor lisa baldelli-hunt talking about Woonsocket city issues especially COVID-19 challenges.

March 2, city Council vice president John Ward talking about Woonsocket city issues.

March 3, Woonsocket mayor lisa baldelli-hunt talking about Woonsocket issues and COVID-19 vaccinations

March 15 state representative Brian Newberry talking about Woonsocket and North Smithfield issues in the General assembly

March 16, city Council member James Cournoyer talking about Woonsocket city issues.

March 22 state representative Steven lima and state representative Steve Casey talking about issues in Northern Rhode Island and State of Rhode Island in the Rhode Island general assembly.

March 24, school committee chairman Paul Bourget and superintendent of schools Dr. Patrick McGee with an update on virtual learning and vaccinations in Woonsocket public schools for COVID-19

March 31, state senator Melissa Murray of Woonsocket and North Smithfield talking about state issues including the budget and federal funding coming into the Rhode Island economy.

Sent from my iPad